Tri Delta Garden Party.
The Tri Delta house at 822 Poyntz avenue was the scene of a very attractive function given yesterday afternoon in the form of a garden party. The house was artistically decorated with ferns, palms, and lighted with Japanese lanterns. Rustic benches and old fashioned flowers added to the reality of a garden. Ice cream was served in dainty little flower pots from which protruded panies—the Tri Delta flower.

For the Cream of the Day—Big Ben

Two a. m.—Inky dark—that's when Big Ben starts the milkman's day.

Out of bed like a boy on the Fourth—nudges Big Ben to a hush—takes up the tune as he whistles to work.

You've heard that patter of nimble feet—the clink of bottles in the wire tray—the rattle of boxes, of cans and ice—the giddap—the wheels—the merry tune—all unmindful of the world at sleep. You've wondered.

Try Big Ben yourself a little earlier. See how he'll bring you the cream of the day—rich morning hours that start you right and stretch out till night with minutes aplenty for every task. And you'll take up his tune and smile through the day.

soon become a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mrs. Miller has been matron of the Kappa house at Lincoln, Neb., for the past 6 years.

Chi Omega Dinner Party.
The Chi Omega sorority began the rushing season in their beautiful new home on Leavenworth street with a tea party Sunday evening. Monday Miss Fern Maclean was honor guest at a formal birthday dinner.

Tri Delta Dinner Party.
The Tri Deltas gave a dinner party Monday night in honor of ten guests. The lights were shaded with rose and the table decorations and menu carried out the color scheme of rose and green.

PI Beta Phi Teas.
The PI Beta Phi's had Sunday tea for their rushees at the College Inn Monday afternoon a reception and get-acquainted party was given for them.

Miss Ora Randalls, formerly a Tri Delta at Norman, Okla., has enrolled in the home economics course here this fall and is living at the Tri Delta house.

Miss Georgia Donaldson, a Tri Delta, from the Delta Epsilon chapter at Decatur, Ill., is chaperoning the Tri Deltas this year.

Miss Maggie Magill of Wichita will arrive today to be the guest of Mrs. Lucian Hobbs.

MUSIC TEACHER DROWNS.

Miss Esta Hunger Perishes in New Channel of the Blue.

Miss Esta Hungerford, music supervisor in the city schools and assistant in the musical department of the college, drowned in the new channel of the Blue river last Thursday evening at 5 o'clock.

Miss Hungerford, in company with Miss Ivy Fuller of the high school faculty, A. A. Grant, special student in the college, and H. Scott, fellow in soils, had gone to the river after school in the evening. Miss Hungerford was the only one swimming when the casualty occurred.

From the sand bar, where the party entered the water, the bed of the stream slanted very abruptly to a depth of fifteen or twenty feet and it is believed that when she stepped into the deep water that she became strangled and excited. The strong current pulled her underneath the surface almost immediately and the efforts of the men to save her were fruitless.

Help was summoned in a short time, but the body was not recovered until 7:45 o'clock, when pulmotors which had been brought to the river were useless. The city schools were dismissed Friday in respect for Miss Hungerford who had made many friends during the years that she and her sister, Miss Esta, have been employed in the city schools. The funeral services were held from the First Methodist church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon where Dr. J. M. McClelland officiated. Memorial services were held in the chapel of the high school building at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

FORMER AGGIE STUDENT KILLED
C. J. Haslett Came in Contact With Live Wire Which Proved Fatal.

Cyrus J. Haslett, 29 years old, junior in electrical engineering, received an electric shock that was fatal when he came in contact with a machine that carried a 660-volt current at the power house of the Kansas City Railway company, where he was employed, Thursday morning. Haslett was knocked to the floor unconscious and soon afterward taken to the General Hospital, where he passed away during the afternoon of the same day.

Mr. Haslett first enrolled at the college in the year 1906-07. In 1910-11 and '11-12 he took two terms of work each year, and last year he was enrolled for the winter and spring terms. Mr. Haslett roomed at 931 Fremont last year and had many friends in Manhattan and at the college. After the close of the college year he found employment as a repair man of high tension distributing equipment with the Kansas City Railway company. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haslett, of Allison, Ia.

Tuesday "CHARLIE CHAPLIN" THE HIGHEST SALARIED "Gloom Chaser" in the World will be offered for your amusement on this date in "THE FIRE-MAN" one of his latest and best laugh producers. See Charlie working for his $670,000 a year. "FAITH'S REWARD"—Featuring Henry King. This photoplay tells a clear story in which western mining life and existence in large cities of the east are intermingled.

Wednesday "TWO-EDGED SWORD"—A gripping drama presenting Miss Edith Storey and Ewart Overton. The Two Edged Sword tells a story of a woman who seeks revenge. She is the woman who uses her sexual charm to pierce the heart of a man and cuts deep the hand that wields, until illusion is banished and life and its greater lessons are viewed through the light of deep purple.

Thursday "THE HUNTED WOMAN"—Starring Virginia Pearson and S. Rankin Drew. This powerful story was written by James Oliver Curwood and was recently run as a serial in the Kansas City Star. It makes a powerful picture of a woman who strives and of men who dare. The Hunted Woman is both huntress and hunted, who goes from a loveless marriage in torrid India to heart healing adventure in the desolate North.

Friday "THE HIGHEST BID"—Featuring WILLIAM RUSSELL ably supported by Charlotte Barton and Harry Keenan. The Highest Bid is based on a story of love and high finance, the scenes of which stretch all the way from Wall Street to the mighty Sierras. This picture furnishes the star, William Russell, with the best opportunity he has ever had of bringing into play his many and varied abilities as a portrayer of unusually powerful dramatic roles.

Saturday "WORTH WHILE"—There is plenty of novelty in this picture and the heart interest is strong, while the acting of the cast is excellent. A number of the scenes are laid in the Joliet Prison. Bryant Washburn, Marguerite Clayton and John Cosar have the leading parts.

"HAM, THE HEART MENDER"—Ham and Bud with Ethel Teare in new adventures. Ham and Bud break into the drug store business. Ham mixes the villain a horrible compound and dispenses sodas and laughs in equal proportions.

"SOME DUEL"—The treatment in this comedy is broadly farcical; the whole picture appearing like a bit of cowboy fooling, into which all the characters enter with great enjoyment.

"MUTT AND JEFF"—Bud Fisher's funny cartoon showing Mutt & Jeff in their Daily Life.

THERE'S one thing about clothes that young men ought to be particular about--

STYLE

NOT the freakish, faddish ideas you see in some clothes; that isn't style. There's something quite different from that in real style.
A stylishly dressed man is one whose clothes fit, and who has an "air" of being well dressed.
The "lines" of the garments are right.

That's the thing so many young fellows just miss; it's the fault of "cheap" clothes generally.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

are style designers; every detail of a coat is carefully planned to give to the wearer the right air; the proper effect.

It's a valuable asset to any young man; it counts for a good deal more in his business success than most young men realize. And the only way to get it is to go where it is, and get clothes that have it.

Varsity Fifty Five Models

for young men are designed with the utmost care to all details of correct style.

A CHANGE OF DAYS.

During the present college year the Collegian will be printed on Tuesdays and Fridays instead of Wednesdays and Saturdays as was done last year. It is believed that this change in the days of publication will facilitate the handling of news as well as be of advantage to our patrons in matters of advertising.

OUR POLICY.

The question has been asked the present staff, "What is your policy?" As the Collegian is a student paper and published in the interests of the student body at the Kansas State Agricultural college, it is our aim and purpose to make the paper representative of the college and college life.

Any policy or activity that is "on the square," constructive, and conducive to the best interests of the college and the student body as a whole,—such a policy is our policy.

We have no use for a promoted interest which benefits only a certain group or organization of students at the expense of the others. The student body should be a democratic body where all meet on equal terms, and as a representative of such a body the Collegian believes in promoting only those interests through which all may be benefited.

As a supporter of the good and the best there is in college and college life, the Collegian solicits the hearty support of students and faculty that we may continue to make our Alma Mater "the best there is."

MANY NEW FACULTY MEMBERS THIS FALL

SOME CHANGES MADE IN NEARLY ALL DEPARTMENTS.

The Engineering Division has Several New Instructors—Many Promotions Have Also Been Made.

Many new faces will be noticed and several familiar ones will be missing when the faculty assemble on the campus at the opening convocation this morning.

Probably the greatest change has been made in the athletic department. Z. C. Clevenger, director of athletics and head coach in the University of Tennessee has been appointed professor of physical education and director of athletics in this institution. Adolph (Germany) Schulz, famous all-American center and former star of the University of Michigan team, has received the appointment of assistant professor of physical education. E. A. Bauer, a graduate of Colgate university, N. Y., and the Springfield, Mass., training school is the third man in the department and will have charge of intra-mural athletics.

Dr. M. C. Tenquary, who has recently returned from his work with the Crockerland exploring expedition in the Arctic region, is to be assistant professor of entomology.

Miss Elizabeth Maclean of the Iowa State college at Ames, Iowa, is to be an instructor in the department of the English language.

Walter H. Pielmier, a graduate of the University of Michigan, is to be an instructor in the department of physics.

Elton Calkins, of Chicago, a tenor, comes to the music department as a vocal instructor. Calkins has studied and lived in Chicago and New York and is a well-recommended vocalist.

Dr. A. F. Peine, who holds degrees from Illinois Wesleyan university, the University of Illinois, and the University of Chicago, will be assistant professor of history. C. D. Christoph, a graduate of the University of Michigan and a former instructor in the Philippine islands, will be instructor in English. W. A. Buck, who received his master's degree from the college this spring, becomes assistant in steam and gas engineering, succeeding John C. Shutt, who has accepted a position in commercial work. Fred H. Bundy, of Manhattan will be assistant in blacksmithing in succession to E. W. Henry, who has entered commercial work in Cincinnati. F. E. Fox of the Iowa State college has been appointed assistant in poultry husbandry and L. S. Hobbs of the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college fellow in engineering.

Dr. R. T. Nichols, college physician, has resigned to enter private practice.

Annie R. Cahoon, who received her master's degree from the University of Wisconsin, will be assistant professor of physical training for women.

G. B. McNair, instructor in electrical engineering, will be on leave of absence for a year to engage in practical electrical engineering work with the United States Land and Survey company at Garden City. W. A. Noel and O. B. Brown, assistants in shop practices have resigned.

Miss Mary McDonald of Charleston, Ill., has been named as assistant in domestic art in the college to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Bertha E. Buxton. Miss McDonald is a graduate of the Eastern Illinois Normal school, of the Bradley Polytechnic institute, and of the University of Chicago.

A. E. Lawton, a 1916 agricultural college graduate, will be assistant in animal husbandry.

Miss Bertha Gercke, research assistant in the library of the Kansas State Agricultural college, has resigned and Miss Myra O'Brien of Big Moose, New York, has been appointed to take her place.

Miss O'Brien is a graduate of the University of Illinois library school. She has held library positions in the University of Kansas, Bradley Polytechnic Institute, and Kansas state library.

Earl Reed of the Ohio State university will be assistant in chemistry. A.

H. Heers of the department of biology in Princeton university becomes instructor in zoology.

Miss Josephine Perry of Topeka, a graduate of Simons college, becomes assistant in domestic art. William Calvert, a Kansas State Agricultural college graduate in horticulture '16, will be green house foreman, and assistant instructor in plant propagation. Cecil Elder, '16, a graduate in veterinary medicine, becomes assistant in pathology in the veterinary department.

Dr. F. W. Caldwell, extension specialist in veterinary medicine in the University of Minnesota, will be specialist in veterinary medicine. Raymond F. Smith of the University of Michigan, becomes instructor in physics. J. P. Cavanagh will be assistant in power plant, and L. H. Drayer, assistant in heat and power. Miss Lenora Richards of the University of Illinois, becomes assistant in domestic science.

Dr. J. J. Frey has been authorized to make a study of cream grading problems in collaboration with the United States department of agriculture. Dr. John Harris will handle hog cholera work in Nemaha county for one month.

The resignations: P. J. Freeman, assistant professor of applied mechanics; Dr. J. W. Good, assistant professor of English literature; L. G. Heyworth, feeding stuffs inspector, agricultural experiment station; and C. L. Woodington, assistant in heat and power.

AGGIE DEBATORS ARE GOING AFTER SCALPS

Prospects are Bright for a Successful Year—Many Veterans are Back.

With a large squad of veteran debaters on hand, college debate prospects are bright for the coming year. When victories are counted next spring at the end of the debating season, it is expected that the Aggies will have a hilarious scalp dance.

The first debate of the season will be with the Iowa Aggies from Ames on November 17. The men who have been chosen to represent this institution in the first battle of words are Arthur Boyer, Merle Converse, L. A. Dabbs, R. E. McGarragh, H. A. Moore, and T. R. Pharr with R. L. Foster and C. W. Howard as alternates. The first four men have debated before.

The question is, "Resolved, that capital and labor should be compelled to settle their disputes in legally established courts of arbitration."

The first girls debate will take place sometime in December with the Kansas Wesleyan university of Salina. The Aggie girls who will meet the Salina girls are Lois Bellamy, Hazel Crabbs, Laura Mueller, Fern Roderick, Jewell Sappenfield, and Louise Ziller, with Erba Kaul and Marie Johnston as alternates.

Don L. Burk who has charge of the debate work this year has started these squads to work. The men's squad will meet in AM at 4.30 this afternoon, and the women's squad will meet in the same room at 2.30 Saturday to receive instructions for work.

Other veteran debaters who are back this year are G. C. Gibbons, Floyd Hawkins, J. B. Sweet, Donna Payne Wilson, Madge Thompson, Stella Gould, Mary Dahn, Rose Baker, and Mae Sweet. Seven intercollegiate debates are scheduled for the coming year.

This year an alternate will not be allowed to challenge any one person on the team, according to Coach Burk. The alternate will work with the squad, and should he show evidence of being a stronger debater than any one of the regular men, the alternate will be placed on the team. It is believed that this will be an incentive for better work on the part of the regular debaters.

JOURNALISTS HAVE OWN ROOM.

Room 55 is Set Aside for Special Use of Embryo Cubs.

Room 55 in Kedzie hall has been set aside for the special use of the embryonic journalists. Besides being used as a class room for the journalism students, it will also be used as a practice room.

Newspapers, magazines, and reference material will be placed in the room for the use of students for their practice work. New tables and chairs have been furnished which gives the room the appearance of a "real work-shop."

J. B. SWEET IS TO BE CADET-COLONEL

MANY APPOINTMENTS WILL BE MADE IN MILITARY DEPARTMENT.

New Staff of Field Officers to be Selected—Cadet Uniforms are $3.10 Higher Than Last Year.

Announcement has just been made by Captain Mathews, commandant of cadets at the college, that J. B. Sweet, a senior animal husbandry student, will be cadet colonel for the coming year. Mr. Sweet was cadet captain of B company last year and proved himself an efficient military man according to Commandant Mathews.

Quite a number of new officers will be appointed in the military department this fall. Most of the field officers graduated last spring which necessitates the appointment of an almost entirely new field staff. Appointments will be announced later.

The college cadets will assemble today the seventh hour for the first time this fall. A big enrollment is expected in the military department this year.

The new cadet uniform this year will include woolen gloves and woolen, olive drab shirt. The suits will be ordered from the quartermaster of the United States army at St. Louis, Mo. Each cadet will be required to deposit $17.25 for his suit when it is ordered. This amount is $3.10 more than the cadets were required to deposit last year.

The new suits will be a shade lighter than the old uniforms due to shortage of dyes in the United States.

The engineers' company is now being organized and will be headed by Messrs. Buck and Hobbs. The men of the company are now taking their fourth term of drill. The machine guns will be in charge of the engineers' company.

Due to lack of appropriations by congress, uniforms and equipments for the military department will not be supplied for the college until after January 1, 1917.

PROFS. STRATTON AND REMICK WRITE A BOOK

"An Agricultural Arithmetic" is the Name of New Text Book—Is Designed for High Schools.

Here's something new in arithmetic! A textbook, "An Agricultural Arithmetic," has just appeared from the press of the Macmillan company under the authorship of W. T. Stratton, assistant professor of mathematics, and B. L. Remick, professor of mathematics, in the Kansas State Agricultural college. The book is a 250-page volume.

The book is the outgrowth of a need found in the school of agriculture of the college. The concrete problems contained in the work deal with farm life and are based on accurate data obtained from the reports of experiment stations and of the federal department of agriculture. Many important tables are given dealing with such subjects as the percentage of digestible nutrients in feeds and feeding standards. The purpose is not only to give the students sufficient material for drill in arithmetic but also to lead them to a better appreciation of farm life.

The material upon which the book was based has been tried out in pamphlet form for the past two years in classes at the agricultural college, and has proved highly successful. It is designed for use in the advanced grade of the rural schools and for the students in the agricultural courses in the high schools. It will be used as a text in the school of agriculture, and it is expected that it will be adopted by a large number of schools over the country.

Armenian Student Lectures.

Kansans were told of "Armenia the Most Tragic Story in Human History," last summer by B. K. Baghdikian, student in industrial journalism in the Kansas State Agricultural college. Mr. Baghdikian narrowly escaped death in the massacre of 1905. He spoke at Harver, Anthony, Kiowa, Hardiner, and Hazelton.

RUSSIA RESOURCEFUL AND STRONG SAYS DR. NABOURS

MILITARY CAUSED SOME INCONVENIENCES IN FOOD AND TRAVEL.

"R. C. L." a Feature but Russia has Plenty—Dr. Nabours and Wife Made a Circuit of the Globe.

As if one were near the hopper of a gigantic machine which demanded a ceaseless stream of strong manhood which it returned mangled, dead or dying, is the pitiful, yet magnificent, panorama which Dr. R. H. Nabours and wife, who returned last Friday from a business-pleasure trip around the world, witnessed during their month's stay behind the Russo-German front, where Dr. Nabours was conducting scientific investigation of work of agricultural and economic value.

"The Russians are intensely earnest," says Dr. Nabours. "Of the hundreds of thousands of soldiers that we saw, we did not see any drunkenness, false bravado, or swaggers. All of them were courteous, gentlemanly, and tremendously in earnest."

and tremendously in earnest.

"Notwithstanding, we were at the point of the bayonet from the time that we entered Russia until the time we left. We were watched very closely and especially during our ten day trip over the Trans-Siberian railways where there is but a single track which carries nearly all the supplies to the front. At every bridge the train stopped and soldiers entered the train, watching the passengers closely while crossing, one for each two passengers, to prevent possible enemy passengers from dropping bombs."

"We were surprised during this trip to find that Siberia is not the bleak desert country that Americans commonly think it to be. It is only the extreme northern section where the exiled prisoners are taken, which is true to this popular misconception. The Siberia through which we traveled is a beautiful country with rolling plains of rich soil and a delightful climate. Wild flowers in abundance make it truly picturesque. It is to Russia what the middle west was to the United States fifty years ago."

"Just now the agricultural operations of the Russians are seriously handicapped by the military control of the government, industries, and transportation facilities. But they are keeping at their work persistently and doing much toward keeping the mass of people from suffering. Neither are they neglecting their experimental or investigational work although it is badly crippled."

"There is plenty of food in the country. As a matter of fact, I was told that at some places, wheat could be purchased at from 10 to 15 cents a bushel. At other places, food is extremely costly and especially is this true in the larger cities, because of the lack of transportation facilities due to military control and first places given to military operations."

"For instance, we paid $2.50 for fried chicken, 20 cents each for oranges, and eighteen cents for apples. The citizens are allowed one pound of sugar a week. There are four months days on which only fish and fowl are sold. The days that meat is sold the price is almost prohibitive."

Saturday: Musical program by the department of music.

THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE FRESHMAN.

ASSIGNER ALMOST HAS NERVOUS PROSTRATION

A Freshman the Cause—Wanted to Take Reticulture Because of Interest in Horses.

Many and varied are the ideas of the freshman when he first enters college. His imaginative mind conceives infinitesimal platitudes with as much seriousness as though he were thoughtfully considering the immensity of space.

During registration, one freshman, who non-complaisantly placed himself in front of his assigner, was asked what course he desired to take. Imagine the assigner's consternation and almost nervous collapse when the freshman casually replied, "Why, I think I shall take the horticulture course. You see I always have been interested in horses."

Another yearling, after critically viewing the repairs that have been made in main hall during the summer, ironically remarked, "It looks like a girl when she's got plenty of powder on."

A young lady of the class of '20 noticed a prominent professor who has carefully cultivated a "side crop" during the summer. She gazed at him in wide-eyed astonishment and then giggled, "Oh, look at that man's sideburns. He looks like a preacher."

MANY TAKE COURSES BY CORRESPONDENCE

An Increase of 400 Per Cent During Past Year—Fee for Credit Course Now $10.

An increase of 400 per cent in enrollments has been made in the department of home-study service during the past year according to M. G. Burton, director.

This has necessitated a considerable increase in the faculty of the department in order to handle the large amount of work.

Many different courses are offered for college credit by the department; and a large number of teachers over the state are qualifying for professional certificates by taking the correspondence courses.

Formerly a fee of $4.00 was charged for each credit course. This has been changed and now a fee of $10.00 is charged which entitles the student to take as much work as he can successfully complete in one year, not to exceed twelve term hours.

AGGIE STOCK JUDGES RANK HIGH

Four Senior Animal Husbandry Men Take First Four Places.

Four senior animal husbandry students in the college took first, second, third, and fourth places in a stock judging contest which was held at the Topeka state fair on September 11. These men were: first, C. L. McFadden; second, Reid Welmer; third, B. M. Anderson; fourth, P. J. England. There were eighteen contestants.

Prizes to the amount of $20 were given to these men. First prize, $10; second prize $8, third prize $7, and fourth prize $5. Dr. C. W. McCampbell had charge of the contest.

THIS IS THE LARGEST FALL ATTENDANCE THE INSTITUTION EVER HAD

NEARLY 160 MORE THAN WERE ENROLLED A YEAR AGO.

2300 STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED

It is Estimated That the Total Enrollment for the Year Will be About 3500—A Large Freshman Class.

Late last evening 2251 students had enrolled in the college. This is nearly 160 more than were enrolled at the same time one year ago. Enough stragglers are expected to come in to raise the total enrollment for the fall term to 2300.

Assignment of students began with a rush, 900 being enrolled Monday afternoon. It is estimated that 200 were turned away the first day because of inability to handle the avalanche of those who came with the expectation of getting an early assignment.

It is probable that this fall there will be the largest freshman class in the history of the institution. The engineering division shows an increase in new men of nearly 40 per cent as compared with the enrollment a year ago. Last year 106 men enrolled in the various engineering departments, while so far this year 150 have taken out assignments in the engineering division. The journalism department also shows a remarkable increase.

The total enrollment for the past year was 3314. It is estimated that if the present rate of increase is kept up, the enrollment for this year will be approximately 3500.

Each year students are coming earlier for their assignments. On the opening day of school in 1913, 186 students were enrolled; in 1914, 416; in 1915, 815; and in 1916, 900. It is reported that next year assigning will begin on Monday morning instead of of Monday afternoon as was done this year. It is expected that this will facilitate the work the work of getting classes started.

AGGIE STUDENT STRUCK BY AUTO

Ward Reed Injured While Crossing Manhattan Avenue.

Ward Reed, third year in the school of agriculture, was struck by a car driven by Barney Youngcamp, the wheels passing over his limbs and breast, as he was crossing Manhattan avenue in Aggieville, yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock.

Reed thought that he could cross the street before the motor car reached him, but miscalculating its speed, the fender struck him, throwing him to the pavement and in the path of the wheels.

Mr. Youngcamp had just started from his brick building in Aggieville and was not going fast, so that he was able to stop within a few feet. Reed was taken to a local hospital in Youngcamp's car, where his injuries are being attended.

Dr. Clarkson, attending, says that bruises and scratches are the extent of his injuries, no bones being broken, and it is thought that there are no internal injuries.

Reed attended the college year before last, but was not enrolled last year due to illness. His sister, Miss Nellie Reed, is an instructor in the department of zoology.

As we go to press, information is given that Mr. Reed is resting easily, and that his confinement may extend over only a short period.

To Show How Books are Made.

The English department has an exhibit of President Water's book, "Essentials of Agriculture," which is to be used in the class work of the journalism, printing, and English students.

This exhibit includes all the steps in the process of bookmaking, starting with the original manuscript and ending with the finished product. The monotype paper ribbon, the wax, and the stereotyped plates are the interesting features.

COLLEGE LOYALTY.

This week many new students will enroll in college for the first time. Soon they will be thrown into the swirl of college life and participating in the different activities. The upper-classmen will renew old acquaintances and make new ones, and continue the activities with which they became associated when first they entered college.

But despite the many different activities, the different personalities and tastes of the students, there is an "invisible thread" which binds all and makes all interested in the welfare of K. S. A. C. This thread is college loyalty.

It is in college that the student is trained and given an insight into the larger life of service. In college one develops the art of sociability and good fellowship. It is in college that the student has the "rough edges knocked off," and comes out at the end of his course "a finished product."

To become a "finished product" one should not become a "hermit student," "a grind," but should develop loyalty to the college by participating in a reasonable number of student activities. College loyalty does not consist merely in going to a "pep" meeting with the idea of getting to see a free show, but rather the support of the activity both financially and by rooting for the Aggies. Get in the game, make things go, and be loyal by promoting the interests of the college and legitimate student activities.

"Sporting Blood."

in order that meat may be plentiful at the front.

"I found the Russians to be strong and perfectly competent. It is claimed by the Russians that 4,000,000 persons have been killed, disabled, or captured in the war thus far, and that the size of the army is now 22,000,000. It is also pointed out that 1,000,000 are becoming available each year.

"Despite this loss of men and the difficulties to be undergone, the working people of Russia are in better condition than at any time in the history of the country because of the high price of labor. The middle class—the salaried people—are the ones who are feeling the high cost of living."

Dr. Nabours combined business with pleasure on this trip to Europe. He was quietly married to Miss Mamie Davis, instructor in domestic art, at the residence of Dr. Holt, the evening of June 3. Within the hour they took the westbound train for San Francisco.

co. Announcements were written and mailed to their many surprised friends at Manhattan during their leisure. At San Francisco they embarked for Honolulu where they enjoyed the splendid climate and beautiful scenery of the Hawaiian islands for a day. A week was spent in Japan and then short stops made in Korea, China, Manchuria, and eastern Russia, where they started on the long trip through Siberia to Dr. Nabour's principal work in western Russia.

In returning, by way of Petrograd to reach Stockholm, it was necessary to travel by rail around the Gulf of Bothnia because of the gulf being heavily mined. The land of the midnight sun where the sun does not set from June 10 to January 1 and does not rise during the period December 19 to January 1 was one of the feature points of interest.

Also in crossing the North Sea, they passed over the exact place where Lord Kitchener was killed in the North Sea engagement with the German fleet. "It was not nearly so exciting as we thought it would be," said Dr. Nabours. "In fact we were rather disappointed that nothing unusual happened."

THERE'S one thing about clothes that young men ought to be particular about--

STYLE

NOT the freakish, faddish ideas you see in some clothes; that isn't style. There's something quite different from that in real style. A stylishly dressed man is one whose clothes fit, and who has an "air" of being well dressed. The "lines" of the garments are right.

That's the thing so many young fellows just miss; it's the fault of "cheap" clothes generally.

Aggies are Working Hard.

Aggie football followers are more than pleased with the manner in which the football situation is shaping up. Coach Clevenger and Assistant Coach Schulz have been working with tireless energy with the pigskin warriors and both coaches have expressed themselves as being more than pleased with the material that has reported.

"The boys are all working hard in preparation for the first game, with Baker university, a week from Saturday," stated Coach Clevenger. "We have been putting them through light signal practice, and of course they are all getting their share of the work on the charging machine and in working out other routine work such as blocking, running down under punts, etc."

More than half a hundred men are trying for positions on the varsity and over half that many are out on the freshman field.

The yearlings will probably be in shape to battle with the varsity by Saturday, and at that time the first scrimmage of the season will take place.

Assistant Coach Schulz who has charge of the line says, "They look good, they look good."

The Aggies will not have a beefy line this year, but they will make business pick up in a hurry for any of their opponents this season. The loss of last year's Wildcat guards and Baird may be felt early in the season but there is a wealth of good material from which to choose their successors.

In the backfield Coach Clevenger will find difficulty in choosing between last year's veterans and the graduates from the freshman ranks of last year. He has both weight and speed among the candidates and should be able to pick several winning combination from the material on hand.

Skinner is Back.

Another veteran appeared on Ahearn Field for practice Wednesday afternoon. No other than "Cap" Skinner, last year's leader, who will be in school again this year. Skinner is the last of last year's men to arrive and at the present time all are present. With the arrival of Skinner the Aggies now have a gang of end men who will be hard to get away from, and Aggie football fans are eagerly awaiting for the opening game to see their Wildcats in action.

COLLEGE STOCK WINS AT TOPEKA

Three Firsts Are Pulled Down and King Dale Is Champion 2-Year-Old Steer.

Three first prizes, one second, two thirds and four fourths were won by the college show cattle in the live stock division of the free fair at Topeka Thursday. In addition to these prizes, King Dale, a 2-year-old Shorthorn, was placed champion of all steers at the show.

Some of the best herds in Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and other central states were represented at the show. The college stock won against stiff competition.

Following are the winnings of the college stock:

Two-year-old class—First on King Dale, Shorthorn; fourth on Capper, Hereford.

Yearlings—Third on Beau Hessler, Hereford; fourth on Barntton Dale, Shorthorn.

Prince, Shorthorn; fourth on Don Hessler, Hereford.

Calves—First on Rose Gay Lad, Angus; second on Barntton.

Here show—First on Shorthorns, third on Herefords, fourth on Angus.

King Dale, Shorthorn, was champion of all 2-year-old steers.

BUSY WEEK FOR DEAN JOHNSON.

Visits Topeka, Hutchinson, Leavenworth and Kansas City.

Edward C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension at the college, met Monday at Topeka with the Federal Farm Loan bank which conducted a hearing as to the advisability of establishing one of the federal land banks in Kansas. Twelve of these banks will be organized and it is hoped Kansas will secure one of them.

Mr. Johnson went to Hutchinson from Topeka to speak on "Rural Organization" at the state fair on Wednesday.

On Thursday he attended a round-up of the Glenwood Mother-Daughter Canning club in Leavenworth county, the largest and most enthusiastic canning club in the state. This club has 60 members and has canned many thousand quarts of vegetables and fruit this season. It was organized more than a year ago by Otis Hall of the college, in charge of the Boys' and Girls' club work in Kansas, and the county agent in Leavenworth county.

Friday and Saturday Mr. Johnson will be in Kansas City, returning to Manhattan Saturday evening.

PROF. W. B. WENDT COMES HERE.

Takes Position as Assistant Professor of Applied Mechanics.

W. B. Wendt, assistant professor of mechanical engineering at Michigan Agricultural college, has been employed as assistant professor of applied mechanics at the college here, on recommendation of Prof. R. A. Seaton.

Professor Wendt is a graduate of Kentucky university. He has also had experience as assistant engineer on the state highway commission of Kentucky, and as city engineer of Newport, Ky., and Lansing, Mich.

He is expected this week to take up his work here.

Y. W. GIRLS SOLICIT SATURDAY.

Everyone Will Be Asked to Subscribe for Collegian.

Every student, faculty member, and bell boy will be solicited sometime Saturday by a member of the Y. W. C. A. to subscribe for the Collegian, and every one is expected to dig up $1.50 which pays for a year's subscription.

One hundred girls have charge of the campaign. A girl is to be assigned to each building on the hill, and boarding clubs and fraternity and sorority houses will be solicited. The girls will also have a table in main hall where they will gratefully receive subscriptions.

CAFETERIA SERVES 420.

Nearly Twice as Many as Were Served Opening Day Last Year.

At the opening of the college cafeteria yesterday noon, 420 persons were served dinner. This is nearly twice as many as were served during the noon hour at the opening last year.

The cafeteria opened on October 5, 1915, and 241 persons were served the first meal. The record run for the past year was made on January 12 when dinner was served to 497. During the summer session when the cafeteria was open for three meals a day, 556 persons partook of the college delicacies in one day.

Breakfast is Earlier.

Time for breakfast at the cafeteria has been changed one half hour. The time as formerly announced was from 7:30 until 9 o'clock a. m. This has been changed to 7 until 8:30 o'clock.

Owing to the high price of board at the different boarding houses, it is expected that a great many students will take their meals at the cafeteria. A number of students have been employed to help take care of this increase of cafeteria boarders.

SOLONS SELECT THEIR OFFICERS FOR THE TERM

FIRST MEETING OF THE YEAR HELD SATURDAY NIGHT.

Many New Men Appear in the Limelight of Officialdom for the First Time—Campaigns are Planned.

Saturday evening the various literary societies of the college held their first meeting of the year and elected officers for the fall term. Many new men appear in the limelight of officialdom for the first time. Campaigns for new members were planned by some of the societies and indications point to a successful year for these organizations.

Following are the officers elected by the different societies:

Alpha Beta.
President, Riley McGarraugh; vice president, Zora Harris; recording secretary, Florence Hawkins; corresponding secretary, Eva Gwin; treasurer, Letha Lasswell; critic, L. R. Hatt; marshal, S. W. Honeywell; assistant marshal, Olive Logerstrom.

Franklin.
President, L. A. Dubbs; vice president, Myrna Lawton; recording secretary, Confort Neale; corresponding secretary, Raymond Campbell; treasurer, Ruth Huff; critic, L. A. Zimmerman; marshal, Merle Converse.

Athenian.
President, J. B. Sweet; vice president, James Hull; corresponding secretary, Earl Taylor; treasurer, Leland Alford; critic, L. C. Moser; marshal, G. C. Ware; assistant marshal, C. W. Howard.

Hamilton.
President, Price Wheeler; vice president, A. J. Hoffman; secretary, I. G. Freeman; corresponding secretary, no election; treasurer, W. H. Brooks; critic, O. T. Bennett; marshal, Wm. Giles; assistant marshal, P. L. Findley.

Ionian.
President, Stella Blain; vice president, Hazel Brown; treasurer, Rose Farquhar; recording secretary, Agnes Irwin; corresponding secretary, Juanita Reynolds; critic, Hazel Merillatt; marshal, Helen Harbaugh; assistant marshal, Beulah McNall.

Browning.
President, Lois Bellowy; vice president, Blanche Clark; secretary, Bula Johnson; corresponding secretary, Rachel Clark; treasurer, Anna Neer; critic, Rose Baker; marshal, Jewell Sappenfield; assistant marshal, Margaret Robinson.

Websters.
President, W. E. Patterson; vice president, W. G. Bruce; secretary, L. G. Able; corresponding secretary, H. E. Baycr; marshal, W. H. Brookover; assistant marshal, C. O. Granfield.

Forensic.
President, H. H. Zimmerman; vice president, Dean Orr; secretary, May Dewey; treasurer, L. V. Rhine; marshal, C. Thurber; assistant marshal, W. R. Gore.

Lincoln.
President, K. D. Thompson; vice president, Robert Keys; secretary, Halford Moody; corresponding secretary, B. Thompson; treasurer, W. L. McCarty; marshal, Ralph Snyder; assistant marshal, R. A. Axtell.

SET UP FOR ATHLETICS FRIDAY.
College Athletic Department Will Have Charge of Chapel Exercises.

Friday is to be K day at the college and the athletic department will make an especial effort to create an interest in Aggie athletics, especially football, as the opening game of the season comes on Saturday.

The department will have charge of the chapel exercises. Yells will be tried out and an effort will be made to instill some pep in the new students. A pep meeting will probably be held Friday evening in the auditorium.

Thursday will be high school letter day. It is expected that every student possessing a high school athletic letter will wear it that day. After Thursday high school letters will be barred from the campus.

A Correction.
In our last issue a statement to the effect that the "enrollment" in the engineering division had increased from 106 last year to nearly 150 this fall should have read "freshman enrollment." The total enrollment in the division is between three and four hundred.

CHAPEL PROGRAMS.

Tuesday: Dr. R. R. Dykstra will speak on "Superstitions Regarding Health."
Wednesday: Professor J. G. Emerson, "Alibis."
Friday: Athletic Day. Talks by Dean Jardine and others.
Saturday: Musical program by the department of music.

ANNOUNCE NEW APPOINTMENTS.

Herschel Scott Will Have Charge of Freshman Varsity.

Herschel Scott fellow in soils at the college, has been appointed to assist Coach Clevenger with the freshman football team. Mr. Scott is a graduate of the University of Kentucky, and played as fullback on the university team in 1912, 1913, and 1914. He was captain of the team in 1913.

Armin Doerner, a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college, has been appointed as assistant in landscape gardening in the department of horticulture.

ENGINEERING FACULTY WERE IN DEMAND DURING SUMMER

Were Engaged in Research, Construction and Routine Work in Different Parts of the Country.
Many members of the engineering faculty of the college were engaged in important research, construction and routine work in different parts of the country during the summer vacation. Engineers from the college are making good throughout the country where they go to positions in competition with graduates from other institutions and it is this fact perhaps which brings important calls for our engineering faculty at the only time of the year when they are available for work outside the institution.

Prof. A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering, spent the earlier part of the summer in Washington, D. C., and New York city in connection with matters pertaining to the land grant engineering association and the society for the promotion of engineering education. He returned to spend the latter part of the summer here.

Prof. L. E. Call was engaged as engineer on a large irrigation project in Wyoming during a part of the summer and was assisted in the work by Prof. F. F. Frazer.

Prof. Bowerman was connected as designer with a machine tool and manufacturing company of Michigan during the entire summer. W. H. Saunders, the institution's authority on gas engines, was recognized as such by the Emerson and Brandingham company which employed him as an expert for the entire summer.

Professor W. A. Etherton spent part of his time in research pertaining to rural homes for Kansas and in the preparation of bulletins for the engineering experiment station. Prof. C. L. Reid was connected with the Westinghouse Electrical and manufacturing company.

W. A. Buck was employed by the Hart Power company in the traction department and during the latter part of the summer, spent at the college, carried on a series of experiments on oil engines.

E. V. Collins spent the larger part of his time in research work on automobiles and particularly upon carburetors. Professor Carlson was busy with college repairs and only allowed himself a short vacation trip to Colorado.

AMES DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN.

Temporary Selection is Made Subject to Change.
Real work on the debate with the Iowa Aggies has begun. Each team is to meet separately with Coach Burk once a week and the teams will clash once a week.

The temporary selection which has been made is, in the order of speakers: affirmative, T. R. Pharr, Merle Converse, and R. McGarraugh with R. L. Foster as alternate; negative, L. A. Dubbs, T. A. Moore, and Arthur W. Boyer with C. W. Howard as alternate.

The affirmative team will meet the negative team from Iowa, while the K. S. A. C. negative team will go to Ames.

A. H. Genshird, a last year's graduate in electrical engineering, returned to Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday to resume his work with the Westinghouse Machine company after a two weeks' vacation at his home. Mr. Genshird takes a new position, having been promoted and transferred.

Miss Elsie Hart of Lincoln, Neb., is a guest at the Alpha Delta Pi house.

WORK OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENT COMMENDED

MAJOR MUNROE McFARLAND SAYS WORK IS CREDITABLE.

Inspector was Pleased With Showing Made by Cadets at Inspection Last Spring—Report Just Received.

The report of Major Munroe McFarland who inspected the college cadets last spring has just been received at the commandant's office. Major McFarland highly commends the work of the cadets and of Captain Mathews. The report follows:

"I called upon and was cordially received by President H. J. Waters. The inspection consisted of review, inspection battalion, company and squad close and extended order drills, message by signal squads, using semaphore flags and wireless, construction of truss bridge by engineer detachment, also inspected camp expedients, field oven and incinerators. Ceremonies, drills and engineer and signal work, were creditably performed. Also field firing exercises, advance guard deployment of one company and machine guns, firing with ball and silhouette targets 800 yards. Well conducted.

The Cadets showed the result of careful instruction. Captain Mathews is doing good work and seems to have the confidence of the college authorities and cadets."

Many Take Drill.
A definite count has not yet been made, but the indications are that a larger number of students are taking drill this fall than have ever been enrolled in the military department. This year there will be fifteen companies including three provisional. Last year there were only twelve companies. The engineering company is to be made a feature of the military department this year.

The department is still in need of commissioned officers according to Commandant Mathews. It was the intention to make commissioned officers out of the highest ranking non-commissioned officers who drilled last year. Not many of these men are turning out for drill, however, which leaves a big gap in the ranks of the commissioned men.

EDUCATION IS LEARNING WHAT NOT TO REMEMBER

So Said Dr. Williston, '72, in Addressing Student Assembly Saturday.

Education is not an acquirement of knowledge. The chief thing one gets in college is the art of knowing what not to remember. So said Dr. S. W. Williston graduate of the college and professor of paleontology in the University of Chicago, in speaking before the student assembly Saturday.

The student comes to college to train himself in the ability to do things, pointed out Doctor Williston, and above all to learn to do his duty. Training is the application of one's faculties. There is no better way than along the line of applied sciences. Learning to do things well will bring success.

"No progress has been so great as that of education in the last 25 years," said the speaker. Fifty years ago education was for the select few—it was the aristocratic thing. Today education is for the common man. In the early days it was Latin, Greek, and mathematics from the time one entered college. You may laugh when I say that I studied Greek six long years."

Dr. Williston lectured to the audience club Friday night on "Some Laws of Evolution." Dr. Williston has recently been made director of the Walker museum; and is considered one of the most eminent authorities on paleontology.

He was initiated as a member of Phi Kappa Phi, the national scholarship fraternity, Saturday noon.

HOME ON ABSENCE LEAVE.

Frank Coffman and Homer McNamara Are Back From Philippines.

Frank Coffman and Homer McNamara, who are connected with the government bureau of agriculture, are home on a six-months' leave of absence. They have been stationed in the Philippine Islands for the last two years and made the trip home through China, Japan and the Hawaiian Islands.

SEMINAR FOR ENGINEERS WILL TEACH CO-OPERATION

FIRST MEETING AND ELECTION HELD THURSDAY.

Embryonic Engineers Will Learn More About Practical Work and Professional Literature.

Experiments in education are so common and in the main so unsuccessful that it is hardly just to label the divergence from the accepted routine which Dean A. A. Potter will try out in his division this year as an experiment in education.

The engineers seminar is more than an experiment in education; it is an experiment in co-operation; which large corporate industries are recognizing more and more as an elementary factor in efficiency and which will play no small part in the success of the graduate when he has left the institution.

There are four main problems that it is hoped the seminar will solve or be a factor in solving. First to acquaint the students with the aims and work of the men who are engaged in the professions for which they are preparing.

That the students may meet with each other is another object which will include the social side. It is expected that there will be one mixer per term to which all engineering students will be invited, and each course within the division will have a mixer each term. Also in the seminar, students and faculty members will be seated alphabetically, irrespective of class or position.

To acquaint the students with the personalities and lives of the men who were or are prominent in engineering is a third factor. Lectures by members of the faculty will be supplemented by perhaps one lecture a month by a "big" engineer.

D. C. Jacobs, president of the Babcock and Wilcox Boiler company and also president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will probably be one of the speakers this term.

The fourth factor is to acquaint the modern embryonic engineers with one of their most important tools—engineering literature. To this end, the juniors and seniors I teach course will be expected to subscribe to the transactions of the society representing their particular course. For instance, the students and faculty of mechanical engineering will subscribe to the Transactions of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and will be expected to be able to discuss its material.

Two seminars a month will be under the auspices of the engineering society and the other two each month will be conducted by the different engineering associations in accordance to courses. The first two seminars will be conducted by the associations.

Compulsory attendance to the seminar is one of its governing rules, but the records will be kept by the student secretary of the associations and of the engineering association.

The first seminar met in the old chapel last Thursday with an attendance of about 350 students and teachers. Professor Potter outlined the method of conducting the seminar. In his talk he called attention to the rules in the new handbook.

Election of officers followed. R. S. Kirk, junior in electrical engineering, of Manhattan was elected president, Sellers, vice president; and Zeigler treasurer.

This seminar will be watched with interest by other colleges in engineering as indicated by queries for information and there is no doubt that it will be instituted in other schools if successful here.

COLLEGE MEN TO BOOST HUGHES.

An Alliance Was Formed by Aggie Students Last Night.

Tentative arrangements for the formation of a Hughes alliance among the men of the college was made at a meeting of a number of college students at the Y. M. C. A. last night. It was the plan to form an organization in time so that it will be represented at the republican dinner to-night. The alliance will be a part of the national Hughes alliance which is being formed among college men all over the country.

QUEAR WRITES A MANUAL.

"Sixty-Two Experiments in Crops" is Name of Text.

A laboratory manual entitled "Sixty-two Experiments in Crops," is just off the press. The book is written by Charles L. Quear, assistant to President H. J. Waters.

The text is designed for field work in agriculture for the upper grammar grades and beginning high school.

THE RUSHING SEASON IS ON.

Fraternities and Sororities Keep New Students Busy.

The rushing season is on in full swing with the fraternities and sororities of the college, and the new students are kept busy filling dinner luncheon, evening picture shows, and dance dates.

The rushing season continues for 10 days. It opened Monday. The fraternities will pledge their men after 4 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon. The sororities will begin pledging at 6 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

LIPPINCOTT'S BOOK USED IN THIRTY-FIVE STATES

The Second Edition is off the Press—Much new Material has Been Added.

The second edition of "Farm Poultry Production," by W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college, is off the press. The work is comprehensive and will be used as a text book in 35 state institutions this year. Much valuable material has been added.

Professor Lippincott is now at the University of Wisconsin on leave for a year. He will study genetics with special reference to poultry under Dr. L. J. Cole, professor of experimental breeding. Professor Lippincott is recognized as an authority on poultry.

Ross M. Sherwood, specialist in poultry husbandry, will have charge of the department in the agricultural college in the absence of Professor Lippincott. He will be assisted by F. E. Fox and T. S. Townsley, new men on the teaching staff.

Mr. Fox is a graduate of Ames, and former student under Professor Lippincott at that institution. He has been an assistant there. Mr. Townsley was graduated last spring from Purdue.

N. L. Harris, superintendent of the college poultry farm, will take the place of Mr. Sherwood in the division of extension during the fall term.

PHI KAPPA PHI INITIATES.

Old Grads are Honored by Scholarship Fraternity.

Dr. Samuel Wendell Williston, '72, was initiated as a member of Phi Kappa Phi, the national scholarship fraternity, last Saturday noon. Dr. Williston has just been appointed director of the Walger museum, and is considered an authority on paleontology.

Arthur Leidigh, '02, was initiated Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock. Dr. Leidigh was formerly assistant professor of crops in this institution, and is now agronomist in charge of soil improvement at the Texas experiment station.

Miss Helen B. Thompson, '04, and Miss Jessie May Hoover, '05, were initiated during the summer. Miss Thompson is now professor of home economics in the Connecticut College for Women at New London, Conn. Miss Hoover is professor of home economics in the University of Idaho.

Phi Kappa Phi is national honorary scholarship fraternity which was initiated at the college last spring. Alumni of college who are elected to membership are initiated whenever they are in town.

CHURCH MIXERS LAST NIGHT.

Time Changed on Account of Republican Banquet.

The annual reception for new students which is given by the different churches of Manhattan was held last night instead of tonight as was originally planned.

There were games, refreshments and a general get-acquainted meeting for students, new and old, at the various churches. This is an annual event and is under the auspices of the young people's societies, the local union having general supervision. The receptions were well attended.

The time was changed from Tuesday evening to Monday evening on account of the republican banquet which is to be held at the Methodist church tonight.

24 DOZEN FROSH CAPS SOLD LIKE HOT CAKES

TWELVE DOZEN MORE TO BE HERE WEDNESDAY.

Varied Colored Headgear Proves Popular With the Yearlings—First Year Men Conspicuous on Campus.

Freshman caps, sold like hotcakes yesterday morning. Twenty-four dozen were on hand and they were all sold before noon. Twelve dozen more have been ordered and are expected tomorrow.

The caps have proved quite popular with the yearlings and bobbing around here and there on the college campus are little blotches of green, purple and white. These gorgeous colors form the new freshman headgear. The body of the cap is made of purple and white and the bill is of bright green. Caps for the ag students have white buttons while those for the engineers have yellow buttons.

The caps are being sold by members of the sophomore class. Notices have been posted conspicuously about the campus warning the freshmen to purchase caps and wear them on the campus. No definite information was given as to what would be done with those who refused to wear the caps, but it was darkly hinted that drastic action would be taken with the culprits who declined to obey rules. It is likely that miscreants will be forced to travel via the paddle route. The first year men are applying the safety first rule and buying the caps.

2268 STUDENTS HAVE ENROLLED.

A Gain of 64 Over This Time Last Year.

Late last evening, 2268 students had enrolled for the fall term. There were only 2204 enrolled at this time last year, a gain of 64 this year. Indications still point to a record of 2300 for the fall term. "If the soldier boys could come back, there is no doubt but that we would have this number," said Miss Machir last evening. "The indications are now that they will not get to come back, but I think we will be able to reach the 2300 mark."

SEVERAL CHANGES IN ENGINEERING FACULTY

A Few New Men are Added to the Various Departments This Year.

Many changes have been made in the faculty of the division of engineering. C. A. Bjorkman becomes a fellow in electrical engineering; A. Douglas, assistant in shop practice; J. A. Dawson, assistant in blacksmithing; E. C. Jones, instructor in machine tool work; L. S. Hobbs, fellow in steam and gas engineering; R. G. Kloeffer, assistant professor of electrical engineering; W. G. Kulckerbocker, assistant in steam and gas engineering.

Promotions in the division of engineering are as follows: E. V. Collins from assistant to instructor in steam and gas engineering; M. R. Bowerman from instructor to assistant professor in machine design; F. A. Wirt from instructor to assistant professor of farm machinery; Otto E. Wiseman from assistant to instructor of farm machinery; and G. R. Pauling was made superintendent of buildings and repairs in addition to his work as engineer of the power plant.

DAIRY STUDENTS GO TO K. C.

Seven Try for Places on College Judging Team.

Seven dairy students went to Kansas City the first week of school to attend the Southwest Dairy show which was being held at that place, and to compete for places on the college dairy judging team. This team will represent the college in judging contests which are to be held at the National Dairy show in Springfield, Mass., and at the Iowa Dairy show in Waterloo, Iowa. The selection of the team has not yet been made.

The men who made the trip are: H. B. Miller, Robert Terrill, Robert Dawson, R. Osborne, R. L. Brooks, W. H. Brooks, and G. R. Campbell. They were accompanied by Professors Reed and Fitch of the dairy department.

L. R. Parkeson, a last year's graduate in electrical engineering, has accepted a position with the Consolidated Electric company in New Jersey.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

"Success consists in doing the common things of life uncommonly well." This is the definition of success given by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in speaking to an audience of Boy Scouts, and is a sensible conception of success. This means that, however menial or common the work may be, if it is well done the worker is fitting himself for coming duties which are likely to grow into greater importance because of increasing ability.

The University student can profit by this thought as he enters the work of the new school year. The lesson assignments from the first day should be worked out and developed to the student's best ability, not only for the sake of the habit, but because each lesson paves the way for and throws light upon the ones to follow. However common or difficult the lesson may seem, prepare it uncommonly well, so that at the end of the year there may exist no necessity for regretting undeveloped power and character.—Dr. C. E. Hodgkin.

RECIPES FOR CANNING BEANS.

1. I am sorry to have to ask to be excused, but I must meet my mother who will arrive on the 11:40 train. If you care to go with me to the train, I will be glad to spend the early part of the evening with you at the party. (Disqualified. This is preserving, not canning.)

2. I am exceedingly sorry and disappointed on account of being unable to accept, but on account of having another date, I must decline this time. (Give good results and retains the original flavors.)

3. It will be impossible for me to accept.

(Requires little time, but gives variable results, depending upon the variety and ripeness of the product you are working with.)

4. I would rather be excused. (Quite satisfactory in general. If there is evidence of any working, repeat the process.)

5. No. (Changes all of the sugars into acids and has been uniformly satisfactory. The cold treatment is as effective as the hot.)

"BEANERIES" RAISE PRICES.

Board is Much Higher Than in Previous Years.

That hash will be ushered into the dining rooms on a silver platter, spuds will be served as dessert, and butter will be served as a rare delicacy were some of the wild conjectures of the students as they awaited the opening of the boarding houses.

With meat higher than it has been for several years, flour, the compound substitute for lard, and many other staples slowly but surely raising in price, the indications are that board will be nearly one "iron man" higher a week. A Manhattan grocer says that since college closed in the spring the average increase in all groceries is between ten and fifteen percent, while the increase in some of the staples has been abnormal.

Many of the boarding houses are starting their tables at four dollars a week, while some who take less boarders and emphasize service will start their tables at four and a quarter and a half.

Boarding clubs who are seeking memberships to pay only expenses of the club are not having to seek their membership this year—students are hunting them. Several stewards of such clubs report that they are having no difficulty in completing their lists.

The Manhattan beaneries, too, "between the devil of high prices and the deep sea of tradition" have been forced to raise the prices of eats. To avoid antagonizing precedent of two bits for a meal the country over, six of the beanery proprietors, in informal session assembled, agreed to lop off the sides, which hereafter may be ordered extra and paid for in the same way.

Which is not so bad after all for the festoon of little bathtubs around the platter generally serve as a decoration and are returned untouched. Another factor determined upon was a uniform price list on the bill of fare. The new system went into effect Monday.

College Credit for Spanish.

A class in elementary Spanish will meet in G-28 Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the eighth hour. The rate of tuition has been reduced. College credit, as well as entrance credit will be given.

STUDENTS GET TO WORK EARLY.

New Ruling Has It That Work Must Begin First Week of Term.

For the first time in the history of the institution the students got down to real study the first week of school. Heretofore the first week was generally spent in getting assignments to classes, procuring lesson assignments and the texts used. This necessitated a great deal of delay and it was generally the second week of school before work actually began.

According to the new ruling, however, texts and lesson assignments were posted on the doors of the classrooms and students came prepared to recite the first day classes met. Next year even greater dispatch is expected in the handling of assignments.

The imposition of an additional fee of one dollar for late registration has served as an incentive for students to come and get their assignments early. This has not only alleviated the work of the instructors but has made it possible for the students to get more nearly the assignments they wished.

PANCAKES WERE POPULAR.

Great Quantities Were Eaten During the Summer Session.

"Stacks" were a popular breakfast delicacy during summer school. A great amount of these were devoured by the men and boys according to Miss Nola Trent who has charge of the cafeteria.

A girl was employed who did nothing but cook pancakes which were served "while they were hot." A hungry being would enter the cafeteria, sniff the air suspiciously and exclaim "Ah! pancakes." He or she would then take his or her place in line and wait until a "stack" could be ordered for breakfast.

STUDENTS GIVE "GLAD HAND" TO CLEVENGER AND SCHULZ

Storms of Applause Meet Introduction of New Athletic Coaches at First Assembly of Year.

Storms of applause came from the student body of the college at the first assembly of the year this morning when Dr. H. J. Waters introduced Z. G. Clevenger, director of Aggie athletics, and Adolph ("Germany") Schulz, assistant professor of physical these social gatherings is to get the line this year.

The students gave Coach Clevenger and "Germany" the "glad hand" and it was easy to see that the athletic department of the college is to have the united support of the students this year. There was the general feeling after hearing the introductory remarks of Dr. Waters, that the Aggie football squad is in the hands of men who know how to produce winning teams.

Dr. Williston, a graduate of the college in 1872, now one of the leading scientists of Chicago university, was introduced. He told the students that when he was in the agricultural college the student body numbered 150, instead of 2,500. He asserted that the college student of today had greater opportunities than did the student of his day, and declared that the open door of the republic was the most inviting in history.

Martin Henderson, vice governor of the Philippines and superintendent of education in the islands, was introduced by Dr. Waters. Mr. Henderson spoke a few words of appreciation of the college.

The members of the state board of administration were present at the exercises.

TIGERS LOOK FOR WINNING TEAM

Football Prospects at Missouri University Are Bright.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 23.—With 13 of the 17 letter men, and even second string men fighting for positions on the team, Missouri has the best football prospects in years, according to Athletic Director Chester L. Brewer and Coach Henry F. Schultz. Bob Simpson, the famous hurdler, probably will play in the backfield if the track coach permits him to join the squad. He is the best punter and drop-kicker among the candidates, it is said.

Coach Clevenger has several men booting the pigskin around. Last year the Aggies were not as strong in the kicking department as they should have been and Clevenger hopes to develop at least one toe artist from the bunch which is now working out. Wells, Wilder, Husted, Clark, Fairman, Ptacek, and Randells have been booting the ball around the field and the heavy end of the kicking will probably fall upon one of these men.

"You pasty-faced, overfed, white-livered beanbag experts, what do you mean by running a beauty show instead of a football game?" It is a coach talking. "Do you suppose I came out here to be art director of a statuary exhibit? Does any one of you imagine for a holy minute he knows the difference between a football game and ushering in church? Don't fool yourselves; you don't. You don't know anything. All you ever knew about football I could carve on granite and pit it in my eye and never feel it. You fellows don't know the difference between a football and a duck's egg. If I ever turned the Old Folks' Home loose on you doll babies they'd run up a century while you were hunting for your handkerchiefs. Jackson, what do you suppose a halfback is for? I don't want cloak models. I want a man who can stick his head down and run. Don't be afraid of that bean of yours. It hasn't got anything worth saving in it. When you get the ball you're supposed to run with it and not sit around trying to hatch it. You Saunders! You held that other guard just like a sweet-pea vine. Where did you ever learn that sweet, lovely way of falling down on your nose when a real man sneezes at you? Did you ever hear of sand? Eat it! Eat it! Fill yourself up with it. I want you to get into that line and stop something, or I'll make you play left end in a fancy work club. Don't be afraid, this isn't a rude game. It's only a game of postoffice. You needn't act so nervous about it. Maybe some of the big girls will kiss you, but it won't hurt."

That's the way according to George Fitch, that Coach Bost used to talk to the squad at Good Old Siwash.

Baker Game to be a Hard One.

Aggie Wildcat camp followers are impatiently awaiting the opening of the local football season. The opening game with Baker on Ahearn Field next Saturday will not be an easy one for the Wildcats nor will it be a practice game as many seem to think. Coach Schladerman has had his team hard at work for several weeks and the gang from Baldwin will put up a scrappy contest. The presence of practically a whole team of veterans in the game from Baker, will go a long way toward making the Wildcats go their best in order to start out the season with a clean slate.

Coaches Clevenger and Schulz were well satisfied with the manner in which the Wildcats got into the game with the Frosh during Saturday's scrimmage. The varsity was able to count a couple of touchdowns during the first ten minutes of play against the husky yearlings and several additional counters were made during the remainder of the scrimmage.

The yearlings put up a good scrap but the big boys marched through and around them about as they pleased.

Varsity Scrimmage Today.

Coach Clevenger has not as yet announced any probable line-up for Saturday's contest but by the end of the week the squad will have been chosen, from which eleven will be picked to start Saturday's contest. Monday afternoon's practice consisted mostly of running signals and loosening up tight and sore muscles or tendons which were secured in Saturday's scrimmage. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons the Varsity will scrimmage against the first year men. It has not been decided whether the teams will practice behind closed doors or not on those afternoons but in all probability the afternoon scrimmages will be open to the public. This will give all loyal Aggie football fans an opportunity to get a line on the Wildcats.

Thirty students are enrolled in the printing course offered by the college, most of whom are freshmen. This is the largest number that have taken this work in the history of the department. Last fall sixteen students were enrolled for printing.

The printing department is overcrowded at present due to lack of accommodations for this number of students. The printing and journalism departments have made phenomenal growth the last two years, the enrollment in these departments in 1915-16 showing almost a 100 per cent increase over the year previous.

Tonight there will be the first of a series of "pep" meetings for the school year. The meeting will be held in the auditorium at 7:30. The freshmen are expected to wear their caps for "there's a reason." The band will furnish music; and the coaches and several faculty members will speak. It is expected that there will be an abundance of enthusiasm for the game tomorrow.

If Coach Z. G. Clevenger has a guess as to the Aggie gridiron men who will trot out on the field to start the opening game of the season with Baker university Saturday afternoon, he is keeping that choice to himself. The best lineup that could be obtained from him was a list of 32 promising Varsity candidates.

"I'll pick my eleven from that bunch," was the only comment the new athletic director would make. "Germany" Schulz, the new line coach, was even harder to interview on the subject of initial lineup.

"I'll give you the complete lineup after the game" was his answer.

Four of last year's freshman Varsity team, Wells, Husted, Clarke and Rhoda, have won places on a team picked by several old students of Aggie football. Wells and Husted are doped to play fullback and halfback, respectively, and Clark will probably start at quarterback, as Sullivan, last year's quarter, will be unable to play because of an injury received in the second scrimmage.

Captain Barnes will be the only old man in the backfield. He will play his customary position at left half but will probably be shifted to quarterback later in the game. Ex-Captain Skinner and "Stiff" Randalls are due to start at ends and Ptaek and Dorrell, also old men, will start at the tackle positions. Bayer and Rhoda, the latter a new man, will probably be found at guard and "Rasty" Wright will play his old position at center.

Optimism was expressed by both Clevenger and Schulz as to the outcome of the opening fracas. The coaches were unanimous, however, in the opinion that the game would be no walkaway.

"I look for a stiff game," said

Coach Clevenger. "Of course we hope to get started right but the main idea in this game will be to try out the men. We will probably make many substitutions in order to line the men up for the harder games that are to come."

Indications that Aggie students are prepared to back the Clevenger-Schulz combination to the limit are shown in the fact that this year's ticket sale is much better than last year at this time. Ticket sellers have been having a rushing business in main hall and various organizations have also made many requests for more tickets to sell. "Germany" Schulz has charge of the ticket sale.

CLASS OFFICIALS WERE NOMINATED YESTERDAY

Class Politics are Launched With Little Interest—Freshman Choose Committee on Constitution.

Class politics are on the boom; but receptions starting assignments friendly visits, and rushing season claimed most of the pep which would otherwise have been displayed in the political game. A motion for adjournment would have been allowed almost anytime during the sessions of the several classes yesterday morning.

Following is a list of the would-be officials whose names will be voted on at the next meeting of the classes.

Senior.
President: Keith Kenyon, Rose Baker, Gabe Sellers; vice president: L. E. Howard, Blanche Clark, secretary: Miss Frances Hildebrand; treasurer: Floyd Pickrell, Zora Harris; marshal: Harry Schaper; assistant marshal: Robert Osborne; class historian: Mae Sweet; football manager: Frank Turner; students council: Leo C. Moser, Waldo Feppe, L. E. Howard, Violina Cutler, Chritina Figley.

Junior.
President: Charles Enlow, H. Zeiler; vice-president: P. L. Findley; secretary: Margaret Robinson; treasurer: G. W. Fisher, O. T. Bonnett, W. H. Borland, "Dutch" Hewey; marshal: I. O. Mall, W. Welsh, B. Q. Shields; assistant marshal: J. E. DuBois, E. R. Frank; class scribe: Miss Kong; student council: T. R. Pharr, Fred Groffee, A. W. Boyer, Hazel Merillat, Harry Dunham; athletic board: J. E. Bixby, W. R. Essick; athletic manager: A. C. Hancock, J. R. Mingle, Clyde Kee.

Sophomore.
President: D. M. Fullington, William Croyle; vice president: D. M. Barringer; secretary: Ruth Thomas, Ruth Beggs; treasurer: John Clark, John Tillotson; chairman social committee: Elizabeth Cotton, Blanche Sappenfield; student council: I. A. Guylfoyle, Oscar Steanson, William Knostman; yell leader: Rimlach, marshal, T. A. Hinshaw, Mattiger, Bruce Brewer; assistant marshal: Gordon Schultz, Voorhes; class historian: Ralph Foster, B. Gleason, Charles Howard, Velma Carson, Church; football manager: Barnes, Irwin, Gleason; basketball manager: C. M. Wilhoit, Miss Jessie Johnson.

No nominations for permanent officers.

The following officers were elected: Hamilton Stout, temporary chairman; Pernell, temporary secretary; committee on constitution, Mr. Blanchard, Miss Frank, Mr. Medlin.

AG DEPT. SENDS EXHIBITS.

College Will be Represented at Wichita and El Paso.

Exhibits from the agronomy department are being sent to the National Wheat show at Wichita and the International Dry Farming Congress at El Paso, Texas.

The material which is being sent to El Paso has been gathered from over the state. There will also be a station exhibit in connection with the United States division of agriculture. The station exhibits are to be conducted in the same manner as those of the Panama exposition. B. S. Wilson, assistant in cooperative experiments at the college, has charge of the exhibits.

Professor W. T. Stratton is going to Topeka tomorrow.

81 ARE PLEDGED BY GREEK ORGANIZATIONS

THE RUSHING SEASON A MOST STRENUOUS ONE.

Neophytes Given a Continual Round of Pleasure—Are Now Wearing Pledge Buttons and Colors.

Free auto rides, rounds of refreshments, theatre parties, dances, smokers and all the approved forms of rushing have materialized. By midnight Wednesday practically every fraternity had some of the new class of '20 wearing a little significant button on the left lapel of their coats. The sororities, too, have their quota safely bundled away.

This has been a most strenuous rushing period. Nothing was spared. Machine were crammed full of freshmen, feeling a bit elated for being so marked; and the several sororities went spinning about the campus with their prizes safely inside automobiles.

The fraternities began pledging their men after 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while the sororities began their pledging at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Following is the list of pledges which have been announced:

Acacia—Edgar Lawton, Larned; Harry Vauple, Salina; Chaucery Yeoman, Hutchinson; Neal Smith, Arcadia.

Alpha Delta Pi—Vera Garvin, Lawrence; Mary Hagenbusch, Troy; Edith Kaul, Glen Elder; Mildred Arends, Kansas City; Kau; Inez Blackman, Manhattan.

Delta Zeta—Minnie Wilson, Manhattan, Ann Walker, Dalhart, Tex.; Pearl and Ruby Parkhurst, Kingsley; Frances Keneaster, Kansas City; Leal McIntire, Topeka; Vieda Brainard, Paola; Ada Robertson, Washington.

Kappa Kappa Gamma—Leona Teichgraber, Lindsborg; Alice Bacon, Emporia; Alma Hoffman, Enterprise; Jean Plume, Milwaukee; Agnes Handlin, Manhattan; Elizabeth Hart, Topeka.

Phi Beta Phi—Irene Toiever, Abilene; Phoebe Buzard, St. Joseph, Mo.; Sarella Herrick Topeka, Helen Blank, Emporia; Lucile Messerly, Osage City; Marjorie Brown, Kansas City; Camille Hanson, Concordia; Mildred Easley, Salem, Neb.; Ernestine Biby, Topeka; Dorothy Parke, Emporia.

Pi Kappa Alpha—Stephen Kauffman, Ruskin Couch and Frank Heath, of Anthony; Leroy Gillespie, Anthony; Messrs. Swanson, Davis and Bressler of Manhattan.

Sigma Nu—Harry Gunness, Junction City; Dewey Newcomb, Great Bend; Victor Meade, Wichita; Lloyd and Carl Miller, Belleville; Eliot Robinson, Towanda; Everett Stearns, Towanda.

Sigma Phi Delta—L. H. Wallace, Winfield; Chas. L. Gilruth, Winfield; Fred Hall, Almena; Boyce Bate, Wichita; Lawrence Bright, Wichita; Geo. W. Corzine, Wichita.

Tri-Delt—Maude Coverdale, Coffeyville; Gladys Woodward, Kansas City; Gladys Burris, Chanute; Helen Neiman, Whitewater; Lottie Thompson, Wichita; Grace Ratliff, Ogden; Fern Skaer, Augusta; Ethel Varner, Augusta.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Wesley Lucas, Wichita; C. F. Presto, Chicago; Edgar Hall, Eureka; Evan Griffith, Manhattan.

Dr. F. S. Schoenleber acted as one of the directors of the Ayrshire division of the Southwest dairy show which was recently held in Kansas City. He also exhibited his herd of Ayrshires and took some premiums.

848 HAVE ENROLLED FOR MILITARY DRILL

A DECREASE OF 73 COMPARED WITH LAST YEAR.

Several New Appointments are Announced—A Complete List of Officers to be Published Later.

To date, 848 students are taking work in the department of military science and tactics. Last year there were 921 enrolled in this department, a decrease of 73. Enough stragglers are expected to raise the enrollment close to the 900 mark.

The commissioned officers who have just been appointed in this department are:

Lieutenant colonel, F. M. Pickrell; major first battalion, K. E. Kenyon; major second battalion, H. R. Horak; captain company A, F. N. Jordan; captain company B, O. T. Bonnett; captain company C, T. R. Pharr; captain company D, G. E. Maner; captain company E, N. Pearson; captain company F, I. O. Mall; captain company G, A. L. Willis; captain company H, W. E. Patterson; captain company I, W. G. Bruce; captain company K, E. T. Whitcomb; captain company L, F. K. Hanson; captain adjutant, R. L. Mosier; first lieutenant A company, W. A. Ball; first lieutenant B company, O. N. Davis; first lieutenant F company, L. V. Ritter; first lieutenant E company, Fred Carp; first lieutenant L company, T. O. Garringer; first lieutenant K company, H. C. Colglazier.

A complete list of first and second lieutenants and noncommissioned officers will be published later.

FROSH FAIL IN ENGLISH EXAM.

Out of 39 Only Three Get Advanced Credit.

Of the 39 freshman students who took examination for advanced credit in English I and English II, or both, only three received credit in English I and one received credit in English II.

Those who received a grade of from 70 to 90 were given credit in English I and those who received a grade above 90 were given credit in English II. The papers were graded by three different instructors in the English department.

The examination consisted of ten sentences to be corrected for structure, two sentences to be corrected for punctuation, and a composition consisting of from 300 to 500 words. The papers were graded on the ability shown by the student to write correct English sentences, to spell, to capitalize, punctuate, and paragraph.

CHORAL SOCIETY IS PRACTICING.

Will Give "Messiah" the Week Before Christmas.

"More class work than we can possibly do," says Arthur E. Westbrook, director of music.

The exceptional interest aroused by the Choral society last year in rendering Mendelssohn's "Elijah" accounts for so many wanting to take up work in music this year.

"The Choral society will accommodate 400 or 500 people," says Mr. Westbrook. "Those not yet enrolled in any course can become a member of the Choral society without assignment. The oratorio 'Messiah' by Handel will be given the week before Christmas by the society. This event will be the greatest yet attempted by the department and will be another mile stone in developing local talent and musical appreciation." The Choral society meets at 7:30 o'clock Monday evenings.

THEY ASK PREXY FOR MEAT.

Similarity of Phone Numbers Cause Orders to be Misdirected.

Owing to numerous phone calls which have recently come to President Waters office placing orders for meat to be delivered at the various boarding houses, Prexy's phone number has been changed to 840.

The phone number of the President's office was formerly the same as one of the local butcher shops, and many orders for meats were misdirected to his office.

WALKER SPEAKS AT LARNED.

Addresses Fifth Annual Meeting of Irrigation Congress.

H. B. Walker, associate professor of irrigation and drainage engineering, addressed the Kansas State Irrigation congress at Larned Tuesday, on the subject, "The General Status of Irrigation in Kansas."

"Kansas has in the neighborhood of 225 irrigation pumping plants," said Mr. Walker. "At least 40 percent of these are at present bad investments for the owners. This is not on account of lack of water or inefficient pumpin equipment, but because the owners are indifferent concerning the operation of their plants. A good well with a good pump and suitable power does not insure crops. The pumping plants must be consistently and persistently operated to give the greatest net returns at the end of the season."

LAMBDA KAPPA GAMMA IN KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Grand President, Mrs. Park Kolbe, Officially—Twenty-One Members Installed and Eight Initiated.

The Lambda Lambda Theta sorority, 1521 Leavenworth street, was installed Saturday as a chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, a national college women's fraternity. The Lambdas are the last of the local organizations to become nationalized.

In the year 1906 Lambda Lambda Theta was established at K. S. A. C. and since that time has been recognized as one of the most active sororities both socially and in all college activities on the hill. In May 17, 1916, the members of Lambda Lambda Theta were granted a chapter by Kappa Kappa Gamma which is considered one of the best national women's fraternities in the United States. Installation by the Grand President, Mrs. Park Kolbe of Akron, O., the Omega chapter of Kansas university, the Sigma chapter of Nebraska university, took place at the chapter house.

Those installed were: Ruth Hill Hobbs, Manhattan; Rembert Harshbarger, Manhattan; Meta Sheaff, Kansas City; Jessie Alexander, Wichita; Ruth Simpson, Paragould, Ark.; Frances Ewalt, Manhattan; Emily Loffek, Manhattan; Vivien Herron, Topeka; Merle Beeman, Topeka; Nina Mae Powell, Manhattan; Edna Klein, Iola; Helen Pearl, Hutchinson; Mary Vandervor, Forest City, Mo.; Jaunita Reynolds, Canton, Mo.; Hazel Groff, Nortonville; Mildred Branson, Winfield; Julia Homes, Duarte, Cal.; Gladys Groves, Eureka; Tess Goodwyn, Minneapolis; Anne Howard, Coldwater; Louise Fielding, Manhattan.

Those initiated were: Bess Hoffman, Enterprise; Mildred Warring, Larned; Phyllis Burt Topeka; Alene Hrbarger, Wichita; Alta Taylor, Wichita; Betty Cotton, Wanago; Mae Frooshire, Chillicothe, Mo.; Alice Tomson, Manhattan.

Kappa has a total membership of 6,500. There are 38 active and 19 inactive chapters in the organization. It was founded in Mammoth college in 1879.

After the installation a short reception was held at Institute hall followed by a banquet for the visiting guests and the new chapter.

SCHOOL OF AG. FOOTBALL.

Many Want to Play—Schedule Being Arranged.

"There are lots of fellows who want to play," said Coach Clevenger when asked concerning the prospects for the School of Agriculture football team.

Coach Clevenger and H. L. Kent, principal of the School of Agriculture, are doing all they can to secure a suitable coach and arrange a schedule. It is probable that the schedule will include games with Wamego, St. Marys, Salina, Manhattan, and Clay Center high schools.

Four Guernseys are Purchased.

Three heifers of the Guernsey breed have been purchased by the dairy department for use in the dairy herd at the college, a Guernsey bull was also purchased near Boston, Mass. The heifers come from Cranford, N. J.

Howard T. Hill, the debate coach from the Kansas university, has been coaching the Ames, Iowa, debating squad the past two weeks.

AGGIE DAIRY JUDGING TRIO GOES TO MASSACHUSETTS

KANSAS DAIRYMEN AND DAIRY BREEDERS PAY EXPENSES.

Will Also Compete in Dairy Show at Waterloo, Iowa and Visit Some of the Great Dairy Farms of the East.

A dairy judging team of three men will represent K. S. A. C. in the National Dairy show at Springfield, Mass., when dairy judging teams from fifteen agricultural colleges of the east and west meet there in competition for honors and prizes on October 13.

Four scholarships of $400 each are being offered at the show and these will incite keen competition. The manufacturers of the DeLaval and Iowa cream separators and the Jersey and Holstein herd associations are offering these scholarships respectively to the man scoring highest score, to the sweepstakes team, to the man scoring highest in judging Jerseys, and to the man scoring the highest in judging Holoiteins.

The team of three men has not been chosen definitely. The slimming process has reduced the list to four men, R. E. Terrell, J. R. Dawson, F. S. Turner, and Robert Osborne. All of these men are seniors in the course of dairy husbandry.

Accompanied by J. B. Fitch, associate professor of dairy husbandry, the team will leave Manhattan, Sunday morning, for Waterloo, Iowa, to attend the mid-west, inter-state show which is held at that place every year and is the second largest dairy show in the country.

At this place they will enter in competition against the teams of Iowa, Nebraska, and Missouri. From there the team will go to Chicago and stop at other points on the way to Springfield and visit some of the largest and best dairy farms in the United States.

The National Dairy show has always been held at Chicago and the college has always sent a team there. The Aggie team brought two cups home last year—first on Ayrshires, and chosen as the second best team among the agricultural colleges represented.

Heretofore, the boys have paid their own way but the distance this year was so great as to be almost prohibitive. Accordingly Professor Reed, head of the department, wrote to creameries, dairy breeders, and other friends of the department in the state, asking for their support in order that the college dairy department and this important industry of the state might be represented there.

Hearty approval and support of his suggestion was manifested in their replies which brought generous checks sufficient to pay the expense of three men for the trip.

"The show grounds at Springfield are built up in fine shape," says Professor Reed. "The stalls and barns that they were constructing on the grounds are second to none. They are expecting the largest exhibit of dairy cows that has been shown in this country and it was to this and that New England commercial interests paid $250,000 to get the show in the east and thus stimulate or rather revive the waning interest in dairy production."

Professor Reed was east recently on a buying trip and visited the show grounds at Springfield, Mass., on his return trip.

QUILL CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS.

L. R. Hiatt Will Head Organization This Year.

At a meeting of the Quill club Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the coming year: chancellor, L. R. Hiatt; vice chancellor, Professor H. W. Davis; scribe, Velma Carson; keeper of the parchment, Stella Blaine; midan, M. F. Wilder.

The Quill club is a national organization of writers, the local or Beta chapter being organized in 1914. Meetings are held the second and month-fourth Monday nights of each month in K156.

ROOT FOR THE AGGIES.

Saturday afternoon the Aggies meet the Baker eleven on the college grid-iron for their first football game of the season.

To have a winning football team we must not rely upon the coaches and the team doing it all. They must have support from the rooters.

This year we have two football coaches with national fame, and if the students will do what is expected of them, there is no reason why we should not have a championship team.

Of course we expect the Aggies to win; we expect them to go into every game intending to win. At times there will probably be reverses, but don't knock if one of the players makes a mistake. Try and put yourself in his place and imagine if you could have done better. It is hard enough on a man to "pull a bone-head" when he is doing his level best without having someone criticize him for it.

Every Aggie player is going to do his level best but if mistakes are made, don't get out your little hammer and knock and criticize. Cheer the men, encourage them, let them know that you are still behind them. This goes a long way toward helping to win a football game.

Be at the game with lusty lungs and lots of "pep" and yell and root, and root and yell—for the Aggies.

Pi Beta Phi.

The Pi Betas entertained with a rainbow dinner Tuesday evening. The table was decorated with a rainbow of happiness, at the foot of which was a pot of gold. The hand painted place cards were done in rainbow colors. Besides the active members of the sorority the guests were Misses Helen Blank, Dorothy Parke, Lucille Messerly, Marjorie Brown, Camille Hanson, Mildred Easley, Ernestine Bily, Irene Tolliver, Phoebe Azari, Larela Herrick, Edith Updegraff, and Edith Biggs. Wednesday night the Pi Beta Phi sorority had a "cooky shine" for their new pledges.

Alpha Delta Pi.

Alpha Delta Pi sorority entertained with a six course formal dinner last Tuesday evening. A reflector on which stood a bowl of pink roses, was used as centerpiece for the table. The decorations were beautifully carried out in a green and white color scheme. An orchestra screened with palms and ferns furnished music during the evening.

Acacia.

The Acacias entertained with a smoker Tuesday night for their rushers and faculty members. Wednesday evening a Masonic smoker and banquet was given in the lodge rooms for the college and town Masons. Short talks were made by Mr. Sam Kimble, Dr. McClelland and President Waters. Music was furnished by the Acacia quartet.

Tri Delta.

Mr. and Mrs. Burris of Chanute, who are here visiting their daughter, Miss Gladys Burris were dinner guests at the Tri Delta house last evening. Thursday night Mrs. Hoffman of 1111 Houston street entertained for the members and new pledges of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Miss Ada Rice, assistant principal of the school of agriculture, will give a party at her home, 906 Osage, this evening, in honor of the girls in the school of agriculture.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

VOLUME 23. NUMBER 5.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1916.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

AMERICA'S BEST TALENT IN LOCAL LYCEUM COURSE

SEVEN NUMBERS OF ALL STAR ATTRACTIONS.

Well Known and Noted Musicians, Entertainers, and Lecturers Will Make 1916-17 Course the Strongest Ever Presented.

Today is lyceum course day. The chapel program will be in charge of the lyceum course committee, and all those who have not yet purchased season tickets will be expected to get them today.

Seven numbers composed of the highest priced obtainable talent are to be given the coming year. The first number is next Monday, October 9 when George Hamlin, a distinguished American concert and operatic tenor and Victor red seal artist in concert with Miss Myrtle Moses, an American prima donna mezzo-soprano, will make their first appearance at the college.

The other numbers are: October 24, Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer, a reader presenting literary masterpieces; November 7, the Melting Pot, the great American drama; November 17, Adrian M. Newens, a monologist who needs no introduction; January 26, Madam Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler, the world's greatest woman pianist; February 14, Miss Ida H. Tarbell, America's foremost journalist and March 26, Dr. Edward A. Steiner, author, educator, and lecturer on immigration problems.

Tickets for the course are selling well, and it is expected that a great many will be sold today. Seat reservations will be made Saturday, October 7, in the gymnasium. The $2.50 seats will be reserved at 7 o'clock in the morning and the $2.00 seats at one o'clock in the afternoon.

Committee Has Charge of Course.

The college society lyceum course is in charge of a committee whose membership is composed of one representative from each literary society. The members are: Hattie Droll, Ionian; Vilona Cutler Euroderphian; Zora Harris, Alpha Beta; Mary Weible, Browning; Wm. H. Borland, Webster; M. L. Coe, Franklin; W. W. Fetrow, Athenian; O. K. Rumbel, Hamilton. Mr. Fetrow takes the place of W. A. Gillispie who is not in school this year. O. K. Rumbel is chairman of the committee, Zora Harris is secretary, and Vilona Cutler treasurer.

The society lecture course at K. S. A. C. dates its inception back to the year 1898. Previous to this time there had been courses managed by various literary societies, but they were only partially successful. Since the literary societies have been in control the courses have gradually developed in strength and quality until this year the course is the strongest and most expensive put on west of the Mississippi river. From six and seven numbers of ordinary quality the course has grown to be one composed of the best talent obtainable. The cost to patrons, however, is the same as it was ten years ago.

All lectures and entertainments of the present course will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and patrons are requested to be present at that time.

Doors will be open at 7:15.

WOOD HAS MILLING POSITION. Student Assistant in Soil Analysis Will Analyze Flour.

John C. Wood of Anthony, senior in general science, who has taken his major electives in the department of chemistry, has accepted a permanent position with the Larabee Flour and Mill company. The company is a corporation with mills at several points in Missouri. Mr. Wood will be given charge of one of the mill laboratories. His work will consist of analysis of flour and mill products.

A representative of the mills came to Manhattan shortly after the opening of the fall term and Mr. Wood, who has been employed in the department for the last three years and who is, at present, student assistant on soil analysis work, readily qualified for the position. He will take charge of his new duties on October 15.

The Tri Epsilon fraternity entertained their new pledges and a few friends at dinner followed by a line party to the Wareham theatre Wednesday evening.

THE MUSIC FACULTY STUDY.

Received Instruction from Eminent Teachers During Summer.

During the past summer all the instructors in the department of music studied with prominent teachers in Chicago and New York.

Professor Arthur Westbrook, head of the department, studied with eminent teachers of Chicago. Professor R. H. Brown studied with his old teacher, Herbert Butler of Chicago.

Miss Fanchon Easter studied with Frank La Forge in New York. Miss Patricia Abernathy studied with Herriott Levy in Chicago; and Miss May Carley studied and coached with Pauline Wolfmann Brandt, formerly of the Boston Opera Company.

Philon Calkins, tenor, is the new teacher of voice in the music department. Mr. Calkins has lived and studied in Chicago and New York and has received instruction from the best music teachers in both cities.

B. H. Ozmeent, director of the band, is arranging for a second band for those who are not prepared to enter the college organization.

The music classes are more crowded than ever, according to Mr. Westbrook. Many are attending the choral society rehearsals and much interest is being shown.

DEBATE TRYOUTS WILL BE HELD IN DECEMBER

This is the Last Chance for Those Who Wish to Place on the 1916-17 Teams.

Fall debate tryouts to get men for the intercollegiate debating teams, which debate in the winter and spring terms, will be held Friday, Saturday, and Monday, December 1, 2, and 3. As the Emporia question has not yet been definitely decided upon the Pentagonal question will be used. It is: "Resolved, That the United States Government should enact a law providing for a subsidizing of a merchant-marine upon the high seas."

Material may be found in the library on this question. The librarians are glad to help all who desire their assistance in finding the material.

These tryouts are for the purpose of filling both the men's and women's teams. Four minutes will be given for constructive speech and four minutes for rebuttal speech. A plan similar to that of last spring will be used. This is the last tryout for positions on the 1916-17 teams. All those desiring to debate during this school year must make the teams now.

All members of literary societies and fraternities and sororities, who are helping to bear the expense of debating by a prorated assessment, are eligible to contest in this tryout. Any others desiring to debate should hand their names to Don L. Burk, debate coach. Some plan will be provided by the debating council that will make it possible for those to debate, who hand in their names.

"The work being done by the men now preparing for the clash with Ames to come during November, is fine," said the coach, in speaking of the work of the first team of the season. "The outlook bids fair to mark up a winning score for the Aggies."

BOOST CAMPAIGN FOR HUGHES.

College Students Will Hold Big Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Tuesday Night.

A meeting of all college students interested in the campaign of Charles E. Hughes for president will be held at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A., corner of Fremont and Eleventh streets, under the direction of the K. S. A. C. Republican club. The meeting is for both men and women.

The purpose of the republican club will be explained, Hughes buttons will be given out to all present and literature pertaining to the campaign will be distributed. Plans will be made for the entertainment of speakers who will appear here soon under the auspices of the club. Price E. Wheeler, chairman of the club, urges every student interested in the campaign to be present.

"Under Cover" to be Played.

"Under Cover" a $50 royalty play will be presented by students of the college, under the auspices of the public speaking department, sometime during the year.

This play has met with great success in college theatricals according to J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking. J. H. Brauhm will assist Professor Emerson again this year.

FRESHMEN ATTEMPT TO PADDLE UPPERCLASSMAN

WERE DISSUADED BY ARGUMENTS OF THEIR SENIORS.

A Free for All Scrap is Narrowly Averted—Feeling Runs High
When Freshman is Struck in Face.

Encouraged by the fact that the upperclassmen were forbidden by Prexy to punish misbehaving freshmen until all had an opportunity to buy caps, the yearlings sat peacefully in their seats between halves at Saturday's football game.

After the game, however, they mobilized in force for their mutual protection while sojourning through Aggieville, having a hazy desire to tear up the town and bury the upperclassmen under it.

The freshmen marched triumphantly through the crowd and incidentally almost stirred up a general free for all scrap, and instilled in the hearts of all a class spirit which the faculty has hinted the student body should have.

In front of Kittell's clothing store, a junior grabbed a freshman's cap and virtuously and vigorously "beat it." He was captured near the Y. M. C. A. where the freshman council of war decided that the junior should be paddled.

By this time, however, a large committee of upperclassmen had arrived and explained that such conduct was not in accordance with the etiquette and tradition of the college and that it was their earnest desire that the freshmen should not paddle the junior. The committee explained that it would be a very undignified position, in which to place the honored upperclassman.

Freshmen are Advised.

The feeling was strong among the men—who had gained a knowledge of the college world, and who had themselves passed through the trying ordeal of being a freshman—that the freshmen should, that it was their sacred duty to make sacrifices and to be forebearing in order to gain strength that they might train and train men of future freshman class. The argument of the "uppers" was weighty although quite unheard above the din of clamoring and expositing which explained that every man there was a native born, free American citizen with rights to hit and keep from being hit; to make others wear caps or keep from wearing caps and to do anything and everything or nothing.

Feeling on all sides became intense when one man who was said to be an upperclassman hit a freshman in the face—a trick which was denounced by freshmen and upperclassmen as utterly devoid of the appearance of sportsmanship and proper college spirit.

There followed this incident a feathery and lingual demonstration of fifteen minutes duration, during which time the cap-lifter removed himself to a barricaded room in the Y. M. C. A.

Upon the removal of the immediate cause of hostilities the unpopular exposition of Rooseveltian methods of procedure vanished, and the mob broke up, the freshmen going their way discussing their victory.

AGGIE STOCK JUDGES TO K. C.

Five Men Attend the American Roy Show.

A team of five students from the Kansas State Agricultural college animal husbandry department is competing with teams from several other institutions in a stock judging contest at the American Royal show at Kansas City this week. Dr. C. W. McCabell, associate professor of animal husbandry, accompanied the local team.

Members of the team are R. Weimer, Fredonia; B. M. Anderson, Manhattan; Peter J. England, Falun; J. R. Neale, Manhattan; I. E. Howard, Coldwater. Alternates who accompanied the team were O. L. McFadden of Stafford and W. H. Brookover of Eureka.

Three students in dairy husbandry are judging this week at Waterloo, Iowa. From there they will go to Springfield, Mass., to judge in the National Dairy show. These men are F. S. Turner, of Tonganoxie, R. E. Terrill of Hays, and J. R. Dawson of Hays.

AGGIE STUDENTS FORM A REPUBLICAN LEAGUE

BIDDING COLLEGE POLITICIANS MAY JOIN THIS WEEK.

Senator Wadsworth of New York
Will Address the First Public Meeting of the Organization
Saturday Evening.

The preliminary organization of a local branch of the American College Republican league is completed and Hughes and Hughesism will be loyally supported, explained, and declaimed by the budding Republican politicians of the college until the ballot booths close on November 9. During this week, all Republican students will be given an opportunity to become a member.

At a meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. recently, C. A. Kimball, chairman of the central committee of Riley county, presided as temporary chairman for the election of officers who will have charge of the student organization.

Price H. Wheeler, senior in agriculture, of Garden City, was elected president; Hazel Merrill, junior in home economics, vice president; W. T. White, secretary-treasurer; and Henry Bayer, marshal.

An executive committee of four men and four women were also elected at this time: Henry Bayer, Ralph Heppner, R. L. Rimbach, W. G. Bruce, Pauline Richards, Helen Winne, Margaret Robinson, Josephine Allis. This committee together with the officers will constitute the central committee of the local organization, the same as the state organization.

Senator Wadsworth Will Speak.

Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York, who succeeded Senator Root, and who is one of the best known politicians in the east, will speak at the first public meeting of the organization next Saturday evening. Senator Wadsworth, under instructions of the National Republican committee, will only make two speeches in Kansas. His other appearance will be before a similar student organization at Lawrence.

Senator Wadsworth is a young man, 39 years of age, but with eleven years experience in public legislation. He graduated from Yale in 1898, and enlisted as a private for service in the Spanish-American war. He returned to take up the duties of farm life and for two years was a ranchman in the Panhandle. Shortly after his return to New York state from Texas, he was elected a member of the New York Assembly where he served from 1905 until 1910 and was speaker of assembly from 1906 until 1910. He was elected United States Senator in 1911.

Posters will announce the hour and the place and it is expected that nearly all of the men and women of the college will be present to hear this noted speaker.

Has State Organization Plan.

The completed organization will be on the same plan as the state organization. The chairman of each county committee will be expected to meet and become acquainted with all of the Hughes supporters of that section. He will be advised to hold separate meetings for that contingent if he deems it necessary.

The county chairman will be responsible for his quota of voters to the chairman of his congressional district and a part of his work will be to bring these voters to the polls on election day in a body. The chairman of his congressional district will in turn be responsible for the various bodies under the county chairman in his district, to the central committee.

The American college league was established in 1892 and at present has branches in all the leading American colleges.

The president requests that all who are interested in this organization to give their names to him through the college post office, designating their home county. Those who get their names in first will have more opportunity for places in the county organization.

2288 Have Enrolled.

The 2288th student enrolled last evening. Just 12 are lacking to bring the total number up to 2300, the estimated total fall enrollment. Enough students are expected to bring the enrollment up to this number.

PEP MEETING THURSDAY.

Get your voices tuned up for that pep meeting Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The Frosh have the pep—let the upperclassmen outdo them. "Reez" and "Fatty" will spring some new yells. Free show at Marshall's at 10 o'clock.

Be there!

COLLEGE SENDS OUT FORECASTS.

Wireless Will be Used in Predicting Weather.

Daily weather forecasts will be sent out by wireless from the Kansas State Agricultural college beginning Wednesday. With the exception of the forecasts put out at night from Washington, D. C. for the particular benefit of naval stations, this is the first time anything of this kind has been attempted.

"Dozens of stations will pick up the forecast," said J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics and weather observer, today. Several stations including those at Bennington and Logan have asked for this service. There are many amateur stations in Kansas. This means that in numerous cases towns which receive the forecasts by mail will get them several hours in advance of the usual time.

SUCCESS IS NOT DUE TO RESTRICTION—VANDERLIP

President of the National City Bank of New York Addresses Student Assembly.

The man who is satisfied with an eight hour day restriction is not the type of individual who will succeed in life, according to Frank Arthur Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank of New York, and authority on matters of finance, who spoke Friday before the student body of the agricultural college.

"Restriction of production is a limiting factor," said Mr. Vanderlip. "You are not looking for eight hours a day. The man who succeeds is not bound by such rules as that."

"Efficiency of production is what society needs. A good many workmen do not recognize that they owe to society efficient work. You are going to advance society by going back to the farm and adopting scientific methods. We have more scientific agriculture and more economical production."

"Your understanding of common things prepares you for business, industrial and scientific life. You have a great responsibility. Nowhere would I rather look to success of any sort than in a group like this."

"Whether there is a future president of a great bank in this group is largely up to you. It depends upon whether you have a keen interest that is leading you to do more than you are required to do."

ROOTERS' CLUB ELECTS.

"Rasty" Wright Receives Near Unanimous Vote for President.

"Pep" galore was displayed at the first meeting of the Rooters' club at the auditorium Friday night. A thousand male voices and between 300 and 400 feminine trills welcomed Coaches Clevenger and Schulz and the football "K" men, as they were dragged up to the stage for impromptu speeches.

After yelling themselves hoarse under the direction of "Fatty" Umbehr, the rooters—minus the girls, who were forbidden to make the trip—marched in columns of squads down to the business section. A parade of the streets followed, after which the rooters were admitted to the Wareham theatre to witness a show.

"Rasty" Wright received a near unanimous vote for the presidency of the Rooters' Club. He was called upon for a speech and in a few words outlined the policy and also the financial situation of the club. "Beez" Cushman was elected cheer leader by a large majority.

A veil of secrecy surrounds the doings of the Girls' Rooters' club which met Thursday afternoon. Coaches Clevenger and Schulz both made short speeches but admitted that they were not permitted to stay long enough to get a line on the proceedings of the club. It is rumored that the girls plan a demonstration for the Missouri-Aggie game on November 11.

Tri Epsilon fraternity announces the pledging of Otto Blank, K. E. Kenyon, W. R. Essick, C. S. Reeves and O. V. Russell.

AGGIE MACHINE DEFEATS BAKER ELEVEN 20 TO 0

RANDALLS AND WELLS WERE THE LOCAL STARS.

Last Saturday's Game was Marked by the Consistent Playing of the Clevenger-Schulz
Eleven.

The well-oiled Clevenger-Schulz football machine outfought and outplayed the Baker eleven in a 20 to 0 combat on Ahearn field Saturday. Fierce playing on the part of the Aggie gridiron men kept the battle in Baker territory throughout the game; the purple and white goal never having been seriously threatened. Only once did the Bakerites get within 25 yards of the Aggie goal.

"Stir" Randalls, hero of last year's Aggie-Jayhawk fray, made two sensational runs for a couple of Aggie touchdowns. Enlow, substituting later in the game for Randalls, picked up a Baker fumble and dashed 13 yards across the goal line for a third score.

Wells and Placek were the ground-gaining heroes of the Clevenger machine. The big Aggie fullback made many terrific plunges, leaving a trail of would-be tacklers on the ground behind him. Husted also carried the ball well on short end bucks. Playing his first game at quarterback on the Aggie team, Clarke handled the eleven like a veteran. Jaggard, Grove, and Stewart were the Methodist stars.

The Aggie line held like a stone wall, permitting the Methodists to make but one first downs, while the Aggies made their distance 14 times. Dodrill and Rhoda working side by side made the right side of the line almost invincible. Rhoda fought mechanically and once succeeded in blocking one of Groves punts and fell on the ball for a big Aggie gain.

Wells had a slight edge on Groves in punting, although both men were punting better than the average. Standing on his own 20-yard line, Wells booted a punt 65 yards in the third quarter, the ball carrying far over Jaggard's head and rolling 15 yards to the goal posts. Groves' punting averaged 40 yards, seven or eight yards short of Wells' average.

Both coaches tried out a large number of men. Nineteen Methodists opposed 25 Aggies during the course of the game.

JOURNALISTS HOLD SEMINAR.

First Program Given Saturday—Much Interest Shown.

The journalists held their first seminar of the year in K-55 Saturday afternoon. Talks were given by V. E. Bundy, city editor of the Manhattan Morning Chronicle, who spoke on "How to Judge a Newspaper;" and Annette Perry, president of the seminar.

The programs are arranged by a committee consisting of Leo C. Moser, Miss Baird, and Donald Hudson.

The journalism students show more "pep" than ever in the discussions that followed Mr. Bundy's speech. Experience in cub work and general all around newspaper work were some of the liveliest topics. Out of town speakers and speeches by editors of down town papers will feature in the coming seminars. The list of probabilities shows that men of greater ability than ever before will entertain and advise the students of journalism in their regular seminar which meets at the fifth hour every Saturday in the journalism room especially provided for their use.

Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., spent Saturday in Topeka.

THE KNOCKER.

The following definition of a knocker is taken from a Missouri newspaper. It is so clearly and forcibly put, so elegantly worded, and so classical that comment would only tend to detract from the spicy, clear-cut description which follows.

"After God had finished the rattlesnake, toad and the campfire, he had some substance left, with which He made a knocker. A knocker is a two-legged animal with a corkscrew soul, a watersogged brain, and a combination backbone made of jelly and glue. Where other people have their hearts he carries a tumor of rotten principles. When the knocker comes down the street honest men turn their backs, and angels in Heaven take precipitate refuge behind their harps and the Devil barlocks the gates of Hell.—Missouri Brunswicker

FRESHMAN "PEP."

Everyone who witnessed the demonstration of freshman pep at the Aggie-Baker game Saturday considered it a fine show. With such men to back them so enthusiastically, the Aggies need not feel that they lack support. All was praise for the freshmen.

It is to be regretted that the praise had to be changed to criticism before the football crowd dispersed. The rowdy mob that rushed through Aggieville, brushing or knocking other students, girls and townspeople from the walks, was a decided contrast.

While even a freshman knows that by earnest study and application on the part of the student, the college can produce animal husbandmen, agronomists, dairymen, chemists, journalists, and engineers; above all he should bear in mind that the world outside expects the college man to be gentlemanly.

That Printer Again.

Here is a story that was heard during the interval at a promenade concert at Queen's Hall by an American visitor to London.

A concert agent had sent to the printer the program for a big concert he was organizing. At the last moment a very great personage died. The program was already in type and the proofs passed, but as soon as the news reached him the agent decided that Chopin's "Funeral March" must be included as a sign of respect among the items played by the orchestra.

He telephoned to the printer to ask him to make the addition.

"I want to add one more item," said the agent. "Can you manage it?"

The printer said he would try.

"What do you want to add?" he said. "Not much, I hope."

"No, no, not much," said the agent. "I only want you to put in at the beginning of the program, 'Funeral March' by Chopin."

And he carefully spelled Chopin, so that there should be no mistake.

"All right," replied the printer. "I think we can just manage it."

The agent heaved a sigh of relief, but when a copy of the program was thrust into his hands on the night of the concert his hair stood on end.

His message, it appeared, had got a bit added over the telephone, and at the beginning of the program the horrified agent discovered that the printer had made the concert open with, "A few remarks by Chopin!"—Tilt-Bits.

"THE GRASP OF GREED."

This play founded on H. Rider Haggard's great novel "John Meeson's Will" features the beautiful screen star Miss Louise Lovely. The film will be found to be imaginative and original. At the Marshall Theatre, Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

All men are urged to be present at the regular Thursday evening meeting at the Y. M. at seven o'clock. Some good meetings are held then.

Secretary W. W. McLean left Sunday morning for a few days visit at the home of Mrs. McLean's parents at Ottawa where Mrs. McLean and son Robert have been for some time.

The Y. M. cabinet meets at the association building at 6:45 on Tuesday evening. A short meeting is all for this time and those who wish to be in the Bible class there at seven may do so.

The Y. M.-Y. W. college mixer will be held in the college gymnasium on Friday evening. All the students of the college are invited to come and bring their roommates. Look for announcements later.

Harry L. Helzman, secretary of the southwest district of the Y. M. C. A. is expected to be here the latter part of this week when the association here will conduct a membership campaign. All the men students want to meet 'Hein'ey. If you've met him once you know him. If you haven't met him you want to.

The Bible class, which is studying The Social Principles of Jesus, is taught by Dr. J. R. MacArthur, head of the English department, and meets at the Y. M. at seven o'clock every Tuesday evening. All upper classmen are invited to be present. This is a fine study and is well worth the time of any student to attend.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A., which is held Thursday afternoon of each week in the rest room of the home economics building will be led next Thursday afternoon by the president, Miss Stella Gould, and the vice president, Miss Mary Welble. Miss Gould will speak on "One of the 'Biggest Things in College Life.'" All girls are invited to attend these meetings.

Open House for Freshmen.

Several of the college literary societies held open house for prospective members Saturday night. Many new students were present at the programs, and they were given invitations to join. After the rendition of the programs, refreshments were served and a general get-acquainted meeting was held.

"I saw Clarence going fishing this morning."

"Is that right?"

"Yes, he had a box of candy under his arm."

"Probably going to fish for mermaids."—Yonkers Statesman.

300 LITTLE SISTERS ARE CARED FOR BY Y.W.C.A.

GIRLS WITHOUT FUNDS GIVEN SPECIAL ATTENTION.

Faculty Members Offer Homes for Entertainment of Little Sisters—Miss Blain Has Amusing Experience.

There are approximately 300 freshmen girls being looked after and cared for by the big sister movement. Each big sister having two little sisters.

The big sister movement is being worked out definitely for the first time this year at the college. One hundred and fifty girls of the upper classes have taken upon themselves the responsibility of being "big sisters." A white badge is worn by the girl who has adopted a lonely and homesick "little sister."

"This movement personifies the real spirit of the Young Women's Christian association as much or more than any other phase of the college organization, and we feel that the faculty are responding to our endeavor as they are sending to us the lonely and homesick girls from their classrooms," commented Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the association.

The work of adopting little sisters began this summer when names were secured from the registrar. Personal letters of greeting were sent out individually by the big sisters to the prospective students and information as to the college courses living accommodations and planning of the ward robe was given.

Most of the letters were answered and notes of appreciation were enclosed from some of the mothers. When the new student arrived at Manhattan she was met by a big sister who assisted her in finding a room and helped her during registration. Through the kindness of members of the faculty who have offered their homes, the ten captains of the movement have been able to entertain formally and informally for the little sisters.

Poor Girls Helped.

The poor girl who has a desire for knowledge but insufficient funds is given special attention. A young lady came to the office who did not have enough money to pay her registration fee. "I heard you learn so much at this big college and I do so want an education," she told Miss Inskeep. The big sisters have gotten her located and she is now beginning her realization for higher standards.

Miss Stella Blain, chairman of the big sister committee has had some amusing experiences. Upon approaching a new student at the depot and explaining her mission, the newcomer gave her a glance of distrust clasped her purse a little tighter and fled for the hotel.

Upon another occasion Miss Blain approached an unusually attractive young lady who was taking out her assignment and said, "Pardon me, is this your first year here?"

"It is," replied the new student.

"I represent the big sister movement," said Miss Blain. "Would you care for a big sister to look after you?"

To this question the new student falteringly replied, "I am the wife of one of the professors. He is looking after me."

SOCIETY LYCEUM COURSE

Bigger and Better Than Ever

7 Big Numbers

THE TALENT

STAR ATTRACTIONS FOR 1916-17 LYCEUM COURSE.

The committee of the lyceum course announces what will doubtless prove to be one of the strongest lyceum courses ever put on in Manhattan.

MADAM FANNIE BLOOMFIELD ZEISLER.

the world's famous pianist, has been secured for a date Jan. 26. Madam Zeisler is at the zenith of her remarkable career, and her appearance here will prove one of the milestones in the history of the local lyceum course. Fanny Bloomfield Zeisler's fame extends around the world. She is as well known in Norway, Denmark, Russia, Italy, France, England, and Canada as she is in America. The brilliancy and poetic beauty of her playing have endeared her to music lovers on two continents.

A special concert grand piano constructed especially for Madam Zeisler's use will be brought to Manhattan for her concert, and she carries a special tuner, whose work is to adjust her instrument to the finest point.

Request has been made for Madam Zeisler to include on her program here, several numbers well known, and word has been received that she will grant these requests.

GEORGE HAMLIN—MYRTLE MOSES

Another musical number which will afford keen pleasure will be the appearance of George Hamlin, the famous American tenor, and Miss Myrtle Moses, the beautiful American Prima Donna Mezzo-Soprano, whose lovely voice and charming personality have established her as one of the finest concert Mezzo-Sopranos this country has produced.

Scanning the entire list of native-born artists, it is not possible to discover a tenor who has gained such world-wide prominence in the three distinct branches of the singer's art as has George Hamlin.

Gifted, first of all, with a tenor voice of lyric beauty, keen intelligence, exceptional linguistic ability, a repertoire, comprehensive and well-nigh inexhaustible, and being acknowledged master of program building it is not difficult to understand that wherever art at its best is appreciated, the name of George Hamlin at once suggests itself.

Indelibly identified with the highest type of the Lied singer's art, and engaged season after season for the principal festivals and oratorio societies, Mr. Hamlin could easily have rested on his laurels.

In 1911 however, Victor Herbert chose George Hamlin for the leading tenor role in his American opera "Natoma," which was produced by the Chicago Grand Opera Company. Following his unqualified success that season Mr. Hamlin was immediately reengaged, and the distinction with which he has sung the principal tenor roles in "Carmen," "Jewels of Madonna," "Madam Butterfly," "Goldmark's "Crisquet on the Heath," etc., with the Chicago Company has placed him in the first rank of present day operatic tenors, and the announcement of Mr. Hamlin's re-engagement for the fifth consecutive season with the Chicago Company is particularly gratifying.

It has been noticeable during the season, that Hamlin's voice has taken on added beauty and resonance. Never before in his career has he sung with such thrilling quality of tone nor such authority.

The career of George Hamlin is an inspiration to American singers, and however brilliant has been his past record, the future surely holds for him even bigger things.

George Hamlin's repertoire consists of over eight hundred songs which he can sing at a moment's notice, in seven different languages although English will be the language most evident at the Hamlin-Moses concert on the forthcoming tour.

Miss Myrtle Moses' rise to distinction has been rapid. Her success as one of the principal mezzo-sopranos of the Chicago Grand Opera Company has afforded her an opportunity for displaying her remarkable gift. Miss Moses has sung with signal success with Melba in Traviata, with Farrar in Carmen, and in the entire Wagner ring.

Miss Moses is duplicating in concert the success which she obtained in opera. She has been re-engaged by the Chicago Opera and will divide her time equally between concert and opera.

The voice is one of the most lovely to be found among any of the younger Prima Donnas; it is of splendid range, volume and capable of every suitable shading. As in interpretation of Brahms, Strauss, Schumann, Schubert, as well as the modern French and Italian schools Miss Moses must be classed with the finest concert singers of the present day.

THE MELTING POT.

The Melting Pot, the one big realistic American play of the age, a Keynote to Americanism, is another big feature of the course.

No play ever presented for the Lyceum has had such a strong cast of players. The parts in this play require the services of the most accomplished and experienced actors. Nearly all of the players engaged for this tour have played the same parts during the long run of this play in the larger cities. There are nine players in the cast.

"The Melting Pot" is a great drama with an interesting story, but it is vastly more than an entertaining production. Mr. Zangwill symbolizes our land as the melting pot of the world. In to this crucible, beneath which burns the fires of our political and social philosophy, refugees from all parts of the earth, men and women, oppressed by the arbitrary dictum of crime and religion, are poured, to be fused and amalgamated into the sterling gold of a broader, nobler humanity and a self governed nation. It is a sound philosophy and appeals to every patriotic American citizen.

The theme is of superb splendor, with a purpose wide enough to circle the whole globe. It is set forth in words that burn with the spirit-white fire of genius, and the chief role of Quixano is as if he were indeed the consecrated prophet of the New. The "Pioneer on the Road to Happiness," a flame with divine inspiration.

The play is a tense drama of the thoughts that are seething in the brains of thinking men and women. Full of interest that is vital and virile and appealing, is Zangwill's prophetic visions of America's future as the crucible in which the remnants of old nations shall be melted to form a new race. It is wonderfully and beautifully told.

THE STORY OF THE PLAY.

David Quixano, a Jewish musician, recently come to America after a massacre of Jews in Russia, is filled with intense loyalty to his adopted country, regarding it as a place where the persecuted and weary of other countries may find rest and prosperity. Under the inspiration of this feeling, he writes a symphony which he is anxious to produce.

Meanwhile he has fallen in love with a Russian girl, Vera Revendal, the daughter of a Baron and an orthodox Christian, who fled Russia after becoming implicated in a revolutionary movement. David and Vera cannot marry until David's symphony is produced or he obtains a position as violinist in an orchestra, and while they are waiting Vera's father, Baron Revendal, appears upon the scene with his wife, Vera's stepmother, and attempts a reconciliation. He hates Jews and is filled with horror that his daughter contemplates marrying one. David, who has never forgotten the scene of the massacre in Russia and broods upon it a great deal, comes face to face with the Russian and recognizes him as the man who ordered his father and mother killed. He finds he cannot think of marrying the daughter of this man, and leaves her, thereby repudiating all his theories about the leveling of all racial differences and former feuds in a new country.

Later his music is published and he becomes famous. He realizes that there is no reason why Vera's father should keep them apart, and decides that as a representative of a new generation, it is his right and duty to live his own life without reference to the past.

In the way of entertainers, the committee have selected Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer and Adrian M. Newens.

SARAH MILDRED WILLMER.

It is not too much to say that Sarah Mildred Willmer in the quality of her work now ranks in the Lyceum where Sarah Bernhardt ranks in the theatrical profession.

In her ability to interpret the master literary productions from the platform she has no superior. In temperament, or emotional power, the ability to move an audience to laughter or tears, Miss Willmer is without an equal.

No task of interpretation has been too great for her and no audience, however great the expectation, ever has gone away disappointed. This generation has not known a reader so distinctly sent as a messenger of enlightenment and cheer and none has more clearly discerned her mission than has Sarah Mildred Willmer—the Sarah Bernhardt of the Lyceum.

ADRAIN M. NEWENS.

For many years Adrain Newens has occupied the front rank of interpretative readers. He is by no means an ordinary impersonator, but extraordinary in every one of his characters. The Redpath Lyceum Bureau thought so much of his powers in this direction that they made him the official coach of talent appearing on the Redpath list, and for a number of years he has held this important position.

Mr. Newens presents an entire new play without the assistance of any other person and without wigs and make-up. In voice, in appearance and in every way the characters seem to be there and it is a most delightful illusion. Adrain M. Newens fills the bill; he supplies an evening of rare entertainment. He arouses the moral force, sets on fire the imagination and makes a substantial contribution to the life of any community.

A well balanced Lyceum course must have its share of lectures. This year the committee is proud to announce that it has secured the services of two of the greatest lecturers on the American platform. Miss Ida M. Tarbell and Dr. Edward A. Steiner.

IDA M. TARBELL.

America's Foremost Journalist.

Few women of America have won such an established place among the clear thinkers of the present generation as has Miss Tarbell. Her fame as a Literature is international. We believe she has a message for the people of America, and we are pleased to present her as a lecturer.

For a number of years Miss Tarbell has been devoting considerable time to public speaking, addressing many prominent gatherings throughout the country, and she speaks as convincingly as she writes. Her subject: "Industrial Idealism."

Miss Tarbell was born in Erie county, Pennsylvania; graduated at Allegheny college, Meadville, Pa., in 1880; received M. A. Degree in 1883; L. H. D. Degree from Allegheny and Knox Colleges, 1910. She was associate Editor of The Chautauquan from 1883 until 1891, and is conversant with the whole Lyceum and Chautauqua movement. She was a student in Paris at the Sorbonne and College de France from 1891 to 1894; a staff writer and Associate Editor of McClure's Magazine from 1894 to 1906, where her Standard Oil Series received such wide notice. Since 1908 she has been Associate Editor of the American Magazine.

Twenty-Five Take Entrance Exams.

Approximately twenty-five students took examinations to satisfy college entrance requirements the opening week of school. This is double the number who have taken such examinations in previous years.

From the reports that have been turned in, it is estimated that four-fifths of those making up entrance work satisfactorily passed the required examinations. B. L. Remick, professor of mathematics, has charge of the work.

AND HE LEARNED IT AT COLLEGE

A certain junior in college went to the harvest fields to work last summer. When he arrived at his destination he hired to a sturdy young farmer as a large man. As the wheat was not yet ready to cut, and the college student wanted work, the farmer sent him out to hoe potatoes.

Now it happened that when the farmer had thrown up the sweet potato ridges with his lister, corn was listed between the ridges, and it grew rankly.

When the student began his work hoeing, he either forgot what he was to do, or else he did not know the difference between field corn and sweet potato plants. At any rate, when the farmer came out to inspect the work, he found his sweet potato plants chopped to pieces, the ridges hoed down, and the corn nicely cultivated.

Rumor has it that another college student who has made quite a record as a track man, went to western Kansas last summer and hired to a farmer who had a large herd of sheep.

One evening this particular student was sent to bring the sheep from the pasture. Feeding time came but the sheep had not been brought in. Supper time came and yet the student did not return. Finally just as the farmer and his family had finished their evening meal, the track man returned almost exhausted.

"What is the matter?" asked the farmer. "Did you have much trouble getting the sheep in?"

"No," panted the athlete, "I didn't have much trouble with the sheep, but I had an awful time with the lambs."

The farmer went to the barn to look after the sheep and found that the college student had herded in a corral full of jack rabbits.

ALIBIS BETRAY A MAN SAYS J. G. EMERSON

Are Devices for Escaping Judgment and Universally Used by Students.

"You can get a pretty good idea of what a man is by the excuses he makes," said J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking, in an address on "Alibis," at student assembly Wednesday.

"The great American hobo is a fair example of those who excuse themselves from work by being too proud. Many students substitute excuses for absence from class and poor quality of work. He develops an absence blank vocabulary and consoles himself and friends by a reasonable excuse. It never is his fault, it is always the circumstance.

"Alibi is a legal term, and although used by lawyers, they are not the only ones who use it. It is a device for escaping judgment. It has grown to be an almost universal excuse. People use it so beautifully that we really feel sorry for them and grant the truth of their excuses.

"Getting out of work in college is a habit and he who practices it usually finds himself out of work in after life.

"A person who enters a track meet, toes the line and gets an even start with the others but when he sees he is going to lose out, he develops a sprained ankle. That's an alibi. A student starts in the school year and later finds himself far behind in his work. Uncontrollable circumstances have made it impossible for him to get along in his work, or so he says. A man who fails can invariably find an excuse which he thinks is perfectly reasonable."

NO MORE "PROFS" AT HAYS.

Instructors Will Be Known Hereafter as Mr., Mrs. or Miss.

Hays, Kan., Sept. 26.—There are no longer any "professors" at the Fort Hays Kansas Normal school as far as official student publications are concerned. Hereafter the instructors of the school will be known as plain "Mr.," "Miss" or "Mrs." Not only will the school paper, the Leader, follow this in its repertorial style, but it will wage a campaign against the students calling the instructors by the title of "professor" or "prof." The reason given by the board of control is that the term has degenerated into a byword in many instances and that students do not use discretion in applying the title.

Are You a Mammothrept?

"You impudent mammothrept!" That's what a southern girl called Jack Donovan, an amateur photographer who bet he could snap six of the prettiest young women in the Harvard summer school within 72 hours.

The picture man's first victim was a pretty blond from Alabama. He sighted his lense and fired. The beauty sighted her flashing orbs and returned the fire doublefold. "You impudent mammothrept!" she cried. Disabled, but with exposure No. 1 in his possession, the photographer retreated, not knowing what he had been called but fearing for the worst.

Whereupon he consulted several authorities and finally found in a dictionary this: "Mammothrept—a child reared by its grandmother; a spoiled child."—New York World.

Billy Sunday Etiquette.

Observing the success of the Billy Sunday methods in the matter of conversion, it is suggested by Pick that the attempt be made to apply the same methods to other church ceremonies and activities, as, for example: Pastor (christening infant)—what do you want to call this hunk of excess baggage, Bo?"

Presiding Parson—What miserable mutt giveth this skit to be married to this gink?"

The Bride's Father—I'm the guy. Industrious Usher—Slide, you ice-carts! Slide!

Passing the Plate—Come across with the iron men, you low-lived tight-wads!

Sunday School Superintendent—All of you little flivvers that want to swat Satan stand on one leg.

Miss Faith Earnest, '16, is teaching in the Washington high school. She reports the work interesting and prospects for the year exceptionally bright.

Wilbur Buschow, '14, is teaching science in the University high school of Chicago. During the past summer he did graduate work in the University of Chicago, school of education.

The Hesperian literary society will give a social in the gymnasium Saturday night to which all School or Agriculture students are invited.

Thomas Pexton, a former Aggie student, reports that he was married September 5, and is now farming in Oklahoma.

THIS FRESHMAN IS MUCH ABUSED

And then just about the time that he began to feel acclimated and felt that he was getting by as an old student, they spring an incomparable agony in the form of a beautifully colored cap which makes him as conspicuous as a senior feels.

On registration days he viewed the floor and track in the gymnasium with half conscious pride as he contemplated the workouts which he would take for exercise on that very floor in a few days. Then that last line on the assignment, "Military Science," spoiled the dream, and he must take his exercise to the tune of the "rooky" captain sure thinks he's the whole cheese."

And the guys at the house seem to be pretty fair sort of guys, but they sure are slow—nothing at all like college fellows ought to be. No use to try to be a good sport and take some of them to the movies, he's got studying to do. If he tries to amuse himself with a little song, somebody gets sore because there's too much noise.

Even the profs seem to have a pick at him. They seem to expect him to have every lesson perfectly. Even if one lesson is prepared in good shape, they expect all the more the next time so what's the use? Sure must have had a bunch of crooks here before he arrived for the guy with the roll book don't have any sympathy for "alibis."

He got along fine down there at the church reception the other night—got number 36, a swell looker and dresses—until she asked how he was classed. He gulped but he said "er" "First Year," and she said "O-o-o-h. How do you like the college by this time?" and then the conversation fell flat.

And there are hideous stories in circulation of blankets and paddles and strong, eager arms that are to be at the gridiron on football days. Surely the freshman does not travel a primrose path.

LOCAL GIRLS WIN FAIR PRIZES.

Misses Evelyn Carey and Christine Sandell Exhibit Drawings.

Two Manhattan girls won prizes at the recent Hutchinson state fair. Miss Evelyn Carey won first prize for pencil drawing and Miss Christine Sandell won second prize for pencil drawing and second prize for the best group of three pencil drawings.

Miss Carey also won second prize at the Topeka fair for pen and ink drawing.

The Philomathians Elect.

The Philomathian literary society has elected the following officers for the fall term: president, Duella Mall; vice president, Fannie Gorton; secretary, Emma Larson; corresponding secretary, Vesta Kenyon; treasurer, Irene Pierratt; critic, Frieda Haslam; marshal, Maggie Ellis; assistant marshal, Anne Amstutz.

Omicron Nu Meets.

Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority held its first regular meeting of the year Wednesday evening in the domestic science hall with the following officers in charge: president, Josephine Allis; vice president, Stella Blain; secretary, Mae Sweet; treasurer, Elizabeth Quinlan; marshal, Merle Beeman.

Verbosity.

A city man recently visited his country cousin. The man from the city, wishing to explain the joys of the metropolitan life, said: "We have certainly been having fun the last few days. Thursday we autoted to the Country Club and golfed until dark, then strolled back to town and danced until morning." The country cousin was not to be stumped in the least, so he began telling of some of the pleasures of the simple life. "We have some pretty good times here too. One day we bugied out to Uncle Ned's and went to the back lot, where we baseballed all the afternoon. In the evening we sneaked up into the attic and poked around until morning."

A sturdy old farmer who was listening, not to be outdone, took up the conversation at this point and said: "I was having some fun about that time myself. I muled to the cornfield and gee-hawed until sundown. Then I suppered until dark, and piped until nine o'clock, after which I bedsted until the clock fiveed, after which I breakfasted until it was time to go muling again."—Dillon (Mont.) Standard.

Saddle and Siroin Club Elects.

At the first meeting of the Jayhawker Saddle and Siroin club which was held Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected: president, B. M. Anderson; vice president, D. E. Hull; secretary, J. L. Lantow; treasurer, D. Bird.

"Beez" Cushman succeeded in extracting a little finger from the roofers in the north bleachers. The leather-lunged boosters got together well under the direction of "Beez" and "Patty" Umbehr, and Aggie fans will look to this pair of ginger merchants to present K. S. A. C. with a good quality of football enthusiasm.

A very fresh Frosh ambled up to "Germany" Schulz one day last week and asked this simple question:

"Where do you play?"

"Germany" eyed the youngster for a few seconds and finally answered,

"Quarterback."

"Think you'll beat Baker?"

"You bet your life," answered

"Germany" vigorously plumping one elephant paw into the other, "and believe me, if I ever get the ball in an open field, those poor Baker fellows will need a Graflex camera to see me."

The awe-stricken Frosh eyed "Germany" doubtfully for a moment, then sauntered down the field to pick up some other bit of information.

Manhattan high school opened her football season Friday with a 84 to 0 defeat of the Alma highs, who last week won a 32 to 0 game from Alta Vista. The team has a number of mighty good men, players who will probably be battling for the Aggies in a couple of years, and should receive considerable support from the Aggie students.

High school elevens in Lawrence, Emporia, Topeka and Wichita are regular training grounds for college teams in those towns and the class of men that Coach Collins is turning out will be just as good material for future Aggie eleven.

Matson Collier, last year's promising freshman sprinter, will not wear the Aggie colors this year. The diminutive speedster has entered Indiana U. and will perform hereafter in the Big Nine meets.

Collier's loss will be a sad one to Aggie track followers. He has made 10 seconds flat in the century dash and has done equally good time in the 220-yard sprint. In the short time that he was here he was a great advertisement for the college, winning favorable comment in several Kansas City papers for his performance in the K. C. A. C. meet last winter. He has threatened "Bobby" Christian's record of 9.4 seconds in the 100-yard dash, a number of watches having caught him at that figure in practice. He was a good mixer and was one of the most popular members of last year's crop of freshmen.

Miss Nola Treat, cafeteria manager, recently visited Miss Grace Willets, her former assistant, who now has charge of the new high school lunch room at East St. Louis. Miss Willets has charge of the ordering and equipping, as well as the management of the lunch room, which is completely equipped and seats 350 persons.

A. L. Schell, '09, is teaching science in the Pullman industrial school at Pullman, Ill. The school is heavily endowed by the Pullman company, and is very well equipped. Mr. Schell is very enthusiastic about his work. It is so arranged that he may do graduate work in the University of Chicago.

BIG SISTERS ENTERTAIN.

200 Guests Attend "Kid" Party Given at Gymnasium.

The Big Sisters entertained the Little Sisters last Friday evening at a "kid" party at the Nichols gymnasium. Three hundred guests clad in juvenile dresses and ribbons were received by their hostesses in nurses' caps and uniforms. The party had a reserved section at the "Pep" meeting and enjoyed this initiation into college spirit, before they retired to the gymnasium.

The guests were divided into groups with their Big Sisters and captain, and various juvenile games were enjoyed. Each Little Sister was tagged so as to get acquainted. All the guests were presented with stick candy as they arrived and at the close of the entertainment refreshments of ice cream cones and bread and butter and brown sugar were served. The Little Sisters in a grand march and prizes were awarded for the cleverest costume.

Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of the division of Home Economics, presented the prizes. Miss Lyman of Leavenworth won first, a baby doll, and roses were given to the others who deserved special mention.

Harry Ziegler, who is visiting with friends in the city for a few weeks, left for Hays yesterday on business connected with the Farm and Fire-Edge publication, of which he is managing editor.

PI KAPPA DELTA NOW HAS FIFTEEN CHAPTERS

CHAPTER AT OKLAHOMA A. AND
M. COLLEGE NATIONALIZED.

Dr. J. R. MacArthur of This Institution, and National Secretary of Organization, Does Installation Work.

The fifteenth chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, a national honorary fraternity of debaters and orators, was installed in the Oklahoma Agricultural college at Stillwater Saturday night by Dr. J. R. MacArthur of this college.

Dr. MacArthur is national secretary of the organization. He stopped at Wichita Friday to visit and confer with members of the chapter at Fairmount college which was organized last spring.

Pi Kappa Delta was first organized in a denominational school—the Ottawa university of Ottawa, Kansas—in 1912. Since then it has spread rapidly to state institutions, until at the present time such schools as the Colorado Agricultural college, the Polytechnic Institute of Alabama, the Kansas State Agricultural college, and the Oklahoma Agricultural college are among those which have local chapters of this organization.

An extension committee is seeking to spread the organization among other colleges and particularly the state institutions. The chapter at this college regards with peculiar satisfaction the entrance of a sister agricultural college into Pi Kappa Delta. The present national membership of the organization numbers approximately 400.

A chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was installed in this institution in 1914, with a membership of nine. Since that time, great stimulus has been given to debate, and the college has ranked higher and done more real debating work than during previous years.

The local chapter at the present time has a membership of sixteen. Six members graduated last spring. Those who graduated are: Walter Ott, J. Lush, Paul Loomis, J. P. Rathbun, J. V. Quigley, and W. B. Adair.

The present members are: Price Wheeler, D. E. Hull, J. A. Hull, J. B. Sweet, Merle Converse, Floyd Hawkins, G. C. Gibbons, L. A. Dubbs, R. McGarragh, V. E. Bundy, A. W. Boyer, M. Collins, W. Grimes, Dr. J. R. MacArthur, President H. J. Waters, and Professor J. W. Searson.

Qualifications for membership to Pi Kappa Delta are that one shall participate in at least one intercollegiate debate or oratorical contest.

Zeta Kappa Psi is the girls' honorary debating and oratorical sorority. The organization is local at the present time, but the indications are that it will become nationalized in the near future.

VOLUME 23. NUMBER 7.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1916.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

AGGIES DOPED TO WIN GAME TO-DAY!

SHOULD FINISH TWO TOUCHDOWNS AHEAD

SOUTHWESTERN TEAM IS HEAVIER THAN BAKER ELEVEN.

Lineup Will Probably be the Same as That Which Started Baker Game—Sullivan Still Laid Up.

If dope runs true, the Kansas Aggies should finish at least two touchdowns ahead of the Southwestern gridironists when the two elevens meet on the Aggie field this p. m. That is the opinion voiced Saturday by a football expert who has seen both teams in action this year.

"Southwestern has a heavier bunch than Baker, but they won't weigh quite as heavily as the Aggies," said "Doc" Weede, whose Cooper collegians were defeated by Southwestern 7 to 0 and who was one of the officials at the Aggie-Baker combat last week.

"Coach Bates has built up a strong defensive line and he has a speedy, shifty backfield. In my opinion, however, the Aggies playing as they played against Baker, should finish with a lead of at least two touchdowns."

Coach Weede's prediction finds backing in the results of games of the past two years. Since three years ago, when the Bates eleven sprung a surprise and won over the Aggies through the forward pass, the Aggie elevens have won the annual battle by scores of 13 to 0 and 9 to 0.

Because of his unfamiliarity with Kansas football, Coach Cleveland would voice no opinion other than that the Aggies looked better on paper. Sullivan is still on the sick list because of a bad ankle, but the remainder of the squad is in first-class condition.

The lineup will probably be the same as that which started the Baker game. Man who are doped to start are Randalls and Skinner, ends; Placek and Dodrill, tackles; Bayer and Rhoda, guards; Wright, center; Clark, quarter; Captain Barnes and Husted, halfbacks and Wells, fullback.

JOURNALISTS IN A CONTEST.

Prizes Offered for Those Who Rank Highest.

During the fall term, the department of journalism will conduct a contest for students who are taking journalism work. The student who has the most copy published in the Industrialist will have the choice of a subscription to the Country Gentleman, the Breeders' Gazette or the Field.

As an additional inducement, Frank L. Snow, instructor in journalism, will give second and third prizes consisting of a leather and cloth covered vestpocket books of synonyms. Aside from these an honor roll of five will be published in the Collegian at the end of the contest. The date of closing has not yet been set.

During the winter and spring terms last year a similar contest was conducted by the department of journalism. B. K. Gaghidian, a senior in industrial journalism, took first in the winter term contest, and B. Q. Shields, a junior in the department, took first in the spring.

WADSWORTH WILL SPEAK.

To Give Address on Current Political Issues.

James Wadsworth, junior senator from New York, a magnetic speaker and one of the leaders in the new school of progressive Republicanism, will speak on current political issues at the Wareham theatre at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Senator Wadsworth will especially appeal to students because he is one of the youngest members of the senate, being but 39 years of age. Although he has been in politics but eleven years, he already has a brilliant record as a legislator. He is a convincing speaker of charming personality.

The college band and 200 members of the local branch of the American College Republican league will escort Senator Wadsworth from the Y. M. C. A. to the theatre, following a meeting at the Y. M. where students may meet the legislator.

Y-MIXER; EVERYBODY COMING!

Annual "Get-Acquainted" Tonight in the Gymnasium.

The Y. M.-Y. W. mixer, to which all students of the college are invited, will be held in the college gymnasium at eight o'clock tonight. The college orchestra will be present in full force to liven things up with music.

Those attending will be grouped according to counties. Each county group will select a captain and prepare and produce a stunt. Following the stunts, refreshments will be served.

The receiving line, which will be as sort of side show through which all must pass before reaching the main show, will be composed of Dr. and Mrs. Waters, Dean and Mrs. Jardine, Dean and Mrs. Potter, Dean Van Zile, Dean and Mrs. Willard, Professor and Mrs. Hamilton, Mr. W. W. McLean, Miss Mildred Inskeer, Mr. H. B. Bayer and Miss Stella Gould.

FRESHMEN IN GENERAL SCIENCE HAVE ADVISERS

Fourteen Counsellors for Yearlings—New Feature is Introduced by Dean Willard.

Personal advisers for the freshmen of the general science division is a new feature of co-operation between the members of the faculty and student body which will be watched with interest by the other divisions of the college.

Dr. J. T. Willard, dean of the division of the general science, formulated the plan of personal advisers for the students of his division in order that each student might have a faculty friend whom he could go to with matters of college studies or activities. It is physically impossible for the dean to meet all of the students of his division in that capacity because of the lack of time.

Fourteen members of the faculty willingly co-operated with Dr. Willard and met the students of his division at a reception given by Dr. Willard and wife for the students of the division in domestic science and art hall last Saturday evening. Each freshman will be given an opportunity to choose his or her adviser from the list of faculty members.

The faculty members who will become the big brothers and sisters of the general science freshmen are: Dr. J. R. MacArthur, professor of the English language; J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics; George A. Dean, professor of entomology; W. H. King, associate professor of chemistry; W. H. Andrews, associate professor of mathematics; L. D. Bushnell, professor of bacteriology; E. H. Reiser, associate professor of education; H. P. Roberts, professor of botany; Estella Foot, assistant professor of English; I. V. Iles, associate professor of history and civics; J. E. Ackert, assistant professor of Zoology; H. W. Brulaker, assistant professor of chemistry; Helen H. Halm, assistant professor of home economics and education; Mary T. Harman, assistant professor of zoology.

DIGNIFIED SENIORS ELECT.

Only the Marshal and Ballots Were Missing.

In accordance with the decision of the class yesterday morning, the booth for election of senior officers was open yesterday afternoon—after the marshal was pulled from his hiding place and improvised ballots made from memo slips.

The officers elected are: E. E. Kenyon, president; Blanche Clarke, vice president; Frances Hildebrand, secretary; L. E. Howard treasurer; H. W. Schraepfer, marshal; Robert Osborn, assistant marshal; Mac Sweet, class historian; Frank Turner, athletic manager; Vilona Cutler, Christina Figley, W. F. Heppie, Leo C. Moser, members of the students council.

SWEEPSTAKES AT ROYAL SHOW.

K. S. A. C. Stock Didn't Leave Much for Other Entries.

Kansas State Agricultural college steers won more prizes this week at the American Royal Live Stock show in Kansas City than all other competitors combined. The best breeders of the country entered their stock. Prizes won were two championships, 16 firsts, eight seconds, and eight thirds.

Dr. Tanquary and J. W. McCullough will go to Topeka tomorrow.

NOTICE TO COLLEGIAN SUBSCRIBERS.

On Friday, October 13, an election for members of the Collegian Board will be held. The members to be elected at this time are to be juniors the seniors, four in number, and of whom must be paid subscribers to the Collegian. The fifth member of the board is the head of the journalism department.

Article IV of the Collegian constitution says:

Sec. 3. Nominations shall be by petition. A petition containing the names of the person to be nominated, signed by twenty subscribers to the Kansas State Collegian must be handed to the head of the journalism department four days before the election is to be held.

Sec. 5. Every regularly enrolled K. S. A. C. student whose subscription is paid at 10 p. m. the day preceding the election, shall be entitled to vote.

All nominations must be handed in to Professor N. A. Crawford of the journalism department by one o'clock Monday, October 9. The names will appear on the ballot in the order in which they are handed in. The four persons receiving the highest number of votes will be declared elected.

The election will be conducted at the window opposite the post office from one to five o'clock p. m., Friday, October 13.

Bring your receipts.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT TO HAVE MORE INSTRUCTORS

SEVEN REGULAR ARMY SERGEANTS STATIONED HERE.

Two Commissioned Officers Next Year—New Defense Act Provides for Full Complement of Drill Masters.

Word has been received by Commandant Mathews that in a short time, seven regular army sergeants will be detailed to the college to act as instructors in military science and drill. There will be four infantry sergeants, a sergeant for the engineering company, one for the signal corps, and one for the hospital corps which is to be organized.

At the present time the organization of the college cadets consists of one infantry regiment, complete, one engineer company, one signal company with wireless. A detachment of hospital corps will be organized.

Captain Mathews was asked by the secretary of war in a recent letter, how many regular sergeants would be required at the college under the new national defense act which provides for one sergeant to each hundred cadets at colleges where military training is maintained as a branch of the course of study. In answer to the letter, Captain Mathews asked that seven sergeants be sent. These officers are provided under the new defense act which was passed by Congress last June.

Two Officers Next Year.

It is also announced that the cadet corps will be entitled to one extra regular army officer. The national defense act provides that where a cadet corps numbers 750 men or over there shall be two regular army officers detailed as chiefs of instruction. However, the scarcity of officers in the regular army makes it impossible for the assistant officer to be sent here this year and it will not be until next year at the very earliest according to Captain Mathews before the assistant can be stationed at this college.

Have Awkward Squads.

A new method of handling the freshmen in the corps has been instituted this fall. In the past they were immediately organized into recruit companies and their first instruction was given them by company officers. This year they have been formed into awkward squads and are being taught their manual of arms and foot drills by the non-commissioned officers of the various companies already formed.

COLT SHOW IN AGGIEVILLE.

Merchants Plan a Competition Exhibit for October 28.

The merchants of Aggieville will hold a colt show on Saturday afternoon, October 28.

The show will be free to all and nothing will be charged for entering colts. The principal prizes are as follows:

Individual colts—First, 10; second, $8; third, $7; fourth, $5; fifth, $3; and sixth, $2.

Group of colts sired by one stallion—First, $15; second, $10.

Besides the judging a program of being arranged which will be announced later.

AGGIE STOCK JUDGES TAKE THIRD AT AMERICAN ROYAL

P. J. ENGLUND GETS HIGHEST HONORS.

Iowa Agricultural College Team Gets First in Students' Judging Contest—Missouri Takes Second—Nebraska Fourth.

Third place in the students' judging contest at the American Royal stock show in Kansas City went to the team representing the Kansas State Agricultural college. The Iowa team took first place and Missouri second.

The judging contest was held Monday. P. J. Englund, a senior in animal husbandry at the college, and a member of the team, was high man in the contest with 714 points to his credit out of a possible 800. J. E. Alford of the Missouri team placed second with 690 points to his credit.

The standing of the teams and the number of points to their credit follow: Iowa, first, 3,286; Missouri, second, 3,259; Kansas, third, 3,208; Nebraska, fourth, 3,189.

The contest was close, the difference between the high and low scores points represented a perfect score. Members of the team remained in Kansas City Tuesday and Wednesday to study the cattle on exhibit. They will attend the International Live Stock exposition in Chicago, December 2. Dr. C. W. McCampbell, associate professor of animal husbandry, accompanied the team to Kansas City.

Members of the team are R. Weimer, Fredonia; B. M. Anderson, Manhattan; P. J. Englund, Falun; J. R. Neale, Manhattan; L. E. Howard, Coldwater.

NEBRASKA STOCK JUDGES HERE.

Students From Nebraska College Practice on College Stock.

Nine young men from the Nebraska Agricultural college, accompanied by H. J. Gramlich, professor of animal husbandry, spent Friday morning at the college stockyards judging classes of beef cattle. The men arrived in Manhattan Thursday night from Lincoln.

They are trying out for the judging team which will represent their institution at the live stock shows this winter. The men left for Kansas City Friday afternoon, where they will judge stock at the American Royal, which opened Monday.

WATERS DEDICATES H. S.

$10,000 Building at Agenda was Opened Last Week.

President H. J. Waters and H. L. Kent, principal of the school of Agriculture went to Agenda Saturday to attend the dedication of a new rural high school. President Waters delivered the dedicatory address.

Officers and faculty members of the college are particularly interested in the new Agenda high school because Mr. Kent directed the framing of the curriculum which is to be used.

The dedication was planned for two weeks ago, but the new $10,000 building was not completed until last week. The people of the community made a festival day of the event.

A cross country meet will be held with K. U. October 28th.

PLAN TO CHANGE TO THE TWO SEMESTER SYSTEM

FACULTY IS NOW CONSIDERING THE MATTER.

New System Into Effect at Opening of College Next Fall—Reorganization is Under Way.

Plans now are under way at the Kansas Agricultural College to change from the three term basis of administration to the semester basis, which system is standard throughout the country and is the one used by most of the colleges and universities.

Though the semester system will greatly decrease the work of registration and enrollment, it will make a great deal of work in the rearrangement of the courses of study, it was pointed out today. A study which now is covered in a term will have to be lengthened out to cover a semester, which will be about four or five weeks longer than one of the present terms. Courses which run two terms will have to be condensed into one semester or lengthened to cover an entire year, or two semesters. The heads of departments, assisted by other members of their departments, are now planning the rearrangement of the courses.

The proposition of fees also will have to be readjusted.

At the present time students coming to the college from other institutions find some difficulty in checking up their credits, due to the fact that the college year is divided into three terms here while they came from an institution on the semester basis. Students leaving Manhattan for other institutions find the same difficulty.

The new semester system will be in operation when college opens in the fall of 1917.

"Nothing definite has been done as yet," said President Waters, "but the faculty is now considering the matter." The new system, if adopted, will be put into operation when college opens next fall.

TWO NOTED SINGERS COMING.

George Hamlin and Myrtle Moses to Be Heard October 9.

No announcement for the present season is more welcome than that of the forthcoming appearance at the college auditorium October 9 of George Hamlin, the celebrated tenor, and Myrtle Moses, the distinguished mezzo soprano of the Chicago Opera company.

The name of George Hamlin stands at the top of concert singers, not only in America, but in Germany, France and England. George Hamlin has gone more to carry the art of fine song into the farthest corners of America than any other singer. He has been one of the staunchest supporters of opera and concert singing in our native tongue.

Both Mr. Hamlin and Miss Moses are among the star members of the Chicago Opera company and they will be heard here, both in solos and duets. Myrtle Moses' rise to distinction has been so rapid since her return from Paris two years ago, that she now is regarded as one of the finest of all concert singers. Her appearance last season with Melba and Traviata and with Farrar in "Carmen" and "Madam Butterfly" are still remembered as delightful features of the Chicago opera season.

I. I. TAYLOR GOES TO PURDUE.

Instructor in Applied Mechanics Gets Increased Salary.

I. I. Taylor, instructor in the department of applied mechanics at the college, has resigned to accept a similar position at Purdue university but at considerable increase in salary. Mr. Taylor's resignation is to become effective October 15, at which time the faculty will move to Purdue.

Mr. Taylor came here two years ago from the Colorado School of Mines. Those associated with him at the college speak very highly of the work he has done here.

The vacancy caused by his resignation has not yet been filled, and Prof. R. A. Seaton is seeking a man for the place.

HOW LARGE A SHADOW?

How large a shadow do you hope to cast when you get out into the sun? Everyone of us wants to get out into the sun, to cast a shadow there. Are you willing to pay the price? Ah, we would build up a reputation, a personality, a character, that will really cast a shadow? It takes something that can be seen to cast a shadow. Vapor, as it rises from the earth, cannot be seen, does not cast a shadow. Only when it is condensed into clouds does it cut off the sun's rays. If we would cast a shadow we must have something that will cut off the sun's rays, something that may be seen.

How about your reputation, your personality? You may have a remarkable personality, but how about your reputation? Your reputation may be good but does your personality count for anything?

The man is truly great who casts a shadow not alone because he gets out into the sun but because he has a counting personality and his reputation, which is the known part of his character, is good.

ELKS TO SHOW GREAT PICTURE

"The Fall of a Nation" With Victor Herbert Music, Comluc.

With sublime Victor Herbert music which was written especially for this wonderful production, "The Fall of a Nation," which will be presented at the Marshall theatre by the Manhattan Elks on Oct. 13 and 14, will doubtless be one of the classiest theatrical events ever arranged in this city.

Already the various organizations on the hill are planning line parties and the Elks who are promoting this high class entertainment, are strong in their belief that Marshall's big temple of amusement will be crowded at each of the five performances, the first of which will be given Friday afternoon. The second show will be given Friday night at 8:20 o'clock. Saturday morning a special matinee will be given for the school children and in the afternoon a matinee for adults. The last show will be given Saturday night at 8:20.

"The Fall of a Nation" has been pronounced by eastern critics, the greatest picture of modern times and in spite of this the Elks have reduced the price to 50 and 75 cents for the best seats. The gallery will not be reserved and tickets for this section will be sold at the window. The price 25 cents.

The Y. W. C. A. requests the college girls to remember that the afternoon of October 15, is the time planned for the recognition service. Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of women, will address the meeting and it is hoped that all the girls can arrange to attend.

"Little Miss Happiness."

Jane Canrice and Harry Hilliard in "Little Miss Happiness." This charming little actress gives all the joy and innocence of the country in this story of days among the daisies. Overflows with the quaint humor and spirit of the fields and a very interesting study of village life. At the Warcham Monday.

QUILL CLUB CONDUCTS CONTEST.

Students Desiring Membership May Submit Manuscripts.

Announcement has just been made that the local chapter of the American College Quill club will conduct a membership contest.

All students who wish to try for membership to Quill should submit manuscripts on or before November 15. Directions in regard to the contest may be found posted on the Quill bulletin board in main hall. Anyone wishing details may see Miss Ada Rice in the School of Agriculture building.

WHEAT GROWERS HEAR DEAN.

Will Look For Fly In Southern Counties of the State.

George A. Dean, professor of entomology, will leave tomorrow for Southern Kansas to investigate the Hessian fly situation. Returning Monday, by way of Wichita, he will address the international wheat congress at that place on the topic "Some Insects Injurious to Wheat."

Ralph Kenney, assistant professor of crops, has charge of the exhibits which the agronomy department sent to the National Wheat show in Wichita.

"Mutt and Jeff."

Our old friends come more. Bud Fisher's famous cartoon comedy will make things lively at the Marshall theatre Saturday afternoon and evening.

Word has been received that Mr. R. F. Mirick, a senior civil engineering student, is working with the Interstate Commerce Commission, division of valuation.

"Ham's Strategy."

Funny Ham and Budd are again making thrills and laughs alternate. Ethel Teare is included in the cast and there isn't a scene which doesn't produce a big laugh. At the Marshall Saturday.

Fred Robb, a student in the school of agriculture last year, visited with friends on the hill recently. He plans to be back in school during the winter term.

"Judith of the Cumberland."

Helen Holmes stars in this stupendous special production carefully prepared and staged at enormous expense. This play will be found to be a most appropriate vehicle for the proper exploitation of the extraordinary talents of this popular artist. At the Marshall Friday afternoon and evening.

Professors and Students.

Remember there is a Book Doctor in town. No matter what condition your book is in there is a remedy for it. Consult Brown at the Manhattan Bindery, 107 N. 3rd street, up stairs.

S. A. McWilliams, a graduate of the college in civil engineering, class of 1910, is visiting in town. For some years past Mr. McWilliams has been with the U. S. Reclamation Service and is at present located on the Milk River Project in Montana.

"The Child of Destiny."

In this unique story Irene Fenwick will take the leading role. "The Child of Destiny" pits a mother against a daughter and while the action preaches a wonderful sermon on divorce, the preaching is more in the way of an object lesson. At the Warcham theatre Saturday afternoon and evening.

C. P. Thompson, of the extension division of the animal husbandry department, returned from Miami county Sunday night, where he attended a series of colt shows which was being held there. There were about three hundred head of live stock in the show and the attendance was unusually good.

"The Velvet Hand."

Two screen favorites, House Peters and Gail Kane will take the leading roles in an interesting story of Washington's political life. "The Velvet Paw," at the Warcham theatre Friday afternoon and evening. Here is a story of the woman lobbyists of our nation's capital. "A Velvet Paw" has ruled may a land.

"The Velvet Paw."

WANTED.

By the Department of Botany, a capable freshman, who intends to be here four years, to give a certain amount of time to the collection of plants for the botanical laboratories, and to doing miscellaneous work for the department. Care and checking of microscopes, preparing stains for histology, mixing up killing and fixing solutions, solutions used in photography, and other reagents employed in the laboratory, will be some of the duties. A faithful and competent man will be able to work into steady employment. Applicants will please see Prof. H. F. Roberts, Department of Botany, H. 58. Only careful and capable men, who mean business, need apply.

College Social Club Meets.

The College social club will hold its first meeting at three o'clock October 9 in the domestic science building. Dr. J. R. McArthur who spent his vacation in Canada will speak on "A Country at War." Every member is urged to bring a newcomer.

"Out of the Mist."

A pleasing picture presenting Fritz Brunette, Guy Oliver and Lillian Hayward in the leading roles. At the Marshall theatre Saturday afternoon and night.

CADETS MAY TRAIN FOR U. S. RESERVE OFFICERS

ORGANIZATION WILL BE AFFECTED IN NEAR FUTURE.

Reserve Officers Will be Trained to be Called Out Only in Time of War—Many Expected to Enlist.

Organization of a reserve officers training corps will be affected in this college in the near future. This reserve corps was provided for by act of congress on June 3, 1916.

This will divide the present cadet corps into two sections—those who are taking regular drill requirements, and those who enlist for training in the reserve officers corps. The object is to systematically train educated men for reserve officers in the United States army.

The ranking is higher than that of the national guard, as it places the men who enlist for this service under the direct orders of the secretary of war as a part of the federal forces of the United States which will be called out in time of war.

Students who enlist and who have completed the equivalent of the two years of military training offered by the college will be given a commutation sustenance amounting to approximately $9 a month, which should be enough to pay half of a student's board during the year.

Will Furnish Uniforms.

Congress has authorized that all uniforms used at military colleges be issued by the government. As this has been granted but no appropriation made, the matter will be taken up with a view to have the men reimbursed who purchased uniforms this year.

"As I see it, I believe every man in this college, with very few exceptions, who has completed drill will come back into the fold," said Captain Mathews yesterday. "If they do, we will organize field artillery and cavalry just as soon as the animals are purchased by the government."

At the present time Captain Mathews is preparing an abstract of this recent act of congress which will be ready for publication in a short time.

COLLEGE MEN TO WHEAT SHOW.

Appear on Program of International Exhibition at Wichita.

Four members of the college faculty left Sunday night for Wichita to attend the International Wheat show which opened there today. They were W. M. Jardine, dean of agriculture; O. E. Reed, professor of dairy husbandry; L. E. Call, professor of agronomy, and L. A. Fitts, head of the milling department. They will appear on the program.

Dr. H. J. Waters, who is head of the wheat show, will go to Wichita later in the week. He was represented at the exposition today by Dean Jardine.

The experiment station at the college has an extensive exhibit at the wheat show.

MORE STUDY ENGINEERING.

Dean Potter Says the Mortality is High.

The enrollment of engineering freshmen this fall shows an increase of forty per cent while the increase of the total enrollment in the division is more than ten per cent.

"The mortality of engineering students is high," Dean Potter points out. "There is a greater decrease in the enrollment of the different classes which is very marked and indicative of those who started in the course with no definite purpose. For instance, this year we have 140 freshmen, 73 sophomores, 50 juniors, and 44 seniors, and we will not have 44 seniors in the graduating class next spring.

The loss between the freshman and sophomore years is very great in all engineering schools where a good standard is maintained. The person entering upon an engineering course without a serious purpose has very small chance of graduating.

The statistics kept in our department show that out of every three entering the engineering courses, only one graduated every four years."

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN IS ON.

Quill Club Contest Will Close November 15.

The contest for membership to the local chapter of the Quill club will close November 15. Two membership contests are conducted each year, the second one closing April 15.

The club is an exclusive society of which one may become a member only through the merit of literary accomplishments. Some have become members through having their stories or article published in magazines, others by the merit of the manuscripts they have submitted to the membership committee of the club.

Membership is limited to 30 student members. The present membership is fourteen. A manuscript on any subject may be submitted. The qualifications required of a candidate are that he have a college assignment a good standing in school, and be of unquestionable character.

ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT INSTALLS NEW MACHINERY

A Traveling Crane, Wood Lathes, and a Milling Machine are Being Placed in the Shops.

New machinery is being installed, and repairs are being made in the engineering shops. A new traveling crane which was "built in the college shops, is being set up in the foundry. With the help of the crane, the workmen will be able to pour a great many more moulds than formerly.

One man can handle any weight up to four tons in any part of the iron section of the foundry with the help of this new piece of machinery.

Four new electrically driven wood lathes are being set up in the pattern shop to be used in conjunction with the four new lathes already in use. Their installation eliminates the old system of belts and overhead shafting, and adds to the safety of the equipment used by the students as there are no exposed parts to endanger the workmen.

A new exhaust stack has been built in the blacksmith shop to replace the old one which was rusted out by the sulphur in the exhaust smoke.

A new Brown and Sharp No. 3A geared type of milling machine has been installed in the machine shop to take care of the heavy gear cutting and milling work which is necessary in carrying on the class work and the repair work of the college. This machine is one of the latest motor driven types and is the best of the kind made in the United States.

A new reinforced concrete floor is being laid in the machine shop to replace the old wooden floor which has been in use since the shops were built. The termites were attacking the old floor and in places had completely ruined some of the main supports. The floor is designed to carry a line load of 160 pounds per square foot.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS MEET.

President Waters Addressed Meeting on Food Value of Milk.

The annual meeting of the Kansas State Holstein Breeders' association was held at the agricultural college Saturday.

Dr. Henry J. Waters, president of the college, pointed out the advisability of finishing products right here in Kansas instead of allowing the raw material to go elsewhere for others to reap the benefit of fancy prices. Doctor Waters spoke in detail of the food value of milk.

A trip over the college farm was followed by a banquet.

The Hesperians Elect.

The Hesperian literary society of the school of agriculture has elected the following officers for the fall term:

President, Anna Riley; vice president, E. B. Bennie; recording secretary, Bertha Gwin; treasurer, Harry Bradley; marshal, Edith Riley; assistant marshal, J. Ralph Nutter; critic, Iva Mullen.

Home Economics Seminar.

Special Problems in Home Economics Education is the name given to the new seminar course now being offered by Miss Helen Halm, instructor in home economics education.

The aim of this course, which carries two hours credit, is to give to those who desire it, the opportunity of working out some special problem in this field.

LYCEUM GOERS PLEASED BY RARE MUSICAL TREAT

FAMOUS TENOR AND MEZZO-SOPRANO PRESENT CONCERT.

George Hamlin and Miss Myrtle Moses of Chicago Grand Opera Company Sing to an Appreciative Audience.

More than nine hundred students and townspeople attended the first number of the society lyceum course last night to hear the joint concert presented by Miss Myrtle Moses of the Chicago Opera Company, a prima donna mezzo-soprano, and George Hamlin, tenor, under the same management, accompanied by Sidney Arno Dietch.

It was an appreciative audience who heard the famous American tenor at his best. During the present season, musical critics agree that Hamlin's voice has taken on added beauty and resonance. Never before in his career has he sang with such thrilling quality of tone.

Miss Moses is duplicating in concert the success which she obtained in opera. Her voice is one of the most lovely to be found among the younger prima donne; it is of splendid range and volume and is capable of every suitable shading.

As an interpreter of Brahms, Strauss, Schumann, and Schubert, as well as the modern French and Italian schools, Miss Moses must be classed with the finest concert singers of the present day. After hearing her, no one could be surprised that the rise to distinction has been so rapid.

Miss Moses pleased her hearers with her wonderful range of voice, going to high C with little effort. Although Miss Moses is classed as a mezzo-soprano, she has sung soprano and alto role in opera.

Both Mr. Hamlin and Miss Moses were repeatedly called upon for encores which were fully as much appreciated as the main numbers. The house was well filled and a number of out of town musical enthusiasts swelled the number of single admission sales, although the single admission price of equal to one half of the price of the season tickets offered to the students.

WILL SHOOT CHICKENS.

Rifle Club Introduces New Feature for Target Practice.

A new feature which is being introduced this year by the college rifle club is chicken "shoots," which will be held at the target range every two weeks.

Last year the college rifle team started out in Class B and remained in this class throughout the year. One complete match was lost by default. This year the club has a larger membership and expects to stand near the top in Class A.

At a meeting of the club which was held Wednesday afternoon, the following men were elected officers: president, F. M. Pickrell; secretary, R. Dawson; treasurer, A. A. Grant.

HIGHS TRIM TOPEKA ELEVEN.

Local Team Wins 6 to 0—Fumbles Hold Down Score.

Manhattan high school won a hard-fought game from the Topeka highs by a 6 to 0 score at Topeka Saturday. Topeka was forced to play a kicking game throughout, being unable to punt the Manhattan line. The Manhattan eleven was on the offensive for all except ten minutes of the play. Penalties and fumbles prohibited a higher score on the part of the Collins team.

The next high school game will be played against Salina next Friday. Salina was the only eleven last year to defeat the local eleven by as much as one touchdown.

Do You Want to be a 2d Lieutenant?

An examination for the candidacy of second lieutenant in the United States army will be held at Fort Riley the 16th of this month.

The war department has called upon Captain Mathews to give any information or assistance to candidates. A graduate of his institution between 21 and 27 years of age is exempt from the mental examination. All are required to take the physical examination.

SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR THE COLLEGLIAN BOARD

NAMES WILL BE VOTED ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The Four Receiving the Highest Number of Votes Will Become Members of the Board—Election Will be Held in Main Hall.

The names of seven candidates for members of the Collegian board have been handed to Professor N. A. Crawford, head of the journalism department.

The names in the order in which they were handed in are O. K. Rumbel, B. Q. Shields, Charles Enlow, Leo C. Moser, George R. Heyvey, W. W. Wright, and O. T. Bonnett. Messrs. Rumbel, Moser, and Wright are seniors, and Messrs. Shields, Enlow, Heyvey, and Bonnett are juniors.

The names of these men will be voted on by subscribers to the Collegian from 1 to 5 o'clock p. m. next Friday, and the four receiving the highest number of votes will become members of the board. The election will be conducted at the window opposite the post office in main hall.

Old Board Abolished.

This is the first time that such a board has been placed in charge of the student paper. The Collegian board was formerly composed of one representative from each of the student organizations, and which elected the entire Collegian staff.

On account of the cumbersome nature of this organization and the lack of interest shown, a new constitution was adopted last spring which provided that the board should consist of five members one of whom should be the head of the journalism department, the other members being juniors or seniors and subscribers of the Collegian.

The new board will elect the editor and business manager of the paper and these men will be allowed to select their own staff.

JUST HATES WORD "ROOKIE."

Captain Mathews Don't Like His Cadets Called Names.

There is a word that the commandant of cadet corps does not like and that word is "Rookies." The custom of calling all the cadets at the college "Rookies" and all the drills and maneuvers of the college regiment "Rookie Drill" and the designating of the uniform as "Rookie Clothes" is rasping on the ear of the commandant and he is making a strenuous endeavor to have the word dropped from the college vocabulary.

"The word is a corruption of the word recruit," said the Captain this morning. "There are plenty of recruits in the regiment at the beginning of every term but the percentage is a small one and it certainly sounds bad, to call the entire regiment by that name. Also the use of such a word, tends to cause a certain amount of disrespect for the uniform and for this branch of the service."

JARDINE MADE A MEMBER.

College Dean in National Institute of Social Sciences.

W. M. Jardine, dean of agriculture in the college has been elected to membership in the National Institute of Social Sciences. This is a select body, composed of well known workers in various fields of science, its purpose being to apply scientific knowledge to social needs. Many prominent Americans are on its roll of membership.

DOERNER ASSISTS IN HORT.

Comes From Practical Work in the Northwest.

A. M. Doerner, graduate of Oregon Agricultural college, arrived in Manhattan last week to fill the vacant assistantship in the department of horticulture. Mr. Doerner has had considerable special work in landscape, and has quite a wide experience in general orchard and horticultural work in the northwest.

Prof. and Mrs. R. H. Brown left today for Salina where Professor Brown will play at the Shriners' meeting.

MILL BULLETIN GAME.

The Collegian will post bulletins on the Aggie-Nebraska game Saturday afternoon on the bulletin board in front of Anderson hall. Watch for the results of the game.

Y. M. CONDUCTS CAMPAIGN.

All Students Will be Asked to Become Members.

Next Friday a membership campaign will be conducted by the Y. M. C. A. There will be approximately 20 teams of five men each, and all college students will be asked to become members of this organization.

Thursday evening a "pep" meeting will be held at the association building to which all are invited. "Hank" Borland will be the leader. The meeting will be called at seven o'clock sharp.

DEBATE TRYOUTS WILL BE HELD NEXT MONTH

Date: Changed to November 10, 11, and 13—Intersociety Contests Also Planned.

The date for the fall debate tryouts has been changed to November 10, 11, and 13. The question to be used is the same as the Pentangular question—ship subsidy.

The date of the tryouts has been changed owing to the fact that the contest with the Emporia Normal will be held in the early part of January, and it is desired that the members of the team be selected and that they have their speeches practically ready by the end of the fall term.

Those who are intending to try out for this debate are requested to send their names to Don L. Burk not later than Tuesday, November 7.

A committee has been appointed by the debating council to arrange for intersociety debates both for the men and the women. The Pentangular question will also be used in these intersociety contests. Each society will have two teams each of which will probably be composed of three members. These debates will probably come before the fall tryouts.

The Ames squad is doing fine according to Coach Burk, and the prospects for a victory are good.

School of Ag. Elects.

The first year class of the school of agriculture has elected the following officers for the fall term.

President, L. C. Kees; vice president, H. R. DeLair; secretary, Esther Peterson; treasurer, Daniel Schmidt; marshal, W. C. Koch; assistant marshal, K. W. Gilbert; historian, Blanche Palmer; reporter, Ruby Gusselman.

SAFETY RAZORS INCREASE TRADE

Barber Shops do Big Business Since Their Invention.

"Barber shop supply houses advocate the sale of safety razors at barber shops. Their sale increases the barber's business."

These surprising statements were made by the little man in charge of the first chair in an Aggieville shop.

"The barber shop trade has increased greatly since the invention of the safety razor and I'll tell you why," continued the man behind the chair.

"Men discard the old style razor and learn to use a safety. The average man shaves every other day, but with a safety he must shave daily because if he allows his beard to become long the hairs catch between the blade and the guard. After abusing his face a few times in order to lessen the danger of cutting himself he quits in disgust and patronizes the barbershop."

"The safety razor companies could afford to give away their razors because of the profit they make from the sale of the blades. The edge begins to pull when the face is half shaved and after a blade becomes dull it is discarded. A blade will fit only a razor of the same make and as it is sharpened mechanically it cannot be re-sharpened by hand. Furthermore the blades are not all sharp in the first place because they are not tested. If the man who made them tested every blade his finger would be cut off."

"Is there anything else you would like to know about safety razors?"

The little barber was vigorously applying a tonic to the red hair of his customer. The latter's curiosity was satisfied.

MOUNDBUILDERS KEPT ON DEFENSIVE DURING GAME

WILDER MAKES SPECTACULAR 75 YARD RUN.

Perfect Aggie Interference Spells Defeat for Visitors—Two Touchdowns Made on Forward Passes.

Perfect Aggie interference spelled defeat for Coach Bates' Southwestern eleven in a weird 52 to 0 battle on College field Friday. The Southwesterners were simply outclassed, the Clevenger-Schulz machine allowing them but one first downs during the 60 minutes of play, that down coming the first time the visitors had the ball.

Clevenger's backfield was performing wonderfully. Time after time the backs would sweep through the Southwestern line with interference so shielding the runner that no Moundbuilder had a chance to make a tackle until the man carrying the ball was five yards past the line of scrimmage. Captain Barnes and Huston, both nursing bad "charley horses," skirted the ends almost at will, while Wells had little difficulty in making heavy yardages by plunges through the line.

Wilder Makes 75 Yard Run.

Easily the most spectacular play of the game was a brilliant 75-yard run by Wilder in the last few minutes of play. The track captain took advantage of his interference in rounding the left end, and, then, left to himself, either dodged or stiff-armed four tacklers and sprinted down the field for the Aggies' eighth touchdown. A minute later to a run that promised another Aggie score but was downed after carrying the ball forty yards.

The forward pass was the direct cause of two Aggie touchdowns. Early in the game Clarke tossed a pretty 15-yard pass to Randall and "Stiff" squirmed his way the remaining 15 yards to the goal line for the first score of the game. A 10-yard pass to Skinner in the last period netted the Aggies another touchdown. In all, four passes out of six attempts were completed for a total gain of 65 yards.

Coach Schulz sent in practically every man on the Varsity squad. At one time towards the end of the first half only two Aggie regulars, Wright and Clarke, were still in the game, the other positions having been filled by second string men.

UNA-FLOW ENGINE IS ORDERED.

Will be Used by Students in Engineering Department.

A una-flow engine has been ordered by the engineering department for the use of the engineering students. K. S. A. C. will be the first institution to have an engine of this type in its laboratories.

The una-flow engine is the latest improvement in steam engines. The fifty horse power engine of this type has as good an economy as an engine with a capacity of more than 1000 horse power of the regular double flow type. That is, it will use just as little steam in producing a horse power as the larger engines.

While this type of engine has been successfully used in Europe for the past two or three years, it is a new machine in our country.

Dairy Club Elects Officers.

At a meeting of the Dairy club held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening the following officers were elected: President, F. S. Turner; vice president, D. E. McLeod; secretary-treasurer, H. W. Schaper; reporter, K. Campbell.

PURPLE MASQUE.

Dramatic activity at the college started last Monday with the first meeting of Purple Masque. The record made last year has engendered in the members of the organization a feeling of optimism, and a lively desire to get into the work early this fall with a view to further successes. A wider interest in dramatics is manifest throughout the college.

One feature of last year's record, pointed to with pride by the masquers, is the financial. Dramatics is no longer in debt at K. S. A. C. In spite of higher royalties paid for productions, and of increased cost of staging, Purple Masque is now showing a substantial balance in the "cash-on-hand" column.

This is due, they say, to the standard of play produced. Purple Masque is not willing to bring to the local boards poor lines, weak plots, or situations inherently incapable of effective presentation. Strong, modern plays are chosen, plays that have made good on the professional stage. Such plays, well produced, as "The Fortune Hunter," for example, insure their houses. "Under Cover," and "The Crisis,"—which are likely to be produced this year—are plays that the informed theatrical student will want to attend.

A most important factor in the increasing activity along dramatic lines is the fact that dramatics at the college is no longer a closed corporation. Tryouts for plays are open to every college student. No membership fees are demanded, no credentials required. The manuscripts are given to the ones most fitted for the parts.

Purple Masque is a more or less exclusive organization. It is an honorary body. One must possess certain requirements to be eligible and the organization reserves to itself, with the advice of the public speaking department faculty, the right to elect or reject at its pleasure. Only those who have demonstrated by actual performance in a college play that they have standard dramatic talent, and only those who possess certain qualifications along play managing lines, may hereafter become members of Purple Masque.

But while the organization is in a sense exclusive it is by no means undemocratic, or purely ornamental. It functions in an important way when it makes possible the production by the student body, of worthwhile plays, and when its very presence engenders an interest in things dramatic. The press, the pulpit, and the stage are three great media for imparting intelligence, teaching truth, picturing life and its lessons, its joys, its sorrows. One should say that Purple Masque is doing a great work in fostering dramatics at K. S. A. C.

A little screaming by the way:
A lot of toiling by the day;
A little pay, a lot of strife;
A little joy—and that is LIFE.

Anon.

AGGIE STUDENTS CLASH
IN FIST FIGHT FRIDAYMANY SORE NOSES, ACHING HEADS
AND MINOR INJURIES.Free-for-all Follows Attempt of the Freshmen to March Through Aggieville, Six Abreast on Sidewalk.

Fully 500 students of the Kansas State Agricultural college engaged in a free-for-all fight in Aggieville after the football game Friday afternoon, the combat resulting from an attempt of the freshmen, marching six abreast, to walk through Aggieville on the sidewalk. Their progress was disputed by upper classmen, mostly sophomores and juniors.

The frosh got together and decided they would show the upper classmen who was running things. They declared they would march through Aggieville on the sidewalk despite all attempts of upper classmen to stop them.

Immediately following the football game, the frosh got together and started their invasion of Aggieville. Near the corner of Moro street and Manhattan avenue they met their first opposition. At first, the conflict consisted only in shoving their opponents off the walk. Someone used his fists, however, and the fight was on.

Canes, fists and sticks were used in the free-for-all. Clothes were torn, caps were lost in the fray and many eyes were blacked. Scores of noses were spouting blood as the fight increased in intensity. Knuckles which were not used to heavy blows were skinned from the force of the impact with hard heads. The clash continued for a half hour, by which time the frosh were dispersed.

There were many sore noses, bruised knuckles, torn clothes and aching heads. The ill feeling which developed during the fight has been forgotten, however, and the students are smoking the peace pipe.

"Hearts and the Highways."

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. is planning a party for the housekeeper girls to be given next Saturday night at the rest room in the home economics building. The instructors in the domestic science and domestic art departments will also be among the guests. The housekeepers will be escorted to the party by girls working on the Y. W. C. A. committees.

The Y. W. C. A. wishes to announce that their regular meeting will be held next Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the rest room of the home economics building. The subject "Reality versus Y. W. C. A. Ideals" will be discussed by three speakers each taking a different phase. Miss Anna Ernsting will talk on "Rural Life," "Mountain Life" will be discussed by Julia White and "City Life" by Miss Loula Kennedy.

Y. W.-Y. M. Mixer.

Impromptu stunts were the principal feature of the Y. M.-Y. W. mixer held Friday night. The crowd was divided into congressional districts each group being responsible for a stunt.

The receiving line was formed at 8 o'clock and was busy for more than an hour. The stunts were extraordinary in their originality. A doll rack, Mutt and Jeff, a mock elopement were among those that were thrilling and entertaining. Ice cream and wafers were served as refreshments. About 1000 students were present.

"Heights of Hazard."

Another one of Cyrus Townsend Brady's stories featuring Mr. Charles Richman and other eminent Broadway stars. Cyrus Townsend Brady has solved a great problem; he has put every known thrill into this moving picture. At the Marshall theatre Thursday.

Y. M. C. A. CONDUCTS CAMPAIGN TODAY

AGGIE MEN ARE READY FOR THE CORNHUSKERS

COACH AND 25 MEN LEAVE TODAY FOR LINCOLN.

Clevenger-Schulz Machine Expects Hardest Game of Season But Will Put Up Whirlwind Battle Against Nebraska.

Doped to hold the Nebraska Cornhuskers to a close score with a possibility of defeating the heavier champions, the Kansas Aggies will leave at 3:11 o'clock this afternoon for a game which promises a line on the ability of the Clevenger-Schulz eleven to battle against Valley teams, and also Nebraska's chances to repeat last year's victorious Valley scores.

Should the Aggies pull the unexpected and trim the heavier Huskers, Nebraska's place at the top of the Valley football world will be seriously threatened and the Aggies will have a good chance at the championship.

That the Nebraskans fear the Clevenger-Schulz machine is shown in the presence at last Friday's Southwestern game of Coach Rutherford, who was sent to get a line on the Aggie plays and players. Never before have the Cornhuskers feared the Manhattan eleven enough to scout on them, and Rutherford's visit is a tribute of respect to this year's eleven.

Put Up Whirlwind Battle.

"I have not seen the Nebraska team in action this year," said Coach Clevenger this morning, "and do not know what the weight of the team is. I understand, though, that the Cornhuskers will outweigh the Aggies somewhat. The Aggies are going into the game to fight from the first minute. The men are determined to put up a whirlwind battle which Nebraska will find difficult to stem. The team is in good condition for the game and some surprises may be springing."

Practice this week has consisted in rounding new plays into shape and in working up a defensive to break up the Nebraska plays. The last scrimmage was held last night. A light practice is in progress this afternoon. The men have come through the scrimmages in good shape and are in the best of condition. Sullivan has been working at quarter this week and may be in the game part of the time. Clevenger said this morning.

CONDUCTS INSTITUTE CIRCUITS.

Fourteen Members of Extension Division at Work.

Fourteen members of the extension division are out on the first institute circuit of the institute department of the extension division. Fifty-two towns, a part of them county seats are on the circuit where one and two day institutes will be held.

Farm and home are the general heads of the topics to be discussed. Special lectures on live stock, entomology, crops and soils, farm management, horticulture, marketing, and poultry subjects by the experts of the division, will be features of the institutes. In addition to the lectures and demonstrations, local speakers will appear on the programs.

Seven institutes will be in progress daily, the members of the department traveling by twos.

EXTENSION MEN AT WHEAT SHOW

Judged Horticultural and Crop Exhibits at Wichita.

George O. Green, extension horticulturist, judged the horticultural exhibits last week at the International Wheat show at Wichita, and G. E. Thompson, specialist in crops of the extension division, judged all of the crop exhibits.

Collegian Subscribers.
Election of Collegian board from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon in main hall at window opposite postoffice. Bring your receipts.

CONDITIONAL EXAMS TOMORROW

Tests for Advanced Credits Will Also be Given.

According to the provisions set forth in the college "Hand Book of Information," page 32, tomorrow is the day when conditional examinations will be given to students who are deficient in their work. The second examination of the year for advanced credit will also be given at this time.

Quoting from the Handbook, "Examinations to remove conditions are held on the fourth Saturday of each term, as announced in the college calendar. Each department arranges to hold its own examinations subject to the following rules:

"Students who have received a grade of 'C' are entitled to take this examination, provided that they personally notify either the instructor under whom the grade was made or the head of the department of their desire to take such examination, not later than the Tuesday evening preceding the Saturday for the examinations."

All conditions that are removed are given a grade of "P" regardless of the merits of the examination paper. If, however, the condition is not removed, the student is given a grade of "F" for the subject, and is required to make up the condition by repeating the work in a regular class.

WILL HOLD INTERSOCIETY DEBATES ON NOVEMBER 4

Literary Societies Will Participate in the Contest—Will Debate Pentangular Question.

Plans have been made to conduct intersociety debates by the different college literary societies. The first contest will occur on November 4.

The question to be debated is the same as the one to be used in the Pentangular—ship subsidy. This question will also be used in the fall debate tryouts which will be held on Monday, November 6.

The one judge system will be used, all judges being members of the faculty. All students who have debated, or who are on the debating teams this year are barred from participating in these intersociety contests, as it is planned to get as much new material for the tryouts as possible.

The schedule which has been arranged for the intersociety contests is as follows.

In the afternoon, the girls societies will debate, the Eurodelphian negative and Browning affirmative meeting at the Browning hall; Browning negative and Ionian affirmative at Ionian hall; and Ionian negative and Eurodelphian affirmative at Eurodelphian hall.

In the evening: Alpha Beta women's negative team and Franklin women's team at the Franklin hall; Webster negative and Athenian affirmative at the Athenian hall; Athenian negative and Forensic affirmative at the Forensic hall; Forensic negative and Webster affirmative at the Webster hall; Franklin men's negative and Alpha Beta's men's affirmative at the Alpha Beta hall.

The teams are composed of three members each and in each case the affirmative remains at home. Fifty-four persons will participate in these intersociety debates.

Last spring term, participation in college debate was thrown open to all organizations who would support this activity financially. The Women's Panhellenic and a few other organizations responded and have expressed their desire to enter contestants in the tryouts. This feature is regarded as especially commendable by the debate coaches as it furnishes keener competition and gives access to a greater amount of good debating material.

H. L. Kent, principal of the school of agriculture, addressed the Brown county teachers' association in Hlathwa on the advisability of teaching agriculture in rural schools.

Miss Hazel Groff, '16, writes that she is enjoying her work as domestic science teacher in Lansing.

WILSON CLUB ORGANIZED BY COLLEGE DEMOCRATS

PLANS HEAVY CAMPAIGN DURING THE MONTH.

Much Enthusiasm Shown—Co-eds as Much Interested as the Men—J. L. Lantow Heads the New Organization.

Students with democratic tendencies in the college, organized Wednesday night, with fifty charter members. The organization is planning a heavy campaign during the coming months, with the idea of getting the student voters out for Wilson.

The meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. building, was enthusiastic in the extreme. There were speeches by several of the students present, on the plans of the organization and campaign issues. B. K. Baghdigian, an Armenian student, was one of the chief speakers. F. D. Lamb, chairman of the democratic county central committee, tendered the columns of The Morning Chronicle to the students.

The work of the club is to be in a great measure educational. Regular meetings are to be held at which the methods and meanings of votings are to be scientifically taken up, so that the students may cast their ballots intelligently. National issues will also be discussed. Literature for the workers has been ordered.

Will Give Program.

Programs are to be given at intervals, at which there will be out of town speakers, and at which political matters will be discussed. A committee was elected to arrange for programs.

One of the aims of the club is to secure as large a representation of student voters as possible at the coming election.

It was determined that the club would co-operate with the Hughes organization, already formed, if it was found possible, and that some one of the precincts in Manhattan would be swamped with student voters in a vigorous effort to compel the provision of proper facilities for the casting of the student vote.

Elect Officers.

The next meeting of the club will be held on the college campus at 10 o'clock Monday morning. At that time a regular program will be presented.

J. L. Lantow was elected president of the club, O. T. Bonnett vice president, Miss Eunice Baird, Secretary J. R. Mingle, treasurer, and H. E. Smith marshal.

There were some fifteen co-eds in the crowd, as enthusiastic as the men students. Plans were laid for the meeting of some of the women students by Florence Finch Kelly, of New York, who will be in Manhattan Monday to organize a "Women's Woodrow Wilson" club.

ALUMNI IMPORTANT AUTHORS.

Recent Publications of Importance Written by Old Grads.

Alumni of the Kansas State Agricultural college are authors of recent noteworthy publications of state experiment stations and bureaus of governmental departments.

J. W. Calvin, '06, is author of research bulletin number eight, of the University of Nebraska agricultural experiment station, "The Colloidal Swelling of Wheat Gluten in Relation to Milling and Baking."

C. H. Popenoe, entomological assistant in Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, is joint author with the chair of the bureau of a paper on "Hydrocyanic-Acid Gas Against Household Insects."

C. L. Marlatt, '81, entomologist and assistant chief in the same bureau, is author of Farmer's Bulletin number 740 of recent date.

John F. Ross, '02, and C. H. Kyle, '03, are authors of U. S. D. A. literature and experiment station literature also of recent date.

Fifty freshman girls attended the open house given Monday by the Omicron Nu sorority. The dining room was darkened and lighted with yellow shaded candles. Punch and wafers were served.

KEILMAN TO SPEAK AT JOURNALISM SEMINAR

CITY EDITOR OF NATIONALIST WILL TELL OF "WAR DOPE."

Seminar Hour Changed to Monday Morning so That all can Attend—Other Newspaper Men Scheduled.

E. D. Keilman, city editor of the Manhattan Daily Nationalist who has just recently returned from the Mexican border, where he was serving with Company I of the K. N. G. on border duty, will speak to the journalism students at their seminar meeting Monday morning, at 10 o'clock in the journalism reading room.

The students of the department will have an opportunity to hear a young man of wide experience in the newswriting game. Mr. Keilman has worked at the telegraph desk of the Kansas City Post and Hutchinson News, reporter for Topeka Capital and news editor of the Lawrence Democrat, now discontinued.

Mr. Keilman at this time is in his career enlisted in the regulars, coast artillery, to prepare himself for the larger field of war correspondence in event of the opportunity. During his present connection with Company I on the border he was the authorized correspondent for the United Press and contributed regular letters to the Nationalist until a military order decreed that correspondents could not be enlisted men.

War correspondence is one of the heroic duties of the modern news writer who must often times risk his life and spend thousands of press association money to get a bit of copy on the wire to the central office.

"My subject?" questioned Mr. Keilman. "I would rather not give a definite subject—something might 'break' before that time. At any rate, I am not a lecturer; it will just be a talk and I shall try to touch upon some points of especial interest to journalism students."

The program committee of the journalism seminar has made arrangements for the appearance of several of the local newspaper men, many of whom have had varied experiences in journalistic work. These talks, in addition to the general discussions at the meetings, will give the students an insight into practical newspaper problems that could not be gained in any other way.

The seminar hour has been changed from fifth hour, Saturday, to from ten to eleven o'clock Monday, which will enable all of the students to attend the talks during the chapel hour, and those who do not have classes the third hour to remain for the general discussion.

STUDENTS VOTE ON CAMPUS?

Snag is Struck in Proceedings but a Chance Yet.

Unless the citizens of Manhattan co-operate in petitioning for a new precinct to be located on the college campus, the students will be considerably inconvenienced in voting on election day. The creation of the new precinct was not approved by the township trustee because it was not asked for in the regular manner, by petition.

It is possible that the professors and other citizens who wish to accommodate the students will originate such a petition.

"The residents of the township, and of the precinct, have never presented a petition," said Henry Mochlman, trustee of the township, "and have never asked that there be a precinct established there. The proceedings have not been according to law and therefore I cannot put my approval on it."

"Understand that I am in no way opposed to its formation. It is only the irregular manner in which it was proposed."

There will be a large number of student voters who will vote. If they are obliged to vote at a booth which has facilities only for the normal citizenship vote, it will cause considerable congestion, inconvenience, and perhaps riotousness.

The Aggies leave for Lincoln at 3:11 o'clock this afternoon. They have the fight, the material and the coaches. They need one more thing to win—support. Can you give them a sendoff? Can you be at the train? Show the Aggie spirit. This is the Aggies' best chance at Nebraska. BE AT THE TRAIN!

QUIZZ PAPER IS EXPENSIVE.

Costs $600 to Fill Requirements of the College.

One of the small items of expense at the agricultural college—yet one not to be overlooked—is that of quizz paper. It costs $600 to fill the requirements for this commodity.

Give the poor little freshman one glimpse of that corner of one room in the basement of Kedzie hall where that seemingly inexhaustible supply of quizz paper is stored—stacked in great piles—and how he will dread the three weeks quizzes, mid-terms, and finals.

For use during the coming school year, the department of printing has provided 160 reams of paper weighing practically three tons. Made up into the eight page books used in examinations, this would make 160,000 books, averaging 48 2-10 for each student. This means a cost of 18 cents for one person.

The paper which is cut in sheets twenty four inches by thirty-six inches, if stacked in one pile, would reach a height of 26 2-3 feet. E. T. Keith, assistant in printing, says the cost of the paper is 100 per cent greater than last year.

CAPTAIN MATHEWS WILL EXPLAIN RESERVE CORPS

New Reserve Officers Training Corps Will Pay Cadets $9 a Month—New Equipment to College.

The reserve officers training corps which will be organized here under the Congressional act of that title will be explained to all juniors and seniors by Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of the cadets, at a mass meeting in the auditorium at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Captain Mathews believes that the new measure will almost double the strength of the college regiment. The act provides that every student in a civil educational institution with military training, may enter the reserve officers training corps, by signing a contract to continue his military training as long as he is in college. During that time he will receive a regular communication for subsistence, which is an amount equal to that set for the rations of a regular soldier, from the federal government.

The appointments to the new corps are made by Dr. H. J. Waters, as president of the college. His willingness to enroll does not necessarily indicate that the applicant will be accepted. High standards are required.

The corps at the College will be divided into two divisions. The senior division will be made up of the students in the regular college work; the junior division from the students in the school of agriculture.

On the showing of the college military department last year under the command of Captain Mathews and Sergeant E. L. Claeren, assistant to the commandant, the Chief of Ordinance of the regular army has ordered more than $20,000 worth of new equipment furnished to the department here, which will arrive in a few days, and will be issued. The old rifles, which are of a model several years old, will be checked in and returned to the war department, as will all the equipment such as belts, bayonets, and cartridge boxes, appertaining to that model. The new rifles issued will be of the latest design, .30 caliber, and the equipment which goes with them will be of the same sort. New machine gun equipment will be received at the same time.

Miss Marguerite Kennedy, a last year's freshman, has been attending school in Pittsburg this year. She has returned to her home in Fredonia and hopes to be in school here next term.

Dr. T. P. Haslam, assistant professor in the veterinary department, is in Oklahoma on business for the department.

ONE HUNDRED STUDENTS WILL ASK COLLEGE MEN TO TAKE MEMBERSHIPS

CANVASSERS WILL MAKE PERSONAL CALLS.

500 NEW MEMBERS EXPECTED

Organization Aids New Students in Becoming Acquainted and in Helping Them Find Places to Work.

This afternoon one hundred men will make a canvass of the young men of the college for membership in the Young Men's Christian association. Much preparation has been made for this canvass and efficient workers have been placed in charge so that in a few hours every man in the institution will be given an opportunity to join the association.

Each canvasser has a list of names of men with whom he is acquainted and will call on these men at their rooms by appointment or will present the claims of the association to the students as they meet them on the hill. The fraternities will be reached as groups, a member 5th faculty in most cases giving a short talk. "The membership work is coming along fine," said "Heinie" Bayer, president of the Y. M. C. A. "We expect big things today. The freshmen are signing up as fast as they come in. We are rushing the fraternities this year more than ever before, and the prospects are mighty good. We have never been organized like we are now; and everybody seems to be keenly interested in the work. We intend to finish the campaign today."

"The association has a place to fill in its extension work, the sending out of gospel teams, the helping in Sunday school work, etc.," said W. W. McLean, secretary of the association, in commenting on the work of the organization.

Students are Aided.

"A large field of activity along social lines is open to the Y. M. C. A. Not only is this true of the work of the association among the new students but also among the old students. To the association has been delegated the special work of looking after the needs of the new students. Through correspondence and personal contact the new student is welcomed into his new atmosphere."

"The open house and social affairs of the association at the beginning of the new term have proved to be of great help in acquainting the student with his new environment. The new students make use of the employment bureau of the association and through it find work of a permanent nature. Twenty places of this kind have been found this fall and dozens have been sent out for odd job work which in many cases results in permanent employment."

Mr. McLean was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at this institution from 1902 to 1908. During 1910 and 1911 he was secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Mexico City, Mexico; and came back to this institution in 1912.

Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN.

There is no student activity or organization on the hill which has a bigger influence in the life of the students and which is more deserving of universal student support than the college Y. M. C. A. The association goes out this afternoon to ask college men to become members not in the spirit of the tramp at the back door asking for a hand-out. It's officers believe that it occupies a place in the institution worthy of the support of every student.

It is the only religious student organization which seeks to unite all of the Christian forces of the college. The union of the Christian men of the college into an organization guards and deepens the spiritual life of the students, affords training in methods of Christian work, and gives pleasure, inspiration and breadth from its inter-denominational fellowship.

Besides looking after and aiding the new students in finding rooming and boarding places and looking after their social welfare, their spiritual life is given special attention. The principal means employed for the accomplishment of the association's religious aims are through its regular Thursday evening meetings, special meetings such as the Robins campaign of last year, and through discussion Bible study groups.

The above program of the association is sufficiently varied to call for the help and support of every man in college. The Christian men are asked to unite their efforts for a solid front along all lines of Christian activity. Other men who can not unite on its religious work program are asked to go as far as they can. It takes just two things to make the association work go—time and financial support. Even though a man may feel that he himself does not need the helpful influences of the association he should join because of his influence on others who do need its help.

Mr. St. John: "For food—and clothing—and—"

Miss Orem: "Can't we get those things ourselves?"

St. John: "Some people can."

Professor Iles says: "If a student is always careless about his work, he may well expect to be continually in trouble while in college. And then he will wonder why—maybe, some people are so careless that they don't even wonder why."

THE FRESHMAN.

The freshmen who so recently

WILL GIVE LECTURE COURSES.

Thirty are Planned by Rural Service Department.

More than thirty lecture courses will be conducted in communities throughout the state by the rural service department under the direction of Walter Burr.

The lecture courses are to consist of five numbers; three lectures and two entertainments. A feature of the course is the pageant "The Folks Who are Building Kansas, the Heart of the Nation" which is directed by Miss Cera Bell Lanham, the young people of the community taking part.

Miss Lanham presents another number of readings and impersonations.

Professor Burr's lecture, "My Neighbor," and C. D. Davis's illustrated lecture, "Building the Kansas Community," are two scheduled lectures. Another lecture will be given at each place by some member of the faculty.

Mr. Burr has received many more requests for lecture courses than he will be able to fill, due to the fact that Miss Lanham's work at each place requires a week, which extends the season one week for each additional contract. The contracts with the community are only intended to pay the expenses pertaining to travel, the excess monies going to any community betterment fund.

"The Devil at his Elbow."

Clifford Bruce and Dorothy Green take the leading parts in this interesting production. The story deals with drink and its evil influence when taken by a mechanical engineer as a stimulant to continue in an almost super-human endeavor to complete plans for a new submarine. ## JARDINE WILL ADDRESS DRY FARMING CONGRESS

Is President of the Organization—
Ex-President Roosevelt
Will Speak.

Dean W. M. Jardine will leave Sunday evening to preside at the International Dry Farming Congress and Products exposition at El Paso, of which he is president.

Dean Jardine has attended all the meetings of this congress, and his address will review the work of this organization in the past 10 years. He will call attention to the progress which has been made in dry farming, and the influence this movement has had upon the development of this industry.

Dean Jardine has definite assurance that ex-president Roosevelt will deliver an address October 20, and that other men of note will give talks.

This will be the largest agricultural exposition held in America this year. Every state will be represented either by college or experiment station exhibits, and some by both. Kansas will be represented by this institution both by experiment station and college exhibit.

Dean Jardine will deliver an address in the section devoted to rural credits and land settlements, on "How are we to finance young men of good character and training without capital who wish to become farmers and farm owners?"

The Elephant Butte dam will be dedicated during the session. This dam forms the largest irrigation reservoir in the world—it being 45 miles in length and 8 miles across. President Wilson will touch an electric button which will start the water of the Rio Grande flowing through the spillways of the great dam and irrigate 200,000 acres of fertile land which can now be cultivated.

AGS AND ENGINEERS WILL FLOW.

Practical Experience for Both Departments.

Agronomy, farm mechanics, and traction advanced students will be given an opportunity to do quite an amount of experimental plowing during the next few weeks.

The agronomy department made arrangements with the farm mechanics department recently to plow approximately 150 acres on the agronomy farm.

Also, some experimental deep tillage plowing to secure better drainage will be done on some clay soil at the Carl Pfeutze farm.

"The Unwelcome Mother."

William Fox presents Walter Law with Little Jane and Katherine Lee. Should a man sacrifice his wife's love or his children? Would you want a stepmother? These are some of the questions dealt with in this new photoplay. At the Wareham theatre Monday.

The mending of Sullivan's ankle will remove a source of worry to the Aggie coaches. In the two practice games of the season, Clarke has been the only quarterback available and an injury to him would have left the eleven without a pilot. While the ankle may be so weak that Sullivan may not start the Cornhusker game, his presence on the squad will greatly relieve the situation which might have been serious.

On to Lincoln!

Encouraged by the 53 to 0 victory over Southwestern college last Friday, members of the Aggie football team will go to Lincoln with the determination to put up the kind of battle against the Cornhuskers that wins games.

Z. G. Clevenger, director of athletics and head coach, believes there is a chance to win—just an outside chance. It will be the hardest game of the schedule, he thinks.

The team did not suffer as a result of the effort of piling up a big score last Friday. Sullivan, the quarter, who was injured early in the season, is expected to be in the game tomorrow.

A REVOLUTION IN MUSIC.

Victor Herbert's Score for "The Fall of a Nation" Marks Achievement.

In composing the original score for "The Fall of a Nation," the Thomas Dixon-Victor Herbert patriotic film spectacle, Mr. Herbert has achieved what is practically a new form of music. He follows operatic style in so far as leit motifs are assigned to the principal characters. The debacle is both foreshadowed and accompanied with the grim, fateful directness of a Wagnerian score. The use of muted trumpets, breathing solemn warnings of disaster, may be noted even in the panoramic prologue, showing how the seeds of imperialism are brought to the virgin soil of America even by those early immigrants who came to this country to escape Old World tyranny.

A touch of pathos that seldom fails to wring tears from an already excited audience is when the curtain falls to the notes of "Taps" skillfully harmonized with the old hymn, "Lead Kindly Light." Few except church singers familiar with the theme recognize it.

It is hardly necessary now to make much of an argument for ready clothes as against the so called old made-to-custom measure. There are few men nowadays who feel that they can't wear "ready clothes."

Sensible men generally appreciate the advantages in buying clothes ready. You see the clothes finished; you save time and annoyance in "trying-on;" you know before you buy, not after, whether you're getting a fit or not; you buy "a sure thing;" and you save money.

We have sizes and shapes for every figure; stout men, short men, very tall men; unusual sized, as well as normal figures, can be fitted in our suits without difficulty.

AGGIES HELD NEBRASKA TO 0-14 SCORE

AGGIE TEAM TAKES SECOND AT NATIONAL DAIRY SHOW

NEBRASKA FIRST, IOWA THIRD, MISSOURI FOURTH.

J. R. Dawson Best Individual Judge of Guernseys—the Team was First on This Breed of Cattle.

Competing against fourteen other teams from the best agricultural educational institutions in the United States, the Aggie dairy judging team won second place in the dairy judging contest at the National Dairy show held at Springfield, Mass., on October 13.

R. E. Terrell, J. R. Dawson, and F. S. Turner, seniors in dairy husbandry, accompanied by J. B. Fitch, associate professor of dairy husbandry, started on this eastern trip on October 1. The Aggie representation at the National Dairy show was made possible by liberal contributions from dairy herd breeders creameries, and friends of the department throughout the state.

J. R. Dawson was the best individual judge of Guernseys at the show, and ranked third on Holsteins. He also ranked fifth individual judge in the contest.

The team was first on Guernseys winning the loving cup and fobs given by the American Guernsey Breeders association and two large pictures offered by Guernsey cattle club. By reason of being the second team in the contest, they will bring back the silver loving cup offered by J. B. Ford of the Wyandotte manufacturing company.

A noteworthy feature of the show is the fact that the first four ranking teams in the contest came from western institutions; Nebraska's team winning first; Kansas state, second; Iowa, third; and Missouri, fourth.

The team will arrive in Manhattan some time today and Professor Fitch, who is attending the meeting of the National Dairy Instructors association will arrive Wednesday.

Team Makes Several Steps.

The first stop which the team made was at Waterloo, Iowa, where they attended the mid-west dairy show, the second largest dairy show in the country. At this place, they entered in competition against the Nebraska, Iowa, and Missouri teams, in which contest they were awarded fourth place.

Professor Fitch had also arranged for other stops where the team had the opportunity of seeing some of the best dairy herds and farms, such as are only found in the east.

Last year the team won first on Aryshires at the National Dairy show at Chicago and carried off second honors. The names of those friends of the department, who made it possible for the Aggies to take this extended trip to represent Kansas, are as follows:

Holstein Breeders: Ben Schneider, Nortonville, $5; P. W. Enns, Newton, $1; H. B. Cowles, Topeka, $5; E. S. Engle and Son, Abilene, $1; W. R. Stubbs, Lawrence, $25; C. W. Dingman, Clay Center, $5; Holstein Breeders' Ass'n, $15.

Chapel Programs.

L. D. Bushnell, professor of bacteriology, will speak in chapel Wednesday morning on the subject, "Beginnings of Life." "The Family Tree" will be the subject of a chapel talk by J. V. Cortelyou, professor of German, on Friday morning.

COLLEGE MAKES SWEEP-DUST.

Orders are Filled From Other State Institutions.

Sweeping compound manufactured at the Kansas State Agricultural college is being supplied to other state educational institutions. Orders for this material from the University of Kansas and the State Normal at Emporia were recently filled.

Ingredients used are sand, sawdust, oil, coloring matter and disinfectant. Because of the fact that most of the sawdust is obtained from the college shops, the cost of making the compound is comparatively small. R. H. Needham, associate in stock remedy analysis, agricultural experiment station, suggested the advisability of putting to use waste material.

G. F. Wagner, custodian, is in charge of the plant. Several of the students who are employed as janitors assist in the preparation of the compound.

WAR CORRESPONDENT DOES NOT HAVE ROMANTIC LIFE

The Chimerical Figure of Yesterday Is Now Extinct Says E. D. Kellman.

That the war correspondent is not now the romantic figure that he used to be, is the belief of E. D. Kellman, city editor of the Manhattan Daily Nationalist, who spoke at the journalism seminar Monday morning.

Mr. Kellman told of his experience as war correspondent while on the Mexican border, having served in Company I of the Kansas National guards.

Today, a man to be a war correspondent must have the backing of some large newspaper or newspaper syndicate, according to Mr. Kellman. The correspondent receives his appointment from the secretary of war and is assigned to certain army corps. He must wear a regular army uniform but is distinguished from the privates by a band which is worn on the arm and which has a red letter "C" on it.

It was stated that a war correspondent was seldom happy because he had so many stories which he was not allowed to write. He gets his news direct from headquarters, and his stories are under the direct supervision of the censor who reads everything that is sent out. The correspondent writes very little real news of what is happening, most of his work being feature stories.

"The biggest hit I made with a story while I was down there was an agricultural story," said Mr. Kellman. "One day I saw the Mexicans shocking cactus, and after some questioning found that they fed it to their milk cows. Strange to say, the story about the cactus feed took better than anything else I wrote."

WILL TEACH SWIMMING.

C. A. Brewer Will Give Instruction on Wednesdays and Fridays.

Beginning tomorrow, classes in swimming will be conducted for the men every Wednesday and Friday afternoons from 4:30 to 5:30. Wednesday will be the day for the advanced class and Friday for beginners.

C. A. Brewer, who had charge of one of the largest pools in the state last summer, will give the swimming lessons.

Instruction will be given the rest of this term, but no work will be given during the winter term. The work will be taken up again during the spring.

After the work is gotten under way, it is planned to have water tournaments in which everybody who wishes may participate.

L. H. Bixby has returned from the border and will enroll in school within a few days, and will be major of one of the college battalions. He expects to get his discharge from the National Guards within two or three weeks.

WILL GAUGE STUDENTS' SENSE AND KNOWLEDGE

CHARACTER AND PERSONALITY RECORDS TO BE KEPT.

Employers Would Know Many Things Besides Scholarship About the Young Men and Women Wanting Jobs.

Does Bill Smith dress like a vaudeville artist on parade or does he use his vest for a breakfast plate? Can he remember what he's told, or does he have to pull out a notebok to record the hour of starting work? Can he use the English language, or is his talk a mixture of stale slang and grammatical mistakes? Is he earnest, enthusiastic, original?

These are some of the questions that the Kansas Agricultural College will be able to answer concerning its students when the new plan of keeping character and personality records gets into good working order.

Want More Than Scholarship. Employers, it has been found, are not interested in scholarship alone. They want to know a lot of other things about a young man and woman whom they are considering for jobs, and the college aims to give them the facts.

A committee of which Dr. J. T. Willard, dean of general science, is chairman, has prepared a character and personality record blank on which instructors in the institution will record their estimates of students. Some 30 qualities are enumerated on the blank. Each teacher, however, will report only on those which he has had an opportunity to observe. From the data obtained from various instructors, the college authorities feel they can give a good estimate of the students.

A List of the Qualities.

Here is the list of qualities: Altruism, natural ability, technical ability, accuracy, common sense, cooperation, courage, decision, disposition, earnestness, efficiency, energy, enthusiasm, imagination, initiative, judgment, leadership, memory, moral character, observing power, originality, personal appearance, practicality, reliability, resourcefulness, scholarship, sense of responsibility, tact and courtesy, use of English, versatility.

In addition to getting reports on the students, the college authorities aim to help the students examine themselves as to character and personality. With the help of other members of the faculty, the committee has prepared a leaflet which will be placed in the hands of students as favorable opportunity occurs. The leaflet, which is probably the most comprehensive blank for self study yet prepared, owes its excellence largely to the painstaking and accurate work of Dr. Willard.

RUNS GLASS TUBING INTO HAND.

Dr. J. G. Jackley Suffers Painful Accident Saturday.

While Dr. J. G. Jackley of the bacteriology department of the college was trying to slip a piece of rubber on a piece of glass tubing Saturday a. m., the rubber tubing slipped and the glass was forced into the palm of his right hand. A doctor was called and the wound was dressed.

AMES DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN.

The Contest May Be Held on November 24.

Definite selection of the Aggie-AMES debating teams has been announced by Don L. Burk, debate coach. The men who are on the teams in the order in which they will speak are: affirmative, Merle Converse, T. R. Pharr, R. McGarragh, negative, A. W. Boyer, L. A. Dubbs, and H. M. Moore. C. W. Howard and R. Foster are the alternates.

A definite date for the contest has not been selected. It was originally planned to hold the debate on November 17, but this had to be changed owing to the fact that this is the time when Adrain Newens will appear on the local lyceum course. The debate will probably be held November 24.

COLLEGE GETS TIME REPORTS BY WIRELESS

Messages Taken Twice Daily—Communications are Received From Panama Canal Zone.

The Kansas State Agricultural college is now prepared to receive wireless messages from all parts of the country. Weather and time reports are received daily from Arlington, Va. The messages are taken here at 9 o'clock in the morning and at eight at night. They travel at the rate of 187,000 miles a second, making it possible to receive them almost instantaneously. Messages are received from the Panama Canal Zone, the United States naval station at Great Lakes, Ill., and from New Orleans.

Daily weather forecasts sent out from the college are of real value. Wireless stations in several Kansas towns receive the forecast several hours in advance of the copy sent by mail.

The station is operated by the physics and military departments. The military department has a secret code for use in time of war. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, classes are held in which wireless is taught. Students receive their training under a commercial operator licensed by the government.

WAR WORDS ARE PRONOUNCED.

Library has Little Volume Which Explains Puzzlers.

"Ourcq" and "Premysl" need no longer puzzle the student who tries to converse intelligently on the European situation. "Janads" and "extraterritorialities" may now be dealt with as old friends. Among the books recently purchased for the library is a little volume, "War Words," which explains the pronunciation of these hitherto puzzling terms.

More than 100 other volumes have been placed upon the shelves set apart for the new books. This section contains works on many subjects. Books on literature are in greater demand than usual. Fifty per cent of the new books deal with literature or art out practically every other department is represented among these additions.

The library now contains more than 55,000 volumes of which approximately 1,400 are kept in the reserve room downstairs for immediate requirements of the students.

The college receives some 350 periodicals, the recent numbers of which are kept in the current periodical room on the first floor of the building. Back numbers are bound and shelved in the reading room where through the use of the "Readers Guide" their material continues to be useful and available.

McCLYMONDS WITH SMELTER CO.

Will Manage Large Tract of Land and Adjust Claims.

A. E. McClymonds, assistant in agronomy, and assistant manager of the agronomy farm, has accepted a position with a smelter company in the southeastern part of the state. He will have charge and the management of several thousand acres of land owned by the company, and will adjust claims between the company and the farmers. This is the third man that has been placed with large companies this year by the agronomy department.

Robert Smith, seed analyst of the experiment station, returned Monday from Virginia where he has been visiting with his parents during his vacation. He attended the anniversary events at Rutgers—his Alma Mater.

CORNHUSKERS SURPRISED BY STELLAR DEFENSE OF THE CLEVINGER ELEVEN

The First Score Was a Combination of Fierce Tackling and Good Luck

THE SECOND SCORE WAS MADE FROM THE AGGIES TWO-YARD LINE AFTER THE THIRD DOWN—NEBRASKA FAILED TO SCORE FROM AGGIES ONE-YARD LINE WITH THREE DOWNS LEFT IN WHICH TO MAKE TOUCHDOWN.

Kansas Aggie fight held Nebraska cornhusker weight to a 0 to 14 count surprised by the stellar defense of the Clevenger eleven. The Stewart team, although outweighing by better than ten pounds to the man, could score but two touchdowns, one of which was caused by an Aggie tumble.

The Aggie defense far outshone any repelling machinery in the history of the Purple and White elevens. At one time Nebraska had the ball on the Aggies' one-yard line with three downs left with which to attempt a touchdown. The giant Husker line three times tried to open a hole in the Aggie forward defense and all three times a Husker back charged only to find a Ptacek or a Dorrill to down him with a vise-like tackle.

Again, in the last two minutes of play and after allowing the Cornhuskers to sweep down the field, the worn-out Aggies braced the Stewart eleven back without a score after four futile Nebraska bucks from the nine-yard line.

The Aggie offense did not measure with the defense, but was far above expectations, considering the weight of the Huskers. Two forward passes to Barnes, totaling 40 yards, resulted in half the Aggie gains from snapback, while Wells made 30 and 40 yards that Clevenger offensive carried the ball.

Aggies Threaten to Score.

Only twice did the Aggies threaten to score. One opportunity was lost in the first five minutes of play when, after the Aggies had advanced the ball to the 30-yard line, an Aggie fumble gave the ball to the Huskers. In the third quarter a ten-yard pass to Barnes in midfield might have netted a Kansas score had the Aggie captain been aided by interference. He was downed, however, on the Huskers 34-yard line, after carrying the ball 15 yards. Wells made seven yards through the line, placing the ball within 27 yards of the Nebraska goal posts, but the Stewart men stiffened and took the ball on downs.

Nebraska Scores.

The Huskers first score was a combination of fierce tackling and good luck. Rhoads, a Nebraska backfield man, broke through the Aggie line after five minutes of play and swooped Wells' feet from under him with a hard, swift tackle, causing Wells, who had not yet tucked the ball safely under his arm, to drop it. Sweeping around from his position at right end, Riddell of Nebraska scooped the bounding ball at full speed and shot down the field for a 70-yard run to touchdown, three Cornhuskers interfering with any Aggie attempts to give chase.

The Nebraskans earned their second touchdown, which was in the second quarter, following a straight march down the field. The Aggies, however, did not let them score without a fight. Nebraska had first downs on the Kansas two-yard line but not until the third down were the Cornhuskers, with Caley carrying the ball, able to squirm through for the necessary distance. Captain "Tim" Coney booted both goals.

Ptacek and Wells Star. The major star in the Aggie defense was "Pete" Ptacek, Clevenger's fighting left tackle. Close behind him came Wells and Dorrill, both of whom played hard, clean football. Battling for high honors in the Aggie defense was ex-Captain Skinner, who probably played the best game in his career in breaking up the numerous end runs that the Huskers tried around his end.

A surprise of the game was Randle's inability to play up to his usual high offensive and defensive standard. "Stiff" made but four yards and was thrown for losses aggregating much more than that. Allis can be found in the fact that Randle was suffering with a bad "charley horse" and also the fact that every Cornhusker was pointed to watch the movements of the speedy Aggie end.

Wells was easily the star of the Aggie offense. If there was a star, he made practically every Aggie gain, except the two forward passes to Barnes, but the Aggies played a defensive game after Clarke found that the Clevenger backfield had difficulty in penetrating the heavy Husker line.

Statistics Favor Huskers.

Statistics of the game show the Cornhuskers' superiority. In advancing the ball from snapback, the Huskers charged ahead a total of 278 yards, against 81 for the Aggies. Nebraska executed 15 first downs, while the Aggies had to be content with two. The Cornhuskers four out of thirteen passes for 31, while two of six Kansas passes netted 27 yards.

The Clevenger eleven took the lead in gains from kickoffs and punts. Wells' toe registering 365 yards against 347 for Caley. The Cornhuskers returned kickoffs and punts a distance of 84 yards. The Aggie returns totaled 55 yards, while the Aggies were set back but 15 yards.

TREE ROOTS CLOG SEWER PIPES.

Takes 30 Hours to Drain Men's Swimming Pool.

Tree roots which grew through the joints of the sewer pipe so clogged the drainage that it recently took 30 hours to drain the men's swimming pool at the gymnasium.

The basement of the library was recently flooded, and an investigation was begun to determine the cause of the poor drainage.

Trenches were dug down to the sewer pipes south of the gymnasium and it was found that tree roots had forced their way through the joints of the piping, having grown sufficiently to prevent the free passage of the sewage.

COLLEGIAN BOARD ELECTED.

Only 48 Ballots Were Cast—Little Interest Shown.

Only 48 ballots were cast for members of the Collegian board at the election which was held Friday afternoon. The results are as follows:

O. K. Rumbel, 44 votes; Charles Enlow, 38; W. W. Wright, 31; George R. Hewey, 26; O. T. Bonnett, 21; Leo C. Moser, 16; B. Q. Shields, 15.

Measars, Rumbel, Enlow, Wright, and Hewey, having received the greatest number of votes, were declared elected. O. K. Rumbel and W. W. Wright are seniors, and Charles Enlow and G. R. Hewey are juniors. The election was characterized by the lack of interest shown.

CALL HIM "FATHER."

Boys, when you speak of your father don't call him "the old man." Of course you are older now than when you were taught to call him father. You are much smarter than you were then, you are much more manly looking, your clothes fit you better, your hat has a modern shape and your hair is combed differently. In short "fyer" than you were then. Our father has a last year's coat, a 2-year-old hat and a vest of still older pattern. He can't write such an elegant note as you can and all that, but don't call him the old man. Call him father. For years he has been rustling around to get things together. He has been held to the thorny path of uphill industry and the brightest half of life has gone from him forever. But he loves you, though he goes along without saying much about it, therefore be not so ungrateful.—Spokane Sportman Review.

Man Wants but Little.

From the Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

What a man wants in a woman is somewhat as follows:

She must be a dream of beauty.

She must be an angel with the smile of a seraph and a great mass of magnificent hair, all her own.

She must possess a perfect temper and never raise her voice save in a song.

She must be a splendid housekeeper and not require any servants. She must love children and be able to attend to them.

She must be a fine musician and have a mind stored with all the intellect and wealth of ages, but must never get the idea that hubby hasn't the superior intellect and doesn't know everything.

She must dress in the latest fashion, but spend no money in doing so.

She must be interesting, elusive, gay, of deep religious nature, lively, modest, retiring, self-sacrificing, brilliant, fascinating, but a lover of home and friends, preferring the society of her husband to anything else on earth, but not worrying when she does not get any of it.

That is all that most men require.

THE MOST TROUBLESOME WORD

With Exception of Little Word "Yes" It is the Word "Guarantee" Says K. U. Professor.

What is the most troublesome word? That question was asked Dr. W. L. Burdick, professor of law in Kansas university, the other day. He said: "With the exception of the ubiquitous little word 'yes,' which gets us all into trouble, I should say the word 'guarantee,' or its equivalent, 'warrant,' probably is the most troublesome word. People are being defrauded continually because they persist in misunderstanding that word 'guarantee.' For example, a certain Kansan (name deleted) went into an auction house in a big city in another state. A plausible person with no delusions as to 'guarantee' sold my friends a guaranteed watch, a watch guaranteed to have been imported from Switzerland and to have twenty-one jewels. And it was a genuine Swiss watch. It did have 21 jewels. But it wouldn't run. In fact, it was absolutely useless as a timepiece. My friend appealed to city authorities. They told him he had no recourse. The auctioneer hadn't guaranteed it to run.

"Guarantee" means, 'I'll make this right if it isn't as I say.' If I do not say the watch, horse, molasses or what-not will run, you can't hold me responsible for breaking my guarantee if they do not run. 'Why, this is guaranteed' says a seller to a buyer and the buyer buys on the strength of that word 'guarantee.' Guaranteed to be what, to do what? 'Guarantee' also implies it is the course of common sense wisdom to buy at home and always of established, reputable dealers whose standing assures the buyer of just treatment."

SEPTEMBER THE WETTEST MONTH

Rainfall was 8.12 Inches—8.06 Inches in 1860.

September was the wettest September in the 58-year period in which the local records have been kept, according to the weather summary issued by J. O. Hamilton, professor of physics in the Kansas State Agricultural college. The rainfall was 8.12 inches, the previous record being 8.06 inches in September, 1860.

The mean temperature for the month was 68.9 degrees, which is a fraction more than one degree below normal. The mean maximum temperature was 83.75 degrees. The highest temperature for the month was 101 degrees on September 5; the minimum was 29 on the twenty-ninth, 10 days a head of the average date for the first killing frost.

THEY COMPEL ATTENDANCE.

School of Ag. Classes Practice Compulsion.

Beginning Thursday, compulsory attendance will be enforced for class meetings in the school of agriculture.

According to the plan which has been adopted, a student is given a slip of paper on which to write his name as he enters the room. As he leaves class meeting, the slip is deposited with the marshal as evidence of his having been present. It is not known what action will be taken with those who fail to comply with the ruling.

EMPORIA NORMAL HAS 1,376.

Institution Reports Largest Enrollment in Its History.

With a grand total of 1,376 the Kansas Normal at Emporia has reached the largest fall enrollment in its history. The total annual enrollment for the year will be considerably more than 4,000. Eight hundred and thirty-seven are enrolled in the college department, 289 in the secondary school and 240 in other departments. Girls still outnumber the boys by a ratio of about two to one. Nearly 900 girls are enrolled in the school and approximately 400 boys.

PROFESSOR ACKERT WRITES.

Is Author of an Article Which Appeared in Genetics.

Dr. James E. Ackert, assistant professor of zoology in the Kansas State Agricultural college, is author of an article in genetics on "The Effect of Selection in Paramedum." The author reaches the conclusion that variation in the size of paramedum descended from a single animal, appears due to environment and growth but selection within the progeny of a single paramedum is without effect.

"The Reward of Patience."

Louise Huff and Lottie Pickford take the leading roles in this appealing drama of a Quaker girl's romance. The little girl meets with some strange adventures in the big world which she comes against at the most heart-rending and disagreeable side. A Paramount production to be shown at the Wareham Tuesday.

The students of the Kansas State Agricultural College have a dramatic fraternity called the "Purple Masque." That isn't so bad.—Hutchinson News.

DR. TANQUARY TELLS OF HUNT FOR CROCKER LAND

IS ONLY ONE OF THE EXPEDITION TO RETURN.

Believes That There is Land Somewhere in the Frozen North Near Where Peary Thought He Saw It.

Living on oatmeal, without milk, and sweetened with molasses diluted six times with water, not knowing of the European war until it had been in progress for nine months, and being without news from home for more than year at a time were a few of the experiences of Dr. M. C. Tanquary, assistant professor of entomology at the college, who was a member of the Crocker Land expedition.

Dr. Tanquary told of his trip into the Arctic regions at student assembly Friday morning. He was away on the Arctic expedition on leave of absence, and is the only one of the expedition to return so far.

Charters Relief Ship.

The other members of the party were left in the far north while Mr. Tanquary returned to Copenhagen to charter a relief ship. This ship left for the north on May 1, 1916. So far the expedition has not yet been heard from, but Dr. Tanquary said that word was expected every day.

That there is land somewhere in the frozen north near where Peary believed that he saw it, but not at the place he pointed is the conclusion of members of the expedition.

"There were seven members of the expedition, five scientists, a doctor and a cook," said Dr. Tanquary. "We left New York July 2, 1913, making stops at Boston and Sydney. The expedition was delayed several weeks by a shipwreck and we sighted Greenland on August 14, seeing our first Eskimos at Cape York. The ship left us on August 31 and the following February 1, 1914, with 18 sledges, the start was made for the supposed Crocker Land.

"Many times the two men who made the dash out on the ice for 150 miles thought they saw land, but each time it was a mirage. They returned with the firm belief that there was land somewhere in the region, but not at the point where Peary thought he saw it."

Dr. Tanquary said the party often received no mail from home for as long as a year. The war had been in progress for nine months before the expedition received word of it.

A woman can make a little bit of heaven for a man, all right, but that isn't all she can make.—Jewell Republican.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

Last Thursday evening the religious meeting at the Y. M. was attended by 80 young men of the college. Hank Borland was the leader. The meeting was a "Pep" meeting for the membership campaign which was carried on last Friday.

As soon as the Faculty campaign is finished a report will be given of the results of both campaigns.

Next Thursday evening the meeting at the Y. M. will be led by R. Q. Shields. The subject will be "If Christ should come to K. S. A. C. what would he do in the social affairs of the college?"

Every one is invited to be present. The meeting begins at 7 and closes at 7:45 sharp.

NEW MECHANICS INSTRUCTOR.

Y. W. C. A.

The advisory board of the Young Women's Christian association gave a reception at the home of Miss Jessie Machir in honor of Miss Mildred Inskeep last Saturday afternoon. Three hundred invitations were issued to the ladies of the faculty, the sustaining members of the association, and members of the first and second cabinets.

In the receiving line were Dean Van Zile, Miss Mildred Inskeep, Miss Jessie Machir, Mrs. H. J. Waters, Mrs. Emil Pfeutze, and Mrs. J. T. Willard. Miss Estella Root and Miss Grace Derby assisted in the living room. Mrs. Charles Lantz and Mrs. J. O. Hamilton presided in the dining room.

Engagement Announced.

The home of Mrs. L. B. Hall at 1723 Fairchild was the scene of a pretty party at which the engagement of Mary Giles, a special student in the college, was announced to Ralph Alden, a junior. Invitations were sent for a thimble party, and when the guests arrived they were given towels to them, and work in the initials. At 9:30, Ad-laide Scott dressed as a fairy danced into the room with yellow roses, and two of the roses were tied together with two names. The fairy led the way into the dining room which was decorated with yellow crepe paper.

SHUTS DOWN MARRIAGE FACTORY

President of Baker University Puts Ban on Campus Spooning.

Baldwin, Kan., Oct. 13.—No longer will Baker university students be permitted to "spoon" in Baldwin's parks and around the campus. President Mason is after them. He has started a serious campaign against spooning. Lights, always shunned by these devoted couples, have been profusely scattered through the parks, by the rustic bridges around the town which have long been favorite trysting places for Baker lovers, and especially brilliant lights have been placed in front of all sorority houses.

The student frankly do not know how to take this ultimatum. Baker has long been known as a "marriage factory." Its only claim for distinction was that "I got my wife at Baker."

President Mason is trying to get the sorority girls to co-operate with him in the campaign. He has "spotters" out in the evening gathering evidence, so some violators of the new order declare. Just what the penalty will be is a matter of conjecture.

WILL STUDY CURRENT EVENTS.

Library Girls Assign Themselves New Work.

The consideration of foreign, domestic and political topics of current value at their regular staff meetings on Thursday evening is a new feature which the members of the library staff have instituted.

To be able to find diversified materials and information for debaters, thesis, lecturers, and class work requires a far reaching knowledge of the current periodicals on the part of the library staff. K. S. A. C. is fortunate in having an efficient corps of librarians, but by dividing the current topics in this manner, to be reported upon weekly, the staff hopes to develop greater efficiency.

Twenty-one students are enrolled in printing this term, eighteen girls and thirteen boys. On account of the large enrollment the class is divided into six divisions for the practice work.

The forestry department sent out a shipment of Chinese arborvitae to El Paso for the International Farming Congress at that city. The trees were used as the decorative feature of the college exhibit.

F. A. Coffman, '13, who is back from two years' service in the agricultural experiment station work in the Philippines, is here working for a master's degree. He is taking his major in plant breeding in the department of botany.

E. M. Tiffany, assistant in home study service, division of college extension, will address a meeting of the school board members and teachers of Pottawatomie county at Westmoreland, Saturday, October 21, on the subject of agricultural education.

Professor H. L. Kent, principal of the school of agriculture, will give the introductory address in a round table discussion at the superintendents conference for cities of the first and second classes, at Emporia, October 21 on "Socialized Education."

Jay Lush, '16, writes from Pratt, where he is teaching in the high school. He is coaching a debating team of twelve people. Their question is the telegraph and telephone question used here last year. Mr. Lush writes asking for some material from the supply here.

The department of botany now has one laboratory fully equipped with the latest and best type of compound microscopes from Bauser and Lamb Optical Co. The other laboratory, which is using microscopes of an older pattern, will be re-equipped next year.

M. G. Burton, director of the home study service of the Kansas State Agricultural college, will address the members of the granges in Pottawatomie county assembled for an all day picnic at Onaga. V. V. Detwiler, of the Mail and Breeze, and formerly of the college, will also appear on the program.

THE STUDENTS TO AID WITH ARMENIAN RELIEF

Y. W. C. A. GIRLS WILL SELL TAGS SATURDAY.

To Help War Stricken Sufferers—Baghdigian an Armenian Student is Chairman of Local Committee.

Saturday is tag day for the Armenian relief fund. At this time the college Y. W. C. A. girls will sell tags for the benefit of the sufferers Saturday and Sunday have been set aside by President Wmison as days on which the people of the nation should turn their attention toward the relief of the war stricken victims in the far east.

Sunday special sermons will be preached in the Manhattan churches and the pastors will ask that a special contribution toward the relief of the Armenians be given.

Every Armenian and Syrian in the United States is working with the committee, which has headquarters in New York, to assist in the work of raising money for his kinsfolk.

To Fast on Saturday.

Besides their contributions, and many of them are paying stated sums monthly, the Armenians and Syrians have unanimously decided that on Saturday they will fast and eat no food at all, sending the money saved thereby to the assistance of the Armenians and Syrians who have been unable to leave their native land.

"One dollar will keep a person alive for a month. In some cases $25 will help to save and establish a whole family; $100 will buy a buffalo, $150 a yoke of oxen, $50 a cow, other sums will provide farming implements, clothing, bedding, seeds, medicine and material for business," said B. K. Baghdigian, an Armenian student in the college, in speaking of the condition of his countrymen.

At a meeting of a committee composed of the representatives of 15 Manhattan organizations, held in the Commercial club rooms Tuesday night, several measures were decided on to assist in securing funds for the starving, war stricken victims.

B. K. Baghdigian was elected as chairman, and George S. Murphey of the First National bank, was elected treasurer. C. G. Lewis of the Manhattan Commercial club was elected secretary.

Mr. Murphey will receive contributions from individuals who wish to help out on the fund.

The campaign is national and the measures mentioned are the local end of the work only.

STOP SUNDAY STUDY.

Emporia Normal Opens Reading Room for Sabbath.

Study on Sunday was dealt with by the Kansas Normal at Emporia, believes to be a solar plexus blow by a recent decision to open the Normal library on every Sunday afternoon. "It may seem paradoxical," said Prof. Kerr, "to open the library in order to keep students from studying on Sunday. By opening only the reading room, however, the students are encouraged to use Sunday afternoon for recreational and pleasure reading, when otherwise they would devote their time to school books." The plan is succeeding. The ministers and religious societies of Emporia, though at first rather doubtful, now approve of Mr. Kerr's move.

OSBORNE SUFFERS INJURY.

Falls From a High Bar to Floor in Gymnasium.

R. A. Osborne, a freshman, was injured at the gymnasium Tuesday afternoon when he fell from a high bar to the floor. A city physician was summoned immediately and Osborne was removed to his room at 912 Fremont. Mr. Osborne's injuries have not proved to be serious, and he is getting along nicely.

Miss Wilma Evans, '09, is teaching domestic science in the county high school in Raton, New Mexico.

TRAINING CORPS NOT POPULAR.

Students Show Little Interest in the Organization.

"I am surprised that more men are not interesting themselves in the organization of the reserve officers' training corps. Evidently they do not realize the opportunity offered by the government. They certainly do not know how little is required of them to earn $9.00 per month." This is the statement of Capt. Mathews, commandant of cadets.

"The work in the reserve officers' training corps pays more than 90 cents an hour, and from the standpoint of the amount of time put in it pays more than any other student work about the college."

For the benefit of the students who do not clearly understand the details of the organization, the commandant has had printed several hundred copies of pamphlets, containing abstracts taken from the general orders, which contain certain points of particular interest to the cadets. These pamphlets may be had free by application to the assistant commandant, E. Claren.

BOYS FROM CALIFORNIA WILL STOP AT COLLEGE

Winners in Agriculture to Visit Institution as Typical of the Middle West.

Twenty-five high school boys on a transcontinental trip from California to Massachusetts will make Manhattan on October 23 their only stop between Chicago and Denver. They will inspect the college and experiment station under the direction of the college authorities, and Prof. B. H. Crichton of the University of California.

The transcontinental tour is the outgrowth of the boys' club work in California, in which high school students grow potatoes, beans, onions, corn, sorghums, alfalfa, pigs, poultry, celery and nursery trees as a commercial proposition.

Twenty-five of the prize winning students received a transcontinental trip as a prize offered by a group of cities in their state. The purpose is to enable the students to learn the agricultural conditions throughout the United States, as well as to see the great cities and industries of the country.

About 30 stops were made in order to come in contact with the various types of agriculture. Manhattan has been selected as the representative center of the middle west. The trip made by the group is the only transcontinental tour in which a state sends any considerable number of its boys.

In the time spent at the college the California boys will inspect the agronomy farm, the nutrition laboratories, the hog cholera serum plant in operation, the various kinds of live stock, the green houses, the creamery, the engineering plant, and the other buildings. A brief meeting is to be held at which addresses will be made by President Henry Jackson Waters and Otis, state leader of boys' and girls' club work.

URGES CROSS COUNTRY RUNNING.

Bauer Says Students Should Enter This Sport.

E. O. Bauer, instructor in the department of intramural athletics, is urging all students who can, or are able, or who are not out for football, to come out for crosscountry running.

"The average college student does not get enough of the proper exercise," says Mr. Bauer. "True it is that the college requires military training of all men students, but military drill affords little if any of the exercise of which the college man is in need. Of course I would not advise the fellows to try cross country running, because there are some who cannot stand it, and it would not be good for some, but for the majority of men it would take the place of the strenuous exercises to which they have been accustomed."

"The average fellow who goes to school is used to working and is trained down to a certain extent, but soon after he arrives he begins to put on superfluous flesh and that condition oftentimes induces laziness and its consequent results. I am sorry that more men do not take an interest in this sport, for it is to their own good to try it."

LEVINE IS TEACHING AT CANTON COLLEGE

IS INSTRUCTOR IN AGRICULTURE AT CHINESE SCHOOL.

A Graduate of the Class of '14 Sent to China by This Institution—House Tells of Levine's Work.

Due to the efforts of Herbert E. House, field secretary of the Canton Christian College, C. O. Levine, '14, of Marysville, was sent to the college at Canton, China, by this institution as instructor in agriculture.

C. O. LEVINE.

The sending of Mr. Levine to China was made possible by subscriptions which were given by faculty members, student organizations, individual students and townspeople last spring.

Mr. House was a recent visitor at the college and explained the new work which Mr. Levine has taken up.

"The response from the preliminary canvass last spring was such that the committee felt justified in appointing a representative to go out this year," said Mr. House.

"Mr. Levine enters a vast field of usefulness which only letters and bulletins which he will soon be sending home will explain. It may be said that instruction in the real fundamentals will lead to great increase in the productivity of the soil, and a great betterment of the economic conditions of China."

"No other work that the college is doing excites greater interest than the work in agriculture. Even the girls in this department are eager for instruction and practice in gardening."

The College Founded in 1900.

"The present development of the college dates from 1900, more particularly from 1904, when it secured a permanent site."

"There were the only six American men on the faculty and thirty-seven students in attendance. Now the American community consists of 34 men and women. Sixty Chinese teachers and assistants and about five hundred students are in residence. Eight hundred and fifty people, including workmen, live on the campus."

COME ON WITH YOUR YELLS

Subscription to the Collegian for the Best One Submitted.

A subscription to the Kansas State Collegian will be given to the student who submits the best original Aggie yell. The yell will be chosen by a committee composed of the president of the Rooters' club and the two cheer leaders.

The only rules of the contest are that the yell must be short and snappy, and have plenty of "pep." Long drawn out yells will not be considered, as the Aggies already have "Jay, Rah!" and are in need of brief, spicy yells.

Contestants should hand in or mail their ideas to W. W. Wright, president of the club, and to "Beez" Cushman, cheer leader. The yells should be handed in before tonight, so that the best of the productions can be tried out at the pep meeting.

BUY YOUR ROOTERS' CLUB BUTTON TODAY

ALL ARE EXPECTED TO HELP SEND BAND TO LAWRENCE.

Students are Busy Extracting Two Bits From Their Fellows This Morning—No Button, No Seat in Rooters' Section.

Get that button!

"K" men and members of the Rooters' club are engaged this morning in extracting from the students on the campus the small sum of 25 cents, giving in return a button inscribed, "Aggie Rooters, '16." The selling committees are everywhere and few have escaped them.

The purpose of this sale is to send the band to Lawrence and also defray the necessary expenses of the club for the year. It is thought that with the band and 1,000 students behind them, the Clevenger-Schulz eleven should be able to carry out the yearly Aggie football slogan, "Beat K. U."

If the sale today is not general enough to defray the band's expenses, it is probable that a "Brute Committee" will be appointed to see that everyone who sits in the rooters section Saturday wear a purple and white button. This plan was tried two years ago and the disgrace of not being able to sit in the rooters' section or of being ejected from it, caused a large sale of buttons.

Lots of 20 buttons are being doled out by "Beez" Cushman, cheer leader, to members of the club. The students are held responsible for the number of buttons allotted them, and must report to the cheer leader.

Aggie students have never failed to respond to the call. Last year enough money to send the band to Washburn was quickly raised and the amount collected the year before by the "Brute Committee" enabled the band to be sent to Lawrence.

Several demonstrations are planned for the Kansas game and the band will be called upon to take a large part in them. It is proposed to have the band parade the field in opposition to the Jayhawker band.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN TOMORROW.

The Finish Will Be a Feature of the Game

The finish of a competitive cross country run will be an added feature of the Aggie-Normal game tomorrow. The run is a tryout for the team which will compete against Kansas preceding the Aggie-Jayhawker game at Lawrence, October 28.

The athletic department is offering three medals to the three highest men in the long distance tryouts. The athlete making the best showing in all three of the meets will be awarded first place, the meets taking place October 14, October 21 and November 11. In the meet last Saturday, the runners finished in the following order:

Shaw, Bixby, Keys, Eggerby, Enstling, Beckett, Herriott, Curry, Prock, Barnes, Barker.

The time was 23:1 minutes for four and one-quarter miles.

Class Football.

Class football practices began in earnest this week with the announcement that the first inter-class games will be played November 4 on College field. The freshmen and sophomores will battle at 3:30 o'clock, and the juniors and seniors will mix at 4:30 o'clock.

The playoff has not been arranged, but will probably be played off within a week after the first games.

QUILL HAS FEATURE PROGRAM.

Special Literary Features to be Taken up During Fall Term.

Editorials which feature something which is common to the life and experience of the mass of the people are becoming popular and, with few exceptions, the larger, more successful papers are adopting that type of editorial, according to N. A. Crawford, professor of journalism, who made a short talk at Quill club meeting, Monday evening.

The program of the evening was a study of editorials. Several original editorials representing different types were read by Quill members, one of which appears in this issue of the Collegian.

Further, this editorial on the college girl is of the type which Professor Crawford designated as the most popular and effective.

The program as outlined by the program committee will include studies of magazine features, short stories, humorous columns, and farm stories during the fall term.

PAN-HELLENIC SELECTS DEBATE COUNCIL MEMBERS

Women's Organization Has Four Members—Sororities Show Much Enthusiasm for Debate.

Four members of the Debating council were elected at a called meeting of the Women's Pan-Hellenic association Monday night. The new members are Gertrude DeMaus, Alpha Delta Phi; Gladys Woodward, Tri Delta; Gertrude Keneaster, Delta Zeta, and Marion Quinlan, Pi Beta Phi. This year for the first time debating has been open to sorority women.

"Up to a year ago a great deal of criticism was leveled against debating because only members of literary societies could enter the contests," said J. R. MacArthur. "The college contributed nothing toward the expenses of debating. The literary societies therefore felt that since they bore the burden those entering the contests should be limited to their members."

"As the interest in intercollegiate debating grew it was felt by the debaters that greater interest should be taken by the students could a larger number be eligible to enter debating. The matter of supporting debating as it was being done by the literary societies and of taking an active part was put before both the men's and women's pan-hellenic associations. The women's Pan-Hellenic voted unanimously to back debating, to share the expenses, and to co-operate in the work."

The debating council consists of 20 members elected from their respective societies and sororities on a pro rata basis. The members are elected for two years and rotate, one serving for two years and one for only one year. Interest among sorority women is high and great enthusiasm over debating has been aroused.

BAND WILL GIVE CONCERT.

New Selections Will be Tried out on Saturday Morning.

The first band concert of the college year will be given in chapel next Saturday morning. Burr Ozment, band leader, has some new music for the occasion. The following three numbers will be given:

Washington Greys, march; Selection from Faust; American Patrol, march.

If time permits a new Aggie "pep" song, in which the students take a singing and whistling part, will be tried out.

PICTURES PLACED IN MAIN HALL

Sketches Have Also Been Placed in Girls' Rest Room.

The appearance of the main hall has been greatly enhanced by the addition of five large pictures, which were hung in Anderson on Thursday.

Approximately fifteen new pictures have been placed in the girls' rest room in the domestic science building. The pictures include sketches in brown and white and color mountings. A sketch of Rheims cathedral is a noteworthy picture which has been placed in the main hall.

SPECIAL TRAIN, AUTOS, AND BLIND TO LAWRENCE

ONE THOUSAND ARE EXPECTED TO FALL IN LINE.

Tickets for the Game and Grandstand on Sale Here—Townspeople in Cars May Make a Socialability Run.

The "Bumpers, Blinds, Rods, and Side Door Pullman Bunch" of the "Beat K. U. club" have received definite information that the stock train leaves Manhattan for K. U. at 11 p. m., Friday evening.

Several strong candidates are aspiring to the leadership of the bunch. "Shorty" McCloud is in the lead, but "Red" Manker and "Kemp" are not far behind. Quite a number of tomato cans and other equipment will be needed and it is planned to have a box for such contributions placed in main hall sometime the early part of the ensuing week.

More than 250 students and townspeople have already demonstrated their enthusiasm for the slogan "Beat K. U." and have signed the membership roll of the Beat K. U. club at the Varsity Clothing store. A surprisingly large number of townspeople have said they were going, either in automobile parties or on the train. "Beat K. U." is contagious and everyone is falling in line.

Will Run Special Trains.

Special arrangements are being made by the railroads to take care of the crowd. The Union Pacific will run a special train to Lawrence which will leave Manhattan at 9 o'clock in the morning and return that evening after the game.

For the convenience of the Aggie rooters, tickets for the game and also for the grandstand will be on sale at Clevenger's office and Kittell's Clothing store as soon as they arrive.

Those who expect to motor to Lawrence for the game are requested to sign the roll book. If a sufficient number of motor cars plan to make the trip, it may be made into a socialability run. Twelve cars appeared on the list in the club book last night.

All indications point toward the Aggie team having the strongest backing that it has ever had at an away-from-home game. The complete Aggie band will be on the ground with "Hail-Hail," "Alma Mater" and lots of pep. A later suggestion is that a company of cadets accompany the team with several hundred rounds of ammunition. It is the strong belief that if a thousand of fifteen hundred rooters go to Lawrence to root for the Aggies that there will be no question as to the defeat of the Jayhawker eleven.

College students who are up in their work will be excused from classes on the day of the game in order that they may attend. It is believed that if sufficient number of students manifest a desire to go to Lawrence that a holiday will be declared.

Several graduates have been heard from in regard to attending the game and about seventy per cent of those written to are going. More than 90 per cent of the students asked at the club headquarters say they are going. Kittell will keep his store open of evenings next week in order that the townspeople who wish to sign the club roll and secure tickets for the game may do so.

CAN YOU READ NEWSPAPERS?

Journalism Students Will Discuss the Best Way.

Everyone thinks that he knows how to read, but perhaps very few people do know how to read a newspaper. That will be the subject considered by the journalism students at their seminar at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Ralph H. Heppie, senior, city editor of the Manhattan Daily Mercury; Floyd Hawkins, sophomore, manager of the Aggieville printer; and B. Q. Shields, junior, Collegian staff, will present the subject. Prof. N. A. Crawford has also consented to make a few remarks.

Professor W. A. Cochel has imported a carload of Colorado lambs for the animal husbandry department and is pasturing them on the campus.

THE COLLEGE GIRL.

We are talking to you, College Girl, with the keen intellect and splendid bright eyes. New-thought woman and future wise-mother, why do you dress like you do? You profess a proud disdain for cheap music, and yet you feel your best in ragtime street costume. When you are almost lost in good influence of the sweet simplicity of a madonna dressed in a garment of soft folds, who knows but what your own young face might not catch and hold the God-light of her eyes if you were not dressed so uncomfortably tight.

And those arches—will they ever be strong enough, do you think that you can plant your white foot down at once and know the feel of that you can plant your whole foot the grass as it bends to your healthy tread, or must you all your life—even when you are doing the big things out in the world—go clicking and tottering along like an old dray horse on stone pavements?

We are laughing at the silly combat between fascinating, snobbish, dominating fashion and you, pathetic, dizzy, style-chasing College Girl. Yesterday you swathed your chilly throats in yards of woolly scarfs, but today Fashion sends such a warmth coursing through your arteries that the campus gleams with varying lengths of breeze-fanned necks. While you are content today with skirts which at the age of fifteen would have been considered as outgrown, tomorrow a dust catcher may weight the hems of sacking gowns. Hats primarily invented for protection to the head, are continually expanding and contracting, rolling up and turning down, changing from dangerous slats over the right ear to wind-struck attitudes just back of the pompadors.

We cannot understand you—we who sit back on the edge of things and watch your ceaseless struggle to keep in style; watch you plaster your pretty soft hair down on your foreheads in little lobes and loops that shine up at one like little pancakes on a white platter; watch you tuning your ear to the rustle of silk; waiting until you will be big wistful cry of the folks who are petticoats instead of to the big, enough, woman enough to help make the world a happier, friendlier home. Oh, we are watching you closely, College Girl, and while we look on the colorful panorama as thousands of you pass by, we pray that a little bit of the philosophy you now study may give you a heart-feeling of love of folks and true womanly ideals with which enters the old-fashioned girl who comes to school in a warm wool dress.

Hold Special Meetings.

A series of three special meetings pertaining to the phases of a college girl's life, has been planned by the Young Woman's Christian Association, to be given at the regular meeting hour on Thursday afternoon at the rest room in the home economics building. The meeting this week was led by Miss Ethel Loring, assistant in physical education for women, who spoke on "The College Girl's Physical and Social Life." Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, will speak to the girls next Thursday, on "The College Girl's Morals." The meeting of November 3 will be led by Miss Lucy Y. Riggs, student secretary of the west central field. Her subject will be "The College Girl's Religion."

Conduct Membership Campaign.

The membership committee—twenty strong—of the Young Woman's Christian Association of the college is working hard this week to secure new members. The committee is endeavoring to see every girl in college personally, but if some should be overlooked, the association would like to have them call at the secretary's office in the home economics building and enroll if they desire to become members.

"We feel the organization is for every girl in college and we wish that every girl could be a part of it and help us make the Y. W. C. A. stand for the best in college life," said Miss Mildred Inskeep, the college secretary of the organization.

Y. W. C. A.

The Recognition service given by the Young Woman's Christian Association in honor of the new members, will be held next Sunday, at three o'clock p. m., in the Congregational church. Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women, will speak on "The Truly Great Things of Life," and the beautiful "Candle service" will be used. All college girls are invited.

DESIGNS DESK FOR FAT MEN.

Columbia University Spends $25,000 to Promote Comfort for Faculty.

He who said that nobody loves a fat man never struck a first hand acquaintanceship with Columbia University. To ease the pursuit of science by men of aviorpoulos, the chemistry department is now spending $25,000. The money is being invested in a new type of desk which is guaranteed to abolish the misery caused by persons of heft by the necessity to squirm and squeeze in order to reach in the old kind of desk the apparatus stored on a level with their invisible ankles.

The equipment, of course, has other advantages, but they are minor. Dr. Harold A. Fales, instructor in quantitative analysis at Columbia University, himself possessed of a respectable girth, is the designer of the new desk. He was not inclined to minimize its possibilities of leading stout men into the chemical heaven, but said his chief satisfaction as its inventor is gleaned from the fact that after 15 years' work in chemistry he had discovered his possession of genius as a carpenter.

The type of desk which arouses all these emotions is now in process of installation in Columbia University. The arrangement beneath its flat top, instead of comprising two drawers and a large cupboard, consists of a set of shelves and racks, every one of which comes into full and immediate view when the door, which is with-out hinges and pulls straight, is urged forward. With the door, in other words, comes forth the entire cupboard, which is set lightly on a wheel, running in a brass lined center groove on the floor of the desk frame. A board divides this cupboard in two. Each side can be examined at a glance and anything in it can be taken out in an instant. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

PROF. R. R. PRICE HONORED.

Elected Director State Historical Society—Harvey a Member.

Topeka, Oct. 18.—Prof. Ralph R. Price of Manhattan last night was elected a member of the board of directors of the Kansas State Historical society, to serve for three years. T. M. Harvey of Manhattan also was elected an annual member of the society.

It is hardly necessary now to make much of an argument for ready clothes as against the so-called old made-to-custom measure. There are few men nowadays who feel that they can't wear "ready clothes." Sensible men generally appreciate the advantages in buying clothes ready. You see the clothes finished; you save time and annoyance in "trying-on;" you know before you buy, not after, whether you're getting a fit or not; you buy "a sure thing;" and you save money.

We have sizes and shapes for every figure; stout men, short men, very tall men; unusual sized, as well as normal figures, can be fitted in our suits without difficulty.

Aggies Meet Normals.

Clevenger's Aggie eleven will meet the Emporia Normals in a game tomorrow, which promises a line on the Aggies' chances with the Kansas Jayhawkers next week. The Normals will be hard to stop, as they threatened to score several times in the 0 to 13 game they lost to the Jayhawkers the first of the season.

Hargiss' Emporians are reported to have a peculiar style of attack, which has proved troublesome to the teams they have met this year. Kansas beat them by only touchdown, and they trined the strong Pittsburg Normals last week 14 to 7. The preceding week they battled to 13-13 with Friends, who are one of the major contenders for the Kansas conference championship this year.

The Aggie eleven will fight hard to avenge the defeat handed them by combat was played on a muddy field and the heavy Emporians easily outmanned the lighter Aggies.

Daily one change may be made in the lineup against the Hargiss eleven. Clevenger may decide to save Rhoda's weak ankle by sending Ginery in to play his position at guard. The probable line-up follows:

Randalls and Skinner, ends; Pta-ock and Dordill, tackles; Bayer and Ginery or Rhoda, guards; Wright, center; Clark, quarter; Captain Barnes and Husted, halfbacks; Wells, fullback.

JAYHAWKERS FEAR TUSSELE WITH CLEVINGER ELEVEN

E. U. TEAM IN POOR CONDITION FOR SATURDAY'S GAME

Radical Shifts Are Expected—Men Show Up Well in Practice, but Give Way When Meeting Foreign Opposition.

Lawrence, Oct. 24.—(Special to the Collegian).—After winning their opening game with an inferior school by bare thirteen points, and then losing to both Illinois and Ames, the big question that is being asked of the K. U. team these days is "Will the Jayhawkers recover from their slump in time to win the game with the Aggies on October 28?"

Fear of an Aggie victory, and a deep-rooted desire to prevent such a calamity are the two things which act as a driving power to the men in their daily work-outs on McCook field. There is no denying that Kansas has shown up badly in her season thus far, and K. U. supporters are now anxiously looking for the worm to turn.

Team in Bad Condition.

Scholastic ineptitude, injuries, and bad luck have combined to hinder the team's progress during the last three weeks. After the Ames game there was hardly an experienced man on the team who was in condition to work out the following Monday. Practice for the first time this week was held on Tuesday. Only sixteen men reported.

Radical shifts in the Jayhawker line are expected by the end of the week. Clay Fiske, an Oklahoma boy who is new in the Valley athletics this season, will be shifted from halfback to end; and "Rook" Woodward, who will be released from service with the K. N. G. within a few days, will take the other half position with Captain Lindsey. "Speed" Heath, a star end, who has been out of the last two games with an injured knee, will be back in the game for the Aggie contest.

The coaches are genuinely puzzled with the work of their men. In practice against Coach McCarty's freshmen, the "varsity" shows up in great shape; but as soon as foreign opposition confronts the Kansas line it wavers and gives way. Coach Olcott and "Petsy" Clark, his assistant, are drilling the men on offensive play this week. Scrimmage with the freshmen was held Monday when the new plays were tried out.

KANSAS TAKES FIRST AGAIN

Gets First Prize at International Farm Congress.

For the second successive time Kansas won the first prize for its exhibit at the International Farm congress. Word has just been received here from El Paso, where the congress is being held this year that the state pulled down the top prize of $100 in cash and a silver loving cup valued at $500. The Kansas exhibit won similar prizes last year at the congress at Denver.

The exhibit was prepared by the agronomy department of the agricultural college, which was delegated by the state to perform this duty. It consisted of farm products, especially grains and forage crops. It won the prize in competition with exhibits from 15 other states.

AGGIE STUDENT DISAPPEARS

E. O. Flooristall His Not Been Heard of Since October 13.

E. O. Flooristall, second year, school of agriculture, who disappeared Friday evening, October 13, has not been heard of since.

Flooristall's father, who came to Manhattan and took his son's belongings home could offer no information concerning the young man's disappearance.

It is only known that Flooristall drew forty dollars from his bank in the afternoon before his disappearance.

Omicron Nu.

Omicron Nu, honorary home economics sorority, announces the pledging of Marion Keys, Mabel Root, Ellen Nystrom and Viola Peterson.

EXPLAINS NAME 'STAGG'S HILL'

Was Not Named After a Member of the Deer Family.

"No, Hortense, Stagg's Hill is not so named because some curious member of the deer family went over the hill to see what he could see."

"If some stray stag met with a misfortune at this place the fact has never been recorded. Neither is this knoll so called because of any association with the word 'stag,' meaning the male of the human species."

"Please, Willyum, don't keep me waiting," broke in Hortense. "Control your curiosity, Hortense, for I am about to reveal the fact."

"You see, for nearly thirty years James Stagg owned the land now known as 'Stagg's Hill,' and since the hill belonged to Mr. Stagg, it became known as Stagg's hill, just as the pond at home is known to the neighbors as 'Smith's pond.' Simple, isn't it? So next time you 'hike' to Stagg's hill, don't ask the chaplain how the place got its name."

"Shakespeare was right; 'what's in a name?'"

CHAMPION BOY FARMERS HERE TO INSPECT COLLEGE

Youths From California Spend Half Day in Manhattan in Quest of New Ideas.

Twenty-four champion boy farmers of California, on a 9-thousand mile journey in quest of new ideas in food farming spent yesterday morning in Manhattan, inspecting the Kansas Agricultural college and experiment station.

The boy farmers, accompanied by Prof. H. H. Crocheron of the University of California, arrived in Manhattan about 7 a. m. yesterday from Denver. They went to the college cafeteria, where they were served breakfast. From there they were taken on a tour of inspection of the college farm, experiment station, feeding pens and barns and live stock. At 11 o'clock they were addressed by Dr. H. J. Waters, and O. E. Hall, state leader of boys' and girls' club work. The boys were served dinner at the cafeteria. They left at 1:15 for Kansas City, where they will spend a day inspecting the stockyards and other industries allied with agriculture.

COLLEGE STUDENT INJURED.

Clyde Frost Falls From Street Car and Suffers Concussion of Brain.

Clyde Frost of Blue Rapids, a freshman in the college, is still in a semi-conscious condition at a local hospital as a result of a fall from a street car Thursday night.

Clyde Frost, in company with his brother, Earl, and Glen Austin, were at the Y. M. C. A. building. They left the building at about 8 o'clock and started down town. Earl Frost elected to walk; Clyde and Austin decided to ride on the street car, which was just passing. They got on the car, and Austin, going to the front, paid the fare for both.

When he went back to locate Frost the latter was not to be found. Austin left the car a short distance further on, thinking that Frost had started to walk down. Failing to meet him, Austin discovered him between Tenth and Eleventh streets on Fremont, lying unconscious in the street. He was taken to his rooming house, where it was discovered he had suffered concussion of the brain.

His father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Frost of Blue Rapids, arrived Friday, and will remain for a few days.

THE G. S. STUDENTS MEET

Personality Record System Is Explained by Dr. J. T. Willard.

A meeting of all the students in the division of general science at the college was held at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in room No. 26 in the chemistry building. Dr. J. T. Willard, dean of the division, explained the system of personality records which is to be introduced in the college, and the students were given cards to fill out.

The first game to be played in basketball by the teams from the military companies will be played at the gymnasium November 4.

PURPLE MASQUE OFFERS PRIZE FOR BEST PLAY

$50 WILL BE GIVEN FOR BEST STUDENT PRODUCTION.

The Play That Is Selected Will Be Given This Spring—Cast to Be Chosen From the Student Body.

"I hold the world but as the world, Gratiano."

A place where every man must play a part." --Merchant of Venice.

The Purple Masque club is adopting this quotation to college life in its endeavor to make Kansas State Agricultural college a place where every student must play a part, and those parts to be written by some student in the college.

The club, an honorary organization composed of persons selected from play casts after the play has been produced, is offering a prize of $50 for the best original farce or comedy to be written by some student. The cast will be selected from the entire student body and the play produced this spring "probably commencement week."

"I consider it one of the most important steps taken by the Purple Masque," Dr. J. G. Emerson, in charge of the department of public speaking, said in discussing the plan. "It is in line with the policy of the organization—that is, to stimulate things dramatic in the school."

"There is no reason why we cannot find in a student body of the size and intelligence of this, some one who has genius for play writing, and we hope that the results will be so far from the mediocre, average impromptu college farce that the Purple Masque will be glad to produce it as one of the real standard productions of the year."

Dramatic clubs of other schools have and are offering prizes of similar nature. Ames for years, has carried out this plan successfully. Leeland Stanford, Michigan, and Chicago universities—all have this policy.

Charles Adamson, who last year took the part of Sam Graham in "The Fortune Hunter;" Miss Velma Carson, a sophomore girl with an unusual instinct for impersonation; James Branham, who played the lead in last year's play; John Musil; Chester Morse, Oscar Steanson, Bill Caton, E. A. Herr, and Cooper, all of "The Fortune Hunter" cast are in school again this year and with the new material which is showing up creditably in the classes, the play should be well staged.

AHEARN PLANS CAMPUS FOR COOPER COLLEGE

Is Also Making Specifications for Other School Grounds and Parks.

Plans and specifications are being prepared under direction of M. F. Ahearn, professor of landscape gardening in the Kansas State Agricultural college for laying out the campus for the proposed rebuilding and extension of Cooper college at Sterling. A. M. Doerner, assistant in landscape gardening, is drawing up the plans.

Cooper college has recently purchased 80 acres of land adjoining the present site of the college, part of which will be used for agricultural purposes to supplement the course in agriculture, recently added to the college curriculum.

The plan as being worked out by Professor Ahearn provides for the erection of 11 new buildings. The development of the plan is to cover a period of 50 years. The location of the buildings, the walks and the driveways, the shrubbery groups and every tree appear on the blueprint now just as they will appear in reality on the campus of Cooper fifty years hence.

Professor Ahearn and his assistants are busy with other landscape plans for city and farm homes, school grounds and parks in various parts of the state. The department is glad to be of service to the people of Kansas in this way and is now better equipped for rendering this class of service than at any previous time.

THE BOARD APPOINTS A COUNTRY COMMISSION

WILL MAKE PLANS FOR RURAL COMMUNITIES OF STATE.

Many K. S. A. C. Men on Commission Created by the Board of Administration—Is the First of Its Kind.

A country planning commission, probably the first of the sort ever originated by a state education board, has been appointed by the Kansas board of administration to meet the needs of the rural communities of the state. Announcement of the appointment has just been made by Ed T. Hackney, president of the board.

The commission is so constituted as to cover a wide range of activities. Selected from the faculties of the state institutions, it includes specialists in extension, education, sociology, horticulture, architecture, engineering and music, as applied to rural conditions. The purpose of the board is to make the services of the state institutions available in the most practical way for the benefit of the farmers and other rural citizens of Kansas.

Pass Resolutions.

Resolutions of the board follow: "Whereas, The recent awakening in Kansas to the needs for plans to meet the greater permanency with life in the rural sections of the state is developing, has brought a great demand upon the board of administration and the institutions for assistance;

"Therefore, Be it Resolved, That the following specialists in rural problems are appointed a country planning commission to give expert advice and assistance to rural communities: Prof. Walter Burr, director of rural extension service, of Kansas State Agricultural college, chairman; Prof. H. M. Culter, rural education, Kansas State Normal school, secretary; Prof. E. B. Matthews, rural sociology, Fort Hays, Kansas, Normal school; Prof. M. F. Ahearn, horticulture, Kansas State Agricultural college; Prof. W. A. Etherton, rural architecture, Kansas State Agricultural college; Prof. W. S. Gearhart, state highway engineer, Kansas State Agricultural college; Prof. H. E. Malloy, rural school music, Fort Hays, Kansas Normal school; Prof. Arthur E. Westbrook, rural community music, Kansas State Agricultural college.

PLAN UNIQUE LECTURE COURSE

Faculty Members Who Lecture Will Be Scheduled by Bulletin.

A new sort of lecture course is being prepared by the extension department of the college, and which is designed to bring all the members of the faculty into a closer connection with the people of the state, especially the farmers.

The scheme for organizing the new course is simple. The extension department is planning to publish a bulletin which will contain names of the different members of the faculty who will consent to lecture, the subjects each one will handle, and the date on which they will be available.

The bulletin is to be circulated in the state so that any community desiring a lecture may refer to the list in the bulletin and make a choice.

The lecturers are not to travel on circuits but just to one or two communities at a time, if it should so happen that it would be possible for them to include more than one place on a trip.

A community may obtain the services of one of the faculty in the capacity of a lecturer by paying the expenses of the trip and a small fee besides.

C. O. Swanson, assistant professor in agricultural chemistry, attended the semi-centennial anniversary of the founding of Carleton college, at Northfield, Minnesota, last week. Mr. Swanson was a delegate from the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Swanson are graduates of Carleton. Mrs. Swanson accompanied him.

AGGIE-K. U. TICKETS

Tickets for the Aggie-K. U. football game and railroad tickets are on sale at Coach Cleveland's office and at the Kittell clothing store in Aggieville. Kittell will keep his store open late of evenings for the accommodation of those who are not able to purchase their tickets during the day.

FORMER GRAD WINS FAIR PRIZE

J. L. Smith, '08, Takes First Place With Agricultural Exhibit.

Jay Latimer Smith, K. S. A. C. '08, now farm demonstrator of Coos county, Oregon, recently prepared an exhibit of the agricultural products of the county for the state fair, which exhibit won the first prize of $250. Both Mr. Smith and his wife, formerly Miss Blanche Robertson, K. S. A. C. '07 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Robertson of this city, are well known here.

SARAH MILDRED WILLMER WILL ENTERTAIN TONIGHT

Prominent Reader and Entertainer Will Give Second Number of Local Lyceum Course.

The second attraction of the lyceum course, will be Miss Sarah Mildred Willmer, who will be here today, October 24.

It is not too much to say that Sarah Mildred Willmer in the quality of her work now ranks in the lyceum where Sarah Bernhardt ranks in the theatrical profession.

In her ability to interpret the master literary productions from the platform she has no superior. In temperament or emotional power, the ability to move an audience to laughter or tears, Miss Willmer is without an equal.

No task of interpretation has been too great for her and no audience, however great the expectation, has ever gone away disappointed.

This generation has not known a reader so distinctly sent as a messenger of enlightenment and cheer, and none has more clearly discerned her mission than has Sarah Mildred Willmer—the Sarah Bernhardt of the lyceum.

There are a good many seats left and tickets for the entire course may be purchased and reserved at the Co-operative Book store, or at the window October 24.

APOLLO CLUB GOES TO TOPEKA

Will Sing Before the State Teachers' Association.

A trip to Topeka will be taken by the members of the Apollo club, November 9, when the club will sing before the state teachers' association.

The club is holding regular rehearsals every Thursday night, preparing for the trip. A chorus of 24 has been selected to sing in Topeka.

Following the Topeka trip, the club will get down to practice for an operetta to be given during the winter. A chapel program has been planned by the club for the near future, possibly Saturday, November 28.

At last Thursday's meeting, Sam Mitchell was elected president, and J. Millian secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year.

COMMENTS ENGINEERING DEPT.

No Other Institution Better Equipped Says Calvin W. Rice.

No institution in the United States has better equipment for teaching engineering than the Kansas State Agricultural college, according to Calvin W. Rice, of New York, secretary of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, who addressed the students and faculty of the division of engineering.

"The cleanliness about your work shops is something to be commended," said Mr. Rice. "The psychology of cleanliness directly affects workmanship. You have the proper atmosphere to do as high grade of work as is done anywhere in the United States."

The engineering profession has become classed as one of the learned professions, pointed out the speaker, because of the service rendered humanity. It is constantly being lifted to a higher plane.

MAKE BOTH TOUCHDOWNS DURING THE SECOND HALF

RANDELS RUNS 80 YARDS FOR THE FIRST TOUCHDOWN.

Emporia Places Drop Kick for Three Points in Last Quarter—Clark's Pass to Randels Gives Aggies Second Touchdown.

Two long, spectacular dashes to touchdown by "Stiff" Randels, speedy Aggie end, spelled victory for the Cleveland-Schulz eleven in a 13 to 3 combat with "Bill" Hargiss' Emporia Normals Saturday on College field. In both runs the swift Aggie star had perfect interference, and this combined with his speed and mighty stiff arm, was an important part of the Aggie victory.

Randels' first dash was probably one of the most spectacular runs ever seen on the College gridiron. Vaughn, kicking off for the Emporians, lifted a mighty forty-yard kick which Randels caught on his own 20-yard line. "Stiff" was off like a flash, and running straight along the north sidelines, stiffarmed and dodged his way across 80 yards of chalk lines for the first score of the game. His attempt to add another point went wide by a small margin.

Having opened the third period with a flash of the spectacular, "Stiff" saw no reason why he should not inaugurate the fourth quarter in the same manner. This time a sharp 15-yard forward pass from Clark landed in Randels' arms and added by pretty interference, he waded through a number of would-be Normal tacklers and sped along the sidelines for another touchdown, the run to touchdown and the pass totalling better than 50 yards. Randels was good for the additional point, making the score 13 to 0.

Culter, Normal quarterback, paved the way for the only score made by the Emporians. Starting from his own 45-yard line, he carried the ball by a series of end runs to the Aggies' 20-yard line. Captain Monypenny drew back and booted a near-perfect 30-yard dropkick.

Outside of Randels the Aggies had no outstanding star. The team played evenly, and although apparently over-confident, never once allowed the Hargiss eleven to seriously threaten to score by the touchdown route. Skinner played a consistent defensive game against Culter's end runs, and Wells was always good for a gain through the line.

The play by quarters:

Wells of the Aggies kicked off to the Normal five-yard line. Culter rounded right end for 18 yards, but the Aggies held, taking the ball on downs on the Normal 35-yard line. Plunges failed to make the downs, and Randels attempted a 40-yard place-kick, which was less than a yard short. The Normals made downs, but Clarke intercepted an Emporia pass on the 50-yard line for a short return. Wells reeled off ten yards for first downs and Randels followed with a 30-yard dash. The Normals braced and took the ball, only to lose it to the Cleveland eleven. Another place-kick by Randels lacked distance. The Emporians had the ball on their own 37-yard line when the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.

The Normals, with Culter carrying the ball, twice reeled off first downs. Vaughn's 17-yard kick was allowed to roll across the Aggie goal, giving the Cleveland men the ball on their own 20-yard line. Wells broke thru for 25 yards, but a 15-yard penalty for holding and five yards for off-sides nullified the distance on the next down, causing Wells to punt. Culter again rounded the ends for first downs but on the next play Husted grabbed a Normal pass, giving the ball to the Aggies. Wells kicked 50 yards into Normal territory. An 18-yard forward pass, Welch to Vaughn, was completed by the Hargiss eleven. Skinner intercepted the next aerial attempt of the Emporians. A short pass, Clarke to Husted made first downs. At the end of the half

THE ARMENIAN RELIEF FUND.

Saturday the Y. W. C. A. girls sold tags in order to swell the Armenian relief fund which is being raised to aid a down-trodden people in war-stricken countries of Europe. The Armenians have been subservient to the Turks for centuries; and since the war has broken out, gruesome tales of treatment by the Turks have come to this country. The Armenians are starved to death, and even denied a drink of water when it is within their reach.

They are driven from their homes which are pillaged and robbed; the beautiful girls are carried off by the Turkish soldiers, and the refugees have been forced to subsist on grass. An eyewitness writes: "People kill and eat street dogs. A short time ago they killed and ate a dying man. A woman cut off her hair and sold it for bread. Up until now all fed themselves upon grass, but that, too has dried up."

All of this, and more, too, is the result of the Turkish rule. And yet, Armenia is one of the oldest Christian nations, having made Christianity the state religion in 310 A. D., at which time all the pagan temples were destroyed and churches were built in their places.

The Armenian alphabet was perfected in the latter part of the fourth century. The Bible and many works from the ancients were translated into Armenian. It is stated that the Reformation, which did not reach the European continent until the sixteenth century, started in Armenia in 622 A. D.

Surely a nation which has been a mother of civilization for centuries is deserving of help from civilized, progressive nations in her dark hour of need.

Big Pep Meeting

Get ready for the biggest pep meeting in the history of K. S. A. C. It is coming of next Friday evening. It's a "Beat K. U." pep meeting, and every red-blooded Aggie is not only invited, but expected. The greatest-ever Aggie eleven will be on the stage. Talks will be given by "Mike" Ahearn, by Coach Clevenger, and by that mountain of "pep," Coach "Germany" Schulz. Members of the team are now busy writing their orations for the evening. A shirt tail dance and a free show will cap off the evening!

Everybody and his "date" is expected. Make your plans for the evening, for every one of K. S. A. C.'s 2,500 students will be needed. Remember, it's a "Beat K. U." pep meeting. Be there!

A MOST IDYLIC PLAY.

"Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" Eche-duled for Manhattan, Monday.

The most idyllic play since Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead" was presented to the public, and in a way even more full of charm than that classic bucolic drama, is "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" which Gaskell & MacVitty (Inc.) will present at the Marshall Theatre, Monday, October 30. Here is a comedy in which the more beautiful side of New England life is presented, showing the childhood of her people. The play is a dramatization of Kate Douglas Wiggin's book of the same name, and the stage version of the story has been made by the author with the assistance of Charlotte Thompson. The presentation at the Marshall Theatre will be one of the events of the season for Gaskell & MacVitty have gathered a superb company to present the piece and are giving it a picturesque and altogether delightful production.

AGGIES TRIM EMPORIA

the Clevenger eleven had the ball on the Normal 32-yard line.

Third Quarter.

The opening of the third period was the occasion for Randels' 80-yard run to touchdown. Following Wells' 45-yard kickoff, both sides exchanged punts for no gains. Wells intercepted a Normal pass. Husted and Randels each skirted the ends for first downs. A smashing line plunge by Wells made ten yards but the Normals stiffened and took the ball on their own 10-yard line. The Aggies again started back up the field following Vaughn's long punt, but were halted on the 35-yard line. Randels' attempt at a place kick from the 40-yard line was blocked by the Normals. Vaughn was forced to punt, the quarter ending with the Aggies in possession of the ball on their own 40-yard line.

Fourth Quarter.

Clark's 15-yard pass to Randels was followed by a 38-yard sprint to a touchdown. Randels booted an easy goal. Wells kicked of past the goal line and the Normals took the ball on their own 20-yard line. After making first downs, the Emporians fumbled to the Manhattan eleven on their 35-yard line. Wells was forced to punt. Culter three times made downs for the Hargiss team, placing the ball on the Aggie 23-yard line. Monypenny then booted his 30-yard dropkick for the only Emporia score.

The line-up:

WILL THE AGGIES BEAT K. U? - - - ! ?

WILL THE AGGIES BREAK THE JAYHAWKER HOODOO?

WON ONLY GAME FROM K. U. IN 1906 WITH 6-4 SCORE.

Prospects for the Aggies to Humber the Jayhawk Bird This Year are Brighter Than Ever Before.

SCORES OF THE PAST.

"BEAT K. U."

Will the Aggies defeat K. U. once in a decade? Will the men of Clevenger break the Jayhawk hoodoo that has hung on since 1906? or will it be the same old story—the tale of a superior Aggie team bending before predominant Jayhawk luck?

Not since 1906 have the Aggies, under the able leadership of "Mike" Ahearn, gloriously ruffled the plumage of the Jayhawk birdie to the extent of making the Kansans take the small end of the result.

That wonderful win of 1906 was chronicled in the Students Herald in these fiery words. "K. U. attempted to place kick. Conwell blocked the ball and it bounded back for several yards, where Mallon picked it up and carried it for the winning score." After picking up the oval, Mallon only carried it for a distance of more than 80 yards.

In 1903 the game with K. U. was so well advertised that the editor of the Students Herald forgot to give the game a writeup. The score was 34 to 0 in favor of K. U., which may explain the editor's lack of enthusiasm.

The Aggie Score.

In 1905 a classical article appeared in the college paper smoothing over the defeat of the Aggies. "For the first time in the school's history, we scored on K. U. While our share of the score was small, being only 14, compared with 41. It nevertheless fills a vacant space that has been lurking in the heart of every K. S. A. C. student."

After the victorious year of 1906, when Washburn was the only team that defeated the Aggies, the college "pepped up" in its football enthusiasm. The Students Herald, with Cliff Stratton as editor, printed a front page box, "Everybody at the U. P. station. The team is going to K. U." and in the next issue, "Everybody meet the U. P. Flyer. The team is coming in."

The 1907 outlook was discouraging. "Gloom prevails in Aggie camp," read a streamer top-head in the college weekly. But it was no "bear" story, for the team came back defeated, 10 to 29. The game was hotly fought and it looked like anybody's game until the last quarter, when the Kansans forged ahead.

K. U. Barely Wins.

In 1908 the Aggies piled up the highest score made against K. U. by any team, but failed to win the game. K. U., unbeaten that entire season, nosed the Ahearn eleven out, 12 to 0.

Kansas could not find room for the Aggies on her schedule in 1910. The Farmer team lost only one game that year, the Colorado eleven trimming them in the rare atmosphere of Boulder, where the Aggies found their breath lasted them not half as long as down on the plains of Kansas. So good was the team that a campaign was carried on to land the Aggies in the Missouri Valley conference. The year marked the passing of the popular Aggie coach, Mike Ahearn, who resigned to spend more time among his plants and trees in the horticultural department.

Lowman at the Helm.

Bucking the conference and with Coach Guy S. Lowman at the helm, the Aggies did not find things so easy in 1911. The score of 6 to 0, however, did not tell the score of the hardest fought game of the year, the one with the Kansans. Again it was K. U. luck and punch that won. While the Aggies were making more downs and gains than the Jayhawkers, the fast and plucky "Pete" Heil ran a spectacular 65 yards for the Jayhawk touchdown and victory. Jake Holmes, all-Missouri valley tackle, captained the Farmer eleven.

When the gaining of inches or ground meant a tie or a win for the Aggies in the last quarter of the 1912 game, the Lowman men were unable to push the ball across for the winning scores. With Holmes ripping the K. U. line to pieces and making heavy gains, fumbles and Kansas luck gave the game to the Jayhawkers, 19 to 6.

K. U. Uses Minnesota Shift.

The Minnesota shift played havoc in 1913 with the Aggie line. K. U. romped down the field for four touchdowns and a 26 to 0 victory.

Still unable to cope with the shifty formations of the Jayhawkers, the 1914 Aggies were defeated 27 to 0, practically a repetition of the 1913 game.

In 1915 the Aggies, then coached by John Bender gave their first indications of Missouri valley form. An 80-yard dash to touchdown by "Stiff" Randels gave the Farmers an early lead. The advantage was maintained until the fourth period, when the wornout Aggie lightweights crumbled before a fresh backfield sent in by "Beau" Olcott, the Kansas coach. The final count showed the Jayhawkers victors, 19 to 7.

PROSPECTS FOR WINNING PEACE ORATORICAL GOOD

State Contest Will Be Held Next March—Fourteen Kansas Schools Will Participate.

"Prospects are good, and we have hopes of taking honors in the peace oratorical contest to be held next March," says J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking.

"Fourteen Kansas schools, including Kansas university will participate in the contest. Manuscripts are sent in from each school. The six contestants who rank highest on thought and composition will meet for a contest on declamation. The winner will receive a prize of $75, second prize $50, and third prize $25.

"The winner of the state contest goes to the sectional contest, held about two weeks later. The winner of the sectional contest will receive $100.

"From the sectional contest the winners will go to the national contest at Mohawk, New York, in which twenty-one states are entered.

"Orations will be of the practical type—not the peace at any price kind of orations. As a matter of fact, it is not out of the ordinary for quite the adverse kind, or those supporting peace through military preparedness."

Wellington Brink was the representative from this school last year. The contest was won by the K. U. orator last year. "Our prospects are good at present," contemplates Mr. Emerson, "We have better material, but it will require working out."

All interested should see Mr. Emerson at once.

NETTLETON SUFFERS INJURY.

Former Aggie Student is Badly Bruised in Santa Fe Wreck.

Francis Nettleton, a freshman in electrical engineering last year, sustained serious injuries, when a Santa Fe motor car ran into an open switch 1 1/2 yards at Independence at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon wrecking the car and throwing the men in a heap along the track.

Nettleton, the motorman, suffered a dislocated shoulder, badly cut face, and his right leg was severely cut and bruised. The motor car was traveling at a fast rate and the driver failed to notice that the switch had been opened.

M. Nettleton has been employed by the engineering department of the Santa Fe Railway company since the close of the spring term and expected to return and resume his studies at the college after the holidays.

His injuries are being cared for at the Santa Fe hospital in Topeka.

Miss Ethel Anderson, '14, is visiting at the home of her parents, 919 Moro street.

BIG PEP MEETING AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

JAYHAWK BIRD WILL BE CREMATED IN BIG BONFIRE.

"Buster" Cave, a Star on the '06 Team That Beat K. U. Will Speak Snappy Talks Will Be Given.

"Doc" Brady will talk. The team will be on the stage. The Jayhawk bird will be cremated in a big bonfire. "Buster" Cave, a star on the '06 team that beat K. U. will make a speech. "Beez" Cushman and "Unky" Umbehr, cheer leaders, will direct the noise efforts of Aggie rooters in the largest pep meeting in the history of the school—a pep meeting which promises to arouse Aggie fighting spirit to the highest pitch—tonight at the auditorium at 7 o'clock to 8:30 o'clock.

It will be 90 minutes of concentrated "pep." Short, snappy speeches will be made. Members of the team will be called upon. An effort is being made to get a number of down-town business men to speak. "Aggie Loyalty" and "Alma Mater" will be sung.

Then the Aggie cheer leaders will open up with a repertoire of old and new yells. Old reliable, "Jay, Rah" will compete with a number of new productions which are in the race for the Collegian subscription, which is to be given to the person handing in the best original yell.

After the yelling, the crowd will adjourn from the auditorium to the scene of the cremation of the Jayhawk bird. An Indian war dance around the dying corpse of the Kansas fowl will take place.

Following the regular "pep" meeting, the freshmen plan a lively, exclusive affair in the shape of a shirt-tail march through the business district. "Pep" Horlicker, a yearling, was appointed cheer leader in Thursday's class meeting and he will have charge of the freshmen's part of the festivities.

"Dates" during the pep meeting proper are tabooed. It is expected that the Jayhawk will have uttered his last squawk by 8:30 o'clock and every student in college is expected to take part in the evening's enthusiasm up to that point.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN TO K. U.

Coach Bauer Will Take Eight Runners to Lawrence Tomorrow.

Eight men will be taken to K. U. by Coach Bauer to compete in the cross country meet Saturday with the Kansas long distance men. Aggie runners who will make the trip are Captain Keys, Ernesting, Eggorman, Tillotson, Curry, Vorheis, Unafee, and Barnes.

The race will be over a hilly course north of the Jayhawk athletic field, winding up with two rounds on the K. U. track. The first five men on each team will be counted, one point going to the first man, two to the second, and so on. The ten men will total 55 points, making the winning team garner less than 28 points to win.

KEEPS TAB ON ALMA MATER.

"A. G. V." K. S. A. C. '13, Sends Slogan "Beat K. U." from Chicago.

Interest in the Aggie-K. U. football game Saturday extends to several different corners of the country.

Wednesday morning a fibre gear wheel, a part of the Chronicle's Linotype machine, arrived by parcel post from Chicago. When the package was opened, the gear wheel was found to be labeled on one side "A. G. V., K. S. A. C., '13." On the other side was the slogan, "Beat K. U."

Who A. G. V. might be is a problem. The wheel came from the Mergenthaler Linotype company's plant.

J. Sterling Moran, field assistant from the office of markets and rural organization at Washington, who is making a tour of the country to get state leaders lined up, visited at the rural service department of the college Monday. Mr. Moran is making a personal survey of some communities in each state and will spend ten days in Kansas.

Special to the Collegian.

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 26.—"The Aggies will not win from K. U. Saturday."

That's what Coach Olcott thinks. That's what Assistant Coach Clarke thinks.

That's what the K. U. team thinks. That's what 3,000 supporters of the team think.

"The Aggies will not win. K. U. will."

And up in Manhattan, some 3,000 supporters of the Aggie team are just as equally convinced that the Aggies will win—that K. U. must fall before the onslaught of the Purple.

Consequently, the safer conclusion to draw is that the game will be "some" contest.

And that's what it will be!

As K. U. sport fans see the situation, Kansas must win this game or slump through the rest of the season. She won her opening game with the Normals—admittedly an inferior team—by a bare thirteen points; and then lost easily to Illinois and Ames. The result was natural—the K. U. team suffered a severe and destructive slump. And its recovery has been slow.

Kansas fans think her team has recovered from that slump. Saturday's game will determine the correctness of their judgment.

Injuries Cripple Jayhawkers.

Injuries of a serious nature to two of the mainstays in the backfield are bound to hurt Kansas, however. "Jick" Fast, who is that will be unable to appear in the backfield lineup because of an injured hip which has refused to mend.

Then there's the matter of Pringle's shoulder. Pringle is a big, husky, hard-fighting back and his appearance on the team is a guarantee of backfield efficiency. But Pringle has an injury that will prevent his getting into Saturday's game.

"Speed" Heath, star end, is on the doubtful list. He may get to play and he may not. It all depends on how well his injured knee has survived the week of steady drill preceding the Aggie game. If he holds down his customary position at right end, the Aggie ground-gainers are going to find some healthy opposition to their efforts.

The threatened absence of three men, then, promises to materially weaken the Kansan offense and defense Saturday. The defense will suffer more than the offense.

As regards the cheerful side of the preparation for the Aggie game, Kansas supporters have reason to be highly elated over the return to the lineup of Wint Smith and Red Miner, over the wonderful backfield playing of Clay Fiske, a recruit, opposite Captain Lindsey; and over the showing made in recent practices by Todd, Cowgill, Palkowsky, and Kabler—all newcomers on the squad. The practices this week have been unusually successful, and there has been plenty of spirit and plenty of pep.

Kansas to Open Up.

The Aggies, rumor has it, will use end runs and the forward pass. Kansas, so one hears, will play the open game too, and endeavor also to slip over some new defensive formations that will mean disaster to the Purple open field tactics. Four practices with the freshmen were held at the Jayhawk camp this week; and the new formations worked successfully every time—there was not a single hitch.

The game will probably be lost or won by the kicking of the two teams—Lindsey for Kansas and Wells for the Aggies. The Kansas offensive expects to encounter some effective opposition in the Aggie line; and they will rely on everything but straight football to get their downs. What the Aggies will spring is, of course, unknown at this end of the line.

Considerable spirit has been raised at K. U. through the appearance in Wednesday's Kansas City Times of an article saying that Kansas students were betting against their own team. The story has been proved false; and the Jayhawk supporters, indignant over its appearance, are rallying to their team in throngs.

They know that the University of Kansas will be well represented on the gridiron Saturday, and they have confidence in what that team is going to do.

ZETA KAPPA PSI IS OLDEST GIRLS' FORENSIC FRATERNITY

Was Organized at This College in February, 1914—Has Only One Rival.

Zeta Kappa Psi, the oldest women's forensic fraternity, was founded in the Kansas State Agricultural college in February, 1914. The charter members were Alma Halbower, Madge Thompson, Edna Barber, Lillian Lathrop, Mary Polson, Wilma Burtis, Edna Steckelberg, Ina Belle Wilson.

To be eligible to this fraternity, one must be on a college debating team or be eligible to interstate oratorical contests; that is, take first, second or third place in an oratorical contest here.

The work for this year is to change the constitution so that chapters in other schools may be taken in. It seems most probable that Zeta Kappa Psi will become a strong national organization, for it is the only fraternity of its kind in this section of the country. Its only rival is in Washington State college.

The fraternity colors are purple and white. The girls who wear its key are Mae Sweet, Mary Dakin, Stella Gould, Fern Roderick, Rose Baker, Lola Sloop, Louise Ziller, Hazel Merrillat, Stella Blain, Donna Faye Wilson, Laura Mueller, and Madge Thompson, who is president.

BENDER SENDS GOOD WISHES.

Is at Helm of Victorious Eleven in Knoxville, Tennessee.

Himself at the helm of a victorious team, John R. Bender, who last year steered the Aggie squad, in a letter to one of the local papers, expresses the best of wishes for Coach Z. G. Clevenger and the Aggies in the game against K. U. Saturday.

Bender is coaching the University of Tennessee squad this fall and so far this season has not lost a game and his team has only been scored on once. So far the scores against his team total 6, while his warriors have made 105.

"I am sure pleased to see Coach Clevenger getting away so fine," he says. "The boys ought to lick K. U. Here is wishing Clevenger, Captain Barnes and the boys success on the 28th. It should be a big day for them."

TEAM WHICH WON FROM K. U.

Picture of Ahearn's Warriors Is Displayed in Aggieville.

A picture of the Aggie football eleven which last won from the Jayhawkers is being displayed in the window of Kittell's in Aggieville, through the courtesy of Michael ("Mike") Ahearn, who coached the Aggies when they were victorious in their contest with Kansas. A picture of Carl ("Cap") Mallon, who made the winning touchdown of the game, also is on display. Mallon now lives on a farm "somewhere in Kansas" and it is expected that he will be present at the game Saturday to see the Clevenger-Schulz machine trounce the Olcott eleven.

Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, will give her second talk to the Y. W. C. A. girls in the rest room of domestic science and art hall at 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Subject: "A College Girl's Goals."

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR THE K. U. GAME

CONSENSUS OF OPINION IS THAT IT WILL BE A HARD FIGHT.

Aggies Hold Secret Practice and Work out New Formations—Will Make Gigantic Effort to Upset Past Dope.

EXPERT OPINION.

Z. G. Clevenger—It will be a fight from start to finish.
Germany Schulz—The score will tell.
Mike Ahearn—It's our best chance to beat K. U. in ten years.
Coach Olcott—Kansas will repeat.
Captain Barnes—We'll fight, that's all.
Stiff Randels—I'm all right.

Thirty Aggie gridiron artists, Coaches Clevenger and Schulz, approximately one thousand Aggie rooters, and the good wishes of the 1500 "stay-at-homes" will leave tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock for Lawrence, the nest of the Jayhawk, where the two leading football elevens will battle for the championship of the state.

The best basis for comparison between the two elevens is the showing each team made against the Emporia Normals. Kansas met the Hargis eleven early in the season, winning 13 to 0 in a game in which Olcott's Jayhawkers were continually of the defensive. One of the touchdowns was the result of a blocked Normal punt. The Aggies were also able to score two touchdowns against the Teachers in a 13 to 3 victory, a dropkick by Vaughn from the 30-yard mark spoiling the Aggies' chance for a duplication of the K. U.-Normal score.

While the Kansans were showing their best wares in their game against the Emporians, the Clevenger crew was playing substitutes and put forth just enough to win, due to the presence in the stands of practically the entire Jayhawk football eleven. Dodrill and Rhoda, both of whom starred in the Nebraska battle, were lacking in the Aggie lineup, against the Normals.

Hold Secret Practice.

Secret practice was inaugurated by Coach Clevenger, beginning Wednesday afternoon. Behind those closed gates the K. U. game has probably been rehearsed a number of times. Secret formations and new fakes, contrived to put across the winning points in the annual battle, have in all probability been worked out.

Quarterback Clark will not have to rely entirely on speedy end runs or forward passes for all the yardage. Wells and Pfacek are line plungers of Missouri valley calibre and are counted upon to make good headway against the Jayhawk line. Harwood, a plunging fullback and halfback, has both speed and weight and will be in the fight sometime during the game.

Look Out for "Stiff."

According to the dope that is coming from the K. U. camp, special provisions are being made to "take care of" the premier Aggie star, "Stiff" Randels. Every one of the Kansas men who watched the speedy Aggie star race a total of 120 yards for two touchdowns Saturday will attempt to see that Randels does not repeat against the Jayhawkers.

The optimistic side of the Randels situation, however, is that while busy watching the lanky Aggie spearster, K. U. vigilance must necessarily relent on the other members of the team. Wilder and Husted can both sprint the century dash in less than 11 seconds, and both are shifty runners in an open field. A repetition tomorrow of Wilder's 75-yard sprint to touchdown against Southwestern would not be a great surprise to K. S. A. C. students.

Coach Clevenger is satisfied with the condition of the team, but will venture no opinion on the outcome of the battle.

Miss Betty Cotton spent Tuesday in Topeka.

WHERE IS THE PEP?

Where is the old time "pep" that is always predominate before a game with K. U.? With the greatest chance in Aggie football history to trim the Kansans, Aggie students have failed noticeably to show any enthusiasm.

Two and three weeks ago, everybody was talking "Beat K. U." What caused the change? Was it the result of the Normal game? Surely no one underestimated the strength of the Emporians, or expected Coach Clevenger to use all his plays against a non-conference eleven.

Kansas university students are showing more enthusiasm over Clevenger's eleven than the team receives at home. K. U. men are openly predicting an Aggie victory. Yet, while the athletic park gates were open to spectators, less than a dozen students were out any day to watch the best Aggie eleven ever produced.

Need all the Aggie pep be contained in the Freshmen?

GET THE PEP!

BE AT K. U.

Tomorrow afternoon a special train carrying the Aggie football squad, the Aggie cadet band and a number of Aggie rooters will leave for Lawrence. How many Aggie supporters will be on that train? Will you?

With the support of a thousand Aggie students, the Clevenger eleven should revenge the defeats of the past nine years. Without that support, the team will face a handicap.

This is the Aggies' best chance at K. U. Never has the dope favored the Purple and White eleven so strongly. Never has an Aggie team gone into a K. U. conflict with as clean a record as has Clevenger's eleven. And never has a K. U. team started the season so poorly.

A victory over K. U. would in itself brand the football season of 1916 a success. The Aggies put forth their best in that 0 to 14 battle with Nebraska, and will battle their hardest with Missouri. Every game on the schedule, however, bows before the yearly slogan of the Aggie eleven, "Beat K. U."

The team's slogan, "Beat K. U." suggests a slogan for you, "Be at K. U."

WILL YOU?

After the close of the football season, Rooters Club bills amounting to more than $75 were paid; the major portion of this amount was approved by Coach Lowman.

During the remainder of the year, in addition to the current bills, bills of previous years, some of them so old that they had full grown beards, were paid. Material was paid for that had been in use two or three years. In addition, officials of the Rooters' club for the year before were reimbursed for just personal expenditures in the interest of the club.

At the close of the college year, all outstanding bills for the year, and other years had been paid, although it required an additional small sum from the private account of the secretary-treasurer to leave that record—the first time, for two or three years at least that the Rooters' club has been out of debt.

Two years ago it was necessary for some members of the faculty to chip in to the tune of five and ten dollars to get the band sent with the team. (Perhaps that is a reflection on the "pep" of the student body of that year.)

The many functions of the Root-

In this wonderful photoplay is again presented Alice Brady working with an all star cast. The story tells of a young queen who dared to go out among her people to learn what they desired, with the result that she was imprisoned by the prime minister who was responsible for the oppression of the peasants. The pleasing personality of Miss Brady in this as in all her plays is worthy of comment. At the Warcham this afternoon and tonight.

LET'S BEAT K. U.

On the tenth of October, a bright, sunny day,
We whitewashed the Bakers and sent them away—
'Twas a twenty to nothing score.
Tho' the fellows lacked practice, they showed the "old fight,"
And the students agreed and the coaches were right.
When they said that it should have been more,
Southwestern fell next, from the score 'twill be seen,
That the wheels were all working on Schulz's machine,
And everything timed and true.
For with end runs, and passes, and touchdowns galore,
(While the students were yelling, "Let's count up the score")
We dreamed how we'd wallop K. U.
Then we went to Nebraska,—those champs undefeated
Kept charging our line while the fellows retreated—
Yet playing a wonderful game.
A yard, three downs, and the goal to make,
They hammered that line that wouldn't break,—
But held for undying fame.
Then the Normals came with a snappy crew,
To dent our line and to carry through
The ball by hitting hard and low.
They had a quarter but we had an end,
As fleet as the wind on whom to depend.—
Give "Stiff" the ball and watch him go.
Like distant mutterings from an angry sky,
Echoes the Wild Cats battle cry—
On, On, On, On, to K. U.!!
Above the din that we may hear,
Sounds the Wild Cats war cry, loud and clear,
On, On, On, On, Beat K. U.!!

VISITS FRENCH ARMY ON THE WESTERN WAR FRONT

PROF. D. L. PATTERSON OF K. U. HAS INTERESTING EXPERIENCES

Sees Ruined Rheims Cathedral, and Invades "No Man's Land," Between French and German Trenches.

A profound gratitude that the United States has been kept out of the European war was the feeling of Professor D. L. Patterson, University of Kansas, on returning to America after several weeks in the war stricken continent. Professor Patterson spoke at a special student assembly Wednesday afternoon. His address, which dealt with his experiences in France, was one of the most interesting and effective given at the college in recent months.

Professor Patterson, who has charge of the department of European history in the University of Kansas, went to the war zone to investigate social and economic conditions from a historical standpoint, and to write stories for the Pittsburgh, (Pa.) Gazette Times. Everywhere in England and France he found war the only business of real operation.

The French are Confident.

While the French are confident of winning the war, Professor Patterson said, they have no illusions as to the task before them. No one with whom he talked predicted that the war would end before the close of the year 1917, while most of the soldiers expected it to last in the neighborhood of three years.

In speaking of the damage done to the Rheims cathedral by the German shells, he said practically the universal sentiment in France was in favor of the restoration of the structure immediately after the war, rather than leaving it as a historic ruin.

"From Rheims we traveled three-fourths of a mile along a screened road to the third line of trenches," said Mr. Patterson. "Here we left the automobiles and proceeded on foot. At the third line of trenches are the kitchens, small hospitals, and the storage rooms for equipment, excavated from the ground."

"We followed the communication trench to the second line trench. The communication trenches are two feet wide and run forward in a serpentine fashion. They are arranged parallel to each other and named much as the streets of a city are named. The officers' quarters and the dugouts for the men are at the second line trenches. We continued on to the first line trench. It is built in a zig-zag manner, much like a rail fence. One of the first things that attracted our attention here was a listening post, as the French call it, or a lookout, as we would term it. This observation post was built two feet above the ground and was strongly protected by armor."

Invade "No Man's Land."

"A machine gun post attracted our attention. It was firing toward the enemy trenches. Our guide cautioned us to hurry on, for he said that the machine gun was apt to attract the fire of the Germans. A few steps down the trenches we came to a cavern excavated in the side of the trench next to the enemy. It was 30 feet deep and boarded up the sides and over the roof to prevent caving. The guide led us through this and into a small observation pit in front of the first line trench. Here we were in 'no man's land' and could see 75 yards of wire entanglements before us. A machine gun began firing near by, and we retreated into the pit, although the guide told us that the gun was one of the French machines."

"All this time we could hear the French 75s and the German shells passing overhead. This was a strange sound to us, but the soldiers could tell how high the shells were and where they would strike by the noise made in passing through the air."

As we were starting back through the trenches we saw the food for the soldiers being carried forward in large kettles. There were four kettles containing soup, vegetable stew and meat, coffee and beer respectively.

"We were immediately taken back to Apprene, where we boarded a train for Paris."

STUDENTS DRESS CHICKENS

They Bring Top Prices on the Kansas City Market.

The poultry killed and dressed by students in the poultry department last week brought top price, 22 cents a pound, on the Kansas City market. Shipments were sent to the Aaron Frodude company and to Butler Bros. Commission company. Letters of commendation have been received from both firms, and one firm ordered 400 pounds more. The department regrets that it is unable to fill this order.

As this was their first experience in killing and dressing poultry the students are highly pleased over the results. The fowls had been milked by the students for two weeks previous to the killing. For shipment, the birds were packed one dozen to the box, each box weighing about 35 pounds. Two boxes were sent to each firm.

Is Chairman of the Program Committee for N. E. A.

Mrs. Mary P. Van Zile, dean of women and dean of the home economics division of the Kansas State Agricultural college, has been appointed chairman of the committee to arrange a program for the meeting of the home economics section of the National Educational Association, to be held in Kansas City in February, 1917. This meeting will be held in connection with the Department of Superintendence.

AGGIE ROOTERS ROUSE THE LAWRENCE CITIZENS

An Early Invasion of the Camp of the Jayhawk Disturbs Morning Slumbers.

When the "red ball" freight pulled into Lawrence Saturday morning it unloaded a motley crew of more than 250 Aggie rooters, attired in blue "jeans" and old suits worn over their Sunday best, and with faces besmeared with grease and coal dust.

And Lawrence soon discovered that they were there. Only one beanery was open to wait the tempting aroma of chili into the brisk morning air. And after a 125-mile ride on top of a red ball freight car, they wanted exercise. Lawrence's sleeping citizenship suffered. Citizens two miles from the main part of town, were startled an hour before breakfast time, to hear vociferous cries of "Let that lion roar—Boo-o-o-o!" "Can we beat K. U.—!!! Yes!" and "Jay Rah! Gee Haw! Jay Hawk Saw!"

When the stock train moved out of the U. P. yards at a little past midnight Saturday morning, three box cars and four flatcars were loaded almost to capacity. The "brakes" and conductor were good rooters and the loyal Aggies were not molested.

Arriving at Wamego, a valve head was blown out on the engine—the roadmaster had not known about the extra cargo awaiting the train at Manhattan when he sent the old donkey engine out on that run.

There was some pep wasted on the citizenship of Wamego while they were awaiting the arrival of the red ball through freight. It had no empty cars or "flats," and when it whistled out of town, there were Aggie rooters perched on top of every car, or with heads peering from ice holes on the refrigerator cars like blackbirds in a cornfield.

The "brake" saw his chance to get by the extra expense at Christmas time, and marched down the line of cars with his hat significantly extended toward every rooter, who responded even more liberally than he will at church next Sunday.

The top of a freight car moving at thirty miles per is no place for shirt tail parades and Indian dances even if it is cold and a damp, chilly breeze makes it uncomfortable. It was one grand experience, but most of the rooters preferred to "ride the cushions" home.

L. E. Call, professor of agronomy, left Friday for Leavenworth, where he attended and judged at the county festival, which is under the direction of I. N. Chapman, county agent of Leavenworth county.

"AGGIE POP NIGHT" TO BE HELD DECEMBER 8

ALL DATES ARE TABOOED UNLESS BROUGHT TO THE SHOW

Twenty-two Organizations Asked to Submit Stunts—Silver Loving Cup for Best One Presented.

"Aggie Pop Night"—short for Aggie Popularity Night—will be held at the college auditorium, Friday, December 8, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. All dates are tabooed unless brought to the show.

This event takes the place of the annual Y. W. C. A. fair, and promises to be one of the biggest events of the school year. Entertainments of all kinds and varieties are promised.

Fraternities, sororities, literary societies, and other leading organizations—twenty-two in all—have been asked to submit stunts to a committee which will select the eight best for presentation on "Aggie Pop Night." The members of the committee who will select these stunts are Miss Estella Root, chairman, Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile, Prof. J. R. MacArthur, Prof. J. E. Kammerer, and Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Will Make Selections Nov. 17

This committee will meet on November 17th to make the selections. The stunts will be judged on beauty and originality. The advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. will present a silver loving cup to the organization giving the stunt which is judged the best of the eight selected.

In addition to the entertainment to be furnished by the different organizations, the faculty men and the faculty women will put on a stunt separately. They will not compete for the cup, however. All stunts are limited to fifteen minutes.

Between acts, a wonderful colored solist, with banjo accompaniment, will sing dialect songs. Entertainment is promised for every moment during the evening. Admission is 25 cents.

"So far, the plan is taking well with the organizations," says Miss Inskeep. "They have their committees appointed, and are making plans for their stunts."

The loving cup which is to be presented will be exhibited in main hall, near the Y. W. C. A. bulletin board the latter part of the week.

ABOUT THE TRAINING CORPS

Students Have Erroneous Impression Says Capt. Mathews.

That there is a misunderstanding among students as to the requirements of the reserve officers training corps, is the opinion of Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of cadets.

"There seems to be an impression among the seniors and juniors of the college who are eligible for membership in the reserve officers training corps, that members of the corps are liable to call by the president, in case of war or threatened hostilities," said Captain Mathews. "This is an error, as they do not enlist, are not sworn, are not commissioned; and the only obligation on their part is to attend drill until they leave college and to attend the training camps required."

If a sophomore will attend a training camp at the end of his sophomore year, and one at the end of his junior year, he will not be required to attend a camp after his graduation.

If a senior becomes a member of the corps, he will be required to attend a camp after graduation, but as soon as the four weeks' camp is over his obligation to the government on account of the contract ceases."

The stock judging team went to St. Marys, Friday, where the men visited the Hereford farm of Carl Miller. From St. Marys they went to Lawrence, where they worked on Angus cattle and Berkshire hogs. Sunday they visited W. L. Yost's Hereford herd at Kansas City, Missouri.

WILL HOLD POLITICAL DEBATE. Socialists and Republicans to Meet in Wordy Battle.

The Socialist students of the college have challenged the Republican organization for a debate. The question is, "Resolved, that socialistic principles would be better for the American people than republican principles."

It is planned to stage this political debate before the student body sometime next week, either at the Y. M. C. A. building or at chapel provided the latter can be arranged for. A three-man team will represent each party.

At a meeting of the Socialists students of the college Tuesday evening, a resolution was passed to extend a challenge to the local Republican club, which was done.

TO HOLD STUDENT CONVENTION

To Meet at Baldwin on November 17, 18 and 19.

The Annual State Student Volunteer convention will be held at Baldwin on November 17, 18 and 19.

One hundred and fifty delegates are expected from all the colleges of Kansas, and the best authorities on missions are being sought for the program. The following speakers are expected: Rev. M. D. Eubank from China; A. R. Hoover, M. D., from Turkey; Rev. Wm. R. Coventry from Egypt; Miss Florence Erffmeyer from Japan. Other strong leaders are expected.

Over half of the delegates last year were not student volunteers, but were interested in the present world situation.

FINAL DEBATE TRYOUTS TO BE NOVEMBER 10, 11 AND 13

Contestants Should Notify Don L. Burk—Intersociety DeBates Will Be Held Saturday.

On the afternoons and evenings of November 10, 11 and 13, the fall debate tryouts will be held. This is the last chance to place on the 1916-17 debating teams; and those who desire to tryout are requested to indicate through the college postoffice or personally to Don L. Burk, debate coach, the day and time they would prefer to try for a place on the squad.

The constructive speeches will be five minutes in length and the rebuttal speeches four minutes. Those who try out will be given a list of rebuttal questions which they will have the privilege of looking over before they speak.

Each literary society and sorority may place in the fall tryouts as many of their members as they care to try. Several who are known to be preparing for the tryouts have not yet handed in their names as contestants. It is expected that between 60 and 75 persons will try for places.

The question is the same as that which will be debated in the intersociety debates next Saturday—Ship Subsidy—when all the literary societies will hold their first contest of the year. Following is the program which has been arranged:

Afternoon debates: Eurodelphian, negative, and Browning, affirmative, at Browning hall; Browning, negative, and Ionian, affirmative, at Ionian hall; Ionian, negative and Eurodelphian, affirmative, at Eurodelphian hall.

Evening debates: Alpha Beta, negative (women's), and Franklin, affirmative (women) at Franklin hall; Webster, negative, and Athenian, affirmative, at Athenian hall; Athenian, negative, and Forensic, affirmative, at Forensic hall; Forensic, negative, and Webster, affirmative, at Webster hall; Franklin, negative (men), and Hamilton, affirmative, at Hamilton hall; Hamilton, negative, and Alpha Beta, affirmative, (men) at Alpha Beta hall.

ELLIOTT WILL SPEAK.

Will Address Students at the Y. M. C. A. Tonight.

Harrison Elliott, international secretary of Bible study for the Y. M. C. A., will speak at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7 o'clock. All students are invited to come and hear him.

Mr. Elliott is a graduate of Ohio State university, and joint author of "The Student's Standard of Action," the Bible study book that is being used here in the association classes.

MAKE FIFTEEN FIRST DOWNS TO EIGHT FOR KANSAS UNIVERSITY

Jayhawkers Unable to Smash the Superb Aggie Defense.

RANDELS ROUNDS ENDS AND WELLS SMASHES LINE FOR 71 YARDS MORE THAN IS MADE BY KANSAS GROUND GAINERS—MANHATTAN TEAM GAINS 46 YARDS BY PASSES, AS COMPARED WITH 18 FOR KANSAS.

Aggies 0, Kansas 0.

But the Aggies won! They made 15 first downs to eight for K. U., and they smashed the list of nine consecutive wins piled up by the Jayhawkers. Randels rounded the ends and Wells smashed the line for 71 more yards than were made by the K. U. ground gainers, not counting the total of 46 yards the Aggies successfully passed the ball as compared to a paltry 18 yards for Kansas.

The Aggie defense was superb. Twice the Kansas, through recovering their own punts, made their way within the Purple five-yard zone. Each time 1,000 Aggie hearts stood still as the Jayhawkers attempted to cross the Aggie goal, but the defense which three times held Nebraska on the one-yard line each time enabled the Cleveland eleven to keep its goal untouched.

The crowning Aggie defensive play was made by "Lefty" Husted. A Kansas forward pass had brought the ball up to the Aggies' four-yard line. Twice the Jayhawkers smashed the line for a little gain. Then Lindsay drew back, apparently for a drop-kick, and a Kansas victory seemed imminent, for Lindsay had been booting pretty attempts at drop-kicks from the 40 and 45-yard lines.

But Lindsay didn't kick. Straight as an arrow his pretty forward pass seemed certain to land in the outstretched arms of Right End Shinn, who was five yards across the goal lines. Suddenly Husted came in from somewhere, reached out his long left arm, grabbed the ball almost out of Shinn's fingers and darted through the Jayhawker squad for a 25-yard run, preventing a Kansas score by either a drop-kick or a touchdown.

Randels Nearly Makes Touchdown.

Randels had the best chance to make an Aggie touchdown. Sprinting around back of the Jayhawker line, the Aggie star blocked Lindsay's punt, picked up the ball, dropped it, picked it up again, and was then tackled by two Kansas from behind. Had the ball remained in Randels' arms the first time—well, no one has ever seen him caught from behind and he would have had a lead of almost five yards to start with. It would have meant an Aggie touchdown and an Aggie victory.

Once more Randels threatened to put over the winning touchdown. Finding an opening around right end he passed every Jayhawker but Foster, the safety. Undecided whether to dodge or stiff-arm Foster, Randels decided too late and was caught—the only time, according to Randels' followers, that the speedster was ever tackled and downed by one man. A Randels place-kick in the second period from the 35-yard line was so close that the Aggie rooters could with difficulty be quieted and informed that the goal did not count.

Frequent fumbles by Sullivan cost the Aggies their best chance to score by straight football. During the first quarter the Cleveland men encountered but little opposition from the Kansas line, and time and again swept up the field only to lose the ball.

Aggies March 80 Yards.

The best Aggie march followed Sullivan's recovery of his own fumble and his 20-yard run. Husted then reeled off nine yards and Sullivan squirmed through center for the remaining yard. Randels then sprinted around right end for fifteen yards. With Wells tearing through the Kansas line, the Aggies twice made first downs. Wells then hit the line for another gain of six yards, but the Jayhawkers broke through and held for downs. The total Aggie gain on this offensive totaled 80 yards from the Aggies' ten-yard line to the Kansas danger-mark.

Easily outshining any other members of the Aggie eleven were Randels with his end runs, and Wells, who was the mainstay of both the Aggie defense and offense. The line played as a unit, the Ptacek-Bayer-Wright section showing exceptionally stiff defense. Husted's short end backs and his interception of the Jayhawker pass near the Aggie goal entitle him to a place near the top of the list.

Without Captain Lindsay, K. U. would have been smothered. The Jayhawker leader was the only man who could fight his way through the Kansas defense. He tackled fiercely and surely and was in every play. Not until the last five minutes of the play in the first half were the Jayhawkers able to make their first downs, and it was Lindsay's end run for ten yards that gained the coveted distance.

The score by quarters:

First Quarter.

The Aggies won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Lindsay's 25-yard kick-off went to Randels, who returned 25 yards. Wells was forced to punt to Lindsay, who fumbled to Frost of Kansas on the Aggie 25-yard line. A forward pass, Lindsay to Nielson, was completed for an 8-yard gain, but the Aggies held and Lindsay attempted to place-kick. The kick was blocked by Randels, who finally recovered the ball. Wells was forced to punt. Sullivan dropped Lindsay's punt, but recovered and darted back through an open field for a 20-yard return. The Aggies marched 60 yards up the field, but lost on downs. Sullivan fumbled Lindsay's punt. Ruble of Kansas recovering. Wells intercepted a Kansas pass and made eight yards. Randels shot through for seven yards, and Wells plunged another three for first downs. First quarter showed Aggies made first downs five times and K. U. none.

Second Quarter.

The Aggies had the ball on their own 42-yard line. Lindsay's drop-kick from the 35-yard line failed. Wells plunged twice, making downs. Randels sprinted 42 yards. Wells again hit the line twice for good gains, Sullivan making the first downs. Sullivan fumbled but Harwood dove and recovered from a mass of Kansas players. Randels missed a 35-yard place kick by less than a yard. Sullivan made a 14-yard return of Lindsay's punt. Burton of Kansas, recovering Sullivan's fumble, Clark replaced Sullivan. Clark recovered Kansas' fumble on own 25-yard line. Wells punted to middle of the field. Lindsay's long kick rolled out of bounds on the Aggie one-yard line. Wells, standing ten yards back of his own goal, kicked out of the field at the 26-yard line. Lindsay passed to Nielson for first downs. With the ball on the four-yard line, Husted intercepted Lindsay's pass to Shinn and raced to the 25-yard line. The half ended, the Aggies having made eight first downs to one for Kansas.

Third Quarter

Lindsay kicked off across the Aggie goal line, the Aggies taking the ball on their own 20-yard line on the second kick. Wells punted to the middle of the field. Lindsay and Wells again kicked for no gain on either side. Lindsay kicked again, but the ball was blocked by the Aggies. Clark passed to Randels, who fumbled to Ptacek for first downs. Wells hit the line to downs. Frost recovered after Reed blocked Randels' attempt at place-kick from the 33-yard line. Lindsay and Foster both went for downs and

TREATMENT OF CHAPERONS.

The following article signed "Chaperone," and which was handed to the Collegian for publication, is not without merit. In a great many instances the complaints of the chaperons are justified; and students who have charge of social affairs will do well to take note of these complaints and see that the chaperons are accorded the proper attention in the future. The article follows.

The continued failure of many students to follow the customary social forms in the treatment of chaperons is the stimulus which prompted the writing of this article. Society has decreed that, when young men and women assemble on social occasions, they be accompanied by a mature man and woman. On account of this necessity, the chaperons are placed in a delicate position. If the invitation comes in the spirit of good fellowship, the occasion is usually pleasant and profitable for all concerned. But, if the chaperons are secured merely to comply with the rules of society, their position, to say the least, is embarrassing.

Complaints of Chaperons.

That the treatment of local chaperons is not always what it should be in a first class college community is apparent from complaints of a number of chaperons, a few of which are cited:

General inattention to chaperons. Little or no effort to make chaperons acquainted with members of the party.

Chaperons compelled to hustle for their portions of food at picnics. Chaperons not invited to trade dances, but ignored and left to sit alone for long periods of time.

At intermission, after all but chaperons have left the hall, someone returns to take them to refreshments. Expression of gratitude to chaperons (who have given up the evening and a good portion of their customary night's rest) are far too few.

At dinner dates, shortly after the meal is concluded, individuals begin to disappear and to sneak away, leaving the house without a word of regret or a farewell to their invited guests.

Invited to chaperon a party tomorrow night, with "Please don't turn me down, I've asked half the people on the hill."

It is hard to understand why students have difficulty in securing chaperons when an instructor, after working all day, leaves his comfortable fireside, and so far as the hosts the rain or snow with his partner to are concerned, may wade through a function only to be neglected by the hosts or hostesses of the party.

It is hoped that the writers will be understood. These conditions do not prevail at all social functions. Many students have shown themselves thoroughly capable of according chaperons proper treatment in spirit and in deed. But these and other "sins of omission and commission" occur in our community.

Social Customs.

For the benefit of those who have not acquainted themselves with the rules of courteous treatment of chaperons, the customary forms are here given in part:

Party planned in detail. Chaperons invited as soon as possible.

Arrangements made for their transportation to and from the function.

Someone present to receive and welcome the chaperons.

All members of the party introduced to them.

Persons coming in late introduced at first opportunity.

If a dance, programs made out by some member (one-third to one-half of the dances traded) and presented to the chaperons.

If at a picnic, Chaperons served and accompanied coming and going. In short, on all occasions, chaperons treated as personal guests.

In conclusion, the writers of this article feel that with ordinary treatment, the members of the faculty welcome opportunities to participate in student functions. Besides pleasant student functions.

CHEMISTRY SEMINAR TAKES STUDENTS AND PROFESSORS

All Join in Discussing Applications of Their Chosen Science.

Much interest is being shown in the chemistry seminar which has been revived. P. J. Newman, assistant professor of chemistry, is chairman. Formerly membership was made up of the chemistry faculty, but the bars have been let down and a number of students are availing themselves of the opportunity of broadening their knowledge of chemistry as applied in the industries.

Meetings are held every Monday afternoon at the eighth hour in room 26, Denison hall, and one college credit is given for the work of the term. Any person in the college who has had sufficient chemistry to make it possible for him to read with intelligence the chemical journals used in the course, is eligible for membership.

The object of the seminar is to familiarize the members with the present day uses of chemistry in agriculture and the manufacturing industries. Current chemical and industrial journals are reviewed and the programs consist of reports and discussions of the articles read. Students are allowed much freedom in choice of reading, although it must be done under the direction of members of the chemistry department to whom students are assigned.

THE SCHOOL OF AG. WINS

Trounces Wamego High 45-0—Two More Games are Scheduled.

The school of agriculture football team beat Wamego high, 45 to 0 last Thursday afternoon when they went to Wamego. With only four of last year's team out for practice, "Holy" Hovenstein, the coach, has succeeded in whipping up a likely bunch from the available material. The team has been practicing in the city park every afternoon for about a month, besides scrimmaging with the freshmen several times.

So far, two more games have been arranged for—Manhattan, on November 8, and St. Marys on November 23.

Fresh: "Brown: what's yours."

Professor (to new student): "What's your name?"

Froud mother of Freshman: "My son, why do all the young men wear soft shirts?"

Freshman (hesitatingly): "Why? Mother, I really am not sure; but I think it's to distinguish them from the assistant professors." Yale Record.

"The Quest of Life."

Presenting the celebrated dancers, Marice and Florence Walton, in a production which tells a big dramatic story. In this picture Miss Walton wears 25 different gowns which were designed or her by Lady Duff Gordon. The Apache dance is one of the many features of this photoplay. At the Wareham this afternoon and this evening.

W. F. Pickett, senior in horticulture, left for Leavenworth Wednesday to attend the Fall Festival on Thursday and Friday, and to judge the fruit exhibits of the festival.

W. L. Latschaw, assistant in soil analysis, is enjoying a visit from his father and mother of Philadelphia. Mr. and Mrs. Small, also from Philadelphia, are guests at the Latschaw home.

The girls of the housekeeper's course have ordered class pins having the design of an "H" with "K. S. A. C." cross the bar of the "H." Seventy-five of the 100 girls have ordered the pins.

E. M. Tiffany of the home study service was in Westmoreland Saturday where he addressed the Pottawatomie county teachers' association. Agricultural Education was the subject of Mr. Tiffany's talk.

H. B. Walker, state drainage engineer, accompanied by Col. Townsend of the war department, will begin an investigation of the flood conditions of the Kaw and Neosho river valleys the first of the week.

M. G. Kirkpatrick, assistant in the home study service, addressed a joint meeting of the teachers and members of school boards of Trego county, at Wakeeney Saturday, October 21. Mr. Kirkpatrick spoke on "The Relationship of the Teacher and School Board."

Place and Menu Cards. Kipp's.

THEY PADDED THE PROFESSORS

Imports "Freshmen Profs" Are Hazed by Faculty and Students.

Paddling has been extended to the faculty at the Kansas Normal at Emporia. Dr. Herbert Lull, head of the training school and Malvin Roske of the agricultural department were paddled recently during assembly and forced to wear orange and blue skull caps by the members of the Normal faculty.

Led by Professor F. L. Gilson and Dr. W. R. Smith, twenty of the more athletic members of the faculty armed with paddles 20x31-2 inches, captured Mr. Lull and Mr. Roske at chapel. Some resistance was encountered but the force of numbers and paddles soon overcame inches. Dr. Lull and Mr. Roske have only recently taken up their work at the Normal and are called the faculty freshmen.

"We could have a pretty good school here if it weren't for the faculty," said Dr. Lull later in a speech to 1200 delighted students assembled to view the ceremony. Neither Dr. Lull nor Mr. Roske were seriously injured by the paddling.

"The Dawn of Tomorrow."

Mary Pickford, the idolized star of the screen, has the leading role in this extraordinary dramatic success. Because of the many requests from patrons of the Wareham theatre this picture has been secured for a return date. At the Wareham Wednesday afternoon and evening.

A mechanical fruit grater has just been received by the horticultural department for use in the advanced pomology classes and farmers' institute work.

Full line of Chase's package chocolate 1 lb, 2 lb, 3 lb and 5 lb boxes at Harrison's.

A 400 horse-power Babcox and Wilcox boiler has been purchased by the college and will be installed as additional equipment to the college power plant.

Ask the fellow who sent us his laundry last year about the work we turn out, then follow his lead. A. V. Laundry. Phone 701.

M. G. Burton, director of the home study service, division of extension of the college, addressed a meeting of the parent-teachers club of Manhattan, at the Bluemont school building Thursday afternoon, on the subject of "Training the Child to Use His Leisure Hours."

WANTED—To room and furnish morning and evening meals to four students. Modern house, sleeping porch. Terms reasonable. Phone 1019.

"Anton, the Terrible."

Jesse L. Lasky presents the accomplished screen favorite, Theodore Roberts and Anita King. The story is laid in Russia at the present time and is a mixture of political intrigue, love and a people's fight for freedom. At the Wareham theatre Thursday afternoon and evening.

Professors and Students.

Remember there is a Book Doctor in town. No matter what condition your book is in there is a remedy for it. Consult Brown at the Manhattan Bindery. 107 N. 3rd street, up stairs.

"The Redemption of Dave Dary."

James Morrison, one of the stars in "The Battle Cry of Peace," supported by Belle Bruce, Billy Billings and Mary Maurice, take the principal parts in this exceptional photoplay. A desperate fight for his better self leads a man to strange places. He is aided in his fight by the wife of his employer. At the Marshall Thursday afternoon and evening.

The Narrow Gage will give you a good wholesome dinner for 20 cents including drinks.

AGGIES OUT JAYHAW.

Lindsay tore through for 25 yards on a fake pass formation. Nielson made downs, the fourth straight for Kansas. With the ball on the 7-yard line, Kansas plunged twice, placing the ball within three yards of the goal line.

Fourth Quarter.

Foster was thrown for a two-yard loss. A Kansas pass was incomplete. Harwood knocking it down. Husted and Wells each reeled off downs. Wells was forced to punt. Lindsay made 11 yards on another fake pass formation. Wilder intercepted a pass on his own 30-yard line for a five-yard return. Wells plunged through for downs. Skinner caught a 23-yard pass, but Kansas held on next downs. Kansas twice made downs. Lindsay carrying the ball for the gains. Lindsay kicked out of bounds. Wells again plunged through for downs. A forward pass, Clark to Randels, was good for 17 yards. A series of Aggie forward passes failed and the teams battled in the middle of the field until the game was called.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. totalled 250 members in their membership campaign last week. Out of the 20 young women working, Miss May Rich secured the largest number. The association is not yet satisfied with the enrollment and expects to conduct a more vigorous campaign.

Miss Lucy Y. Riggs, student secretary of the West Central field, will address the Y. W. C. A. next Thursday at their regular meeting hour. The Y. W. C. A. double quartette, a new feature of the association, will appear for the first time at this meeting.

Miss Lucile Logan, a Big Sister captain and the Big Sisters on her division, are entertaining informally Thursday evening in honor of their Little Sisters, at the home of Professor and Mrs. J. O. Hamilton. Halloween suggestions in decorations and games were carried out.

Miss Mildred Inskeep, college secretary of the Y. W. C. A. spoke on Sunday afternoon before the Y. W. C. A. student association of the Minneapolis, Kan., high school. Miss Inskeep was the guest of Miss Helen Harbaugh while at Minneapolis.

Saturday was "cake day" at the Philomathian literary society. It has become the custom that when one of their members married she must furnish the society with a cake. Alice Hawkins Hamet, who was married last summer, provided one cake on Saturday, and Alice Williams Davis, who married a member of the Lincoln society paid the penalty by providing two cakes.

MERRILL IS SOME APPLE PICKER

Sets Pace By Gathering 45 Bushels in Three Hours.

F. S. Merrill, instructor in horticulture in the Kansas State Agricultural college, made a record for himself Wednesday, and set a pace for his class in advanced pomology, when he picked 45 bushels of apples in three hours.

W. P. Blain, foreman of the horticulture department, picked 40 bushels in the same time, doing some supervision besides. The fact that they were working in a model orchard made these accomplishments possible. The trees were just the right height that they could be reached easily, and they had been properly pruned so that the fruit was picked with but little inconvenience.

EMPORIA CO-EDS WON'T YELL

Decide They Won't Cheer at Football Games, But Sing.

Girls will not cheer at the Kansas Normal at Emporia this year. Yelling by girls was voted down in a recent meeting of the Normal Sports and Pastimes club.

"It is undignified for girls to yell; besides it hurts the quality of the voice and distorts the features," was the general dictum. Instead of organized cheering at the football games, the general dictum. Instead of organically elected sing leader, Miss Maude Barringer of Fredonia.

"It is much better that the girls should turn their enthusiasm into singing, rather than yelling," said Mary A. Whitney, dean of women. Coach Hargiss and Miss Irene Watson of the girls physical training department agree that the men's cheering is sufficient.

MOHLER WILL SPEAK

Gamma Sigma Delta Has Charge of Chapel Program Today.

J. C. Mohler, state secretary of agriculture, will address the student assembly this morning on the subject "Lynx Rufus." The program this morning is under the auspices of Gamma Sigma Delta, an honorary agricultural fraternity of the college.

Mr. Mohler was initiated as a member of the fraternity at six o'clock last evening, after which he was entertained at a banquet which was held at Harrison's hall.

THEY WOULD BE MERMAIDS

Co-eds and Faculty Women Learn the Fine Art of Swimming.

More than 165 of the fair co-eds and quite a number of the faculty women and wives of the faculty are learning the fine art of mermaidism under the instruction of Miss Loring. The swimming pool is open the eighth hour on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and the sixth and seventh hours on Tuesday. The eighth hour Wednesday is reserved for the faculty women and wives of the faculty.

Three of the women students, Misses Eva Wood, Bertha Hole and Elizabeth Dickens, have become proficient enough in the art to have the honor of wearing the blue cap which indicates they can swim with five standard strokes, the crawl, side under arm, side over arm, the back, and breast strokes; dive forward, right or left side, backward, back fall, and roly poly, and have passed the rescue test.

More than forty are wearing the red cap on swimming days. This indicates the ability to swim and dive in two different ways.

APOLLO CLUB TO TOPEKA

College Songsters Will Give Program at State Teachers' Meeting.

The Apollo club of the college, assisted by Miss Fanchion Easter and Miss May Carley, of the music department, will give a half hour musical program at the meeting of the State Teachers association in Topeka on Thursday night, November 9. The program will precede a lecture by Dr. Cadman.

This is the first time the music department of the college has been asked to furnish music at the state teachers' meeting. It will be the first trip of the Apollo club, which consists of 26 voices. The club will sing at the chapel exercises at the college Saturday. S. M. Mitchell is president of the organization and J. R. Mingle, secretary-treasurer.

The following program will be rendered by the club in Topeka:

Etude en Forme de Valse .....

C. A. Cunningham, assistant professor of co-operative experiments, returned from a business trip in the southeastern part of the state, the first of the week.

AWKWARD SQUAD, 'TENTIO SPELL SQUARROSDENTATE!

Don L. Burk Organizes an Awkward Squad for Discipline in the Elements of English.

More than two-thirds of the members of the English classes receiving instruction under Don L. Burk, instructor in the English language, have been organized in an "awkward squad" in spelling. The squad is composed of students of his classes who are afflicted with that common malady, misspelling.

At some time during the week, a list of 100 words is placed where the student may study them. Sometime during the week the students will be given an opportunity to test their proficiency in a written lesson upon fifty of these words. And woe to the one who fails to spell the required ninety-eight per cent. If the victims are so unlucky as to fall below that fateful ninety-eight, alas, he is transferred to the awkward squad. The awkward squad meets on Friday of the sixth week and at the end of the term. Two hundred words are then given and he is required to spell 196. If he is able to do this he has redeemed himself and is again admitted to the ranks of the favored; but if he fails he must stay among the ranks of the unfortunates until he is able to spell the required number.

Mr. Burk is the first and only instructor at K. S. A. C. to conduct these classes in spelling. He started the classes in the spring term of last year in an attempt to remedy the poor spelling among the students.

MURPHY IS INTERESTED

Former Instructor in Chemistry
Writes from Hibbing, Minn.

R. V. Murphy, formerly instructor in chemistry at the Kansas State Agricultural college, writes to the Collegian from Hibbing, Minnesota. He says in part:

"I am following the progress of the football team with considerable interest, and look toward a very successful season for them."

Mr. Murphy was one of the popular college instructors last year who resigned to continue his studies in his chosen field.

LIBRARY HAS NEW BOOKS

Several Sets of Standard Fiction Recently Purchased.

Several sets of standard fiction recently purchased by the library are an important addition to that section of the library.

Some of the new books are: Bret Harte's novels and stories, the works of Gautier, Waverly novels by Scott, the Novels of Balzac, complete works of Guy de Maupassant, and the complete writings of James Whitcomb Riley.

These books have been secured that the library might have a more complete list of standard literary works.

CROWDING IN MAIN HALL CAUSES WASTE OF TIME

ALSO FURNISHES STIFF WORKOUT FOR FOOTBALL MEN.

These Are Some of the Opinions of Prominent Faculty Members—Believe Something Should be Done
To Eliminate Congestion.

"Don't put a stop to the pushing and crowding in Anderson Hall. It furnishes a good stiff workout for the football men."

With the exception of the foregoing statement by a member of the athletic department, the professors and others of the faculty are unanimous in their opinions that something definite should be done immediately to eliminate the congestion which occurs daily in Anderson hall in connection with the securing of mail. The hall is too narrow to accommodate the large number of students who gather there at certain times of the day.

Suggestions as to just what method should be employed to handle the situation, if something definite is to be done, were numerous. Some think that traffic rules alone would be successful, while others suggest that railings be put in the hallway near the postoffice to compel students to keep to the right.

Many expressed the opinion that the girls do more to obstruct traffic by their persistent loitering in the alcove near their boxes than do the boys. It is true that the boys have more room than the girls, but that is no excuse for girls to stand in their alcove long enough to read a letter, or gossip about their feminine affairs.

What the Profs Think.

Following is what some of those interviewed had to say:

J. T. Willard, dean of the division of general science: "It would be a splendid idea to have some system for the passing of students through Anderson hall. The hall is too narrow and some plan should be arranged for caring for the traffic. I would suggest that the custodian try to devise some plan."

E. H. Reisner, associate professor of education: "It is obvious that there is need of organization in connection with the transit of students through Anderson hall and some student traffic regulations should be made and enforced. There is lots of time wasted in passing through the building. Such congestion as exists affords considerable opportunity for the development of unpleasant situations."

J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics: "The disorder in Anderson at certain times is unnecessary. Something should be done to prevent such congestion. It is the best place in the world to show good breeding, which is chiefly consideration for others. Nobody has a right to stand in the hall and visit where they will obstruct traffic. I believe that the girls are more persistent in violating traffic rules than the boys."

J. R. MacArthur, professor of the English language: "I know the much congestion does exist in Anderson hall, and I think it highly desirable to have such conditions remedied if a satisfactory plan can be found for so doing."

The pupils of Miss Fanchion Easter, assistant in piano, gave a private recital Thursday afternoon.

BASKETBALL PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHTEST IN YEARS

FOUR LETTER MEN HAVE ANSWERED
THE FIRST CALL.

Last Year's Freshman Squad Furnishes
Some Promising Material—Aggies to Be Strong Contenders for Championship.

Basketball practice began this week with the brightest outlook in years. Four letter men, Captain MacMillan, Reynolds, Van Trine and Cushman, have already answered the first call for material. Last year's prize freshman squad will offer the best first year men available here for many seasons.

Of the new men, Fullington, Kecker and Knostman are making the best showing. Fullington is a rangy center with a good eye for goals. He was captain of last year's yearling five, and is one of the strongest candidates for the center position. His closest competitor will probably be Knostman, who is also good at the goal shooting part of the great indoor game. Kecker is a speedy forward who will make three varsity forwards work hard for their positions.

Two Candidates for Guard.

Football is now holding the attention of two of the strongest candidates for Captain MacMillan's running mate at guard. Wells, who is starring at fullback, was an all-state guard when he played for Wichita high school. Pushing Wells closely on the dope chart for the other guard position is Clark, now playing the Aggie eleven.

Practice is now under the supervision of Coach Bauer and Captain MacMillan. As soon as the football season closes, Coach Clevenger will shift his attention to basketball, and will attempt to lead the Aggie five on to a Missouri valley championship.

The dope available on the other five in the conference gives the Clevenger basketball team a good chance at the title. Kansas was weak last year and will not have a championship contender this year. Nebraska graduated three regulars and will have to depend on last year's substitutes and freshmen. Ames, Drake and Washington have teams of only average ability.

As was the case last year, much opposition will come from the Missouri Tigers. Although the Missourians will be without the expert coaching of Van Ghent, the wealth of material at the Columbia school forecasts a strong team. From the present dope, should the Aggies succeed in trimming the Missourians, the valley championship is quite likely to crown the efforts of the Clevenger five.

DEAN JOHNSON'S FATHER DIES.

Death Due to Heart Failure—Was One of Minnesota's Pioneers.

August Johnson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, father of Edward C. Johnson, director of the Extension service of the agricultural college, died at his home in Minneapolis, Monday from heart failure. He was one of Minnesota's pioneers, having farmed in southern Minnesota for years. In recent years he has lived in Minneapolis. He is survived by Mrs. Johnson, five sons and two daughters. Director Johnson left Tuesday afternoon for Minneapolis. He expects to return Sunday.

GIRLS WILL PLAY HOCKEY College Classes Hold Matches Next Week.

The girls' teams for interclass hockey will be chosen this week, so that the matches can be started next week. A team will represent the freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes.

Since there are but a few senior girls taking physical training work, any senior girl who can play hockey will be permitted to try out to play on the senior team.

The outdoor games for the girls, of which hockey is the feature, are under the instruction of Miss Ethel Loring and Miss Ann Cahoon, a graduate of Milwaukee Downey college with a master's degree in physical training from Wisconsin university, who is taking Miss Enyart's places in the department.

"We hope to get hockey so well organized and developed that we can award numerals to those who show proficiency," says Miss Loring. "In the east it is considered one of the major sports and the girls are allowed honors for it."

Everyone in the physical training classes are obliged to play it if they can. Those who find hockey too strenuous play other outdoor games. Tennis could not play a part in the outdoor games of this term because the new courts have not been finished.

HEPPE WILL ADDRESS JOURNALISM SEMINAR

Editor of Daily Mercury Will Tell
How Associated Press Handles
Election Returns

How the Associated Press will handle the election returns will be explained and discussed in detail by Ralph H. Heppe, senior in journalism, city editor of the Manhattan Daily Mercury, who will address the journalism seminar at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Mr. Heppe has been the Associated Press correspondent for this division makes up total computations and ready he will receive the results of the twenty-seven precincts in Riley county over a special wire in the Mercury office, make up totals and special reports to send to the state office.

More than two hundred forms have been received by the A. P. correspondents to be used on election day. Some new methods of management will increase the efficiency in handling the election returns this year, according to Mr. Heppe.

The efficiency with which the press receives results from every city and remote rural community and just what candidates will receive majorities, has made it possible to predict with almost absolute certainty just what candidates will receive majority votes soon after election. Without this service of the press, it would be weeks before the same information would be available.

Mr. Heppe entered upon practical newspaper work with the Mercury as a reporter during his sophomore year in college. After six months of reporting he became telegraph editor. A vacancy at the city editor's desk a year ago gave him an opportunity and since that time he has been both city editor and telegraph editor. He is also president of the local chapter of the Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism fraternity.

J. W. Searson, professor of the English language, has returned from an extended trip in Nebraska and Idaho.

The Eurodelphian and Webster literary societies will have a joint hike Friday night.

HOMECOMING DAY.

Homecoming Day, November 11, is an invitation to every alumnus, to every father and mother of an Aggie student, to every prospective Aggie student, and to every Kansan who pays taxes for the upkeep of K. S. A. C., to come to Manhattan to renew acquaintances with Aggie students. More than a thousand visitors should crowd the city on that day. But these visitors cannot be brought without an effort. Letters and invitations should be going into the home of every prospective visitor. Have you sent any? Are you helping to make this day a success?

TWIST THAT TIGER'S TAIL.

Now for Missouri! The Aggies outplayed K. U. and have found themselves. Fear of the regular Kansas luck had most of the players scared. But there is none of the "huck ague" against the Missouri Tigers. The Aggies last year battled the Columbia eleven to a 0 to 0 tie. While Missouri has a good team this year, the Aggies have improved wonderfully. A big crowd and plenty of rooting will enable this year's Aggies to "twist the Tiger's tail."

The ever-present Sir Richard Rutherford, dean of Missouri valley scouts, was watching the game from the press box Saturday. After expressing his opinion in favor of the Aggie in the K. U.-K. S. A. C. conflict, the great Nebraska star made this assertion to sports writer concerning the coming Nebraska-Kansas game:

"Kansas won't have a chance, as you wager that Nebraska will win by 20 points, and lose, I would almost feel like repaying you for the loss from my own pocket."

The game at Lawrence Saturday was the acme of clean football. Only ten yards of penalties, which fell to the Kansans for off-sides, were assessed during the entire game. Not a player was injured to any extent. Not only did the officials fail to catch any rough work, but the rabid fans, willing to call every opposing player for the slightest hint of roughness, did not once raise a kick in any decision. The game was the height of both clean football, and accurate officiating.

The K. U. game has come and gone and for the first time in history, no side has been victor. There are many "ifs" where sideline experts saw a chance for both teams to score, but never once was either goal seriously threatened. The presence of the Kansans on the four-yard line sent quivers into the hearts of many an Aggie rooter, but those who had seen the Cleveland defense successfully withstand the Nebraska charges from the one-yard line, felt almost certain the Kansans would be hurled back. The Aggie record of having but one touchdown scored against them this season by straight football speaks well for the men who compose the Aggie defense.

HELL ON THE RIO GRANDE

Leo Zentz, member of the machine gun company, Fourth Infantry, of the national guard, was one of the boys who spent the summer on the border. The climate and the country made such an impression upon him that he was inspired to write the following poem, which he named "Hell on the Rio Grande." The poem speaks for itself:

The devil, we're told, in hell was chained,
And a thousand years he there remained.
He never complained, nor did he groan,
But determined to start a hell of his own.
Where he could torment the souls of men,
Without being chained in a prison pen;
So he asked the Lord if He had on hand
Anything left when He made the land.

The Lord said: "Yes, I had plenty on hand,
But I left it down on the Rio Grande.
The fact is, old boy, the stuff is so poor,
I don't think you could use it in hell any more."
But the devil went down to look at the truck,
And said if it came as a gift he was stuck;
For after examining it carefully and well,
He concluded the place was too dry for hell.

So, in order to get it off his hands,
The Lord promised the devil He'd water the lands;
For He had some water, or rather, some dregs,
A regular cathartic that smelled like bad eggs;
Hence the deal was closed, and the deed was given,
And the Lord went back to His home in heaven.
And the devil then said, "I have all that is needed
To make a good hell," and hence he succeeded.

He began to put thorns on all of the trees,
And he mixed the sand with millions of fleas;
He scattered trantulas along the roads,
Put thorns on the cacti and horns on the toads;
He lengthened the horns of the Texas steers,
And he put an addition on jackrabbits' ears;
And he put a little devil in the broncho steed,
And he poisoned the feet of the centipede.

The rattlesnake bites you; the scorpions sting;
The mosquito delights you with buzzing wings;
The sandburs prevail, and so do the ants;
Those who sit down need half-soles on their pants.
The devil then said that throughout the land
He managed to keep up the devil's own brand.
And all would be mavericks unless they bore
The marks of scratches and bites by the score.

The heat in the summer is a hundred and ten—
Too hot for the devil and too hot for men.

The wild bear roams through the black chaparral;
It's a hell of a place he has for hell.
The red pepper grows on the banks
The Mexicans use it in all that they do of the brook;
Just dine with a greaser and then you will shout:
"It's hell on the inside as well as on the out!"

Thy Pie, the Girl, and I.
I stand in line at noon each day,
With knife, and fork, and spoon, and tray;
But when I get about half way—
The pie is out.

I hold the line with eager ear
When calling up some little dear;
But usually 'tis this I hear—
"The girl is out!"

I sign the line that maidens thrust
Before my face; I feel I must.
Yet always find to my disgust
That I am out!

And that is why I fume and shout;
And that is what it's all about;
And that is why I'm goin' to scout—
The pie, the girl, and I am out.

WHIPPLE LOST IN GERMANY.

Has Not Been Heard From Since Outbreak of War.

No one has received word from A. D. Whipple, '98, in charge of the interests of the Bell Telephone company in Germany, since the outbreak of the European war. In addition, his friends are advised that the receipt of letters might be a source of embarrassment to him.

The following letter has been received by Miss Minnie E. Copeland, '98, concerning a letter which she had addressed to him:

"Dear Madam:
"A letter from you addressed to Mr. A. D. Whipple has been forwarded by the postal authorities to this office. I do not know of any way in which it would be possible to secure the delivery of a letter to Mr. Whipple. He is actually at present in Antwerp, where he and Mr. Clayton are in charge of the American interests in the Bell Telephone Manufacturing company. We never receive letters from them and do not write them, but we have heard from time to time that both are well. Their resources are ample and I do not think there is any reason to believe that they are likely to experience any special hardships, although living conditions in Antwerp cannot be very agreeable.

"Possibly you will find on inquiry from the postal authorities in the United States that there is some way by which letters can reach Antwerp, assuming, of course, that they were to contain nothing objectionable to the censorship.
"My own impression is, however, that unless there is something of considerable importance, it would be better not to try to communicate with Mr. Whipple until after the war, as there seems a possibility that the receipt of letters might be a source of embarrassment to him.
"Yours faithfully,
"F. H. WILKINS."

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

A. R. Elliott, state W. M. C. A. secretary for colleges, spent a few hours here last Tuesday. Mr. Elliott is a graduate of the University of Illinois. He was assistant secretary of the college there before being called to his present position in Kansas. Mr. Elliott is a relative of Dad Elliott, who is well known among the student body here.

The meeting held at the Y. M. last Tuesday night was well attended. The Bible study secretary for the Y. M. C. A., was the speaker for the evening.

The Y. M. C. A. will co-operate with the local committee in the coming McConnell meetings, that are to be held here from November 12 to December 10. This may mean that the regular Thursday evening meetings will be postponed until after the revival meetings are over.

Pi Beta Phi Hallowe'en Party.

A delightful Hallowe'en surprise party was given the Pi Betas, when Mrs. F. A. McConnell, matron of the sorority, served a buffet Hallowe'en supper Tuesday evening. The girls were greeted as they entered the basement door by slimy handed ghouls who ushered them down to a very attractively weird looking room, where witches, black cats and bats were numerous. In the center of the serving table was a witch's cauldron filled with burnt scraps of paper on each of which was written the fortune of a girl. These were marked by yellow ribbons leading to place cards. The freshmen, who assisted in serving, were dressed as ghosts, and the hostess was attired in a white witch's costume. During the meal, Hallowe'en stunts and stories were given by the ghosts.

Wondering.

Jes' a sittin' here at night
A-thinkin' lots of things,
What a lot of different thoughts
An hour like this one brings!

Wonder 'n' what the folks at home
Are doin' 'long 'bout now,
Wonder if they all are there;
They sure are, I vow.

Wonder if my best girl is home
Or if she has a date
With one of the fellows in town,
And if she's stayin' out late.

Wonder if my dad'll send
That check I want next week,
Or I'll have to soak my watch
To settle these who seek.

Wonder if I'll flunk that quiz
I have at 8 o'clock—
I've wasted all my time right here
And I've myself to knock.

MUSIC WITH THEIR MEALS

Cafeteria Diners Entertained by Victrola Concerts.

With the co-operation of the musical department, victrola concerts are being given at the cafeteria on Monday evenings. Grand opera, voice, and popular selections make up an interesting program for the cafeteria diners, which has the added advantage of being educational.

If the concerts are appreciated and it is possible to sustain the added expense, they will become a permanent Monday evening feature.

The number of meals served a day at the cafeteria this fall is between seven and eight hundred, an increase of about two hundred over the number of diners last spring term.

The prices at the cafeteria have not been increased as yet. Bulk buying has enabled Miss Treat to keep the prices the same as they were in the spring, but she is unable to say when an increase in some of the prices will be necessary.

BRAZELTON LEADS IN CONTEST.

Has Had the Most Published in the Industrialist.

J. S. Brazelton, senior in the general science course, leads in the journalism contest, which is being conducted by Frank L. Snow, instructor in the journalism department. Mr. Brazelton has had 66.5 column inches of news stories published in the Industrialist, the official college paper.

Miss Georgiana Burt, special in general science, is second in the contest with 44 column inches to her credit; and H. M. Birks, a junior in agriculture, is third, having had 29 column inches published.

The contest closes at the end of the fall term and the student who is in the lead at that time will be given his choice of a subscription to the Country Gentleman, the Breeders' Gazette or the Field.

Second and third prizes are leather and cloth bound books of synonyms.

OLD BISCUIT BAKING CONTEST

Winner Gets Free Trip to State Institute at Manhattan.

A biscuit baking contest, in which the one who ranked first won a trip to the state institute at Manhattan, with all expenses paid, was one of the features of the Randall Farm and Festival week, which Miss Alice Poulter, specialist in domestic science, was called upon to judge.

The community work in Jewell county is well organized under A. D. Folker, and nearly every community in the county has had a "Farm, Home and School" festival this fall. Miss Frances L. Brown, director of home economics extension work, lectured and judged at the Jewell City festival, and Miss Poulter also attended and lectured at the Erving township gathering.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the final festival will be held at the county seat, Mankato, and all the communities will attend. Miss Brown will attend and lecture, summing up the work of the entire county. Miss Cora Lanham, of the Rural Service department, is giving pageant training given a special course in wood-pagant which will be produced by her on the last day of the festival.

PROF. CARLSON URGES METRIC SYSTEM FOR U. S.

IT IS NOW BEING USED IN MANY LARGE FACTORIES.

The Adoption of This System Would Also Stimulate Trade with the South American Countries Says Carlson.

"One of the great ultimate benefits that is likely to result from the unusual demands made upon American factories today, will be the familiarity of American draftmen and mechanics with European systems of measurements," says Professor Carlson, superintendent of shops at the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"The American, in all of his industrial and commercial transactions," continues Professor Carlson, "has become so accustomed to the use of yards, feet and inches, that he has felt himself incapable of thinking or working in any other sphere. The huge profits to be made from the manufacture of supplies for the warring nations, has been sufficient to overcome his prejudice, and today, in hundreds of factories in the United States, thousands of workmen are measuring in metric units just as accurately and more efficiently than with the cumbersome English system formerly used.

"It may be thought by some that only ammunition is being made for the European countries, but that is a mistake, as many of the large orders are for locomotives, lathes, milling machines, boring mills, and tools of all descriptions, as well as all kinds of fabricated steel work, such as cranes, structural steel rails, and etc. The specifications and drawings for these articles are made in the metric system. These drawings can be worked over and changed to English units, but such a change would involve considerable expense, and in the end would only aggravate the case, as will be corroborated by one large manufacturer of locomotives, who tried to change the metric drawings to the English. After partly completing the change, this large builder found it a better plan to educate his workmen to the French system, than to translate the plans.

It Is Easy.
"The only surprise about workmen handling the metric system after having years of experience with the English, is the ease with which they have accustomed themselves to the use of the new standards, and the wonderful simplicity of making all measurements when it is once learned. This statement is in substance the result of an investigation of factory systems made by the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce.

"One of the opportunities open to the industries of the United States at the present time, is to strenuously endeavor to gain a hold upon the business of the South American countries. South American business has been largely with Europe, previous to the war, and now is temporarily abandoned because of Europe's warring activities. The importance of a serious consideration of the use of the metric system is very manifest in this connection as many of the South American countries will not allow goods to pass their custom houses unless marked in the metric system.

"We should do all possible to supply this demand while the opportunity awaits us, and one of the vital factors which will influence our success will be in supplying these people with something so much better than what they have been used to, that when the war ends, and the remaining people once more get close to the wheels of industry, we will stand a good show of doing business.

"No doubt there would result considerable confusion and loss at first, changing from the English to the metric system, but the ultimate gain would more than offset any loss that might result. The troubles that are expected to follow the adoption of the metric system throughout are like those that cause us the most worry—those that never happen."

WILL GIVE THE "MESSIAH."

Music Department Will Give Famous Production December 17.

The "Messiah," by Handel, will be given at the Kansas State Agricultural college, December 17, according to Arthur Westbrook, professor of music.

"The 'Messiah' will be given for the benefit of the people of Kansas," said Mr. Westbrook. "The churches of the city will combine and will aid the music department in giving this production."

The choruses of Randolph and Clay Center will combine with the city chorus and several soloists of Chicago will assist.

The participants of the "Messiah" have been studying for the past year and it promises to be quite an advantage for the students to hear something well worth while. There will be no admission charged.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

ZANGWILL'S GREAT PLAY WILL BE GIVEN TONIGHT

"THE MELTING POT" IS THIRD NUMBER ON LYCEUM COURSE.

Has a Strong Cast of Nine Players —It is one of the Most Successful American Plays.

The Melting Pot, the one big realistic American play of the age, which will be given here tonight, is the third big feature of the lyceum course.

No play ever presented for the lyceum has had such a strong cast of players. The parts in this play require the services of the most accomplished and experienced actors. Nearly all of the players engaged for this tour have played the same parts during the long run of this play in the larger cities. There are nine players in the cast.

"The Melting Pot" is a great drama with an interesting story, but it is vastly more than an entertaining production. Mr. Zangwill symbolizes our land as the melting pot of the world. Into this crucible, beneath which burn the fires of our political and social philosophy, refugees from all parts of the earth, men and women oppressed by the arbitrary dictum of crime and religion, are poured, to be fused and amalgamated into the sterling gold of a broader, nobler humanity and a self-governed nation.

The theme is set forth in words that burn with the spirit-white fire of genius, and the chief role of Quixano is as if he were indeed the consecrated prophet of the New. The "Pioneer on the Road to Happiness," a flame with divine inspiration.

The play is a tense drama of the thoughts that are seething in the brains of thinking men and women, full of interest that is vital and virile and appealing, is Zangwill's prophetic visions of America's future as the crucible in which the remnants of old nations shall be melted to form a new race. It is wonderfully and beautifully told.

A BOTANY INSTRUCTOR RESIGNS.

C. S. Hoar Goes to Williams College in Massachusetts.

C. S. Hoar, of the department of botany, has resigned to take a position in Williams college, Williamstown, Mass. Mr. Hoar's opportunities for promotion and salary are greater at Williams college than he would have had here.

E. H. Toole of the University of Wisconsin, is Mr. Hoar's successor in the department of botany. Mr. Toole took his bachelor and master degrees at the university of Wisconsin, receiving the latter degree last spring. Mr. Toole has served as student assistant in the department of botany in Wisconsin university for the past two years, and comes with the highest recommendations from that botanical staff.

"Mr. Toole is in all prospects a worthy and competent successor to Mr. Hoar, whose services to the department here, as well as his agreeable, gentlemanly personality, have made him deservedly well liked," said Professor Roberts of the department of botany.

FRESHMEN PADDLE TWO SOPHS.

Second Year Men Invade the Yearling's Social Function.

Two sophomores were given a warm reception Friday evening when they invaded the gymnasium where the freshmen were holding their fall social and dance.

The sophs managed to slip by the reception committee and mingled with the crowd, but it was soon discovered that they did not wear the freshman brand. Consequently, they were forced to take off their coats and run the gauntlet, ham-like freshman hands being used instead of paddles. The marauders were then forced to wear their coats inside out and were permitted to remain if they so desired.

One of the sophs did not relish his taste of "hot hand" however, and very unceremoniously "beat it." The other took his chastisement like a good fellow, remained with the freshmen and enjoyed himself.

R. L. Mosier has resigned as captain adjutant of the military cadet corps on account of leaving school. A. M. Harvey has been promoted to this position.

AN OLD GRAD VISITS COLLEGE.

Dr. C. S. Evans, '96, One of Founders of Student Paper.

Dr. C. S. Evans, '96, first lieutenant medical department of the Kansas National Guard, was a visitor on the campus Saturday. Dr. Evans and several other students of his time were the founders of the Student's Herald. The Student's Herald has changed names twice and it is now called the Kansas State Collegian.

Dr. Evans said that the Kansas State Collegian is a vast improvement over the Student's Herald as he knew it.

The Student's Herald, according to Dr. Evans, had its beginning in an old stone house on the corner of Eighth and Fremont streets.

WILL KNOW WHO IS NEXT PRESIDENT BY MIDNIGHT

City Editor of Manhattan Daily Mercury Tells How Election Returns are Handled.

"Flash....." Thousands of weary telegraph operators throughout the United States at the terminals points of 47,000 miles of Associated Press wire, will respond to that signal tonight, perhaps before midnight, and eagerly interpret the dots and dashes which tell who will be tip next chief executive.

"Flash" coming over the Associated Press wire in a newspaper office has a wonderful effect," said Ralph H. Heppie, senior in journalism, city editor of the Manhattan Daily Mercury, and Associated Press correspondent. "It tightens up the lagging nerves of the telegraph operators, quickens the senses of newswriters and sends editors hurrying to the make up room.

"Flash is the signal that another country is at war, another king deposed, another Lusitania sunk, or another president of the United States elected. It is the signal of a world event."

Behind the single operator in the central office of the Associated Press at New York City, with 47,000 miles of regular and special wires attached to his key, who will be able to send out a safe prediction as to who will be elected president, within three hours after the polls have closed on the Pacific coast, there is the almost wonderful efficiency of a great system.

"From the 'Paul Revere of the Backwoods'" explained Mr. Heppie, "to the correspondent in the city precincts, reports will be sent to the county office every hour. Riley county has 27 precincts and I will receive reports from them every hour."

"Totals will be made from these every hour and forwarded to the state office at Topeka. Here totals will also be made and sent to the district office in Kansas City every half hour. From the district office, receiving reports from several states, reports will go to the central office at New York City every fifteen minutes."

"Every fifteen minutes, the operator at the key in the New York City office will send reports to all of the papers who are paying for the service. The prediction if the Associated Press will perhaps be made sometime before midnight."

"An interesting feature of the reports that we must send is that in our hourly reports we send results on votes for president, governor and secretary of state. None other are sent until the final count is in."

CROSS COUNTRY WINNERS WILL BE GIVEN MEDALS

THE FINAL RACES WILL BE HELD NEXT SATURDAY.

Gymnasium Classes Offer an Opportunity for All College Men to Compete in Athletic Contests.

Next Saturday while the crowd is gathering for the football game the finals for the cross country races will be started. Fifteen minutes before the football game is called the runners will start from the Ahearn field.

There are 15 men entered for this race at present. They will run five miles, and the winner of the race will receive a gold medal. Second man will receive a silver medal, and the third man will receive a bronze medal.

The gold medal is being presented by the Askren Jewelry company, the silver medal by the Rogers barber shop, and the bronze medal by Kittell Clothing company. These medals are known as the Askren, Rogers and Kittell cross country medals. The finish of the races will be at the football field.

In addition to the cross country races the physical training department conducts regular gymnasium classes. There are 40 men enrolled in the school of agriculture classes, but not so many men are taking advantage of the opportunity to take this work in the college classes. Only 23 college men are taking this work.

There are Eight Classes.

Eight classes meet every week, and athletic and gymnastic contests are held. There are two gymnasium teams at present, and in the game contests the team winning makes 100 points. In the gymnasium contest the points are given to the individuals.

A class of intramural artists are working out on the apparatus and will demonstrate their work before the student body some time this winter. Some of the men of last year's gym team are among this group. It may be possible that a contest will be held with some other school in this work, but no definite arrangements have been made as yet.

In addition to the regular gym work there are boxing classes which meet three times a week. Eighteen men are taking this work under the instruction of W. G. Bruce.

Swimming classes are held on Wednesday and Friday. On one of these days beginners try to master the art of staying somewhere near the surface of the water, and on the other day those who have mastered the art try to get to the bottom of the pool.

It is planned to have a full roster of classes next term and those men who want to build up a strong body will find a chance to do it at the gymnasium.

Dinner Guests at Beta House.

The Beta Theta Pi fraternity, 1615 Fairchild avenue, entertained at dinner Sunday for the following faculty members and their wives: Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. Z. G. Clevenger, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Ahearn and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merrill.

THERE IS A NEW TYPE OF WILDCAT IN KANSAS

SO SAYS J. C. MOHLER, STATE SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

According to the Press, the Football Team of the Kansas Aggies is Comprised of this New Type.

A new and superior wilicat type has developed right here in Kansas, declared J. C. Mohler, secretary of the state board of agriculture, who addressed the assembly Friday morning on "Lynx Rufus."

"They are represented, according to the press, as comprising the football team of the Kansas Aggies and are noted for the many qualities identical to real wildcats," said Mr. Mohler.

"In regard to description they are about six feet long as they look to their opponents; weight about a ton each according to the man underneath; reach—a plenty; legs rather long; ears what is left of them, tufted; general color when not in action pink; in action, from pale to dark blue.

"Their heads are as hard as bullets, resembling a battering ram, with just enough bone to make them shapely and not enough to make them boneheads—a clear bright eye quick to detect the slightest movements, and chiefly centered on the oval, with due regard to ever shifting environments.

"Arms are developed through long training into great strength, are used principally in dashing their enemies to the earth with vigorous force, and promptly pouncing upon them in this prone position. Their great knotted, knarled arms are one of their best weapons of offense and protection, although their well muscled limbs carry them with great speed and force.

Range Not Limited to Kansas.

"The range of this new type of wilicat is not limited to Kansas alone although it has its home here. They go about during certain seasons if the year seeking whom they may devour. From September to Thanksgiving is their elimination season, at which time fierce fights are staged and only the fittest survive, thus assuring a permanent high standard in the development and prowess. For the other portions of the year they are as tame and harmless as a pet canary during its winter siesta. In fact, in talking with a young lady here this morning she informed me that one certain wilicat of which she knew was already so tame that he would eat out of her hand and follow her anywhere.

"Some of the habits of this new type of wilicat are very much like those of the Lynx Rufus, described in the nature library thus: 'when the wilicat hears the faintest noise he instantly crouches and plans to seize his victim at the first alarm. When out hunting the bobcat utters a wild scream from time to time; its object being to startle any creature into temporary inebrious destitute. This corresponds to the college yell of the Lynx Rufus.'

"Some of these wilcats are shy and exceedingly shy about showing themselves, but all are invariably savage fighters when cornered or defending territory which they may properly consider theirs, and of course animal like they project themselves into the territory of the enemy.

"While not over particular about their menu, their favorite food is the Jayhawk. One of the wildest of these particular wilcats seems to be Randall, although I understand there is plenty of competition for that distinction."

Mr. Mohler addressed the student assembly Friday morning under the auspices of Gamma Sigma Delta, an honorary agricultural fraternity of the college, having been initiated as a member of the organization Thursday evening.

BROWNING AND HAMPS TAKE FIRST IN DEBATE

These Two Societies Rank Highest in the Intersociety Contests Which Were Held Saturday.

"Resolved, that the United States government should enact a law providing for the subsidizing of a merchant marine upon the high seas," was the subject debated by the college literary societies in the intersociety contests Saturday. This question will be used in the tryouts which will be held the latter part of this week.

The girls' societies debated in the afternoon. The results of their debates were: Brownings won two, Eurodelphians won one and lost one, and the Ionians lost two.

The men's societies debated in the evening and made the following records: Hamiltons won two, Websters won one and lost one, the Athenians won one and lost one.

The mixed societies also debated the result being two losses for the Franklins and one lost and one win for the Alpha Betas, and the Forensics won one and lost one.

All the people debating were new at the work as no varsity debaters were allowed to participate. Many of the debaters of Saturday's fray will be on deck when the whistle blows for the tryouts for the college teams next Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The outlook is good for a close contest, which means a good varsity squad and that in turn victories for K. S. A. C. in this season's debates.

CADET PARAPHERNALIA HERE.

Shirts, Leggings and Gloves Came Saturday—Uniforms Expected Soon.

The first consignment of cadet paraphernalia including shirts, leggings, and gloves was received by the military department Saturday. These will not be issued, however, until the suits arrive.

The uniforms are overdue and are expected at any time. According to contract, they should have been here November 1. When the uniforms arrive, everything will be issued at one time.

SCABARD AND BLADE INITIATE.

Five Become Members of College Military Organization.

Scabard and Blade, the honorary military fraternity of the college, held initiation exercises for the following men Saturday night: E. N. Jordan, A. M. Harvey, W. H. Hiltz, Hobbs and W. H. (Cap.) Sanders.

Saturday afternoon the organization hiked to Rocky Ford where they spent the night and initiated the new men. Twenty-two members were present. Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of cadets, was the guest of honor.

MAKING PREPARATIONS FOR HOME-COMING DAY

FOOTBALL TEAM PUT THROUGH SOME HARD SCRIMMAGE.

Aggies Expect to Twist the Tiger's Tail—Indications Point to a Record Attendance—Pep Meeting Friday.

Aggie graduates from all parts of the country are expected to pour into Manhattan the latter part of this week to attend the second annual Homecoming day and to see the fighting Clevenger eleven "twist that Tiger's tail."

Plans for the big pep meeting Friday preceding the day of the game include talks by a number of former Aggie "K" men and by other prominent graduates of the school. "Fatty" McBride, cheer leader of the Aggie noise squad in 1913, will aid in working up the "Beat M. U." spirit.

Following the game Saturday afternoon the athletic association will give the annual Homecoming day dance in Nichols gymnasium. More than 200 couples attended last year's dance and an even larger attendance is expected this year.

If letters of inquiry received concerning the date of the game and the arrangements for the big day are any indications of the size of the crowd, the event should prove a large success. Letters have been received by Coach Clevenger, members of the faculty and students, and all point to a large attendance.

The promise of a hard game with the Missouri Tigers and a possibility of victory should prove a good drawing card to the alumni and friends of K. S. A. C. Missouri's team is far above the average this year, having a clear slate. The Aggies' sole defeat came from the hands of the strongest eleven in the Missouri valley and has not dampened the spirits of Clevenger's athletes.

Practice the past week has been light, due partly to the fact that the numerous trips had set some of the platoon booters back in their studies so that they were not prepared for the "mid-term" examinations, and also to the fact that the coaches feared the men would go stale in the two weeks between the Kansas and Missouri conflicts.

Coach Clevenger yesterday inaugurated the first of a series of hard scrimmages preparatory to the game with the Tigers. The special pointers learned during last week's light practice were put into play and Aggie followers may be surprised Saturday by a new array of Aggie formations and plays.

SOPHS ELIMINATED BY FROSH.

Better Team Work Wins for Yearlings—Juniors and Seniors Tie.

The sophomore eleven was eliminated from the class football championship race Saturday when the freshmen downed them under a 14 to 7 score. The first year men showed evidences of better team work than was possessed by the older team, the yearlings having practiced together almost all fall.

The junior-senior battle resulted in a scoreless game. The game may be played off some time this week, the date not having been decided upon as yet.

MISS BAYLES STRUCK BY AUTO.

Was Knocked Down and Bruised but not Seriously Hurt.

Esther Bayles, a student at the college was knocked down and bruised but not seriously hurt Thursday night when she attempted to cross the street at Ninth and Poyntz just ahead of an automobile. Her dress caught in the fender of the car and she was thrown to the pavement. The car which bore a Topeka license tag was stopped at once but as soon as it was found that Miss Bayles was unhurt, proceeded on its way and left by way of the Golden Belt Line.

Will Talk at Farm Institutes.

C. O. Swanson, associate professor of agricultural chemistry, and Miss Mary A. Poulter, specialist in home economics, division of college extension, left Monday for an extended trip over the state to speak at farmers' institutes. Professor Swanson will speak on the subject, "Problems in connection with Kansas Soil." Miss Poulter will discuss questions concerning the home.

DEPAUW AND HER FRESHMEN.

DePauw University offers a course called "How to study," open only to freshmen, and giving regular college credit. It is said that the scholastic standing of the class has undergone a marked improvement since the installation of the course.

This is one way of solving the problem suggested in the complaint frequently heard: "I flunked because I didn't learn how to study until after I had been here a year."

Some method of scholastic guidance for the freshman seems advisable. To have this officially provided by the institution, in a manner which is certain to have an effect, is undoubtedly better than other attempts which have been made in the same general direction.

The Big Brother plan may do some good along this line, although its primary object is different. Even so, it is scarcely reasonable to expect such a voluntary scheme, so vitally dependent upon so many individual personalities, to produce perfect results.

Perhaps DePauw is on the right track toward cutting down the number of freshmen who flunk out through sheer inexperience.

THE COUNTRY PLAN COMMISSION.

The board of administration has taken an important step by appointing a country planning commission for Kansas and, moreover, in placing upon it men of recognized ability in the special subjects important to permanent rural life.

For a long time to come, Kansas will be primarily an agricultural, a rural state and it is of the utmost importance that it develop its agricultural resources and its rural social resources to the best advantage. This will be assured through the co-operation of the citizens of the state and the new commission.

The commission, formed of members of the faculties of state institutions, will, besides, afford an opportunity for the schools to help in public service activities in the most economical and consistent manner. This is a most important feature of the educational work of all properly organized state institutions, and any step which aids in its development is a step toward the fulfillment of educational as well as general social ideals.

MORE COLLEGE WOMEN MARRY.

Coeds Beat Their Sisters in Game of Matrimony.

More college women marry than do others, although they are more deliberate about it, is the conclusion of A. L. Price, a university statistician, who has just finished cataloging graduates of the University of California.

According to Price's statistics compiled from the vital statistics of 10,249 alumni, 58 per cent of all women over the age of 15 are married, women graduates of the university beat that average by 6-10 of 1 per cent. "In spite of the fact," says Price "that university women are deliberate about entering upon careers of matrimony."

Price sees a tendency for college women to wed men out of the university. Three times as many women graduates have married men who do not hold degrees as have married university graduates.

The occupations of women graduates show that teaching is the only activity that can compete with matrimony. One out of every two women graduates from Berkeley is destined to matrimony, and one out of every three for pedagogy. Many of the latter, says Price, reach the altar eventually and leave the school room.

FOOTBALL BANK FOR WASHBURN

Novel Way to Support the Team is Announced.

A new plan for backing the Washburn football team has been planned by the college students and before long it has been announced, there will be a "football bank" in flourishing condition at the school. This bank is expected to have a capital of $1,000, subscribed by students, which will be loaned to students who want to borrow money in order to make the out-of-town trips with the football team.

It has been pointed out that many students are "short" of funds when the time comes for a trip with the football team and thus are unable to accompany their team into foreign territory. In order to give every student in the school a chance to go to the football games the new bank plans to loan from its capital without interest to students who want to follow the football athletes. The only condition to the loans will be that they must be backed by good security, it was announced.

"Bettinas Loved a Soldier."

Despite the "soldier" in its title and action there is no martial spirit in this exceptional photoplay. It is the cleverest sort of a comedy-drama with an engaging love story delightfully illustrated. Louise Lovely, Francella Billington, and Rupert Julian are supported by a select company. At the Marshall this afternoon and evening.

DON'T GIVE JOHN DYSPESIA.

He Will do Fine on Well Made Pastries Says Miss Treat.

Does John eat pie for dinner? Is he a victim of dyspepsia? If so the trouble may be due entirely to the manner in which the pastry is made.

Accuracy in measurements is the first essential in making good pastry, in the opinion of Miss Nola Treat, manager of the cafeteria in the Kansas State Agricultural college. Cooks who depend on luck are doomed to disappointment.

Have all ingredients measured before starting to combine them, is the advice of Miss Treat. Use only cold lard cut into pastry flour by cutting horizontally with two knives. When these two ingredients have been thoroughly combined add just enough ice water so that the pastry can be handled easily. Too much water makes a tough, undesirable crust. Roll very thin, bake in a moderate oven and the result will be a pie that will melt in "his" mouth and which will cause no pangs of indigestion.

"The Suspect."

Featuring the screen favorite Anita Stewart. This is a drama of Russian intrigues and artlessness and affords Miss Stewart an opportunity for tense emotionalism, such as no other vehicle has ever afforded. See this attractive film at the Marshall Wednesday afternoon and evening.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

'Tis Quite Important at Times and Makes Some Difference.

To the casual observer it would not appear that the name of a play or book would make a great deal of difference but in at least one instance it had everything to do with whether or not the good people of Kansas would be allowed to witness the first production created by an organization bearing the name of a woman star, namely, The Clara Kimball Young Film Corporation's maiden effort, "The Common Law," featuring Miss Clara Kimball Young.

The Kansas State Board of Censors would have none of this play under the name of "The Common Law," and as the management of the production believed "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet" very obligingly changed the name to "His Lawful Wife," under which title it will be presented here, now that the quims of the Censors have been appeased, at the Marshall Theatre on Thursday and Friday next. "The Common Law" wherever shown has been a veritable triumph and "His Lawful Wife," it's alias, should do as well here.

FARM INSTITUTES A SUCCESS.

Fifty-two Kansas Communities Hold Them in Cooperation With College.

Fifty-two Kansas communities report successful farm and home institute meetings held in cooperation with the extension division of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

From October 9 to 21 eight specialists in agriculture and six specialists in home economics were engaged in institute work. During that time 53 organizations held meetings, 18 of which provided for two day programs while 34 held one day conferences.

A total of 139 sessions were conducted in the course of the two week circuit with an attendance of 11,736, making an average of 84 persons at each session. This is eight more than the average attendance at institute sessions last year. In addition to the regular sessions, 19 street and high school meetings were attended by 2,895 persons—an average of 152 at each meeting.

Mahaska held the banner institute of the circuit with an attendance of 815. Others of note were Clyde with an attendance of 760 and Hanover with an attendance of 750.

FARM AND HOME WEEK IN FEB.

Visitors Will be Entertained From 5th to 10th.

Preliminary announcement of the annual Farm and Home week, which will be held at the Kansas State Agricultural college February 5 to 10 instead of in the Christmas holiday period, indicates that the program will be unusually strong. Between 2,000 and 2,500 persons are expected to attend—men, women, and children.

Features of interest are being arranged for every member of the family. Music furnished by the department of music, the college band, orchestra, and glee club, will be added attractions not available in vacation time.

Classes in agriculture will include study of soils, crops, live stock, dairying, cream station operation, poultry production, diseases of animals, fruit growing, gardening, crop judging, and live stock judging. There will be separate classes for men and boys.

COLLEGE—DOES IT PAY?

Kansas Statistics of Farmers' Incomes are Interesting.

Statistics sometimes teach wholesome lessons. A recent example in the survey made of 100 Kansas farms. According to the figures, the farmer with a high-school education is making 70 per cent more profit than his neighbor with only a common school education, while the college graduate is earning an income so much greater than that of either that he is frankly in a class by himself. However much the public may be surprised to learn of such a wide divergence, their amazement will probably not surpass that of the farmers themselves, who, it is said, before the survey had no idea that education could make such a difference in the value of agricultural effort. The survey would seem to be one more practical answer to the popular question. Does it pay to go to college?

"The Storm."

Blanche Sweet takes the leading part in this unusual picture. The role is singularly suited to the fresh, pleasing manner and talent and experience of Miss Sweet. Much strength is given to the cast by Theodore Roberts and Thomas Meigham. At the Wareham theatre Thursday.

MANY CONVICTS ARE STUDENTS

Two Hundred Are Enrolled in Home Study Department of College.

Nearly 200 convicts are students in the home study department of the Kansas Agricultural college.

An old barn at the state prison at Lansing is being converted into a shop where trades will be taught, such as carpentry and building, blacksmithing, steam boilers and engines, plumbing, gasoline engines and practical electricity. Nearly 80 students send in regular lessons. Excellent work is being done and the convicts express appreciation of the opportunity to study.

One prisoner who took the course in steam and gas engines while in the Kansas prison was, at the expiration of sentence turned over to the authorities of Colorado, where he is now serving a term for having broken parole before coming to Kansas.

This man, because of the knowledge gained through correspondence study is handling a steam shovel and doing efficient work with it in road building.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

Double Quartette.

The Young Woman's Christian association has organized a double quartette. The association has felt the need of more music in the regular weekly meetings as the meetings now take the form of an afternoon vesper service. The girls who make up the double quartette are representatives of both upper and lower classmen. This feature will be permanent and it is so planned that there will be some members left over from year to year and new members may take the places of those graduating. The association has secured the services of Miss Mae Carley of the department of music, who will train the singers. The girls who will comprise the double quartette this year are: Miss Leona Teichgraber, Miss Pauline Richards, Miss Amy Lamberson, Miss Mildred Batchelor, Miss Mary Dakin, Miss Lois Bellomy, Miss Helen Winne, and Miss Ruth Rathbone. Miss Josephine Allis will act as accompanist.

The Y. W. C. A. will observe World Fellowship week, an international movement, beginning Monday, November 13. The movement is for the purpose of getting in touch with the world student outlook. The meetings will be held each day of next week from 1 to 1:20 in room 26, in the home economics hall.

A tea will be served Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 when the organization will study Japan and China. Mrs. J. H. Melchers, wife of Professor Melchers, will address the meeting. Mrs. Melchers has been in city association work the past few years and will have some real experience to relate. She will conduct the story hour while the young ladies in costume, serve tea.

Will Meet Thursday.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its regular meetings at 4:30 next Thursday in the rest room of the home economics building. Four of the active members will lead the meeting. They will describe the work the association is doing in college and will endeavor to give the new members a clearer insight into the purpose of the organization. Misses Mary Dakin, Helen Winne, Louise Ziller, and Madge Thompson will be the speakers. The double quartette is planning to sing.

ANSWER BOOK READY.

Supplement to "Agricultural Arithmetic" Ready for Press.

The answer book to the "Agricultural Arithmetic" by Professors Stratton and Remick, has been completed and is now ready for the press. All the data has been secured and it will be only a short time until the book may be had. The absence of the answers to the problems has caused considerable inconvenience to many. The "Agricultural Arithmetic" is used as a text in the school of agriculture and as a supplementary text in many high schools in the state and in other states.

JERSEY COW COMES TO COLLEGE

She Pays Board of Owner's Son and $20 Besides.

A Jersey cow, the property of H. F. Erdley of Hiawatha, has an intrinsic value of $300, but it would not be possible to buy her from Mr. Erdley for several times that amount.

A year ago this fall, Mr. Erdley sent his son John to Manhattan to attend the Kansas State Agricultural college, and he sent this cow with him. John took the cow to a Manhattan man who fed it, used the milk and in return gave the boy his room and board.

The beard was figured as being worth $17 a month. At the end of the school year, after figuring in all expenses, the Manhattan man now figures that he is $20 to the good.

This year, Mr. Erdley sent his son to school and with him three cows; all sisters of the one who came to college last year, and the boy now expects to return home a capitalist.

GOV'T. CRITICIZES THE COLLEGE.

Says There is Lack of Facilities for Study of Chemistry.

That the Kansas State Agricultural college has been criticized by the federal government for its lack of facilities to properly carry on the work in the chemistry of silage foods, stock foods, and agricultural products, is pointed out in the biennial report of the board of administration. "In order to meet this need of the college and to satisfy the federal government," reads the report, "it will be necessary to provide additional room to house the physics department with its expensive equipment. This department is now using a part of the chemistry building so that chemistry might have its proper place.

"The war in Germany and our more complex civilization, indicate that we will have to give a very considerable amount of attention to agricultural chemistry in the future and Kansas must do her part toward solving this problem, not only in her laboratories and by her experiments, but by teaching young men and women who are to investigate these vital problems of the people of Kansas."

LOWMAN GOES TO INDIANA.

Former Aggie Coach Accepts Appointment at Increase in Salary.

Guy S. Lowman, formerly professor of physical education in the college, recently has been appointed coach of varsity basketball, director of intra-mural athletics and coach of freshman football in the University of Indiana, according to information received in Manhattan. Mr. Lowman also is to give lectures on playground methods.

Mr. Lowman went to the University of Indiana early in the fall to assist Coach Stiehm, formerly of Nebraska, only during the football season. His permanent appointment comes as a recognition of his services and is accompanied by an increase in salary over his position in the college here.

Mr. Lowman's freshman eleven has proved unusually strong this year, repeatedly defeating the varsity in practice.

Mr. Lowman writes that he has accepted the position and that his family will move to Bloomington, Ind., to make their future home. He plans to be in Manhattan on Thanksgiving day.

2,000 VISITORS EXPECTED TOMORROW

TIGERS ARE CRIPPLED FOR GAME TOMORROW

MANY REGULAR PLAYERS ON THE HOSPITAL LIST.

Missourians Expect to Win, However—They Have Been Working Out New Plays Which Will be Uncorked Tomorrow.

Special to The Collegian:

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 10.—With one of their most important games of the season coming next Saturday, the Missouri Tigers are in the poorest condition of any time this season to face a crucial gridiron test. Wentworth Wilder and Mike Giltner, regular Tiger ends, were added to the already long list of cripples when Wilder received a broken nose and Giltner a broken hand against the Texas Longhorns last Saturday. Muir, the giant tackle, is still on the hospital list because of an operation on his leg, and Pittam and McMillan, halfbacks, are unable to mix in scrimmage because of "charley horse."

This season Coach Schulte turned out the greatest team Missouri has had since 1909, when Bill Roper piloted the Tigers through the season undefeated. To many, Schulte's eleven is looked upon as a greater team than Roper's—or rather was a greater one until the majority of the Bengal stars were forced to sit on the sidelines through injuries.

Ever since the Washington game the Tigers have been going down instead of improving, as a team generally does toward the end of the season. First came the loss of Van Dyne, the best man in the Tiger line, who had to quit school because of the illness of his father. Then Bill Collins, halfback, received a broken shoulder. And now Muir, Pittam, McMillan, Wilder and Giltner have dropped by the wayside, until the present Tiger machine is but a shadow of the one three weeks ago.

But despite these setbacks, the Tigers expect a victory over the Aggies Saturday. Schulte and his men have done nothing but run signals this week, for the "Indian" did not want to run the risk of having any more men injured.

LOOK OUT FOR TYPHOID.

It is Requested That Students be Vaccinated.

In order to protect themselves as far as possible, all students who have recently been to Lawrence are urged by the student health committee to be vaccinated for typhoid fever at once, unless they have had the disease or have recently been vaccinated.

There have been several cases of typhoid fever among Kansas University students and the people of Lawrence this fall, and it is urged that students be vaccinated in order to prevent the spread of the disease here.

Those desiring to be vaccinated should call at Doctor Greene's office at once for treatment, which consists of three doses of vaccine injected at intervals of ten days. The cost of the vaccine is twenty cents.

CADET UNIFORMS ARE HERE!

Leggings, Gloves, and Shirts Will be Issued Today.

The cadet uniforms are expected any time now. According to a telegram received by Captain Mathews from the manufacturers, they were shipped Wednesday.

The suits will be issued at Knostman's Clothing company. The leggings, gloves and shirts will be given out today. The issuing of this clothing, however, will not interfere with the drill period. According to Sergeant E. L. Claren, assistant to the commandant, the office will be open from 8:00 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. every day until all the clothing has been issued.

TO GIVE RECITAL MONDAY.

Members of College Music Faculty Will Be Heard Then.

A recital will be given at the college auditorium at 8:30 o'clock Monday night by Miss Fanchon Easter, pianist, and Miss May Carley, contralto, members of the music faculty. The public is invited. No admission charge will be made. The program follows:

Andante con variazioni Haydn
Gavotte D'Albert
Miss Easter.
Ich liebe dich Beethoven
Willst du dein Herz mi Schenken

Miss Carley.

DEBATE TRYOUTS WILL BEGIN THIS AFTERNOON

More Than Sixty Person Have Signed Up—Twenty-Two Will be Chosen.

Debate tryouts are to be held for this year's team, beginning at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and lasting until 9:00 o'clock Monday evening. More than 60 men and women have already signed up for these tryouts. Of this number 33 are women. Every literary society on the hill and each of the sororities are represented.

The question to be used in this tryout is the "ship subsidy" question, which will be the subject of several of the large debates of the season.

All those who have signed up for the tryouts and have not as yet made a definite appointment for a time should see Don L. Burk, debate coach, at once and make an appointment. There is still room for more than have signed up if others care to try for a place on the college debating team.

The tryouts are to be held in K 57. Each person is requested to be there at least ten minutes before he appears before the judges. This will assure a full schedule and give time for looking over the rebuttal questions. Five minutes will be given for the constructive speech and four minutes for rebuttal.

Eleven women and 11 men are to be chosen for the squads at this tryout. Of those chosen half will get a trip to another school to meet its affirmative team. Expenses are paid by the debating council.

Coach Burk says that the men who are to meet Ames on November 24, are coming out in fine style, and are showing signs of being able to put up a contest against Iowa which will win the decisions for both K. C. A. C. teams.

CHORAL UNION TO GIVE CONCERT

More Than 250 Persons Are in Regular Attendance.

The Choral Union concert will be given on Sunday afternoon, December 17, according to the present plans of Professor Westbrook.

"More than 250 men and women are in regular attendance," said Professor Westbrook. "Although that is not a larger number than we had last year, we have advanced greatly in quality. Everyone who is coming this year is singing and is earnestly interested, while last year quite a good many of them did not take part."

A new plan of instruction is being used at the regular meetings on Monday evenings. The union is divided into sections, each instructed by one of the music department faculty, and practices separately for half of the evening, and then the groups work together under Professor Westbrook for the remainder of the time.

Joe Cassidy, a sophomore in agriculture, spent the week end at his home in Nortonville.

EXHIBIT PAINTINGS WORTH $24,000 AT THE COLLEGE

ARE ON DISPLAY IN THE HOME ECONOMICS BUILDING.

The Pictures are the Work of William Singer, a Young American Artist—The Public Artist—The Public He is Invited.

Original paintings valued at $24,000 will be on exhibition in the home economics building of the college beginning Saturday. The exhibit will continue for several weeks and will be open to the public without charge, through the courtesy of the home art department.

The pictures are by William H. Singer, a young American artist, who has won distinction both in Europe and in this country. A descendant of the man who capitalized the sewing machine, he early turned his attention to painting, and has achieved in this field success comparable to that of other members of his family in business.

The paintings are all landscapes, decidedly modern in treatment. They were painted in Europe.

Manhattan is the smallest city in which the pictures are to be shown. They have been on tour from New York, and were most recently exhibited in Des Moines, Iowa City and Council Bluffs, Ia., under the auspices of educational institutions. They are to be returned to New York next month.

"From the smoke of Pittsburgh to the brilliant atmosphere, the vivid coloring, the white-capped mountains of Norway," writes Arthur Hoeber, the well known critic, with reference to Mr. Singer's work, "is change indeed, and though matured in the coal regions of Pennsylvania, educated in the environment of soot and grime of Pittsburgh, the great city of coal and iron, William H. Singer, always happily able to journey whither his fancy led him, has, of recent years, found inspiration in fjords, hills, country stretching away, rapidly rushing rivers, all the beauty, the freedom of the land of the Vikings."

HIGHS SMOOTHER SCHOOL OF AGS. THEY TAKE YESTERDAY'S GAME BY A COUNT OF 61-0.

The school of agriculture football team lost to the Manhattan high school eleven to the tune of 61-0 yesterday afternoon.

The school of agriculture men were rushed off their feet from the start and were unable to cope with the fast, well-trained high school team. Most of the scoring was done during the first half of the game. The stiffened defense of the ag men in the last half held the highs to two touchdowns.

Mills, Gomez, and Quigley starred for the school of agriculture team. F. S. Merrill of the department of horticulture was referee and George W. Hinds head linesman.

ENGINEERS TAKE WOODWORK

Are Being Given Special Course by J. T. Parker.

The engineering students are being the fore part of the week for a working by J. T. Parker, assistant in woodwork, which aims to acquaint the men with all parts of the shop, and with the machinery in the different departments.

The roll for the engineering students' class is called in the same way the timekeeper in a large factory makes up his time book. Upon entering the shops at class hour the student removes his roll card from one card case and places it in its proper compartment in the "on duty" case.

During the term the students will spend eight periods each at bench work and machine work, four days at staining, filling and assembling, two days at wood turning and one day in the tool room.

Other innovations of special interest to engineers make the course a very desirable one, and one that is popular among the engineering freshmen.

Jack Richards, a former student, is here visiting the college.

MELTING POT PLAYED TO A LARGE AUDIENCE

AN ENGLISH PLAY WITH A MESSAGE TO AMERICA.

Dr. J. G. Emerson Comments the Society Lecture Course for Securing Such an Effective Presentation Here.

Israel Zangwill's great play, "The Melting Pot," was presented Tuesday evening to a large audience under the auspices of the society lyceum course.

"It is one of the great English plays of the last quarter century which has aroused wide spread interest in America," said Dr. J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking. "It is much to the credit of the Society Lecture course that they were able to secure such an effective presentation of it here."

"I am not a higher critic on dramatic art. It has been said of the play that it is not truly great as a truly artistic production due to the fact that it is not true to life. It is not true to life because too much preachment is put in the mouths of the characters. They are simply vehicles to carry to the world the message of Israel Zangwill. Perhaps this is true."

"It may be that such a Jewish play as 'Potash and Perlmutter' is more nearly artistic because it is, presumably at least, characterizations of actual Jewish types. It is, however, the very fact that the 'Melting Pot' carries such a tremendous lesson to the American people which makes it so popular with American audiences and is called a great play."

"As for its production here Tuesday evening, it was very well done. The old Jewish mother was regarded by many who saw the play as being the outstanding character. The speeches of David and his uncles were wonderful and deserved the applause which they received."

"The German music conductor's part was, to say the least, amusing, while those who have seen the original production of the play might regard it as being too much so. However, the old man's eccentricities provided an excellent means, perhaps, for bringing out with even more force the wonder he felt at the genius displayed by David."

"Vera was perhaps a stronger part than David as presented here. The old uncle reminded one very much of 'Abe' in 'Potash and Perlmutter.'"

ENTERS LECTURE FIELD.

Armenian Student Will Go on the Platform for a Farm Paper.

B. K. Baghedian, an Armenian, and a graduate of the journalism department of the college, will take up work in a short time as a lecturer in the rural service department of a Kansas farm paper.

Baghedian will give historical lectures on different phases of his life in the Orient. Some of the lectures will be given in costume.

HIGH PRICE OF HAIRCUTS HERE.

Tonsorial Artists Raise Price From 25 to 35 Cents.

The high cost of living took another trench in its battle onward and upward Monday night when the local barbers' union decided to raise the price of haircuts from 25 to 35 cents.

All of the members of the local union were present at the meeting as well as the boss barbers, and the new price will go into effect Wednesday in all of the local union shops.

None of the other prices for barber work were raised.

Malcolm C. Sewell of the agronomy department and Harry Umburgher of the extension department left Wednesday noon for an extended trip east. Mr. Umburgher expects to visit in Washington, D. C., for about two weeks. Mr. Sewell will remain longer in the east making visits at New York City, Boston, and Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Sewell will return about December 10.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Bowerman of 1117 Vattier street announce the birth of a son, Jean Francis.

THE LATEST COUNT.

Wilson 256 electoral votes;
Hughes 247.
Wilson leads in California and New Mexico; Hughes leads in Minnesota and West Virginia.

HOLD HOCKEY TOURNAMENT.

Girls Who Play on Teams Will be Given Numerals.

The girls' gymnasium classes will hold a hockey tournament during the latter part of next week.

On one day the seniors and juniors will play an eliminating game, and then the sophomores and freshmen will play to eliminate the weakest team of the lower classmen. The final game for the championship will then be between the two strongest teams.

The different teams have been practicing and going through a process of team selection on the alfalfa field west of the domestic science building for some time.

Each girl who plays on a team will receive a numeral, and a certain number of these numerals entitle her to a "K" which she will be allowed to wear on the campus.

KIMBALL WILL TALK TO CDBS AT SEMINAR MONDAY

Editor of Tribune and former Editor of the Manhattan Mercury Will Discuss Newspaper Problems.

Students in journalism will have an opportunity to hear a man of long experience in the newspaper game next Monday morning at their regular seminar when C. A. Kimball, editor of the Tribune, former editor of the Scandia Journal and the Manhattan Daily Mercury, will speak in the journalism reading room.

Mr. Kimball has taken as his subject, "The Soul of the Newspaper." His long experience and wide acquaintance with all sorts of newspaper editors, newsmen, and perplexing newspaper problems will give his words weight and authority.

The soul of the newspaper speaks in the following impersonation by Joseph H. Finn, president of the Nichols-Finn Advertising company of Chicago.

"I am the newspaper. Born of the deep, daily need of a nation—I am the voice of now—the incarnate spirit of the times—monarch of things that are."

"My 'cold type' burns with the fire blood of human action. I am fed by arteries of wire that girdle the earth. I drink from the living cup of every living joy and sorrow. I sleep not, rest not. I know not night, nor day, nor season. I know no death yet I am born again with every morn, with every noon, with every twilight."

"I leap into fresh being with every news world's event * * * I am the hands of the clock of time, the clarion voice of civilization."

Students who are taking elective work in journalism and others are also cordially invited to the seminars.

NEW PICTURES IN D. S. HALL.

Has Several Works of Art by Famous Painters.

The domestic art hall has been rejuvenated and many new pictures added. Following are some of the paintings: "Mme. Becamier" and "Andromache" by David, "Portrait of a Lady," by Francesca; "Laughing Cavalier," by Frans Hall; "Lady Siddons," by Gainsborough; "Par la Adorna," by Van Dyck; "Beatrice D'Este," by Frans Hall.

A number of etchings by Frannig are to be found in the different offices. They are "River Near Bordeaux," "The Robin's Vesper," "The Seine" and "The Dawn."

In the costume and design room is a statue, "Venus de Milo." "Winged Victory" will also be placed there. At the head of the stairs leading to the department is a frieze of the dancing "Bacchantes."

Two interesting brocades are also on display in the domestic art hall. One is a very old Chinese altar cloth and the other an exceptionally fine example of Italian brocade. From Japan is a striking portrait of a Japanese lady, called "Kakemono Kumsada."

The department is anxious to enlarge the collection and hopes to make the design room a place of real art display.

ALL IS IN READINESS FOR HOME-COMING DAY

AGGIES EXPECT TO TWIST THE TIGER'S TAIL.

"Bear" Stories From Columbia Indicate That Clevenger's Men are in Better Condition Than the Missourians.

PROBABLE LINEUP.

Homecoming Day tomorrow promises to bring to Manhattan the largest number of visitors ever assembled to see an Aggie football game. Requests for reserved seats have been pouring into Coach Clevenger's office for the past week and indications point to a crowd of from 1,500 to 2,000 visitors.

Plans for the big Homecoming "pep" meeting tonight include talks by Dr. H. J. Waters, Prof. H. H. King and Prof. "Mike" Ahearn. A number of former Aggie letter men have also promised to talk. Coaches Clevenger and Schulz are also on the program for short speeches.

Will Twist Tiger's Tail.

Pinning their faith on what critics assert is the best Aggie team ever produced, Aggie followers are looking forward tomorrow to "twisting that Tiger's tail," which feat, if accomplished, will mark the Purple's entrance into the Missouri valley "win" column.

At the worst, Aggie dopesters figure the Clevenger eleven able to hold the Missourians to a repetition of last year's scoreless tussle. A star Tiger offense and a weak defense as opposed to a strong Aggie defense and a weak offense, form the basis for the prediction that the battle will be hard and that the score will be close.

The Aggie offense, however, bids to outshine its performance in the last three games played. For two weeks, Coaches Clevenger and Schulz have been drilling the men in new offensive plays and formations, and a whirlwind drive which may sweep the Missourians to the side, may be uncovered in the contest tomorrow.

Aggies Have Strong Line.

The mainstay of the Aggies, of course, will be the line, which has permitted but one touchdown during the season. Five teams have been encountered and only one of these, the Nebraska Cornhuskers, were able to puncture the sterling Purple defense. The Nebraskans scored two touchdowns, but one of the scores was the result of an Aggie fumble and a 70-yard run to touchdown by Riddell, the alert Husker end.

Aggie hopes are slightly lowered by the injuries to Randels and Captain Barnes. It is probable that both these athletes will start, but Barnes' ankle is not in condition to go through an entire game. Randels sprained his ankle in the Kansas battle, even with this handicap, is counted to throw considerable confusion into the Tiger ranks.

If the "bear" stories from Columbia have any merit, the Aggies are in even better condition than the Schulte men. Wilder and Giltner, Missouri's star ends, are both said to be badly injured, but it is thought both will start.

Coleman in Drainage Work.

R. D. Coleman, '11, who has been in charge of district one of the Atchison county $100,000 drainage project for the last year and a half, has recently been employed to make a survey of a similar district at Valley Falls. This district consists of 6500 acres and Mr. Coleman will have charge of the construction work under the general state supervision of H. B. Walker of the department of drainage engineering.

FRIDAY NOVEMBER 10, 1916.

WELCOME THEM HOME.

Let's make tomorrow, the homecoming day, just what the name implies for the hundreds of alumni who will be back on the campus.

Let's make them feel that they are really coming home—that we undergraduates are just members of the same big family as they, glad to see them returning for a little relaxation from the work of the world.

The campus may look different—the buildings may be twice as numerous—our 1916 K. S. A. C. may be vastly different in outward appearance from the one they hold in memory. Let's show them that the externals are all in which it is different—that the same loyalty and spirit prevail.

Make the alumni a part of the day's festivities. They don't want to be received too ceremoniously as guests. They are taking a jump backward into their student days, regaining the student viewpoint, and they want to be treated simply as equals in a united effort for K. S. A. C.

THE TIGERS ARE COMING.

Hark! Hark! Hear the dogs bark, Tigers are coming to town;
Some on a freight, that'll get her late,

Others in a football gown,
They've whetted their teeth and in their belief,

Can whip the Wild Cat crew;
And perhaps they'll discover before they reach cover
There's some things Missouri can't do.

We'll admit they've a team, and it isn't a dream,

That a Tiger well knows how to bite;
Yet before they depart with a grief saddened heart,
They'll find that the Wild Cats can fight.

W. H., '18.

Can a Tiger change its spots any easier than a leopard can change its spots? It can, according to the opinion of "S. F." who contributes the following poem concerning the Tiger-Aggie fray tomorrow:

Missouri Tiger's stripes, they say
Are yellow and coal black.
They run in fancy diagrams
All up and down his back.
But when he strikes the Aggie team
He will find it sad but true
The only stripes upon his back
Will be of black and blue.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

The Y. W. C. A. is planning for enthusiastic meeting through World Fellowship week, beginning next Monday and lasting through the week. The meetings will be held at the noon hour from 1 to 1:20 except Wednesday when there will be an afternoon tea in the rest room at the eighth hour. The other meetings are to be held in L-26. The girls are especially requested to come to the meeting Wednesday and meet Mrs. Melchers, a former association worker.

Miss Grace Dana, a Washburn student, is a visitor at college. Miss Dana represents the West Central field of the Y. W. C. A. and is the annual member for Washburn, K. U. and K. S. A. C.

THE ATHLETIC FIELD IS TO BE RECONSTRUCTED

WILL PROBABLY HAVE A HOLIDAY ON DECEMBER 8.

To Turtle-Back and Turf the Football Gridiron—Baseball Field Will be Separate—Students have Charge of Plans.

Plans for the reconstruction of the college athletic field on a day to be set aside as a school holiday, probably December 8, were skeletonized by President H. J. Waters in a speech at the Homecoming "pep" meetings in the auditorium Friday evening. As yet, the plans are in embryo, awaiting the president's return from a trip in the East.

The present football field, it is planned, will be re-graded in the form of a turtle-back, providing better drainage than is obtained under the present system. The field will also be underlaid with tile, providing still another exit for the water which has retarded football practice in the past for three or four days after each big rain.

After the grade of the new field has become permanent, Bermuda grass will probably be planted on the field, forming a turf equal to that of any gridiron in the Middle West. The grass will probably not be planted until spring.

May Move Baseball Field.
Under the present plans, the baseball field may be moved from its present location to the field now used as a freshman football field. The ditch on the north of the present field will be placed at least 25 yards further north, which plan will provide for a full-size football field for the use of the yearlings.

A reconstruction of the bleachers in order to aid in concentrating the cheering, also may be worked out at the next conference called by President Waters to complete the plans. Heads of the engineering and agricultural divisions have promised their support in the way of use of expert knowledge on the field's reconstruction. The details of the drainage system will be left to the engineering students, aided by drainage experts. Construction of the turf will be carried on by the department of horticulture.

Not the least of the plans for the holiday is the suggestion made by President Waters that the girls of the college be on hand during the day with sandwiches, wafers, and other articles of food dear to the laboring student.

HOLD STUDENT CONFERENCE.
To Meet at Baldwin Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The Kansas State Student conference under the auspices of the student volunteer union to be held at Baldwin on November 17, 18 and 19, is offering the strongest program ever given by the organization, and the delegation promises to be the largest ever attending the conference. One school is planning to send 50 delegates in a special car. Each school reporting so far is sending a good delegation.

The theme of the conference is "The War's Challenge to the Kansas Student." Talent of wide repute has been secured. Dr. E. R. Friederson, once vice consul to Japan and now college president in China will be there on Saturday and Sunday. H. L. Heinemann who has just come back from Europe and since then at the Mexican border will speak with authority on war and its effects. Dr. N. S. Elderskin who has been a leader at Estes Park and J. Lovell Murray, National Educational Secretary of the student volunteer movement will give addresses and hold conferences.

Missionaries in attendance are Miss Laura Radford, Y. W. C. A. work in India; Roxanna Oldroyd, teacher in Isabella Thoburn College, India; Mrs. Reid McClure, India; A. R. Hoover, M. D., for ten years missionary in Turkey; Dr. W. Issett, China and Nazareth Boyajian of Armenia. All leaders are to be there to hold personal interviews with any student as well as to give special addresses.

GIRLS EARN COLLEGE EXPENSES.

A Wide Range of Work is Undertaken by Co-eds.

A wide range of work is undertaken by ambitious young women in the Kansas State Agricultural college who earn all or part of their college expenses. From serving Milady's pink tea to laundering her frills are the occupations of many students.

Catering is the most pleasant as well as profitable work which presents itself, according to Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the Young Women's Christian association. The girls who do this kind of work find their tasks may vary from decorating a birthday cake to serving tea. The girls find the experience valuable, as the suggestions they obtain are put to practical use.

Office work is in demand. Directing envelopes, filing and taking dictation are general types of work done. Folding bulletins and advertisements is another source of employment. General housework, bed making, caring for children and invalids, and fine sewing are other ways in which the industrious girls earn their college expenses.

FRESHMEN ARE HUMBLER BY CAP OF MANY COLORS

The Headgear of the Yearlings Shows Lack of Taste, Says Miss Holman.

There are two viewpoints from which one may consider the freshman caps, according to Miss Araminta Holman, instructor in home art—that of the sophomore class, distorted as it may be, and that of the freshmen, upper classmen, faculty and townspeople.

"Art is good taste," says Miss Holman, "and good taste in dressing depends upon the fact that the person is more important than the apparel. Dress should not take the attention from the person."

"According to the latter viewpoint, an artistic cap is suitable in size for use as a protection to the head and a shade for the eyes. It is of a color harmonizing with that of the eyes and hair of the person by whom it is to be worn."

"There are caps and caps and freshman caps," says Miss Holman, "but for these freshman caps nothing can be said in their favor from an artistic viewpoint."

From the viewpoint of the sophomore class the caps are a success because they accomplish the purpose for which they were selected. They attract attention from the person, even to the obliteration of his personality and humble him by the violence of their warring colors, as they are intended to do.

CROSS COUNTRY SEASON ENDS. Shaw, Keys, and Eggerman are Awarded Medals.

The cross country season closed Saturday when Shaw finished first in the third series of distance runs, thereby clinching the gold medal offered by E. L. Askren for the runner finishing best in the three runs. Second place and a silver medal offered by A. M. Rogers goes to Captain Keys, while third place will probably be awarded to Eggerman, although Coach Bauer has not as yet decided to whom he will award the bronze medal given by Elmer Kittell.

In the last run Saturday preceding the Missouri-Aggie football tussle, the first five places were taken by Shaw, Keys, Tillotson and Eggerman, who tied for third, and Curry.

Students Council Organizes.

The Students Council met last evening, the eighth hour, with Professor J. O. Hamilton, chairman of the faculty advisory committee of the Students Council, to organize and elect officers for the year. Election of officers was as follows: Leo C. Moser, senior in journalism, president; A. W. Boyer, junior in journalism, vice-president; Miss Hazel McMillan, junior in home economics, secretary-treasurer.

Roy Buckingham, city editor of the Salina Journal, covered the game here Saturday for his paper.

RECEIVES A PECULIAR REQUEST FROM RUSSIA

COMMANDANT MATHEWS GETS A CARD FROM PETROGRAD.

John of Marcoff Asks About Certain Firearms—Says he is "An Enthusiastic Pistol Crank."

Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of cadets at the college, recently received from Petrograd, Russia, a post card signed by one John of Marcoff, asking for information concerning certain firearms.

The post card which was written in English "with a foreign accent," was referred to Cadet Colonel J. B. Sweet for translation. After much diligent effort he succeeded in making a fairly intelligible translation; and recommended that a copy be sent to the Remington Arms company with the request that they send to John of Marcoff the desired information.

The writing was fine and all written on a postal card about the size of those used in the United States. The card is interesting not only because of the fact that it came from Russia but because of the peculiar request made and the manner in which it was written.

What Was Written on the Card.
To Sir, Lt. L. O. Mathews, Secretary of the Manhattan, (Kan.), Rifle and Revolver Club, U. S. America.

The 1st September, 1916.
My Dear Sir:
To address to your high authority for Target Arms and Shooting, and pray you to say me, can you supply me a genuine second hand, in perfect condition, Colt's Revolver for cap and ball, .45 heavy, octagonal, fluted 6 1-2 and 7 1-2 inch bar, which, was, then, in old time, generally, adopted as the suitable and standard, stamped address Samuel Colt, New York, N. Y., U. S. A. the cylinder highly engraved with a naval engagement and with the date 1843 cal. about 36; the single shot Target Pistol system William Wurflein, at Philadelphia, Pa., a Frank-Wesson 10-inch bar cal. 41 S. W. Russian; for to complete our Target Arms Collection of our Shooting Association and the Prices? Kindly, send me, if you please, the full of old time catalogue, of the Remington Arms Co. Yllon works, N. Y., manufactured, then, and of the falling block with side lever action, which you know, certainly, No. 3 and 4; and give me, if you please, most full informations and explanations on the "Manhattan Fire Arms Manufacturing Co." which, is, yet, discontinued. I am an enthusiastic Pistol Crank, and trusting, to receive your amiable answer to all that matters, which interest me, much, and to hear, soon, from you, I remain

Very truly yours,
John of Marcoff, General Manager and Contractor of the Shooting Association, Solofny Pergeulock, No. 5, Room 6, Petrograd City, Russia.
N. B. I would wait, a good, long letter from a brother of Shooting of Target.

SEEGER GETS JOB AS CHEMIST.

Will Work for Larabee Milling Company at Hutchinson.
Clarence Seeger, a junior in the college, has accepted a position as assistant chemist for the Larabee Milling company, with headquarters at Hutchinson. This is one of the largest milling corporations in the middle west.

Mr. Seeger will be stationed at Marysville in charge of the laboratories there. His work will consist principally in the analysis of wheat and flour for the local mill but in addition he will spend a part of his time in analyzing lubricating oils and in making fuel tests for all the mills controlled by the company.

This position was secured through the recommendation of P. J. Newman, assistant professor of chemistry, and is but another indication of the practicability of this science and of its adaptability to the industries.

Leslie Shaw returned yesterday to St. Joe, Mo., after several days' visit at the Sig Alph house.

23 ARE IN TRAINING CORPS.

It is Becoming More Popular Says Captain Mathews.

To date 23 students have enrolled in the reserve officers corps, the greater number being seniors. "The reserve officers training corps is becoming more popular every day," says Captain Mathews. "We want at least 50 men to take this work."

According to Captain Mathews, men who have not completed two years of military training are not eligible to the reserve officers training corps. This effects men who have substituted work in the athletic department for drill or have played in the band, and now want to enroll in the corps.

The Act of July 2, 1862, says that all men in land grant colleges who are physically fit be required to drill. According to the interpretation of this law by the secretary of war, men playing in the band or taking athletics must not be given credit for drill in the military training corps.

The cadet corps is to be changed. The sophomores, freshmen and school of agriculture students will be assigned to companies according to class in college. The signal corps will be broken up as no authority can be obtained this year for the maintenance of this branch of military service.

STATE INSTITUTIONS TO AID RURAL COMMUNITIES

Will Combine to Serve People of the State by Holding General Sectional Sessions.

Announcement of a community school plan in which the Kansas State Agricultural college, the University of Kansas, and the state normal schools will combine in holding meetings for the discussion of community problems, is made in the biennial report of the board of administration.

This system of taking the institutions to the people, which is expected to be in operation before the end of the year, will be something new in the educational history of the United States. It will be the final fruition of the happy relations existing between the several state schools and their ambition to do their utmost to serve the state.

The plan as outlined by the board calls for a general community school session in the morning, and sectional discussion of rural, city, and educational problems in the afternoon.

The agricultural college now sends out its movable schools to communities interested in agriculture and kindred subjects, the university sends out its extension schools which deal with city and state problems, and the normal schools hold their extension schools for the improvement of the educational life of communities. Under the new system the educational institutions will get together for the purpose of serving the people of the state.

DEAN VAN ZILE IS HONORED.

Manhattan College People Attended Kansas Dinner Club.

Dean Mary Pierce Van Zile was elected vice president of the Kansas Dinner club of Topeka Friday at a meeting held there. Mrs. Van Zile and Miss Araminta Holman were among the speakers. Another guest from here was Miss Frances L. Brown.

ALL STUDENTS.

It usually happens that College is out for the holiday vacation almost a week before Christmas day but this year classes will not be dismissed until 11 o'clock on Friday, December 22. Of course this means that students will not have the time to buy Christmas presents at home as is usually their custom and that the purchasing will be done in Manhattan. The Collegian asks that its subscribers watch the advertisements which appear in the college paper twice each week and patronize these advertisers as much as possible. The merchants who advertise in the Collegian realize what the student body of the Kansas State Agricultural College means to them and will put forth every effort to please students.

THEY TAKE THE BIG END OF THE SCORE IN A 7--6 COUNT

The Tigers Make Their Touchdown In First Quarter--Fail to Kick Goal

Randels' Toe Saves the Day for the Aggies by Making the Extra Point When a Touchdown Is Made by a 12-Yard Pass from Clark to Skinner--Wells Stars for the Clevelenger Eleven--Stanowski for the Tigers.

The Kansas Aggies made their debut in the Missouri valley "win" column and the Missouri Tigers fell from grace in the hunt for the valley championship Saturday when the extra point earned by Randels' toe, following a sharp 12-yard pass from Clarke to Skinner across the Tiger goal line, enabled the Clevelenger eleven to nose out the visitors in a close 7 to 6 duel on College field.

The Aggie score can be traced back to Dodrill's recovery of a Missouri fumble on the Missouri 45-yard line. Captain Barnes slid off tackle for six yards and Wells hit the line for a five-yard gain and the Aggie first downs. The quarter ended with the ball on the Missouri 35-yard line in possession of the Aggies.

On the first plunge Wells carried four Missouri players with him in his 10-yard buck through the Tiger line. Randels took the ball on an end run for a gain of 11 yards, bringing the ball to the 14-yard line. Wells made two yards on a line plunge. While Missouri was expecting another line buck, Clarke drew back and hurled an accurate forward pass into the waiting hands of Skinner, who was compelled to pluck the pass from a mass of Missouri backfield men who were attempting to knock down the aerial attempt to score. Clarke kicked out to Captain Barnes and "Stiff" Randels swung his trusty toe into the ball for the extra point that decided the game.

Tigers Start With a Rush.

The Tigers started the game with a rush. Almost before the Aggies had caught their second wind, quarterback Stanowski had rushed his charges down to the Aggie five-yard line, from which Pittam carried the ball across the goal line. Captain Lansing's attempt at goal was five yards wide of the goal posts.

Missouri's score caused an awakening of the Clevelenger crew, who tightened and never allowed the Missourians to come within the 15-yard line again. Peoples, star placekicker of the visitors, attempted a goal from the Aggie 21-yard line, but the ball barely cleared the scrimmage line. The attempt at goal, which came in the middle of the last quarter, was the Tiger's best chance to score in the last three periods of play.

Easily the star of the Clevelenger attack and defense was Wells, who, in the opinion of several football experts, battled his way to a place on the All-Missouri valley team. The 160-pound Aggie fullback was seldom halted without a gain in his charges into the Tiger line, and his offensive play in backing up the Aggie forwards was one of the features of the afternoon's battle.

Captain Barnes starred in running interference and the forward passing and plotting of Clarke contributed to the Purple victory.

Outside of Wells, the Aggie eleven was devoid of stars, each of the Clevelenger athletes playing his part in the victory. Randels made his usual healthy gains when called upon to carry the ball and, together with Skinner, formed a reception committee for Stanowski when the latter received the Aggie punts. Bayer, Dodrill, Rhoda, Wright and Ptacek upheld toe reputation that the Aggie line has established in every battle this year. Husted, the champion pass interceptor in the valley, pulled down two Missouri passes at critical times. Stanowski, the flashy little quarterback of the visitors, far outshone any member of the Tiger eleven. He brought out a versatile attack of end runs, line plunges and forward passes that dazzled the Purple athletes in the first quarter. At least half the Tiger first downs can be attributed to his ball-carrying ability. "Rad" Pitt-am, who charged his way across four yards of Aggie soil and planted the oval just beyond the goal line, also deserves credit for carrying the ball for heavy Tiger gains. Hamilton and Groves, the two Missouri tackles, were mainstays of the Schulte defense.

The play by quarters:

First Quarter

Wells kicked off 50 yards and Stanowski returned the ball nine yards. Missouri twice reeled off downs, but attempted a pass in the third set of downs, and lost the ball to the Aggies. Wells was forced to punt. Pittam punted but the Aggies were off-side and the ball was returned to the Aggie 40-yard line. Pittam hurled a pass to Stanowski for a 20-yard gain. Missouri again made downs and brought the ball to the eight-yard line. Three plunges advanced the ball four yards and on the fourth down Pittam found a hole and charged through to the goal line for the first score of the game. Captain Lansing failed to kick goal. Hamilton kicked off 40 yards to Ptacek, who returned 15 yards. Randels rounded the end for a 13 yard gain. Clark fumbled a bad pass from center for a 10-yard Aggie loss. A forward pass, Clark to Husted, was completed for a 10-yard gain. Clark punted 34 yards. Missouri, with Stanowski carrying the ball, made first downs. Dodrill recovered a Missouri fumble and the quarter ended with Aggies holding the ball on the Missouri 35-yard line.

Second Quarter

Wells and Randels each made downs and a 12-yard pass, Clark to Skinner, netted an Aggie touchdown. Randels booted a perfect goal. Hamilton kicked off 50 yards to Wells, who returned the ball 17 yards. The Aggies failed to gain and Clark punted 50 yards to the Missouri 30-yard line. Pittam made first downs for Missouri. Husted recovered Clarke's fumble of Collins' punt. Wells plunged through the line for Aggie first downs. Groves of Missouri recovered Husted's fumble of a bad pass on the Missouri 45-yard line. Missouri reeled off downs. Husted intercepted a Tiger forward pass on his own 30-yard line. The Aggies were penalized 15 yards for holding and Wells was forced to punt. A forward pass, Collins to Preston, was completed for a Tiger gain of 25 yards just as the head linesman's whistle ended the half. Missouri had the ball on the Aggie 40-yard line.

Third Quarter

Randels returned Hamilton's 45-yard kickoff 15 yards. Wells hit the line twice for Aggie first downs. Clark was forced to punt and Shushed kicked back for 45 yards. Wells punted 30 yards. Missouri made first downs but the Aggies held and took the ball. Wells was forced to punt and the Tigers three times made first downs. The period ended with the ball on the Aggie 17-yard line in possession of the Missourians.

Fourth Quarter

The Aggies held and Wells punted out of danger. Missouri made first downs. Peoples, Missouri's star placekicker, attempted a goal from the 31-yard line but failed. Wells punted 35 yards. Clark intercepted a Missouri pass for seven yards return. Wells booted a punt 55 yards and Stanowski returned five yards. Missouri suffered an off-side penalty. Skinner recovered Stanowski's fumble and an Aggie drive was halted on the Missouri 28-yard line by the head linesman's whistle for the end of the game.

Missouri, 6; Aggies, 7.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

It is strange how many students pass up the opportunity for self-betterment which is offered by the literary societies.

True it is that there are too many meetings to be attended, but the good to be derived from a weekly or bi-weekly session in a live literary society is worth a little sacrifice.

Too much introspection is bad for any man or woman. It leads to the development of a biased or prejudiced mind and to an excess growth of self-confidence and self-esteem.

Getting out and expressing your ideas in public, hearing others express theirs, studying your own theories in the light of what you learn from your associates, adjusting your viewpoint and correcting the perspective in which you see the world—these are means of broadening your mind and getting out of the intellectual rut.

And these are the opportunities which the literary societies open up to you.

BARBARIC EDUCATION.

Another young man has been added to the list of victims of college hazing. Why this inexcusable practice is allowed to exist in our educational systems is not known. The offensiveness of vital energy so manifest in young men at the college age is commendable. It should not be bottled up or destroyed. But, every school provided an outlet in the various athletic activities. The historic differences of opinion between upper classmen are easily settled by formal combat under the proper rules and safeguards. There is no code of ethics which excuses the acts of a large body of students who take it upon themselves to inflict an ordeal upon a few individuals in order to show a spirit or punch a fellow student.—Des Moines Capital.

BARNEY BARNARD

of "Potash and Perlmutter" fame, star in "A Prince in a Pawnshop" which will be shown at the Marshall theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening. You will enjoy the dry humor, genial philosophy and mercenary nature of the Jews as portrayed by Mr. Barnard the renowned Jewish actor. Bobby Connelly is also featured.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be led by alumni members of the association. Mrs. R. H. Brown, will preside. Miss Clara Spillman will lead devotions and Mrs. Lucille Berry Wolf will sing with Mrs. DeNell Lyon Benner at the piano. Miss Ada Rice and Miss Margaret Blanchard will speak. Personal invitations have been sent to members of the college alumni who live in Manhattan. The association desires that a large number of college girls will be present to welcome the visitors. The meeting will be held Thursday at 4:30 in the rest room of the home economics building.

This is World Fellowship week. Meetings are being held every day at the noon hour from 1 to 1:20 o'clock in L-26, except Wednesday when the meeting will be in the form of a story hour and afternoon tea and will be held in the rest room at 4:30.

WILL THE AGGIES BEAT THE SOONERS?

NEWSPAPERS MAY HAVE SOULS SAYS KIMBALL

IDEAL NEWSPAPER NOT A COLD PURVEYOR OF FACT.

C. A. Kimball, Editor of the Manhattan Tribune Presents Types of Editorial Policy to Journalism Students.

The ideal newspaper is not a pitiless purveyor of facts—it has a soul. An ideal for the common good stands above the right of the newspaper man to publish or for the public to know, in the opinion of C. A. Kimball, editor of the Manhattan Tribune, who spoke at Journalism seminar last Monday morning.

There is a kind of newspaper which I have taken the liberty of calling the newspaper with a soul. It is not corrupt nor corruptible. It uses its power only for what it believes to be good. It may be fanatical about some things. It suppresses news if the publication of such news will destroy happiness. It does not put the young man who has made one mistake on the level with the man who constantly turns to evil deeds. If the publishing of some bit of news will mortally hurt some mother's heart, he puts the mother's heart above any duty that he might owe to his subscribers.

"He knows the terrible power to hurt that there is in the printed word. He knows that there is much hurt done even where the spirit is right. He takes the general attitude to never needlessly do harm.

"Do not think that this principle will lead to the suppression of facts that the public should know," said Mr. Kimball. "The newspaper should not hesitate to criticize the public officer who is unfaithful to his duty, because it will hurt him or his family. There, the duty to publish for the benefit of the whole outweighs the harm that may incidentally be given. It does not compare with the exposure of some private wrong.

"But there are many other methods and codes followed in newspaper offices," Mr. Kimball pointed out. "The commercialized newspaper man loves to see a fine balance on the profit side. His idea of the business is that of the merchant who has his wares to sell at a profit to whomsoever will buy. A deadly drug, a destroying beverage, or the alluring cigarette ad find ready access to his columns. He is in the newspaper business to make money. He measures success or failure by that simple rule.

"There is another type of newspaper man who is in the business for the sake of power. Sometimes he poses as an angel of light and supports that which is for the benefit of the mass and then he will swing to the other side and support that which is full of corruption. You often find this type of paper with a double ideal—make money where you can, otherwise take the popular side. Some such newspapers, while not corrupt are as wanton in the use of the power that is theirs as a bull in a china shop. They use their power for good or ill just as the fancy may strike them.

"Then we have the newspaper which I believe is generally approved in college journalism, a newspaper which boasts that it prints all the news. The newspaper man who publishes this newspaper declares that it is his business to print the news, that this is his first business. He maintains that when he takes the money from the subscriber that it is with the understanding that he will provide that subscriber with all the news. He contends that it is not for him to color or modify, that he should pass it along, crystal clear for his subscriber to pass upon and base his own conclusions on the facts as presented.

"This newspaper man says that it is his business not only to tell that the town drunkard has received another fine for being drunk, but to tell just as fully as when a thoughtless boy or girl gets into trouble; that it is not for him to pick and choose between people.

"He assumes the professional attitude the same attitude that the lawyer takes who says that it is not for him to pass judgment upon the cause of his client, but to present it and that he is not responsible for the results. The editorial page is held sacred in this school. Money will not buy news, nor suppress news nor change the editorial policy.

"But the newspaper with a soul," concluded Mr. Kimball, "recognizes the power of the press, and the psychological impress of the printed word on the mind of the community. The editors who exercise this discrimination, who devote their energies to making a newspaper more than a cold purveyor of facts, may not always meet with the greatest financial success. But the editor has a certain satisfaction in knowing that he has given the community the best there is in him. This is a case where the soul may develop at the expense of the pocketbook."

PROFESSOR REMICK IS HONORED

Elected President of Collegiate Mathematics Association.

B. L. Remick, professor of mathematics at the college, was elected president of the Kansas Association of Teachers of Collegiate Mathematics during the recent meeting of the Kansas State Teachers' association at Topeka.

This organization is comparatively new and has for its particular function the interests of mathematics in the colleges. Mr. Remick's term of office will be for the coming year.

COLLEGE STUDENT HELD UP BY UNMASKED PADDS

C. E. Nichols Is Robbed of $5, Gold Watch and Fountain Pen Wednesday Night.

When a revolver was thrust unceremoniously into the face of C. E. Nichols, a student at the college, about 9:45 o'clock Wednesday evening, while he was on his way home and the sharp command, "Hold up your hands," was gruffly spoken by one of two unmasked highwaymen, Nichols elevated his hands without the least hesitation. The two highwaymen rifled his pockets securing $5 in change, a gold watch and a fountain pen.

Nichols had spent the evening at the college library and had walked to the Kappa Gamma sorority house, 1521 Leavenworth street, with a young woman who had also been at the library. He was on his way back from the sorority house to the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity house, 1619 Fairchild avenue, where he lives, when the two highwaymen stepped from a hedge on Sixteenth street directly in front of him. One of the men thrust a revolver into his face and told him to throw up his hands. The two men searched his pockets.

Nichols was unable to recognize the features of either of the two men as they wore sweater coats, the collars of which were buttoned up around their faces, and caps which were pulled well down over the eyes. After the holdup he proceeded to the fraternity house where he called the police station and told a night officer of the incident.

Late yesterday afternoon the police had no clue to either of the two highwaymen.

"SELDOM INN" HOLDS REUNION.

Nineteen Enjoy a Sunday Morning Breakfast at Harrison's.

The group of men who last year roomed at 817 Laramie, which place was known as the Seldom Inn club, held a reunion at Harrison's Sunday morning, and a two course breakfast was served at 10 o'clock in the private dining room. All the men were present except G. M. Schick of Plainview, Texas.

The guests of honor were: Misses Fannie Brooks, Hazel Merrill, Mary Foster, Gussie Johnson, Helen Bales, Irene Andrews and Frankie Sweet of Manhattan, Grace Merrill of Enterprise, Mary Alice Wilcox of Newton, and Edna St. John of Wamego.

The members of the club present were: Messrs. Ralph St. John, Glen Wallace, and Price Wheeler of Manhattan, Jay Stratton of Wichita, Claire Williams of Bigelow, Louis Hodgson of Harveyville, Dan Robbins of Colony, Rudolph Steuwe of Alma, and R. H. Blair of Blue Rapids.

Sam Krehbiel, 13, and his sister, Miss Alice Krehbiel, of Monard Ridge were here for homecoming day.

ADRIAN NEWENS WILL PRESENT PURPOSE PLAY

NOTED MONOLOGIST IN ROLES OF "TO HIM THAT HATH."

A Great Discussion of How Far a Man's Word May Carry for Better or for Worse in Life.

The ups and downs of any life is interesting; but that of a man with the convict sting of four years in prison who is honestly struggling to regain his place in society, is thrilling.

There is romance, hate, friendship, tears, and laughter in the thirteen characters which Adrian Newens, monologist, will present Friday evening in his interpretation of LeRoy Scott's story "To Him That Hath."

Mr. Newens presents an entire play without makeup or the assistance of any other person. In voice, in appearance, the characters seem to be there.

Formany years Adrian Newens has occupied the front rank of interpretative readers. His impersonation is extraordinary in every one of his characters. The Redpath Lyceum bureau thought so much of his powers in this direction that they made him the official coach of the talent which appears on the Redpath circuits. He has held this position for a number of years.

"To Him That Hath" is a great purpose drama; it depicts not the man who denies his country, but the man whom his country rejects. David Aldrich and Phillip Morton—friends—agree to care for each other's business should one be stricken in any way.

Morton, head of St. Christopher's Mission, is found dead in his bath tub. Aldrich is summoned and finds the Mission funds short $5000. Running down clues he finds a blackmail case, a woman demanding hush money. Aldrich is accused of embezzling the money. To save the good name of Morton and the Mission, he does not deny the charge and is sentenced to prison.

After four years, he returns to receive the rebuffs of society. Truly the ups and downs of David Aldrich's life, with the honesty of purpose in his heart,—but come and let Adrian Newens, the Mars Man, the greatest monologist on the American platform, tell you the story.

STUNTS PRESENTED TODAY.

Chairmen of Organizations Present Plans—Eight Best Selected.

Friday, November 17, will be an anxious day for the chairmen of the organizations that will present stunts on Aggie Pop Night, December 8. The committee composed of Miss Estella Root, Mrs. Van Zile, Miss Mildred Inskip, Dr. MacArthur and J. E. Kammerer, will meet that afternoon in K58 from 3:30 to 6:00 o'clock. Five minutes will be given each chairman to present a plan of his stunt.

The organizations which will be represented and their chairmen are: Athenian, Roscoe St. John; Alpha Beta, Ira Plank; Browning, Jewell Sappenfield; Eurodelphian, Nell Wilkie; Franklin, Walter Bergen; Forensic, W. G. Rhine; Hamilton, Harry Dunham; Websters, L. G. Abele; Ionian, Hazel Brown; Hesperian, Edith Riffley; Lincoln, Thompson; Alpha Delta Pi, Laura Marie Maxwell; Tri Delta, Donna Crane; Delta Zeta, Izil Polson; Chi Omega, Fern McLain; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Aline Hiltzberger; Pi Beta Phi, Mildred Robinson; Acacia; Axtex, W. K. Charles; Beta Theta Pi, Jerry Hayes; Pi Kappa Alpha, Herbert Helmcamp; Tri Epsilon, Dawson; Sigma Kappa Tau; Sigma Nu, Paul Gaiser; Sigma Phi Delta, Thomas.

This entertainment will be given in the Auditorium on the night of December 8. Admission will be 25c. The faculty will present two stunts, one by the Social club and one by the College club.

Mr. C. M. Johnson of Kansas City was the week end guest of Miss Esther Nachman. While here Mr. Johnson was the guest of Mr. Dugan G. O'Harrow at the Shamrock club.

COLLEGE AIDS TEACHERS IN ART OF INSTRUCTION

PREPARES COURSES TELLING HOW TO INSTRUCT.

Teachers in Rural Schools are Given Help in the Presentation of Agriculture, Home Economics and Manual Training.

Teachers of agriculture, home economics and manual training throughout the state are receiving instruction and help from the Kansas State Agricultural college in the presentation of their subjects.

A new course of study has recently been innovated for this purpose, and it is attracting the attention of other educational institutions. A questionnaire was sent to teachers over the state asking them what subjects they taught and the conditions under which they worked. A course of study was then designed by the home study-service department to meet general conditions. Numerous injuries have recently been made concerning this work and large numbers of teachers have enrolled.

The work is based on the state course of study and state textbooks. President H. J. Waters' book, "Essentials of Agriculture," is used in the work for high school teachers of agriculture, and Professor H. L. Kent and L. E. Call's book on agriculture is used for work in the grades. No text is used for the work in home economics and manual training.

Other States Interested.

The Kansas State Agricultural college is the pioneer in this line of work which is attracting the attention of educational institutions in other states. A C. Cooley extension director in the Agricultural College of New Mexico, was a recent visitor at the college investigating this work.

Inquiries have been received from institutions in Nebraska and other states asking how this work is being conducted. All seem to concur in the opinion that it is one of the greatest steps in educational work that have recently been taken.

When inquiries come in requesting specific information, the request is referred to a specialist on the college faculty for answer, so that all information comes from a person who is an authority on the particular subject. The department of home study service of the college, in cooperation with the college faculty has supervision of the work which aids teachers to teach their subjects.

JUNIORS FORFEIT CLASS TITLE.

Fail to Appear on Field Tuesday, and the Freshmen Won, 6 to 0.

Failure to appear on college field to battle with the freshmen for the class football title lost the junior gridiron men their chance at the class cup. After waiting longer than is required by the regulation rules, Coach Bauer forfeited the game to the yearlings, 6 to 0. The game would have been the finals of the class race the juniors having eliminated the seniors and the freshmen eleven having defeated the sophomores.

The Student Volunteer convention convenes November 17, 18 and 19 at Baker. Leaders at the convention are direct from the orient and the associations are anticipating a very interesting meeting. Miss Laura Radford, general Y. W. C. A. secretary, in India, will be one of the leading speakers. Miss Anna Neer, Miss Vera McCoy and Miss Nellie Kizer will represent the local association at the convention.

Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science, left Monday for a month's trip through the east and Canada to investigate the work in home economics done in other institutions. She will spend a week in New York, and will go to Cornell University, Toronto, Gulpk, Michigan Agricultural college, University of Wisconsin, and Iowa State college.

Louise Walbridge, 14 of Topeka and her sister Caroline, visited Margaret and Arthur Browne, during the end of the Homecoming week.

WOULD BE GRAIN INSPECTORS.

Seven Students Take Civil Service Examination.

Seven students of the milling department took the United States Civil Service examination for positions as grain samplers, Tuesday.

Inspectors will be chosen from those taking the examinations, who will be connected with the department of agriculture in compliance with the United States Grain Standards act. The students who took the examination are: C. W. Mullen, R. I. McMillan, L. L. Leeper, J. H. Flora, Ralph Nickle, Joe Novak, and G. C. Salisbury.

The United States government will begin the supervision of the inspection of corn shipped in interstate and foreign commerce on and after December 1, 1916. Other grains will be inspected thereafter as soon as the United States standards are established.

BANANA TREE IS IN BLOOM.

This Tropical Plant Is in the College Greenhouse.

The banana tree is in bloom in the tropical greenhouse and a large bunch of green bananas are forming. The tree blooms by simply uncovering the different lobes of young bananas. This process starts with the top of the bunch and gradually works down until the whole bunch is exposed to the light. The covering, which curls up and uncovers the lobes of bananas, is simply a husk of a brown color.

LONGER COLLEGE YEAR IS ADVISED BY WATERS

Present System Is a Waste of Capital Invested and Breeds Habits of Laziness.

Increase the length of the college year 25 per cent and save interest and depreciation on half a billion dollars worth of equipment, was the recommendation of Dr. Henry Jackson Waters, president of the college, in an address Wednesday afternoon before the American association of Agricultural colleges and Experiment Stations at Washington, D. C.

President Waters advocated the increase for all educational institutions, but held that the colleges must lead the way. He pointed out that the present division of the year was made when college was supposed to fit one for a life of leisure. At present, on the contrary, students, except those who live on farms, can be in college at one time more conveniently than at another.

"Seven weeks vacation is all the vacation that anyone needs," said President Waters. "It is much more than the average man gets. It is twice what the busy man in the educational institution obtains."

"When the student is required to work more nearly the year round, he will not only be able to cover a much more extensive course of study, but will also be trained in habits of industry instead of loafing and laziness."

Dr. Waters pointed out that the summer sessions which were originally designed for the convenience of teachers had been attended by an increasing number of students in the last few years.

GIRLS WILL HAVE REST ROOM.

College Book Store Arranging Attractive Room.

A cozy fireplace, comfy chairs, and a spacious window seat are some of the attractive features of the new rest room for girls which Lawrence Endacott will soon open at the College Book Store for the accommodation of the co-eds.

The large brick fireplace will toast many a suffering shin when the wintry blasts do blow. And then for the idle moment there will be a supply of stationary in the library table to write a hasty note to mother.

There's two large French plate mirrors—well, just to look at, you know. A busy little mantel clock will recall the "return to grind." The wide plate window will be hung with draperies, so that Mr. Stude cannot satisfy an overteeming curiosity.

The room set aside for the girls has a high ceiling, tinted walls and from all appearances will be very cheerful. Pictures, and one or two articles of furniture have not been received, but it is announced that the room will be opened the early part of next week.

AGGIES CONFIDENT OF VICTORY OVER SOONERS

LEFT LAST EVENING FOR OKLAHOMA IN SPECIAL CAR.

Every Aggie in Good Condition—"Stiff" and "Cap" Barnes in Line Again—Oklahoma Has but Two Letter Men.

Fresh from their first Missouri valley victory, will the Clevenger men rush on and overwhelm Bennie Owen's Oklahoma Sooners in Saturday's combat at Norman—their first victory over the Owen proteges? Will the high momentum attained in the last two games—one a tie with Kansas, another a victory over Missouri—continue and bring back a victory from Soonerland? Aggie followers are confident that the last two games are not a flash, and that no eleven—not even the forward passing Oklahoma—can be able to repel the onward rush of the highly developed Clevenger-Schulz machinery.

For years, the Owen eleven from the South has invaded Missouri valley territory and has seldom failed to return victorious. All is different this year. Only two letter men were left for the one-armed Oklahoma mentor to use as a nucleus for another victorious eleven. First Harry Kendall college, then Kansas and lastly Missouri, trimmed the Oklahoma men, and now Norman football followers are looking forward to a victory over the Kansas Aggies, one of this year's premier valley elevens, as a partial redeeming feature of the 1916 season.

That the game will be closely fought is attested by the close scores by which Missouri and Kansas have won over the southerners. In this game, the Owen men will have the advantage of playing at home—a handicap which the Owen eleven did not possess in the Kansas contest.

The Aggies left on a special car last night with every player in the prime of condition. Not a man was injured in the contest with the Tigers. "Stiff" Randels still limps slightly on the ankle turned in the Kansas game three weeks ago, but the injury seemingly had no effect on the star end's speed against Missouri. Captain Barnes has almost entirely recovered from his injury and will no longer be compelled to nurse his right leg.

The big hope of both Clevenger and Schulz is to hold Oklahoma scoreless and thus again demonstrate the highly developed defense of the Aggies. Practice the past week has been in backfield defense against the forward pass, thus adding the line in the defense task. But three touchdowns have been pushed across the Aggie line this year. One of these scores, it is said, is strongly protested by a number of Aggie players, who assert that Pittam's plunge Saturday was halted before he crossed the Purple goal line.

With a defense hardly excelled in the valley and an offense that is slowly but surely finding itself, odds seem on the side of the Clevenger men in the Oklahoma battle. If two touchdowns are scored by the Purple crew, Aggie followers feel certain of another victory for the Purple eleven.

STUDENTS ARE HARD ON SHOES.

Use Approximately $2000 Worth of Leather Each Year.

"For want of a nail a shoe was lost," is an adage evidently observed by the students, to judge from the amount of shoe mending required to keep them shod.

From $1000 to $2000 worth of sole leather a year is ordered and at least $4000 worth of rubber soles are needed to replace runover heels, each college year.

Boys' shoes, girls' shoes, with high heels, low heels, runover heels and no heels at all, high shoes, low shoes, long slender ones, short broad ones, white, black and brown, ranging in size from ones to tens, stand side by side on the shoemakers' shelves awaiting their turn at the "last."

Truly the shoe repairer is no respecter of soles.

THEY MUST ACKNOWLEDGE.

Sport writers in the Missouri valley are finally falling to the fact that one of the best teams in the Missouri valley is no other than the Kansas Aggies. To some scribes the acknowledgment has come hard, and it is gratifying to note the following in the Topeka State Journal, written by "Clug," the Journal sport writer:

"It takes neither a flaming imagination nor flagrant favoritism to predict that Kansas State Agricultural college is about to become the biggest noise in Missouri valley circles. The Aggie Wildcats have not yet arrived, under the masterful direction of Z. G. Clevenger and 'Germany' Schulz, they are coming to the front by leaps and bounds and if the handwriting on the wall is not the scribbling of an unreliable seer, they are destined to make a mighty fight for supremacy next year.

Their showing this season has been a most remarkable one, and if they succeed in defeating Oklahoma next Saturday, they will have made a remarkable record, regardless of the outcome of the final game with Washburn, Thanksgiving.

The Aggies have been slowly coming to the front for two years, but the first real evidence that they were arriving came when they held Nebraska to a 14 point margin. Then they played K. U. to a scoreless tie and last week removed all doubt in the minds of the dubious by defeating Missouri.

With the material they have, which is as good and as plentiful as any school in the valley, and with a coaching system that is getting the full strength out of the team, sudden interest and enthusiasm are bound to increase immensely and the Farmers are certain to become dangerous rivals of all teams they meet. Watch out for the Wildcats next season.

Those Dear Girls in the Bleachers That Just Love Football.

When the college band's a-playing And the jolly crowds a-swaying, And the wise guy is a-saying that there'll be a big surprise; When your fingers get to knarling As you hear the quarter snarling Then, Ye Gods! she says "The darling! How I love his big blue eyes!"

From New York clear to Seattle, Makes no difference where they battle You will always hear that prattle on All fields from shore to shore. Even though your team is under And your line is torn asunder, And you blunder "Gee! I wonder what in thunder is the score!"

There! the team has started gaining! Surest thing. They're only fanning That their strength is slowly waning. Watch 'em when they start to fight! Ben's some kicker, Jack's a sticker— Then you hear that foolish snicker As she lisps "We made a dicker to attend the dance tonight."

BUT

When your team has smoked the bacon, Hands you're shakin' noise you've makin'.

How much fun will you be takin' as you dance around the flame? For your head is full of follies; Dance at Dolly's—fudge at Molly's Spread at Ollie's—show at Polly's— wonder if there WAS a game?"

Prof: "Is it not possible to make a statesman out of a politician?"

Stude: "No. About all they're good for is to hunt lions in Africa and explain the tricks of the trade during vacations."

Prof. Davis (in English Lit class which is studying Sheridan's "The Rivals.")—"McGarraugh, why did Acres come down to Bath?"

McGarraugh—"To press his suit."

"Gloria's Romance."

The 12th and 14th chapters of this great picture featuring Miss Billie Burke, the most charming little actress of the stage or screen. At the Marshall Monday afternoon and evening.

"The Shine Girl."

Here is a wonderful human play about the joys and sorrows of folks you'd like to know. Gladys Hulette takes the part of the "Shine Girl." Here is what one exhibitor says: "I have seen only eight really great moving pictures and 'The Shine Girl' is one of them." At the Marshall Saturday.

"The Light of Happiness."

A very pleasing comedy drama presenting "the sweetest girl in the world" Viola Dana. A charming, clean and interesting story perfectly produced in every feature and showing a most popular star. At the Wareham theatre Saturday afternoon and evening.

V. H. Florell, field man for the Cheyenne experiment farm at Archer, Wyoming, is here assisting the department of botany conduct an investigation of cereal crop diseases. This investigation is carried on with the cooperation of the United States Department of Agriculture.

"THE WAR BRIDE'S SECRET."

The screen sensation of 1916, featuring Virginia Pearson. A six-reel story depicting the sorrows left in the trail of the iron wheels of war. No actual war scenes are shown, but the sufferings of the war's women herein unfolded, will wring every human heart. Don't forget this great picture at the Wareham theatre Monday afternoon and evening.

H. L. Kent, associate professor of education, was in charge of the arrangements for the faculty-alumni banquet at Topeka Wednesday. The banquet was held at noon in the first Baptist church for the members of the faculty and the alumni who were in Topeka attending the teachers' meetings.

"The Man Who Would Not Die."

Featuring William Russell in a dual role. Startling in theme, finished in production and replete with situations of high dramatic power, this psychological drama stands as a film achievement and will be received favorably by all who appreciate the best in motion pictures. At the Marshall today.

R. A. Covey of Topeka is a business visitor here today.

At the Wareham Today.

MARRIED LOVE ONLY A JOKE SAID FAIR CO-ED

But She had Views Altogether Different Concerning Unmar-married Love.

"Say what you please about married love, it's a joke," said the pretty co-ed pessimistically as she demurely balanced herself on the railing of the rooming house porch.

W. "hat do you know about it?" asked the young man, who was monopolizing the porch swing. "You have never been married, have you?"

"Decidedly not, and for your information that is not all, I never will be," snapped the co-ed. "The biggest word for the marriage vows is love, and after the marriage that's the word that makes the joke."

"For the love of Mike, Josie, you talk like a woman who was suing for alimony. You don't even talk reasonably."

"I don't? Well, listen. Last evening some of my young married friends were here on the porch, and a man and woman walked past the house simply glued together. Just as they were passing an automobile came along and incidentally threw the light on that couple. He had his arm around her and she had her arm around him. One of the young married women was shocked and said, 'disgusting.' I said: 'Perhaps they're married.'"

"You should have heard the whoop that went up from those married people. 'There is only one sure thing about that couple' said one of the married women, 'and that is that they are not married—at least not to each other.' That is always the way it is, if any love making is being done married people always laugh at it."

"Aw, come'n over here in the swing, Josie," pleaded the abashed monopolizer of the swing as he made room. "honest now, we would never laugh at love, would we?"

There was a muffled reply in the negative, and since there were no married folk present, silence reigned.

—The man on the Other Porch.

GLOBE TAILOR-MADE UNION SUITS

They'll be all right

for a year or so yet.

The problem of keeping up with your growing boys and girls.

Children's Underwear should last two years at least, and require little or no repairs during that time. And it should be comfortable every minute.

At least two seasons' wear in Globe underwear.

This calls for five important things: 1. Good material that won't shrink; 2. Correct shape; 3. Flexibility; 4. Strong making; 5. Allowance for growth.

GLOBE Tailor Made Union Suits

are made of the finest yarns and a secret process makes them unshrinkable. They stretch as the child moves—in every direction. The shapes are designed by experts to fit exactly. They are made strong. Fabric is especially treated, giving it elasticity and long life. Seams are double-sewed—won't tear out. Seams stay at ends—won't unravel. Buttons won't get too large—and unbutton. Buttons sewed with six-cord thread—on to stay. Sizes generous—plenty of room everywhere, with extra length of sleeves and legs.

GIFTS OF JEWELRY

Giving in season—on Christmas, on a birthday, on graduation, or anniversary—is a charming thing to do. But how much more charming and expressive to give to a dear one "out of a clear sky." To carry home some inexpensive but thoughtful remembrance on a day when it is not expected—when you will have the pleasure of giving a complete surprise as well as complete joy. We know of nothing more suited to such a pleasant purpose than W.W. Rings. They have beauty, charm, character, distinction, and are inexpensive, costing no more than ordinary rings. And you have this added satisfaction. You know that your gift will be permanent, for any setting that is broken or lost, at any time, will be replaced without cost to you, or the one to whom you give.

DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN FOR THE SCHOOL YEAR

MORE THAN 60 CONTEST FOR PLACES IN THE FALL TRYOUT.

The First Clash of the Season Will be With the Iowa State College at Auditorium Friday Night.

Eleven men and 12 women were chosen in the recent tryouts to complete the 1916-17 debating squads. More than 60 persons tried for places on the teams, and competition was keen. Professor Emerson and Debate Coach Don L. Burk who judged the tryouts express themselves as well pleased with the results.

The following are those who were successful in the contest. This list is in alphabetical order and not according to ranking. Geo. W. Bursch, Alpha Beta; Fred Carp, Athenian; Glen Case, Franklin; P. L. Findley, Hamilton; J. Clyde Fisher, Hamilton; C. W. Howard, Athenian; C. J. Medlin, Athenian; H. H. Nelson, Hamilton; A. F. Swanson, Franklin; L. W. Work, Franklin; W. A. Wunsch, Alpha Beta.

Ethel Arnold, Browning; Eda Bradley, Alpha Beta; Gussie Johnson, Eurodelphian; Margaret King, Ionian; Lilian Buchheim, Browning; Frances Kneaster, Delta Zeta; Miss Degerstrom, Alpha Beta; Helen Mitchell, Browning; Lucille Norwood, Pi Beta Phi; Lola Sloop, Browning; Blanche Sappenfeld, Browning; Nell Wilkie, Eurodelphian.

Thirty-Six Will Debate.

Thirty-six students will participate in inter-collegiate debate during the college year—18 men and 18 women. Approximately 12 men and 12 women were chosen in the tryout which was held last spring for the fall debates. Those selected in the fall tryout will have an equal chance with those formerly chosen for the squads. The persons who make the best showing in the squad meetings will be chosen for the team and the rest will act as alternates.

Up to this time there has been no selection of teams that are to debate after the holidays. Only one debate will occur this fall the annual clash with the Ames, Iowa, Agricultural college, which will be held at the college auditorium next Friday night, November 24.

The debates for the rest of the year are as follows: The men's teams will debate the Emporia State Normal, and in the Pentagonal in which this college, Ottawa University, Washburn, Baker university and the College of Emporia participate.

The women's teams will debate the Warrensburg, Mo., State Normal, and Washburn. Arrangements are being made for either a triangular or a pentagonal women's debate with other Kansas schools.

The debate coaches are confident of making a good showing with the material they have for the coming season.

FRESH WIN CLASS TITLE.

First Year Men Trim Juniors in 16 to 6 Battle Friday.

Playing off the finals in the class championship race, the freshman eleven easily defeated the juniors by a 16 to 6 count Saturday in the city park. The game had previously been forfeited to the Freshmen by the Juniors failure to appear on the field last week, but the first year men consented to give the upper classmen another chance at the title.

Old Pioneer of Kansas Dead

Dr. G. M. Kirkpatrick, assistant in home study service, division of college extension, received word Thursday morning of his father's death at Oklahoma City, Okla. Dr. Kirkpatrick had just recently returned from an extended visit with his father who was very poorly. He was an old Kansas pioneer who had seen decades come and go at Holton and had just taken up his residence at Oklahoma City a few years ago.

S. E. Watson, first year student in the school of agriculture, has withdrawn from school.

GO SWIMMING IN ICE WATER.

Ten Beta Boys Take Plunge in Wildcat Creek Sunday Morning.

A cold bath in the morning usually is enough for the average human being but it took a plunge in the ice-coated waters of Wildcat creek to satisfy the spirit of conquest of 10 members of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, 1616 Fairchild avenue, who went for a hike Sunday morning.

The boys spent part of the morning in playing hockey in an alfalfa field, but not satisfied with this invaded a cornfield and fought a battle with cornstalks. By this time the spirit of youth was running high and some one suggested taking a swim in Wildcat creek. When the hikers arrived at the creek it was found that a coating of ice, nearly 3-8 of an inch thick, covered part of the particular pool in which the plunge was to be made. This did not put a halt to the adventure, however, and within a few minutes each one of the 10 had taken a plunge into the ice water. Needless to say, the swim was cut as short as possible. All in the party were feeling "as fine as silk" today and seemed none the worse for their adventure. In the party were "Bill" Ball, Sam Mitchell, "Charley" Cole, "Pete" Small, "Pat" Allen, George Fulcomer, Marion Smith, "Doc" Gates, "Beeze" Cushman and Ralph Heppie.

FACULTY MEMBERS ARE GUESTS OF ROCK ISLAND

Three Will do Lecture Work for the Rock Island Cash Crop Demonstration Train.

Mary Pierce Van Zile, dean of the division of home economics, G. E. Thompson, specialist in soil and crops of the extension division, and Mary M. Baird, assistant in home study of the extension department, as guests of the Rock Island Railway company, left Saturday morning for Colorado Springs where they will join faculty members of the Colorado Agricultural college, who will co-operate with them in the lecture work for the Rock Island Cash Crop demonstration train which will visit more than 25 towns in eastern Colorado and western Kansas this week.

The Cash Crop special which left Colorado Springs this morning consisted of two business cars, one standard Pullman, two coaches, and one baggage car.

Professor Kezer and Miss Shutt of the Colorado Agricultural college will lecture at the points visited in Colorado and the work at the twelve Kansas towns will be divided between the members of the local faculty.

Colorado is also sending a specialist in farm problems who will speak upon different phases of the Federal Farm Loan act.

The Kansas towns which will be visited on Thursday and Friday are: Kanorado, Rulietown, Goodland, Brewster, Colby, Rexford, Selden, Dresden, Jennings, Clayton, Dellvale, and Norton.

Charles R. Weeks, superintendent of the Fort Hays Branch Experiment station, joined the party at Colorado Springs and will lecture upon the general subject of grain sorghums. The general subjects assigned to the other members were: Mrs. Van Zile, and Miss Baird, "Farm Home Improvement," and G. E. Thompson, "Marketing Forage Crops through Live Stock."

J. A. Stewart, general passenger agent for the Rock Island, accompanied the K. S. A. C. faculty members from here and provided for their accommodation and comfort.

JOURNALISM BULLETIN IS ISSUED

College Publishes First of a Series on Industrial Journalism

The first issue of a series of bulletins on industrial journalism to be issued by the college made its first appearance Wednesday. The bulletin is entitled, "The Agricultural College and Its Editor." It is an address delivered before the American Association of Agricultural College Editors by Dr. H. J. Walters. The bulletin is to make its appearance on the first and fifteenth of each month.

Miss Mary Baird, assistant in home study of the extension division, is scheduled to speak Saturday at the Farmer's Institute at Belleville on the subject "Table Economy."

MAY CONSTRUCT CENTRAL WING OF NEW AG. HALL

STATE ARCHITECT MAKING ESTIMATE OF PROBABLE COST.

The Next Legislature Will be Asked for a Million Dollars Worth of Buildings for Kansas Institutions.

Close to a million dollars worth of new buildings at the Kansas institutions will be asked from the next legislature for the next two years, Charles Chandler, state architect, is now at work making preliminary studies and estimates of the probable cost of these buildings. Before the various boards ask the legislature for the buildings it is necessary to furnish some estimate of the cost. Here is the list of new structures proposed:

New music building at state university.

Central wing agricultural building, agricultural college.

Auditorium and domestic arts building at Pittsburg Normal.

Addition to hospital at Rosedale.

Two new cottages at Larned insane hospital.

Additional pavilion at Norton tuberculosis sanitarium.

New cell house at penitentiary.

Completion of cell house at Hutchinson reformatory.

New hospital building at orphan's home.

Besides these there will be some small buildings at various institutions for special purposes and a large amount of repairs for some of the old buildings will be required. The building of the cell house at Lansing has made it practically certain that the prison will be rebuilt. There has been much talk about rebuilding the prison and the destruction of the old building has made it necessary to start the rebuilding at an early date. For five years everyone has known of the deplorable condition of the state prison, but it has been impossible to persuade any legislature that it ought to do something to remedy this condition.

The new music hall at the state university may result in the rebuilding of what is now known as North College, the original university building. It is proposed to build the music hall down the hill below the new administration building and to tear down North College.

LECTURE COURSE IS POPULAR

Rural Communities are Entertained by the College

The rural community lecture course, recently established under the auspices of the rural service department in the Kansas State Agricultural college, is proving popular. Thirty communities have contracted for it.

The course consists of five numbers and is offered for $80. The first number is an evening of readings from Kansas literature and is to be given by a young woman from the department. She will remain a week in each community and train the children for the pageant to be given locally entitled, "The Folks Who are Building Kansas." It comprises the second number of the course. The remaining numbers on the course are three lectures, "Building the Kansas Community," "My Neighbor," and an agricultural lecture by a member of the college faculty.

FRATERNITY BASKETBALL.

Series Starts Tonight With Two Games on the Schedule.

The fraternity basketball series opens tonight with games between the Beta and the Pi Kappa Alphas and between the Axtex and the Axtexa. Thursday night the Sigma Nus will play the Axtex and the Beta will meet the Axtexa. The first games each night will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Each team will contest once with each other team, the team finishing with the highest percentage winning a leg on a beautiful leaving cup offered by the Pan-Hellenic association.

PURPLE MASQUE OFFERS $50 FOR ORIGINAL PLAY

CUSTOMARY ROYALTY WILL BE PAID TO LOCAL PLAYWRIGHT.

Rules are Announced by the College
Honorary Dramatic Fraternity—
Play Must be Submitted
Previous to March 1.

Fifty dollars is offered by the Purple Masque, honorary dramatic fraternity, to the student who will write an original play before March 1 which will be suitable for production.

A comedy is preferred although a tragedy will be allowed. A burlesque will not be considered unless it is exceptionally good—better than could be expected from an amateur. It is expected that the $50 will be sufficient inducement to bring to light an original play which will be high class in plot and detail.

This is the sum that is commonly charged as a royalty which the Purple Masque presents. At the suggestion of Dr. J. G. Emerson, it was decided to offer this amount for a play written by local talent.

The committee on rules makes the following suggestion:

Make a careful selection of your plot, securing any advice from professors or reading that will be of help without infringing on originality.

The committee on rules makes the following suggestion:

Do not create impossible scenes. Select your plot, write your play, and study it as a whole. The reconstruction will allow of criticisms, revisions and cut outs.

Do not put off writing it until at details are mentally developed. Write it down as it is mentally developed.

Rules for Play-Writing Contest.
This contest is open to all college students.

Plot and theme must be original.

The play should be of not more than four acts of about equal length.

No restriction as to the number and sex of characters nor to the setting used for the play.

The length of the play should be from two to two and one-half hours, with as few changes of scenery as possible.

The play must be typewritten on one side of the paper only.

The play must be turned in to Dr. MacArthur not later than March 1, 1917. It must be unsigned and unmarked in any way that would disclose the name of author.

The plays submitted will be judged by a committee of three faculty members, and the prize awarded sometime during March. The committee will reserve the right to reject any or all plays as they see fit.

SCHOOL OF AG PLAYS ST. MARYS

Are Working Hard to Beat Catholic Academy.

The school of agriculture football team will go to St. Marys Thursday afternoon to play the St. Marys academy team. The ag men have been working hard in practice since the Manhattan highs defeated them two weeks ago, and they are now in much better condition than they were before that game.

Two weeks of practice has done much toward improving the play of the team in both defensive and offensive. The previous school of agriculture teams have always triumphed over the St. Marys eleven of the past, and it is believed by the members of the ag bunch that another victory will be added to the list.

HENDERSON MARTIN MAY RESIGN

Vice-Gov. of Philippines Would Be Kansas Governor.

Topeka, Nov. 20.—Henderson S. Martin of Kansas, vice governor of the Philippines, is in Washington today, and is expected this week to lay his resignation before President Wilson. It is reported that he will urge the appointment of George H. Hodges former governor, as his successor.

In Kansas political circles it is believed that Martin will later be appointed to a position in the federal service, which will permit him to spend the greater portion of his time in Kansas. It is also reported that Martin will be groomed for the governorship race in 1918.

AGGIE JUDGES ARE ON A TRIP Will Go to International Live Stock Show at Chicago

Members of the animal husbandry stock judging team left Sunday, November 19, on a trip through Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana, and will finally end up at Chicago, where they will judge in the contest. December 2, at the International Live Stock Show.

The following men and places will be visited: C. D. and E. F. Caldwell, Burlington Junction, Mo.; Bellows Bros., Marysville, Mo.; C. G. Good, Ogden, Iowa; Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa; Singmaster and Sons, Keota, Iowa; Charles Irvin, Ankeny, Iowa; Garden and Weaver, Wapello, Iowa; W. S. Corss, Whitehall, Ill.; William Prather, Williamsville, Ill.; University of Illinois, Urbana, Ill.; J. Crouch and Sons, Lafayette, Ind.; Purdue university, Lafayette, Ind.; and Thomas Stanton, Wheaton, Ill.; finally ending with the International Show at Chicago.

The men making the trip are: Dr. C. W. McCampbell, coach; P. J. Englund, R. Weimer, B. M. Anderson, J. E. Neale, and L. E. Howard. H. W. Lunhow will also make the trip.

The men expect to be back in school by the second week in December.

ADOPT BURTON'S BOOKS AS TEXTS FOR STATE

Two Volumes Written by K. S. A. C.
Man Will be Used in Kansas Schools.

Text books written by M. E. Burton, director of the Home Study service of the college, assisted by his wife, Ida Robinson Burton, were adopted by the State Text Book commission at its meeting on November 8th.

"School Sewing Based on Home Problems", with the co-authors Ida Robinson Burton, B. S., former director of home economics at Muncie Normal Institute, and Myron G. Burton, A. B., director of Home Study service in the Kansas State Agricultural college, is an intensely practical work which is designed for elementary sewing either in rural schools or the first year of high school.

This book will be printed by the state and furnished to the pupils at about thirty-five cents. A course of study based on the text which is assigned to meet the needs of the teachers using it, is being prepared. The course of study and text book, it is expected will be off the press within a month.

"Shop Projects Based on Community Problems" is an elementary manual training text which can be used as a guide to teaching the elements either in rural, common, or high school work. This text also will probably be furnished to the students for thirty-five cents.

Mr. Burton has had a wide experience in teaching manual work. Other notable publications by him which have met with popular approval, in educational circles are "Educational Efficiency for the Ninety and Nine", "Bench Work for High Schools", "Graded Lessons in Cabinet Making".

OLEY WEAVER HAS COLLEGE JOB

Former K. S. A. C. Student and Editor Goes to Florida.

O. W. Weaver, editor of Sedgwick Pantagraph, has been appointed to a position in the college of agriculture of the University of Florida. He was one of several applicants for the place. Weaver is a graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural college. He will have charge of a farm paper issued by the University of Florida.

AN EXPLANATION.

Owing to a "break down" on the Linotype machine, it was impossible for us to print the society news, locals, and several news stories we had intended to publish in this issue. We sincerely regret this misfortune but trust that our readers will appreciate the circumstances. We shall do our best to make amends in the next issue of the Collegian.

CLEVENGER ELEVEN WINS GAME BY A 14-13 COUNT

NORMALS COULDN'T STOP WELLS' ELUSIVE PLUNGES.

Oklahomans Played Their Best Game of the Season—Aggie Pass Intercepting Machine Out of Order.

The smashing, ripping line-plunging tactics of the Aggies won a deserved 14 to 13 victory over the forward passing Oklahoma Sooners Saturday at Norman, the first Sooners defeat at the hands of the Manhattan eleven. Wells' smashing drives through the Owen line and Randels' sprints around the ends overbalanced the accurate passing of Briscoe, giving the Purple eleven 18 first downs against 12 for the Sooners. As in the Missouri contest, Randels' goal-kicking too gave the advantage to the Clevenger eleven.

Wells' playing so amazed the Oklahoma rooters that they stood and cheered at the stellar open field running of the big fullback. During the Aggie rushes down the field, Wells was many times called upon to carry the ball three and four times in succession and seldom was halted without having made heavy yardage. Once he twisted and squirmed his way 35 yards straight through the entire Norman eleven, stiff-arming or throwing off tackler after tackler in his sensational run.

The Aggie line again came in for its share of glory. The Oklahoma Sooners aimed plunge after plunge against the Schulz forwards in the first period, but the defense proved so impregnable that the Owen men quickly shifted to the aerial method of attack, with a sprinkling of end runs.

The passes of the Sooners for the first time this year resembled the great basketball style of attack which has in the past earned them the name of the "forward passingest" team in the middle west. With Husted out of the game after the first period with a splintered shoulder, the Clevenger pass-intercepting machinery was incapable of stopping the Sooners' advances. Oklahoma Sooners assert that Owen was 50 per cent better than at any time this season, and that only the superb play of the Clevenger eleven kept the Norman eleven from a victory.

The play by quarters:
First Quarter.

The Aggies received but failed to gain, Wells kicking to Johnson. The Aggies recovered a fumble on the Sooners' 35-yard line. Wells made 18 yards through center, McCain stopping him on the 5-yard line. Wilmouth punted 38 yards out of bounds. Randels attempted a 40-yard place kick, which went wide. The Sooners punted to Clark, who was downed in his tracks on his own 26-yard line. Wells received the ball and twisted and wrigled through the entire team for 35 yards, taking the ball to the Oklahoma 40-yard line. A pass, Clark to Skinner, netted 29 yards. In three plunges, Wells advanced the ball 15 yards to the five yard line. Wells smashed through tackle for a touchdown. Randels kicked goal. The Sooners kicked off and the Aggies advanced 25 yards steadily down the field.

Second Quarter.

The Aggies continued their march another 15 yards, Wells carrying the ball. The Sooners halted the Aggie plunges when Husted fumbled the ball, a fierce tackle by McCain splintering Husted's shoulder. An exchange of punts followed. At the last of the period, McCain received a 20-yard pass from Briscoe, and sprinted 25 yards to a touchdown. Johnson kicked goal.

The Aggies started off with a first down, when Wilder fumbled to Bayr across the scrimmage line. A pass, Clark to Randels, was good for 12 yards. Oklahoma held on her 30-yard line. Successive passes netting 35 yards, 21 yards and 18 yards were completed by the Sooners, the Aggies backfield seeming unable to cope with the Oklahoma flips. The half ended

HE IS A SCOUNDREL.

In the last issue of the Collegian there appeared an article headed "Married Love Only a Joke Said Fair Co-ed," and signed "The Man on the Other Porch." This article elicited the following reply which we print by request:

Editor of the Collegian.
Will you please print this letter so that the man (notice the small m) on the porch may read it?
To the Man on the Other Porch.

Words fall me when I try to express my thoughts concerning any one who would stoop to eavesdropping in such an unmanly way. A true red-blooded man would not listen to things which did not concern him and if he did overhear something like you say you did, he would not repeat it.

I hope you got as cold as I did, anyway we're engaged now, so I don't care if you do tell.

FOOTBALL

(By Hugh Robert Orr)

What's all that noise?
Three thousand boys
And girls, their joys Exulting.

With mighty boasts
And dreadful roasts,
The frantic hosts
Assemble.

The lines are drawn,
The battle's on,
The pig-skin's gone—
See yonder.

Now—36
4—19—6
Oh, how they mix
And tumble!

Five yards to gain,
Now lift your man
Clear of the pan—
Or grid iron.

A center buck,
By heck, what luck,
Say, coach, you chuck
That fullback.

We've lost the ball.
Go, get the maul
And brain them all.
The greasers.

Look at 'em go—
We've got no show!
Our line's like dough
Un(e)levened.

A fumble, that.
See, what a spat.
Here, hold my hat,
I'll part em.

The pig-skin's ours,
Bring on your flowers,
Use all your powers
To cheer 'em.

Look there—he's gone.
The goal he's on,
The game is won.
A TOUCHDOWN!

Oh, what a spell,
Such fearful yell!
It sounds like—well,
It's AWFUL.

Mary Pickford in "Less Than the Dust."

In this story is the world's most famous actress "Mary Pickford" in the first superior production under her own management.

A picturesque story of modern India, in which Mary Pickford as a little English castaway has developed a brand new characterization of intense power, mellowed by all the sweet and adorable qualities which have given her such a tremendous and devoted following among theatre goers.

This picture is shown at the prices of 10 and 20 cents and would easily justify even higher prices. At the Wareham Wednesday and Thursday afternoons and evenings.

STUDENTS LOSE EVERYTHING

Except Shoes, Vests and Nightshirts; College Postoffice Has Rest.

(By George Nelson)

A certain type of student in Manhattan has the faculty or failing—it might be termed a disease—for losing things. If his luck doesn't change for the better, it is possible he may awake some morning wondering what has become of his night shirt.

Thus far he has succeeded in losing nearly all of his original apparel and the ornaments thereof, excepting his vest and shoes. His tie pin, frat pin, cuff buttons, fountain pen, books, rubbers, gloves, et cetera—all have disappeared as suddenly and unceremoniously as the family cat.

Unlike the traditional cat, however, these personal items, in most cases, fail to return—and there's the rub. The loser is never a game loser, and his woes must be confided to the public at large.

In this he has been successful—admirably so. He has plastered the college buildings—inside and out—with appeals for sympathy. Some of these notices, although primitive in form yet have a kind of plaintive and appealing air. Others look like the bill of fare in a Chinese restaurant, and still others, after a monstrous attack on grammar, promise even worse treatment to the culprit who has gathered unto himself the treasured heirloom, yet fails to give it up.

In some cases, the culprit, possibly struck by fear or remorse, or just plain honesty, has ventured to return the contraband article. In other cases he has compromised by leaving it with a third party—the college postoffice. So, if the guilty one who reads this does not wish his personal effects to be distributed as premiums for Collegian subscribers, he should attend to the matter immediately.

DILLON'S DESK BOOK HAS GONE TO PRESS. WANT ONE?

The teacher isn't always at your elbow.

Can you write a good story?

Do you know how to prepare manuscript so that a very busy editor will be induced to read it?

What are your rules of writing for publication?

Do you know the first principles of the Law of Libel?

Do you know what material is likely to attract a farm paper editor, or the editor of a city paper?

Dillon's Desk Book answers these questions, and a hundred others equally important.

The book-stalls offer no handier volume, nor one containing more information in such small space: 48 pages with a good cover, strongly bound, made to carry in the pocket if you wish. The price is fifty cents, postpaid. Only one thousand copies are to be issued this time—the third edition. Let me have your order now.

WOMEN ARE SPECIALISTS IN JOURNALISM FIELDS

CO-EDS OF THE DEPARTMENT DISCUSS LINES OF WORK.

Aunt Polly's Chair Is Overcrowded but There Are Places in Feature Writing, Society, and Critic's Chair.

When we speak of women journalists we usually think of a Mrs. Polly Purson's corner or of the Aunt Mary's boys and girls column or of a society editor according to Miss Velma Carson, sophomore in journalism, who was one of the women journalists in charge of the journalism seminar yesterday morning.

"But Aunt Polly's corner for advice to women about the home is full of women and sides and middles are full of women waiting to crowd into the corner. But there is another field for women in journalism which is not thought of so commonly. That is the part of critic, either literary, dramatic, music, or art.

"Woman is a natural critic of arts. She notices the smallest detail. Not a thing escapes her eye. Men get a big general effect of what is placed before them. Women scrutinize, analyze and criticize.

"The very fact that there are but few women working in this phase of journalism leaves a wide field open for the women who are interested in the progress of the arts. The woman who would be a critic must have tact, good fellowship, sympathies for humanity, an ability to write cleverly, and a keen technical ability of the arts she hopes to criticize.

"One of the lines of writing for which women are better fitted than men or perhaps that she can handle with even greater skill than a man," said Miss McLean, sophomore in journalism, "is that phase of feature writing known as 'sob stuff'."

"When sob stories are spoken of, people are prone to smile in a peculiar manner just like they reach their eyebrows when we speak of uplift. But nevertheless it is possible to make some readers sob over a story which relates existing conditions, there is some sentiment aroused toward removing those obnoxious existing evils.

"Large newspapers employ women who have displayed skill in handling feature material to write the Christmas sob stories and arouse interest for the relief of the poor."

"It is a common opinion that the position of society editor on the newspaper requires little effort and work," said Miss Annette Perry, senior in journalism, who has a wide experience as society editor for the college and city papers. Society writing is one of the most tiresome tasks. There is an unending succession of parties to attend and to write up, people coming and going, the same happenings, the monotony only relieved by the change of names, and an unchanging vocabulary of words with which to describe them.

"On some days there is an excess of material, when it is impossible to print it all. Then a choice must be made and a chance of offending. At other times there is a dearth of material and good clips must be selected for filler.

"Accuracy is the main essential with the society editor as in other lines of the profession. The field is particularly attractive to women who like to go and describe the things which they see. It offers an opportunity to meet the elite of the city, to attend exclusive parties, and to mingle with all kinds of people."

THE LITTLE PARIS SHOP FOR THE DISCRIMINATING BUYER

HERE YOU WILL FIND ALMOST SIX HUNDRED ARTISTIC PIECES OF MERITE JEWELRY—THE LAST WORD IN JEWELRY FASHION.

With hundreds of the latest novelties spread before your eyes you need not be at a loss what to select.

Stylish But Inexpensive

In our grandmothers' days women wore expensive gold jewelry or none. Now times have changed. Today fashions require new jewelry each season, as the styles in jewelry change as often as the styles in dress. So people do not buy jewelry to wear for a lifetime. They would rather pay less and wear jewelry that is in style. This demand has brought into existence stylish, artistic jewelry called Merite, that costs but a modest sum and yet is lovely enough to adorn a duchess.

Merite Jewelry Is the Fashion

The prevailing styles in gowns seem to need just that touch which an artistic jewel or two from the Merite line can impart. Some of the latest Merite designs are in Pendants on delicate gold plate chains at $1.00 and up. Narrow Friendship Bracelets in two and three strands $1.00 to $2.00. Pearl Beads in various qualities and sizes at prices to fit any pocketbook.

Scores of other new pieces, ideal for gifts—many of them for men.

THIS IS FOR THE MEN ONLY

A New Game Which has Just Been Invented Furnishes Opportunity to Learn Names of Flowers.

This concerns men who are not too busy to spend 10 or 15 spare moments some day—say during chapel hour—on amusements. Provided you are taking botany this may be made an instructive pastime. Real "students" having no spare time will not be further interested. Read elsewhere.

This is a game with but one main essential, namely, that you keep your mouth closed. If you have a cold or for any other reason are unable to efficiently use your nose to detect odors you are disqualified. Get out of the game for the rest of us are about to start.

Now line up in Anderson hall so that any girl passing through has to pass within from three to five feet of you. As a girl passes some one give the command—"Sniff"—and everybody draws a big chunk of the passing odor into his contracted lungs. Decide as soon as possible what you think the odor is supposed to be and when the leader says "What?" speak out your decision.

The rules of the game are few. No man will be allowed to drop out of line to follow an attractive perfume. Men who have perfume on their person are forbidden to enter this game as it confuses the rest of the contestants. No entrant will be allowed to blow his nose more than once during a single contest. Standing closer than three feet to the line of march is prohibited.

The object of the game is to see who can get out of line first in order to do this one must first guess ten odors correctly and then turn his back and tell when his girl goes by.

It is well for beginners to give attention to the few suggestions which follow. Sunflowers, kaffir-corn and petunias are never utilized in making perfumes. It will save you some embarrassment not to guess these. When two or three girls come by together pass them up for it will only serve to confuse you. When eight or ten come by together hold your nose. And always keep your mouth closed if you expect to win.

With a little practice one becomes very efficient at this game and can frequently tell who is passing by the perfume she uses. One can also learn the names of many beautiful flowers by hearing others guess. The names of movie and legitimate actors may some times be heard. It will really surprise you to learn of the wonderful opportunity of broadening your knowledge of some common things of this life. You can also become acquainted with many flowers and people which you have probably never heard of or seen.

Convince yourself by getting in the game sometime.

PINK TEAS ARE NOT THE ONLY PLACES FOR SALAD

This Delicacy Is Important as Part of the Daily Menu Says Miss Helen Green.

Salad has often been considered—by mere man especially—as a delicacy suitable only for pink teas or ladies' luncheon tables.

"In reality, salad has an important place in the diet, says Miss Helen Green, instructor in domestic science in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"While salad is not as substantial a dish as some included in the daily menu, there are other things to be considered, said Miss Green. Salad set in a nest of lettuce leaves is appetizing. The dietetic value of the minerals in the fruit and vegetables and the oil in the dressing cannot be overestimated.

"Some vegetables and fruits which are quite necessary to the diet would not be utilized at all if they were not made into salads. Carrots, for example, prepared in salads in their raw state furnish valuable food elements. Salads furnish bulk, an important item to be considered in preparing daily menus.

"A simple salad is more attractive and has a better dietetic value than an elaborate mixture of expensive foods. A light salad may be served with a heavy dinner as a substitute for a desert, adding to the dietetic value of the meal as well as reducing its cost.

"The farm housekeeper has a wide choice of salad material in her garden and orchard in the summer. Canned vegetables make nutritious and attractive salads, which served on lettuce leaves freshen the winter dining table and furnish the elements in diet that are so necessary when heavy meals are served, and fresh fruits and vegetables are not available."

Sold the Cow!

Bill Nye, the humorist, once had a cow he wanted to sell, and he unblushingly advertised all her faults while naming the few virtues she seems to have possessed. His advertisement ran:

"Owing to my ill health, I will sell at my residence in township 19, range 18, according to the government survey, one plush raspberry cow, age eight years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay-chain, but will be sold to anyone who will agree to treat her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double-barrel shotgun which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall, red calf with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a non-resident, the farther away the better."

with Oklahoma in possession of the ball on the Manhattan 10-yard line.

Third Quarter.

Oklahoma kicked off to Skinner, who returned 25 yards to his own 45-yard line. Clarke was forced to kick and Oklahoma twice made first downs on end runs, the Aggies finally holding on their 40-yard line. Wells and Randels each pierced the line for Aggie downs. Wells and Randels each made 12 yards. With the ball on the Sooner six-yard line, Randels, made a foot.

Wells made five yards to the one-foot line. Wells made six inches, then Randel failed to carry the ball across. Briscoe punted 10 yards and Clark returned 20. Randels made six yards and Wells completed the downs with a six-yard plunge. Wells made two more yards. Randels plunged straight through the line for a touchdown. He booted a perfect goal. Tolbert kicked off 10 yards and Wright returned 10.

The quarter ended with the Aggies in possession of the ball on their 33-yard line.

Fourth Quarter.

Clark and Briscoe returned punts. The Aggies failed to gain, and Clark again punted to the middle of the field. The Sooners started a march down the field, Briscoe hurling a 25-yard pass to McCain, who was halted on the 18-yard line. McCain and Briscoe made first downs, and Briscoe slid off tackle for a touchdown. Johnson failed to boot the goal.

KEEP STATE SCHOOLS IN REPAIR

Board of Education to Ask the Legislature for an Upkeep Allowance.

The state board of administration will ask the coming legislature to set aside a sum equal to 2 per cent of the value of the property of the state schools for upkeep and repair. In its recent report the board says:

"The school buildings for the institutions under the administration of this board are many of them old and in very bad repair. None of them, with a few exceptions, are fire proof. Most of them were erected hurriedly and built as cheaply as they possibly could be. The depreciation upon them is enormous. The present board has determined upon the policy of substantial fire proof construction and hopes that hereafter every building which is erected upon the state's grounds will have this element of safety and stability. This will mean a substantial reduction in the cost of upkeep.

"The United States government, as well as all business concerns, allows 2 per cent as the cost of upkeep of buildings. The government makes this effective from the date the building is completed. The buildings upon which this 2 per cent is figured are mostly all fire proof and of substantial construction. It is very poor economy to allow buildings to get into bad condition and the loss from allowing them to run down for lack of paint and other attention in the past has been very great. It is the old question of 'a stitch in time saves nine.'

"After a careful investigation of the conditions which exist in the state, the board has decided that it would be a good policy on the part of the state if it would adopt the plan of setting aside 2 per cent of the value of the property owned by each of the institutions for repairs and upkeep. This policy should be followed at least until these buildings can be put in fair shape and the excessive depreciation caused by poor maintenance is checked. We hope the legislature will see fit to set aside this amount for the upkeep of these buildings."

THE RAINBOW IS RIVALED BY FASHIONABLE DRESSES

Despite the Alleged Shortage of Dye-Stuffs, Milady Still Revels in Gay Colors.

The Man in the Moon would not believe you, were you to tell him that dye-stuffs are scarce here on earth. "You're fibbing," he would say. "You people are rivaling the rainbow."

From his vantage point in the sky he is right. On a clear day one can see more colors along a Manhattan street than the rainbow ever dreamed of possessing.

The reason may be found by a psychological analysis of the mind of woman, since woman is the chief offender in the use of dye-stuffs. When the cry was sent forth that conservation of colors must be practiced, Milady appropriated someone's idea of dressing in gray. She soon appeared in a gray velvet suit, gray gloves, and chic little gray boots.

Here, knowing Man will tell you, Milady's patriotism was misdirected, for gray is not the natural color of velvet cloth, kid gloves and boots. Says Knowing Man. "It takes dye to color these things gray, you know."

Then Milady changed her color scheme; not because the Knowing Man had convinced her of the futility of her efforts. Oh, no, but because gray had become—well, you know—too common.

Said Milady to herself: "Mrs. Ordinary Folk had the nerve to try to wonder the Man in the Moon would not believe you?"

WHAT IS THERE IN A NAME?

The College Faculty is the Cause of Most of This—Others With Peculiar Names are Included.

A Pullman Porter who was subject to Fitz, bearded a steamer for Van's He in the North Season, on which no colored Mann had yet set his Boot(s). He arrived at his destination late in March. The Snow had begun to melt. Poofoes of Water(s) were standing in the street and on the sidewalk. Here and there Green-Pine trees stood out against the White snow on the Hill(s) back of the town. The Porter took off his Derby Hat in admiration and felt in his pockets to make sure that he still had his Dice. To his dismay they were gone.

He went to the nearest Pool(e) Hall and purchased another set. Immediately he engaged in conversation with a Plummer; and soon a Porter, a Hunter, a Miller, the Plummer and Porter were engaged in a game. The result was that the Plummer got the Nichols and left the Porter without the Price of meal. He was a Strong Mann and not afraid to work. With a borrowed line he set out to fish for Salmon and was very successful. He March(ed) back to the nearest House and asked the Cook(e) to roast the fish for him. The Cook(e) did as he was asked. As the Porter was about to leave he spied some Rice which he carried off.

The Cook(e) on discovering the theft raised the Dickens and went to Hunt the King and to get a warrant. In the meantime the Porter had hid himself in a Cave and here he felt that he was secure. But some Boys playing nearby discovered him and informed the Nabobs who sent out a general Call for help. Before long the He(s) was in a terrible commotion. The Porter realizing his plight remarked "Ah sure am Claeren out to here." He made a wild dash for the first Brown House in sight, grabbed a couple of Sheets and a Peck of potatoes and headed for the Sea. He outdistanced his pursuers, hurriedly constructed a raft to which he attached ne Sheets as sails, and set himself adrift. He spent many Weeks on the rough Waters and was eventually cast ashore by the wild waves.

He still has the Dice but has cured himself of the Fitz.

F. H. Southern in "The Chatter"

The story of the revolt of a woman against the bondage of tradition and the tyranny of man's domination. Unquestionably the screen appearance of Mr. Southern is one of the most important events in the history of the photo play. At the Marshall theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening.

"The Girl of Last Lake"

Myrtle Gonzales and Val Paul take the leading roles in this attractive photoplay. Here is a story in which there is no crime committed, no moral code violated or no "problem" involved. At the Marshall theatre this afternoon and tonight.

SELECT EIGHT STUNTS FOR AGGIE POP NIGHT

A Silver Loving Cup Will be Presented to the Organization Presenting the Best One.

A great deal of originality and careful preparation was shown in stunts presented by the different organizations in the tryout for Aggie Pop night according to Miss Estella Boot, assistant professor of English, a member of the committee selected to judge the stunts to be presented at the Y. W. C. A. entertainment to be held at the college auditorium Dec. 8.

"It was very difficult for the committee to select the winning stunts because they all were very good," said Miss Boot. The tryouts were held last Friday afternoon. The members of the committee who were selected by the Y. W. C. A. to judge the stunts were: J. R. McArthur, professor of English; Dean Van Zile, J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics; Miss Jessie Machir, registrar; and Miss Estella Boot, assistant professor of English.

Out of eighteen organizations which presented stunts, the eight winners were: Franklin Literary Society, Browning Literary Society, Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, Chi Omega sorority, Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Pi Beta sorority, Delta Delta sorority, Scabard and honorary military fraternity.

All of the literary societies of the college except the Alpha Betas presented stunts. The Pan Hellenic fraternities voted not to present stunts. The College Men's club and the College Women's Social club will each give a stunt, but did not enter in competition with the undergraduate organizations.

The stunts which will be given will furnish a great variety of entertainment. They will consist of patriotic tableaux, minstrel shows, and athletic dancing. The stunts will be alternated with songs by the Y. W. C. A. octette, and African antics by a tiny tot. The African antics will consist of banjo music and southern songs.

It is not too late to learn to speak Spanish. Conversational method is used as much as possible with students who do not have a thorough knowledge of the science of grammar. Arrange hours to suit your convenience.—John D. Cooke, Office G 23.

GAVE A MUSICAL TREAT.

Miss Carley and Miss Easter Render an Excellent Program.

Miss May Carley, contralto, and Miss Fanchon Easter, pianist, gave a joint recital Monday night for the general public.

The recital was a success from every standpoint, and those unable to attend missed a rare treat.

Miss Carley is a well-known contralto and gave a varied program. Her first number was a combination of German songs, which were well rendered. Her second number was an Italian song, which brought out the beautiful qualities of her voice. The last number consisted of four English numbers and was a work of art. Miss Easter as accompanist furnished a splendid background.

Miss Easter is a pianist of skill who puts her whole being into the rendering of her selections. Miss Easter's piano tone was at all times one of the beautiful singing tone rarely heard. She opened the program with two numbers, one from Hayden and one from D'Albert.

18 GIRLS ARE LEARNING TO WEILD THE HAMMER

They are Making Porch Seats, Sewing Stands, Taborets and Other Pieces of Furniture.

If doubters who believe that girls cannot drive nails or wield the hammer successfully would go to the wood work shops in the Kansas State Agricultural college some Wednesday or Friday afternoon between the 7th and 8th hours, they would change their minds. There are 18 girls enrolled in wood work classes in the college.

"The girls are taking more interest in woodwork this year than ever before," said J. T. Parker, assistant in woodwork. "The do good work and seem to be interested. The first problem given them is in soft wood which gives an opportunity to become accustomed to the tools. For this problem they make a cutting board."

"Each member of the class must make something from oak to teach them the methods of handling the wood and of finishing it. Along with their work the girls are given talks on the use and methods of using different finishes."

"Some of the things which they make are sewing stands, taborets, bookracks and foot stools. A few porch seats are made and one girl who has taken advanced work has made a cedar chest which she is finishing this term. The work done is from drawings furnished by the department."

The girls who are taking the work are: Miss Frances Case, Miss Minnie Anderson, Miss Betty Waldo, Miss Van Lena Stewart, Miss Mable White, Miss Reche, Miss Eva Williams, Miss Helen Best, Miss Christina Holt, Miss Ruby Freeman, Miss Laura Hyman, Miss Cecil Hill, Miss Sadie Janson, Miss Dorothy Dunham, Miss Reta Loidis, Miss Edith Andrew, Miss Vera King, and Miss Edna Boyle.

ORGANIZE NEW CADET COMPANY.

Fred Carp Is Captain—Dudley Promoted to Major.

Company "M" is the new cadet company which has just been organized and is to be composed of students in the school of agriculture who are taking military drill.

The following men have been promoted and placed in charge of the new company: Fred Carp, captain; E. F. Whedon, first lieutenant; R. W. Kilbourn, second lieutenant; A. A. Grant, first sergeant.

H. E. Dudley has been promoted from captain to major.

HIGHS FIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Manhattan Will Meet Marion This Afternoon to Decide State Race.

With the high school championship of the state as the prize, the Manhattan and Marion high school elevens will mix this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at College field. Four Manhattan regulars are out of the game, causing Coach Collins to depend on a substitute backfield for all of his gains.

Marion, having trimmed Hutchinson after Hutchinson had taken the measure of Wichita, rightfully claims the title in the southern half of the state while Manhattan's victories this year have easily shown the local eleven to be the class of the north and northwestern scholastic elevens.

TRADITIONS AND WASTE REPLACED BY EFFICIENCY

PRESIDENT WATERS OUTLINES NATIONAL PROBLEMS OF DAY.

New Marketing Bill and Provision for engineering Experiment Stations Will Eliminate Great Losses.

There is an altogether different atmosphere about the national capitol at Washington from what we find out here in Kansas, an atmosphere alive with the anxiety of national and world problems, while in Kansas we feel secure as long as there is plenty of soil and water and are not concerned with anything else, according to Henry Jackson Waters, president of the college, who has just returned from a meeting of the American association of agricultural colleges and experiment stations at Washington, D. C.

"But there are many problems of interest transpiring at Washington which are of vital importance to every group in the nation. Our splendid isolation, for instance, received a rude shock just a few weeks ago when five ships were sunk just outside the three mile limit of our shores."

"Again our splendid commercial independence and isolation received a rude shock when the ancient principle of the 'favored nations' was received by the Paris Convention."

"If we were a compact corporation instead of a nation with diverse and unrelated interests, it would give us a great concern if word should come from the customers who buy seventy-nine per cent of our products that they had made arrangements to buy their materials elsewhere in the future. Yet this is the word which has come to us from the nations which buy our principal products."

"We have felt secure in our foreign trade because our foreign products have found a ready market in the markets of the world. However, it requires little intelligence to sell them. We as a nation, by pursuing this method in world commerce, are robbing future generations of the materials with which fully to develop our interests."

"There are legislative measures to be considered in the next congress which are of general interest. One of these measures, the Smith-Hughes bill, will provide for the teaching of industrial subjects—home economics, mechanic arts, and agriculture—in the secondary schools throughout the country."

"I have never seen a time when tradition counted so little in legislation for governmental measures. We now have little thought of traditions of the past; reorganization is being carried on according to the question of whether the condition justifies the measure."

"And so it is with the new marketing bill, which is being prepared for presentation in the next congressional session, which will provide for getting the productions of the producer to the consumer with the least economic waste. That has been the foundation of the greatest losses and economic waste that we have known in our country."

"The engineering experiment station bill, although it may not pass, is a great program. The work which these experiments stations so established would have before them, would be problems of transportation and distribution just as the agricultural experiment stations had before them the problem of furthering the best methods of production."

"Another point wherein we have been wasteful is in closing down our great educational institutions for a fourth of the year. That too must be stopped."

A. M. Doerner, assistant instructor in horticulture, went to Garden City Friday to give advice in regard to the laying out of a park of 100 acres which has recently been donated to the city by George W. Finnup.

Vint Wakeman, a prominent orchardist from Doniphan county and family, were visitors at the college Friday and Saturday. They were guests in the Dr. J. H. Merrill home.

VALLEY CHAMPIONSHIP DOPE FAVORS AGGIES

AGGIES HAVE MADE THEIR BEST CONFERENCE RECORD.

They Will Not Claim Championship but the Only Defeat Was by Nebraska Whom K. U. Trimmed.

When the time comes for settling the present muddle over the Missouri valley championship race, a new contender, one never before considered in the final reckoning, will be fighting for honors near the top of the heap. That stranger will be the Kansas Aggies.

From what in the past has usually been a triple tie with Washington and Drake at the bottom of the valley standings, Coaches Clevenger and Semulz have boosted the purple to a "place in the sun" alongside Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas in the upper stratum of the valley reckoning. The Aggies mentors can point to the best Aggie record in the history of the school—a slate which shows victories over Missouri and Oklahoma, a tie with Kansas, and a bare 0 to 14 defeat at the hands of the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

The dope, now hopelessly tangled, could be cleverly untwisted to show the Clevenger Schulz machine at the top of the race, although K. S. A. C. will advance no claim for that position. The only defeat administered the Aggie eleven came when Nebraska was at the height of her form—the part of the season when she piled up a 53 to 0 victory over Drake, and also arimmed the widely heralded Oregon Aggies, after journeying half way across the continent. And now the Huskers have been defeated by K. U. who could not trim the Aggies.

But still there remains the stigma on the Purple record of being held to a tie by the Jayhawkers. Yet Aggie followers aver that the Jayhawker fracas should not stand in the way of the Purple eleven, as the Clevenger men made twice as many first downs as did the Lawrence eleven.

Comparing still further, the Aggies took Missouri's measure in a 7 to 6 tussle, and the Tigers held Ames to a tie, thus, judging from dope alone, giving the Aggies the edge over both Ames and Missouri.

Aggie followers, of course, do not look for the little gold footballs awarded the members of the championship eleven to dangle from the watch chains of the Clevenger athletes. With four other valley elevens putting in a claim, however, a little comparison of the dope, showing how the Aggies stand, is not amiss at this time, in the opinion of Manhattan sport experts.

WATERS FOR CABINET JOB.

Missouri Newspaper Suggests Aggie President for Agriculture Portfolio.

The Columbia Daily Tribune brings out Henry J. Waters, president of the Kansas Agricultural College, as the likely man for the portfolio of agriculture in the next cabinet. The newspaper declares that President Waters is the agricultural expert of the nation and that Wilson owes Kansas something for turning its electoral vote for him.

Fraternity Basketball Opens.

The fraternity basketball series opened Friday night with the Pi Kappa Alphas-trimming the Betas, 25 to 0, and the Aztex returning a 20 to 10 victory over the Acadia five. Knostman of the Aztex and Lane of the Pi Kaps were the stars of the evening's play.

The Sigma Nus won a 40 to 7 victory over the Sigma Alpha Epsilon team last night. The Acacias trimmed the Betas in a 39 to 10 encounter.

Miss Olive Sheets and Miss Loula Kennedy, instructors in domestic science at the Kansas State Agricultural college are attending the farm and home institute at Olsburg. Miss Kennedy will lecture on what the home nurse can do, and Miss Sheets' subject is school lunches.

DRESSER STARS AS OF OLD.

"Hank" Helps Springfield Beat Famous Tufts Football Team.

Mrs. Alice J. Dresser has received from her son, "Hank" Dresser, a copy of a three-column description from a Springfield (Mass.) paper of the football game in which he participated when the Springfield Y. M. C. A. college eleven beat the Tufts team, 13 to 6. Springfield's first touchdown was made as the result of a forward pass by Dresser when the man who caught it romped over the line. Twice, Dresser, according to the report, saved the game for Springfield by recovering fumbles by other players. In the second period, Dresser caught a pass which netted 45 yards. "Hank," who played quarterback on the college team here in 1914, played right halfback in the game with Tufts.

The Tufts team this year has beaten Cornell, Harvard and held Princeton to a 3 to 0 score. They also have defeated Coach Lowman's team.

Dresser is studying at Springfield to be a physical director. He will play quarterback Saturday against the Army.

"JACK" BORING ELECTED MANAGER OF 1918 BOOK

General Experience in Reporting, Editing, and Managing College Paper Fits Him for the Work.

J. M. Boring, junior in industrial journalism, was elected business manager of the 1918 edition of the "Royal Purple," at the junior class meeting Thursday, November 23.

Mr. Boring has had a great deal of experience in this kind of work. He was editor of the Collegian last year and is business manager of the Collegian this year. He is a graduate of Spring Hill high school, and had some advertising and newspaper work before coming to K. S. A. C.

Last summer Mr. Boring was employed as city editor of the Manhattan Mercury. Mr. Boring is a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity and the Sigma Delta Chi honorary journalistic fraternity.

As yet the other members of the "Royal Purple" staff have not been appointed.

STUDENT LOAN FUND GROWS.

$6 Alumni Pledge $20 Each—$675 Has Been Received.

At a meeting of the board of directors recently it was decided to handle the student loan fund through a committee of the alumni. The following were appointed: Dean J. T. Willard, '83; George H. Failyer, '77; Claude M. Brees, '87; Albert Dickens, '32; Miss Ada Rice, '95.

Up to the present time $6 alumni pledged $20 each and $675 in cash has been received. The committee is in a position to receive new pledges at any time.

The board also voted to send out a circular letter for the collection of the dollar dues. Alumni wishing to save the expense of the letter should send their dues at once to the treasurer, Prof. L. A. Fitz, Manhattan.

GUTENBURG BANQUET TONIGHT.

Local Chapter of Writers Will Celebrate the Invention of Printing.

The Beta chapter of the American College Quill club will give its annual Gutenberg banquet at 7:30 this evening at the college cafeteria. A program of interest to the members of the Quill club has been arranged by the social committee.

The Quill club consists of members of the faculty and student body who have written productions suitable for publication. The annual banquet of the club has taken the name Gutenberg in honor of Johann Gutenberg, the inventor of movable type.

H. W. Davis, associate professor of English, will act as toastmaster.

Hawkins to Debate Conference.

Floyd Hawkins, junior in journalism, will go to Topeka Friday to meet with representatives from the other four schools of the pentangular debate league for the purpose of making arrangements for this season's pentangular debates.

The schools in this league are K. S. A. C., Baker, Ottawa, Washburn, and College of Emporia. Last year was the first year of the pentangular series. Some changes have been proposed for this year and this meeting has been called to make definite arrangements for the continuation of the pentangular for another year.

COMPULSORY ARBITRATION ARGUED IN DUAL CONTEST

FORUM WILL ENTERTAIN AFTER-DEBATE IN ATHENIAN HALL.

Don L. Burke Accompanied Negative Team to Iowa—Dr. J. G. Emerson Will Coach the Affirmative Team at Home.

The annual K. S. A. C.-Ames dual debate will be held in the college auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. This is the first debate of the season and the prospects are bright for an Aggie victory.

The men on the affirmative team who will remain here to meet the Ames negative team, are: Riley McGarraugh, senior in general science, captain; M. L. Converse, junior in agriculture; and J. B. Sweet, senior in animal husbandry.

The K. S. A. C. negative team, which will meet Ames tonight in Iowa, is made up of L. A. Dubbs, senior in general science, captain, Arthur Boyer, junior in journalism; and H. A. Moore, sophomore in agriculture. This team will be accompanied by debate coach Don L. Burk.

The question is—Resolved, That the United States Government compel the railroads and their employees to settle their disputes in legally established courts of arbitration, constitutionally waived.

Mr. J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics, will be chairman of the debate. Immediately following the debate the Forum will give a reception for the debaters in the Browning-Athenian hall.

This is one of the three Judge debates to be judged by Mr. R. L. Parker of the department of education of the Hays Normal, Mr. C. B. Meyers, of the Salina schools, and Mr. E. D. Schonberger of the department of public speaking at Washburn.

This is the same question that will be used in the Emporia-K. S. A. C. debate that is scheduled for this winter. Debaters who will be on the teams for that debate should be present this evening.

COMPANY TEAMS IN SEMI-FINALS

A Triple Tie in the First Battalion—Last Games Next Week.

With the first round of the company basketball competition closed, three teams are tied for first place in the first battalion. Company "G" is champion in the second battalion. Company "K" has swept aside all opponents in the third battalion. The triple tie in the first battalion will be played off this afternoon, while companies "G" and "K" will meet Saturday in the semi-finals. The winner of this latter game will then play the winner of the first battalion play-off for the championship of the regiment.

The teams stand as follows.

First Battalion	W	L	Pct
Company A	2	1	.666
Company B	2	1	.666
Company C	2	1	.666

BRAY AND BURTON TO PRISONS.

Will Inspect and Further the Organization Among Prisoners.

M. G. Burton, director of the home study service, went to Leavenworth and Lansing, Wednesday, with a view of organizing further work among the prisoners.

George E. Bray, industrial engineer in the division of college extension, on his return from an inspection of the industrial work in the schools of Overbrook, will also stop at the prison to inspect the work there. An increasingly large number of prisoners are manifesting an interest in the trade courses which they can obtain through the extension department and home study service.

Miss Iva Porter, '16, is teaching in the high school at Vinland.

TRAINING FOR LIFE.

The art exhibit being made under the auspices of the home art department is important not only for its own sake but for the sake of the tendency that it represents. It stands for the tendency to well rounded education—an education that takes into account both making a living and making life.

Criticism directed toward vocational education has been due largely to the belief that vocational education aimed exclusively at enabling the student to make a living, that it was based on the theory that economic values are the only values.

All properly administered vocational institutions are getting away from this idea. They realize that they must still give students the training that will enable them to earn a livelihood but they realize at the same time that this, taken alone, will mean intense selfishness and will tend more and more to widen chasms between social and economic classes. They realize that students must be taught to live lives of service to their communities, and are translating that realization into action.

The following clipping was given to the Collegian, but we have not been fortunate enough to learn the name of the paper from which it was taken. However it speaks for itself: Tigers Get a Royal Welcome at Manhattan.

"The Missouri football team was given a royal welcome by the Kansas Aggie rooters at Manhattan Saturday. The band led by Mr. Ozment, former leader of the Missouri band, played "Old Missouri" as Captain led the Tigers on to the field. Time after time they cheered for Missouri when any of the team were injured.

Last year the Aggies were written up in the paper for failing to show hospitality to visiting teams and officials. If anyone thinks they are not true sportsmen now, that person should take a trip to Manhattan and be convinced. The spirit shown Saturday speaks well for the athletic department and the students at the Kansas school.

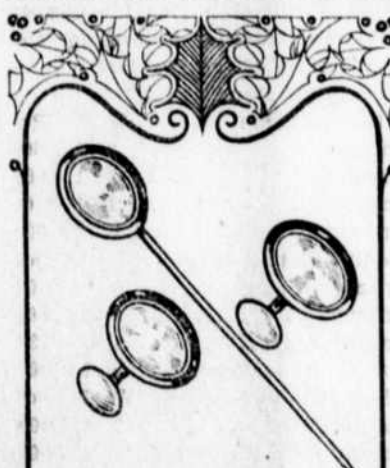

(1st Spasm)

Oh, be she gone?
Oh, am she went?
And are I left behind?
O cruel fate thou wast unkind.
To take her forth and leave I behind

(2nd Spasm).

Is her went?
Has her gone?
Did she leave I all alone?
'Tis can never come to we,
Oh, It cannot was.

It Was and It Wasn't

The natives of a Mashona village in Rhodesia, South Africa, held a harvest celebration. They consumed large quantities of native beer and became intoxicated. They became sober in the full of the moon, just a month after the celebration started. Another month was spent in a heated debate on the mighty question: "Is it the month that it is or the month that it isn't." Following is a version of the story as written by one of the students in industrial journalism—Editor.

Chief Molaka fetched his royal spouse, Queen Tarapa, a ferocious thump with the thorny stick which he had plucked from the hedge which surrounded the little kraal. "It is," he roared. Rather he roared the equivalent in the euphonious Matabele tongue. The head of Queen Tarapa was bloody, but as yet unbent. "It ain't," she contradicted her spouse.

The argument was intensified by the fact that each party to the discussion had a hangover. And a hangover is that double distilled residue of remorse and disappointment which is a remainder reached by subtracting the joy from the jag.

The crops had been excellent that year. The hunting had been good, and the simple hearted villagers had been eminently successful in a raid they had instituted on a neighboring village, bringing back a pleasing number of heads. The small red grain from which the native beer was made, was particularly plentiful that year. And the beer made from that grain had a certain appealing characteristic, as being calculated to induce in the aptaker thereof, a state of intoxication, which for thoroughness, lasting qualities and energy, was not to be surpassed.

Consequently, the chief of the village, feeling that there was a certain measure of appreciation due to the little gods for their kindness during the past season, issued a ukase, edict, proclamation, and ultimatum, ordering the women to make up large quantities of beer, and that right suddenly.

The feminine contingent of the village fell to the task with a good will, and brewed not wisely, but too well. And thereupon the village, en masse, unanimously, and with common consent, entered upon one stupendous stew, one magnificent jag, one monumental souse.

The beer lasted well, and when symptoms of sobriety began to cause apprehension in the minds of some of the native nobility, or the society leaders, there was always relief to be had by returning to the nearest supply of beer.

Good things do not last forever, however. Joy, alas, is fleeting, and the beer gave out. There remained only the hangover.

Now, Queen Tarapa, being a woman, had a slight measure of common sense, which was not shared by her consort. Also his majesty had been the drunker of the two. Queen Tarapa knew that when she first entered the mystic realms of intoxication, bidding goodbye to the chilly and repulsive world of sobriety, the moon had been full. Queen Tarapa knew, also, that she herself had been full, and when she became sobered, she knew that the full moon she saw before she got full, was not full with the same fullness as the full moon she saw after she got over being full, when the first thing that met her eye was a full moon. Queen Tarapa, in other words, was wise to the fact that she had been on a bun, and that some time had elapsed. King Molaka would not have it so. "It is the same month that it is, woman," he maintained. "how could it be otherwise?" Queen Tarapa thought otherwise, and as has been said, she possessed of a measure of common sense "It ain't the month that it is, because we've been drunk a month," was the refrain of the song she was singing under the stimulus of Chief Molaka's club.

Presently the argument spread to other households than that of the royal family, and there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. The third of blows and the walls of villagers under chastisement, rose through the still night air. The argument abated in its frenzy when the breath of the chastisers gave out, but was continued, and ready to flare out like a dying campfire, at the slightest mention, for a month, when a council was called.

The condition of domestic affairs in the village was deeply deplored by the officials, and it was decided that the matter should be allowed to drop, until the next year, when the date could be checked up and settled by the state of the crops.

And thus ended the famous "It is and it ain't" civil war of the Matabele village.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

Basketball Fans Numerous.

Fourteen teams have entered the basketball tournament at the Y. M. C. A. A schedule has been made out which provides for the playing of three games each night. There will be no games during the Thanksgiving recess, but on each Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, following the vacation, the schedule will be carried out.

If any team fails to appear in its turn the game goes to the opponents. The clubs and teams entered for the tournament, are:

Elkhart, Miami Co. Club, Edgerton Place Club, 1st year School of Ag. O. K. Club, Central Club, Y. M. C. A., Northwestern, All Stars, Kansas, Blue Special, Varsity School of Ag., Schield Club, 2nd year School of Ag.

Much interest is being shown in the games and many more than the five from each club are taking part. The Y. M. C. A. is making it possible for a number of students to get some basketball practice that they would otherwise be unable to get. As the courts at the college are crowded and not open in the evenings it is convenient to be able to play at the Y. M. C. A.

The regular weekly meetings of the Y. M. C. A. will be discontinued until after the McConnell meetings.

The cabinet of the association will meet each Tuesday evening from 6:45 to 7:15. Everyone is welcome to meet with them.

MODERN FRUIT GARDEN RECEIVED BY HORT. DEPT.

Adjustable Spring Flips Apples According to Weight Into Ten Different Bags.

A fruit grader has been received by the horticulture department from the Price Fruit Sizer Co., of North Yakima, Wash. It will be used for demonstration purposes and for class work by seniors in practical pomology. This machine has a capacity of from 450 to 1200 bushels a day. It is geared to operate by hand or by the spray engine.

The machine consists of a sorting table, upon which the fruit is sorted and culled. There is an endless belt which carries the sorted fruit to a tossing machine. The apples pass to a cup operated by an adjustable spring by means of which each apple is tossed into a canvas catcher. The tension on the spring being constant the apples will be carried according to their weight. This machine sorts them into ten sizes each of which pass into a canvas bag with a capacity of two bushels. These apples are packed directly from the bags into the boxes for which purpose racks are furnished which hold three boxes. The machine has created quite an interest among the horticulture students as well as among visiting growers and apple sellers. This machine and other graders of different types will be demonstrated every day during farmers' institute week.

Technique of the Drama

It's a cinch to write a college drama. Anybody who hasn't been to college can do it. If he has been there, so much the harder. There are but few things to be remembered. In turtle necked sweaters and sing tenor.

- 1—The hero must be named Jack.
- 2—The funny man must be fat.
- 3—All college men address each other as "old boss."
- 4—All college men call the monthly allowance provider the Pater.
- 5—If you use a coach he must be a tough nut.
- 6—Ten rah-rah boys must be in love with the same girl. Betty by name, and she must be sweet and pure as an angel.
- 7—In the second act show a college room, decorated with pennants and a greasy grind.
- 8—About the middle of the third act an agony quartette should wait the strains of "Good Night Ladies" just loud enough to dim the lights and allow Jack a climatical Betyean Kiss.

DEAN JARDINE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF A. S. OF A.

Chosen Executive of the Best Known Agricultural Organization in America.

Dr. W. M. Jardine, dean of agriculture in the Kansas State Agricultural college, is new president of the American Society of Agronomy, probably the best known agricultural organization in America. It comprises 600 members engaged in soil and crop teaching and research in experiment stations, agricultural colleges and elsewhere.

Doctor Jardine, who was elected at the meeting in Washington last week, is a charter member of the society and has for years been prominent in its work, serving on important committees and in other capacities.

Before becoming dean of agriculture and director of the agricultural experiment station, Doctor Jardine taught agronomy in the Utah Agricultural college, the Michigan Agricultural college, and the Kansas State Agricultural college. He was for several years assistant cerealist in the United States department of agriculture.

JUST ASK DOCTOR ACKERT.

It is Thought That he has a Wonderful Knowledge.

That Dr. J. E. Ackert, assistant professor of zoology in the college, has the knowledge of the Infinite, is the belief of at least one junior resident of Manhattan.

Last Sunday, Dr. Mary Harman of the zoology department addressed the children in the junior section of the Congregational church on frogs. After discussing the change from the prechondrogs. Ackert 1245123451234512 into the frog, she said:

"And now, children, though we know how these changes take place, we know nothing of why they do. In fact, no being can tell except One who is —"

"I know, I know who knows," shouted George Dean, Jr., scion of the entomology department.

"Who?" asked Dr. Harman. "Doctor Ackert," chirped George Dean, Jr.

PLAYED RINGS AROUND AGGIES.

Washburn Ichabods Defeated Wildcats 36 to 0 in Early Days.

The Washburn Ichabods fairly played rings around the Aggies 19 years ago when the score was 36 to 0. That was in the early days of Aggie football history. Washburn played her coach, who proved to be the star of the game. Conditions are different now and the Aggie Wildcat expect to take the long end of the contest against the Ichabods on Thanksgiving.

The one big fear of Coaches Clevenger and Schulz is that overconfidence will be the undoing of the team in the Turkey Day game.

"Naturally, now that the conference games are over, there is likely to be a slump," said Coach Clevenger today. "Washburn is getting better all the time and doubtless will put up a strong game against the Aggie Wildcats."

"This game is worrying us as much as any other contest in the entire schedule. Ability to win will depend entirely upon the retention of the fighting spirit. If it is possible to keep the men at a high tension up to the time of the final game, there is no doubt of the Aggie victory—but there is the danger."

L'ENVOI.

(With Apologies to Kipling.)
When the Math and the Psych are all Studied, and for Chemistry quiz we have crammed.

And ten thousand feet of Physics rules into one foot of brain space we've jammed.

When a thousand word theme we with radiant thought.

And everything we have studied that was ever invented or taught.

We shall rest—the repose of the weary, throw worry and all in lake.

In eats and sleep we will then indulge, and various seances take.

II.

(Next Day)
THE Math and the Chem we've forgotten

Translation's and everything's gone. The brain cells we use for remembering.

Forgot all between darkness and dawn.

Oh yes and the teachers will grade us on what we know, not what we learned.

Then come pleasure, idle pleasure, let study be —!

DO YOU KNOW THAT

Many scandalous fellows are exposing their own weakness when they criticize a man of real worth?

The sympathy of a friend can never be coerced?

The next few days in school will determine success or failure for those who have been hovering near the border line of an F?

Late hours are a sure index of a narrow margin mind?

Promptness in payment of bills insures respect among your creditors.

Depending on the other fellow for promptings weakens your own chance of ever being dependable?

It doesn't pay to drift with the crowd? It depends upon the direction they are drifting.

A hale fellow well met inspires confidence in newly made friends as long as he retains some degree of respectability?

The giggle so characteristic of femininity has nearly gone out of date? A few "back-woods" frosh still insist on startling society by an indulgence.

"The Ragged Princess"

Here is the presentation of the charming June Caprice and Jane Lee in a winsome story of a waif's adventures. The girl is raised in an orphanage, runs away to seek her own living and meets the man. Of course everything goes along fine after that. At the Wareham Monday afternoon and evening.

DILLON'S DESK BOOK HAS GONE TO PRESS. WANT ONE?

The teacher isn't always at your elbow.

Can you write a good story?

Do you know how to prepare manuscript so that a very busy editor will be induced to read it?

What are your rules of writing for publication?

Do you know the first principles of the Law of Libel?

Do you know what material is likely to attract a farm paper editor, or the editor of a city paper?

Dillon's Desk Book answers these questions, and a hundred others equally important.

The book-stalls offer no handier volume, nor one containing more information in such small space: 48 pages with a good cover, strongly bound, made to carry in the pocket if you wish. The price is fifty cents, postpaid. Only one thousand copies are to be issued this time—the third edition. Let me have your order now.

Acacia.

Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Tanquary and Prof. and Mrs. F. S. Merrill were dinner guests at the Acacia house Sunday.

"The Voice of Love."

This is a remarkably strong society drama in which a double romance is revealed. Winnifred Greenwood and Edward Coxen take the leading parts. The intimate home life and love entanglements of a woman fortune teller and astrologist serve as the theme for this photoplay and each scene is filled with action and surprises. At the Marshall theatre this afternoon and tonight.

L. E. Call, professor of agronomy, is attending the institute at Osburg today. Mr. Call will deliver two addresses, "The Importance of Crop Rotation in Maintaining Soil Fertility," and "The Care and Use of Barnyard Manure." He will return this evening.

Notice to Students.

I have changed my office from 1218 Moro to second floor College Book Store building. Eyes tested and glasses fitted. Satisfaction guaranteed. DR. E. M. BARY.

COMPLETE ARRANGEMENTS FOR PENTANGULAR DEBATE

REPRESENTATIVES OF 5 SCHOOLS CONFER FRIDAY EVENING.

Continue Contract For Girls' Dual Debate With Washburn—Will Also Hold Women's Dual With Ottawa University.

Arrangements for the continuation of the pentangular debate were completed Friday evening by the debate conference representatives of Washburn, Ottawa, College of Emporia, Baker, and K. S. A. C.

The question which will be used this year is the minimum wage question, which had previously been decided upon and had become unsatisfactory because of legislation which has occurred since its selection. Matters relating to the length of constructive speeches, rebuttal, and manner of selecting the subjects were also decided.

Rebuttal speeches in the pentangular last year were limited to one person on each side. Some of the schools favored three rebuttals. This matter was compromised by granting eleven-minute constructive arguments and three rebuttals to each side. The rebuttals are to be five minutes in length. Some of the schools wanted one series of the pentangular to be a woman's series but this proposition was rejected.

Hereafter the proposition for debate each year is to be chosen in the fall from five questions which are to be obtained by each school submitting one proposition. Each school will then rank the questions and the grand ranking will decide the one to be used.

Girls Debate Washburn.

Following this conference, arrangements were made with Washburn to continue a dual girls' debate under the same contract as that used last year.

On Saturday morning, the representatives from Ottawa and K. S. A. C. completed arrangements for a dual girls' debate between these two schools, unless Emporia Normal could be induced to enter with them in a triangular.

In this debate there will be two teams of three members each. The constructive arguments are to be eleven minutes in length, and each debater will be allowed five minutes for rebuttal. The question which will be used is, Resolved, That the United States should adopt a unicameral form of legislature.

The date of this debate has been set for February 9. Each school is to bear the expenses of its own team. The Ottawa-K. S. A. C. debate was secured to take the place of dual Salina-K. S. A. C. which was cancelled this year.

The conference to make arrangements for the pentangular was to have been held at Topeka, but it was found more convenient to meet here. Prof. C. O. Hardy represented Ottawa, Ivan D. Dwight, Emporia; Prof. E. D. Schonberger, Washburn; Homer E. Osterhout, Baker; and Floyd Hawkins, K. S. A. C.

THE QUILL CLUB BANQUETS.

Annual Gutenberg Supper Given at College Cafeteria.

The annual Quill Gutenberg banquet was given at the college cafeteria, Friday evening. More than 40 persons were present.

H. W. Davis, associate professor of English, acted as toastmaster. The toasts given were: "Johannes Gutenberg," Leo C. Moser; "Woman's Place in Journalism," Velma Carson; "Quill Spirit," L. R. Hiatt; "The Devil," Erwin McLean; and "What a Past Member Can Do for the Chapter," Mrs. Robert Bonnett, formerly Miss Martha Tunstall.

William C. Grohne and Mrs. Florence (Deltz) Grohne, '13, and little son spent last week with Mrs. Grohne's parents, Mr. Albert Deltz, '85, and Mrs. Deltz, Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. Grohne and son are on their way to Baton Rouge, La., where the Grohne Contracting company has a contract for extensive repairs on the federal building.

BRAZELTON STILL LEADS.

Is 6.5 Column Inches Ahead In Industrialist Contest.

J. S. Brazelton still leads in the Industrialist contest which is being conducted for students who are taking journalism this term. Mr. Brazelton has had 83 column inches printed in the college paper.

His closest competitor is E. M. Oxley with 76.5 column inches. Miss Georgiana Burt and W. T. White have tied for third place, each having 44 column inches to their credit.

L. V. Rhine, Katrina Kimport, and L. E. Crandall take fourth, fifth, and sixth places respectively, each having had 30 or more column inches published in the Industrialist.

There will be considerable change in the standing of the contestants when the next statement is issued, according to Frank L. Snow, instructor in journalism.

CONTESTS FOR BOYS.

College Will Add Feature to Its Extension School Program.

A feature of the one-week extension schools, being conducted by the division of extension of the Kansas State Agricultural College at 14 points in the state this year, is the live stock judging contests for boys under 20 years. Horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs, and sheep are used.

Instruction is given in each class in the morning and the afternoon is devoted to the judging work. Each contestant is required to place a class of animals and to write his reasons for so placing. A credit of 60 per cent is given for placing and 40 per cent for reasons.

WAR DEPARTMENT MUST ALTER THE R. O. T. C. ACT

Congress Passed the "Book" Containing Disciplinary Provisions Which Would Tend to Divide Authority.

The petition from the college to the War department asking for a company of the Reserve Officers Training Corps has been postponed by President Waters until the war department can make certain changes in the regulations establishing the corps which do not fit conditions at this particular college.

President Waters was in Washington, D. C. recently and conferred with other college heads in the matter and this was the decision reached.

"The act as it stands," says Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of the cadet corps, "places obligations on the colleges that they cannot afford to carry. It has a tendency to take the disciplining of the students or a part of the college affairs out of those in authority at the colleges."

"There is much depending on the action of the war department in this regard since they have held up a shipment of more than one thousand sets of new equipment including new rifles, tenting, cooking utensils, etc."

"In addition to holding this material, congress is going to be asked to make an appropriation, before Christmas, to pay the members of the Reserve Officers Training Corps who are serving in the academic year 1916-17. The recommendation will not be asked for in this college unless they secure membership before congress convenes."

"This affects the gratuitous issue of uniforms to the cadets taking compulsory drill as well as the R. O. T. C. pay. More than thirty members have signified their willingness to become members of the corps."

SHAW IN K. S. A. C. MEET.

Will Represent K. S. A. C. in Cross-country Saturday.

K. S. A. C. will be represented in the K. S. A. C. cross-country run at Kansas City Saturday by Shaw, a freshman, who recently won the gold medal offered the winner of the cross-country try-outs.

Although he will compete as an "unattached" runner, because he is ineligible for Varsity competition, Shaw will undoubtedly place close to the top in the annual event, which is open to amateur runners in the Missouri valley.

NO COLLEGIAN FRIDAY.

Owing to the Thanksgiving vacation which begins Thursday, there will be no issue of the Collegian on Friday. The paper will make its regular appearance next Tuesday morning, however.

The Collegian wishes each of its subscribers a Happy Thanksgiving and most enjoyable vacation.

ICHABODS BEAT AGGIES

19 YEARS AGO 36 TO 0

COLLEGE FOOTBALL IS ON DIFFERENT BASIS FROM FORMERLY.

Alumni Recollect Past Times, When Teams Could Play Their Coaches and the Boys Wore Overalls and Jumpers For Suits.

The Washburn Ichabods fairly played rings around the Aggies 19 years ago, when the score was 36 to 0. That was in the early days of Aggie football history. Like other institutions in those days, Washburn played her coach, who proved to be the star of the game. Conditions are different now, and the Aggie Wildcats expect to take the long end of the contest against the Ichabods November 30.

The one big fear of the coaches is that overconfidence will be the undoing of the team in the Thanksgiving game.

The season of 1897 was the first in which the Aggies were allowed to compete with other institutions for athletic honors. Jud Ehrsam of Enterprise, a frequent visitor at the college, was the first football coach.

Wagner Started Athletics.

G. F. (Doc) Wagner, now custodian, known to every student on the hill, was manager of the team that year, and it was due to his energy that the Kansas State Agricultural college got a good start in athletics.

"In speaking of athletics, one's thoughts naturally revert to the man who far years has been practically president, secretary, and general manager, G. F. Wagner," was a comment in the old Student's Herald.

At that time little money was spent for athletic equipment. It was not an uncommon sight to see the players dressed in overalls and jumpers and after a particularly hard game in much more scanty attire. Each player purchased his own suit if possible and if not he made it. Men of those days played purely for the love of the game, and never for the long trips, "K" sweaters, and newspaper write-ups.

Ahearn as Football Coach.

In 1904, M. F. (Mike) Ahearn, now professor of landscape gardening, came to Manhattan, but it was not until 1905 that he took charge of the team as a coach. He is the man who put the college on the map in athletics. With practically no material at all in 1905 he developed a team that was defeated but twice and in the following year beat the University of Kansas. This is the only Aggie football team that has been able to accomplish that feat.

"Mike" coached until 1910, and it was that year that K. U. refused to play the team. The 1910 football squad was the best and the fastest in K. S. A. C. football history. If it had not been for a defeat by the University of Colorado, under adverse climatic conditions, it would have been an ever victorious team.

Into Missouri Valley Conference.

With the building of the new gymnasium modern methods of coaching and training began. This was in 1911. It was in that year that G. S. Lowman came to the college. He was responsible for raising the athletic standard from that of the Kansas conference to the Missouri Valley conference.

The Clevenger-Schulz combination is proving effective. The team has made a creditable showing, having a claim on second place in the Missouri Valley conference, and having won from the University of Oklahoma Saturday 13 to 12.

D. P. Ricord, '16, left last week for Minneapolis, Minn., where he has an advertising position on a trade journal.

DEBATERS BREAK EVEN

IN CLASH WITH AMES

THE AFFIRMATIVE TEAMS OF BOTH SCHOOLS WIN.

Debates Were Close and Hotly Contested—Two to One Decisions Given at Both Places For Home Teams.

The Aggie-Ames debate of Friday night was a 50-50 contest, the affirmative teams of both schools winning by two to one decisions. The contests were close and were dearly bought by the winners.

The debate here was won by the Aggie affirmative men on their superior convincing power, and collection of facts. The main speeches of both teams were smooth finished speeches, but the high places were reached when the rebuttals were given. Each man met the challenge of his opponents squarely; both teams clashing throughout the whole contest. The K. S. A. C. team showed more training and stronger thinking power in their rebuttals than did the Ames men. The five-minute rebuttals of the home men were classic in thought and delivery.

The visiting team was composed of F. E. Wilcox, sophomore; P. S. Chung, junior, and H. J. Harper, junior. They were accompanied here by their coach. On account of a railroad wreck near St. Joseph, Mo., they did not arrive until 8.30. They were taken to the college at once where they gave a good account of themselves.

The Iowa affirmative team which debated at Ames, was composed of E. F. Gaff senior; A. E. Adams, junior; C. Christenson, senior. Those who were on the Aggie negative team were A. W. Poyer, junior; H. A. Moore, sophomore; and L. A. Dubbs, senior. Mr. Harry Brown of the Iowa State college was chairman of the debate at Ames. After the contest a reception for the debaters was held in Alumni hall.

Riley McGarraugh, J. B. Sweet and Merle Converse represented K. S. A. C. here. Prof. J. E. Kammeyer acted as chairman of the evening. Following the debate the Forum entertained the debaters and judges at a banquet in the Browning-Athenian hall.

The debate was well attended. Among those present were the representatives from the other four schools of the Pentangular debate league which was called here for a conference concerning the Pentangular spring debates.

THEY'RE BETTER THAN CATS.

Fraternity Freshmen Prove Wonders at Catching Mice.

"How many did you get this morning? Have you caught your six yet?" These are questions to be heard every morning at a certain fraternity house in the city where the freshmen, under the direction of the upperclassmen, have launched a systematic campaign against the mice which abound in considerable numbers in the house. Armed with a number of makes and styles of mouse traps, the freshmen have started their drive, and last reports indicated that the offensive move has resulted in driving the mice into their last strongholds.

Each freshman must have six mouse tails to hang at his belt by a certain date, under penalty of punishment. To the freshmen who catches the largest number of mice will be given the privilege to paddle every other freshman in the house, the number of strokes of the paddle to be determined by the difference between the number of mice which he caught and the smallest number caught.

AN OLD GRADUATE DIES.

Howard N. Rhodes, '98, Passed Away Friday.

Howard N. Rhodes, '98, and one of the best known men in Santa Fe circles died at his home in Topeka Friday morning. His death was caused by diabetes. He was 39 years old, just in the prime of his life.

Mr. Rhodes was born July 11, 1877, and most of his life was spent at Manhattan. He had been in the employ of the Santa Fe company since July, 1906. When he became ill last May he was treated by Santa Fe physicians and later went east for treatment at a sanatorium. He returned apparently much improved and returned to his duties. Too close application to work at which he engaged intermittently since his return resulted in his being taken seriously ill last Tuesday, when the end came speedily.

THAT THE PROFS MAY FROLIC.

Bauer Organizes a Special Physical Training Class.

A physical training class wherein the "profs" may gambol and romp to their heart's content, without fear of the prying eyes of the student body, has been organized by E. A. Bauer of the physical training class. Announcements have been mailed to all the instructors that the gymnasium will be open to them from 7:30 o'clock to 9 o'clock every Wednesday evening.

Volley ball, handball and basketball teams will be organized and opportunity for individual track and swimming exercises is extended to the faculty members. The plan will be tried out for a couple of weeks, and if successful, will become a permanent feature.

DON'T DROWN YOUR CATS! SELL THEM TO THE COLLEGE

The Zoology Department Makes Scientific Use of Felines in the Laboratories.

The surplus members of an overpopulated cat family may escape the gun shot or the fish pond by being sent to the zoological department of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Here after a sudden painless end, his remains will be dissected, analyzed and otherwise scientifically disposed of. It is believed this will be of interest to those persons who occasionally find themselves the owners of superfluous cats. This method of disposal, it is thought, will be preferred to banishment or drowning, which although justified on a plea of the high cost of living or a scarcity of rats, is nevertheless cruel as well as a needless waste of scientific material.

"With respect to the use of cats," said R. K. Nabours, professor of zoology, "we have been led to believe that a good service is being done the community, by removing a considerable menace in the form of stray cats, which are known to be carriers of germs causing diphtheria, colds, and other diseases."

Use Other Animals

The other animals used in the laboratory of the zoological department, include the pigeon, rabbit, cray-fish, frog, and earth worm, most of which are obtained in the vicinity of Manhattan. A few students of zoology are employed a part of their time in collecting these specimens.

"One enterprising student last year," said Doctor Nabours, "made considerable extra money from the sale of cat hides—the hide has a market value of 25-30 cents in Kansas City."

As regards the smaller life forms, some of them so small they might do a buck and wing dance on a pin point, are imported from distant states their growth depending to a great extent on certain climatic conditions. Some of them however are grown in the home laboratories.

Professors on Hort. Program.

Professors C. A. Scott, G. A. Dean, A. M. Dickens, and G. O. Green are on the program of the Kansas State Horticultural society which meets in Topeka December 6. Professor Scott will speak on the subject "The Kansas Woodlot." Professor Dickens "Early Horticulture," Professor G. A. Dean, "Some Important Insects," and Professor G. O. Greene, "The Spraying Schedule."

Miss Wilma Burtis, '16, is teaching home economics in the Sinclair township high school at Lovewell.

CONFIDENCE IN CLEVENGER CAMP TAKES SUDDEN DROP

WELLS IS OUT WITH A FRACTURED SHOULDER.

Husted Has Not Recovered From the Injury Received During the Sooner Game—Backfield Considerably Weakened.

Confidence that Clevenger's Aggies would easily take the measure of the Washburn Ichabods in the game Turkey Day was diminished Saturday when "Eddie" Wells, star fullback and a foremost contender for a place on the All-Missouri valley eleven fractured his left shoulder while scrimmaging against the freshmen. Coming at a time when the Clevenger backfield had been weakened by an injury to Husted, left halfback, who dislocated his left shoulder in the game with Oklahoma Sooners a week ago, the loss of Wells will break up an offensive combination which was counted to pile up from 30 to 40 points against the Topeka eleven.

Combined with the overconfidence that has been apparent in the Aggie camp the last few days, the two injuries may mean that the early season dope favoring the Clevenger-Schulz machine may be upset when the Washburn men tangle with the Purple athletes. While the Ichabods fell before the weak College of Emporia eleven Friday, only a part of the Washburn strength was available, due to a heavy hospital squad, all the members of which will be back in the fray Turkey Day.

Game Causes Worry.

The Washburn game is now a source of worry to Coach Clevenger. The spirit of optimism which is the cause of a large number of students departing for home, without waiting to see the game may result in a Washburn victory, he thinks.

"Naturally now that the conference games are over, there is likely to be a slump," states the Aggie mentor. "Washburn is getting better all the time and doubtless will put up a strong game against the Aggies."

"This game is worrying us as much as any other game in the entire schedule. Ability to win depends entirely upon the retention of the fighting spirit. If it is possible to keep the men at a high tension up to the time of the final game, there is no doubt of the Aggie victory—but right there is the danger."

While the game is yet too far away to state for sure the way the Purple athletes will line up, dopsters figure that Harwood will be found in Wells' place at fullback and that Husted's position at left half will be filled by either Wilder or L. Pateck. A probable lineup follows: Randels, lc; P. Pateck, lt; Bayer, lg; Wright, c; Rhoda, rg; Podrill, rt; Skinner, re; Clark, qb; Wilder or L. Pateck, lb; Harwood, fb; Captain Barnes, rh.

COLLEGE BUYS PRIZE SHEEP.

Three Shropshire Ewes Secured to Build Up Herd Here.

Three pure bred Shropshire ewes arrived at the college Wednesday from the farm of George McKerron & Son at Pewaukee, Wis. The sheep will be used to build up the Shropshire herd now owned by the animal husbandry department of the college.

The three ewes have been bred to the champion ram Bibby, which has never been defeated in the show ring.

"It is the intention of the animal husbandry department to build up pure bred herds of sheep of the different breeds which will be unequalled in any part of the state," said A. M. Patterson, who is in charge of the college sheep. "Other pure bred stock will be purchased in the other breeds this winter and within a year the department will have some prize-winning stock."

Fraternity Teams Tangle Again.

The Sigma Nu basketball quintet meets the Axtex five in what may be the deciding game of the fraternity basketball series tonight. Both teams have won their first game and the contest tonight promises to be close. The Sig Alphas will meet the Pi Kap team in what should be one of the best games of the schedule.

WHISKERS.

Don't you remember that summer, not so long ago, when you began to get some funny ideas into your head? You began to take an interest in Mary Brown, and all through the slowly dragging week you were planning how you would go to the little country church Sunday night, wait at the door after meeting and, just as Mary passed by whisper in her ear, "May I see you safe home?" Time after time you have tried to say the words, but couldn't.

It was that same summer that you began, for the first time, to court the services of the looking-glass. It was that same summer, too, that you made the important discovery that the peach fuzz on your boyish cheek was beginning to turn black and curly in little spots on the edge of your jaw. Ha! you must shave! With the co-operation of your mother you soon saved up enough Arbutus signatures to send for a premium razor, strop, and brush. "Please send them as soon as possible," you urged.

The Sunday after your treasure arrived you spent the whole forenoon in taking your first shave. It began to dawn upon you that this great privilege of man was not at all what you had expected.

In the first place, you found it impossible to work up a brimming cup of creamy lather, such as you had seen in the advertisements. Your lather, in spite of all your efforts, insisted on running down your cheeks and dripping off the point of your chin. Before you could get your razor in position for the first cautious stroke your face was bone dry and felt as if it was encased in a smarting mask of court plaster.

In stropping your razor you experienced still further discomfort; you found it a painful task to get the knack of twisting your wrist sufficiently and at the right time. Before you had finished shaving you had cut many deep nicks in the strop; as well as in your face. After half an hour of stropping you were astonished to find that the razor pulled so badly that tears oozed from your eyes. Then there was more stropping, but the more you stropped the more painful became the shaving. At length, however, by virtue of main strength and awkwardness you came to a point where you were glad to "call it quits."

It was this same summer that your wicked old uncle made it a point to call every visitor's attention to the fact that you now considered yourself a man, inasmuch that you were in the habit of shaving yourself with the back of the razor. "Of course," said he, "he will soon have nine on each side; then we may look out for a ball game, Haw! Haw! Haw!"

The neighbor women, also, seemed to be arrayed against you, endeavoring to make light of your recent initiation into man's estate. Every one of them, when calling your mother, would say just about the same old thing: "Why, Johnny! You grow like a weed!" "I declare, I wouldn't have known the boy." "Why, Mrs. Jones, it will be only a year or two till he will be getting with the girls." "Dear me! It seems as if we raise our children only to have them taken away from us." Mother, however, did not become alarmed, but replied, with a knowing smile, "You don't know Johnny as I do, Mrs. Smith. Why, do you know, he doesn't take the slightest interest in the girls—I wish he were not so extremely bashful. I guess he is going to be mamma's bachelor boy."

Most of the griefs of those days soon passed, and you look back on them with a smile. But the whiskers are still with you; and there is nothing about them to cause you to smile. You have to remove them from three to seven times a week, and it seems a good deal of the time, as if you had not profited in the slightest degree from the thousand-or-so lessons you have had in the art of shaving since that First Shave. You have tried new razors, new strops, new hones, new brushes, new soaps, and ever and anon you have had a ray of hope flash into your cheerless tonsorial life—hope that you have at last learned the trick. But no. It was only a flash—an illusion. You tried the safety razors, but soon returned to your old-style. You thought that when you could have the barber take care of your face your troubles would be at an end, but you found that most of the barbers were more than you could endure.

You have one hope left—you will soon be through with college life, and will settle down, either as a farmer or a dignified professor; then, b'jinks, you can throw away your razors and other paraphernalia into the weeds and cultivate an aristocratic Van Dyke.

POLITICAL OBSERVATIONS.

If Hughes had been elected he would have been the first Baptist president. Washington, Madison, Monroe, William H. Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Pierce and Arthur were Episcopallians. John Adams, John Quincy Adams, Fillmore and Taft were Unitarians. Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Lincoln, Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison were Presbyterians, and so likewise is President Wilson. Van Buren and Roosevelt were Dutch Reformed. Grant, Hayes and McKinley were Methodists. Garfield was a Disciple.

In 1896 McKinley had 271 electoral votes, Bryan 176; McKinley's majority 95. In 1900 McKinley had 292 votes, Bryan 155; McKinley's majority, 137. In 1904 Roosevelt had 336 votes, Parker 149; Roosevelt's majority 186. In 1908 Taft had 321 votes, Bryan 161; Taft's majority, 159. In 1912 Wilson had 435, Roosevelt 88, Taft 8, Wilson's majority 347.

STUDENTS ARE RELIABLE.

Testimony to the truth of the statement that Harvard students are as a rule reliable in the matter of payment of bills is given in the report of the Cooperative society. "The society loses very little through uncollectible accounts," runs the report, "in spite of the fact that by far the larger part of its sales are on credit. During the past year, in a total business of $445,000, the entire amount written off the books as uncollectible was $212.23."—Boston Transcript.

TO OUR PURPLE AND WHITE ELEVEN.

Coach Cleveland came from Tennessee. And Schulz, whom we call Germanee, from Michigan came with all his beef. To coach our line to pass out grief, To any misdirected soul,

That stood 'tween us and Victory's goal.

There in the thickest of every fight, You'll find our old friend "Rasty" Wright.

To his left stands "Henrie" Bayer Challenger and mute defier.

Of opposition, strong and fierce, When they attempt our lines to pierce.

On his right stands Rhoda, the sophomore,

Grit and fight to the very core.

When "Hold that Line" rings o'er the field,

He cringes, to fight, but never yield.

"Babe" Dodrill with his brawny beef, Has giv'n our foes their share of grief.

For when they charge, in fierce attacks,

He halts them, stops them in their tracks,

"Cap" Skinner, vet'ran Pepper Box, Ready to take his share of knocks

And always there when occasion demands,

On a forward pass to lay his hands.

And cross the goal, mild cheers and wall.

And tie that knot in the Tigers' tail,

There's Pete, who with his brawn and heft,

No matter where this Wild Cat plays, He's always in the limelight rays.

Harwood, Husted, Wilder, and Wells; Where brawn and brawn is the thing that tells

Here is a quartet with undying fame Worthy of their well earned name.

Clark and "Sully" at quarter stand, On an instant's notice to take command,

And pilot the team thru thick and thin, Over the goal line, a victory to win.

"Stiff" Randels, Demon and of Fame, Hero of many a hard fought game

Whose wondrous speed and strong stiff arm,

Spread consternation and alarm.

In rival teams, when like a flash Swings 'round the end, a wondrous dash,—

He's off the Demon's loose once more,—

A touchdown's added to our score.

The band plays and we shout his name,

Randels, "Stiff" Randels, of Aggie fame.

This my friends is the Wild Cat team, Fulfillers of our fondest dream:

For on the page of Valley Fame, Is written now, the Wild Cats name.

W. H. '18.

One of the students asks us for our opinion about whether or not we thought it right for faculty members to be lenient with the co-eds about reciting.... We think it perfectly all right for them to be so—that is, if the professor is well acquainted with the co-ed or occasionally accepts a dinner date with her—outside of that, we will say we never tried to run a university.—Oklahoma Daily.

The Soliloquies of a Thanksgiving Monarch

I am master of all I survey My kingdom is the poultry yard and my subjects are all that walk therein. Yes, even the man who brings me food, for does he not give me the yellowest corn and the cream of wheat?

The pigs grunt their disapproval at the amount of corn I receive. The chickens envy me but the other turkeys gaze upon me with polite respect. My poor old mother follows me around in a mournful sort of way anticipating my wishes.

She sighs. I know no reason for her sorrow for this is a glorious world and it is great to rule.

"There was a time——" she says. But this is the present so why bother about the past?

"There will come a time——" she solemnly insists. But again I say, this is the present, so why worry about the future?

"But tomorrow is Thanksgiving day and——" She gasps and turns away. Tears, idle tears! I should make a noise like a well fed turkey and be thankful I am alive.

WHY I AM THANKFUL.

Columbus was a dandy guy,
He sailed the world around;
And found America that I
Might live upon its ground.

I'm also thankful for the ginks,
Who made the graphophones;
Who first made stoves and kitchen sinks,
And beds and telephones.

I'm glad to have a president,
Who keeps us all at peace;
For does who plaster tears and rents
And breaks, all up with grease.

I think a lot of all the folks,
Who found electric fans;
Who made the Ford and other jokes
And plates and pots and pans.

I give my thanks unto the cheese,
Who started up the schools;
And to the ones who teachers please,
And can remember rules.

I think the Johnny boys quite fine,
Who first found all the stars;
Or just dug up a big gold mine,
Or made electric cars.

But better than all these to me,
Is he who came, though late,
From far away, o'er land and sea,
And found the Sunflower State.
—The Echo.

HAVE A VARIETY OF TREES.

More Different Kinds on College Campus than any Other Quarter Section in Kansas.

That the campus of the Kansas State Agricultural college has a greater variety of trees than any other quarter section in Kansas is claimed but few realize that some of these trees are older than the college itself.

The row of maples along lovers lane were transplanted along a section road probably in the early '60's, and another row of trees, the honey locusts, along the walk leading to the new agricultural hall, mark the north and south road. Just east of these trees stood an apple orchard at that time.

Mrs. Jane Foster, who then owned the land south of the section line, transplanted in her yard the red cedars now standing between the north end of Denison hall and Anderson hall and also a large maple and two coffee bean trees which grow along the walk leading to the Engineering hall. These were probably transplanted in the '50's.

Aside from a few chance cottonwoods scattered here and there over the campus, these were the only trees now standing which grew on the present site of the campus when the college took possession in 1873.

TRUE, THOUGH SOUNDS FISHY.

Oculist Couldn't Fit Glass Eye to One-Eyed Goldfish.

The clerk from McLaren's drug store knocked gently on the oculist's door and entered.

"Doctor," he asked, "can you make a glass eye for a goldfish?" The oculist gasped and looked more closely at his visitor to see if he was intoxicated.

"A glass eye for a goldfish? Why, who ever heard of such a thing? of course not," he blurted.

"Well," said the clerk, "I guess this fish is a total loss then." And he displayed the fish in a glass globe. On one side of the fish's head was a perfect eye and on the other—nothing.

"You see, we have been giving goldfish away as premiums and we got this one with the lot. It is minus an eye and no one seems to want a one-eyed fish. Good afternoon."

The doctor stared at the closed door a moment stupefied and then cursing softly to himself he returned to his work.

"THE KISS."

Owen Moore and Marguerite Courtot are the leading characters in this novel photoplay-romance in which the gentle art of osculation forms an important part. Among the thrilling episodes that issue is an aeroplane fight in which the two stars take important parts. At the Warehouse theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening.

NO RURAL RITE FOR NOVELIST.

Jack London's Body Is Cremated Without Song or Prayer.

Without ceremony of any kind, the body of Jack London, novelist and adventurer, who died Wednesday night, was cremated at noon November 24, at the Oakland, Cal., cemetery.

No minister or priest pronounced a benediction, no prayers were said, no choir sang a requiem.

Believing that death ends all and that there is no hereafter, London often said that when he died he wished to be cremated and buried without ostentation. His wishes were carried out.

London's secretary today estimated that the novelist's income from his writings at the time of his death averaged about 20 cents a word. He habitually wrote 1,000 words a day and this would make his annual income from new literary work about $73,000 a year.

So far as the secretary knows, London's only finished work which has not been published are two novels, two short dog stories and several Hawaiian stories. At the time of his death London was working on a novel of Hawaiian life called "Cherry," which was well advanced. It is understood Mrs. London either will complete the novel herself or will engage some other writer to complete it.

A slip of paper mailed to box—college P. O.—"I saw your notice in the D. S. for a room-mate, and as my room-mate will not be with me after Xmas would be glad to see you about the room.

Signed, Miss.....

The gentleman who received the note was somewhat embarrassed. Nuff said.

"The Heir of Hoorah."

Presenting Thomas Meighan and Anita King. Here is a film version of one of Broadway's most famous successes. A most diverting and yet pathetic story of romance and adventure in the west. At the Warehouse theatre Thursday afternoon and evening.

In no photodramatic production dealing with Russia has the Grimness of the Arctic Empire been brought out with such power as in this great story, which is really considered one of the milestones on the path of the accomplishments in the way of photoplay improvement and it is doubtful if any photoplay ever produced with this background can compare with this marvelously faithful conception of the Slav and his empire. ### EXTREME FASHIONS RUIN STYLE.

So Says Florence Hunt, Domestic Art Assistant.

The slavish following of fashion does not make the well-dressed Woman, in the opinion of Florence L. Hunt, assistant in domestic art in the college.

"By taking up the fads and novelties in dress a woman loses style and becomes merely stylish," explained Miss Hunt. "She defeats the purpose of true style which is to be inconspicuous and becomes noticeable by the very means she takes to look well."

The well-dressed woman selects materials and modes that are conservative, skillfully adapting fashion to her needs so that her clothes are in style as long as they last instead of just for a season, points out Miss Hunt.

In this way one may not only look well but may help in reducing the high cost of living since faddish things often cost many times their real value. The merchant is obliged to charge several times the cost price on articles that are likely to have a short popularity in order to pay for those left on his hands when they are out of fashion.

It is to the advantage of the merchant, the tailor, and the dressmaker to invent short lived fashions in clothing in order to increase custom by tempting women to buy. Not only extreme style but poor materials are used for, if wearing apparel looked well and lasted well, their business would suffer.

The Sad Truth.

'Tis sad, the story of Miss Co-ed Gay, Who came upon this hill one day. She wished to grow both wise and bright.

And she found things to her delight These were not books, nor classes nor Profs

But things which will go with nice young frosh.

'Tis sad but, oh, so very true

The maid found things all grand and new

To fill her days which should have been

Well filled with work and quizzes. She now knows well what she knew too late

That wisdom and knowledge don't go with "dates."

ONE MAIL DELIVERY ON THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving day the general delivery and stamp windows of the post-office will be open from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock in the morning only. One delivery will be made by the city carriers in the forenoon. The rural carriers will make no delivery.

MANY 'SHORTHORNS' EXPECTED.

Variety of Practical Courses Offered Short Course Men.

Several hundred persons are expected to take advantage of the practical instruction offered in the farmers' short course in the Kansas State Agricultural college from January 8 to March 21. Many subjects pertaining in farm management and practices will be taught, and aside from the regular work of the course it will be possible for the student to select some additional subject in which he is interested such as concrete construction, farm arithmetic, electricity, music or English.

Some of the subjects in the course are production of improved and more profitable live stock; selection of higher yielding crops with proper rotations; better management of soils with increased productivity of land; improved administration of farm practice and corresponding higher labor income; control of insect pests and animal and plant diseases; operation and care of gas engines, automobiles, and farm tractors; repair and management of farm machinery and buildings; the breeding up of a profitable dairy herd and the sanitary production of milk, cream and butter; beautifying of the farmstead and the making of an attractive and convenient farm home; and promotion of greater community responsibility and better rural citizenship.

MARGARET HALE AT CHAPEL.

Pleased the Students With Several Excellent Readings.

"Somebody did it" was the subject of one of the clever readings which Miss Margaret Hale, a student enrolled in home economics, gave at student assembly Saturday morning.

Miss Hale has excellent poise on the platform and her interpretation of the selections presented were professional in quality. Miss Hale is a graduate of Leland Powers School of Oratory and has taught under the supervision of Adrian Newens. She has also taught at the Horner Institute of Fine Arts at Kansas City, Mo. While there was engaged in private instruction in expression and was also in charge of playground work.

She will go to Junction City December 7 to give an entertainment for the Methodist church.

PRESS CLUB IS FORMED BY MANHATTAN NEWSPAPER MEN

New Organization Elects Officers and Plans for Social Meetings.

Manhattan newspaper men have formed a Press club, one of the few existing outside the large cities. The organization was effected at a meeting held last week.

The officers of the club are: president, N. A. Crawford, professor of industrial journalism in the agricultural college; vice-president, George Bredeman, of the Nationalist; secretary, Fay N. Seaton, of the Mercury; treasurer, D. F. Ricard, of the Chronicle.

"THROUGH THE WALL."

Nell Shipman and eGorge Holt are cast in the leading roles in this drama. This drama of mystery and daring imagination sounds a new note for screen possibilities. No other crime drama of the films, no crook play of the stage may justly be compared with this Blue Ribbon feature, that heralds the day of greater Vitaphone productions. At the Marshall theatre Thursday.

Dr. L. B. Barber, '11, who has been on the island of Guam in government service for the last two years, is visiting with relatives in Manhattan.

Miss Lucy Needham, '08, and '11, is principal of the high school at Greeley. Besides the courses in home economics, she is teaching English.

Worth Alderman, '13, is with a government valuation party cooperating with the Santa Fe railroad in New Mexico. His address is Amarillo, Tex.

H. B. Walker, drainage and irrigation engineer, left last night for Culison to outline an irrigation system for the Yeast ranch in Barber county.

Miss Mary C. Williams, '12, who is on the editorial staff of the Copper publications, has taken out a life membership in the Alumni association.

Ira E. Taylor, left for Lawrence Sunday morning where he is engaged in road survey work on the proposed surface road between Topeka and Kansas City.

Friday morning Miss Ada Holroyd, a former student left for Lebanon, Tenn., where she was married on Saturday to A. L. Cade for two years butler maker at the dairy.

Harry Noel, '12, and Mrs. Mabel (Etzold) Noel, '12, were here recently. Mr. Noel is in the employ of the Santa Fe railway valuation department, and is stationed at Amarillo, Tex.

Violin Bows repaired. Kipps.

C. H. Schoeler went to Lakin Sunday where he will attend to some professional work in connection with the bridge which is now being constructed over the Arkansas river at that place.

Miss Blanche Burt, '12, is teaching in her home town, Shallow Water, Scott county. She was in attendance at the State Teachers' association meeting and at the college Home Coming day.

F. W. Christensen, '00, has resigned his position as nutrition chemist in the New Mexico Agricultural Experiment station and has accepted the position of professor of animal nutrition in the North Dakota Agricultural college.

Philip Doerner, assistant in the department of horticulture, went to Dodge City last week to give advice concerning the landscaping of a hundred acre park which has been given to that city recently by George W. Pinnup.

H. E. Butcher, '14, is in charge of the engineering department of the Mansfield Electric Light and Power company, Mansfield, Ohio. The firm is building a plant to furnish power for manufacturing industries, steel mills, and the cities of Mansfield and Ashland.

Miss Fredrica V. Shattuck, a coach who came to Manhattan with the Ames debating team, was the guest of Miss Elizabeth Maclean, instructor in English. Miss Shattuck is head of the public speaking department, and she and Miss Maclean were fellow teachers at Ames.

Miss Gladys Patterson entertained the Philomathion literary society in a taffy pull at her home on Poyntz avenue last Friday evening. The entertainment came as the result of a membership contest conducted by the members of the society. The losers provided the entertainment.

WILL GIVE MUSICAL DEC. 17.
College and Chicago Soloists Will Give Annual Program.

The annual musical concert will be held in the college auditorium, Sunday afternoon, December 17.

Excerpts from Handel's Messiah, the greatest oratorical ever written, will be produced. Choruses from Clay Center and Randolph consisting of 300 singers will be assisted by the orchestra.

The soloists are Miss Faye Richards, soprano; Miss Carley, contralto; Mr. Calkins, tenor, and Thomas Remington, from Chicago, celebrated baritone.

The ministers of the city are in sympathy with this Sunday concert. Admission will be free and the general public is invited to attend. Rehearsals are held each Monday night.

Miss Dora Otto was down from Riley Saturday visiting friends.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT "A SQUIRREL" IS?

A Freshman who Desired to Know was Informed but He Couldn't See the Point.

"Here comes a real squirrel" remarked a senior to a classmate as he observed a much disliked "Prof." coming up the walk.

A freshman, taking his first stroll upon the campus, overheard the remark and began to scan the tree tops. The upperclassmen seized the opportunity.

"Don't know what a squirrel is?" asked one of them.

"Sure," answered Freshie, "but I haven't located the one you saw yet." though he knew a squirrel when he saw it he couldn't define it. He was eager to learn, however, and asked to be informed.

"A squirrel," replied one of the seniors, "is a nut who is about a cross between a hick and a boob." The lower classman's trembling under jaw sagged until supported by his collar.

"A hick," continued the speaker, "is a country simp, a greenhorn, a fish from the sticks who can't even manipulate a cigar lighter."

"A boob is a city hick. He's the guy that accepts wooden nickels and borrows toothpicks to use when out in public."

The appearance of a pretty co-ed abruptly ended the lecture and the deserted Freshie wandered aimlessly down the walk, lost in thought.

NEED AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS. Dearth of These Specialists Brings Many Inquiries to College.

Several inquiries have recently been received at the college asking for men with training suitable for positions in agricultural engineering. There seems to be considerable demand for men in this line and few of the colleges are able to fill such vacancies.

A few students are enrolled in the agricultural engineering course here, but most of them are taking the flour milling option and will continue to specialize in that work.

One of the inquiries was received from an engineering agency, another from a college who wished to secure an instructor for this branch of engineering, and another who wished a graduate agricultural engineer to take charge of a sub-station. In addition there are positions available in the selling end with machinery companies. Ivar Matson, ex-'17 has taken up this line of work and is employed at a handsome salary by the Loudon Machinery company of New Jersey.

The demand for agricultural engineers, according to authorities in engineering, is not as great as that for civil and mechanical of course refers to numbers, but because of the fact that but few of the colleges are offering this course, and but few men enrolled in these departments over the country, there is a larger proportionate demand for these graduates.

DINNER FOR FOOTBALL HEROES

Business Men and Clerks of City to Entertain Aggies and High School Teams.

The business men and clerks of Manhattan will give a dinner to the Manhattan football teams shortly after Thanksgiving.

Both the college and high school teams have made such excellent records this season that the business men feel some mark of appreciation is due them.

The dinner probably will be held at the College Inn. All of the members of the two football teams will be invited as guests and all of the town boosters who care to may attend. It is expected that at least 150 will attend the dinner. All of the expenses of the celebration will be paid by the boosters.

Fred Frank, H. W. Brewer and George Hammond planned the celebration and they will visit all of the merchants tomorrow and enlist their help.

It is planned to have the dinner hall decorated with the colors of the two schools and speeches will be made by various members of the victorious eleven.

CAFETERIA HAS A GOLD MINE. Seeks Controlling Interest in Onions and Eggs.

Shall the cafeteria sell out? Here are a few of the inducements. Five hundred bushels of potatoes, enough to last until the new ones come in next summer, were purchased at $1.00 per bushel, f. o. b. the campus. These same potatoes are now $1.75 a bushel f. o. b. Topeka or Kansas City. One hundred cases of tomatoes purchased a few weeks ago at $4.50 per case are now $5.50 per case and almost impossible to obtain at that, for as the wholesale men say there is just as much difficulty in getting the goods as in paying for it after one gets it.

As it is with potatoes and tomatoes, so it is with other things and one might go on buying and selling, doubling and trebling—for prices are still soaring—until the buyer's poor mind is going around in circles. To him the comic paper squib of the modern Croesus who owns controlling interest in an onion and an egg is not a joke but the soberest reality. To his befuddled brain, there is but one answer to the query, "When is a prosperous business not a prosperous business," and that is "in the year 1916."

"THE RAINBOW PRINCESS."

A fascinating photoplay of circus life with Anna Pennington in the leading role. Those who saw Miss Pennington in "Susie Snowflake" which was shown here some time ago will remember her pleasing personality, and everyone may be assured that this picture is even more pleasing than was the first offering. ### AGGIES LAND A PLACE ON 1916 FOOTBALL MAP

RANK AT THE TOP WITH LEADING MISSOURI VALLEY TEAMS.

Two Aggies Are Strong Candidates For Places on First All-Missouri Valley Eleven—Others May Place on Second Team.

SEASON'S RECORD.

King Football has discovered a new town—Manhattan. Aiding and abetting in that discovery were Z. G. Clevenger and "Germany" Schulz, both old friends of the king. For let it be known that Clevenger and Schulz have dragged a Manhattan team, the Kansas Aggies, out of the lowest mires of Missouri valley football and have hoisted that team up to a "place in the sun" alongside Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas. And King Football surprised old sovereign that he was, welcomed the newcomer right royally, for the discovery meant an extension of his domain.

For many years K. S. A. C. has prayed for recognition. But it could not have recognition without deeds, those deeds being in the form of football victories. And it could not have victories until it found master brains to mold from the rough material at hand a finely-polished gridiron machine. Now it has found the brains—Clevenger and Schulz—and with the discovery came King Football's recognition.

With the Missouri valley race hopelessly be-muddled and with Nebraska, Ames and Missouri broadly proclaiming their rights to the title, the Kansas Aggies, still the youngest of the conference, begs to set forth its claim. Missouri, conqueror of Kansas, lost their lone game of the season to the Clevenger eleven. And Missouri tied Ames, while Kansas eliminated Nebraska. Thus comparative dope—and that seems the only means of straightening out the entangled championship wires—shows the Purple athletes on top of all four major Missouri valley elevens.

Have a Good Claim.

"I don't see how any team can have a better claim than we," asserts Coach Clevenger. "Certainly we are no lower than any of the teams."

The Purple has but one mar on her escutcheon. The Nebraska Cornhuskers, striking the Aggies when the Clevenger-Schulz machine was only beginning its momentum, was victorious in a 14 to 0 battle that Lincoln will long remember. And the Husker victory came at a time when the Stewart eleven was at its highest speed—the part of the year when it piled up a 53 to 0 score on Drake and journeyed half way across the continent to soundly thrash the Oregon Aggies.

With all its success, the Clevenger-Schulz eleven can not be called a one-man team. True, "Stiff" Randels and "Eddie" Wells have battered their way far enough into the limelight to practically assure the Aggies of two members of the All-valley selection. But their ball carrying efforts would have come to naught without the unyielding line built up by one of America's premier forwards, "Germany" Schulz, All-Time American center. In that strong repelling machinery are such staunch fighters as Bayer and Skinner, Wright and Ptacek, and Rhoda and Dorrill, at least three of whom Aggie followers expect to see on either the first or second honorary valley elevens. Supplementing the brains of the Aggie mentors, Clarke, probably K. S. A. C.'s best field general, and Captain Barnes have both shown themselves players of Missouri valley calibre.

An Excellent Record.

Six victories, one tie and one defeat and a good assurance of at least two stars on the all-valley eleven comprise a record of which Coaches Clevenger and Schulz can not help but be proud, considering the past history of K. S. A. C. football. And with but four athletes, Captain Barnes, Bayer, Wright and Skinner, departing this year, and with star freshmen and second-string material from which to choose, Clevenger can not help but look forward to even a better eleven in 1917.

Hopes run high here in Manhattan, that having "discovered" Aggville, King Football will never erase the town from his football map.

HAVE 700 TONS OF COAL ON HAND Heat Is Assured For at Least Three Weeks More.

More than seven hundred tons of coal are on hand at the heat and power department according to Jacob Lund, superintendent. This is perhaps the largest amount of coal the department has ever had on hand at one time before and represents nearly three weeks' supply.

More than this has been ordered, some of the orders dated the first of November have not been received, but the coal supply is poor and in addition there is a dearth of cars for shipment.

It is impossible to lay in a supply before cold weather, when coal may be secured without any delay, due to trouble arising from spontaneous when any large amount is stored in the pits.

During the summer months the coal is secured from the prisons which supply all of the state institutions. During the winter months however, their output is inadequate to supply all of the institutions and Mr. Lund is buying the coal on the open market.

TRYOUTS FOR COLLEGE PLAY START AT ONCE

Any Student Is Eligible to Enter One of the Casts In Open Competition.

Tryouts for the college play "The Man From Home" a fifty dollar royalty play, which is to be one of the features of Farm Home week, will start immediately. Every student of college standing is invited and urged to try out. The best talent available is desired, and each one entering the tryouts will be given a chance to demonstrate his ability.

Three or four complete casts will be chosen and will be allowed to work on the play with the assistance of the dramatic coaches until Christmas when the final cast will be chosen.

Those wishing to make the cast should see Dr. J. G. Emerson or assistant J. H. Branham in rooms 56 and 53 of the old Ag. building any afternoon this week.

The parts of the play will be given out at once so that those who enter one of the tryout casts may start to work at once. The limited time makes the factor of the preparation an important one and may decide in the choosing of members of the cast in the final selection.

EUROPEAN WILD HOG DIES.

Moving to New Quarters Proves Fatal to the Beast.

Moving the European wild hog from the hog house to new quarters recently proved fatal to the beast. The hog, which was fastened in a crate, became frantic and tried to gain his freedom. His head became fastened while trying to crawl through a crack of the crate. A broken blood vessel, which was the result of much struggling, caused the death of the animal.

The hog was brought to the college from Europe a few years ago to be used for breeding purposes.

Vera Peak spent Thanksgiving at her home in Belleville.

No Classes Eighth Hour.

Eighth hour classes will be dismissed today so that students and faculty members may have an opportunity to hear Mr. Porter speak at a mass meeting in the auditorium on prison camps among the warring nations of Europe. Mr. Porter, who is connected with International Y. M. C. A. work, has recently returned from Europe and speaks with authority on conditions in the Eastern continent. Everybody is urged to be present.

THE AGGIES RANK FOURTH AT THE INTERNATIONAL?

INDEFINITE RETURNS PLACES K. S. A. C. STOCK JUDGES HIGH.

College Show Stock Shipped Friday—Three Carloads of Animals Sent to Chicago in a Special Train.

Competing against sixteen different teams, the K. S. A. C. stock judging team won fourth place in the contest at the International Stock Show at Chicago according to indefinite returns received yesterday.

A telegram received from Dr. C. W. McCampbell, assistant professor of animal husbandry at the college, who accompanied the team, stated that Iowa State College ranked first, Ohio second, Texas A. and M. third, and K. S. A. C. fourth. No details were given.

The team accompanied by Dr. McCampbell started on its trip November 19, and visited the Iowa State college, University of Illinois, Purdue university, and various stock farms in Missouri, Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Those making the trip are: B. M. Anderson, J. R. Neale, R. Weimer, L. E. Howard, and P. J. Englund. The men are expected back by the latter part of the week.

Stock to Show.

The college show stock was shipped to the International Stock Show at Chicago in a special train Friday evening. The animals sent were 23 head of steers, five yearling weathers, six Duroc-Jersey barrows, and a carload of Duroc-Jersey barrows to be used in the competition for the best carload lot.

The college animals were shipped late due to an embargo which had been placed on cattle because some animals in the Kansas City stock yards were infected with what was thought to be the foot and mouth disease. The embargo was lifted as soon as it was found that the infection was not dangerous.

Professor W. A. Cochell left for Chicago Friday and Professor E. N. Wentworth left Sunday morning. Messrs. C. Aubel, J. Ingraham, and Dwight Hull accompanied the show stock as caretakers.

The special train was composed of three cars of college stock, six cars of stock from the Casement ranch, seven cars from Springer's farm, and a carload of animals was to be picked up at Lawrence.

A NEW STUDENTS COUNCIL.

School of Agriculture Organizes With Seven Members.

The student council of the school of agriculture, drafted, a constitution which will be presented to the different classes of the school of agriculture for acceptance at class meeting next Thursday. This constitution is modeled after the constitution of the college student council.

The student council of the school of agriculture is at present composed of five members, R. W. McCall and E. S. Lyon from the third year class; Miss Ethel Manwarren from the second year class; and Miss Blanche Palmer from the first year class. K. D. Thompson, a member of the third year class, is the fifth member, and was elected to represent the school of agriculture in the college student council.

At the next meeting of the classes an additional member will be elected from both the second and third year classes. As soon as this is done the council will elect officers.

The school of agriculture student council is modeled as nearly as possible like that of the college organization and will cooperate with the college council in the formulation of all college rules. The council has a faculty advisor and through its cooperation, all rulings that affect the student body of the college will affect the students of the school of agriculture.

John M. Scott, '03, animal industrialist in the Florida State Experiment station, is author of one of the feature articles in a recent number of the Florida Grower. The article is entitled, "Essentials for Success in Dairying," and is illustrated with interesting photographs.

AGGIE ELEVEN DEFEATS WASHBURN IN 47-0 ROMP

CLEVENGER TEAM SCORES SEVEN TOUCHDOWNS AGAINST ICHABODS

Randels and Harwood Gain Almost All Against Weak Defense of Topeka Team—Agiess Clever In Use of Forward Pass.

Clevenger's Aggies encountered little opposition from the Washburn Ichabods in the annual Thanksgiving day battle Thursday, piling up seven touchdowns and five goals from touchdown for a one-sided, 47 to 0 victory. From the middle of the first quarter, when the Aggies took the ball on their own 20-yard line and marched 80 yards to a touchdown without a halt, the Topeka eleven was hopelessly outclassed, failing not only to advance the ball but also to stop the Aggie offensive drives.

The Purple offense smashed and passed against the Topekans for heavy gains, despite the fact that two substitutes were playing in the backfield. During the first half of the game, line-tucks by Harwood and end-runs by Randels, each gaining heavy yardage, showed the Washburn defense woefully weak at breaking up Clevenger's "straight football" offensive. Then in the last period when Clark opened with a bewildering array of forward passes from trick formations the Ichabods were even more at sea, permitting the Aggies to complete nine out of 15 passes for 114 yards gain.

Four Aggie veterans played their last game for the Purple, and their playing showed it. Captain Barnes played the best game he has played this year, carrying the ball for gains and at one time staging a brilliant 40-yard run after catching a 15-yard pass from Clark. Wright and Bayer, fighting side by side in the line, charged the Washburn forwards off their feet and opened huge gaps through which Harwood and L. Ptacek plunged for heavy yardage. Ex-Captain Skinner nipped every Washburn end run in the bud and starred on the receiving end of Clark's forward passes.

Only an average attendance was present, due to the departure of most of the students to eat their Thanksgiving game at home. The deficit caused by their absence was more than made up by the large representation of business men at the game. Business houses had all been closed for the day and clerks and merchants were out in full force for a view of the Aggie eleven whose slate was marred only by a defeat at the hands of the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

Statistics show the overwhelming superiority of the Aggies. The Clevenger-Schulz eleven advanced the ball almost 10 times as far as did Washburn, making 645 yards to but 69 for the Kennedy eleven. Washburn made but one first downs, while the Aggies reeled off their distance 34 times.

The first Aggie touchdown showed the power of the Clevenger eleven. After the Ichabods had killed seven minutes in making their lone first downs, the ball went to the Aggies on their own 20-yard line, following Shaw's drop-kick across the Purple goal-line. With both Randels and Harwood making from five to 20 yards at a run, the ball was advanced to the 4-yard line and Captain Barnes went around end for the first score of the game. Randels booted an easy goal, Stewart kicked off to Harwood, who returned to the middle of the field. Three Aggie downs in succession, followed by a 30-yard pass, Clark to Randels, placed the ball on the 20-yard line at the end of the quarter. Another forward pass, Clark to Skinner, netted the Aggies their second touchdown in the first few minutes of play in the second period.

The second half was the occasion for a further opening up of the Clevenger offensive. Harwood received Shaw's kickoff on his 5-yard line and returned 30 yards. The Washburn forwards crumpled under Harwood's line plunges and the big fullback smashed through the line for a third touchdown, Randels adding another point with a pretty goal. A 30-yard

BRING A SPADE!

Those who have charge of the work on the athletic field Thursday request that each student, who can, bring a spade or a shovel, a spade if possible, as there will be a scarcity of these tools. If you can't bring either of these, bring a wheelbarrow. The student who can furnish a team and wagon will be given special attention. Bring any of these you possibly can.

MRS. WILDER DEAD.

Was a Teacher With Great Influence Among Students.

More than 3000 college students who have received instruction in the Bible class of Mrs. Charlotte Carter Wilder, since 1870 will hear of her death, which occurred at 11 o'clock Sunday night at the home, 119 Pierre street, with deep sorrow.

Mrs. Wilder's Bible class has been known throughout this and surrounding states for years because of its influence upon the lives of many young men who have graduated from this institution.

She was a writer of some note and began to write for the press as early as 1871. She was the author of a number of books, among them, "The Child's Own Book," the "Worth While" series, and "The Wonderful Story of Jesus."

Mrs. Wilder had been ill for more than a year. She had been in a serious condition since last spring, and her death did not come unexpectedly.

The funeral will be held at the Methodist church at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Dr. J. M. McClelland, pastor of the church, will be in charge. Burial will be made in Sunset cemetery, which was named by Mrs. Wilder.

A FRESHMAN WILL GET YOU IF YOU DON'T WATCH OUT

He Carries His Notebook and Pencil With Him to Copy Down Your "Freak Expressions."

Beware of the Freshman with the notebook!

Have you been caught giving fatherly advice to one of your freshman friends when suddenly he has pulled a little black notebook from his pocket and has begun to write something in it hurriedly?

Students in the classes in English I under John D. Cooke, instructor in the department of English, are now asked to carry notebooks about with them, and to jot down all words that are new to them, all poorly constructed sentences, grammatical errors, particularly apt expressions, which are heard in the everyday talk on the hill.

No matter how many English courses the student takes while in college, and no matter how hard the instructor tries to teach the subject, the student who comes from the average environment will not learn to write and speak correctly unless he puts forth a conscious effort," says Mr. Cooke. "Some students have less difficulty in expressing themselves correctly than others. The reason for this is due partly to the temperament of the student and partly to his environment previous to his entrance to high school and college."

The students spend fifteen minutes at the beginning of every second class period in going over the accumulated data and in discussing the meanings of the new words.

PAPERS AFIRE IN BASEMENT.

Fire Truck Called to 1301 Poyntz Avenue Sunday Morning.

The fire truck was called to 1301 Poyntz avenue at 9:50 o'clock Sunday morning to put out a fire in the basement of the Alpha Delta Pi house.

A pile of papers was afire in the basement. The blazing paper was put out before any damage was done.

TWO AGGIES PLACED.

Wells and Randels drew places on an All-Missouri valley eleven picked by E. W. Cochrane, of the Kansas City Journal. Cochrane's selection follows: Randels, Aggies, le; Groves, Missouri, lt; Drake, c; McAnaw, Missouri, re; Corey, Nebraska, rt; Packer, Ames, re; Stanowski, Missouri, qb; Lindsay, Kansas, lb; Tucker, Ames, rh; Wells, Aggies, fb.

WILL CONSTRUCT NEW GRIDIRON NORTH OF THE RUNNING TRACK

THE FIELD WILL BE TURTLE-BACKED AND TILED.

THE CLASSES ARE SUSPENDED

Work Will be Done by Five Divisions of Squads Which Are Being Organized By Deans—Eats Will Be Plentiful.

Clad in overalls, jumpers and aprons, and armed with shovels, shovels, wheel barrows, surveying instruments, spoons, forks and a desire to help give K. S. A. C. a real athletic field, approximately 2500 students and instructors will invade the College field Thursday. When the tired host departs that evening, the field will scarcely know itself, for the gridiron will have been turtlebacked and tiled and a new field will have been built north of the running track.

Thursday is K. S. A. C.'s "booster" day. President H. J. Waters has suspended classes in that every Kansas Aggie may help construct an athletic stadium that will rank with the athletic fields of other Missouri Valley institutions. Only service on the field will be an acceptable excuse for absence from regular college duties.

Work By Squads.

Under the present plans, which are subject to change, the day's work will be done by five divisions of squads. Twenty squads will be furnished by the agriculture division; ten by the engineering; five by the general science; five by the school of agriculture and a number of groups from the domestic science division. Once on the field, the men will be apportioned to various division superintendents, who will have a portion of the day's work to oversee.

The work of organizing the squads is left to the deans. Each dean will notify the members of his division what work each is to do, and who will be in charge of his squad. The squads, which will be composed of between 25 and 30 workers, will assemble on the field at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Plenty of "Eats."

Great preparations for feeding the army of workers are being made by the department of domestic science, and according to those in charge, nobody will have to go hungry. It is expected that 500 pounds of wienies, 350 pies, 200 dozen doughnuts, and 100 gallons of coffee will be consumed.

The food will be cooked in the cafeteria, and in the domestic science department. The commissary division of the regiments have charge of getting the food out on the field.

The squads will line up systematically, and will be served at four counters.

The last word on the program of the day will be given out in student assembly Wednesday morning. Students are requested to watch the bulletin boards for notices.

SIEVER NEW COLLEGE DOCTOR.

Took up His Duties December 1—Is Highly Recommended.

Dr. C. M. Siever of Holton has been appointed physician for the Kansas State Agricultural college and took up his duties December 1.

In addition to his regular college and medical work, Doctor Siever has taken graduate work in medical bacteriology and the allied sciences in the University of Kansas. He has helped edit the Journal of the Kansas Medical society and is well known in his profession in the state. He has for several years been county health officer of Jackson county and is referred to by Dr. S. J. Crumrine, secretary of the state board of health, as one of the most efficient health officers in the state.

A new oak floor was laid in the second story of the domestic science and art hall during the vacation. It is planned to lay the oak floor in Anderson hall during the Christmas holidays.

THE ATHLETIC FIELD.

Thursday, December 7, every Aggie student is expected to report for work at 8:00 a. m. sharp at Ahearn field, for the purpose of helping to make our gridiron one of the best in the Missouri Valley. President Waters has declared a holiday for this purpose, and it is the privilege as well as the duty of every loyal Aggie student to be on hand and help out.

The need of reconstructing the field has long been evident, especially during a wet season when the gridiron is flooded with water, and when the teams are forced to play in the mire. Games have been called off due to the wet and muddy condition of the field. Because of its lowness the ground does not drain well, and it takes sometime for it to dry out thoroughly. However, with the carrying out of the present plans, we can be assured of a well-drained and suitable field at all times except in cases of extreme inclement weather.

Then, too, the Aggies are deserving of a better field on which to play. Our football team this year has fought its way to "a place in the sun" along side the other leading Missouri Valley teams; and we can best show our appreciation of their efforts by doing our best to furnish them suitable conditions under which to play. Not only our football, but also our baseball and track teams will profit by the change. K. S. A. C. has been placed in an enviable position on the athletic map and it is up to us to do our best to hold that place.

And last, but not least, "eats" of all kinds will be furnished by the D. S. girls. It is reported that pounds and pounds of weinies, pickles, sandwiches, pies, and other delicacies will be hauled to the athletic field at noon-time to satisfy the voracious appetites of the workers. The participants of the delicacies which are to be furnished may feel that they have been well paid for their day's work. Be on hand!

"The Soul of Kura San."

Sessue Hayakawa takes the principal part in this unusual suspense story. He is assisted by Myrtle Stedman. As star of "The Cheat" Sessue demonstrated a tremendous dramatic talent. Myrtle Stedman has starred in many pleasing photoplays. At the Warham theatre this afternoon and tonight.

Dean Willard Tells Why He is Thankful

Gives Euphuistic and Technological Reasons at Student Assembly Wednesday.

"I have been allowed two minutes in which to give a personal reason why I am thankful.

"I am thankful for the good degree of health that I enjoy. While no longer able to work fourteen hours a day, I can still do a legal day's work with ease, sleep six to eight hours, eat for an hour, and enjoy the remainder of the twenty-four hours reading or out-of-doors. "The blessing of good health is seldom realized until it is gone or going. Thomas Carlyle said that he did not know that he had a stomach until he found that it was a diabolical nuisance. In answer to the question "Is life worth living?" it has been well-said that, "That depends on the liver."

"I am thankful that I can still perform voluntarily or involuntarily, the operations of: purchase, prehension, mastication, delutition, peristalsis, proteolysis, lipolysis, amyolysis, saccharolysis, absorption, anabolism, catabolism, catalysis, activation, inhibition, stimulation, oxidalies, reduction, deamination, hydrolysis, synthesis, inspiration, expiration, circulation, perspiration, elimination, cerebration, application and gesticulation with such effectiveness as to avoid sub-maintenance emaciation, intuition and dissolution.

"In short I am thankful for good health! I am further thankful for the intelligent interest and engrossed attention which you have given me."

CLEVELER IS CONGRATULATED.
State Board of Administration Likes Winning Football Team.

Coach Z. G. Clevenger is in receipt of a letter from the state board of administration congratulating him upon the excellent showing made by the Kansas Aggies on the gridiron this season. Similar letters have been sent to the mentors of all the other state institutions of Kansas, all of whom have been playing winning football.

Not one of the five aggregations representing K. U., Kansas Aggies, Kansas Normal at Emporia, Pittsburg Normal and Hays Normal had lost contests last month until the Teachers dropped a game to Baker recently. On the week-end of November 10 and 11, when all five elevens were playing formidable opponents, all came through with victories, the Kansas Aggies defeating Missouri, the Kansas Normal defeating Haskell, Hays Normal winning, Pittsburg Normal defeating Warrensburg, Mo., Normal, and K. U. defeating Washburn.

AGGIES DEFEAT WASHBURN

pass from Clark to Randels gave the Aggies still another score.

Following a spectacular 40-yard run by Captain Barnes, Bayer crossed the Ichabod goal-line at the beginning of the fourth period and Wright drawn back from center, scored a sixth touchdown for the Clevenger men. E. Ptacek carried the ball for the last touchdown. Only the whistle of the time-keeper prevented another score after the Aggies had shown a brilliant forward-passing offense in the last few minutes of play.

Y.M.-Y.W. Notes

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Wednesday because of the Thursday holiday, and will be held at 3:30 in the rest room of the home economics building.

"The Real Opportunity for Home Economics Specialists in China" is the subject of the address to be given Wednesday by Mrs. F. J. White at the regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. White is the wife of Professor White, an instructor in the Baptist college in Shanghai. She and her husband are home on a furlough and are visiting in Topeka. It was through Miss Esther Charles, a college student and a niece of Mrs. White, that the association was able to secure her for the address.

CAMPBELL GOES TO EL PASO.

He Will Engage in the Dairy Business There.

George Campbell, '16, who has been engaged in testing work for the college for the last month, left the first of the week for El Paso, Texas, where he has permanently located.

Mr. Campbell will start a new dairy at that place. He intends to buy his milk and confine himself to retail trade and the manufacture of "sticktoitiveness". Whether he found that sheer persistence was the best method or because that natural characteristic made it possible for him to succeed so well, is a question easily answered by those who know him.

There was a time, in remembrance of present students, when Campbell's special delivery and messenger service was noted for giving efficient service. And then, Campbell's Dairy got its start via "bike". The milk, the service, and the man pleased so well that by his senior year in college, George was the proprietor of the Campbell Dairy Company, with its own building in Agville employing one man in the dairy, and two delivery men on wagon and car, and was handling the biggest dairy business in the city.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN MEETS.

It Hated Eight New Members—Professor Vestal Speaks.

C. M. Vestal, assistant professor of animal husbandry in the college, addressed a recent meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club, giving an account of the recent hog feeding experiments conducted at the college, their results and their bearing on practical feeding.

Following Professor Vestal's speech the following eight men were initiated: J. B. Angle, H. C. Colgalzer, A. C. Hancock, Charles Nitcher, William D. Denholm, Lester Barnes, H. M. Birks, and H. J. Hollister.

"Saving the Family Name."

Mary McLaren takes the leading part in this purposeful photoplay which is not a problem play. This is not a tawdry, wishy-washy, glamorous unreal version but a drama which provides engaging entertainment without guile. A new side light is here presented on the ever interesting topic of the stage and theatrical life. At the Marshall this afternoon and tonight.

"Seventeen."

In this adaptation of Booth Tarkington's humorous masterpiece Louise Huff and Jack Pickford are cast in the leading roles. The story deals with a phase of life which no normal youngster escapes and is therefore universal in its appeal. "Puppy Love," that frightful epidemic which the youths fall victim to at the tender age of seventeen, is one of the richest fields for the imagination of the humorist. At the Wareham Thursday.

Y. W. PRESENTS "AGGIE POP NIGHT" TONIGHT

ATHLETIC FIELD PRESENTS BRAND NEW APPEARANCE

FIELD DAY AT COLLEGE PROVES BIG SUCCESS.

Work Progressed Rapidly and Efficiently—Faculty Men Wield Pick and Spade Alongside of Students.

Clothed in working garments and armed with spades, picks and shovels, approximately 1,200 men students and faculty members of the Kansas Agricultural College appeared on the college athletic field at 8 o'clock yesterday morning in answer to the call for an industrial army to build a new field and complete the construction of the present gridiron, making of it one of the best fields of its kind in the country.

It was "Field" day at the college and students and faculty alike turned out in working clothes ready for a hard day's work. Classes were suspended for the day. While the men were laboring in the field the co-eds were cooking tempting dishes in the domestic science building to satisfy the hunger of the laborers at the noon hour.

When the workers appeared on the field they found the work of the day laid out before them. Stakes and lines marked the location of the trenches which were to be dug to drain the present gridiron. Preparations for the day's work had been made under the direction of L. E. Conrad, professor of engineering.

There was a delay of only a few minutes while the squad commanders checked up those under their command and gave instructions for the task before them. The students then proceeded to their work and within a quarter of an hour the dirt was flying. Within an hour the twelve drainage ditches were completed half way across the field.

THE LAID BEFORE NOON.

By 10 o'clock 12 ditches had been dug across the football field for the purpose of draining it while a larger main ditch was dug along each side. Some squads had even laid the tile in their portion of the ditch and filled the trench within two hours after beginning work. Before noon the tile in all of the drainage ditches had been laid and the trenches filled and work of hauling dirt on the field had begun.

In the meantime another division of students had been working on the construction of a new field north of the present gridiron. The turf was removed from the field and dirt was then hauled on to the field by 20 teams. With the aid of the teams and three tractors the work proceeded rapidly. In order to have room for the field the course of the stream which runs through the northeast corner of the field had to be changed. This necessitated excavating the grade north of the field. Tractors were used to plow up the hillside and the dirt was then hauled to the field, where it was spread out by squads of students.

Dinner Served at Noon.

During the morning long tables were carried out to the athletic field where dinner was to be served. The "feed" was prepared by the girls in the division of home economics. When a halt was called at noon the workers were served wiener sandwiches, pickles, pie, doughnuts and hot coffee or milk.

In the afternoon dirt was hauled to the present gridiron. It was plowed and graded into the well-known turtle-back type of football field. Next spring it will be seeded to bluegrass.

"Prexy" in Working Clothes.

Dressed in working clothes and seeming to enjoy to the full the busy scene about him, Dr. H. J. Waters, president of the college, said, "It is a fine sight. Never before was such enthusiasm shown at an educational institution in the country." With these few words, the "prexy" moved over to a part of the field to put a group of students to work who seemed to have nothing particular to do at the moment.

Athletic Coaches Happy.

Z. G. Clevenger, director of athletics, wore a big smile on his face yesterday morning. He saw the future gridiron of latest type on which the Aggie football eleven was to win games from Kansas, Nebraska and other Missouri valley teams.

"There was never before such a sight in the United States," was the comment he made. He seemed to be enthused over the spirit shown by the Aggie students.

Coach Adolph ("Germany") Schulz also was wearing a smile. He too, saw the future fields on which Aggie athletic teams were to win a place of recognition.

The deans of the divisions, W. M. Jardine, J. T. Willard and A. A. Potter, were at work the first thing. Department heads and professors were busy digging ditches, shoveling dirt or bossing squads.

A number of men of the city helped in the work. The city gave the college the use of its shovels and spades for the day.

TO CHANGE ENGINEERS COURSE.

R. A. Seaton, Chairman of Committee to Gather Information.

The revision of the engineering courses to the end that these courses be made among the leading in the country is the purpose of a committee consisting of Professors Seaton, Walters, Conrad, and Reid.

In order to obtain the best results thirty catalogs of the leading universities are being studied by the committee, and letters are being sent to the leading engineering educators.

With the consensus of information and opinions received in this manner, the committee hopes to outline courses which will reach the maximum of efficiency in producing engineers who are technically and practically trained.

COLLEGE STOCK WINS AT THE INTERNATIONAL

Shorthorns Take Championships and Reserve Championship—Team Took Fifth Place.

The stock being shown by K. S. A. C. at the International Stock show in Chicago is taking much more than its share of honors, as shown by information received as to prizes awarded to date.

First place was taken on 2-year-old steers, senior yearlings and junior yearlings, and also second place in the 2-year-old and senior yearling classes.

The Shorthorns took the championship and reserve championship, equivalent to first and second places.

The Galloways took three firsts, the 2-year-olds, yearlings and calves, and also the championship.

In the showing of steers by ages, irrespective of breeds, the college Shorthorns took the reserve championship of all 2-year-old steers. Their yearling Shorthorn took the reserve championship of all yearling steers. All the college Shorthorns are sired by Matchless Dale, now at the college.

The pure-bred Herefords took second place as a herd, and won two third places, and one fourth.

The grade Hereford herd took third place as a herd.

The K. S. A. C. stock judging team took fifth place in the International stock show at Chicago making 3749 points out of a possible 5000.

P. J. Englund ranked high man for the Aggie team and was followed in order by Reed Weimer, L. E. Howard, J. R. Neale, and B. M. Anderson. The Purdue University team won first place, Iowa State College second, Ohio State College third, Texas A. and M. fourth, and Missouri Agricultural college sixth.

MUSIC TEACHERS TO SALINA.

Five College Instructors are Attending the Annual Meeting.

Five instructors in the department of music are attending the Kansas State Music Teachers' association which is being held in Salina Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday this week.

Miss Patricia Abernathy played in concert Wednesday night. This afternoon Miss May Carley and Mr. Elton will sing. They will be accompanied by Miss Fanchon Easter. Professor A. E. Westbrook, head of the music department, is attending the meeting today.

R. G. Kloeffer, assistant professor of electrical engineering, is carrying on a very extensive investigation on the practicability of electrical heating and cooking devices.

TO HAVE FOUR GAMES IN CONFERENCE NEXT YEAR?

WILL TRY TO HAVE NEBRASKA HERE THANKSGIVING DAY.

Athletic Representatives Meet in Manhattan Today to Arrange Schedules—May Abolish College Baseball.

A Thanksgiving Day game with Nebraska, Ames, Drake or Washington will be the goal of the Aggie representatives in the conference of Missouri Valley athletic authorities being held at the Commercial club rooms today. The contract with Nebraska, calling for playing the games in Lincoln, has run out and the Aggie representatives, Dean W. M. Jardine and Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger, will make an attempt to have this game shifted from the first part of the schedule to some time in November, Thanksgiving Day, if possible, and to have next year's game played in Manhattan. Failing in securing Nebraska, the Aggies will ask a Thanksgiving date with some other conference eleven.

To Ask 50-50.

"With our success this year, we feel that we can ask 50-50 of the other conference members," states Dean Jardine. "Primarily, we are after a better schedule."

At least four games with Missouri valley eleven will probably be on the Aggie schedule for 1917. The Aggies have been handicapped in the past by playing the three best teams in the conference, Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas, and desires to schedule a game for next year with either Drake or Washington, both of which have had weak teams the past two years.

To Abolish Baseball?

The life or death of college baseball also may be decided at the conference. A sentiment has been growing in college circles against the spring pastime, but no action has been taken by the valley conference. The present arrangement is not opposed by the Aggies, who, however, will make no strong protest against abolishing the game, if the other schools do not favor baseball.

Still another matter that may be discussed is the proposition of allowing college freshman eleven to compete with other teams. Rules of the college governing boards prohibit such contests, but with a number of the schools favoring a change, it is probable that the yearlings may be allowed to play high school and minor college eleven.

QUILL ELECTS NEW MEMBERS.

Thirteen Submit Manuscripts For Membership in the Club.

The membership contest of the Beta chapter of the American College Quill club closed November 15, and of the thirteen candidates who submitted manuscripts, five were voted to membership in the bimonthly meeting which was held Monday evening, November 27.

Those who were elected to membership were Mary Baird, Kathryn E. Kayser, James B. Angle, Florence Jewell, and Mildred Robinson. The new members will be initiated at the next regular meeting which will be held Monday night, November 11.

The Quill club is an exclusive society of student and faculty writers. One may gain membership only through his literary ability. The limit placed on the membership is thirty, but no one has been refused membership on that account.

The next contest for membership starts immediately and does not end until April 15. Manuscript may be submitted at any time. Any college student is eligible to membership. Miss Ada Rice, assistant professor in English, is the chairman of the membership committee, and those desiring information may consult her.

DEBATE SQUAD MEETS.

The debate squad which is to meet the Emporia Normal will meet in A-60 this afternoon at 4:30 with Coach Burk to begin work. This debate will be held February 2, and it is imperative that all members of the squad be present at the first meeting.

FOOTBALL HONORS AWARDED.

Eighteen Aggie Gridiron Men Get Letters This Season.

Eighteen men of the 1916 Aggie gridiron squad were voted football honors at a meeting of the athletic board of the college this week. Those who received their "K" for the first time were L. Placke, Wells, Whedon, Gingers, Rhoda, Hunsled and Clark. Second-year men who were given sweaters were Randels, E. Placke, Dordrill, Harwood, Wilder, Slattery and Enlow.

The four men who played their last college football this year were presented with sweaters bearing three service stripes. They were Captain Barnes, Bayer, Wright and Skinner.

ORATIONS BY PACIFISTS PRACTICAL AND SENSIBLE

Peace Officers Will Battle in the Old Chapel Tomorrow Afternoon.

The notable feature of the orations written for the state peace oratorical contest this year, according to J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking, is that the orations for the most part are practical and sensible, lacking in the visionary theory that is so common in the orations of this nature.

"The peace orations are developing a more informal and direct character than is found in the old style of oratoricals," said Mr. Emerson.

The tryout for the peace contest within the college will be held Dec. 9. The state contest will be held at Wichita. The winner of the state contest will go to the interstate contest composed of orators from Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois. The interstate contest will be held somewhere within these five states, probably at Des Moines, Iowa.

The men trying out in the college for the peace contest are L. A. Zimmerman, winner of third place in the intersociety oratorical contest last year; James A. Hull, a debater against Emporia last year; Otto Githens, a newcomer who is showing promise of splendid development; Leo C. Moser, the winner of the intersociety oratorical contest last year; and L. R. Hlatt, who has produced an oration at the last moment which will considerably strengthen the competition. Arrangements have been made by the oratorical board to hold the contest in the old chapel at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon.

WILL EXHIBIT FINE APPLES.

To be One of the Features of Farmers' Week.

An apple exhibit, prepared by the horticulture department, will be one of the features of Farmers' Week, February 5 to 10. The apples will be displayed in room 30 in the horticultural building and they will be judged by the students who are taking advanced pomology. Ribbons will be awarded to the prize winning plates.

Apples growers all over the state have been invited to cooperate with the college in making this show a success. Twenty growers have responded to the invitation by sending in specimens and many others have promised to send theirs later. Transportation charges on all fruit for show purposes will be paid by the college. Packages should be addressed to State Agriculture college. The horticultural department, Kansas State Agricultural College, Manhattan, will be glad to receive fruit that is of show character.

ELECT RANDELS CAPTAIN OF 1917 FOOTBALL SQUAD

DECISION UNANIMOUS ON THE FIRST BALLOT

College and High School Football Players Given a Banquet at Harrison's Hall By Manhattan Business Men.

"Stiff" Randels, star left end of the 1916 Clevenger crew, was elected to lead the Aggie eleven next year, at a banquet given by 150 Manhattan business men to the championship teams of the college and the high school Wednesday evening at Harrison's. Randels' election was unanimous on the first ballot, the players having agreed that no other man would be nominated.

Randels responded to the honor with a short, witty speech of two words. He said, "Thank you."

Was a Peppy Affair.

The banquet, which was worked up during the past week, by three downtown business men, was one of the most successful "get together" affairs in the history of the college. The merchants and professional men mingled with the players of the two Manhattan eleven, players and business men alternating in seating arrangement at the long tables.

Short talks were made by Ed T. Hackney, and ex-Governor E. W. Hoch, members of the board of administration, President H. J. Waters, Dean W. M. Jardine, Coach Z. G. Clevenger, "Germany" Schultz, Captain Bert Barnes and Captain-elect "Stiff" Randels, of the college section, and by Superintendent E. B. Gift, Principal J. H. Sawtell, Coach M. D. Collins, Captain Alvin Jolley and Captain-elect Wilbur Knight, representing the high school.

Talks were also made by G. M. Hammond, Fred Frank and H. W. Brewer the "booster" committee who organized the banquet. C. M. Breese acted as toastmaster.

ATHLETIC CONFAB HERE TODAY.

Representatives and Coaches of the Schools in Missouri Valley Conference Will Be Here.

The fifth annual meeting of the presidents and governing boards of the institutions comprising the Missouri Valley conference will be held in the parlor of the Muehlebach hotel in Kansas City, Mo., Saturday, December 9. It is preceded by the regular semi-annual conference of the faculty representatives and coaches at the college today. The visitors will be guests at luncheon of the department of domestic science.

Dr. Henry J. Waters of the agricultural college as president of the conference will preside at the Kansas City meeting. Presidents and governing boards of the following institutions will be present: Drake university, Iowa State college, University of Kansas, Kansas State Agricultural college, University of Missouri, University of Nebraska, and Washington university.

Heads of institutions on the program are R. A. Parson, Iowa State college; A. Ross Hill, University of Missouri; F. A. Hall, Washington university; Frank Strong, University of Kansas; Samuel Avery, University of Nebraska; and Hill M. Bell, Drake university.

CO-EDS ARE EXTRAVAGANT.

She Spends More Than Her Brother in College.

Girl students at the University of Minnesota spend more money than male students. This was shown recently from figures compiled by the University. These show that the girls pay $118 a year for clothing, finery and the like, and only $24 a year for books. Men pay $62 a year for clothes, and $44 for books. Girls pay more for board and room. But for miscellaneous expenses and recreation the girls spend $50.

It costs $646 a year to produce a graduated dentist, while a chemist gets by for $369 and an agriculturalist shakes dad down for only an average of $441.

"STIFF" RANDELS
Captain-elect

HORT. DEPT. STUDIES PERSIMMON

Will Propagate the Variety That has Best Flavor.

The horticultural department of the Kansas State Agricultural college is making a study of persimmons with a view to propagating the variety of fruit that has the best flavor, the fewest seeds, and the best general appearance.

It is believed this fruit should become popular. Many persons consider it a delicacy just as picked from the trees, while others prefer it in the form of dried and cooked. The seeds of both native and Japanese varieties are dried and ground and used in southern countries as a substitute for coffee.

TO AID PRISONERS OF THE WARRING NATIONS

David R. Porter Tells Students of Terrible Conditions Existing in European Prison Camps.

More than nine million men have been killed, wounded or permanently disabled in the present European war according to David R. Porter, international Y. M. C. A. secretary, who addressed the students of the college Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Porter is chairman of the international Y. M. C. A. committee which is seeking to raise $150,000 to use for the relief of the men which are being held in the prison camps of the warring nations.

Canada has lost more men in the present conflict than were killed during the Crimean war. On the same basis that Canada has raised her army, the United States could raise an army of 8,000,000 men asserted Mr. Porter.

At the present time 43,000,000 men and boys have flocked to the colors in Europe. Of this number, 4,500,000 have been killed, 3,000,000 wounded, 1,500,000 permanently disabled; and 4000 men are being killed every day. In the city of Moscow alone there are 1,250,000 in military hospitals according to Mr. Porter.

It was stated that there are 5,800,000 men and boys herded in the prison camps of Europe at the present time—from 10,000 to 50,000 men in each camp. The prisoners are allowed to keep their suits and are sometimes given an extra suit and a blanket. In these camps the prisoners are given the following daily menu: breakfast, imitation coffee and sometimes bread; dinner, thick vegetable or bean soup with one slice of bread; supper, thin rancid oil soup and one slice of bread.

According to Mr. Porter, many of the prisoners go insane from the monotony of the prison camp and are facing a severe winter with scant clothing and vague prospects for a semblance of comfortable quarters. A canvass is being made of American colleges to raise a relief fund for these men. More than $600 has been subscribed by the students of this institution. Faculty subscriptions have not yet been reported.

Anyone wishing to contribute to this fund may leave their subscriptions at the Y. M. Y. W., or college business offices. Any such subscriptions will be sent direct to the international relief committee.

The Franklin literary society hiked to Wild Cat Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Burk were guests.

EIGHT ORGANIZATIONS TO PRESENT ORIGINAL STUNTS

SILVER LOVING CUP TO SOCIETY PRESENTING BEST STUNT.

Beauty and Originality Basis of Decision—"Tiny Tot" Appears Three Times—Other Features.

The eight best stunts selected from those offered by twenty-two organizations will be presented at the auditorium at eight o'clock this evening. Fun, frolic, beauty and originality will be the special features of the program offered by five sororities, two literary societies, and the faculty women, which will no doubt usher in Aggie Pop night as one of the big events of the college year.

A special feature between the acts is the African antics by a two hundred pound "tiny tot." A rare treat at the first of the program will be two or three numbers rendered by the Y. W. C. A. octette.

The strict secrecy which overshadows the exact nature of the several stunts make it impossible to conjecture just what each organization will present. Perhaps, the musical comedy of the evening will be furnished by Alpha Delta Pi sorority under the announced title of "The Bubble Chorus." "The Keys of the Kingdom," by the Browning literary society, it is conjectured, will show that grape juice is the penalty for stealing the keys to the kingdom of happiness.

Lots of Humor.

The humor of the southland will no doubt be furnished by the Chi Omega's in their "Minstrel Show," and the faculty women in "Faculty Frolic" will be given an opportunity to recall their college days.

The "Lilac Domino" by the Pi Phi's, the "Military Stunt" by Seaboard and Blade, and the "Factionless Follies of Fan Figures" by Kappa Kappa Gamma will perhaps be appreciated because of exceptional beauty in presentation.

And then there is "A course in American History" by the Tri Delta which baffles interpretation. "A Study in Black and White" by the Franklins will perhaps bring the antics of the Tiny Tot to a climax.

Have Three Judges.

The judges of the stunts are to be Mrs. Cora G. Lewis, member of the state board of administration; Mrs. McEachron, wife of the dean of Washburn college, and Professor Gibson, head of the public speaking department in Emporia Normal college. The judges will be instructed to judge upon the two points of beauty and originality in placing the stunts of the several organizations.

The society placing first will be awarded the silver loving cup offered by the advisory board of the Y. W. C. A.

FRAT BOYS TO POLICE COURT.

Were Asked to Explain a Peculiar Coincidence Last Night.

A remarkable coincidence caused four fraternity boys to be summoned to appear in police court at 7:30 o'clock last evening.

Last night the daughter of Henry Sachan, 910 Laramie street, was married. The guests were all assembled for the wedding supper when it was discovered that the freezer of pink and white brick ice cream, which had been left on the back porch, was missing. The police were notified.

Late Wednesday evening Bert Frost, one of the night policemen, was passing a fraternity house in the north-central part of town and noticed a bright light in the basement. He thought it unusual and approaching a window, saw several boys grouped about a table eating brick ice cream. The ice cream was pink and white.

The coincidence was so remarkable that the boys were asked to appear in police court last evening and explain where they got the ice cream.

The four men appeared in the police court according to their appointment and were fined five dollars each in addition to pay for the ice cream.

Pender Estes, a student in the school of agriculture, has withdrawn from school.

YE GODS! CAN YOU BLAME HIM?

"Most any man can be an editor," says the knocker, and a college professor, who evidently had the same thought in kind, recently added that "most editors took themselves too seriously."

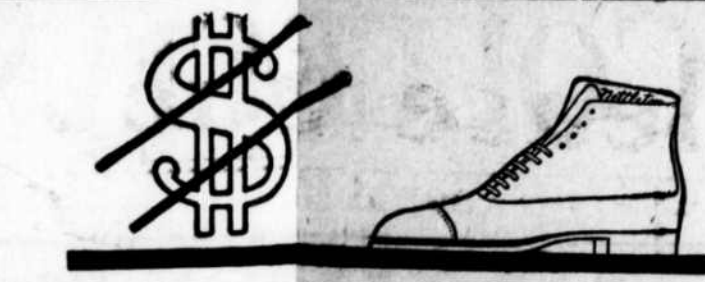

All an editor has to do is to sit at a desk six days and nights a week "edit" such stuff as this:

"Mrs. Jones, of Cactus Creek, let a can-opener slip last week and cut herself in the pantry." "A mischievous lad of Picketown threw a stone last week and cut Mr. Pike in the alley last Tuesday." "Joe Doe climbed on the roof of his house last week looking for a leak and fell, striking himself on the back porch." "While Harold Green was escorting Miss Violet Wise from the church social last Saturday night a savage dog attacked them and bit Mr. Green on the public square, which belonged to the drugist." "Isiah Trimmer of Running Creek was playing with a cat Friday night when it scratched him on the veranda." "Mr. Frang while harnessing a broncho last Saturday was kicked just south of his corn crib, which he recently finished."

Editing may look easy, but when one has waded through a year of this stuff, can you blame him for being morbid and self-conscious?

AN HONEST OBITUARY

Frank Weller was a unique character. An honest comment is difficult to make in a newspaper. We do not want to say an unkind thing about him. He put nothing into this world and got nothing out of it. His hoarded wealth brought him an early grave, and he could take none of it with him. He was honest as he saw honesty, obeyed the laws of the land when it cost him nothing, neighbored with no one, trusted no one, got all

Expressing Money in Terms of Shoes

When a man leaves this store with a purchase, he has in his possession the same value as he had when he entered our doors. The only difference is that the value is now expressed by shoes instead of dollar bills.

That is the standard of value rendered here. There is no such thing as obtaining greater value per dollar than this store offers.

No concern in all the world can make the same grades of shoes at less cost than they are made by the manufacturers who supply us.

No store can buy at less cost than we do. No store can give greater value per dollar than we do.

he could, and kept all he got. His uppermost philosophy of life was a false one—that is, that a man with money in his pocket must of necessity have friends and happiness. He contracted no debts, gave nothing to charity or public enterprise, knew nothing about the high cost of living, traveled none, read little, never spent a cent "foolishly", never drank or gambled. Many a lad of ten has seen more of life worth living than he. He belonged to no societies, fraternal or religious. He enjoyed in making bargains in buying and selling. He was sober, industrious, independent, a stickler for the last pound of flesh allowed by the law. He has passed to his reward.

"VERY GOOD EDDIE" COMING.

Popular Musical Comedy Will Play at the Marshall December 15. "Very Good Eddie," the Princess theatre, New York, New York success of the past year, will be brought to the Marshall theatre for one performance, on Friday evening, December 15th, with an important cast, headed by Burford Hampden, Dave Ferguson, Jack Squires, Madison Smith, Jules Epailly, Vallie Martin, Lottie Brunelle, Loretta Marks and Georgia Harvey. It promises to bring to musical comedy lovers something unique, inasmuch as a well-connected story is told during the action, that of two bridal couples who become confused on the day of their wedding trip and the boat on which they are to depart pulls away from the dock carrying an odd husband and an odd wife. Matters are further complicated when several friends of the parties on board the boat insist on mistaking the two for husband and wife. Matters are further complicated when the two leave the boat at the Rip Van Winkle Inn and attempt to stay there for the night. Again the hotel clerk insists that they are husband and wife. Philip Bartholomae has told a delightful story and Jerome Kern has written much catchy and pretty music.

Mary Miles Minter in "Youth's Endearing Charms."

This photoplay gives Miss Minter a chance to appear as her own girlish self, sweet, unspoiled and pretty and the beautiful exteriors taken in the Santa Ynez Valley are startling with their uniqueness. "Zippy" a little tramp dog shares honors with the star. At the Marshall theatre this afternoon and tonight.

Green Quality SHOES

Some one remarked recently that "There are no old women any more." This is true largely because of beautiful shoes and youthful dresses. Our patrons refuse to "look old," "act old" or "walk old." Their shoes are beautiful and yet comfortable. We have the art of blending the two.

In Society

Hokersmith-Bushey.

Miss Helen M. Hokersmith of Manhattan was united in marriage to Glenn A. Bushey of Salt Lake City last week at the home of Mrs. Richard D. Edwards, 624 City avenue. The ring service was read by the Reverend George E. Davis and after the ceremony a few friends were entertained at a wedding dinner given at the Newhouse hotel. The bride wore a white, tailored suit with a corsage bouquet and violets and pink roses.

The bride is a graduate of K. S. A. C. in the class of 1914. Since graduation, she has been engaged in teaching. She met Mr. Bushey at Hays, Kan., where she was assistant professor of home economics in the Hays Normal school. She is an accomplished musician. Mr. Bushey is also a graduate of K. S. A. C. having completed a course in electrical engineering. Mr. and Mrs. Bushey will be at home to their friends after December 15 at 624 City Avenue.

Sigma Phi Delta.

Mr. C. A. Carter and wife of Garden City, visited at the Sigma Phi Delta house last week end.

The fraternity announces the pledging of Dr. Bonner of the college veterinary department.

A. J. Walker and C. D. Thomas motored to Frankfort and Sedalia last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wise returned to Wichita Tuesday after visiting with their son, H. & Wise, at the Sigma Phi Delta house.

Dr. E. C. Elder of the college veterinary department, was a dinner guest at the Sigma Phi Delta house Tuesday night.

Acacia.

The Kansas State chapter of the Acacia fraternity will give a formal dance in Harrison's hall Saturday evening, December 9, to celebrate their third anniversary. One hundred and fifty invitations have been issued and many out of town guests are expected including: Miss Hester Hutchinson, Wichita; Miss Edna Klein, Iola; Miss Ferol Stratton, Winfield; Miss Neva Anderson, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Grindell, Topeka; W. R. Bolen, LeRoy; H. H. Giles, Burdette; H. W. Rohrer, Abilene; and the following men from Lawrence, Smith, Shutt, Miller, Skourup, Schuner, and Bay-singer.

Astex.

Reed Welmer and Louis Howard returned yesterday from an extended trip through the east with the stock judging team.

Mrs. Keith, 1081 Humboldt street, entertained twelve couples at cards last Thursday evening in honor of her brothers, Frank and Walter Blackledge. After a very pleasant evening a delicious lunch was served.

Last Friday evening the Astex house was the scene of a very attractive appointed dinner dance. The color scheme of yellow and white was used in the menu and decorations. About 15 couples were in attendance.

Pi Kappa Alpha.

Mr. Elmer Bates spent the week end at his home in Perry.

Glenn Lee and Carl Libby spent the week end at their homes in Glen Elder.

Daniel Kemper and Everett Oxley spent the week end in Topeka.

Lee Randles spent the week end in Lincoln, Nebr.

Ray Gunn, M. Bressler and Wilbur Lane spent the week end in Kansas City.

Sherman Bell spent the week end in Perry.

Sigma Nu.

The Sigma Nu fraternity announces the pledging of Walter Carey, of Hutchinson, a freshman in the division of engineering.

Mr. Rex Maupin, of St. Joseph, Mo. is spending this week end visiting at the Sigma Nu house. He is planning on entering college winter term.

Lawrence Woods is suffering from an attack of ophthalmia electrica, and it is hoped that he will recover in a few days.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

"Chief" Hauke who will be remembered as one of the K. S. A. C. football stars of year before last has won his football insignia at Cornell university. Mr. Hauke was one of the enthusiastic members of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Charles Nichols, a sophomore, is visiting in Clay Center.

Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Ethel Loring of the physical training department, was a dinner guest at the Pi Phi house Tuesday evening.

Miss Lillian Guthrie will spend the week end in Topeka and Lawrence.

Chi Omega.

Next Saturday the chi Omegas will entertain informally for the Sigma Nu and the Sigma Phi Delta fraternities.

Sigma Kappa Tau.

Sigma Kappa Tau announces the pledging of Perry Stinson and H. P. Garver, of Abilene, Kan.

Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Miss Edna Klein of Iola will spend the week end at the Kappa house.

E. S. A. C. Engineers in Demand.

The demand for graduates from the engineering division of K. S. A. C. seems to be on the increase. The large manufacturing companies of the east and the manufacturing interests of Kansas are looking for technically trained engineers.

The college is unable to fill but a small proportion of the demands for men that are received.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

VOLUME 23. NUMBER 24.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1916.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

LEO C. MOSER WINS IN THE PEACE ORATORICAL

TAKES FIRST BY UNANIMOUS VOTE OF THE JUDGES.

Will Represent the College in the State Peace Contest—Otto Githens Takes Second, L. A. Zimmerman, Third.

In the State Peace Oratorical tryout held in the old chapel Saturday afternoon, which was featured by quality orations and effective delivery, Leo C. Moser, senior in journalism, with an oration entitled "Economic Necessity—A Cause for War?" won first decision from the seven judges on general effectiveness of presentation.

The five men who entered the contest were L. A. Zimmerman, James A. Hull, L. R. Hiatt, Otto Githens, and Leo C. Moser. Otto Githens won second place and L. A. Zimmerman third.

Mr. Moser won the inter-society oratorical contest last year with an oration of an economic nature entitled "Our Real Foreign Enemy" in which he spoke of the economic reorganization after the present war, and made a plea for the continued domestic happiness throughout America which was to be accomplished in large part by protecting America's greatest product, now unprotected,—the American laboring man—against the increasing numbers of southeastern European immigrants.

Has a Strong Oration

The oration which Mr. Moser delivered Saturday afternoon displayed excellent thought and composition and was delivered in splendid natural style. The fact that he was given first place by each of the judges is exceptional and is a rare incident in an oratorical contest, according to Dr. J. G. Emerson, oratorical coach.

LEO C. MOSER

"I have known Mr. Moser for some time and have had him in several of my classes," said J. E. Kammeyer, professor of economics. "He has shown such improvement in thought and composition that we can with confidence, especially considering his excellent delivery, put him against any other college representative in the state peace contest."

Until recently, Mr. Moser was associate editor of the Kansas State Collegian, but in accordance with the faculty ruling, he tendered his resignation when he was elected president of the students council.

War a Business.

That war was, in a large sense a business, promoted by unscrupulous entrepreneurs, was clearly and forcibly pointed out by James A. Hull, in his oration "The Business of War." The danger of the United States becoming involved in war in the same way that Europe is involved, due to the paid criers of jingoism was indeed a fine piece of sound argument. Mr. Hull's low placing was not due to thought and composition but because of lack of time in preparation of his delivery.

A plea for the power to declare war to be placed in the hands of the people was made by L. A. Zimmerman, who won third place, in his oration "Playthings or Men." The power to declare war should be left to the majority vote of the people who have to fight the wars, except in the case of an invasion when the constitution gives the president power to declare war without the action of congress was the opinion of Mr. Zimmerman.

Wants Complete Preparedness. "Preparedness" by L. R. Hiatt made a plea for complete preparedness. That industrial and educational preparedness as well as military and naval preparedness was shown, in connection with the fact that since a nation always follows its ideals, that the proper ideals could be taught through the tribunals, schools, and churches of the nation. Mr. Hiatt prepared his oration during Thanksgiving vacation and lacked time to prepare delivery.

"Bernhardt or Christ" was the title of the strong oration of Otto Githens. Mr. Githens contrasted the theory of enforced war which is being practiced by the warring nations of Europe today and the theory of Christ, which is the theory of righteousness. The theory of Christ, explained Mr. Githens, does not uphold the theory of peace at any price but upholds only the righteous war.

The judges chosen by the oratorical board to judge the tryouts were: Dr. J. M. McClelland, Judge E. R. Smith, Prof. W. H. Andrews, Rev. Lewis Jackson, Don L. Burk, debate coach, and attorneys C. B. Daughters and Clamner.

EACH HOUSEWIFE WASTES $800 A YEAR—GILMAN

More Than Fifteen Billion Dollars Worth of Food Wasted in U. S. Each Year.

The enormous sum of fifteen billion dollars is wasted in the United States each year because food is prepared in the home kitchen. This was the assertion of Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman of New York, author, lecturer, and sociologist, who spoke Tuesday before the home economic division of the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"This computation was made by experts and was based on the census of 1910," said the speaker. "The annual waste in each household is $800—and we call the present system domestic economy."

More than half the present expenses of the household could be saved by having the food prepared in trade kitchens and delivered to the homes as is now done in the case of bread. There would be the saving of equipment, the saving that comes from buying in large quantities, the wages of the relieved housewives who would be enabled to find other employment, as well as improved health on the part of many.

"It is absurd to suppose that every woman should become a cook as that every boy should learn music. Suppose every boy were compelled to learn music and to learn it from his father, learning a few new tunes from his uncles, or when he goes visiting. Suppose that after marriage he were compelled to practice his music three times a day. How much music would there be in the world? Marriage and motherhood are entirely separate from housework, which is a business in itself."

DEAN POTTER IS HONORED.

Holds Secretaryship of Strong National Organizations.

A. A. Potter, dean of engineering in the Kansas State Agricultural college, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Land Grant College Engineering association and secretary of the engineering section of the American Association of Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations.

Dean Potter has returned from the east, where he attended meetings of these organizations and visited also manufacturers who are employing former students of the division. He found that the engineering graduates of the college stood exceedingly high, a foreman for the Westinghouse Machine company stating that two of the college men were the best whom he had ever had in his work.

Engineers Seminar a Success.

The weekly seminars held in the engineering division, in which attendance of all engineering students is compulsory, seems to meet with great favor among the students and will be continued the winter term.

The members of the engineering faculty are now working on a plan by which the engineering students may be more carefully guided during their first three years in college.

M. F. Ahern, professor of landscape gardening, will go to Des Moines, Iowa, Wednesday, December 13, where he will be one of the officials judges at the Student's Interstate Pomological contest. The Missouri Iowa and Nebraska agricultural colleges will be represented by student judging teams.

HAVE TENTATIVE SCHEDULE WITH FIVE VALLEY TEAMS

THE AGGIES MAY PLAY SOONERS THANKSGIVING DAY.

Twelve Valley Basketball Games Scheduled—The Six Needed to Complete the List Will Be Arranged For By the End of the Week.

A tentative 1917 Aggie football schedule embracing home games with Kansas, Nebraska, Drake, and Oklahoma, and games with Missouri and Ames away from home, has been skeletonized by Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger, after fighting all day Friday with other valley coaches for recognition of the Aggies in the semi-annual conference of Missouri valley coaches and faculty members, held here December 8.

Despite the brilliant showing of the Clevenger eleven this year, none of the other schedule makers seemed willing to concede the Aggies a late date on his schedule. Nebraska gave Coach Clevenger the choice of a few October dates, but was unwilling to even consider a game in November. Missouri scheduled a game with Nebraska on the date usually taken by the Aggies, thus forcing the Purple eleven to meet the Tigers at an earlier date. An attempt to get the game with Kansas shifted to later in the season likewise met with opposition from the Jayhawk authorities.

Failing to come to terms with the Cornhuskers, Clevenger opened negotiations with Ames, Drake, and Washington, and at least two of these eleven will be seen in action against the Wildcat aggregation. Ames will in all probability be played at Ames, but should games with either Drake or Washington be scheduled, the team will come to Manhattan.

Play Cornhuskers Oct. 27

There is yet a chance of an Aggie-Cornhusker fray, as Manager Guy E. Reed is holding October 27 open if Clevenger chooses to accept. The Manhattan man's acceptance will probably specify that the game be played in Manhattan, as a two-year contract providing for playing alternately in Manhattan and Lincoln, is the only proposition that will meet with Clevenger's approval.

Thanksgiving day will not see the Aggies in action unless a favorable reply is received from Benny Owen of Oklahoma, whom Clevenger has queried concerning the possibilities of a Turkey Day battle. None of the valley teams would break off from their annual games on that date, and Clevenger chooses to wind up the season on the Saturday preceding the holiday, rather than meet a minor team in the last game of the season.

Twelve Missouri valley games have already been scheduled for the basketball season, and the six games to complete the list will be arranged for by the end of the week. Washburn has been promised two games on the Purple schedule, and the Normal quiet will be met here, leaving three games yet to be scheduled.

The Schedules:

Baseball.
Missouri at Manhattan, April 9, 10.
Nebraska at Manhattan, April 27, 28.

Kansas at Manhattan, June 1, 2.
Missouri at Columbia, May 2, 3.
Nebraska at Lincoln, May 16, 17.
Kansas at Lawrence, May 25, 24.

Basketball.
Kansas at Manhattan, Jan. 23, 24.
Kansas at Lawrence, Feb. 2, 3.
Washington at Manhattan, Feb. 9, 10.

Nebraska at Manhattan, Feb. 14, 15.
Missouri at Columbia, Mar. 2, 3.
The conference field meet will be held at Ames, Ia., May 26. The Aggie-Kansas duel track meet will be held at Lawrence May 4.

COMPANY G TAKES TOURNAMENT.

Wins Cadet Basketball Trophy for Second Consecutive Time.

For the second consecutive year, Company "G" is winner of the cadet basketball tournament. The "G" quintet won the finals of the series Wednesday by noosing out Company "C" in a close 36 to 35 contest. The game was a tie at the end of the second half, but in the five minute play off, Company "G" forged ahead.

By winning the annual series, Company "G" now possesses two legs of the three-year cup offered to winners of the tournament.

RANDELS AND WELLS ON FIRST VALLEY ELEVEN

BAYER LANDS A PLACE ON THE SECOND TEAM.

Placek and Skinner Given Positions On the Third Eleven—Teams Will Be Placed In Official Football Guide.

Captain-elect Randels and Wells won positions on the first team, Bayer placed on the second team and Placek and Skinner were placed on the third team of the official Missouri valley eleven chosen Sunday by officials and coaches of the valley. The selections were announced in the Kansas City Star, and are the teams which will be honored with being placed in the official football guide.

Concerning Randels, the Star states: "The valley eleven boasted of more fine end players than for several seasons. Packer, the Ames hurdler, a powerful fellow with winged heels, was almost a unanimous choice Randels, Kansas Aggie captain-elect, drew the other wing job. Randels, not especially strong on the defense, was one of the valley wonders on the offensive. He was a big factor in the Aggie scoring this season."

Wells receives a big boost at the hands of the Star sport paragrapher. The article says: "Wells, Kansas Aggie, won the fullback position in a romp. This player played steadily and at times brilliantly for the Manhattan eleven all season. The naming of two Aggies on the first valley eleven is a thing without precedent, yet merely another proof of the 'lift' of the Manhattan team into the valley conference clouds."

The Conference Selections.

First Team.

LEVINE IS MAKING GOOD.

A Letter to Professor Roberts Tells of His Success.

Word has been received by Professor H. P. Roberts of the botany department, that C. O. Levine, '14, who is the K. S. A. C. representative in the Canton Christian college, China, is making a pronounced success of his agricultural work in the Chinese institution.

In a letter to Mr. Roberts, G. Weidman Groff of the agricultural department of Canton college says in part: "Mr. Levine comes to us at an opportune time. We are in position to expand with the development of our dairy. It is needless to say that there is a place in Canton for good wholesome milk. Mr. Levine, after what he saw in the Philippines, believes we should depend very largely upon the buffalo cow. Mr. Levine is already so much in things that I am afraid we are inclined to think of him as one who has been here for years."

"Be sure to express at your first opportunity our—and I speak for the whole college, faculty and students—appreciation of Mr. Levine's life here."

Mr. Levine was sent to China last year as an agricultural instructor in the Chinese school. His representation of K. S. A. C. in the Orient was made possible by subscriptions given by students and faculty members. Professor Roberts was chairman of the faculty committee which promoted the proposition.

H. W. Davis, associate professor of the English language, was in Topeka Saturday on business.

WOOD LOSES HIS EYESIGHT.

Optic Nerve Paralyzed By Brilliant Sun Rays.

A sudden call from one of his fraternity brothers was perhaps the cause of L. E. Wood, sophomore in agronomy, losing his eyesight last Tuesday.

He was walking along slowly approaching the Sigma Nu chapter house at 1031 Leavenworth street, about 10:30 in the morning, when one of his fraternity brothers called to him from an upper window, causing him to jerk his head up suddenly, so that his eyes met the brilliant rays of the sun which was just appearing over the top of the house, striking him blind.

He was taken to his home in Newton Sunday noon. Physicians here who attended him declare that the sudden strain on the optic nerve caused a paralysis that may become permanent. He asserted that he was able to distinguish light from dark when he left for home.

GATHER CROP ESTIMATES THROUGH CORRESPONDENTS

More Than 32,000 Reporters Are Employed In This Work According to Professor Fitz.

That the statistical estimates of crops given out by the crop reporting board of the United States department of agriculture are fairly indicative of the matured crop and do not allow undue advantage to speculators was explained by L. A. Fitz, professor of milling industry, who addressed the student assembly Wednesday morning.

Reports are obtained through 32,000 voluntary township reporters and by special investigators who supplement the work of these men. In addition to these, special mailing lists bring like information from mills, elevators, and other authorities who are informed upon general crop conditions. Altogether, the board received a correspondence involving some 150,000 letters.

This mass of information and material is kept carefully locked and even the secretaries of the board members are not trusted with information. Every possible means is taken to prevent individuals from getting advance information which may give them undue advantage in speculation.

During the session of the board, every precaution of secrecy is taken. Doors are locked, phones are disconnected, and no member may leave the assembly room.

When the report is finished and the crop estimate ready to be given to the public, copies of the report are prepared and placed upside down on a long table. The press representatives of large dailies and press associations who have been waiting are then allowed to come into the room place their hand upon a copy of the report, and await the release signal. Within five seconds after the release signal, every reporter has disappeared from the room, every nearby telephone is in use and within a very short time, the press associations are sending the report broadcast throughout the country.

Some interesting statistics are that the United States produces 727,000,000 bushels of wheat, of which we export 18 per cent, 12.5 per cent going to Germany.

Our country also produces 75 per cent of the world's production of 2,750,000,000 bushels of corn, the major portion of our export going to Germany and England. Kansas produces 4 per cent of the world's supply of corn.

POP NIGHT WAS BIG SUCCESS.

Loving Cup Was Awarded to the Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority.

Aggie "pop" night, held at the college auditorium Friday night under the direction of the Y. W. C. A., was a big success. A large crowd of students and residents of the city enjoyed the stunts which were staged by nine organizations of the college.

The silver loving cup offered by the advisory board of the Y. W. C. A. was won by the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. The girls of this organization presented a stunt entitled "Fictitious Figures of Fan Figures." The judges were Mrs. Cora G. Lewis of the board of administration, Mrs. McEachron, wife of the dean of Washburn college, and Professor Gibson, head of the public speaking department of the Emporia Normal school. They were instructed to judge the merits of the stunts on two points, beauty and originality.

PURPLE MASQUE LOOKING FOR THE MAN FROM HOME

PLAY TO BE PRODUCED DURING MUSIC FESTIVAL WEEK.

Seek a William Hodge For the Title Role In Booth Tarkington's Famous Play—Much Good Material in Evidence.

The public speaking department is looking for The Man From Home. When it finds him, it will give him the distinction of carrying the title role in Booth Tarkington's famous play of that name.

The play is wonderfully refreshing from start to finish. It is full of keenly humorous situations and gives an opportunity for real character work on the part of the actors, according to Dr. J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking.

Wants The Man From Home.

"Now, what we want most of all," says Professor Emerson, "is 'The Man From Home.' I am sure that there must be a William Hodge lurking somewhere in this large student body—tall, lanky, kindly, shrewd, whole-souled, and fearless and with an Indiana drawl. The man who can fill this order has a rare opportunity before him because this play is to be given as a part of the musical festival week in March when many of our town visitors will be in attendance."

"We have several promising applicants for the role. But we want more. We should like to have every man in school with qualifications along dramatic lines to make himself available for the part. The Man From Home was a great character as Hodge portrayed it. There is a chance for some one in our school to approximate that achievement next March."

A Great Play.

"The Man From Home" is one of the great plays that has appeared on the American stage—great, at any rate, if it may be judged by its tremendous popularity with American audiences. The appeal it makes is wonderfully wholesome and American. It has a love story which is beautiful but not overdone. It portrays in Tarkington's inimitable style a character which in fiction at least we have come to recognize as the Indiana type."

AZTEX LEAD IN TOURNAMENT.

Game Tonight Will Probably Decide the Race.

The Sigma Nus trimmed the Beta basketball five in a one-sided 56 to 6 contest Tuesday night and the Acacia nosed out the Sig Alphas in a 29 to 18 battle the same evening. Thursday night the Pi Kaps and the Sigma Nus battled to a 13 to 13 tie at the end of the game. In the play off, goals by Wright and Fullington enabled the Sigma Nus to win 17 to 14. The Sigma Alphas forfeited their game to the Aztex, 2 to 0.

Tonight the Aztex and Pi Kaps meet in a game which will probably decide the race, as a victory for Aztex will practically win them the cup, while a victory for the Pi Kaps will throw the Aztex, Sigma Nus and the Pi Kaps in a triple tie for first place. The Sigma Nus and the Acacia also play tonight.

Thursday night the Sig Alphas meet the Betas.

Standing of the Teams.

AGGIE SPIRIT.

That there is nothing the matter with the Aggie spirit could not have been better exemplified than it was Thursday, December 7, when 1200 boys, 600 girls, 200 members of the faculty and numerous friends came out to the athletic field to lend a hand or a heart-ful of good wishes to the work that was in orderly and expeditious progress.

That there was easily $1,500 worth of work done was obvious. Long ditches were dug in a trice, thanks to the many hands. Light work also was made of the tile laying, filling in and grading. Work on the new baseball field went rapidly and the small stream that meanders happily over the athletic preserves was diverted to another, we hope, no less joyous course in almost as short a time than it takes to tell it.

Hard work? Yes, but that subtle something that we like to call Aggie Spirit—with capital letters please—was so militant that even blisters and aching muscles could not prevail against it. Girls, too were not to be out done and from early morning when the doughnut kettles began to sizzle and the waffles to fatten in the pans on to the afternoon when the faithful squad reported to the cafeteria for dishwashing duty, the girls were not found wanting.

"Hail thee blithe Spirit!" Was it of the Aggies that Shelley was writing?

To Our Heroes Who've Fought Their Last Battle.

Here's to our faithful Warriors,
To our heroes who've fought their last game.
And whose names will stand forever,
In the thick of every fray;

"Rasty", faithful man at center,
In the Aggie Hall of Fame,
Full of fight and grit and courage,
And a love for honest play.

Skinner, speedy, charging end,
A man who'll be hard to replace;
A nifty fighter from head to foot,
A player men dread to face.

Bayer, man of faith and courage,
When smashing drives hit hard;
Crouched and held like a wall of stone,
Our faithful old left guard.

Last but not least, our captain,
Fames of the team that won
Fame that will last forever,
"Well done, Old Man, Well Done!"

Here's to that faithful quartet,
Barnes and Bayer, Skinner and Wright,
Who on the field knew but one word,
And that was "Aggies Fight!"

For us you've fought your last battle
In your togs for the last time have stood;

Now you go to fight Life's Battles,
And we know that you'll make good.

KILLED AS CAR OVERTURNS.

Two of Dr. Walter's Sons in a Fatal Auto Accident.

Fred Walters, city engineer of Manhattan, was instantly killed and his brother, E. J. ("Dutch") Walters was seriously injured when the car which the men were driving struck a rut and was overturned near Morganville, 44 miles northwest of Manhattan last Sunday morning.

A man who witnessed the accident ran immediately to the scene and when he reached the men Fred Walters was dead. The other man "Dutch" Walters seemed to be in great pain but was able to tell the man to notify Ralph Howell in Morganville.

Dr. Stillman of Morganville was called to the accident. Fred Walters was taken to Morganville and Dutch Walters was brought to Manhattan where he was rushed to a local hospital. It was found that Dutch Walters' back was broken and his back was placed in a plaster cast. Dr. Stillman said that Fred Walters had died instantly, his skull being fractured when he struck the ground. His body was brought to Manhattan Sunday night by George Southern, undertaker.

Both the men in the wreck were sons of Dr. J. D. Walters, 808 North Eleventh. The men were taking a car formerly owned by Dr. Walters to their brother, Don Walters, of Morganville.

The funeral of Fred Walters will be held at his home at 508 Blumont avenue, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Charlie Chaplin in "The Count."

Is the attraction at the Marshall theatre this afternoon and tonight. This is Charlie's most recent riot of fun and he comes back with his famous make-up, shoes, hat, cane and all, and from the time he starts to reassure the new customer to the ladies' tailor shop until the close of the picture you will be too absorbed being amused to think of anything else. Besides Charlie Chaplin the Marshall will show Tyrone Power and Lois Weber in "The Eve of God." This is a story of the lust of gold and the things it will buy. A wonderful picture.

HANDEL'S MESSIAH TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

COACHES ENTHUSIASTIC OVER 1917 PROSPECTS

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR THE AGGIE FOOTBALL SEASON.

Only Four Old Men Complete Work
This Year—Backfield Will Be Made Up of Veterans.

"Couldn't be better."—Z. G. Clevenger, head coach, Kansas State Agricultural College.

"Fine."—Adolph ("Germany") Schulz, assistant coach.

Aggie football coaches are enthusiastic in speaking of the 1917 prospects. With only four old men completing their college work this year—Captain Barnes, Bayer, Wright and Skinner—and with star freshmen and second string material from which to pick, the coaches cannot help but feel encouraged.

Veterans in Back Field.

The backfield will be made up almost entirely of veterans. Husted, Wells and Clark probably will fill their old positions at half, full and quarter. L. Placek, this year's substitute halfback, and Yeoman and Miller of the freshman squad will compete for the other halfback position filled by Captain Barnes this season.

The strong line of this season will be weakened materially by the loss of Bayer, guard; Wright, center, and Skinner, end, all of whom were mentioned for positions on the all-veteran team this year. But with such freshmen as Gates, Fletcher and Dale to take the places of these men their loss will not weaken the team to any great extent. Other men, like Enlow, Gingery, Frankenhoff and Guilfoyle, will strengthen the team. Hamill, an end on the 1915 freshman squad, may fill Skinner's shoes as he is expected to re-enter school next fall. He is expected to make a good running mate for "Stiff" Randels, captain-elect, and probably the best end in the Missouri valley. It will take a good man to run the Aggie ends with that combination.

Familiar With System Now.

"The Aggie men are thoroughly familiar with the present coaching system and with one year's experience there should be no stopping the team next fall," said Coach Clevenger. "Hopes run high for a Missouri valley championship team."

Since Kansas has demonstrated the fact that Nebraska can be humbled, four Missouri valley conference teams—Missouri, Kansas, Ames and the Kansas Aggies—will fight for championship honors next year. Kansas will have a team composed mostly of old players. Missouri will lose five of her letter men, whose positions will be hard to fill. Ames, as usual, will put a strong eleven in the field.

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN INITIATES.

Thirty-One Men Become Members of Ag. Organization.

Thirty-one men were initiated as members of the Jayhawk Saddle and Sirloin club at a meeting which was held at the Y. M. C. A. building Monday evening. Following are the men who were initiated:

F. H. Gulick, George Bolz, J. E. Eggerman, Ralph Steffe, J. D. Chapman, H. C. Colglarke, Charles Nitcher, Lester Barnes, W. D. Denholm, F. R. Stone, N. Pierson, C. L. Reeves, W. W. Haston, George Titus, L. G. Borthwick, D. E. Curry, J. R. Neale, D. C. Waner, Jesse Manning, Ford Haggard, C. D. Bondurant, J. E. Har-rid, Joe Cool, R. Parsons, H. M. Burks, C. M. Wilhoit, S. W. Scott, Giles Sullivan, Fred Carr, H. I. Hollister, A. C. Hancock.

Edit

University Representative Here.

W. T. Glasco, president of the County Club union at Kansas university, was the guest of Leo C. Moser, senior in Journalism, Wednesday. The County Club union at the university is comparable to the Student council of K. S. A. C. and action in regard to the permanent income bill is being given publicity by this organization in that institution. Mr. Glasco's short trip was to formulate plans whereby the student body here would cooperate with the university in the state wide publicity campaign.

WANT WOMEN'S DORMITORIES.

Committee Will Consider the Housing of Co-eds.

Representatives of the Kansas Council of Women together with representatives of the alumni association of the Kansas State Agricultural college will hold a meeting in Manhattan today to consider plans for the better housing of the young women who attend the college.

The alumni committee which has been considering the proposition of dormitories for the women students at the college will make a report at this meeting and it is thought that a campaign for such buildings on the college campus will be started at the meeting today.

This movement is to be made in conjunction with the alumni of other colleges of the state and the Kansas Council of Women. It is expected that some action will be asked at the coming session of the state legislature.

PROF. SCHOENLEBER IS HONORED

Reelected President of Association of Veterinary Colleges.

Dr. F. S. Schoenleber, professor of veterinary medicine in the college, was reelected president of the Association of State and Provincial Veterinary Colleges at the meeting in Chicago. Dr. Schoenleber has been head of the organization for five years.

The association comprises veterinary institutions under state or other governmental control in the United States and Canada. At the recent meeting problems of standardizing the curriculum in veterinary medicine were taken up. The next meeting will be held in Kansas City next fall.

FRESHMEN TO HAVE NEW HEADGEAR THIS WINTER

Distinctive Stocking Caps Will be Worn—The Girls Will Wear Them, Too.

"Distinctive headgear will be worn by the freshmen during the winter term," says Frank Dale, president of the freshmen class. "I believe that there should be something to hold the class together and I know of nothing that will hold it together so well as distinctive headgear."

"We must have some way of knowing who is a freshman and who is not. The college has been criticised for the lack of college spirit. It is our aim to help correct this criticism and we believe that this is one way of doing it. The freshman section at the football games was always one of the best filled in the bleachers. Maybe we can arrange to have a yearly section at the basketball games this winter." These were some of the statements made by Mr. Dale.

The color of the caps will be strictly in accordance with the desires of the class. They will be stocking caps that will fit snugly over the head. The new caps will add to the comfort of the individual and yet will answer all requirements of distinctive headgear.

The girls will wear them as well as the boys. There will be no compulsory measure to induce the class members to wear them. It is thought that class patriotism and the desire to "be with the gang" will be sufficient to induce the members to procure a cap.

The caps will be ordered soon so as to be here immediately after the holidays. They will be handled by class members instead of by upperclassmen as formerly.

The class of '20 will be the first in the history of the institution to wear distinctive headgear during the winter term. Thus far they have been worn during the fall and spring terms to all field athletic events.

Ahearn Goes to Iowa.

Professor M. F. Ahearn of the department of horticulture, left for Des Moines, Iowa, Tuesday night and he will not return until the last of the week. Professor Ahearn is to act as a judge in a student's apple judging contest which is to be held between the student teams of Ames, Missouri, and Nebraska. Professor Ahearn will also deliver an address on "The Preparation and Care of Blue Grass Lawns," while he is in Des Moines.

Professor Charles A. Scott, Kansas State Forester, is making a tour of the southeastern part of the state this week.

Following Business Methods

Properly managed business enterprises set aside a definite sum for maintenance and upkeep, but the state educational institutions, charged with the important work of turning out the trained men of the state, are denied this foundational basis of sound finance. The primary principles of the needs of the schools must be hashed over and presented in an educational campaign to each succeeding legislature, when appropriations are asked for.

Hence, the agitation for a Permanent Income bill which will assure the schools of sufficient funds at least for maintenance and upkeep. That such a bill upon the statute books is needed should be reorganized by anyone who recognizes the just needs of our great educational institutions.

There is need for organized action on the part of the student bodies of the state schools, that is, Pittsburg, Hays, Normal, University, and the Agricultural college, to work for the Permanent Income bill which is to be considered in the next session of the state legislature.

When the bill was submitted two years ago it was defeated by seven votes because the legislature was not impressed with its importance. It should be the work of each individual student to impress his representative with the true importance of the bill to the state institutions during the coming holidays. Talk to the influential men in your community about it. A solid financial basis is fundamentally essential to the furtherance of education and the betterment of our schools in keeping with the increasing demands which are being made upon them.

Concerted action through the County Clubs union at the Kansas university has accomplished much and the Students council of our school will do what it can to bring the facts before the student body, but ultimately the work of the campaign depends upon each individual student.

Every student with interest for and an appreciation of the good which he has derived through the educational system of our state, will demonstrate his loyalty and willingness to cooperate by attending the general convocation for the consideration of this matter, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, when President Waters has consented to present and outline the proposed bill.

CHOOSE DEBATE SQUADS FOR SEASON'S CONTESTS

NEXT CONTEST WILL BE WITH EMPORIA NORMAL FEBRUARY 2.

The Girls Will Meet the Co-eds From Ottawa University February 9—
Six More Debates Will be Staged.

All of the college debaters have now been placed on the squad with which they are to work for this year's debates. A negative and an affirmative team will be chosen from each squad.

The men making the best showing in the squad work will make the teams.

The Ottawa squad, which is composed of girls, and which will debate the question of a one house state legislature on February 9, has already begun work.

The State Normal squad, composed of men, which debates the compulsory arbitration question on February 2, is now meeting. The affirmative team of this squad is being coached by Riley McGarraugh, who was captain of the Aggie affirmative team that debated Ames on this question. L. A. Dubbs, captain of the Aggie negative team that met Ames, is coaching the negative men of the squad.

The following women make up the Ottawa squad: Ethel Arnold, Margaret King, Frances Kneaster, Marie Johnson, Helen Mitchell, Fern Roderick, Blanche Sappenfeld, Louise Ziller, and Lola Sloop.

The State Normal squad is composed of Clyde Fisher, T. R. Pharr, Oscar Steanson, Ward Fetrow, C. W. Howard, Floyd Work, Geo. Gibbons, H. H. Nelson and Glen Case.

The Pantangular Squad.

The men on the pantangular squad, which will debate the College of Emporia, Baker, Ottawa, and Washburn on the minimum wage question, next spring are: L. R. Hiatt, Fred Carr, P. L. Findley, G. W. Bursch, A. F. Swanson, Calvin Medlin, W. A. Wunsch, and Floyd Hawkins.

On March 9, a women's debate will be held with Washburn. The girls on this squad are: Rose Baker, Lillian Buchheim, Lois Bellamy, Miss Logerstrom, Hazel Merrillat, Laura Mueller, Lucile Norwood, Mae Sweet, and Donna Faye Wilson. They debate the same question as is debated in the pantangular.

The question has not yet been selected for the women's debate with the Warrenburg Normal. This debate will occur in the spring. The members of the squad are: Eda Bradley, Vilona Cutler, Madge Thompson, Mary Dakin, Stella Gould, Jewell Sappenfeld, Gussie Johnson, Erba Kaul, Anna Neer and Nellie Wilkie.

Merle Converse, Eskridge, junior in animal husbandry; H. A. Moore, Manhattan, sophomore in agriculture; and Floyd Hawkins, Marysville, junior in Journalism; all of the college debaters, will go to Alma to judge a district dual high school debate to be held there Friday night.

MANY ARE TRYING FOR PLACES.

Aspirants For Parts in "The Man From Home."

Twenty-three men and fifteen women aspirants for parts in "The Man From Home" were present at the preliminary reading of the play which was held Wednesday evening in Kedzie hall.

"Much good material was in evidence," says J. H. Branham, student assistant in public speaking, who was in charge of the meeting, "and it looks as though we should be able to pick a very strong cast for the coming play."

Two or three complete casts will be chosen before the end of the term. These casts as chosen will work on the play for two weeks at the beginning of the winter term, after which time the cast will be nearly narrowed down to the final choice. Contestants will get their parts in hand during the holiday vacation period.

EMERSON ADDRESSES CUBS.

Tells of His Experience as An Editor. Men in college are too self-centered asserted Dr. J. G. Emerson, head of the public speaking department of the college, in addressing Journalism students Thursday morning. "We pay too little attention to the big things that are going on outside."

Doctor Emerson told of his experience as editor of the Iowa State College Student. He discussed at length many of the mistakes he made while in that position. He innovated many original ideas in his paper, and started campaigns some of which have brought lasting results at his alma mater.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE FOR 1917 NOT YET COMPLETE

Games With K. U. and Ames are Assured—Washington University a Likely Opponent.

Despite the efforts of Athletic Director Z. G. Clevenger to complete the football and basketball schedules, the lists of combats for the Aggie teams are not yet complete. The chances for a game with the Nebraska Cornhuskers next fall are no brighter than immediately after the conference and games with Drake and Missouri are still in the air. Nebraska continues to resist all attempts to secure a late date, holding October 27 as the only time a game with the Aggies can be arranged.

Two games, however, those with Ames and Kansas, are now definitely scheduled. Ames will be played at Ames, November 10 and Kansas will play here November 3. Washington university of St. Louis is now a likely opponent, as negotiations have been opened by Clevenger for a two-year contract. If the two schools agree, the game will probably be played November 17, in Manhattan.

Two basketball games with Washburn, one here, January 13, and one in Topeka, January 25, have been added to the schedule already published. The Emporia Normals will also be played in Manhattan February 11, making a total of nine home games and six games on foreign fields already on the Aggie lists. Three more games, with Kansas conference quintets, one of which may be St. Marys, will probably be scheduled within a week.

MANY WRITE ORATIONS FOR SOCIETY CONTESTS

THE SPEECHES ARE OF A HIGH QUALITY.

Society Members Aspire to Represent
Their Organizations in the Annual Intersociety Oratorical to be Held in February.

The standard of the orations which will be delivered at the seventeenth annual intersociety oratorical contest will be uniformly better than those given last year, according to J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking.

"The rankings are not apt to be so widely scattered on thought and composition," said Mr. Emerson, "that there will be little difference between the orators in this respect, and the contest will resolve itself into a fight on delivery. The orations were good last year but they will be better this year, from the standpoint of the quality of the orations delivered. That is not to say that the best orations this year will be better than the best oration last year, but all will be uniformly better."

"Most of the societies are manifesting much more interest in the oratorical contest this year than they did last year. One society has five people trying out and they are all good."

"Work on the orations was started earlier this year than last which gives the contestants time to work over their orations and put the finishing touches on them before the contest. This was something that was impossible last year because of the late start made by the contestants in preparing their orations."

The intersociety contest will likely be held during the second or third week of the winter term. The society tryouts are left to the decision of each individual society.

The representatives of the different societies who have written orations and who will compete within their societies are as follows:

Franklins; Ruth Huff, Marie Johnston, Roy Carr, Carl Howard. Hamiltons: R. J. Spurling, A. W. Griffith, A. W. Boyer, Floyd Hawkins. Athenians; James A. Hull, Floyd B. Kelly, W. H. Taylor.

Alpha Betas; Otto Githens, L. R. Hiatt, Will Wunch, R. H. Kidd. Brownings; Lois Bellomy, Rachel Clark.

Websters; W. J. Bruce, S. James, Ionians; Georgia McBroom, Hazel Merrillat, Hattie Droll. Eurodelphians; Stella Strain.

Elliott On Long Walk.

Bert R. Elliott, '87, who for nearly 20 years has been mining gold in Alaska, tramped 350 miles over snow and ice in November and early December to make connections that would bring him to Manhattan for Christmas. He will spend the holidays with his mother and with his brother, F. B. Elliott, '87. He was in Dawson City during the past summer, and walked from that place to White Horse to take the Alaskan railway to Seattle.

SEE YOURSELF IN THE MOVIES.

Athletic Field Day Pictures Shown at Marshall's Monday.

Moving pictures of the workers who labored on the college athletic field Thursday, December 7, will be shown at the Marshall theater next Monday, December 18.

The pictures were shown privately Tuesday afternoon to a faculty committee and representatives of the Collegian. The consensus of opinion was that the pictures were good. Students and faculty members were easily recognized; and the detail of the work which was being done were clearly shown.

Interspersed with the pictures showing the students at work are some "comedy" films showing the co-eds and faculty women "doing the heavy" along with the joys that went with the "cats."

Besides these pictures there will be movies of the college cadet corps, and lantern slides of "Prexy," "Mike" and his friends, and other notable characters on the hill.

AZTEX ARE FRAT CHAMPIONS.

Defeat Pi Kaps In Fast Game—Sigma Nus Down Acacias.

The Aztex clinched the fraternity basketball championship by trimming the Pi Kaps 25 to 4 Tuesday night. The game was fast all the way but the superior guarding of the Aztex enabled them to hold down the Pi Kap forwards, while Wenn and Knostman of the Aztex had little difficulty in evading the Pi Kap forwards for a goodly number of baskets. The Sigma Nus downed the Acacia in a fast 17 to 7 game.

OLD COLLEGE RELIC TO BE PLACED IN MUSEUM

Plan to Preserve a Measuring Wheel Designed in 1877 by Prof. J. D. Walters.

Plans are being made to have the old measuring wheel which was used by John A. Anderson, the first president of the college, placed in the museum as a relic of early days.

John A. Anderson was a minister who had served as chaplain in the civil war. After the war he moved to Junction City. About this time the legislature became dissatisfied over having an agricultural college without agricultural teaching. John A. Anderson was made president of the college and he added woodworking, drawing and agriculture to the purely classic courses which were taught at that time.

Mr. Anderson moved the college from its old site to the present location and began laying out the campus, but his measurements were often inaccurate because he had to step off the plots. In the spring of 1877 he asked Dr. J. D. Walters, who was then a young man, to invent some sort of self recording measuring instrument for him.

Dr. Walters designed the measuring wheel which now lies in the tower room of Anderson hall. The wheel was made by the students in the work shop. It is constructed of oak and has a hoop of copper around the rim 20 feet in circumference. The mechanism of the meter and dial, which is on the handle, is worked out neatly in brass and steel and is a credit to the makers; Ed and Will Ulrich and James Lynch.

Many of the sites for the present buildings were laid out by means of this measuring wheel and it was also used by Max Keen, a German landscape gardener of St. Louis, who in 1885 laid out the campus as it is today.

THE QUILL CLUB INITIATES.

Seven Become Members of the Writers Organization.

Seven persons were initiated as members of the Quill club at its regular meeting of the fall term, Monday night, December 11. Following are the initiates:

Misses Baird, Robinson, Kayser, and Jewell. Messrs Price Wheeler, James B. Angle, and Arthur W. Boyer.

College students who have the proper qualifications and who display literary ability are eligible as members of the club. The next membership contest will close sometime in May. Those wishing to submit manuscripts may leave them with Miss Ada Rice, chairman of the membership committee.

CHRISTMAS ORATORIO

IS THE GIFT OF THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

NO ADMISSION FEE WILL BE CHARGED.

ARE 300 TRAINED VOICES

Four Noted Soloists Will Sing—College Orchestra to Assist—Music is Under the Direction of Professor Wesbrook.

Handel's Messiah, the greatest oratorio ever written, will be rendered by 300 trained voices assisted by four first class soloists and orchestra, under the direction of Arthur E. Wesbrook, professor of voice and head of the department of music, in the college auditorium at 4 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, December 17.

Thomas E. Remington, celebrated baritone soloist of the Chicago Grand Opera company; Miss Faye Richards, soprano, teacher of music in the Manhattan public schools; Miss May Carley, contralto, voice teacher, K. S. A. C.; and Elton Calkins, tenor, voice teacher, K. S. A. C., will be the soloists. Prof. R. H. Brown, concert master, will be in charge of the orchestra, and Miss Patricia Abernathy at the piano.

Is Greatest Christmas Oratorio.

Handel's Messiah is recognized as the greatest Christmas oratorio. It is the most complete story of Christ in musical literature. Written by Handel in 24 days in 1741, its first performance in Dublin in the same year was given for the charitable relief of penal institutions.

Its presentation here under the direction of Professor Wesbrook promises to be a rare musical treat, an opportunity to hear one of the best productions under the direction of one of the best concert directors in the west. Professor Wesbrook has studied voice and conducting under Thomas N. MacBurney, Wallace Goodrich, Lemuel Kilby, Chas. H. Bennet, and Sidney Arno Dietrich. Since he became director of music at K. S. A. C. in 1915, he has enlarged the activities of that department many fold and has offered many free programs to the students and townspeople. The program which is to be offered next Sunday is the result of many weeks of hard work, careful training and coaching, and is not only featured by the greatness of the undertaking, but by the fact that it is offered free.

Admission Is Free.

The result of like efforts at many other institutions is attended by a fee of admission that is prohibitive to many who would like to attend. But Professor Wesbrook is "full of music" and he does not want anyone to miss a musical treat because of the lack of a sordid fifty cents or a dollar.

The K. S. A. C. Choral society of nearly 250 voices will be augmented by the Clay Center chorus of 50 voices and the Randolph chorus of 35 voices. Two special rehearsals with the orchestra were held on Monday and Thursday evenings of this week. The last rehearsal will be at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Remington will arrive Saturday afternoon from Chicago and will be the guest of Professor Wesbrook.

GEARHART HEADS ROAD SOCIETY

State Engineer Is Honored By Other National Associations.

W. S. Gearhart, state engineer, has been reelected president of the Mississippi Valley State Highway Departments association. The meeting of the society, over which Mr. Gearhart presided, was held in Chicago Saturday.

Mr. Gearhart attended also the annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials in St. Louis last week. He is a member of the finance committee of the association.

He was also at the meeting of the Northwestern Road congress. The program of this society contains an article on the Kansas highway department, illustrated with a picture of Mr. Gearhart.

THE SPIRIT OF AGE.

Today we live in an age that is constantly grasping, reaching for, and striving for new ideas, new opportunities and achievements. This quality of reaching forward is receiving a great deal of attention in our schools today.

It is the true student who is able to grasp things unaided that is spelling out his college work in the letters that mean success. This is the quality we are seeking to obtain and become master of.

Let us profit by the example of others who have achieved great things and look forward and not backward; do a kind act when the opportunity presents itself; be honest, sincere, straightforward and just. Surely the true student will endeavor to make his work exemplary of this word of action, for the student with initiative, and the energy and ambition to use it cannot fail.—Sunflower.

INSTALL NEW FORGES IN BLACKSMITH SHOP

Are Being Made by Students Taking Work in the Foundry—Also Make Anvils.

Twelve new forges and anvils are being added to the equipment of the blacksmith shop of the Agricultural college in order to have the proper facilities for the students who will take blacksmithing work during the winter term.

Last year the blacksmith shop was insufficiently equipped with anvils and ofrges to properly accommodate the students enrolled in the course during the winter term and it was imperative that the shop have a larger capacity for the coming winter.

The new forges are of an original and unique design, the body being modeled somewhat after the body of the old forges; the base of the new forges being a square support pan being cast in one piece. The base and hood of the new forges are different from the corresponding parts of the old forges; the base if the new forges being a square support which completely obscures the draft pipe from view, and a slide on which the ash pan slides under the grate. The hood is a non-leakable attachment that is tilted up enough so that it will not interfere with any operation the blacksmith wishes to execute. The old forges are supported by four legs and have adjustable hoods which are considerably in the way for some work, and besides they are wasteful of the draft.

All the new forges are being made the college foundry and thus the cost of the new equipment is considerably reduced.

The new anvils which are being made in the foundry are to go with the new forges and are composed of semi-cast steel which is compounded from scraps of steel and cast steel iron of the junk pile which hitherto has been good for nothing. It is planned that when an anvil becomes tattered to such an extent that it can not be used satisfactorily it will be thrown into the blast furnace and be remoulded. The cost of producing these anvils is less than 25 per cent of the cost of producing the regular anvils that are faced with tool steel.

The excavation necessary for laying the exhaust and blower pipe for the installation of the new forges is now being carried on in the blacksmith shop.

CADETS WEAR NEW BADGES.

Officers Wear Discs and Diamonds to Indicate Rank.

Because of a provision of the recent army bill prohibiting any but officers of the military forces of the United States, from wearing the insignia of rank of officers of the army, the cadet officers of the college are now wearing new badges of office.

Instead of the bars, oak leaves, and eagles which were formerly worn by the cadet officers, silver discs and diamonds are now used to indicate rank. The new insignia were designed by Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of the college cadet corps.

The discs and diamonds bear the American eagle with half furred wings. The second lieutenant wears one disc, the first lieutenant, two; the captain three. The major wears one silver diamond, bearing the figure of the American eagle with spread wings, the lieutenant colonel two of the diamonds and the colonel three.

"The law provides that for the violation of the provision which prohibits copying the regular army insignia a person shall be subject to a $300 fine," says Captain Mathews. "The non-commissioned officers wear the same chevrons as are worn in the regular forces as the clause of the act has been interpreted to allow this."

"FAIR AND WARMER."

That Is the Forecast For Manhattan "Fair and Warmer," the Avery Hopwood farce which was talked of in New York till it was famous all over the country, will be presented by Selwyn & Company at the Marshall theatre on Tuesday, December 19th with an excellent cast of farceurs.

This tale of merriment which taxed the vocabulary of every New York reviewer and every correspondent of the out-of-town press and which was hailed as the fount of the season's greatest gaiety, made such a prompt success at the Eltinge Theatre in New York last season, that before the end of its first three months. It was in demand from North, East, South and West, for many months before Selwyn & Company were able to place it on tour. Its reputation is that it has had few equals and no superiors. In all the history of the American theatre, Selwyn & Company send it here with an admirable cast.

Nobody Guesseed It.

"Very Good Eddie" Surprised Even the Producers With Its Great Success.

"Very Good Eddie," which is to be seen here at the Marshall theatre for one performance, on Friday evening, December 15, is one of those tantalizing riddles which set at naught all the best laid plans of mice and men and managerial geniuses. For how could ever such an astute pair of theatrical wisecracks as Miss Elizabeth Marbury and Mr. F. Ray Comstock possibly prognosticate that this dainty little musical play would be the great success of the past theatrical year in New York?

Not only did "Very Good Eddie" play to capacity audiences at the Princess theatre for over a year, but so greatly did the demand for seats increase that before the run was half over, the Marbury-Comstock company was no longer content with gauging the popularity of their production by the commonplace method of "counting up" each night. For what sport is there, forsooth, to be found in reading a tally sheet which might after might registered the identical same figures, and at the end of the sheet reading the same total—that total representing the utmost capacity of the house permitted under the current ordinances of the New York City Fire Department.

Girls, Why Shut Your Eyes When Being Kissed?

Why does a girl close her eyes when a fellow kisses her?

This seemingly unimportant question, asked by an eminent psychology scholar, suddenly has become the topic of the day in the East, and all because a reporter interviewed some suffragists, young wives and prominent girls known to be in love.

Such a difference of opinion was expressed that the subject captured first page in New York newspapers and interest in the topic is spreading as rapidly as a prairie fire across the country.

What the Women Say.

Here are the interviews that started the debate:

A suffragist was the first to express her opinion.

"I'm sure I have not the slightest idea," she said, "unless the girl is ashamed of being such a silly fool as to kiss the brute."

From the young wife came this: "She is thinking, 'Oh, Lord, how I have been cheated!'"

A young unmarried woman said this:

"If you have ever seen a male mug at close range—or ever looked in a mirror—you ought to understand why a girl shuts her eyes when a man kisses her."

Another said this:

"Perhaps for the same reason that men like to be blindfolded before they are shot, or have to face any other any other terrible ordeal."

Ah!.. She is intoxicated.

But one sweet young thing, made up loveliness alone, answered the question with melting eye and a rapt expression:

"Ah, it is because she is drugged, intoxicated by the sweetness and joy of it. She closes her eyes involuntarily to let the mystic thrills penetrate, dreamlike, thru her soul."

PHYSICAL TRAINING POPULAR.

Demand Is Growing for Teachers—Special Work Offered in Summer Schools.

There is a growing demand for physical training teachers and many who are teaching other subjects would take up this work if they knew more about it, asserted Miss Ethel M. Loring, of the department of physical education in the Kansas State Agricultural college. The college will offer a teachers' course in gymnastics during the summer school to inspire interest in this work.

The object of the course is to give the girls as much practical work and as broad a knowledge of the subject as possible in six weeks," says Miss Loring.

"We do not pretend that the girls will be qualified physical training teachers after taking the six weeks' course, but many are required to teach it and they should know something about it. If after getting started they decide that they like the work, they can follow up this course with a special training course or drop it if they find they are not fitted for it."

"Schools that do not have physical training need teachers who are interested in this kind of work and realize the good of it."

ENGINEERING SHORT COURSE IS BECOMING QUITE POPULAR

More Than 300 Students Are Expected to Enroll For This Work

In January

Short courses in traction engines, gas engines, blacksmithing, machine shop work, and other subjects in rural engineering are expected to bring more than 300 students to the Kansas State Agricultural college January 8 to March 21. Last winter more than 200 persons were enrolled in the rural engineering courses as compared with less than 100 in 1915.

The courses in traction engines includes instruction in the handling, repair and manipulation of steam traction engines, gas engines and gas traction engines, blacksmithing, machine shop work, and drawing. Opportunity is also given to take electives in such agricultural subjects as crops, live stock, and farm management. Those desiring electives in practical electricity, carpentry, or power farming machinery, will be given an opportunity to take such subjects.

The short course in concrete construction is designed for builders, contractors, farmers, and others who wish to do their own concrete work or to increase their knowledge of this subject. The course in shop work is intended for those who wish to gain a working knowledge in general shop practice. The course includes instruction in blacksmithing, foundry, shop work, carpentry, and wood turning.

A ten-week short course is also offered in road building, irrigation, and drainage for the benefit of county engineers and surveyors.

Dean A. A. Potter, division of engineering, and W. A. Buck, fellow in engineering, are the authors of a paper on internal combustion engines which was presented at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical engineering, on Tuesday, December 7, at New York City.

This paper includes the report of an investigation which has been carried on in the engineering department for a number of years.

On account of the distance, Dr. C. E. Luske, head of the division of engineering of Columbia University will present the paper for the authors.

ARE MAKING XMAS PRESENTS.

Short Course Girls Are Not Worrying About Early Shopping.

Advertisements bearing the slogan, "Buy your Christmas presents early", have no interest for the students in the housekeepers' course. These fortunate girls are not contemplating any frenzied shopping at the last moment or even before. They are making their Christmas gifts and at the same time are learning things that will be of value to them between Christmas times.

Dainty pieces of lingerie are nearing completion in the short course sewing classes, and class conversation shows these are to be used as Christmas presents for some fond relative since they are much too sensibly designed to be proper for their makers to wear.

The color and design classes are working on original designs in leather and embroidered novelties appropriate for Christmas gifts after grades are acquired by the designers.

Don't forget the Special Chicken Dinner every Sunday evening at Harrison's.

THIS SPIDER WAS INTELLIGENT.

At Least That Was Mark Twain's Opinion.

When Mark Twain, in his early days, was an editor of a Missouri paper, a superstitious subscriber wrote him, saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and asking him if that was a good or bad sign.

The humorist printed the following answer.

"Dear subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good or bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

yields Common Turkey Wheat.

The origin and history of the new wheat, P. 762, now being recommended by the Kansas Experiment Station for general growing in Kansas, is not generally known. The new much-talked-of P. 762 was originated June 5, 1906 by Professor H. F. Roberts of the department of botany. From 1906 to 1910 this department was extensively engaged in the improvement of wheat by selection.

Two hundred plots of commercial varieties were grown in 1906, and nearly two thousand in 1907 and subsequent years. From the best of these varieties Professor Roberts made individual head selections, as the basis for the growing of "pedigree" or as they are now called "pure line," wheats. From June 13 to 20, 1906, he personally selected 536 of such heads from 181 different variety plots in the plant breeding grounds of the department of botany.

On June 15 he selected the head of wheat which he numbered 762, to which he afterwards gave the letter "P" to indicate "pure bred" as distinguished from ordinary commercial strains. The particular plot from which P. 762 was selected, was a Crimson variety from the Don Territory in Russia, originally introduced by the United States department of agriculture.

In the fall of 1906 Professor Roberts planted all of the seed from the pedigree head selections in individual rows, and in 1907, planted their progeny in single nursery rows, alternating with rows of Kharkov wheat for comparative yield tests. The Kharkov was not pure bred, but was the best wheat variety then grown by the station. In order to make the comparison more certain, Prof. Roberts had 250 kernels planted in each row.

In 1908, the pedigree wheats were again similarly planted in nursery rows for a yield test, this time in ten row lots instead of single rows. In the first single row yield test, harvested in the spring of 1908, Professor Roberts found that P. 762 yielded 30 per cent more than the two adjoining check rows of Kharkov, 32 per cent more than the average of the 33 Kharkov rows in the same plot, and 25 per cent more than the average of all the other pedigree wheats in the same plot.

In the ten row nursery tests, harvested in the spring of 1909, P. 762 yielded 24 per cent better than the average of the 10 Kharkov check rows alternating, and 36.6 better than the average yield of all the 636 Kharkov rows in the field.

The first head of P. 762, originally selected by Prof. Roberts in 1906 bore 26 seeds. Only nine plants survived to be harvested in the spring of 1907. These bore 1467 seeds, weighing 1.29 ounces. In the one-row yield test of 1908, 11.42 ounces of seed were produced, and in the ten-row yield of 1909, one pound three ounces of seed.

In 1910, Professor Roberts turned the seed of P. 762 over to the department of agronomy for further trial and distribution. The results of six years trial of this wheat justifies the department of agronomy in stating that P. 762 outyields by four bushels per acre, the improved Turkey wheat, both on the station farm and in 92 cooperative tests with farmers on 29 different farms. It has also been found that P. 762 winterkills less, and ripens from three to five days earlier than the ordinary Turkey wheat.

PROGRAMS FOR FARM MEETINGS College Issues Pamphlet Outlining Nine Suitable Programs.

Definite programs for meetings of farmers' organizations are in demand. A pamphlet prepared by the division of extension of the agricultural college, containing nine outlines suitable for monthly and semi-monthly meetings, has been adopted by many local granges and farmers' unions in the state.

These program outlines were prepared as a guide for the regular meetings of the local farm and home institutes conducted in connection with the division of college extension, and are recommended for the educational meetings of the granges, farmers' unions and other organizations that wish to develop this feature of their work. The subjects outlined are "Beef Production," "Soil Cultivation and Management," "Highway Improvement," "Farm Accounting," "Cereal Crops," "Horticulture," "Horse Power on the Farm," and "Farm Buildings." Bulletins dealing with the important phases of these subjects are obtainable on application.

REDUCE THE HIGH COST OF LIVING BY EATING INSECTS

GRASSHOPPERS MAKE A DESIRABLE ARTICLE OF FOOD.

This is the Opinion of College Professors who Have Eaten Them—Caterpillars and Mice are Also Good.

That grasshoppers, grub worms, and other insects used as food may be a means of reducing the high cost of living is the opinion of professors in the Agricultural college. They would have been eaten long ago, they declare, had it not been for one serious obstacle—custom.

The thought of eating frog legs is just as repulsive to the natives of Africa as the idea of indulging in caterpillar stew is to the average American. It is claimed, A campaign of education will have to be waged before insects become common articles of diet.

"Grasshoppers are clean insects, living on a vegetable diet, which is more than can be said of hogs or chickens," commented George A. Dean, professor of entomology. "People who make a practice of eating these insects are particularly fond of them. The meat is tender and exquisitely flavored. It is found inside the body framework, for the skeleton of the grasshopper is outside its body."

Are a Great Delicacy.

"Grasshoppers are considered a great delicacy by the African natives and are eaten in large quantities," according to Frank L. Snow, instructor in industrial journalism, who was formerly a reporter on the Rhodesia Herald, a daily paper published in Salisbury, South-Central Africa.

"The grasshoppers move in swarms so dense at times that the rays of the sun are obscured," said Mr. Snow. "At night they bend the limbs of the forest trees with their weight, and the natives knock them into bags when they are numbed by the cool night air."

"The insects are boiled and spread out on flat rocks to dry, and subsequently placed in huge earthen pots for safe keeping. When occasion demands they are prepared for use as food. Legs and wings are discarded, a little salt and possibly peanut oil added, and then they are ready for frying. The insects are eaten as one would eat potato chips—and one who has partaken of grasshopper 'fries' is authority for the statement that they are not half bad. In fact they remind a person somewhat of shrimps."

Caterpillars are Good.

"A relish concocted with ground peanuts and caterpillars and eaten with a thick mush or porridge made from a native grain called ropoko, is delicious—that is provided one does not know at the time what he is eating. But what a difference it makes when he is told he is eating caterpillars!"

"What other foods do the Africans eat that custom does not sanction in this country?" was asked of Mr. Snow.

"Beetles, White ants, the larvae of bees, grub worms, and field mice are all considered dainties," was the reply.

"Wild honey is plentiful in Africa, but while the natives are by no means adverse to eating it, they much prefer the 'bee-bread' and the larvae."

Bats and Mice Make Juicy Morsels.

"Although the Kafirs refuse to eat the rats that steal their food, even in broad daylight, and nibble their toes at night, they enjoy nothing better than juicy field mice. In the winter months—May, June and July—they burn the tall, brown grass in order to bare the habitat of the rodents."

"The food eaten by the mice is clean, and after all, there seems to be no good reason why they should not be as fit for food as squirrels, which belong to the same order—rodents. But custom doesn't approve in this country."

Flashlights, Kittell's.

Wellnachtslieder.

Our American way of celebrating Christmas is essentially German. In the Romance countries Christmas is not as important a holiday as New Year. With the celebration of Christmas we always associate the singing of Christmas songs, and German Christmas songs are known the world over. In place of the German club meeting this afternoon at half past four, the hour will be devoted to the singing of the best known of the "Wellnachtslieder." All students interested in hearing these songs are requested to be present in N. 58 at 4:30 this afternoon.

DINNER WORK GREATLY TROUBLES H. E. GIRLS

Almost Worry Themselves Baldheaded Trying to Make Four Dollars Pay for Twenty Meals.

In the vocabulary of every senior girl in home economics is a phrase filled with memories or expectations of joys or disaster, bad dreams or pleasure—"dinner work."

For one long weary week each girl must plan and cook and save, trying to spread four dollars out over twenty meals. With foodstuffs at their present prices it is not an easy thing to do. No mushrooms or sweetbreads appear in that realm of economy, the dining room.

"We feed 'em on bread and beans, potatoes and meat," said one girl briefly. But when bread is served as rolls or muffins and potatoes as Franconia or Delmonica potatoes, you don't realize that you are getting merely boarding house fare with variations.

Round steak is substituted for porterhouse and gingerbread for angel food. It is well for the diners if they don't eat too much of that juicy plank steak. The cooks wants enough left for croquettes for the following day. Don't ask for a third roll for in all probability she has laid the last one away to use as stuffing for a mock veal bird.

Accidents will happen, and the proof of a girl's ingenuity is found in the ways in which she fixes substitutes. If you happen to catch a glimpse of a lovely buttered slice in the kitchen as the door swung open don't place your expectations too high. If the filling didn't harden the dessert may be maple ice cream made from that very pie.

THE SPORT GETS REVENGE

He Turns the Tables by Making a Goat of an Ex-Goat and Wins a Bet of Four Bits.

The favorite indoor sport in Aggieville is "getting the man's goat." For example: The Aggieville Sport stepped into the drug store to loaf a while. He was "all dolled up" in a new, bright colored tie of the popular pattern known as "mashed gooseberry."

The clerk's eye brightened. Here was "meat." He opened fire.

"Betcha two bits I can tell you where you got that tie."

The Sport pondered a moment. The tie had been sent him from New York.

"I'll call that bet," he replied.

The clerk assumed a business like tone.

"Pay me. You've got it around your neck."

The Sport paid up, not because he lived up to his name but because of the powerful weapon of ridicule in the hands of the triumphant clerk; but he left the store with revenge in his heart.

The next day he went into the barber shop, sat down in the front window, and carefully drew up his neatly pressed trousers, exposing several inches of vivid hosiery that rivalled in brightness the new barber pole outside.

Christmas Buyers Can Shop at Night Next Week.

Christmas shoppers will be able to shop at night next week as the stores will open in accordance with a ruling of the Manhattan Retailers' association. The ruling of the organization says stores may open on the five shopping nights before Christmas. This would mean that the stores would be open nights, beginning Tuesday. It is probable, however, that the business men will open their stores each night next week, according to a statement made by the president of the retailers' association today. The ruling of the organization says stores shall not be open later than 11 o'clock at night.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGLIAN

VOLUME 22. NUMBER 26.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1944.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

WOULD ELIMINATE TWO COLLEGE DEPARTMENTS

JOURNALISM AND SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE ARE IN DISFAVOR!

State Efficiency Committee Makes Drastic Recommendations to Governor—Facts Prove Departments Needed at K. S. A. C.

Abolition of the school of agriculture and the department of industrial journalism at the Kansas Agricultural college was recommended, among other things, by the Kansas efficiency and economy commission in a report to Governor Arthur Capper last Saturday.

An examination of facts concerning the work of the school of agriculture and the department of journalism showed that a careful consideration of the work of these two divisions probably was not made or their abolition would not have been recommended.

Abolition of the department of journalism and the school of agriculture would decrease the yearly enrollment of the college from 500 to 700.

Third Largest Department.

The department of journalism has the third largest enrollment of any similar department, school or division in the United States. Its ranking, as shown by the latest report of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism, in regard to enrollment, follows: First, Missouri university, 236; second, University of Washington, 226; third, Kansas Agricultural College, 221; fourth, Iowa State college, 199. The journalism department deals with the agricultural phase of journalism and prepares men for work on farm papers. Their knowledge of agriculture is secured in the division of agriculture of the college. Journalism work in the nature of writing for farm papers is required of all junior students in agriculture and also of students in the school of agriculture.

School of Agriculture Needed.

Figures from the school of agriculture show that its students are those who could not attend a high school if it were not for the school of agriculture here, because of the arrangement of work and terms. These students also are of an age beyond that of high school students. The school is doing a direct work for the betterment of the agriculture of the state, as is shown by the fact that practically all its graduates go back to their home farms to put into practice the principles they have learned. The following facts show why the school of agriculture is proving to be the second most successful division of the college.

Here's the Proof.

More than 80 per cent of the students of last year were from 18 to 32 years old.

Of the 1,215 students enrolled in the school since it was established 659 have never taken any spring term work; more than one-fourth have come for vocational work which they wanted to get in a short time; three-fourths have taken vocational work.

A questionnaire sent out last spring, answered by 251 students, showed that 122 did not live in a high school district, while 182 lived five miles or more from the nearest high school.

Half of those who enter planning to take a three-year course change their minds and decide to enter college.

Of the first graduating five, three boys are at home on farms, one is in college while the one girl taught in a rural school for one year before being married; of the 1916 class five boys are on their home farms, one boy is in college, one girl is teaching a rural school, one girl is at home and another girl is staying with her aged grandmother.

Those who ordinarily do not go to high school are attracted to the school by the vocational work it offers.

Miss Mary M. Anderson, '13, is supervisor of domestic science and art in the Winslow (Ariz.) high school and graded schools. Nearly 175 girls are enrolled in the classes and Miss Anderson is assisted by another young woman. The Winslow newspaper recently published a story praising the domestic science girls for a banquet given to the high school football team.

MAY BE SECOND LIEUTENANTS.

College Graduates Have Chance to Get Into Marine Corps.

An opportunity is open for graduates of the college who wish to enter the marine corps as second lieutenants at a salary to start with of $1,700 per year.

Capt. Mathews, commandant at the college, has been asked to recommend graduates over 20 and under 25 years of age for these places. They will not be required to pass a scholastic examination, the physical examination only being required. This examination will be given January 8, 1917, at Marine Barracks, Washington, D. C.

K. S. A. C. graduates desiring to take this examination are requested to communicate with Captain Mathews at the earliest practicable date. They should also communicate with Brigadier General John A. Lejeune, Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

HAVE DIVISION LIBRARY FOR THE AG. DEPARTMENT

It Is Being Established on the Second Floor of the New Agricultural Hall.

A divisional library for the use of the faculty and students of the division of agriculture is being established on the second floor of the agricultural building.

The material in this library will consist of duplicate copies of agricultural bulletins from the United States Department of agriculture and state experiment stations and duplicate copies of books on agriculture which are now kept in the college library. It was decided by the library and the division of agriculture that these publications would be more easily accessible to the teachers and students of agriculture if they were placed in a separate library in the new agricultural building.

All copies of the bulletins which will be in the divisional library will not be available in the divisional library because of the delay caused by sending them to a bindery. The copies of the current bulletins, however, can be read at the college library.

Indexes of both the United States department of agriculture and the state experiment station bulletins will be placed in the divisional library and the same method of indexing will be used as is used in the college library.

It is planned to keep the library open eight hours a day. One of the regular assistants from the college library will have supervision. There will be a reading room in connection with the library. The agricultural newspapers will be kept in this room.

The stacks for the new library are here and are being assembled by students in the engineering division. It is not known definitely when the library will be opened.

PERMANENT INCOME BILL EXPLAINED AT CHAPEL TODAY

Every student at chapel this morning is the wish of President Waters. The chapel period will be used for the consideration of how the cooperation of the students may materially aid in legislation which will be for the good of all the state institutions.

It is desirable that the students be sufficiently organized at chapel this morning, so that the matter will be brought to the attention of the representative and senator who reside in the counties to which students of the college go.

This can be done through the students seeing the representative, and explaining the general features of the bill to influential men of the community who will write or see the representative, and by asking the papers of each community to give the matter some attention in their columns. It is the opportunity to do constructive advertising for the college that will have a permanent value.

Ten states have permanent income provisions for their state educational institutions and it is their experience that such a system is highly satisfactory.

What Is It?

A permanent income is derived by placing a tax no larger than present appropriations on all the property valuation of the state. Instead of asking the legislature with all its personal wants and lack of specific information, to set aside every two years an uncertain amount to maintain the educational institutions, this bill would levy a part of a mill on the taxable property of the state.

Because of the fact that the product of the income may be used for the institution named and nothing else, the institutions know to a certainty how much its permanent income will be each year.

It would mean that the useless campaign every two years to educate a new legislature as to the fundamental needs of the educational institutions would be at an end. It would not mean further appropriations for new buildings and improvements could not be asked for and would not be granted. But the permanent income would insure sufficient moneys to defray the ordinary needs of the school.

How It May be Secured.

Such a bill can only be made possible by a constitutional amendment. The matter must first be presented to the legislature in order that it may be, by them, submitted to a vote of the people at the next general election when it will appear on the ballot as a proposed amendment to the state constitution.

The first step, then, is to prevail on the legislature to give the people a chance to vote on this measure of such vital importance to the educational interests of the state. Each student should feel that he is personally responsible for bringing a part of this influence to bear upon members of the legislature and in conducting an educational campaign in regard to the bill in his home community.

It is you, Mr. Student, who is receiving the greatest benefit from the state educational institutions. This is your problem, and a potent manner of indicating your appreciation of the advantages which you are receiving at the hands of the state educational institutions.

Why It Is Better.

Because it would save money for the tax payers by reason of the opportunity for long time plans that would work efficiency in spending the funds. It is much easier to save money with a known amount to spend than with an indefinite amount. It means sound business methods, and not guess-work and speculation in running the state's big educational plants.

Because in the brief session of the state legislature, it is unable to determine the complex needs of the state institutions and is in danger of refusing appropriations that should be made. The legislators are compelled to study the intricacies of state school appropriation bills while occupied with scores of other legislative matters. To understand thoroughly the details of the state educational institutions appropriation bill alone would require all the time that the ordinary legislator can devote to the duties of the legislative session.

Because it would remove the state schools from politics. The permanent income method of financing the state institutions would remove all temptation from state institutions to save their interests by resorting to political methods.

Because it would benefit the state educational institutions by insuring growth in an institution is normal growth in an institution is possible only when plans providing for such growth can be made, extending over a number of years. The present system considers only two years.

Because the permanent income would make it less easy for other universities to take some of the best teachers from Kansas, as they have been doing, because of the greater permanence of these universities in the matter of income and the consequent greater certainty with which specialists can depend upon the continuance of their work.

Because it is placing the educational institutions on a sound good-business basis. The fact that college professors are fitting a larger body of trained men for successful careers in practical world affairs, than any other group of persons, must necessarily indicate that they themselves are primarily practical men.

And yet, their administrative plans under the present system of appropriations, does not include a knowledge of what funds will be available for any period beyond the existing biennium and they are unable to plan for the future as any great institution, as great schools, should be able to do. They are denied the privilege of conducting their affairs in a thorough business-like manner.

State Institutions.

University of Kansas, Kansas State Agricultural college, State Normal school, State Manual Training normal, Fort Hays normal, School of Mines, School for Deaf, and the School for Blind would be granted permanent incomes under the proposed bill.

States That Have Permanent Incomes. Nebraska, Colorado, Ohio, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, California, Indiana, Illinois.

BANQUET THE FOOTBALL SQUAD.

Domestic Science Dept. Host to Clevelander's Piskin Heroes.

Members of the Aggie football squad, together with President H. J. Waters and members of the athletic board, were guests at a banquet given in the domestic science building Friday evening at 6 o'clock by Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science.

A feature of the evening was the presentation to Randels and Wells, the two Aggie athletes to make the all-valley eleven, of neat leather note book covers, with "K. S. A. C." engraved on them, the gift of "Doc" L. R. Brady. A heavy leather belt was also given Nate Harwood on account of his good playing in the game with Washburn Thanksgiving Day. "Doc" Prady, the donor of the gifts, is a staunch supporter of the Purple eleven, having witnessed practically every scrimmage and game of the season.

ANNOUNCE NEW APPOINTMENTS.

Cadet Officers Selected For the Winter Term.

The commissioned cadet officers who have been appointed for the winter term are: First Lieutenant F. C. Dickinson to be captain and commissary of infantry regiment; Acting Drum Major, J. S. Guldge to be first lieutenant and battalion adjutant of the Third battalion; H. Dunham to be captain of F company; W. A. Ball captain of K company; P. A. Kennicott, first lieutenant of A company; W. C. Sawyer, first lieutenant of E company; A. A. Grant, first lieutenant of L company; C. Barriger, second lieutenant of E company; O. W. Reed, second lieutenant of L company; and Fred Griffie, O. Steanson and J. E. Bixby to be second lieutenants. H. B. Dudley will fill the major's position left vacant by H. R. Horak who graduates this fall.

The junior officers are elected by the senior cadet officers and the commandant. The noncommissioned officers will be announced later.

MISS DROLL WINS IN TRYOUT.

Will Represent Ionians in Oratorical Contest.

Hattie Droll, junior in home economics, of Wichita, will represent the Ionian literary society in the annual inter-society oratorical contest which will be held sometime in February.

There were two other contestants for this honor, Hazel Merillat of Enterprise and Georgia McBroom of Washington. The society contest was held Thursday afternoon in the Hampton hall. Miss Elizabeth McLean, instructor in the English department, R. R. Price, professor of history, and the Reverend Mr. Lelew, student pastor of the Methodist church, acted as judges.

Miss Droll is a member of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and is active in the work of that organization.

PHI ALPHA TAU WAS INSTALLED SATURDAY

IS A PROFESSIONAL PUBLIC SPEAKERS' FRATERNITY

Seven Students and Two Faculty Members Who Petitioned Are Granted a Chapter of the National Organization.

Seven students and two faculty members of the college who petitioned Phi Alpha Tau, national professional speakers' fraternity, were granted a chapter in the national organization and were installed Saturday afternoon.

The installation was held in the parlors over Harrison's cafe, and was followed by a five-course luncheon in honor of the installing officers and members of the Iota chapter of Kansas university who were present.

Cecil F. DeRobin, installing officer of the western district, installed Omicron chapter. He was assisted by John H. Dykes, graduate student in law at the university, ex-president of the K. U. dramatic club; John Thompson, university '15; and Guy Waldo, an active worker in dramatics at the university.

The petitioners who constitute the charter members of Omicron are: Don L. Burk, instructor in English; J. H. Branham, sophomore in engineering; Lawton M. Hanna, special in mechanical engineering; W. N. Caton, senior in mechanical engineering; Leo C. Moser, senior in journalism; J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking; C. C. Morse, special in journalism; Charles Adamson, senior in agriculture; and J. W. Musil, junior in general science.

All of the petitioners except L. Burk and Leo C. Moser are members of the Purple Masque, local honorary dramatic fraternity. Lawton M. Hanna, one of the petitioners, recently signed a contract with a chautauqua company and has left to meet the orchestra with which he will play the violin-cello.

The Petitioners

Don L. Burk, who has appeared on the professional stage in New York City, is debate coach of the college and has appeared frequently on the public platform. J. W. Musil appeared in the "Fortune Hunter" and other productions of the Purple Masque. He is business manager of the Masque this year.

Charles Adamson has appeared in difficult roles in Shakespearean plays and is an able elocutionist. Mr. Adamson was recently appointed student assistant in the department of public speaking. Lawton Hanna played the leading part in a college play two years ago and has appeared in productions elsewhere.

J. H. Branham has taken special work under a graduate of Lealand Powers, and has been assistant coach of dramatics in the department of public speaking since last fall term. Leo C. Moser, winner of the 1916 inter-society oratorical contest, recently selected to represent the college in the state peace contest this year, has had a limited experience on the public platform.

J. G. Emerson, juris doctor, professor of public speaking, coach of oratory and dramatics, has had a wide experience on the public platform, is the winner of several institutional, state, and interstate oratorical contests, and has appeared in heavy roles in dramatic productions.

W. N. Caton has appeared in heavy roles and the leading part of plays which the Purple Masque has presented. His interpretation of roles has been a great aid in furthering the quality of presentation by that organization.

C. C. Morse has appeared in the "Fortune Hunter", "The Lion and the Mouse" and in chorus presentations of "The Messiah", and the "Sword of Fire".

Phi Alpha Tau was founded at the Emerson school of oratory in Boston in 1902. The Kansas State chapter is the fifteenth active chapter to be organized in the leading institutions of the country. The chapter at the universities of Pennsylvania and Nebraska have their own fraternity houses.

The fraternity met yesterday afternoon and elected the following officers: president, Charles Adamson; vice-president, Leo C. Moser; treasurer, John Musil; secretary, C. C. Morse; sergeant at arms, J. H. Branham.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

This will be the last issue of the Collegian this term and the last one for the year 1916. The next issue will be January 9, 1917. The Collegian wishes all of its readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and trusts that their support may be as loyal in the future as it has been in the past.

STORY OF A COLLEGE MAN.

Takes as Leading Character a Veteran Football Player.

"The Ne'er-do-Well," by Rex Beach features Wheeler Oakman and Kathryn Williams and an all-star cast.

The hero is Kirk Anthony, a college graduate and veteran football player, and since graduation the coach of his university team. On the evening following a football victory the last of the season, Kirk and others start out to celebrate. Late that night he finds himself on shipboard, and when he awakens he is without money and without baggage.

During the voyage, Kirk becomes acquainted with a woman—Mrs. Stephen Cortlandt—whom he learns to admire very much. She is really a diplomatic agent of great influence. One day while Kirk is out hunting he meets in a forest bower, a Spanish girl who is known only as "Chiquita." He falls desperately in love with her, and tries vainly to discover her identity.

"The Ne'er-do-Well" will be shown on Wednesday and Thursday at the Marshall theatre. Presented by the Manhattan Press Club.

Advisory Council Meets.

The Advisory Council of the Alumni association meets at the college at two o'clock this afternoon to consider some new laws which are to be presented to the next legislature. The members of the council are: H. W. Avery, '91, chairman; Frances Brown, '09; J. W. Berry, '85; G. C. Wheelmer, '95; Miss B. E. Secrest, '92.

THE MESSIAH PLEASES AN ATTENTIVE AUDIENCE

MORE THAN 2500 PERSONS HEAR FAMOUS PRODUCTION.

Wonderful Work of Soloists, the Chorus, and the Orchestra Makes Second Annual Christmas Concert a Success.

"Wasn't that great."

These and other equally enthusiastic expressions were heard on all sides as the audience of nearly 2,500 persons was filling out of the college auditorium Sunday afternoon at the close of the presentation of Handel's "Messiah" by the Kansas State Agricultural College Choral society, augmented by choruses from Clay Center and Randolph, and assisted by the college orchestra. Standing room only was available when the oratorio started, and several hundred persons were turned away.

This second annual Christmas concert demonstrated the fact that the agricultural college is becoming a musical center. It was not necessary to bring in an orchestra of national reputation, or a quartet of soloists. The talent is here. The college provided the orchestra and three of the four soloists. It was a triumph for the department of music, and its head, Arthur E. Westbrook.

The work of Professor Westbrook as director of the chorus of nearly 300 stood out prominently in the Sunday concert. "For Unto Us a Child Is Born," although one of the most difficult parts of the great oratorio, was sung in a manner which showed perfect control, and careful training. The famous "Hallelujah" chorus was impressive.

The clear bell-like voice of Miss Fay Richards, soprano, was heard to the best advantage in her rendition of "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." The singing of Miss Richards who appeared before the general public for the first time in Manhattan, was one of the pleasing features of the oratorio. Elton Calkins, tenor, a new member of the faculty of the department of music, showed excellent voice control. He sang with finish "Ev'ry Valley Shall Be Exalted." Miss May Carley, contralto, sang "He Was Despised" with wonderful devotional feeling. Thomas A. Remington of Chicago, baritone, handled the long Handelian runs in "Why Do The Nations" with ease. His singing was well received.

The work of the college orchestra under the direction of R. H. Brown, concert master, was deserving of special praise. The difficult music was handled in professional style. Miss Patricia Abernathy, pianist, exhibited much technical ability. Her work required skill and judgment.

THE KANSAS STATE COLLEGIAN

VOLUME 23, NUMBER 27.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1917.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP LOOKS GOOD TO THE AGGIES

SPECTS ARE FINE FOR THE STRONGEST TEAM EVER.

Strong Coaching System Together With An Abundance of Excellent Material Give Bright Outlook For the Purple Five.

The 1917 Kansas Aggie basketball team, a quintette that is sure to be one of the top rungs of the Missouri valley championship ladder, practicing daily with one big object in view—the leadership of valley basketball circles. The Aggie athletes commenced their winter term training with a hard workout last day, and every man of the first squad was back for the first practice.

Contest for positions is so close that Coach Clevenger can not yet announce the five men who will trot out on the floor to oppose the Washburn boys in the first game of the season, January 13. Each of the positions is hotly contested. The following men are leading in their respective positions: forward, Reynolds, Trine, Cushman, Foltz and Keck; center, Fullington and Knostman; guard, Captain MacMillan, Wells, Wooster and Clark.

If the initial lineups in the late practices may be taken as an indication of Clevenger's choice, the selection of the team could probably be narrowed to Reynolds and Van Trine, forwards; Fullington and Knostman, center; Captain MacMillan and Wells, guards. Probably the most doubtful position is center, and either Fullington or Knostman may receive the call to start the Ichabod contest, as both have been taking the tip-off position on the first five in the tryouts. Wooster is also close on the heels of Wells and may start as a regular.

Practice in Girls' Gym.

The athletes have been practicing in the girls' gymnasium during the assignment period. Although the workouts are somewhat hampered by the size of the court, the Aggie mentor reports that Purple athletes are fast rounding into mid-season form.

"They certainly look good to me," says Clevenger. "Although I have not yet definitely picked the first team, I am sure that out of the squad can pick a quintette that will be a factor in the valley race."

The schedule lacks one game of completion. Several Kansas colleges are angling for the date with Clevenger's five, and a game with Fairmount may be accepted. The partial schedule follows.

Jan. 13—Washburn at Manhattan.
Jan. 19—Bethany at Manhattan.
Jan. 23-24—Kansas at Lawrence.
Jan. 25—Washburn at Topeka.
Feb. 9-10—Washington at Manhattan.
Feb. 14-15—Nebraska at Manhattan.
Feb. 19—Normal at Manhattan.
Feb. 22—St. Marys at St. Marys.
March 2-3—Washington at St. Louis.
March 5-6—Missouri at Columbia.

PHI KAPPA PHI INITIATES FOUR.

Former Dean of H. E. Division is Honored.

Phi Kappa Phi, the honorary scholarship fraternity, recently initiated new members into the organization. Miss Juanita Reynolds, Miss Grace Hazel Smith, and Glenn F. Pace who graduated last fall term initiated. These three students are the highest rank in their studies throughout the college year.

Nellie Kedzie Jones of Chicago initiated December 29. Mrs. Jones is one of the well known women of the United States. She was the original and the head of the home economics division at K. S. A. C., and also head of the domestic science department at the Illinois Institute. She is the guest of Dean and Mrs. J. Willard while in Manhattan.

FOR A NEW HISTORY COURSE.

Students May Substitute It for American History I.

A new course, entitled American Cultural History, is being offered for the first time this winter term. It carries four hours of credit, and is elective especially for the students in the division of agriculture. Students of this division may substitute this new course for American History I if they are planning to take a single term of history.

THE LAST CHANCE TO TRY OUT.

Cast for "The Man From Home" to be Selected Feb. 1.

This week is the last chance for aspirants for parts in the play "The Man From Home," to try out. Two complete casts are now working on the play—the first cast meets Wednesday night and the second cast Thursday night.

The final tryout will be held February 1. "The Man From Home" will be given during the Farm and Home Week, February 5-10. More than 40 persons are trying for places. There are plenty of would-be actresses but a shortage of men according to J. H. Branham, assistant in the public speaking department, who has charge of the play. It is expected that some difficulty will be experienced in holding night rehearsals on account of the threatened coal shortage.

The fraternities voted to hold no social functions during Farm and Home Week, and it is expected that the sororities and literary societies will take similar action. Plans are being made for the entertainment of the college visitors, and "The Man From Home" will be one of the big features.

WOMEN PRISONERS TAKE WORK BY CORRESPONDENCE

The College Gives Them Lessons in Cooking, Sewing and Home Nursing.

Women inmates of the Kansas state penitentiary have been enrolled in home economics by correspondence in the division of extension in the Kansas State Agricultural college. More than 200 men in Kansas prisons are doing work under the supervision of the home study department, but the association of these women with the college is an innovation in educational practices.

Since last April the women have been on a farm belonging to the penitentiary reservation. It is surrounded by a 12 wire barbed fence, but under the supervision of Mrs. Julia Perry, formerly matron at the girls' industrial school at Beloit, the gates stand open and no attempt is made to escape.

Out of the 12 women on the farm only one has as much as an eighth grade education. Every other day classes in arithmetic, language, grammar, physiology, and spelling are held. All but one will enroll in cooking and sewing. She will enroll in home nursing on account of poor eyes.

The work will be adapted to the individual requirements of the women. They will be given credit for doing ordinary household duties, such as mending socks for the men prisoners. In this plan the department is following out the system used in many public schools of giving school credit for home work. The course will be under the supervision of Miss Mary M. Baird, assistant in home study in the division of extension.

RANDELS IS NOT MARRIED.

Aggie Captain-Elect Denies Rumor That He Will Not Return Next Year.

"Stiff" Randels, Aggie captain-elect, is not married. That at least is Randels' own statement, in attempting to put down a recent report on the campus that the Aggie star had become a benedict and would not return to the football season next year.

While admitting that he visited in a certain Kansas town during the Thanksgiving holidays, Randels denies that any nuptials occurred while there. This is his explanation of the rumor: A Manhattan merchant gave him a box of cigars soon after the football season. Sensing the opportunity for a huge joke, "Stiff" passed the box around to his Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity brothers, hinting that he was married, but admonishing them to keep the matter to themselves. The secret was too good to keep, and within a day the story was all over the campus.

"It was only a joke," explains Randels. All Missouri valley end and chosen on Outing's "honor roll" for the same position. "I'll will be the first man to report when Aggie football starts next fall."

WHP Hold a Short Course Mixer.

An all short course men social mixer will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building on Friday night, January 12, at 7:30. Games and refreshments will be the order of the evening. All short course men are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with each other and have a good time.

STUDENTS AGITATE INCOME BILL DURING VACATION

SIXTY-FOUR COUNTIES COVERED IN ORGANIZED CAMPAIGN.

The Alumni are Asked to Help—Members of the Legislature Express Themselves as Being in Favor of the Bill.

The response of students and county leaders for the educational and publicity campaign for the proposed Permanent Income Bill, at the chapel assembly on the Tuesday preceding vacation together with preliminary reports which have been received, would indicate that the campaign carried on by the students during the vacation period was of great value in bringing the proposed measure before the people of the state, according to Leo C. Moser, president of the Students Council.

Sixty-seven county leaders volunteered at chapel assembly and seven others volunteered in person before the close of the term making a total of sixty-four counties that were covered with an organized movement for agitation of the proposed plan of financing the educational institutions.

Several hundred inches of publicity material in regard to the Permanent Income were printed in the editorial and news columns of papers of the state. Quite a number of papers printed a two column discussion of the bill and these were aided by recommendations by prominent citizens of the vicinity.

Influential alumni of the college were also reached by personal interviews and correspondence and asked to supplement the work of the students of the county in whatever way they could.

K. U. Students Active.

The Kansas university students, through their well organized County Clubs union, carried on an effective campaign for the bill during their vacation. Banquets were given in many of the counties to which the county and district representatives, alumni, and influential citizens were invited. The proposed Permanent Income bill among other measures of interest to educational institutions were discussed at these meetings.

Many representatives and senators expressed their favorable attitude toward the bill during the vacation and it is hoped that the campaign has sufficiently placed the facts before the voters and representatives so that the legislative action of two years ago will not be repeated. At that time, the measure failed to pass by seven votes because of a lack of understanding its true importance and a consequent indifferent attitude when it was brought to a vote.

The county representatives have been asked to submit detailed reports on or before January 13, at which time, definite results of the work accomplished by the K. S. A. C. constructing advertising campaign will be given.

TWO VET PROFS. ARE HONORED.

Are Elected Officers of Kansas Veterinary Association.

At the meeting of the Kansas Veterinary Medical association which met in Wichita January 4 and 5, Dr. R. R. Dykstra was elected president of the organization for the coming year and Dr. J. H. Burt, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. Dykstra is professor of surgery and Dr. Burt is assistant professor of veterinary medicine at the college. Dr. Dykstra, Dr. Burt, and C. E. Bassler, a graduate of the college, gave discussions on technical subjects at the meeting. The next convention of the association was set for Manhattan during the first week of January, 1918.

THE TICKET SALE IS ON.

Saving of $2.50 is Made by Buying Season Athletic Books.

Admission tickets and reserved seats for the basketball season were put on sale at Coach Clevenger's office yesterday morning. Admission tickets for the season were also on sale within the assigning room, and the athletic authorities report that the sale was brisk.

Prof. P. G. Kloeffer, of the electrical engineering department, spent the holidays arranging the telephone laboratory and the laboratory for electrical measurements.

GAS ENGINE BEING BUILT BY ENGINEERING STUDENTS

IS DESIGNED BY PROFESSOR W. W. CARLSON.

All Parts Made in the College Foundry—Expect to Make Fifty Engines During the Winter Term.

A small gas engine is being manufactured by the students in the shops of the engineering division of the Kansas State Agricultural college. This new work in the shops was designed last year in an effort to establish a definite line of work that could be handled on a more nearly commercial basis and at the same time make the student's work more interesting and instructive.

The engine is not patterned after any other small engine now on the market. It was designed by Professor W. W. Carlson, superintendent of the shops at the college, and it is so simple in its construction that the first-term students can make any and every part. Yet, despite the originality of the design, there are no new, untried constructions, no experiments, and no systems that have not worked successfully on other small engines.

The engine is of the four-cycle type, with jump spark, hit and miss governor and either tank or hopper cooling system. The bore is three and a half inches and the stroke is five inches.

The engine complete weighs about 225 pounds when set up on skids. When running at six hundred revolutions a minute it will develop two horse power.

The accessories include a mixing valve that is of K. S. A. C. design and which was made in the foundry with the other parts of the engine. A standard half-inch spark plug will be used and the current will be supplied by a storage battery. A magnet will probably be added as regular equipment later.

While the engine, at the present time, is water cooled, plans are practically complete for the adding an air cooled cylinder. This will greatly reduce the weight and eliminate all danger of freezing in cold weather. The successful cooling by air will be accomplished by means of a double exhaust and an elaborate system of cooling ribs.

Parts Are Interchangeable

Every part is made on the interchangeable plan, so that any piece will fit in its proper place on every engine. This uniformity of the completed parts is accomplished by means of an accurate system of limit gauges, jigs, and fixtures that enable the beginner to finish a part as accurately as an experienced man. Much of the machine work is done with grinding machines such as are used on the parts of automobile engines, and many of the parts are ground to the thousandth part of an inch. The college shops are equipped with the necessary tools, machinery, and materials to carry on the manufacture of these engines and maintain a regular output.

Have Factory System

A regular factory system has been devised for handling the different parts of the engine, and is under the personal supervision of Professor Carlson. To illustrate the plan by which the parts are handled the following description is given: A certain number of the various parts are ordered from the foundry to be cast by a certain date, and to be delivered to the storeroom which is under the charge of a storeroom clerk. From the storeroom the parts are checked out to the stockroom in the machine shop where each week the number of the parts that have been finished and machined up-to-date is posted on the production board. The new pieces are then filed away in the stock room with those already there. The machine shop does the machining and finishing of the parts and with the positive limit gauges insures the interchangeability so they may be assembled on any engine. When enough of the different parts of the whole engine have been completed according to the foregoing method or handling, the parts are removed to where the engines are assembled, tested, and put in perfect running order.

A production order for 50 engines has been issued and it is expected that the whole 50 will be completed during the winter term while the shop are crowded every hour of the day by the engineering short course students who start on their course of ten weeks January 8.

The regular engineering students will, to a large extent, have charge of the short course students will be allowed in the capacity of gang bosses and speed bosses.

For the disposition of the engines it has been decided by the shop authorities that each student will be allowed to buy at the cost of the material the engine that he makes. The engine is handy for driving the forge, grindstone, saw, and other machinery in the shop.

ENGINEERING FACULTY WORK.

Spend Holidays Getting Ready for the Winter Term.

Members of the engineering faculty spent their vacation preparing the shops and laboratories so as to handle the large number of students expected during the winter term.

New forges and anvils were placed in the shops, the steam and gas engine laboratories were rearranged, and much time was devoted to the planning of the laboratory exercises so that the large number of classes would be handled without much additional expense for teachers.

THREE ASSISTANTS IN PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPT.

Charles Adamson and Margaret Hale are New Additions—Both Experienced Instructors.

Two more student-assistants have been added to the staff of the public speaking department for this term: Charles Adamson, a student in agriculture, and Miss Margaret Hale, a student in home economics. James H. Branham, who has been a student assistant during the past year, will continue in that capacity making a total of three for the department.

Increase in the enrollment in public speaking classes, especially those in extempore speaking, and the fact that there remain six rebates, three plays, and three oratorical contests, local and intercollegiate, to prepare for is the reason given for the additions.

"I consider the department fortunate in being able to secure students so well qualified for this work," said J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking. "Mr. Adamson has had teaching experience and experience in the coaching of plays. He will be remembered as Sam Graham in the 'The Fortune Hunter' which was produced last year. Miss Hale comes to us with two years of study at the famous Powers School in Boston and experience in coaching plays in Kansas City under Adrain M. Newens. Mr. Branham, who took the lead in 'The Fortune Hunter' last year, has done excellent work for the department."

These students will assist Mr. Emerson in directing the plays and in coaching the debate teams and orators this term.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS COMING.

Will be Held in Manhattan January 17 and 18.

The United States civil service commission has announced an open competitive examination for field agent, for men only, to be held at Manhattan January 17 and 18. Similar examinations will be held at Concordia, Dodge City, Emporia, Fort Scott, Kansas City, Lawrence, Leavenworth, Norton, Pittsburg, Salina, Topeka, and Wichita. From the register of eligibles resulting from this examination certification will be made, to fill a vacancy in this position at $1,608 a year under the bureau of crop estimates, department of agriculture, state of Kansas, and vacancies as they may occur in positions requiring similar qualifications in that state.

NOTED MEN ADDRESS ENGINEERS.

Three Prominent Speakers for Seminar Meeting.

O. V. Stouts, dean of the college of engineering at the University of Nebraska, will address the engineers' seminar on Thursday, January 25. Mr. Uhrig, of the Western Electric company, will address the seminar on February 8, and P. L. Bishop, dean of the college of engineering in the University of Pittsburgh, Pa., will be the principal speaker at the last meeting in February.

An effort is made by the engineering faculty to procure as speakers at these seminar meetings men who are prominent as practical engineers or as educators in the various phases of engineering work.

THE WINTER ENROLLMENT MAY BE RECORD BREAKER

MORE THAN 1500 STUDENTS REGISTER THE FIRST DAY.

Hundreds Line up at Gymnasium in Early Morning to Await Coming of the Assigners—Short Course Enrollment Heavy.

More than 1300 students had received their assignment of studies before 5:30 last evening and fully 200 more had paid their registration fee and had been given numbers for first entrance to the registration floor this morning.

In addition to these 1500 students, there were probably 300 more who did not get inside the registration building, according to Miss Jessie Machir, registrar of the college.

More than 350 new students were among those who enrolled yesterday. No doubt most of these are enrolled in the several short courses in agriculture and engineering which is indicative of a heavy enrollment in these classes.

A new system of handling the large body of students, which is always a problem on the first day of registration, was inaugurated yesterday. Instead of allowing the students to enter the registration floor in large numbers and cause a congestion which interferes with the efficiency of the registration officials, they were only allowed to enter in squads of fifty.

Are Out Early.

Aggieville lunch counters were doing a rushing business before 6 o'clock yesterday morning and the line of shivering Aggie students at the doors of Nichols gymnasium and the deans' offices had begun to grow rapidly.

Shortly before eight o'clock, when the doors of Nichols gymnasium were to open, there were several hundreds of students in line. A late start yesterday morning, however, handicapped the work of the assigners somewhat, but the work proceeded rapidly throughout the day.

A corps of special assigners is looking after the short course students, and everything on the big floor of the gymnasium is working smoothly and efficiently. Registration will proceed throughout the day and assignments by the regular staff of assigners will close this evening at 5:30.

Late comers and tardy arrivals will have to go through the slow process of getting their assignments at the window opposite the post office in main hall and pay the customary fine of one dollar.

LECTURE TO THE EASTERNERS.

K. S. A. C. Entomologists on Program at Meeting in New York.

The faculty of the Kansas State Agricultural college was well represented at the annual meeting of the American Association of Economic Entomologists in New York, December 28-30.

The following papers were read: "Results of Ten Years of Experimental Wheat Sowing to Escape the Hessian Fly," George A. Dean, professor of entomology; "Wind as a Factor in the Dispersion of the Hessian Fly," and "A Method for the Study of the Life-histories of Underground Insects," J. W. McCulloch, instructor in entomology; "Studies of the Life-history of Ligyris gibbosus DeG." William P. Hayes, assistant in entomology; "A Countrywide Survey to Determine the Effect of Time of Seeding and Presence of Volunteer Wheat Upon the Extent of Damage by the Hessian Fly," T. H. Parks, specialist in entomology; "Further Data of Relation Between Aphids and Fire Blight," Dr. J. H. Merrill, assistant professor of entomology.

Professor Dean and Mr. McCulloch were present at the meeting.

FOR A NEW K. S. A. C. BUILDING.

State Auditor Recommends New Wing for Denison Hall.

Recommendation for a new wing for the physics and electrical engineering department of the college was made by State Auditor W. E. Davis in his biennial report to the governor and state legislature.

He recommended an appropriation of $50,000 for the construction of an addition to Denison hall, used by the physics and electrical engineering department.

President H. J. Waters attended Governor Capper's inauguration at Topeka yesterday.

GOOD ADVICE.

It is a pretty good scheme in your joking to cut out the jests that are unkind, for the barbed kind of fun you are poking, some fellow will carry in mind; and a good many hearts have been broken, a good many hearts fond and true, by the words that were carelessly spoken just for a laugh or two.

"A CONEY ISLAND PRINCESS."

Irene Fenwick and Owen Moore take the leading parts in this comedy of Coney Island and Fifth avenue. It is safe to say that the work of Miss Fenwick in the impersonation of the title role of this story is the greatest in her career either for the stage or the screen. At the Wareham theatre this afternoon and evening.

"THE BORDER LINE."

Featuring Nell Craig and Edward Arnold in the leading roles. The "Border Line" has nothing to do with either the war on Mexican border, but is highly romantic and entertaining romance, verging on melo-drama, with a big surprise at the finish. At the Marshall Tuesday.

"PILLARS OF SOCIETY."

This story perforates our social fabric and shows its foundation of hypocrisy and double dealing. This is regarded as one of Henrik Ibsen's best works. Henry Walthall takes the leading role. At the Wareham theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening.

SELECT FIFTEEN BEAUTIES FOR 1917 ROYAL PURPLE

AN OUT OF TOWN COMMITTEE TO AID IN ELIMINATION PROCESS.

Five Girls Will Be Selected From Each Class—Each Sorority Will Have Representatives in the Contest.

Did you note that wicked, sardonic smile with which the features of Henry J. Adams have been inured since he returned for the first day of enrollment? The faithful cubs of the Collegian have been following him persistently in an effort to learn the secret of that smile, and yesterday morning, after a lengthy and patient interview, the manager of Royal Purple, '17, gave out the facts and details of a fastidiously conceived plan, which will perhaps bring more grief and sorrow to the campus than has been present for many a day.

In a word—Beauty Contest! An out of town committee, composed of some of the best connoisseurs of fine arts (and girls) will have a hand in the elimination contest. Whisper softly the names of those who are eliminated by this committee; and the agony and despair of those who are rejected by ballot is beyond estimation. This is the idea of the senior-college-graduate-to-be; surely he knows not what he do.

Five Girls from Each Class.

The names of the five girls who are selected from each class will be placed in the hands of the chairman of the beauty contest committee, which is Henry J. Adams himself, sometime in the near future. Each sorority will also have the privilege of selecting one representative to enter the contest.

The names—and photographs, (just about forgot the photographs and may the Good Spirit propagate the exacting smiles and coyly turned heads that are eagerly turned to the downtown snapshooters in the next few days) will be sent to the aforesaid committee who will proceed to eliminate about half of them, leaving a total of perhaps fifteen whose names will be listed in the beauty contest election.

Every cent from organization space, class dues, individual pictures, etc., that is paid before March 1, will count for one vote. The book tickets will also be out in about two weeks and these will also count on the beauty contest election.

Must Pay Up Back Dues.

It is planned to have the window opposite the post office open from the beginning of the third hour until the close of the sixth hour on every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday throughout the remainder of the winter term for the convenience of those who have assessments, back dues, organization space and all other business to be transacted with the class book staff of workers.

"All copy must be in by March 1," said Mr. Adams yesterday, "and we are going to ask all organizations to cooperate to that end so that we may have the book here not later than June 1. Mr. Wolf, uptown, will take all of the pictures, and dates with photographers should be kept promptly as that is one of the big causes for delay.

"We want lots of snappy snap shots, too, good live ones that will help to make the comic pages a real success. They have been coming in pretty good but we can use a lot more of them."

COLLEGE PURCHASES WILD HOG.

Animal Comes From New Hampshire and Cost $75.

Another wild hog has been purchased by the college to take the place of the one which killed himself when being moved to new quarters last fall.

The new animal comes from New Hampshire and will be used in continuing the breeding experiment which is being conducted by Professor Wentworth of the animal husbandry department. The purchase price was $75.

Miss Florence Smith, '15, is in her second year of teaching domestic science and art at Great Bend.

THE COLLEGIAN OFFERS PRIZES

Subscription to College Paper Will be Given to Those Ranking Highest in the Contest.

All students with journalistic aspirations will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their ability in open competition in the Collegian copy contest which opens at once.

The contest is primarily for journalism students, but any student who is taking work in the department is eligible. The student turning in the most copy for the Collegian, which is printed during the present term will receive a year's subscription to the Collegian, beginning April 1, 1917; second place, a six months subscription; and third place, a three months subscription.

There are four regulations governing the contest:

All copy must be typewritten. Printed copy must be clipped, pasted on No. 6 university note paper, and placed in the hands of Mr. Snow, instructor in journalism, before Saturday noon of each week.

Copies of the Collegian for such clippings will not be furnished.

The bulk of copy for Tuesday issue must be on the Collegian hook by 3:30 p. m. Saturday and for the Friday issues by 3:30 p. m. Wednesday.

NEW EQUIPMENT RECEIVED BY ENGINEERING DIVISION

Machinery Loaned to College by Manufacturing Concerns for Teaching and Research Work.

The division of engineering of the college was the recipient of a number of pieces of machinery, electrical and mechanical instruments during the holidays.

The electrical department was sent by the Automatic Telephone company of Chicago, manufacturers of automatic "girlless" telephones, $350 of equipment sufficient to demonstrate all the operations of an automatic telephone system. The Delco Lite company, manufacturers of farm lighting equipment, have donated an outfit which will arrive early this month. The Western Electric company also expect to have an outfit here during the winter term.

Other engineering laboratories have received the following equipment: one compound steam engine of 60 horse power capacity; one water dynamometer which will absorb 25 horse power. Many oil and traction engines have been received from various manufacturers. A new Cadillac automobile motor has been loaned to the college for investigation in connection with carburetors.

This machinery is loaned to the college for teaching and research purposes.

ANNOUNCE CLASS SCHEDULE.

Basketball Games to be Played January 23, 24, 25.

A class athletic schedule, including basketball and track contests has been announced by E. A. Bauer, in charge of intramural athletics. In the basketball schedule, each class will battle with each of the other three classes, the games to be played January 23, 24 and 25.

A sophomore-freshman track meet will be staged in the gymnasium February 3 and a general inter-class meet is on the card for February 10. Varsity men will eligible to compete in the latter contest.

TRACK CALL IS ISSUED.

Aggie Cinder Path Athletes Start Work for the Season.

A call for track athletes for the 1917 season was issued Wednesday by Coach "Germany" Schulz of the athletic department of the college. In his communication, Coach Schulz urged all candidates to meet him at his office and make arrangements for practice hours. He urges every athlete to turn out whether he was sure of a chance on the team or not in order that there would be an abundance of material from which to select an Aggie track team. Coach Schulz is anxious to have the athletes get down to work at once and make this one of the most successful track seasons the college has ever had.

Wm. J. Marshall, '14, will receive his degree in Theology in early spring from Boston university and expects then to return to Kansas.

PLAN ORATORICAL CONTEST FOR THE M. V. SCHOOLS

A PRIZE OF $100 TO BE GIVEN THE WINNER.

Drake University Will Pay Traveling Expenses of Orator and Faculty Representative from Each Institution.

Another clash between the Aggie orators is scheduled for the third or fourth week in March when the representative of the college to the Missouri Valley Oratorical contest, to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, April 30, will be selected.

This is the first oratorical contest between the state institutions of the Missouri Valley. The arrangements for the contest are being made by the Missouri Valley Conference of Governing Boards. Dr. J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking, has been appointed to the Board of Oratory of the conference and will assist in organizing the permanent rulings and methods of procedure at the meeting to be held at Des Moines in April.

Drake Pays Expenses.

A notable feature of the contest is the exceptional interest and enthusiasm which is inspired by the splendid example set by Drake University. Drake wishes the contest to be a permanent success and to that end she offers an inducement for every college and university of the valley to be represented in the first contest, by paying the traveling expenses of the orator representing each institution and also the member of the faculty representing each institution, on the Board of Oratory. A prize of $100 will be given the orator ranking first in the final contest.

"This is a contest which I am very glad to see forming," says Professor Emerson. "You will find that the state schools are developing a certain type of public speaking, influenced more or less by the fact that they are teaching students in vocational and professional courses, which is direct and convincing in style.

"The contest should mark a departure from what we have come to recognize in the conventional oratorical contests as the declamatory style of oratory. Happily, of course, the old line oratorical contests are getting more and more away from this old idea, but we should see an even further departure in such a contest between state schools."

GIRLS TO DEBATE WARRENSBURG

Two Contests Will be Held the First of Next Month.

The question chosen for the girls' Warrensburg, Mo., Normal debate, which will be held April 27, is, Resolved, that the Federal government should appoint a permanent commission to regulate the price of food stuffs.

The first debate of the winter term will be a men's dual debate with the Emporia Normal which will be held February 7. The subject of this debate is the compulsory arbitration of railroad disputes. This debating squad is making fine progress according to Don L. Bark, debate coach.

A women's dual debate will be held with Ottawa on February 9 at which time the question, Resolved, that the several states should adopt the unicameral system in the legislatures, will be discussed. The women's dual debate with Washburn will take place the first part of March, either the 2nd or 16th.

YALE MAKES GIFT TO COLLEGE.

Complete Set of Silliman Memorial

Lectures Given to Library.

A complete set of Silliman memorial lectures has just been received by the college library as a gift from the Yale university.

The set comprises ten bound volumes published at a price of $22.25, and includes several of the more notable contributions to science by Bateson, Verwor, Rutherford, Iddings, Nernst, Thompson, Arrhenius and others.

Mr. Wilbur S. Acton, '14, and Mrs. Acton are living on a large ranch near Arvilla, N. D.

K. S. A. C. ENGINEERS ARE IN GREAT DEMAND

THEY ARE SOUGHT BY MANY OF THE LARGE CONCERNS.

A Large Number of Graduates Now Have Good Positions—There is a Dearth of Electrical Engineers.

More positions are open for engineering graduates of the college than there are men to supply the demand. Especially is there a dearth of electrical engineers according to C. E. Reid, professor of electrical engineering.

"We have never experienced such a demand for electrical engineering graduates," says Mr. Reid. "Twice the number of men who are graduates from the electrical engineering department could be placed in good positions at this time.

"The latter part of October, J. S. Hagan, '16, now employed by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company at Pittsburg, Pa., was sent here by that company for a week's visit with the present class of senior engineers to interest them in the work of the Westinghouse Company, and also to get a line on the best men.

"A month later the secretary of the student employment committee of this company followed Mr. Hagan and talked with each member of the class individually. He will return sometime in February at which time he hopes to make definite arrangements with four or five of the engineers to take up work with the Westinghouse company.

Butcher Here.

"In the latter part of November, A. M. Butcher, an alumnus in electrical engineering, now employed by the Denver Gas and Electric company, stopped at the college and visited with the senior class a few days with the same purpose in view. Mr. Butcher was at this time being transferred to the gas field at Caney, Kan., at which place this company has a large plant and where they wish to give him training in the gas work.

"Mr. Butcher will be followed during the winter term by the representative of this company who will try to interest a number of the senior engineers in his work. The Denver Gas and Electric company is one of nearly 200 plants operated by the Doherty company, financiers of New York City. Every year they try to obtain a large number of young college men to train up for positions as superintendents and general managers of their many plants. W. C. Baxter, M. E., '16, is engineer in charge of the Southwest Central plant of the Doherty company.

"On January 15, George L. Usarman, E. E., '16, will be sent here by the General Electric company of Schenectady, N. Y., to visit with his former classmates and will try to interest them in the work of this company. The representative of the General Electric company will be here sometime in February."

Other Concerns Want Them.

The Western Electric company of Chicago has also written Professor Reid saying that their representative will be here in February or March to secure some of this year's graduates; and the Automatic Electric company of Chicago have just written that they would like to get two good men.

Seven of last year's engineering graduates are with the General Electric company, six with the Westinghouse company, and the alumni who are in the employ of the Western Electric company have given such satisfaction that that company desires to secure more engineers from K. S. A. C. The Doherty company has a number of K. S. A. C. graduates among whom is H. E. Butcher who has been transferred to Toledo, Ohio, where he has been placed in charge of extensive construction work of a railway owned by the Doherty syndicate.

Wayne Deming of Anthony, who was a student in college last year, visited in Manhattan during the holidays. He is planning to attend a technical school in Kansas City.

2535 STUDENTS ARE ENROLLED

There are 400 Short Course Men—An Increase of 50 Over Last Year.

Late last evening 2535 students had enrolled for the winter term, practically the same number as that of last year. With the stragglers who are expected to come in, it is expected that by the end of ten days, the figures of last year will have been exceeded.

The enrollment in the short courses has been unusually heavy. It is reported from the office of Dean A. A. Potter and Dean W. M. Jardine that the total enrollment of short course students has reached 460. The total enrollment in these courses last year was 410. Of those enrolled for these winter term courses, 250 are in the farmers and creamery classes and 210 are in the engineering classes.

Beginning Wednesday morning, each student enrolled was charged an extra fee of $1. At the end of the first ten days of the term, no enrollments will be accepted without special permission.

V. G. Hendrickson, C. E., '15, visited friends and relatives in Manhattan recently. Mr. Hendrickson is now employed on heavy construction work with the Union Pacific railroad in Utah.

THE BAND IS TO REMAIN SAYS CAPTAIN MATHEWS

To be a few Minor Changes in Instruction but Organization Will Not be Appreciably Changed.

"I would rather do without one battalion of the cadet corps than to do without the band," said Captain Mathews, commandant of the cadets, when asked if the college military band would be disbanded under the Federal law which has recently been passed by congress.

When the law was passed there was some talk that the band would be done away with. The law provides that military drill shall be compulsory for all able bodied men in land grant colleges. According to Captain Mathews a few minor changes may be made in the band instruction and the method of meeting but the organization will not be appreciably changed.

The University of Nebraska has given notice that the regimental band at that school may be disbanded after the first of February. Captain Mathews is lending his efforts to keep the band at K. S. A. C. as a military unit.

WILL GIVE CASH PRIZES.

College Plans $400 Awards for Exhibits of Farm Products.

Cash premiums aggregating $400 will be given for exhibits of corn, sorghums, wheat, potatoes, craft work, sewing, canned fruits and vegetables, and other home products shown by boys and girls at the agricultural college Farm and Home week, February 5 to 10.

In addition there will be prizes for special contests put on during the week, such as sewing on buttons, rope tying, rope splicing, identifying varieties of fruits and vegetables, and judging corn and live stock. The Kansas Bankers' association is supplying the money for these premiums. The exhibits will be under the supervision of Otis E. Hall, state club leader of the college.

DOG GIVES FIRE WARNING.

Big Barn at College Saved by Quick Action of Truck.

Straw in the loft of the large barn at the college caught fire about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night and the barn was saved only by the quick response of the city fire department, which was on the ground three minutes after the call was turned in.

The caretaker, who stays at the barn, became aware of the blaze when a Collie dog, which he keeps at the barn, made repeated trips to the loft and returned each time barking. The alarm was turned in and the fire truck soon arrived. There was no hydrant at which a hose connection could be made, so the 40-gallon chemical tank was used and the flames quickly extinguished. A large crowd of students was present and they assisted the firemen in removing the hay from the loft. The damage was slight.

PURPLE QUINTET SHOWS EXCELLENT TEAM WORK

FIRST GAME MAY BE A HARD-FOUGHT CONTEST.

Teamwork and Experience are the Main Objects Says Coach Clevenger—Not After Top-Heavy Score.

Aggies Washburn *
Reynolds If Whitehead *
Van Trine rf Dean *
Fullington c Trull *
Wells lg Stewart *
MacMillan (c) rg V. Nelson *

The Purple athletes of the Kansas Aggies will mix with the Blue performers from Washburn in the curtain raiser of the local basketball season tomorrow night. The Clevenger clan is doped an easy winner over the Ichabod quintet, but a reversal of form by the Topekan, following their disastrous 9 to 55 defeat at the hands of K. U. basketballers Wednesday night, might mean a close and hard-fought contest.

Practices during the past week have wonderfully improved the team-work of the Aggie goal-tossing squad, according to Coach Clevenger. The athletes have perfected a clock-like teamwork, and are proficient in the use of both the long and short pass...

The Lineup.

Reynolds and Van Trine will start the game at the forward positions, "Slim" Fullington will be found at the tip-off position and Captain MacMillan and Wells will hold down the defensive jobs, according to a lineup announced by Clevenger yesterday. Although these athletes will compose the regular five, the Aggie mentor hopes to use every one of the 12 men who composed the first-string. Knothman, who has been close on the heels of Fullington at center, Wooster and Clark, substitute guards and Cushman and Kecker, who are runners-up for the goal-tossing positions, will enter the game if the score permits.

"We are not out to trim the Topekan by a larger score than did Kansas," says the Aggie athletic director. "Our objects in this game are teamwork and experience, and we are willing to sacrifice a top-heavy score to attain them."

Tomorrow evening's game will commence at 7:30 o'clock. The contest will be played in Nichols gymnasium. Season books and reserved seats will be on sale at the door. A portion of the north bleachers and all the end bleachers have not been reserved, and will be open.

ASK FOR TRAINING CORPS.

Graduates Are Eligible as Reserve Officers.

A request has been made of the United States War department by President H. J. Waters and Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant, for the establishment of a reserve officers training corps at this college. One infantry unit, and an engineers' company for the senior division, and one infantry unit for the junior division, to include men in the school of agriculture, have been asked for.

The signal corps, as a unit, will be disbanded, according to Captain Mathews, as it is not possible to secure permission for the establishment of such a unit in the reserve officers training corps.

Graduates of the college who have completed the required amount of drill are eligible as reserve officers upon application to the war department. Captain Mathews recently received a letter from the commandant of the United States marine corps saying that he would commission, upon the recommendation of the commandant and the president of this college, any recent graduate between the ages of 21 and 25 who could pass the physical examination. No mental examination would be required.

Fred Farquhar, holder of the Missouri Valley one-mile record, was in Manhattan during the holidays visiting his sister, who is attending college. Mr. Farquhar ran the mile in 4.22 2-5 in 1912.

WARNING TO STUDENTS.

C. M. Selver, college physician, has issued a warning to all college students regarding contagious diseases. In this warning, Dr. Selver urges the students to take every precaution to prevent the spread of an epidemic. His statement is as follows:

"During vacation you have been to different parts of the country, and the chances are that some of you, unknown to yourself, may have come in contact with some of the contagious diseases. If so, it is possible that you will develop one of such diseases in the near future. For this reason I ask you to use the greatest possible precaution to prevent the spread of such contagion among us. You can best do this by watching yourself very carefully for any change from normal, and if you notice the least change do not take chances on coming to school, moving around at your rooming house, or allowing students to visit you until you know for sure what the trouble is. In this way you may save us from some epidemic and also save much time for your fellow students. It is much better that you lose one day of school, than that many students lose from ten to thirty days each."

A large number of contagious diseases have been reported in the state this fall, and it is more than likely that with students here from practically every county in the state, some have come from localities where these diseases occurred. In view of the fact that an outbreak of some epidemic always works a hardship on all concerned, each student owes it to himself as well as to his fellow students to take every precaution possible and heed Dr. Selver's warning.

AGGIE BASKETBALL.

Good Aggie basketball material plus superior Aggie coaching—does not this lineup augur a Missouri valley championship troupe of Aggie basketballers for the season of 1917? A careful examination of the chances of the Purple five in this season's championship chase reveals to Aggie dopesters that the team which wins the race will have to conquer the Aggies, for all indications point to an even stronger quintet than that which last year took second place among the valley schools and lost only to Nebraska and Missouri.

Coaching this year's five is one of the best basketball mentors in the middle west, a man who starred on an Indiana goal tossing aggregation, and who for the past three years coached a Tennessee team of basketballers which lost but four games in three years, and none in the last year. Clevenger has undoubtedly boosted Aggie stock high in the conference, and should he bring about as great improvement in basketball as he did in football, followers of the indoor sport wish to know what valley five will be able to humble the Purple five?

A Missouri valley forward, a second valley guard, two letter men and six star performers from last year's yearling squad, are proof that Clevenger will find no dearth of material.

WASTED OPPORTUNITY.

In the Kansas State Agricultural College, 55 per cent of the men and 24 per cent of the women students were self-supporting last year and most of the others were partly self-supporting or practicing economy.

The president of Leland Stanford University says that experience there has shown that the poor boy has, on the whole, made a better record both as a student and afterwards. He has sent a letter to parents of all the students of Leland Stanford, pointing out the handicap of wealth to a student, particularly if he is allowed to spend it freely.

The poor boy has to start at the bottom and is encouraged with even slow progress. People expect too much at the beginning from the rich boy, and he is discouraged and others think him a failure when he does not do big things from the word go. He is apt to attempt too much and do too little, to build on top and then get discouraged and stop trying his best.

As much of a handicap as lack of means is, wealth often a stumbling block harder to get around. All of which is a reminder that there is a boy on nearly every farm in Doniphan county who is wasting much of his time through the winter, when he might just as well as not take some of the short courses at the agricultural college. But only one now and then ever does.—Wathena Times.

THE COLLEGE SPORT.

A stranger on any college campus will behold a certain species roaming at large which, at first glance is often taken for a picture, but if more closely examined will reveal life.

This particular individual may be described as follows—latest style hat, form fitting suit and overcoat, cigarette in one corner of the mouth, and usually conspicuous horn rimmed glasses on his nose. He is found in every college and university, and he is as liable to be a senior as a freshman, the only difference between the more advanced college sport and the new one being that the former is beyond any last hope of redemption.

He is entirely devoid of any college spirit, or any desire to mingle with the "common herd" of students who are doing things in school athletics, politics, or any other activities, not to speak of studies. His chief study is the comparison of cork-tips, and his activity the pleasing of the vain but-terflies who inhabit certain places known as sorority houses along with a lot of fine young women.

This noble man of ease is the college sport, and his bearing and attitude often inspire the casual observer to seize a plank and pat him on the head.—Daily Kansan.

YOUR WORD

How much is it worth? That is the question that was asked of your father, and your father's father—back to the time of the beginning of language.

That is the question friends, teachers and employers are asking of you today. The home folks know the value of your word—the knowledge may be a comfort or it may give uneasiness—there is usually room for improvement in the majority of cases. None of us has yet reached a state of perfection. We do not pretend to be models of accuracy and promptness in all things. We slip frequently on the pavement of progress.

When you say a thing, do you mean it? A slip after a good intention is not so dangerous as a long skid down a slope of wrong endeavor, or no endeavor at all.

Are you always in the place where you say you will be at the appointed time?

Do you always do what you say you will do?

Minor little points, these—but they either get you there—or nowhere. To "arrive" means either up or down, success, or failure—it's the direction that counts.

"AMBISH."

It has been said that the men who do real earnest constructive thinking more than 82 minutes per week, are the exceptional beings. That's considerably less than 15 minutes per 24 hours.

There is need of more thinking. The main trouble is lack of head work. There are only three things that are necessary to insure success in life. They are ambition, work and intelligence. Every man out of the state institutions has been endowed with plenty of brains; all he has to do is to use them. Then real work will bring results in terms of fulfilled ambition. But here's one fellow whose "ambish" has evaporated like gasoline on a summer day. There's another who has developed a full grown yawn and "Ho hum, well, I'd done" good for any hour of the day. And some other hopeful has forgotten that the main function of the cranium is to hold brains, not bats. Then we wonder why the world is full of mediocrity.—The Observer.

"Shay, m'fren, I have been arguing on a question which I want you to divide for us. Is that planet up there the sun or the moon."

"M'fren, I can't shay. I'm a stranger in town.—Sphinx.

"It's a long corridor that has no ultimate termination," remarked the absent-minded professor, as he padded patiently around in a revolving door.—Minnelaha.

Odds and Ends

Mary had a little cold,
That started in her head,
And everywhere that Mary went,
That cold was sure to spread.
It followed her to school one day,
(There wasn't any rule.)
It made the children cough and sneeze

To have that cold in school.
The teacher tried to drive it out;
She tried hard, but—ker-choo,
It didn't do a bit of good,
For teacher caught it too.

Jimmy giggled when the teacher read the story of the man who swam the Tiber three times before breakfast.

"You do not doubt that a trained swimmer could do that, do you?"

"No sir," answered Jimmie, "but I wonder why he did not make it four and get back to the side where his clothes were."

Chemistry.

Here's Ho! For life in the Chem Lab.
A glorious life and free,
You reek with the odors of H<sub>2</sub>S,
And the fumes of NH<sub>3</sub>.

You first choke up with Chlorine,
You strangle with phosphur dust,
You wade on thru with Experiment 2,
Till your head is fit to bust.

O! Life in the Chem Lab is jolly,
With its Acids and Bases and Salts
With our heads in the fume, we work in the gloom,

But we love it with all its faults.
Take a flask 1-2 full of HCL,
Add to this a few grains of Zinc,
Your neighbor comes near with a lighted match.

Your feet hit the ceiling Blink!
Blink!

Take a few grains of phosphorus-yellow,
Add to this KNO<sub>3</sub>.

With the help of a jolt from a neighboring bolt,
Your Heavenly Father you see,
You take a pinch of Sodium,
Weigh your breakers and bottles and then

Let Na drop in a moistening spot,
And do it all over again.

Here's Ho! To life in the Chem Lab:
Sad words, "it might have been."
You take a drink of H<sub>2</sub>O,
And discover 'tis KCN.

Don't worry. Though we be demoted
Or flunk in the course as given,
We'll carry our breakers right on thru.

And finish the course in Heaven.
—Utah.

BROKE

Written after our Registration Days are over.

I am broke, broke, broke,
In this cold gray town, oh gee,
And I would that my pen could scribble

The thoughts that arise in me.
Ah well, for the registrar
As he tells what I have to pay

Ah well, for the treasurer
As he takes in the chink all day.

And the precious plunks roll on
To settle the tuition bill.

But oh for the sight of the vanished word
And the sound of the chink that is still.

Broke, broke, broke,
At the end of the rope, oh me,
For the pleasant thought of a wallet that's full

Will never come back to me.

—Nebraska Wesleyan

BRAYLESS MULES ARE ANOTHER WAR PRODUCT

Animals Set to the Front are Deprived of Their Powers of Vocal Expression.

"A boat without a rudder
A ship without a sail;
But the funniest thing—is a development of the war—a mule without his sonorous bray. The war has brought about the shipment of large numbers of American mules to the countries at war, where they are the most useful of all animals for hauling heavy loads.

But their habit of braying, wantonly and unprovoked, was the cause of considerable inconvenience and brought about a desire for the development of brayless mules. War moves too swiftly to allow long drawn out experiments by the burlbanks, and so the expert veterinarians were called in to see if they could remedy this defect which would make it possible to use mules to the best advantage.

The veterinary experts discovered after a little experimentation that a slight operation on the nostril had the desired effect. All the mules that are sent to the front are now made mute by this process, and the yearning exclamations of many mule hearts for the waving wheat and rustling corn fields of the western states can only be expressed by a long drawn out sigh of discontent.

AS THEY NOW STAND

Brazelton Still Leads in Industrialist Contest.

J. S. Brazelton, senior in the general science division, still leads in the industrialist contest which is being conducted by the journalism department. Mr. Brazelton has had 113 column inches printed in the college paper.

W. T. White ranks second with 107.5 column inches to his credit, and E. M. Oxley third with 106.5 column inches. Zenith Mullen, Georgiana Burt and G. M. Nelson take fourth, fifth and sixth places respectively, each having more than 70 column inches published in the Industrialist.

No copy was accepted after the close of the fall term, however the contest will not close until January 31, so that there may be some change in the standing of the contestants when the prizes are finally awarded.

Better Than West Point.

Of the five honor graduates at Fort Monroe last year not one was a West Pointer, which causes an old West Point army officer to express his sense of humiliation. The majority of the candidates were graduates of West Point and Annapolis, yet graduates of civilian institutions took the honors. The first honor man, by the way, is Lieut. Bender, a graduate of Kansas Agricultural college.

J. J. Marshall has returned from a business trip to Kansas City.

JOURNALISM BULLETINS POPULAR

Two of the Series Have Been Published.

The journalism bulletins which are being published by the college have elicited much favorable comment, and a number of inquiries concerning them according to Professor N. A. Crawford, head of the journalism department.

K. S. A. C. is the first institution in the United States to publish a series of bulletins on farm papers. Two bulletins of the series have been published this fall. The first one was an address given by President Waters on the work of the editor of the farm paper.

The last bulletin contains articles written by H. M. Zeigler, a graduate of the college and now associate editor of the Farm and Fireside; E. N. Wentworth, professor of animal breeding in the college and formerly associate editor of the Breeders' Gazette; Charles Dillon, now with the Capper publications, and formerly the head of the journalism department in the college; and C. C. Younggreen, vice president and business manager of the Kansas Farmer.

It is planned to make the publication of these bulletins by the college a permanent feature.

BRINK TO CLEVELAND NEWS.

Last Year's Graduate Gets Good Position on Ohio Paper.

Wellington T. Brink, journalism '16, who has been employed on the editorial staff of the Topeka State Journal since early fall, recently accepted a similar position with the Cleveland News at a considerable increase in salary.

Mr. Brink, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. C. M. Brink, will move to Cleveland in a short while, where they have made arrangements for apartments convenient to the former's work.

While in college Mr. Brink evidenced his ability as a writer and many of his productions had a wide circulation in the papers of the state. An editorial entitled "Pink Philosophy" which played up the beauty of possible color blending when the more staple dyes were not available, was copied by many of the larger dailies.

Mr. Brink is a member of the Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, and was an active student in college organizations including the Hamilton literary society and the Oratorical board.

GIRLS NEED A PRACTICE HOUSE.

Should Have One in Which to do Real Housekeeping.

A practice house in which girls may do real housekeeping is badly needed at the Kansas State Agricultural college, in the opinion of Miss Margaret Haggart, professor of domestic science in the home economic division.

"Practice houses are used for purely educational purposes and not for living," said Miss Haggart who recently spent several weeks investigating institutional work in colleges, universities and hospitals. "Several of the best colleges have cottages where a group of girls spend from four days to two weeks under the supervision of a teacher doing the real work of a home. Among the valuable lessons that may be learned by this method are those that pertain to standards of living and to standards of foods."

WANT SHORT COURSE FOR YETS.

Graduates May be Given Series of Lectures.

At the recent meeting of the State Veterinary Medical association a committee was appointed to confer with Dr. H. J. Waters of the agricultural college and the state board of administration to see if a short course for graduate veterinarians can be given at the college, according to Dr. J. J. Burt, secretary of the society. Dr. Burt suggested that a course of 10 days or two weeks, with prominent lecturers, might be given. The membership of the association now numbers 200 and it is expected that the future meetings, to be held at the college, will prove a big feature.

KANSANS IN OREGON MEET.

Annual Gathering of Agricultural College Alumni Held at Portland.

The fourth annual meeting of the alumni of Kansas State Agricultural college, in Portland, Ore., was held recently with 39 members present. A business meeting, a musical program, a social hour and refreshments, were features of one of the most successful meetings that the association has held.

W. W. Lawton, who was graduated from the agricultural college about 19 years ago, and who has been prominent in the organization of the alumni body in Portland, presided at the meeting. Mrs. E. C. Joss was elected president for 1917. E. C. Thayer was made vice president and A. E. Lawson secretary.

Dr. E. S. House left Wednesday afternoon for Wichita on business.

COSTUMES TO BE SHOWN IN FARM AND HOME WEEK

Domestic Art Classes to Make Exhibit of Wool Dresses and Evening Gowns.

Among the exhibits that will be on display Farm and Home Week at the Kansas State Agricultural college, are a number of costumes made by the classes in advanced and wool dressmaking.

"We are proud of the work that has been accomplished by these classes," said Mrs. Bessie Webb Birdsall, professor of domestic art in the college. "In the designing and selection of material, the girls have shown individuality and close application to principles learned in costume and design, color and design, and all subjects that come in the course previous to this advanced work."

The classes in advanced dressmaking are completing evening gowns which are real creations in silk, chiffon, crepe de chine, and silk net. The students drafted their own patterns and designed the dresses. The individuality in choosing the style best adapted to each person, as well as appropriate materials and colors, shows personality and taste. Embroidery designs in beading, chenille, and silk floss are worked on the gowns in pretty and original designs. Wool dressmaking will display afternoon and street costumes. These show originality in design.

"The average cost of the evening dresses, not including time spent in making, is from $15 to $18. They could not be purchased at a shop for less than $30 or $35. The afternoon and street dresses cost, the girls from $12 to $15 and the same garment would retail for $25 to $30."

STRENGTHEN THE WORK IN D. A.

Students Make Articles Useful to Them Individually.

Plans carried out this year have strengthened the work in domestic art in the school of agriculture, according to Miss Mildred French, in charge of that department in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

"The problems have been changed so that not only are the underlying principles learned but interest is aroused through the making of useful articles which more closely meet the needs of the individuals," said Miss French.

"There has been a close correlation between the sewing classes and the classes in color and design, textiles, and chemistry, and the application of the principles learned in each has created greater interest and brought out individuality in the students."

"The beginning classes this term showed their originality and close application to principles taught, by designing and drafting aprons. These aprons are no common white garments, with lace and ruffles, such as have been worn by women for generations past, but are original in design and taste and personality are displayed from the selection of the material to the blending of harmonious colors and embroidery designs. The girls applied the principles they learned in color and design as well as in domestic art in fashioning the aprons."

These aprons, together with work from the other classes, will be on display in the home economics building Farm and Home week, February 5 to 10.

WOULD TEACH THE PRISONERS.

Home Study Department Has Requests From Many Institutions.

Kansas occupies the unique position of being the only state that extends its educational system to include the inmates of its prisons. Knowing this Z. T. Trumbo, associate superintendent of the Illinois state reformatory at Pontiac, Ill., visited the agricultural college seeking aid for the institution of which he has charge.

The Illinois state reformatory has 1,600 boys between the ages of 16 and 25. Fourteen trades are open to the inmates and 500 acres of land are worked. The industrial exhibit from this reformatory was awarded the gold medal at the Panama Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915.

Mr. Trumbo, who has been connected with the institution for eight years, has come to realize that the boys should have scientific training as well as trade practice. Mr. Trumbo made the trip to Kansas to observe the work in the state penitentiary at Lansing and also in the federal prison at Leavenworth and to secure, if possible, the same service for the institution over which he has charge.

Five other states have asked similar aid for their penal institutions. In view of this great demand the home study department through its director, M. G. Burton, is asking that the service already in use in the state be extended to similar institutions outside the state.

A group of the large beauty chorus of Broadway singers and dancers to be seen in the famous musical play, "THE BLUE PARADISE" which, direct from a whole year's run in New York, will be the attraction at the MARSHALL THEATRE, Thursday, January 18th.

"A WOMAN ALONE."

Miss Alice Brady, who was so enjoyed here on her recent appearance in "Bought and Paid For," has even greater opportunities for displaying her unusual ability, in this production. At the Wareham theatre this afternoon and tonight.

MAN HAS NO AGE LIMIT SAYS M. U. PRESIDENT

HIS VALUE CEASES ONLY WHEN HE STOPS THINKING.

Dr. Ross Hill Advocates More Research Work in Colleges—Students Should Learn Practical Application of Scientific Principles.

"A man who at the age of 65 years is still thinking for himself is worth more than ever, while the man who at the same age has ceased making new ideas for himself is worse than useless," said Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the University of Missouri, who delivered the opening address of the winter term of the college Wednesday morning.

Doctor Hill gave a scholarly and pointed discussion of the subject, "Vocational Education of College Grade." Insisting that all education of college grade was essentially vocational, he traced the history of higher education and showed its vocational character at all periods.

Earliest Universities Vocational.
The oldest European university, that of Salerno, was established, he pointed out, for the study of medicine, the University of Bologna, the most ancient educational institution still in existence, was founded to teach law, while the universities of Paris and Oxford were instituted to present theology and scholastic philosophy. Early American colleges were founded, the speaker stated, to train men for the ministry in the new country. Vocational education of college grade, President Hill declared, must be scientific, investigative, and humanitarian. He emphasized the fact that the scientific training must be accompanied by practical application if it is to bring the desired results. Students must be trained he said to think concretely.

The value of investigative work was clearly pointed out by the speaker, who showed that the learning process was necessarily a process of investigation.

Every Teacher an Investigator.
"It has been urged by some," said Doctor Hill, "that too much attention is given in American colleges to research, that we need more good teachers and fewer investigators. But the person not engaged in investigation is not thinking. It is true that there has been a great deal of pedantic investigation, but that should not discredit the work of the investigator, who makes real ideas for himself and then stimulates his students to make ideas for themselves. I look forward to the time, not when there will be fewer investigators in educational institutions, but when every teacher will be an investigator."

Doctor Hill urged a culture based on humanitarian ideals. Vocational education has tended, he said, to be individualistic. Its development along socialized lines, he pointed out, would promote a culture fully as valuable as that produced by any other means.

SHEEP WILL PASTURE THE PARK.

Animals From College to Keep Down Grass Next Summer.

In order to keep down the grass and dandelions in the city park the city commission at its meeting Wednesday afternoon, gave the animal husbandry department of the college permission to pasture its sheep on the park grounds next summer. The college estimates that the sheep last summer saved expense of mowing the campus amounting to $600. The sheep destroy all dandelions, seeming to have a particular taste for them. They also keep the grass cropped short.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURE COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1917.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

MOVING PICTURES AT THE AUDITORIUM

"WILDCAT FOLLIES" TO BE STAGED SATURDAY NIGHT

A FIVE-ACT FARCE PUT ON BY LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Each Act Complete in Itself—The Fourth All-College Entertainment Promises to be a Spicy and Lively Affair.

Stupendous, magnificent, bigger and better than ever, is the sentiment voiced in regard to the intersociety farce entitled the "Wildcat Follies," which is to be given at the college auditorium Saturday night, January 20.

This is the fourth year that the college literary societies, through cooperative effort, have furnished an all-college entertainment of some sort, and which has always been a success. The first entertainment of this sort was entitled the "Persimmon Scandal" and was in the form of a mock trial. A prominent college professor was the defendant in the case.

The next year a play entitled "Jimmy in Wonderland" was staged. The play was a "take off" on popular students and faculty members. Last year the farce was in the form of a political convention.

A Five-Act Farce. This year the farce is divided into five parts, each part or act being complete in itself. The first on the program is a one-act comedy entitled "Advertising for a Husband." The second is a stunt entitled "The Evolution of the College Butterfly" and is put on by the girls exclusively. Then comes a humorous debate. A Collegian reporter was not able to learn how the question was stated, but the assurance was given that it would be a "peppy," spicy affair.

Then comes the "Hobo Convention" which, it is whispered, will be uproariously funny. And last, but not least, will be a minstrel show with its full quota of singers and five end men with a whole bagful of up-to-date nuts to crack. Stunts and sideshows will be special features between acts, one of which will be L. E. (Whistling) Burton.

To Be Funny and Lively.

"It is a farce which will be funny and lively," says W. A. Wunsch, chairman of the intersociety farce committee. "The 'Evolution of a College Butterfly' will be very artistic. Nothing like it has ever been shown here before. The hobo convention is original and will be put on in real hobo style; and the debate will display real, elevating humor."

Tickets, the price of which are 25 cents per, may be bought of society members. Tickets may also be purchased at the window opposite the post office in main hall Thursday. There are no reserved seats. The doors of the auditorium will be opened at 7:30 Saturday evening.

NEW BULLETINS IN LIBRARY.

Pamphlets Treat on the Uses of Concrete.

Pamphlets on the uses of concrete issued by the Portland Cement association, Chicago, have been added to the collection of references on building at the college library.

These pamphlets were written by competent engineers experienced in concrete work and contain practical information which will be of assistance to those engaged in concrete construction and others who are contemplating the use of cement in making permanent, economical and fire-proof improvements about their home.

Among the subjects that are treated in detail are the following: Concrete highways, concrete sewers, concrete swimming and wading pools, farmers' handbook on concrete construction, Portland cement stucco.

Blake Is Doing Survey Work.

The civil engineering department is in receipt of a letter from Charley H. Blake, '13, in which he states that during the past two years he has surveyed about 130 sections of land located in seven different townships, dividing each section into 16 legal subdivisions, taking rough topography of each of the subdivisions. He is now preparing to move onto another allotment of 80 additional sections which he hopes to complete by September of this year.

HAVE A NEW HONOR SYSTEM

"M" is now Taken as the Zero Medium—"P" Detracts 5 from the Total Honor Points.

A new system of computing honor points which will considerably raise the standard of honor students has been put into practice in the registrar's office.

Under the old system of computation, a passing grade was considered as the zero medium and only grades which were actually below passing were considered as minus quantities. M grade is now taken as the zero medium and each grade which is only passing will detract 5 from the total of honor points.

The score of honor points for the other grades will remain the same, so that the grades of students will be counted as follows in the determination of honor students: E, 2; G, 1; M, 0; P, -5; C, -1; F, -2.

DAIRY ASSOCIATION MEETS AT COLLEGE FEBRUARY 7

To be Held in Connection With Farm and Home Week—Strong Program Announced.

A strong program has been announced for the annual meeting of the Kansas State Dairy association which will be held at the agricultural college February 7 in connection with Farm and Home week. The speakers will include F. B. Hills, publicity man for the American Guernsey Cattle club; and John B. Irwin of Minneapolis, who will give his experience in breeding Holsteins.

Dr. L. W. Goss, professor in pathology in the college, will speak on "Some Common Diseases of Dairy Cattle." Theodore Macklin, instructor in rural economics, will discuss "Profitable Methods of Marketing Butter Fat."

Mr. Irwin is one of the best known breeders of Holstein cattle in the United States, and a director of the Holstein-Friesian association. He is owner of Duchess Skylark Ormsby, the world's record dairy cow of all breeds who has produced 27,761 lbs. of milk and 1,205 pounds of butter fat in a year.

A dairy butter, market milk, and creamery exhibit and contest will be held in connection with the meeting. Those desiring particulars should write to Prof. J. B. Fitch, Manhattan, for application blank in the devision desired.

MATTSON IS MAKING GOOD.

Is Traveling Salesman for Louden Machinery Company.

Ivar Mattson, ex-'17, who left school at the close of his sophomore year to accept a position as agricultural development agent with the Argentine Central Railway company of Argentina, South America, and who for the past year has been traveling salesman for the Louden Machinery company of Philadelphia, has recently received a considerable increase in salary and preferred territory.

Mr. Mattson's territory includes some of the best counties in the central Atlantic states where intensive agriculture is practiced. He writes to a friend that his work is very satisfactory and congenial and that he is coming to think of it as permanent.

Mr. Mattson was a student in agriculture and economics while enrolled in the college. He was an active student in literary and constructive activities of the college, including an economic survey of Manhattan's meat and milk supply.

PHYSICAL TRAINING POPULAR.

Dancing is Most Desired Form of Recreation.

More interest is being shown in physical training by the women of the college than has been shown at any time previous according to Miss Ethel Loring, assistant in physical training for women. The enrollment is heavier this term than it has ever been and every class in the courses offered by the department was full before registration closed.

The system of instruction for this term has also been changed somewhat. Instead of the customary three hours for physical training, only two days are taken for the regular drilling exercises. On the third day the classes are given their choice of basketball, folk dancing, or aesthetic dancing. The latter proves to be the most popular of the optional classes.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES

SELECT THEIR OFFICERS

WINTER TERM OFFICIALS WERE CHOSEN SATURDAY NIGHT.

A Number of the Societies Make a Complete Change in Their Roster of Officers—Some Plan for Entertainments.

Saturday night the college literary societies met and elected officers for the winter term. A complete change was made in the official roster of most of these organizations. Important questions concerning the societies were discussed, and some of the organizations made plans for their winter term entertainments.

Following is a list of the officers elected by the different societies.

Dr. C. W. McCampbell, assistant professor of animal husbandry, will return this week from Urbana, Ill., where he has been lecturing.

AGGIES BEAT ICHABODS

BY A SCORE OF 71-5

CENTER POSITION NO LONGER A CAUSE OF WORRY.

Aggie Defense Holds Topekans Scoreless During the First Twenty Minutes of Play—Team Shows Clock-Like Teamwork.

The Kansas Aggies have a basketball quintet that is headed for the Missouri valley championship. That fact became apparent to 1,200 Aggie rooters Saturday night when the Clevenger clan displayed a clock-like team work and a highly developed offensive and defensive that branded them as the best Purple troupe of goal-tossers that has ever appeared on Nichols floor. Quite incidentally, the Washburn Ichabods of Topeka, were the victims of a 71 to 5 slaughter.

Captain MacMillan and Wells opened the eyes of the basketball critics by holding the Topekans scoreless during the first 20-minute period of play. Rarely did the Ichabod forwards have possession of the ball within the Aggie danger zone. Even when a long pass or a pretty Washburn dribble had played the ball past the middle of the floor, the defenders of the Purple goal lost little time in breaking up the play. Not until three minutes had elapsed in the second half was an Ichabod able to elude the Aggie guards for the first Washburn field goal.

Washburn Defense Weak.
Reynolds and Van Trine easily swept past the feeble defense of the Topekans, piling up Purple points with regularity. Van Trine's goal-shooting eye was not as accurate as usual, but he was an efficient cog in the floor machinery of the Clevenger troupe.

If the center position has been causing the Aggie mentor to worry, that feeling was probably dispelled by the playing of "Slim" Fullington. The lanky Purple tip-off man corralled 12 baskets in the brief 25 minutes he was in the combat.

The Aggie rush was slow to commence, but once attaining momentum, was even more difficult to be stopped. In the last ten minutes of the first period the Purple team-work reached its height, and the half ended with Washburn on the short end of a 1 to 59 score. The Washburn field goal in the opening minutes of the second period evidently had a bracing effect on "Slim" Fullington, for four successive throws from the hands of the Aggie tip-off man caromed off the back-board down through the iron ring for eight Purple points.

Second String In.
With the insertion of an entire second team, Aggie followers looked for a let-up in the play of the Clevenger men. But Clark and Wooster, Knostman and Wheden and Cushman and Kecker succeeded so well in keeping up to the pace of the regulars that a 71 to 5 lead had been accumulated when the time-keeper's gun ended the tussle.

The refereeing of "Lefty" Sproull, who has often worn the Crimson and Blue of K. U. in floor battles with Aggie quintets, ranked him with "Ernie" Quigley as a basketball official. Come again "Lefty."

BANQUET FOOTBALL HEROES

Dr. Willhoit Presents Each Player with a Gold Emblem Symbolic of Championship Tie.

Gold footballs symbolic of the tie with Nebraska university for the championship in the Missouri valley football conference were presented to the members of the Aggie team by Dr. J. C. Willhoit at a banquet given at his home January 13. Nineteen footballs were given out, including one to each of the coaches. Upon the emblems are engraved the name of the person and the words, "Tie-Mo-Vall-ley."

Doctor Willhoit is a prominent practitioner in the city and a most loyal supporter to the Aggie football team. Rarely a day passes during the season that he cannot be found looking over the team at practice. Being an old player himself Doctor Willhoit seldom misses the chance of seeing a contest of the great college game.

BOARDING CLUBS REDUCE H. C. L. FOR THE STUDENTS

These Organizations are Becoming More Popular as the Prices of Food Stuffs Rise.

With the price of the new food for dessert, navy beans served with mayonnaise dressing, steadily advancing and the Irish staple aspiring to the list of delicacies, boarding clubs are becoming more popular among the students of the college.

The h. c. l. has given an added impetus to the formation of these organizations which is unprecedented in the history of the school. With the opening of the winter term several new clubs have come into existence and started their tables with full membership.

The plan of organization includes a fee of five or ten dollars with which the club kitchen is supplied with such luxuries as eggs, bacon, potatoes, navy beans, and prunes together with the actual necessary staples.

Once a week the steward of the club invoices the stock and determines the expenses of the club for the week. Purchases amounting to between fifty and one hundred dollars are negotiated on buying day. One enterprising steward recently purchased a full grown porker, the male members of the club taking a half day off to butcher and work up the by-products.

The membership of the clubs averages about twenty-five and with but one or two exceptions consist of both men and women. There are four such clubs in one block with a total membership of more than one hundred.

NOTE STANDS NOT APPROVED

Of This Therefore Woodrow is Hereby Made Cognizant.

The senior class of the Kansas State Agriculture college, in official session assembled; voted, by a small majority, to not approve the note which Woodrow Wilson is now preparing to send to the Allies.

The measure was brought before assembly in the manner of a confidence vote by the Honorable W. N. Caton of St. George. Objections were raised and consideration of the motion delayed by the Honorable L. A. Dubbs who wished to have explained what note was referred to.

The enthusiasm of the mob was lessened accordingly and when President Kenyon had restored order and brought the question before the house, the vote by acclamation was evidently in favor of the negative.

SHORT COURSE ENJOY MIXEL

More Than 250 Men Attended the Y. M. Party.

More than 250 of the short course men of the college attended the mixer given for them by the Y. M. C. A. Friday night at the association building.

Some of the features of the evening were the initiation of the new men into the mysteries of "strong man," "hot hand" and blind man boxing. Several relay races were run and a general good time enjoyed by all.

The second year men became acquainted with the new men and the new men met other new men. A welcome was extended to all the short course men to come to the Y. M. C. A. while they are here.

WILL SHOW WAR FILMS

TOMORROW AFTERNOON

THE ENTERTAINMENT IS FREE TO EVERYBODY.

"Our American Boys in the European War" is Title of Film Which Shows Work of the Americans on War Fronts.

An interesting series of films entitled "Our American Boys in the European war" will be shown at the College auditorium Wednesday, January 17, at 3:30 p. m. The entertainment is free to all, and both students and townspeople are cordially invited to see these remarkable pictures.

An American ambulance field service in France is maintained by private subscription. Many prominent Americans are identified with this organization, and are showing these pictures in all parts of the country to arouse and maintain interest in this work. The organization has the official support of the French government, and has been given unusual facilities and privileges in the taking of the pictures. Many of the American boys who are engaged in ambulance service in France have been honored with medals for bravery and distinguished service.

Relatively few people know of this organization and the humane work it is doing to mitigate the horrors of trench warfare. Press notices concerning these films wherever shown are very commendatory.

The spring term of last year, and during the summer school session moving pictures were the features of several chapel programs. The programs always met with universal approval, and were a decided success.

Y. M. C. A. IS AFTER MEMBERS.

Students will be Given an Opportunity to Join Tomorrow.

All day Wednesday, January 17, the members of the cabinet and committees of the Y. M. C. A. will see other students and give them an opportunity to join the association and get into the work which the association is doing.

At present there are only 346 members among the 1600 men enrolled in college. Many men have not had this matter brought to their attention and others who have intended to join have neglected it.

A meeting of the workers will be held Wednesday evening at 9:30 at the Y. M. when all will report what they have done. A general report will be made to the students in next week's paper.

A FORMER STUDENT DIES.

Letha Marshall Succumbs to Tuberculosis at Denver.

The funeral of Miss Letha Marshall, a former student, who died of tuberculosis at Denver, Colo., Thursday noon, was held at the Methodist church at three o'clock Monday afternoon. Mr. John Anderson, '11, and Mrs. Ethel Marshall Anderson, '14, of Topeka, and Mrs. Ethel Justin Marshall, '10, were all here to attend the funeral of their sister. Will Marshall, '14, who is attending the Boston Theological University was expected late Monday afternoon. Mrs. Maud Marshall Patterson, '14, of Oklahoma was unable to be present.

SHERWOOD AT WICHITA.

Attends Poultry Show and Judges Market Eggs.

Ross M. Sherwood, specialist in poultry husbandry, attended the poultry show held by the Kansas State Poultry Breeders association at Wichita from January 9 to 11. Mr. Sherwood judged market eggs and delivered two lectures to the chicken breeders who attended the show. The show at Wichita was one of the best that has been held in the state according to Mr. Sherwood, and all of the entries were of fine grade. Topeka, with sixteen birds, took four special prizes on colors.

The Science club met Monday in room 53 of Fairchild hall. The program consisted of a discussion by Professor Theo. Macklin on "The Place of Agricultural Economics Research and Investigation in Agricultural Progress."

Published every Tuesday and Friday of the College year by the students of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

By subscription, $1.50 the year. Fifty cents the term. Five cents the copy.

Entered at the postoffice in Manhattan for transmission through the mails as second-class matter.

STUDENTS MUST HELP.

Within three weeks, the college will have visitors from all parts of the state. Farm and Home week which is to be held February 5-10 will bring some people here who have never visited the college before. Arrangements are being made by the college officials for the entertainment and instruction of the visitors. But everything can't be done by these officials alone—the students must help too.

There are a number of county club organizations in college composed of students from the different counties of the state. Why should not these county clubs take charge of the visitors from their counties, make arrangements for their rooms and board, show them over the campus, direct them to the different buildings where classes will be held for them, and see that they are shown the courtesy and attention due our visitors? Where there is no club of students from a certain county students from that county should locate the visitors from their locality and show them around.

Farm and Home week offers an opportunity for each student to invite his or her parents, friends, and relatives to visit the college and see K. S. A. C. in its "working clothes." Heretofore, this week for the farmers has been held during the Christmas holidays when students had gone home, but this year the students have an opportunity to show the visitors from over the state what sort of an institution we have here. It is an opportunity to advertise and boost K. S. A. C. as never before. All together then, and let us show our visitors every courtesy and attention possible so that when they go back to their homes, they will have been favorably impressed with our alma mater and the work we are doing.

WE'RE OFF.

Saturday night the Aggie basketball squad romped on the Sons of Ichabod to the tune of 71 to 5. This is a mighty good start for the first game of the season, and especially is it so when we consider the fact that just a few days previous K. U. beat Washburn 55 to 9. This will give the Aggies boys an impetus that we hope will not lessen throughout the season. Considering the teamwork which the boys showed Saturday night, the excellent coaching, and the training they will receive before they meet the stronger Missouri Valley teams, the dope factors K. S. A. C. for a championship basketball team this year.

However, one thing was noticeably lacking Saturday night—that was a cheer leader and organized rooting. Here is a chance for that Rooters' club to get busy. We need a good cheer leader—and organized rooting does as much good on the basketball court as it does on the football field. Let's pep up and show the boys that we are behind them and help them to win that coveted "first place" this year. We have a good team and an excellent chance to make K. S. A. C. a leader in Missouri Valley athletics. Get the "PEP!"

ON SECOND THOUGHT.

A well known student consistently maintained in an argument the other day that education never made a fool of anyone. Numerous examples were cited to him of students who were fools. On second thought he will concede that education may lend emphasis.

HERE'S TO KANSAS.

The following poem entitled "Here's to Kansas," was written by J. E. Edgerton, a former resident of Manhattan, who is now making a tour of the west. Mr. Edgerton will be remembered by many of the faculty members and students as one of the leading educators of Riley county, and a former superintendent of the city schools here. The poem, which was written while Mr. Edgerton was at Long Beach, Cal., voices the sentiment of many who "go west" but ultimately feel the call of Kansas.

When the human culls are ambling on the pier,
And I am humble one of them am idly near,
Taking inventory of the halt and lame and blind,
I think of topnotchers I have left behind,
O land of boasted climate, you have a goodly beach,
But the great and sturdy Kansans are beyond your reach.

You have sunsets limned in splendors of sky and air,
Breezes soft and moonlight kisses from the zones of everywhere;
Flowers sweet as heavenly nectars, waters every hue—
All the beauties of the ancient world and new;
But when it comes to THE people, why they're not here—
They're living back in Kansas where the winters are severe.

Severe enough to make one just hump himself and go,
Where he doesn't feel like trying to get along on low,
There is force in all his movements, his very soul's aglow
With a higher, finer feeling than these pikers ever know;
For who runs away from Kansas where life is the right kind,
To loaf in California, has left himself behind.

So no country can rob Kansas of the glory of her men,
The culls may spend a winter here, but they'll be back again;
They'll separate themselves once more from those laid on the shelves,
And rushing back to Kansas, they'll be again themselves.
They'll tell you with guff and gesture bold of wonders galore,
But heart and soul will be content in Kansas evermore.

KANSAS POETRY BY A KANSAN.
Poetry has not been a main interest of Kansas. The editorial, the essay, the short story even, has been written much oftener than a poem. This is not strange. Kansas was settled by people who put moral and economic issues first. And conditions were such that there was little time for anything else.

In the last few years, however, there has been a turning to poetry, as to other art forms. Kansas has the material for poetry as has been shown by what poets elsewhere have written about the state, from Whitier to Lindsay. It is a fortunate thing that this material is being utilized by Kansans.

"The Call of the Open Fields," a small volume by Imri Zumwalt, is one of the most attractive recent examples of Kansas poetry by Kansans. Mr. Zumwalt was brought up and educated in Kansas, and is editor of the Bonner Springs Chieftain.

Not all the poems in the volume deal with Kansas subjects. One of the most effective is "The Desert," from which the following is quoted:
"A tide of amber sunlight
Flooding a waste of sand
To where the walls of granite
In golden glory stand."
Most of the verses however, suggest, even where they do not deal directly with the prairies. They tell of "the wheat fields whitening to harvest," "the land of the daisies and goldenrod," "the short and matted grass," "the sun-lit meadows," "the land of the open sky." The beauty of the poems is the beauty of Kansas, and it is a happy thing for the state to have so sympathetic an interpreter.—The Kansas Industrialist.

What is a Financier?

Charles Dillon says: "A financier is a man who borrows ten dollars and bonds it for fifteen; issues common stock on it for thirty and preferred stock on it for forty-five; organizes a stock company to handle the whole with a capital of one hundred and fifty and reserves for himself fifty-one percent of the capital. Not forgetting in the meantime to credit himself with the original ten for promoting and charging the man who loaned it to him twenty for allowing him a few shares in the resultant trust company."—Pink Rag.

Was Too Soon.

Tommy had been playing truant from school, and had spent a long, beautiful day fishing. On his way back he met one of his young cronies, who accosted him with the usual question, "Catch anything?"
At this Tommy, in all the consciousness of guilt, quickly responded: "Ant been home yet."—Harper's Magazine.

Quits.

"Didn't you promise never to do it again?" sternly demanded the parent.
"Yes, sir."
"And I said I'd whip you if you did, didn't I?"
"Yes, dad, but as I didn't keep my promise I won't hold you to yours."—New York Times.

"If you'd smoke a pack of cigarettes a day for 90 years you'd have enough coupons to buy an automatic piano."

"Why automatic?"
"You'd be too weak to play another."—The Widow.

"Auto cracy" spelled Tommy reading aloud. After a pause, he pronounced it triumphantly. "Auto-crazy."
And he wondered why his father chuckled.

"ROSE OF THE SOUTH"

Antonio Moreno, Peggy Hyland, Mary Maurice and Charles Kent take the principal parts in this romantic offering full of chams, pathos and love with an ending which courageously departs from the conventional idea that just before the final curtain 'they get married and live happily ever after.' ## ANOTHER ATTRACTIVE SHOW.

The Delightful "Blue Paradise" is Coming Here.

Announced as the most important of its bookings for the entire season, the Marshall Theatre will offer on Thursday, Jan. 18th the Messers. Shubert's elaborate production of "The Blue Paradise," the most satisfying and successful of all recent Viennese operettas, which comes here direct from its recently ended record run of fifty-two consecutive weeks in New York at the far-famed Casino Theatre, the noted playhouse in which most of the memorable musical plays of the past quarter of a century have begun their Broadway careers. Not in many seasons have critical metropolitan playgoers been so completely captivated by a musical entertainment as by this brilliant and tuneful operetta and the tour of "The Blue Paradise" is proving a constant repetition of its Broadway triumph.

Paul Nicholson, Miss Norton, Charles Bowers, Lucy Fields, Bystav Bac, Yolande Presburg, Robert Allen, and Charles Deriskson are among the well known players in the extensive company of almost 100 persons the Messrs. Shubert are sending here, not forgetting a chorus of Broadway betties who can really sing and dance. The lavish scenic investiture is in keeping with the high standard that invariably characterizes the Shubert attractions and there is a special orchestra with the organization.

VIVIAN MARTIN IN "THE RIGHT DIRECTION."

The story centers about Miss Martin as a child of about 16, a baby of about four and a ragged dog. The pleasing characterization of Miss Martin and the human touches of the kid and the dog make the picture a sure winner. At the Wareham Theatre Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Twenty numbers in Victor Herbert's most tuneful vein form the musical part of the Herbert-Blossom's latest musical play success "The Princess Pat" which ran for the greater part of a full season at the Cort Theatre New York and which will shortly be heard for the first time here.

Y. M.-Y. W. Notes

Carl Howard will have charge of the regular Thursday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. The subject for the evening will be the "Standard of Giving." All new men are especially invited to be present. A report of the prison relief fund committee shows that $485 was sent in last term; $50 on hand; and there is $150 to be collected, totaling $685.

Dr. J. R. Macarthur, professor of English, will address the Y. W. C. A. at their regular meeting Thursday which will be held in the rest room of the home economics building at 4:30 o'clock. This is the first time the association has had a man as speaker this year, and Miss Mildred Inskeep, the association secretary, urgently requests all the college girls to be present to welcome Professor Macarthur.

The Mission Study groups which were organized this term under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. will have their first meeting tonight.

There will be a meeting of the girls' athletic association Wednesday at the eighth hour in the girls' gymnasium. All members of the association are requested to be present as the hockey numerals will be awarded.

"Easily the most charming musical play" is what was written of "The Princess Pat" by the musical critic of the New York Evening Telegram. High praise indeed, but without doubt merited by this latest combined work of Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom. "The Princess Pat" will be presented here in the near future.

SOME ODD NEWSPAPER TITLES.

Unique Collection Includes Arkansas Thomas Cat and Gall.

Every man to his hobby. In Columbus, Ohio, there is a man whose chief joy is in collecting of newspaper titles. He has made a specialty of clipping queer headings, and the assortment is oddly interesting.

Of course there are plenty of couriers, Journals, and Heralds scattered over the country, and there are Headlights, Flashlights, Bees, Eagles, Owls, Mirrors and News-Letters, but when it comes to Dericks, Medders, Telescopes, Flags and Sunbeams the class is more limited. In Hot Springs there is published the Arkansas Thomas Cat, and other titles just as unusual are the Sledge Hammer, the Irrepressible, the Silent Worker, and Gall.

Frequently it is possible to tell from the title of a newspaper the state in which it is published. For instance, the Chieftain is in Oklahoma, the Rustler and the Lariat are in Texas, Big Hole Breezes in Montana, and the Roundup in Wyoming.

FIREMEN THANKED FOR A RUN.

College Authorities Express Appreciation of Work Last Week.

Appreciation of the prompt work of the fire department in answering the call to the college cattle barn last Tuesday night is included in letters received by Fire Chief W. A. Condray from Dr. H. J. Waters and Prof. W. A. Cochel. Dr. Waters expressed "appreciation of the promptness in reaching the fire and of the very practical and efficient way in which the department went about putting out the fire."

Chief Condray announced today that the college would pay the city for the expenses of the run, which was outside of the city limits.

AT THE HOME OF THE GROOM.

Manhattan, Kans., Jan. 16, 1927.—At the home of the groom's parents, 3122 Fairchild avenue, Mr. Retient One and Miss Fus M. Freely, were united in the bond of matrimony in a very pretty ring ceremony. Mr. Retient is well known in social circles of the city and of the college.

The groom wore a dark suit that perfectly fitted his form and in his hand he carried a sheaf of beautiful pink rose buds. His curly hair was beautifully done and a delicate odor of hair oil of the best quality floated down the aisle as he paced.

He is loved by all for his many accomplishments, his tender grace and his winning ways. The bride looked very well in a neat traveling costume. She commands a good salary in the business offices of the newly established wholesale house and the groom will miss none of the luxuries to which he has been accustomed. A crowd of handsome young men saw them off at the passenger station when they left for a short trip to Chicago, Cleveland and other eastern points.

K. S. A. C. IS ANALYZED BY ECONOMY COMMITTEE

REPORT ATTEMPTS TO SUGGEST MORE EFFICIENT MANAGEMENT.

Committee Finds That Buildings Have Halls, Offices, and Museums
In Addition to Class Rooms.

The efficiency and economy report on the educational institutions of the state which was submitted to the state legislature Tuesday is a lengthy one and goes into considerable detail in respect to every recommendation made.

The one made with respect to the Kansas State Agricultural college only one thing—the custom founded by the student body which shows respect for their school by refraining from the use of tobacco while on the college campus.

The report as a whole indicates a glaring lack of information and knowledge of the working of such a large institution or perhaps any educational institution.

This was perhaps recognized by Mr. J. D. Joseph of Whitewater, a member of the committee of three, when the refused to sign the preliminary report. This is the supplementary report which was promised at that time. The chairman of the committee is Senator W. P. Lamberton of Fairview. The other member is E. L. Burton of Parsons.

The report refers for instance, to the tendency of the college to discard good buildings for shed purposes. Farm Mechanics Hall for instance, might have made an admirable art building if the walls were not crumbling and cracked. The committee informs the legislature that the school of journalism has two professors and two assistants. If the committee had taken the trouble to visit the journalism department, it would have learned that there is one professor and one instructor, etc., etc. The report, in part, follows:

"In our first report we showed the uncrowded condition of Dennison Hall at the Kansas State Agricultural college. There was an alarming waste of hallway and stairway space in this building. Some of the lower rooms are crowded with supplies, and others are used as offices which might properly be used as recitation rooms. The upper floor has a comfortable small room which is devoted entirely to a wireless station, and one-half of the top floor, with the large dormer windows, is not even used for store room. An analysis of the class schedule in this building does not indicate that it is crowded, and still much could easily be done to increase its classroom capacity. We believe that the Chemistry Annex is large enough for electrical engineering and that all the chemistry should be given in Dennison.

"An analysis of Anderson Hall reveals only thirteen rooms used for class purposes. These receive 174 classes in the forenoons of the six days and 97 in the afternoon. Four rooms used in the afternoon would take care of all the work given in Anderson Hall. The equivalent of nine rooms are vacant all afternoons of the week. The College is a very flagrant offender in its occupation of rooms as offices and museums. The new Agricultural Hall seems to be guilty of the former and the Horticulture and Veterinary of the latter.

Take Away State Work.
"If this committee's recommendations regarding a department of agriculture at Topeka is carried out, relieving the College of its state administrative duties, many rooms would be added for recitation. There is a tendency here to too early discard buildings for shed purposes. We refer to the Farm Mechanics Hall and the building used as the repair shop. It looks as if these buildings with a little repair might have had a greater usefulness. Many of the rooms are idle a large part of the day in Veterinary Hall.

"A glance at the entire College schedule for the first semester this year reveals the last quarter of the day as almost idle in many departments. This College complains of crowded condition for classrooms for physics. The schedule shows that this department is now using nine hours in physics recitation in the last two periods of the day for the week or in other words, one classroom would take care of all the physics given the last quarter of each day throughout the week. This is important in view of the fact that a new physics building is being urged. The big department of English has one course four days in the week given after 3:25 p. m. Wisconsin gives 20 hours after 3:30. Big Anderson Hall has scheduled just two recitations in the entire week after 3:25. To look at the College situation squarely, one can see no need for added buildings for class room purposes. This school has had twelve new important buildings in the last sixteen years. We do recommend that a new adequate and suitable building be provided for the cafeteria, and that Ked-

BAND NOW RECEIVES INSTRUCTION IN DRILL

Questions are Asked Immediately After Classes Assemble Then Practice
Rest of the Hour.

Under the recent Federal law, compelling all able bodied men to take military training, a few slight changes have been made in the instruction of the band. Instead of taking three hours a week for band practice as formerly, a part of the time is given to instruction in military tactics. The men of the band who have not finished the six terms of required instruction are assigned to the different companies of the cadet corp, and are taught from the military manual just as the other men of the company.

In order to retain the efficiency of the band, however, the band men are asked their questions immediately after the class in military instruction has assembled. As soon as the questions are answered the men are dismissed to return to the band room where the remainder of the hour is spent in band practice.

On Friday the whole hour is given to band instruction and the men are not compelled to report to their companies. On Monday the men of the band who do not have classes which interfere are given instruction in military tactics either the fifth or sixth hour under Sergeant Claren. The men in these classes need not report for the seventh hour on Monday.

This system has been worked out by Captain Mathews, who has spoken highly in favor of the band. Under this system the band is kept as a military unit, and its efficiency in no way diminished.

AN AGGIE STUDENT DROWNED.

Warren Cottingham Loses Life In Neosho at Iowa.

Warren Cottingham was drowned in the Neosho river late Sunday when he attempted to cross on the ice. Cottingham, a student at Manhattan, was visiting relatives. When he failed to return from an afternoon's visit, search was instituted, and his body was found under a thin sheet of ice about 15 feet from the point where he had broken through.

IT IS A STRONG PROGRAM.

A Large Attendance is Expected Farm and Home Week.

The complete program for Farm and Home week at the Kansas State Agricultural college, February 5 to 10, as announced by E. C. Johnson, director of extension service in Kansas, is the strongest in the history of this annual event which brings hundreds of persons to Manhattan—both young and old—and gives them a chance to attend college for a week. The boy or girl of 16 and the man or woman of 60 are equally welcome. An attendance of between 1600 and 2000 persons is expected.

Lectures and demonstrations in agriculture, farm engineering, and home economics will be given throughout the entire week, while such entertainment features as music, readings, get-together meetings and receptions will serve as a means of relaxation. Annual meetings of Kansas agricultural and stock breeders' associations will be held in the course of the week.

BIG COLLEGE SHOW AT AUDITORIUM SATURDAY

NOT FRESH FROM BROADWAY
BUT JUST AS GOOD.

Intersociety Farce Promises to be the Best Ever According to W. A.
Wunsch, Chairman of the Committee.

Here it is! Not fresh from a year's run on Broadway, but fresh from a series of rehearsals under competent coaching, ready to be presented to the Aggie theater enthusiasts tomorrow night at the auditorium, "Wildcat Follies," the intersociety farce.

"Wildcat Follies" is a five act farce, each act being complete in itself with no relation to the other four acts. This is the fourth year that the literary societies have given an entertainment for the college. The entertainments have always been a success as shown by the enthusiasm which they have aroused. Last year the farce was in the form of a political convention in which nearly all the college took part.

Pretty Girls Big Feature.

The farce this year is to be featured by pretty girls and beautiful costumes. "The Evolution of a Butterfly" is to be excellent because of the good looking girls which have been chosen for the parts, says W. A. Wunsch, chairman of the intersociety farce committee. The costumes for the act have been ordered from Kansas City.

The first act of the farce is entitled, "Advertising for a Husband." Then follows the "Evolution of a Butterfly" in which girls only take part. The third act is a humorous debate which is to settle once and for all one of the national problems. The question for the debate is, Resolved, That Woman's Suffrage is the Ultimate Race Problem. Miss Matilda Ziller and Oscar Stenson will uphold the affirmative while Miss Hazel Merrill and George Gibbons will take the negative side of the question.

The fourth act will be the "Hobo Convention" which may bring to light some of the great secrets of hobo life, and at the same time it will portray most vividly the funny side. The last act will be the minstrel show. This act will have its full supply of good songs, and snappy jokes. Between acts will be given side shows and stunts which will keep the audience in a jovial frame of mind until the scenery can be changed.

"Everything is going on very nicely," says W. A. Wunsch, when questioned as to the progress of the farce. "It is certainly going to be exceptionally good and nothing like it has ever been shown in Manhattan." Dress rehearsal was held Thursday night and the last rehearsal before the play will be held Friday night. Doors will be open at 7:30 Saturday evening. Tickets may be purchased from the society members or at the door tomorrow night. There are no reserved seats.

A. W. BELLAMY IS MAKING GOOD.

Is Fellow in Zoology at Chicago University.

A. W. Bellomy, former assistant at K. S. A. C., is making good as fellow in zoology in the University of Chicago. Mr. Bellomy will become student assistant in the department of zoology there next summer. During the next year his salary will be increased to double the amount which he now receives from his fellowship. Mr. Bellomy now sees his way clear to remain in the university until he receives his degree as doctor of zoological science.

MATHEMATICAL CLUB MEETS.

The Mathematical club will hold its first meeting of the term Tuesday afternoon, January 23, at 3:30 in A-74. The numbers on the program are "The Problem of Three Bodies" by Professor B. L. Remick; and "The Construction of Logarithmic Tables" by H. L. Durham.

The Mathematical Club is composed of students and faculty members who are interested in mathematics. Regular meetings are held at which there are discussions of some interesting phase of mathematics.

STUDENTS ARE ORGANIZING TO AID STATE SCHOOLS

REPRESENTATIVES TO MEET IN TOPEKA SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

All State Educational Institutions Represented—Organize for Concerted Action on Measures Concerning State Schools.

To perfect an organization whereby any measure which is of interest and of value to all of the state educational institutions, may in the future receive proper attention and concerted action on the part of the state institutions is the object of a meeting of college representatives which is to be held in the Commercial club rooms at Topeka Saturday afternoon.

"The present agitation for the permanent income bill has brought it home that such a student organization is needed and could perform a real service in furthering the interests of the schools," says Leo C. Moser, who was chosen by the Student Council to represent the K. S. A. C. at the Topeka meeting. "For instance, such a measure as that of the compulsory activity fee could properly come before such a body.

"Furthermore, if this organization had been in existence this last fall, so that the Permanent Income bill publicity campaign could have been placed in its hands, the campaign could have been handled with much more ease and less duplication of expenditures and effort on the part of the students of the different schools. Some of the representatives have been visited by students of three state schools and some of them do not know that the Permanent Income bill will be considered.

"The organization which will be formed in Topeka Saturday will in reality be a legislative committee which will have for its work the consideration of all matters which will further the common interests of the state schools. In addition, such an organization will prevent such duplication of work by the students in the event of future publicity campaigns."

Kansas University students have a perfected system of County clubs. Each county has its definite organization, and these are organized under the union of County clubs with a president, board, and other officials. This organization has been very efficient. Many of the county clubs have annual banquets during the Christmas vacation to which alumni and prospective university students are invited. Hence, such an organization has many admirable features which will perhaps be considered by the other schools.

K. S. A. C. has a few county clubs which have regular meetings for a part of the year, but they are only from the larger counties. They organize chiefly for competing in basketball games or to have one or two hikes a year, but with no common constructive interest which holds the organization together.

CAFETERIA DOING BIG BUSINESS.

550 Persons Served Each Day—Plus Favorite Dessert.

Cafeteria cooking appeals to Kansas State Agricultural college students. The cafeteria serves an average of nearly 550 persons a day. The increase over last term is 100.

"The students become skillful in choosing their food from appearance," said Miss Nola Treat, director of the cafeteria. "They are especially fond of corn bread and dishes which contain rice."

Vegetable soup and meat pie are also popular dishes. Pancakes are the favorite food for a cold morning. About half a dozen young men stand in line and watch the girl fry cakes. Even the days when the temperature is below zero, five to seven gallons of ice cream are consumed. As usual, pie is the favorite desert.

Miss Ada Baum, formerly a teacher in the music department here, is now teaching piano in the Kansas State Normal after studying two years in Chicago.

Miss Lucille Moore, '19, who recently underwent an operation at the Charlotte Swift hospital is improving rapidly.

Y. W. HELPS FRESHMAN GIRLS.

Organizes Commission to Get More
Into the Organization.

The Y. W. C. A. has organized a freshman commission this term to get the freshman girls more in personal touch with the association work.

"While we feel that the Big Sister movement has solved this question to a certain degree still we are not satisfied," says Miss Inskeep. "As the year's work is planned before the beginning of the fall term, the freshman have not had an opportunity to display their merit, hence the commission was formed. A committee of 30 girls has been chosen as the strongest students in the class, by a committee of faculty members, upper classmen and association workers. The association expects to be strengthened through the efforts of this committee among its class-workers."

Miss Mary Weible, senior in home economics, will have charge of the commission.

AGGIES NOT TRYING TO CANCEL HUSKER DATES

Games With Nebraskans at Lincoln
Were Never Scheduled Says
Coach Z. G. Clevenger.

The Kansas Aggies are not trying to back out of any basketball contests with Nebraska at Lincoln. Such a series was never scheduled. That was the assertion of Athletic Director Clevenger, upon reading a Lincoln dispatch to several newspapers, stating that the Aggies wished to cancel their dates with the Huskers, as not enough northern games could be secured to make the trip a financial success.

"Manager Reed of Nebraska tried to schedule a series at Lincoln when the conference met here in November," said Clevenger. "We refused, on the grounds that the Aggie road schedule was already heavy, and that it was the Huskers time to play in Manhattan, as we were in Lincoln last winter.

"Only Monday Reed called me up by telephone, asking for a game this week-end. The Bethany game was already scheduled and advertised, and I refused. Since our schedule is already complete, I fail to see where we can accommodate the nebraskans. It looks to me as though Reed merely wanted a little newspaper publicity."

This does not mean that the Huskers and the Aggies will not compete at all, as games will be played between the two schools February 14 and 15 on Nichols floor.

TEACH BOXING AND WRESTLING.

Students are Urged to Enroll as Soon as Possible.

Football men, especially the linemen, are urged by Z. G. Clevenger, athletic director, to join the class in wrestling. A meeting was held last Tuesday to determine at what hour to hold the class. The eighth hour, twice a week was the time chosen. More than 15 persons were present and much interest was shown.

W. V. Davis, special student in physical training, has been selected as instructor of wrestling for the winter term. He has had considerable experience in physical work and as an amateur wrestler.

Boxing will also be taught this term. All those who wish to become proficient in handling the "mitts" are urged to report at the gymnasium this evening the eighth hour, when a class in boxing will be organized.

Y. M. C. A. HAS NEW OFFICERS.

Floyd Hawkins Becomes President—
Charles Howard Vice President.

Floyd Hawkins, junior in industrial journalism, becomes president of the Y. M. C. A., due to the graduation of former president H. B. Bayer. Mr. Hawkins, who was previously vice president of the association, will carry out as far as possible the work instituted by the former president.

Charles Howard becomes vice president for the unexpired term of Mr. Hawkins. Homer Cross has taken up duties on the cabinet as chairman of religious meetings.

The results of the membership campaign which was conducted Wednesday show more than 185 new members for the association. Special social events of the term will be announced later.

THE AGGIES ARE NOW WORKING AT TOP SPEED

SAME LINEUP THAT MET ICHABODS WILL BE USED.

Victory is Expected but Indications are That no Top-Heavy Score Will be Meted to Bethany Aggregation.

The Terrible Swedes from Lindaborg, for several years top-notchers in the Kansas conference basketball race, come to-night to contest with Clevenger's Aggie quintet in the second basketball game of the season. Although the Aggie victory seems a safe forecast, indications are that no top-heavy 71 to 5 count, such as was handed Washburn will be meted out to the Bethany aggregation.

To be a Test.

Tonight's game will be a true test for the Aggies. It will prove whether or not the Clevenger men are playing their average game last week, or if the victory over Washburn was only a flash. It will be a second test of the defensive work of Captain MacMillan and Wells, who for almost 25 minutes succeeded in staving off an Ichabod field goal. Reynolds and Van Trine, forwards, will again have an opportunity to show the accuracy of their goal-shooting eyes, and "Sim" Fullington, tip-off man, will face the task of convincing Aggie rooters he can consistently hit the iron-ring.

The Same Lineup.

The same athletes who started the Washburn contest will line up against the Swedes. The five has been working at top speed the past week, and have been making forward strides, according to Coach Clevenger. The game with the Ichabods showed a few weak spots in the play of the Purple warriors, and the Aggie mentor has been busily engaged in polishing the defects.

The game will be played in Nichols gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. The doors will be opened at 7 o'clock.

CLASS LETTER INTERESTING.

38 Graduates of Yale Forest School
All Professional Foresters.

Charles A. Scott, Kansas State Forester has received a mimeograph copy of the class letter commemorating the tenth anniversary of the class of '06 of the Yale Forest school. Professor Scott and two other Kansas men are members of that class and their letters appear in the copy of the class letter. When the class was graduated it was composed of 35 members, but not more than 28 answered with their letters. Of the 28 who answered seven are now engaged in the forest service of the United States department of agriculture, and the other 21 connected with a state institution. Professor Scott being the only one in educational forestry work. The remainder are engaged in private forestry work and kindred lines.

SCOTT WRITES A BULLETIN.

Will be Used in the Faculty Lecture Course.

Charles A. Scott, Kansas state forester and professor of forestry, has written a bulletin, "Tree Planting in Kansas." The introduction was written by Walter Burr, director of rural service department. The bulletin has just been issued by the division of extension and will be used in connection with the new faculty lecture course maintained by the extension department.

The bulletin treats of yard and roadside tree planting. It contains several illustrations including plans approved by Professor Scott. The bulletin gives suggestions on the care and planting of trees best adapted to Kansas soil and climate. A complete arbor day program is printed in the back of the bulletin.

A. A. Potter, dean of the division of engineering and R. A. Seaton, professor of applied mechanics and machine design, returned Thursday from Topeka where they have been attending a meeting of the Kansas engineering society.

THAT INCOME BILL.

Business organizations which are a success determine their expense and maintenance funds once and for all, adding to the list of expenditures from time to time as changing conditions necessitate, so that they can devote their time to the larger constructive things which demand their attention.

That is the purpose of the proposed Permanent Income bill for the state educational institutions. Under the present system, however, each successive legislature must be educated to the fact that the state schools need each year one of the items of the items of the necessary expense list. At least that is the inference of the system, but as a matter of fact, it would take the major part of the time of our short legislative sessions to enquire into each item.

If it is conceded once and for all that we are to have state educational institutions, why is it not good business to concede once and for all that funds will be automatically appropriated from year to year for necessary expense items.

The fact that we are not following that plan in Kansas is keeping its educational institutions from stepping abreast of the institutions of more far-sighted states who have made such provision.

The farther that our educational system is removed from politics, the more will its ideals and motives depend upon efficiency rather than political favoritism. Further, it must be recognized that legislators, who undoubtedly wish to be fair to the schools, do not have the information or the time to enquire into the real needs of the schools.

Without the permanent assurance of necessary funds for expense, there can be no continuity of planning. Especially is this true as regards scientific research. The school with a permanent budget in addition to necessary equipment lends an inducement to the scientific man. Perhaps this is the reason that so many of our best professors are being attracted to other states.

Further, such repeated sittings of the budgets for state schools is a duplication of work by the legislature and a waste of time on the part of the legislators. Practically the same conclusion must be reached by each legislature, while a little flaw in that conclusion must be reached by each work serious harm. A line drawn too closely may hold up experimental or educational work which would mean thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state.

Permanent income is good business and good politics. Witness Iowa, Michigan, California, Nebraska, Colorado, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and Ohio.

THE Y. M. C. A.

Out of an enrollment of nearly 1600 men in the college, less than four hundred are members of the college Y. M. C. A. This small membership cannot be attributed to lack of work on the part of the organization. Membership campaigns are conducted, mixers are held for the new students so that they may become acquainted with each other; Sunday morning Bible classes and midweek religious meetings are held for the benefit of the college men; and prominent speakers are brought here to address the students. The Y. M. C. A. also furnishes a place of wholesome recreation where the students may have the use of a gymnasium, where they may play games, read or use the Victrola.

These conveniences, which are open to the student body, are paid for by less than one-fourth of the men enrolled in college. The small membership, then, would seem to indicate a lack of appreciation on the part of those who are not members, or a willingness to enjoy all these conveniences while somebody else foots the bill. An institution which is doing the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing is deserving of better support, and should be backed by every college student.

WHO COMES HERE?

I am more powerful than the combined armies of the world.

I have destroyed more men than all the wars of the world.

I am more deadly than bullets, and I have wrecked more homes than the mightiest of siege guns.

I steal in the United States alone, over $300,000,000 each year.

I spare no one, and I find my victims among the rich and poor alike, the young and old, the strong and weak; widows and orphans know me.

I loom up to such proportions that I cast my shadow over every field of labor, from the turning of a grindstone to the moving of every railroad train.

I massacre thousands upon thousands of wage-earners every year.

I lurk in unseen places, and do most of my work silently. You are constantly warned against me, but you heed not.

I am relentless. I am everywhere; in the home, on the streets, in the factory, at the railroad crossings and on the sea.

I bring sickness, degradation and death and yet few seek to avoid me.

I destroy, crush, maim, I take all and give nothing.

I am your worst enemy!

"YOUR EDUCATION MUST EDUCATE YOU."

The best of college life for one is not the best for another, and largely because of the varied wants with which we come. Some have need of the gymnasium and the exercises to bring into play the muscles unused because of too close application to books during the preparatory school years. Others find they have not only not learned how to study but that what to study is their problem.

But while we're here what? We've heard and will hear about. "After College, What?" Let us not forget the "what" while we're here. The best is what we're here for; the best for us each individually. Remember as President Thwing has said: "Your education must educate you." Do what will contribute most to your education.

But the best of College, no matter what the end and aim, includes the fairest-minded attitude toward all the college community, faculty and students, with an appreciation of what they, both the faculty and students, are trying to do. Do what we read a father wrote his daughter in college: "Take each one at his best and leave him as much alone as you can at his not-best."—De Pauw Daily.

DO YOU KNOW?

Do you know that every good dairy husbandman in the Pacific coast states is a Kansas State Agricultural college graduate? Do you know that every agricultural college on the coast and mountain states numbers Kansas State Agricultural college people in its working staff? Do you know that nine out of 13 county agricultural agents in Oregon and five out of nine in Idaho are Kansas State Agricultural college boys? Do you know that the anti-saloon law of Oregon, after which the Washington law was modeled, was written by a Kansas State Agricultural college graduate? Do you know that almost every town in the west that makes any pretenses of being a city, has one or more Kansas State Agricultural college people in the active ranks of its business life?—I. D. ## Odds and Ends

THE BELLE.

Hear the laughing of the belles, belles, belles.

What a world of joy and fun their merriment foretells.

How they giggle, laugh and squeal.

'Spite of efforts to conceal

All the pleasure which they feel

At the sound.

For in words quite clearly spoken,

'Tween classes the good news broken,

That a dance floor—waxed and oaken

Has been found.

Hope runs high and expectation;

Ne'er a trait of trepidation,

But a sense of keen elation

It compels.

To the girl it's just a dance,

To the boys it means a chance

To be longer with the belles,

Belles, belles, belles,

Belles, belles, belles,

To be just a little longer

With the belles.

Hear the moaning of the belles, Col-

lega belles,

What a world of sadness and disappointment their chorus tells.

(For instead of terpsichorean pleasure.)

Sat Dean Kent at her leisure,

Manner frigid.

Now they beg, entreat and plead,

But to them she pays no heed;

Laws of Persian and Mede

Not more rigid.

She was firm, cold, unrelenting;

Gone all hopes of her consenting;

Boys o'er wasted dough repenting

Anger swells.

From the dance hall they departed,

And for home, indignant, started

With their belles, belles, belles,

Belles, belles, belles,

And from home they sadly parted

From the belles.

CONDUCT SCHOOLS FOR THE BUSY HOUSEWIVES

College Sends Out Trained Teachers to Give Instruction in Home Economics.

Schools in home economics will be held in many Kansas towns between March 1 and October 1 under the direction of trained teachers from the Kansas State Agricultural college. Busy housewives and others, who would not be able to leave their homes to study in Manhattan will have the opportunity of taking work under trained teachers in such subjects as food preparation, canning, dietetics, home nursing, home management, sewing, and home art.

Last year nearly 1,000 persons attended 26 schools. A larger number of courses than formerly are now offered and a material increase in number of schools and attendance is expected. An extension school may be organized in any locality by the school authorities when it is to be conducted in connection with the school, by women's clubs, by committees representing any organization, or by individuals who wish to take the responsibility upon themselves to organize a school. Schools will be held only where there are 15 or more members enrolled. Further information may be had from Miss Frances L. Brown, director of home economics in extension, Kansas State Agricultural college, Manhattan, Kan.

EMBRYO JOURNALISTS PLEDGED.

Sigma Delta Chi Places Ribbons on Three Men.

Three students of the college wore amber glassos with large bone frames yesterday signifying that they had pledged the Kansas State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi national journalistic fraternity. The pledge ribbons were placed on the three journalism students Wednesday evening. The pledges are Bruce Brewer, Ralph L. Foster, and B. Q. Shields.

Miss Ada Rice, assistant professor of the English language, and Miss Elizabeth Maclean, instructor in English, who were unable to meet classes Thursday and Friday because of illness, are back in the class room.

Miss Jewell Sappenfield, sophomore in general science, is out of school on account of illness.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN BY 1916 CROP VALUES

GROSS VALUE FARM PRODUCTS EXCEEDS 13 BILLIONS.

Previous High Record Exceeded by More than 2.5 Billion Dollars—Four Crops Pass the Billion Mark.

Washington, Jan. 18.—American farm products attained a gross value of $13,449,000,000 in 1916, making that year the greatest in point of value of any year in the nation's existence. The estimate of the year's gross value of crops and animal products, announced by the department of agriculture, exceeds by $2,674,000,000 the total value of 1915, the previous record, and by more than $3,500,000,000 the value in 1914. The crop production for the year was comparatively low and did not reach record figures except in minor instances, but the highest prices sent the value up.

The value of crops in 1916 is placed at $9,111,000,000 and the value of animal products, $4,338,000,000. The crop value exceeds that of 1915 by $2,204,000,000 and that of 1914 by $2,299,000,000. Crops alone in 1916 were worth more than crops and animal products combined in any year prior to 1912.

Four crops in 1916 exceeded a billion dollars in value. The corn crop was valued at $2,296,000,000, cotton at $1,406,000,000, hay at $1,162,000,000, and wheat at $1,026,000,000. Other crops exceeding 100 million were oats, 656 million; potatoes, 417 million; wood lot products, 221 million; apples, 186 million; tobacco, 169 million, and barley, 160 million.

COMPANY I TO BE REORGANIZED

Captain George Frank to Take Command, According to Appointment Made by Martin.

Company I, First regiment, K. N. G., is to be reorganized soon and Captain George Frank will take the place of Captain W. L. Pearce, who has resigned.

Captain Frank was called on the long distance phone this morning by Adj. Gen. C. I. Martin of Topeka and informed that he had been assigned to company I.

Captain Frank had command of company I for a period of six years, until he resigned about two years ago. During the recent Mexican trouble, when the Kansas militia was called to the border, he was assigned as captain of company D, whose captain was unable to pass the medical examination at Fort Riley. He was with company D until all Kansas militia was mustered out of government service.

Since he resigned the command of company I, two years ago, he has been on the reserve list, so he is required to serve upon receiving orders from headquarters whether he desires to or not. Captain Frank said this morning the order would be agreeable to him and that as soon as he received written notice of his appointment from Topeka, he would take command of the company.

Lowe-Lawton.

Scout's Journalism School.

"We do reiterate here that the school is not justified in giving everything that might be of some value. We are thinking of journalism and the school of agriculture. Agricultural journalism may be of benefit to some farmer boys, but wouldn't courses in contracts and real property be valuable to a larger number of boys who go back to the farm? And yet the College does not anticipate a school of law. This College offers fourteen courses in journalism and has two professors and two assistants in the department. Ames offers nine courses, involving a total of fifteen hours, which are brief courses in technical journalism. This is given by part time of two professors and two student assistants. The establishment of this department at Ames was through a grant of $1,000 annually by a citizen of Chicago, whose subsidy has continued to the present time. Mr. Claxton's survey committee recommended that it be limited to approximately its present scope, and this view was endorsed by the Iowa state board of education, which corresponds to our Board of Administration.

"We do not emphasize our recommendation regarding this so much with the idea of economy as to call attention to a typical instance of where the College is leaving its major lines. When the College took up the accredited proportions of a college she abandoned her preparatory department, and only four years ago created the school of agriculture as an appendix. If there is some demand for this work, why shouldn't the College also give the seventh and eighth grades for the behind and neglected boy?

Leaves Major Lines.

"If Manhattan is to be a College, then she should be one, and these people should be taken care of in the short courses and in the many high schools giving courses in agriculture. Our impression of this department, gained about the College, was that it would be come extinct in a few years anyway. The Iowa survey committee has this to say on the subject at Ames: 'The committee therefore recommends that the state college give up for a second time all noncollegiate instruction (except limited short course in winter or summer for special groups of students), and give it up at the earliest possible date.'

"Also, Dean Davenport of the College of Agriculture of Illinois says: 'Even though special funds may at first be provided for the handling of such a group of students in an institution doing collegiate work, yet the time is bound to come, as the numbers increase and as the demands upon the institution multiply, when this group of students thus introduced will result in definite subtraction from the work which an institution may do of a strictly collegiate grade, whether we are to regard the space required, the teaching power of the faculty, or the funds which may be provided for the institution.' We go on this supposition, that the state is willing to contribute about so much to an institution, and it is optional with that institution whether it shall concentrate it into its primary function or whether it shall multiply the fields of its endeavors.

Praise One Thing.

"Some provision should be made for the retirement of teachers, instructors and administrative officers of our state school system who have become disabled through long service, but who despite their disabilities are retained in the teaching force.

"This committee recommends that all our state schools be liberally treated in the furtherance of their fundamentals and all things that are pertinent to that development, and is opposed to that development, and all phases which are of questionable value and which are outside of its original scope. This is our conception of efficiency. While most of our comments are criticism, we would like to take the space necessary to mention all the splendid things which appeal to the people of Kansas about all these splendid institutions, but our regard for brevity does not permit. The personnel of this faculty is well trained and conscientious. The students are our children and our neighbors' children. There is a fine atmosphere of harmony at his school. The one tradition here, too, that no student or faculty member uses tobacco within these old stone fences is splendid indeed."

The Indiana University Alumni association is a social organization of the alumni of the Indiana university who live in Manhattan. Dr. Mary T. Harmon of the department of zoology, is president.

About 75 people have enrolled in the mission study classes which will be conducted the next ten weeks.

The moving picture machine which has been used in the past by the rural service department in the division of college extension, has been permanently installed in the auditorium where it will be used by the college for showing of films of instructive and educational value.

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS ARE FALLING INTO DISUSE

Perhaps Because so Many Made on That Day are Broken Says Father A. J. Lucky.

"It is better to have resolved and failed than never to have resolved at all," stated Father A. J. Lucky, priest of the Church of Seven Dolores of Manhattan, before the student assembly Tuesday morning.

"The practice of turning over new leaves and making resolutions on New Year's Day seems to be falling into disuse, perhaps because so many of the resolutions made on that day are broken. The fact that we have made a resolution is an acknowledgment that there is need of improvement on our part.

"The progress of a nation is due to the dissatisfaction of individuals concerning existing conditions. The making of resolutions shows that we have ideals and wish to make progress. The nature of our ideals will determine the degree of our success.

"We are not in the world for ourselves alone, but we are dependent upon each other and have duties toward our fellow men. It is a weakness of human nature to think only of ourselves. Some people call this self respect or dignity but it is truly defined as self conceit.

"To conquer these faults it is necessary that we have ideals before us at all times and resolve to put them into practice. We should stop and see just how far we have fulfilled our duty to our fellow men not only on New Year's day but on many other days throughout the entire year."

Greenhouse in "Party Dress."

The greenhouse is putting on its "party dress" for Farm and Home week, which begins February 5. The banana tree is bearing a bunch of green bananas which will be ripe before many days, the tomatoes are beginning to "set on," and the lemon tree is in bloom. By February 5 the farmers will be able to see most any kind of vegetable or fruit of any season from any climate in the greenhouse here.

C. O. LEVINE STARTS AG WORK AT CANTON COLLEGE

AGGIE REPRESENTATIVE WRITES THAT PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

Chinese Students are Industrious and Eager to Learn—Mr. Levine Has Four Classes of 60 Boys.

The first communication from C. O. Levine has been received by way of the office at New York. Mr. Levine is the representative of the Kansas Aggies at the Canton Christian college and is being kept there by contribution from the students and faculty. It is in an effort to introduce modern agriculture to the students of the Orient that he was sent there. Mr. Levine is a graduate of K. S. A. C. He left here last August.

Extracts from Mr. Levine's letter to Herbert E. House, field secretary for the trustees of Canton Christian college follow:

Canton, China, Nov. 16, 1916.

"It is now just five weeks since I arrived at Canton Christian college. My journey across the Pacific was most pleasant. My stay in the Islands a most profitable one, and I secured much information in regard to tropical agriculture and agriculture in the Orient that will be of value to us in our work here.

"I have enjoyed life here very much and I believe I am becoming as much of a fan enthusiast for Canton Christian college, especially in the opportunity to help China agriculturally in order to reach her spiritually as you are.

"My class work consists in teaching elementary biology to a group of 60 third year Middle School boys divided into four classes of fifteen in a class. The boys certainly are industrious, well-behaved and eager to learn. It is a pleasure to teach them. I need never think of discipline. In connection with their class work, the boys all have gardens in which they are growing American and Chinese vegetables.

"I have made a number of trips into the country with Mr. Groff and others to get acquainted with conditions. As Mr. Groff, Taam and I talk about our work in our weekly meetings together we see many ways that we might help China agriculturally.

"Mr. Groff has certainly worked hard both with his head and hands to get so much started toward the agricultural course here. He has laid a good foundation for the course, and we are planning on developing it from year to year as this class advances and we get the necessary funds for laboratory equipment and tools.

"I am gradually becoming personally acquainted with the boys and many of them seem to be very much interested in agriculture. A number of native village pastors have earnestly expressed themselves as desiring to study agriculture in our College in order that they may be more able to help the people with whom they are working.

"As I look into the future of my work here the prospects are bright indeed. I see I shall be very busy. I would not be anything else, for the work will be of the kind I shall enjoy doing. I like the spirit of the community and the College very much. I feel deeply indebted and grateful to you for having opened up this opportunity of service to me."

The Mr. Taam that Levine mentions is the Sik Hung Taam who graduated here last year in the animal husbandry course. While in college he was a member of the Saddle and Siroin club and the Y. M. C. A.

The Only Standardized Tractor Design

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.

AGGIES AND JAYHAWKERS MEET IN ANNUAL CLASH

TWO-GAME SERIES PLAYED AT LAWRENCE.

Two Victories Would Mean a Good Start Toward the Missouri Valley Basketball Championship.

The life or death of Kansas Aggie championship aspirations will probably be settled in the important series with W. O. Hamilton's Jayhawkers at Lawrence tonight and tomorrow night. Two victories for the Clevenger clan would mean a flying start towards the leadership of valley basketball circles, while a couple of K. U. victories would point to a high position for the Lawrence troupe, and would shove the MacMillan troupe into the "also rans."

The surprise the Jayhawkers sprung in winning two one-sided contests from the Ames Cyclones has had a slightly depressing effect on Aggie followers. After out-classing the Missouri Tigers, the Iowans appeared weak against the superb teamwork of the Hamilton athletes.

A Comparison.

But even on the face of the Ames-Kansas returns, the Aggies seem better than a 50-50 favorite in the series. Taking comparative dope on the Washburn games—and the Ichabods are seemingly the only team which affords an estimate of the relative strength of the contestants—the Aggies are not only a better scoring aggregation, but show better defensive powers.

Kansas defeated the Topekan only 55 to 9. Bert Kennedy, coach of the Ichabods, said after that game that the Aggies could not approach the K. U. score. Yet 71 points were run up by the Clevenger goal-tossers, against a paltry five for Washburn.

The games this week mean more than mere victories. Their result will determine whether or not the Aggies can take the scalps of the Jayhawkers five or even six, times in succession. Last year all four contests resulted in victories for the Aggies. Can the Clevenger men continue to humble the Kansans to the extent of adding another game to that list of Jayhawkers' defeats?

The lineup will be the same that has opened the first games of the season, Clevenger announces. Captain MacMillan, Reynolds, Wells, Fullington and Van Trine will be found in their regular positions. An entire second squad, composed of Cushman, Kecker, Knostman, Wooster, and Clarke, also will embark for the nest of the Jayhawk when the team leaves this noon.

CAST TO BE SELECTED SOON.

Many Trying for Places in "The Man From Home."

J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking, has taken active charge of the tryouts and rehearsals for the play "The Man From Home." Miss Margaret Hale is working with the women and J. H. Branham is assisting Mr. Emerson with the men.

This year a new plan of choosing the cast has been tried out. Instead of having a date set for all persons to appear for tryouts, there are a number of people chosen for each part thus enabling the judges to find the best persons for the parts.

There has been no heat and light in the auditorium this last week handicapping the players greatly since the room they have been using daily is decidedly small.

PLAN DAIRY JUDGING CONTEST.

Open to All College Students—No Definite Arrangements Yet.

The Dairy club, at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, arranged for a dairy judging contest to be held at the college this term.

This contest is to be open to all regular college students, as well as to those who are taking the agricultural short courses, to show their ability as judges of dairy cattle. Definite arrangements have not yet been made as to the prizes to the winners.

Mrs. Dr. Tanquary entertained the Social Union of College Hill at her home last Thursday afternoon.

SENIORS TO HAVE NEW GOWNS.

All Measurements to be in not Later Than March 15.

Seniors will get themselves ready and "wear their brand new gowns," made to order with fit guaranteed for the spring commencement according to a member of the cap and gown committee. It is requested that all seniors be measured for caps and gowns. This includes the "doubtfuls" who, if they find they cannot graduate this spring and will give the committee one week's notice, need not get caps and gowns.

All measurements will be taken at the Co-operative Book store, but the business will be handled by the cap and gown committee. A set of sample caps are now on hand, and an "absolute fit" in headgear is guaranteed. When the gowns come, the seniors will make a deposit of $3.50 and when they are returned a rebate of $1.50 will be made.

"It is essential that these measurements be taken early in order to insure new caps and gowns," says a member of the committee. "Otherwise, we will have to order second-hand outfits. All measurements should be in not later than the middle of March."

Caps and gowns are now on hand at Wolf's studio for the accommodation of those who wish to have their pictures taken in their graduation "togs." The members of the committee are: Wm. Klooz, chairman, Stella Blain, and O. K. Rumbel.

PRESENT COMMISSIONS TO THE CADET OFFICERS

Want a Military Backbone to Depend Upon Says Captain Mathews in Presentation Address.

A man should obey without question when he is spoken to, according to Captain L. O. Mathews, commandant of cadets, who addressed student assembly Saturday morning, at which time commissions were presented to the officers of the college cadet corps.

"Discipline is the keynote," says Captain Mathews. "We as Americans need training. Other countries have adopted universal service, but personally, I do not believe in compulsory military service."

"The general scheme of preparedness is to equip every man between the ages of 18 and 45 to be a military asset in civil life. We don't want a purely military plan—we want a backbone to depend upon."

"War usually follows rumors and the final break comes with a crash. War develops over night and there is no time then to train men. The sinking of a single vessel started the Russo-Japanese war. The war department is prejudiced against militia, not because they make a poor showing, but because they lacked preparedness. They were not trained. It takes six months to train a man—getting up at six and going to it in a military manner."

The college cadet officers who were presented commissions are:

J. B. Sweet, colonel.
F. M. Pickrel, lieutenant colonel.
K. E. Kinyon, major.
L. H. Bixby, major.
H. B. Dudley, major.

Captains.

F. N. Jordan, A. M. Harvey, W. H. Hiltz, F. C. Dickinson, O. T. Bonnett, T. R. Pharr, G. E. Manzer, N. Pearson, H. Dunham, A. L. Willis, W. E. Paterson, W. G. Bruce, W. A. Ball, Fred Carr, S. S. Hobbs, H. W. McClelland, Guy. Russell.

1st Lieutenants.

P. A. Kennicott, C. R. Keller, G. C. Ware, S. V. Ritter, C. E. Sawyer, J. E. Williamson, H. I. Hollister, P. E. Pollem, G. Whitsett, H. C. Colglazler, A. A. Grant, E. F. Whedon, H. W. Gillispie, J. M. Williams, J. S. Gullledge.

Second Lieutenants.

W. K. Charles, R. V. Morrison, C. L. Howard, W. S. Thackery, S. Vorhies, C. M. Barringer, S. M. Mitchell, M. W. Converse, E. S. Williams, H. H. Dinmore, O. W. Reed, R. W. Kilburn, O. Steanson, Fred Griffie, J. E. Bixby, J. A. White.

The commissions were signed by Governor Arthur Capper and the secretary of state, J. T. Botkin.

F. A. Coffman, '14, and W. B. Coffman, '16, are helping out in the department of botany by taking charge of some of the classes in elementary botany.

COLLEGE STOCK WINS

112 RIBBONS IN 1916

IT ALSO TAKES CASH PRIZES AMOUNTING TO $2,877.

Win Nine Championships—Every Individual Entered Placed Among Winners—Shorthorn Herd Greatest Success.

One hundred twelve ribbons and $2,877 in cash represent the prize winnings of the show steers of the Kansas State Agricultural college for the year 1916. As has been customary, the two-year-old steers were sold at the International show and the senior yearlings at Denver, the sales receipts being $2,854.63. The total cash income was therefore $5,731.63.

The 22 steers shown won nine championships, eight reserve championships, and 42 first, 22 second, 16 third, 12 fourth, and three fifth places.

Shorthorns Biggest Success.

The greatest success was attained with the Shorthorn herd. Merry Dale produced a total income of $671.80 from prizes won in 1916 and his sale value, Barnum Dale $516.18, and King Dale $480.66.

King Dale was the first prize and champion shorthorn steer at Denver, third at the Royal, and second at the International. Merry Dale, not shown at Denver, was champion steer, all breeds and ages competing, at Topeka and Hutchinson, first prize and champion shorthorn steer at the Royal and at the International, also reserve champion two-year-old steer at the International. BBarnum Dale was first prize calf and reserve champion shorthorn at Denver, fourth prize steer, all breeds competing, at Topeka and at Hutchinson, first prize and reserve champion shorthorn at the Royal and at the International, and reserve champion yearling at the International.

Galloways Take 'Em All.

The Galloway herd won every first prize and championship offered for Galloways at Denver, Kansas City, and Chicago.

Probably the most notable winning for the herd was the first prize for three steers, calved since January 1, 1914, and sired by one bull. This was won by sons of Matchless Dale, the bull at the head of the college shorthorn herd. In the Clay-Robinson specials, the first prize for the best group of steers was also won by five of his sons. This is the first time in the history of the International that the first prize in either of these two classes has been won by cattle bred by a college. The group of five steers was generally recognized as the best group of five shorthorn steers ever assembled at the International, which has the largest show of short horn steers in the world.

Of the 16 college bred steers shown in grade and in pure-bred classes there was not an individual which failed to be placed among the prize winners. The record made by these steers stands for constructive work not only in the selection of individual cattle, but also in the selection of breeding cattle capable of producing animals which can compete with the best in the United States.

College Winnings in Detail.

The winnings of the college cattle in detail follow.

Championship—Aberdeen Angus, one; Galloway, two; grade Hereford, one; shorthorn, five.
Reserve championship—Aberdeen Angus, one; Galloway, two; shorthorn, five.

First prize—Aberdeen Angus, three; Galloway, 12; Hereford, one; grade Hereford, nine; shorthorn, 17.
Second prize—Aberdeen Angus, four; Hereford, 11; grade Hereford, two; shorthorn, five.

Third prize—Aberdeen Angus, one; Hereford, seven; grade Hereford, six; shorthorn, two.

Fourth prize—Aberdeen Angus, one; Hereford, seven; grade Hereford, two; shorthorn, four.

Fifth Prize—Galloway, two; Hereford, one.

The school of agriculture basketball team meets Tuesdays and Thursdays the eighth hour at the Y. M. C. A.

AWARD GIRLS NUMERALS

IN INTERCLASS HOCKEY

49 CO-EDS WILL BE HONORED TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

Purple Figures Presented to Girls who Took Part in Fifty Percent of the Tournament Games.

When the Girls' Athletic association holds its first meeting of the term tomorrow afternoon numerals will be awarded to 49 girls who played in the fall interclass hockey tournament.

These are the separate purple figures and will be presented to the girls who took part in fifty per cent of the tournament games. The numeral count twenty-five points toward a K.

The hockey tournament, under the direction of Miss Ethel Loring and Miss Annie Cahoon, physical instructors, was completed before Thanksgiving with the freshmen girls as the holder of the college championship. The School of Agriculture team held first place with the Freshmen as second, but as this was a college tournament the freshmen now hold that title.

Four Teams Compete.

Four teams competed for the honor—freshman, with Helen Christ as captain; the sophomores, captain, Betty Cotton; upper class team, Mattie Ben, captain; and the School of Agriculture, Pearl Day, captain.

The games were played in the afternoons during the seventh and eighth periods. College girls turned out better for this tournament better than ever before, according to Miss Cahoon. Numbers of college students, both boys and girls, attended the games and some town people.

There were six games scheduled, but two ties necessitated deciding games. The standing of the teams: School of Agriculture won 2, tied 1. Freshman, won 2, lost 1.

Upperclassmen, won 1, lost 1, tied 1. Sophomores, won 0, lost 3.

The following girls will receive numerals:

Freshman team: H. Christ, M. Wilson, M. Baird, M. Hoyt, R. Weyers, G. Gourshird, A. Hutto, E. Burk, N. Lewallen, L. Webb, M. Hudson, P. Buzard.

Sophomore Team: E. Cotton, R. Parker, A. Blaine, M. Crumbaker, E. Wilson, B. Gwin, S. Blackburn, C. Taylor, E. Adams, C. Higgins, R. Ellerman, R. Thomas, B. Toppensfield.

Upperclass Team: M. Ben, B. Gordon, J. Wood, S. Grove, S. Evans, B. Thomen, J. Boyd, S. Loomis, S. Brookshire, S. Howard, G. Spring, S. Hinds.

School of Agriculture team: A. Conrow, A. Freeman, M. Hungerford, R. Travis, R. Gusselman, P. Day, B. Gwin, I. Mullen, A. Slegle, D. Mall, H. Cass, G. Harling.

BUNDY GOES TO SIOUX CITY.

K. S. A. C. Graduate to Work for an Iowa Paper.

V. E. Bundy, '16, for the last few months a reporter on the Topeka State Journal, has accepted a position with the Sioux City, Iowa, Journal. Before going to Topeka, Bundy was city editor on the Manhattan Chronicle. He had also done work for the Manhattan Nationalist.

Bundy is a talented newspaper man and made many friends. He is a graduate of the school of journalism at K. S. A. C.

LECTURE NOTES ARE POPULAR.

Copies Purchased by Students Taking Animal Physiology.

Charles R. Adamson, senior in the department of agronomy has mimeographed a second edition of lecture notes to be used by the students who have animal physiology this term. These notes are a reprint of those used and compiled by Dr. J. W. Benner, last year, with a few additions. Over one hundred students have ordered copies through the veterinary department at fifty cents per copy.

The college has received a new Dempster gasoline engine designed for farm use.

A COLLEGE STUDENT DIES.

Miss Lucile Moore of Manhattan Passes Away Friday.

The death of Miss Lucile Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Moore, Eighteenth and Fairchild, occurred at a local hospital at about 10.30 o'clock Friday morning. The funeral was held at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Miss Moore was about 18 years old at the time of her death. She had been operated on for appendicitis only a few days ago and had been reported as recovering rapidly.

Miss Moore was a student in the college and a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Surviving are her mother and father and two brothers, George and Morrel.

GRADUATES JOIN U. S. MARINES.

Will Only Have to Pass a Physical Examination.

Two K. S. A. C. graduates and another who will graduate this year are to enlist in the U. S. marines if they pass the physical examinations.

Ex-Lieutenant Colonel G. L. Farmer, '16, ex-Major A. E. Hopkins, '16, and E. W. Skinner, '17, are the ones who have signified their intentions of joining the Marines. It is not necessary for them to take the mental examination. If they do succeed in passing the physical examinations they will be commissioned immediately as second lieutenants at a salary of $1700. Promotion in the marines is more rapid than in the army.

THE FRESHMEN ADOPT NEW WINTER HEADGEAR

The Cap of Many Colors is Replaced by a Red and White Stocking Cap.

The depressing lack of color on the campus, due to the laying aside of the Freshies little cap of many colors, has been alleviated by another combination of colors. The small covering of green and white has turned to one of red and white in the form of a knit stocking cap. This combination of colors gives the Freshies a distinction that cannot be mistaken. The cap is one of worsted with a white top and red band.

The freshman class voted last fall term to wear these caps. Wishing to keep a distinction from the upper classmen the present type of head piece was chosen because it was more in keeping with the temperature of the winter weather.

The girls of the class voted allegiance to their freshman brothers and will also wear the caps of red and white. The caps arrived Saturday morning and by noon half of the three hundred which were ordered had been sold. Many of them had been sold to the girls.

MELCHERS SPEAKS IN NEW YORK.

Attends Meetings of Two Scientific Societies.

L. E. Melchers, plant pathologist of the college, attended the meetings of the American association for the Advancement of Science which were held during the holidays in New York City.

While in New York City, Mr. Melchers read two papers before the Phytopathological Society of America, one on a new pepper disease which has done much damage to this crop, and the other "Ecological Observations on Corn Smut." The latter paper treats of the work that has been done on corn smut at the college in cooperation with the United States department of agriculture. Both papers were illustrated with lantern slides.

HAVE A NEW LIGHTING PLANT.

Engineering Division to use Delco-Lighting System for Class Work.

The engineering division of the Kansas State Agricultural college has recently received a new Delco-Lighting System. This is an individual power plant designed especially for farm use. The purpose of which is to enable the farmer to have his own electric lighting system. The lights are run by a storage battery charged by a generator. The generator is direct-connected to a small engine designed to be operated by gasoline or kerosene. From 18 to 20 watt lamps can be used.

The Delco-Lighting system is to be used for demonstrating and class work.

RESULT OF MEETING AT TOPEKA SATURDAY

REPRESENTATIVES OF EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS CONFER.

The Purpose of the Organization is to Aid the State Schools—State Officials Attend the Meeting.

The Student-Alumni Union of the Kansas Educational Institutions, which will have for its work the furtherment of the interests of the state schools, was organized at Topeka, Saturday, when representatives of the student body and alumni of the Kansas university, Kansas State Normal, and the Kansas State Agricultural college met at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Willard M. Glasco, president of the County Clubs union at the university, was elected president of the organization; B. H. McIntosh, president of the senior class at the normal college, vice president; Leo C. Moser, K. S. A. C. secretary; Carl W. Salser, secretary of Alumni association at the normal, treasurer.

Consider Income Bill.

Immediately after the organization of the union, a session was held for the consideration of the present question of Permanent Income bill.

Some of those present at this session and who participated in the discussion were: Clyde W. Miller, attorney; W. Y. Morgan, lieutenant governor; Lee Harrison, secretary of the State Board of Administration; and L. N. Flint, professor of journalism, Kansas university.

It was decided that there must be a definite agreement on the part of the different schools as to what fraction of a permanent income would be necessary for each institution. To do this it will be necessary for the heads of the different schools, with a knowledge of the needs of the schools in the future, to meet and reach such an agreement.

Pass a Resolution.

The following resolution to this effect was drafted and sent the State Board of Administration.

"We the members of the Student-Alumni Union of the Kansas Educational Institutions earnestly request that you draft a Permanent Income bill, satisfactory to the heads of the five educational institutions, so that it may be possible to introduce it early in the present session of the legislature."

The compulsory activity fee was discussed and will be further considered at the next meeting.

Representatives from the State Manual Training Normal, Pittsburg, and the Fort Hays Normal were unable to be present because of the short notice of the meeting given. Such representatives will be present at a second meeting which will be held in February according to the presidents of those institutions who were in Topeka Saturday afternoon.

A GREAT PIANIST HERE FRIDAY.

Madam Zelsler's Playing has Met With Marked Success.

Fannie Bloemfeld Zelsler, now regarded as the world's greatest woman pianist, will play at the college auditorium, Friday night, January 26.

Madam Zelsler has played in Baltimore every season for seventeen years. Her playing has also met with great success in Boston, New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and noted European orchestras. She is regarded as having great individuality, impeccable technique, emotional interpretations, and a fine regard for the classic school.

Her interpretative ability, and rendition of the most difficult selections has met with dazzling success. It is said that Madam Zelsler is one of the three great musicians who really "make money" by playing, the other two being Paderewski and Hoffman.

Her success as a musician is exemplified by her rendition of Tschakowsky's Flat Minor Concerto with the Chicago and St. Louis Orchestras this season, and which many critics have declared to be the best reading this concerto has ever had in America.

THE EFFICIENCY COMMITTEE.

The majority report of the efficiency and economy committee on the educational institutions of the state was submitted to the legislature Tuesday. In that report, the committee scores all the state institutions alleging a shameful waste of the state's money by a duplication of courses and maintaining departments which, it was stated, were not needed; especially is this true of the recommendation which had to do with K. S. A. C.

The most drastic action recommended against this institution was the elimination of the department of journalism and the school of agriculture. It was intimated that the state university taught all the journalism that was necessary, and that the school of agriculture would eventually become extinct, anyway. The report certainly does not indicate a thorough knowledge of conditions at this institution. It is true that the state university does offer a strong course in journalism, but at no other institution in the state is there to be found a course in farm journalism such as is offered at K. S. A. C. And farm journalism is coming more and more to be recognized as an important factor in the journalism field. More than this, the journalism department is the publicity bureau for the college and a disseminator of interesting agricultural news over the state. It is inconsistent to think that such a department could be eliminated from an institution of this kind without seriously hindering the work of the college. In that part of the recommendation which deals with the elimination of the journalism department, authorities of similar state institutions are quoted. It is granted that agricultural colleges are similar institutions, but the fact must not be overlooked that similar institutions have different problems and conditions with which to deal, and the recommendation made for a sister state's agricultural college could not be consistently applied to K. S. A. C.

The work that the school of agriculture is doing is well known is evidenced by its enrollment—an enrollment which, with a few exceptions, equals that of any large high school in Kansas. Its students come from all parts of the state. It was established primarily for the benefit of mature students who did not have a high school education and who would not have gone on with their education had not this opportunity been offered them. Strong, practical courses are given in mechanic arts, agriculture, or domestic science, and the students have the benefit of all the college facilities. Those thoroughly acquainted with the work of this department, realize its importance to the college; and it is generally conceded that its elimination would be an injustice to the men and women of the state who desire and pay for such work as the school of agriculture offers.

MOVING PICTURES.

That college students enjoy and appreciate moving pictures which have an educational value is evidenced by the large number of students who were present when the war films were shown the other afternoon. The spring term last year and during the last summer school session moving pictures were shown at several assembly periods, and a large audience was always present.

Good moving pictures have been recognized as having real educational value as well as being entertaining. By comparing the audiences, it is evident that students appreciate the "movies" more than they do the "cut and dried handouts" which are sometimes given at chapel assemblies. Then why not have motion pictures as special features for chapel programs, say two or three times a term? Let's have more "movies."

DO IT AGAIN.

Friday night the Aggie basketball team showed that they were developing into a championship team. Another noticeable improvement was that we had a cheer leader and more and better rooting. When the crowd gets together on a good, strong, "Jay, rah," the deck is cleared for action. It gives the team confidence and lets the boys know we are backing them, and it puts the rooters in better spirits so that they feel more like rooting. Let's do it again.

DO YOU KNOW HIM.

One common pest is in our midst. He is found everywhere, but a college campus is an especially propitious place for him to sprout. He is the man who says he never studies. He ambles into class room, with a languid air, announces indifferently he hasn't "cracked a book"—and makes a brilliant recitation. This particular time of the year he is in his element. His chief joy lies in telling quaking freshman that he never reviewed for a final in his life. When they later discover the 90's on his grade card, they think he is a marvel. They will continue to think so until one observing person who lives in view of his window tells that his light gleams until 1 o'clock every night. Then he must seek new freshmen to dazzle.

Of course there is nothing really dangerous or harmful about this pest; but a fly can ruin a disposition even if it doesn't carry yellow fever. He is more elusive than a fly, though; swatting would be a real relief in his case. But we can't indulge our feelings. We only listen to him and thank God we—you and I—are not as other men. For the last outstanding characteristic of this pest is that he is always in third person. —Daily Illini.

The physical culture class that had been planned this term for women outside the student body, which was to meet Wednesday evenings at the gymnasium, had to be postponed because of shortage of coal. The class had already enrolled 50 women, which included wives of the faculty members, women of the faculty, and office employees on the hill. The class will meet if the coal prospects gets brighter.

WIFE SEEKERS SHOULD USE THEIR HEADS--M'ARTHUR

AFFECTIONS SHOULD NOT BE ALLOWED TO SLOP OVER.

"How to be Happy Though Married," is Subject of Professor MacArthur's Rousing Chapel Address.

In looking for a wife use your head. Be sure and pick a pretty one because the prettiest woman will look homely at times, and a homely one will only look worse than usual. A young man will ask his father's advice when he is buying a horse, but he will trust absolutely to his own judgment when choosing a wife. You can rely upon a woman's taste to choose a man to her liking. These are some of the remarks made by J. R. MacArthur, professor of English, before the student assembly Friday morning.

"Don't exhaust your affections before marriage," said Professor MacArthur, "but save some for married life. I have noticed a tendency among the seniors for the affections to slop over. The pail that slops over is soon empty."

Don't Quarrel.

Don't attempt to quarrel with your wife. A fellow is always in the wrong when he quarrels with a woman. If he isn't when she starts he will be before he gets through. Let your wife tend to the housekeeping and you earn the money. It is usually cheaper to attend to your own business and hire a plumber. Don't forget that it is a great deal easier to keep cool over an electric fan than a cook stove.

Money ought not to be the consideration when getting married but it ought to be a consideration. A good wife will double both the happiness and expenses of the husband. There is only one way to live a happy life and that is inside your income. Marriage is a good investment if you have the money.

"Another great problem of married life is the wife's relations. I don't take much stock in this mother-in-law talk, as a rule, but where there is so much smoke there must be a little fire. Honor your mother-in-law, but from a distance."

Dr. E. C. Miller, assistant professor in the department of botany, has organized a special elective class in plant physiology for graduate students and seniors. The work which the class is taking up is a course of lectures by Dr. Miller embracing a review of the work that has been done on the relation of plants to their environment. The class at present is composed of eight graduate students and one senior.

MARY PICKFORD IN THE "PRIDE OF THE CLAN."

This is without doubt the most charming and sweetest story Mary has ever helped to tell. "The Pride of the Clan" gives her full opportunity to bring into play the varying moods of which she is mistress. It is also worth noting that in its entire length there is no trace of a villain. This picture is being shown at the minimum prices permitted, 10 and 20 cents. A special matinee has been arranged for the children at 3:15 Wednesday afternoon at 5 cents. ## "THE PRINCESS PAT"

Musical Play of Exceptional Quality Here Wednesday.

Seldom if ever before, has a musical play "caught on" as the saying goes, as has the Henry Blossom-Victor Herbert latest effort "The Princess Pat." Last season it began its career at the Cort Theatre, New York, without any blare of trumpets and shepherds through its excellence remained at that theatre for over six months. It would seem from the way in which it was immediately accepted by music lovers that it was just the sort of entertainment for which they had been longing and the substantial support given to this charming musical play has created a "vogue" for like offerings. To "The Princess Pat" Mr. Blossom has, it is said, written a book that takes rank with the best that he has given to the American stage added to which he has written the lyrics for the twenty numbers of the opera which are among Mr. Herbert's most notable compositions. The company that will be seen in "The Princess Pat" when it is presented at the Marshall Theatre Wednesday, Jan. 24, still includes Dorothy South, Carle Stowe, Lou Powers, Annette Ford, Nelson Riley, Augustus Buell, Victoria Gauran, Charles Meyers, a large chorus of real singers, several dancing specialists and the "Princess Pat" orchestra. The scenes which are entirely new duplicates of those shown during the operas New York run are said to be among the best of Mr. Homer F. Emens artistic contributions to current successes.

Y. M.-Y. W. Notes

About 40 Y. W. C. A. workers, including the finance and missionary committees, and the first and second cabinet officers, enjoyed a cafeteria supper Friday night at the college cafeteria. After supper they went to the journalism study room in K-55, where they put on a four act stunt entitled, "The Right and Wrong Way to Present Finance." The association devised the stunt as a better plan to stimulate activities in the campaign for systematic giving among the college girls, than the usual method of "talking it over."

The conference committee of the Y. W. C. A. entertained the freshman commission Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. J. C. Hamilton at 6 Park Road. A buffet supper was served after which the girls roasted marshmallows over the fireplace and told reminiscences of conference meetings.

The regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be held Thursday afternoon by four Y. M. C. A. men. The girls will have an opportunity to hear the men's viewpoint on the "The Ideal Girl, in the Classroom, in her Home, among her friends, and with her Maker." The octette will sing.

PUT THE PROF. IN A DILEMMA.
Strange Woman in his Safe Caused Unsettled State of Mind.

A strange woman in the safe, caused much uneasiness in the mind of a certain professor recently. It is the habit of the young lady stenographers of his office to hang their wraps in the safe during the working hours.

Throughout the day they frequently visit the safe in which is deposited, among other valuables, a mirror. But this time a strange young lady had hung her wraps in the safe in the absence of the professor. When she returned to claim her possessions the professor was present and caused some little excitement in the office by exclaiming "A woman in the safe!"—"Yes, there is a woman in the safe." No one explained her presence so after putting on her hat and coat she departed quietly. The professor was left standing, scratching his head in wonderment.

James A. Hull of Stafford, senior in electrical engineering, won the Athenian oratorical trout held in the Browning-Athenian hall Friday afternoon. The other contestant was Floyd B. Kelly of Kansas City.

The third year school of agriculture class has elected the following officers: President, William Naher; vice president, Alva J. Bogue; secretary, Hobart May; marshal, Rudolph Kobes; assistant marshal, Marion Jordan; class historian, Alta Seigal.

Miss Ada Baum, for several years a music instructor at the college, has accepted a position in the music department at the State Normal at Emporia. For the last two and a half years Miss Baum has been studying music in Chicago.

Trees, largely evergreens and oaks, are being transplanted by the forestry department on the campus east of the new agricultural hall. The cold weather has facilitated the hauling as the trees are moved with the roots imbedded in a large amount of frozen earth.

Rachel Clark of Eskridge, senior in home economics, will represent the Browning literary society in the annual intersociety oratorical. Lois Bellomy of Manhattan was the other contestant. The society contest was held Monday afternoon in the Browning-Athenian hall.

The girls' basketball teams are practicing and the regular teams for the tournament will be chosen soon. There will be representative teams from each of the college classes and one from the school of agriculture.

The schedule for the tournament has not yet been arranged.

C. W. Mullen, L. H. Flora, Joe Novak, and L. L. Leeper of the milling department, received third, seventh, eighth, and tenth places in the grain sampler's examination given by the office of markets in the United States department of agriculture. These men are now eligible for good positions.

The division of agriculture is preparing to make standards for wheat grades. L. A. Fitz, professor of milling industry, received a telegram from Doctor Duvel, of the department of agriculture at Washington, asking information concerning the classes that should be made in the hard red winter wheat.

The college department of horticulture has received a new power sprayer from the Hardie company of Kansas City. The department now has six sprayers in its laboratories. These spraying machines are used by the students in the spraying classes and for demonstration purposes. They will be on exhibition during Farm and Home week.

W. J. Marshall, '14, who came home to attend the funeral of his sister, will not return to Boston. He can complete his course by correspondence, and will receive his degree from the Boston Theological University, March 1. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will remain in Manhattan until the Methodist Episcopal conference in March. Miss Florence Justin, '16, who was their guest has returned to Manhattan.

CLEVENGER'S CLAN ROMPS

ON THE SWEDES 75 TO 11

REYNOLDS GARNERS 31 POINTS FOR THE PURPLE FIVE.

Fullington Gets Seven Goals—Defense Allows Lindsborg Players but Three Field Goals From Mid-Field.

Frank Irving Reynolds was feeling fit Friday night and, aided and abetted by our other Aggie basketball athletes, smothered the Terrible Swedes of Bethany College under a 75 to 11 count. The speedy Purple forward regained the goal-shooting eye that landed him a place on the All-Valley five last year, dropping 13 counters through the iron basket, in addition to counting five points via the free throw route.

The contest was merely a second chapter to the one-sided slaughter of the Washburn Ichabods the week previous. It was good practice in goal shooting for the Clevenger men, but the opposition on the floor was so feeble that the Purple athletes gained but little in that most essential basketball attainment—teamwork.

Guards do Good Work.

Notwithstanding the weakness of the Bethany team, much must be said of the stellar defensive work of Captain MacMillan and Wells of the Aggies, who allowed the Lindsborg players to score but three field goals, all from mid-field. This pair of guards showed such excellent cooperation in shielding the Aggie goal, that seldom was a Bethany player given a chance to make a try at goal within goal tossing distance of the iron ring. Captain MacMillan played all over the floor, and tossed four baskets in addition to playing his part of the defensive work.

"Slim" Fullington gathered himself seven goals during the first half, and also collected a total of four personal fouls, causing his exit from the game soon after the opening of the second period. "Bill" Hargis of the Emporia Normal, who refereed the game, called 12 fouls on the Clevenger men during the evening, nine more than seen by "Lefty" Sproull during the Washburn battle.

The Aggie mentor again gave his second-string men a chance in the latter part of the final half. Wooster and Clark substituted for Captain MacMillan and Wells at guard, both Knostman and Whedon were given a chance at the center position, and Kecker and Cushman were inserted into the game at forward, replacing Reynolds and Van Trine.

WOULD ABOLISH THE "FRATS."

Such a Bill to be Introduced in Mo. Legislature.

A measure to abolish fraternities at the University of Missouri will be introduced and pressed for passage before the legislature, it was learned recently. Lettters have already begun to arrive on the subject.

While it is not known who will introduce the "Anti-Frat" bill such a measure already has been prepared and will be backed by the "anti-university" crowd in the legislature. In fact, it will be part of the general campaign that is expected against the university during the session.

Coupled with this bill, it is said, probably will be direct attacks on Dr. A. Ross Hill, president of the university, and an attempt to move the school of engineering to Rolla and make it part of the school of mines.—K. C. Star.

The Only Standardized Tractor Design

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.

PURPLE FIVE DIES FIGHTING

Kansans Take the Lead in the First Game—Aggies Maintain a One-Point Lead in First Half of Second Game.

(By Collegian Representative.)

Kansas Aggie basketball championship aspirations have taken a backseat. Twice the Cleveland men met the Jayhawkers five on Lawrence soil this week, and twice the Crimson and Blue triumphed over the Purple, the first Kansas victories in two years. The score of Tuesday's battle was 34 to 16, and Wednesday's combat returned a 27 to 19 victory for the Kansans.

But the Aggies died fighting. For 32 minutes of the second game, the lead was held first by one team, then by the other. Not until the closing minutes of play did a margin of three points show up for either team, and then it was the Kansans, featuring long shots, who surged to the front for a second victory.

Aggies Lead.

Reynolds gave the Aggies a one-point lead at the start by tossing a free throw through the iron ring. For three minutes the Aggies held the lead, until Gibbons, star Jayhawker forward, flipped a goal from mid-field. Kecker came back with a field goal and the Aggies, with a pretty spurt, finished the first period with a 10 to 9 lead.

Uhrlaub's free throw tied the score at 10 all, and set the Kansas crowd wild. On a double foul, both Reynolds and Uhrlaub added points, tying the score at 11 to 11. A long field goal by Lytle broke the tie, which had held on for almost five minutes, and once in the lead, Kansas was never headed, although until the final sprint of the Jayhawkers in the last minutes, the Aggies were never more than three points in the rear. The Kansas goals in rapid succession at the end of the game ran the Kansans total eight points ahead of the Aggies.

Don't Show Strength.

The lead of the Jayhawkers did not show the relative strength of the two teams. Kecker and Reynolds were too speedy for the Kansas guards, but once past the Jayhawker defense, the Aggie forwards were unable to cope with the glass backstops used on the Robinson court. The basketball refused to take the "English" on the backboards. The Aggies tried more than twice as many shots from easy distances as did the Kansans, but the ball, when shot from Aggie hands, skimmed the edge of ring without going through for Aggie points.

Captain MacMillan and Wells starred in both encounters, and especially in the second game. Practically every Kansas goal was made from mid-field, the Jayhawkers abandoning their short pass in the face of such sturdy opposition. The work of the Aggie guards drew favorable comment from the Kansas spectators.

Cushman Center.

Cushman, playing center in the new lineup used by Cleveland in the second game, fitted in with the Aggie teamwork better than did Fullington. He failed to score during the evening, but played demonically every minute. Kecker, who took Van Trine's forward, apparently won himself a home on the regular squad. His speed and goal-shooting were a valuable asset. In each game he scored the greatest number of Aggie field goals.

The summary:

Kansans:	G	FT	F

Totals	5	9	10

The score of the first encounter, 34 to 16, just about tells the tale—the story of brilliant Kansas passing and long-distance goal-shooting, interspersed with infrequent touches of real Aggie form. The K. U. basketballers jumped off to a lead and were never headed. Captain MacMillan and Wells were the only Purple athletes who were at all at home on the Kansas court, even Reynolds, veteran of two former valley campaigns, being off his game.

Kecker Substitutes.

Kecker, substituting late in the second half for Van Trine showed streaks of playing that probably surpassed the work of any other Aggie. His speed enabled him to elude the star Hamilton guards, Captain Nelson and Laslett, and he registered the largest number of Aggie field goals, putting the ball through the basket twice.

Two misses of easy attempts by Van Trine in the opening minutes of play helped get the MacMillan men off on the "wrong foot." With this score steadily mounting against them, the Aggies play seemed to lose effectiveness. The score at the end of the first period was 15 to 7, and nearly the same ratio, 34 to 16, was the count when the contest ended.

THE WASHBURN GAME (Special to Collegian.)

Topeka, Jan. 25.—The Aggies romped away to an easy 49 to 16 victory over the Washburn Ichabods here tonight. The Ichabods put up a good fight in the opening period of the game, holding the Manhattan quintet to a 10 to 13 count. With the beginning of the second half, however, the Cleveland point makers began a spurt and soon were out of reach of the Topekans.

Reynolds led the Aggie scoring with ten field goals and six free throws. He played a consistent game on the floor and together with Captain MacMillan at guard, starred for the Purple team.

Coach Cleveland of the Aggies used his entire squad of ten men during the course of the game. Knostman, substituting for Reynolds at right forward, showed goal-shooting ability, as did Van Trine, who took Kecker's left forward position.

Trull was the star of the Washburn game, garnering 12 of the 16 points made by the Kennedy proteges. Nelson at guard also put up a splendid defensive game, and was instrumental in holding down the Aggie score in the opening half.

538 SHORT COURSE MEN ARE ENROLLED FOR WORK

NINETY-FIVE PER CENT OF THEM
COME FROM THE FARM.

Seventy-Five Per Cent Have Had High School Work—Most of Them are Farmers' Sons.

More than 500 young men—538—are enrolled in the ten week's short course at the Kansas State Agricultural college. Of these 240 are in the short course in agriculture and 208 in the division of engineering.

Fourteen of the students in agriculture are enrolled in the creamery short course, which consists of only one term. The other courses cover two terms. Of the engineering students, 15 are enrolled in the traction engine course and 113 in shopwork.

Most are From the Farm.

Ninety-five per cent of the short course students are from the farm. Fifty per cent of these students have had three years or more of high school work, while 25 per cent have had from one to two years. The other 25 per cent are mostly common school graduates. Students under 17 must be graduates of a common school.

Practically one-third of the first year students return for the second year's work. The other two-thirds become interested in farm or other enterprises, or for some other reason cannot come back.

Are Farmers' Sons.

Most of the men from the farms are the sons of farmers, and have not yet started farming for themselves, although there are several progressive farmers enrolled.

Before the creamery short course men may obtain their diplomas they must have had six months actual work in the creamery business.

No agricultural college in the United States provides as much practical work in ten weeks of time each year, for two years, as is provided in this course. Many states have simply farmers' week with no short course. Twenty students enroll on an average from other states.

The agricultural and engineering divisions are working towards the basis of allowing the short course students in one division to elect approximately one third of their work in another division, if they so desire.

LIBRARY OPEN SUPER HOURS.

Class Reserve Room Open from 7:45
a. m. Until 9:30 p. m.

From now on the class reserve room in the library will be open during the supper hour to accommodate those students who do not care to go to their rooms between the cafeteria supper hour and 7:30 o'clock evenings. Heretofore the class reserve room was closed between 5:30 and 7:30.

Students taking supper at the cafeteria have from one to one and a half hours in which to study before the reserve room is opened. Frequently they live too far from the college to return to their rooms and time is lost waiting for the library to open.

Under the new hours the class reserve room will be open continuously from 7:45 in the morning until 9:30 in the evening. The Saturday open hours will remain as at present.

Kansas Architect in Oregon.

L. Dougan, junior student in the architecture course of the college in 1911, writes to Prof. J. D. Walters from Portland, Ore., that the firm of which he is the junior member has just landed the job of preparing drawings and specifications for a new $800,000 hotel in that city. A copy of the Sunday Oregonian, which Mr. Dougan sends, prints the front elevation of the new hotel—a monumental seven story structure of decidedly modern form.

George O. Dean, extension horticulturist of the college, went to Lawrence Wednesday and from there he visited several small towns in the vicinity of Lawrence and gave lectures and demonstrations on pruning.

GIRLS MAY EARN A "K" BY THE POINT SYSTEM

EACH CO-ED MUST HAVE 160
POINTS TO GET A LETTER.

Girls' Athletic Association Adopts Point System Wednesday—25 Points are Required for Membership—
49 Girls Awarded Numerals.

When a bunch of girls is heard counting up and discussing points, no one need be deceived into imagining that these concern graduation. Not much; these points have to do with earning a sweater "K."

The point system was fully worked out and adopted Wednesday afternoon when the Girls' Athletic association met in the gymnasium. More than 100 girls were present for the presentation of numerals and 'party' for the girls who played in the fall hockey tournament.

There has been some discussion over the eligibility of a girl for class teams who is not taking physical training work. The association however voted that any girl of the freshman, sophomore, junior or senior class should be permitted to try out for class teams whether she is enrolled in the department or not. Now this means for each class to send out a big representation for girls' inter-class basketball.

49 Get Numerals.

Numerals were awarded to 49 girls at the meeting, making 25 points toward a K for each one. Two years time will be required for winning this K. The association so far has no dues and 25 points are required for membership.

Now for earning these points: 160 is the total number required.

Each member of the class teams in hockey, basketball, and baseball receives 25.

In the spring tennis tournament only the four highest will make points: champion 25; second 20; third 15; fourth 10.

In the swimming tryouts, the blue-caps make 25 and the red-caps 15.

For two aesthetic dances perfectly given, correct technique, etc., 15 points are offered.

A perfect record in gymnasium class work adds 10 more. This means that there must be no absences, tardies, no excuses and no cuts. Out of town absences on a Dean's excuse may be made up.

Organized Hikes Count.

Organized hikes under the instruction of one of the physical directors will count 5 points. This means doing a certain distance on set time. Hikes will be given every four weeks. There will also be an apparatus test, which if gone through with in good form will add 15 points.

Each member of the association will have a record card and will be expected to see that all points are recorded. Any request for membership or record of points must be made to the council of the association in writing. As a sort of a mid-point toward a K an association pin will be awarded when 80 points have been earned. Numerals will still be given for inter-class games.

The girls who joined the association during the fall term are members under the new system but all others will need 25 points for admission.

HAVE NEW FOLDING MACHINE.

Will be Used in Folding the Industrialist.

The printing department of the college has installed a folding machine which will eliminate much work heretofore done by hand, and will save much time and expense.

The machine will take a sheet of paper the size of the average newspaper, unfolded, and will fold it twice, or three or four times, making 8, 16, or 32 page folders respectively. This machine is to be used in folding the Industrialist. It will fold 3200 papers an hour doing the work of 10 persons.

It is also equipped with a paster so that booklets may be paster rather than bound. This paster will also be used in fastening the leaves of the examination papers.

UNDERCLASSMEN ELECT.

Spirited Competition for the Freshmen Officers.

Tuesday was election day for the freshman and sophomore classes. The sophomores were successful in electing someone for every office. There was spirited competition for the freshmen offices. No person received sufficient number of votes to be elected for vice president, receiving secretary, recording secretary, treasurer, or some of the minor offices. One hundred sixty freshmen voted during the day while only 106 sophomores cast ballots.

Following are the winter term officers for the two classes as elected on Tuesday:

Freshman: President, Chauncey Yoeman; marshal, "Ike" Gates; yell leader, Dewey McCormick.

Sophomores: President, Bruce Brewer; vice president, Lola Sloop; secretary, Sarah Drake; treasurer, Dick Parsons; asst. treasurer, Mary Mason; marshal, Carroll Barringer; chairman of social committee, Sibyl Blackburn; yell leader, Frank Wilson.

COLLEGE IS HELPING TO REDUCE COST OF PAPER

Waste Paper Is Baled and Shipped—
Excelsior Is Also Being Gathered for Shipment.

Waste paper—bales upon bales of it—is piled high on the stage of the old chapel room, ready for shipment.

Every evening the janitor boys carry in barrels of waste paper from the college buildings. This consists of old paste board boxes, wrapping paper, notebook paper, dainty colored tissue paper—in fact all kinds and colors of paper.

These barrels of paper are dumped on the floor of the room to the right of the stage. Here the paper is thrown into the bales and pressed into bales. Each bale weighs 110 pounds. At least two bales can be made in an hour.

Old newspapers are placed on each side of a bale and three strong wires tightly around each bale.

Approximately 65 tons of paper are shipped each year. The last shipment was in June. It sold at $13.50 a ton, bringing a net profit of $171.89.

For the first time in the history of the college excelsior is being gathered up and baled for shipment. Much of the excelsior is obtained from the chemistry building. It is baled in the same manner as the paper.

FACULTY MEMBERS RESIGN.

Benner, Haslam and Peiser Take up
New Duties.

Among the changes effective at the beginning of this year is the resignation of James W. Benner, instructor in veterinary medicine, who accepted a position in the Michigan Agricultural College as assistant professor in the veterinary department. Dr. Benner has been succeeded by Dr. J. P. Scott, a graduate student of Cornell University, who was appointed a fellow in pathology last fall in this college.

Kurt Peiser, assistant in bacteriology, resigned to become milk inspector for the city Board of Health in Cleveland, Ohio, and has been succeeded by J. R. McClung, formerly assistant in chemistry in the college. Thomas P. Haslam, assistant professor of veterinary medicine, will sever connections with the institution February 1 to engage in commercial undertakings.

McCOLLOCH ADDRESSES "CUBS."

Kansas Newspaper Man Speaks on "The Editorial Page."

R. P. McCulloch, for 10 years editor of the Anthony Bulletin and one of the best known newspaper men in Kansas, addressed the class in editorial practice yesterday morning on "The Editorial Page."

Mr. McCulloch stated that the country newspaper editor should have a constructive editorial policy and should deal mainly with matters pertaining to his community. It was also stated that the editor should get away from partisan ideas, and deal fairly with politics and religious matters. It is the belief of Mr. McCulloch that the large papers should be allowed to handle this field of editorial work.

MADAM ZEISLER PLAYS AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

GREATEST LIVING WOMAN PIAN-IST WILL GIVE CONCERT.

She Has Met With Marked Success in Five Foreign Countries and America—Appeals to all Classes of Music Lovers.

Local music lovers will be afforded an opportunity tonight of hearing Fannie Bloomfield Zeisler who is considered to be the greatest living woman pianist, and at the same time the greatest pianist America has ever produced. The matchless beauty and variety of Madam Zeisler's playing has been described again and again in all parts of the world.

The statement is made that in Denmark, Russia, Sweden, England, Canada, and in her native America, the name of Bloomfield Zeisler has been sufficient to draw an over-flowing house whenever she is announced to play.

It is considered that a great deal of her success is due to her unfailing ability to select programs which appeal to all classes of music lovers. Although Madam Zeisler has had many triumphs to her credit, it is doubtful if she has ever received such a tremendous ovation as that which was accorded her at her latest Boston New York and Philadelphia concerts.

At Carnegie hall, New York, so great was her success that part of the audience refused to leave the hall but crowded down to the stage and remained until Madam Zeisler had graciously played five encore numbers for them. Madam Zeisler carries her own special concert grand Steinway piano and tuner, and her private secretary and personal manager.

The program for tonight is as follows:

PROGRAM.

Beethoven, Andante, F major; Sonata, opus 31, No. 3; Allegro; Scherzo; Menuetto; Presto con fuoco.

Mendelssohn, Wedding March and Elf Dance from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream, transcribed for piano by Liszt.

Chopin, Scherzo, opus 31; Etude, opus 10, No. 7; Valse, opus 70, No. 1; Polonaise, opus 53.

Liszt, Liebestraum, (Notturmo), No. 3; Mephisto Waltz, (The Dance in the Village Inn—Second Episode from Lenau's Faust.)

THEY DANCE NOW.

Sorority Girls Find Way to Get Around House Rule.

Freshmen are usually not given credit for much wisdom, but the freshmen members of the Chi Omega sorority have shown that they are in some ways at least, clever. When the sorority occupied its home this fall all the floors had been newly finished and the older girls, issued the dictum that all rugs must be main down and that there would be no dancing. This was so that the bright new finish might be retained as long as possible.

All went as expected until one of the freshmen, conceived a brilliant idea and conspired with the others of her class. The result is that the new members clubbed together and recently presented the sorority with a new Victrola.

There's dancing on the program every evening at the Chi Omega house and the rule about the rugs staying down has been forgotten.

SELL FORGES TO STUDENTS.

Outfits Will be Sold at Cost of Material.

Forges and anvils will be sold to students desiring them at the price of the material according to D. E. Lynch, instructor of forging and blacksmithing.

These outfits will be sold to the students at a much lower price than they could be obtained elsewhere. The forges are made of sheet metal and are complete with ashpan, water trough and hood. The anvils are made of cast iron. The price of the anvil will be $6 and the forge will cost $12 or $13.

OUR HONOR POINTS.

Within the last two years, K. S. A. C. has been "getting on its feet," so to speak. Entrance requirements have been raised to standard, scholarship standards have been raised, and the students are required to do a much better grade of work than formerly. At the beginning of the present school year a new grading system was instituted which very materially affects the number of "E's" given and the ranking of honor students.

This is all well enough and good, as it places K. S. A. C. on an equal basis with all other educational institutions of higher learning. However, the committee which had charge of the new grading system did one thing which mars all the constructive work that it did—and that is the new method of computing students honor points. The new method of computing the honor points is the same as the old method except that "M" has taken the place of "P" as the zero medium and "P" now detracts 5 from the total honor points.

So far as the Collegian has been able to learn, the general consensus of student opinion is that this method of computing honor points is unfair to the student because it is not in keeping with the required standards of the institution. A comparison of the old and new methods of computing these honor points, taking into consideration the higher standards of the institution, indicates that such an opinion is justified. For example: Under the new system of grading, only five percent of the students in any class may receive a grade of "E". This necessitates a greater amount of work than formerly on the part of the student in order that he may rank as an "E" student. However, he receives no recognition for the greater effort he has put forth, and is ranked with the "E" student under the old system of lower standards. Instead of making the computation of honor points directly proportional to the increased amount of work necessary to rank as an "E" student, it is made inversely proportional and the student is put on a lower standard, comparatively, than he was under the old system.

This is certainly unfair and should be remedied. It would seem that the best method would have been to let the grade of "P" remain as the zero medium and give "M" the value of plus 5 of an honor point; or if "M" is to remain as the zero medium, the value of "G" and "E" should be raised. This would not only be fair to the students but it would conform more nearly to the raised standards of the institution than does the present method of computing honor points.

WE APOLOGIZE.

In last Tuesday's issue of the Collegian a news story was printed quoting a chapel talk recently made by J. R. Macarthur, professor of English, concerning married life. In the report Professor Macarthur was given credit for the originality of the speech. However, Dr. Macarthur disclaims any credit for its originality and states that he had collected his material from two books, one of which was "The Letters of a Self-Made Merchant to His Son."

The Collegian sincerely regrets this injustice to Dr. Macarthur and wishes to make this public acknowledgement and apology for its error.

SMALL-TOWN STUFF.

Chronic cut-ups with their particular form of superlative ego have harried the student body too long and it is time they were admonished.

These nuisances find it difficult to maintain a respectful silence in a class that is devoid of interest to them. When a lecture becomes dry and foreign to the course for which they registered, they not only become dissatisfied but manifest it by disturbing the whole class.

One of the most prevalent nuisances is the man or woman who comes in late to each class—not late enough to be called tardy, but just late enough to disturb the roll-call.

This habitual tardiness is in nearly every case the fault of the student. Occasionally some coquettish young thing fritters away her time in carrying on a nonsensical confab with some addle-pated, two-by-four dude in the library or the hallway, and finally, two minutes before the professor has begun his lecture, come fluttering breathlessly into the room with every appearance of having been unavoidably detained.

The classroom nuisance comes in and either leaves the door open or slams it shut violently; then he noises over to his seat, kicks over two or three chairs on his way, names his books down and then slides his chair with a rasping sound over the floor to a position that better suits his convenience.

While this is going on, Miss Sallie Nuisance, down in the front row, looks slyly at her nearest companion and they both giggle, usually with sufficient vehemence to attract the attention of the whole class. When something occurs which does not exactly suit Sallie, she leans over and discusses the whole matter with her neighbor, who might possibly want to hear what the professor is saying. And yet they wonder why a professor can't drive home his subject and why sometimes his lectures become dry and uninteresting.—Daily Kansas.

THE LOGIC OF CHEATING.

Doesn't it seem strange, when you take a logical view of the situation, that it should become necessary at this season of the year in every educational institution in the country to start an agitation for the observance of honorable methods in examinations?

A university community is about as representative a collection of average American citizens as can be found. The average American is honest. You could leave your safe unlocked without danger in the presence of nine persons out of ten who belong in that class.

Yes, the average university student is honest, but many add this proviso: "That dishonesty is not to be understood as including cheating in examinations, and thereby obtaining scholastic credit which is not rightfully earned."

Why the need for this understanding? Does anyone know?

It is a freak psychology—and that is all you can say. The student who is guilty of cheating in examinations does not try to justify his conduct. Neither does he feel any serious twinges of conscience.

He simply accepts as a fact the extraordinary standard which permits this form of dishonesty and forbids all others, and goes ahead to follow it.

Once a decent man or woman takes a sensible view of examination cheating, he will swing over into the class which opposes it.—Ohio State Lantern.

Alas! I must be hard for our university coeds to find fellows around this institution who dress like those on magazine covers, makes love like a moving picture hero, and yet have time to attend at least one class during the week.

It is hard for a man to mind his own business unless he has both a mind and a business.

It may sound paradoxical, but the apple of a man's eye is usually a peach.—Exchange.

CADET CORPS IS REORGANIZED.

New Have a New System of Instruction.

The college cadet corps has been completely reorganized and placed under a different system of instruction. All sophomores, juniors and seniors have been placed in one battalion, the freshmen cadets in another and the school of agriculture cadets in still another. To each company, a captain or higher ranking officer has been assigned as instructor.

The non-commissioned officers have been divided for instruction into two groups. Lieutenant Colonel F. M. Pickrell and Major L. H. Bixby have charge of these groups, which meet three times a week. The text which is now being used by the cadet corps is also used by these groups or classes of the non-commissioned officers. Instruction will be over the whole book or to use the expression of Captain Mathews, commandant of cadets, "from cover to cover, thoroughly."

Captain Mathews has charge of the commissioned officers class which meets four times a week.

Miss May Carley will go to Topeka Saturday to sing before an audience under the supervision of Mrs. Arthur Capper.

Jerry Ewers of Silver Lake, a graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural college, spent the past week visiting old friends at the college.

Bettie Cotton and Bettie Waldo, students in college, visited friends and relatives at Wamego Tuesday evening.

Victor Mead a freshman in college, attend the K. U. Aggie basketball game in Lawrence, Tuesday evening.

AUTO, HERO, AND JUNIOR FIGURE IN A TRAGEDY

But It Ended Happily When the Prodigious Returned From an Extended Joy Ride.

A brown, curly-haired puppie, two kidnappers, and a yellow wheeled runabout. At dusk on College Hill. The setting is complete for the greatest tragedy that has ever entered the life of little Junior White, son of Prof. A. E. White, 1731 Fairchild avenue.

When a yellow wheeled car disappeared down Eighteenth street about 5.30 Saturday evening, Hero, the Scotch collie puppie who has brought so much happiness into the life of little Junior, was a serene and satisfied occupant between two thoughtless students who had stopped to pick him up.

His short four month's experience with life had not taught him that joy rides do not always end as tranquilly as they begin. So that when his proud possessor would have fed him a bone a few moments later, Junior found that his poor doggie Hero was gone. Whereupon there was weeping in the White home and a search for the missing one was instituted.

A neighbor supplied the clue of the yellow wheeled runabout. That offered promise but no consolation to Junior for he didn't want clues. He wanted Hero. He insisted that his papa find Hero but this worthy gentleman who does not hesitate to make a stagger at the fourth dimensions, was baffled when it came to searching for Scotch Collie pups.

The cloud broke away Monday morning when the prodigal with woolly hair unkempt, pattered leisurely up to Mr. Collins in the engineering laboratory of the college and playfully outstretched his fore legs, expectantly awaiting the commencement of a game which Mr. Collins did not know how to play. The news had gone out, however, and within the hour, Hero was telling Junior of his escape between bites of a bounteous breakfast and the lavished attentions of his admiring playmate.

FRESHMEN ARE CHAMPIONS.

Yearling Basketball Quintet Eliminates Sophomores from Race.

The freshmen basketball five won the final contest of the class championship tournament, from the sophomores yesterday afternoon, 16 to 10, thereby winning first place in the standings. The yearling team was composed of Quinlan and Hines, forwards; Yoeman, center; and Miller and Martin, guards.

The juniors took the measure of the seniors in the second game of the evening, winning a 24 to 19 battle. Scott of the juniors starred.

The results of the tournament contests show the freshmen ahead with three games won and none lost; the sophomores second with two won and one lost; the juniors third with one won and two lost and the seniors last with three defeats.

There are several characters in the "Man from Home" which have not yet been chosen. The unsettled characters are an elderly English earl, an enthusiastic young American and an Italian waiter, a comedy part. "The material is very good," said J. G. Emerson, who has active charge of the rehearsals, "and the play promises to be a successful production."

The Saddle and Sirolo club met Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. and elected the following officers for the winter term: president, J. L. Lantow; vice president, Willard Welch; secretary, F. H. Gulick; treasurer, Fred Carp; marshal, Charles Nitcher. Plans for a stock judging contest were discussed but definite arrangements were not completed.

Miss Bertha Campbell of Agenda, a former college student, is visiting friends in Manhattan.

H. M. Burke is ill with measles.

BEAUTY CONTEST BEGINS FEB. 1.

Fifteen Beauties in the Race—Five Will be Selected.

The fifteen co-eds who will enter the beauty contest will have been selected before February 1 the date on which the sale of the Royal Purple, 1917 will be opened. Each of the seniors will have eleven hundred votes, the juniors two hundred, and the freshmen and sophomores one hundred and fifty to cast toward the selection of the five whose photo graphs will appear in the class book "Beauty Section."

All money spent by organizations for space, in fact, every penny spent with the class book committee which is paid before March 1, will count one vote in the contest. Each class will have one representative in the contest, as will each of the sororities, and it is expected that the short course students will be represented.

The class book of '17 class is to have many features. Students who have accomplished things which are noteworthy will be properly played up.

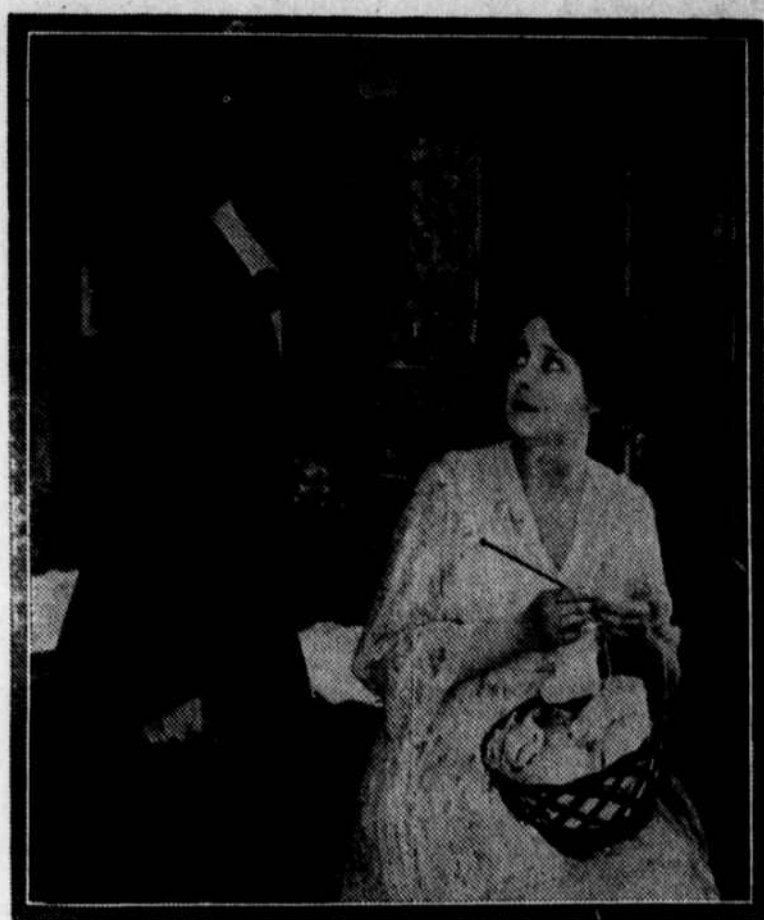

An admirable feature is that of five process plates of paintings which will represent stages in the development of Kansas as brought about by the achievements of K. S. A. C. graduates.

Mrs. Tudor J. Charles of Republic will arrive Saturday for a short visit with her daughter Esther and her son W. K. Charles. From here she will go to Topeka to visit friends and relatives.

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.

KANSAS STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, MANHATTAN, TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1917.

CHANGE COLLEGE CALENDAR FOR 1917-18

PLANS FOR JUNIOR-SENIOR ARE NOW IN FULL SWING

THE SENIORS MUST MAKE THEIR OWN DATES.

Three Different Buildings Will be Used for the Entertainment of the Evening—Special Features Being Planned.

Arrangements for the annual Junior-Senior are in full swing according to J. E. DuBois, chairman of the Junior-Senior committee. Eight committees are busy with plans which bid fair to make this year's event one which will always be remembered as the event of 1917.

The main floor of the gymnasium, the women's gymnasium, the domestic science and art hall, and the auditorium will be used for the entertainment of the evening. The woman's gymnasium and domestic science building will be devoted to the entertainment of those who do not dance and some very attractive features are being arranged for which, will, no doubt, be attended by a large number of those who do dance.

The farce, which will be a take-off on the seniors, faculty members and notable students, under the direction of a committee headed by Miss Hazel Merrill, is promised as the outstanding feature of the evening. Refreshments will be served by a committee in charge of Miss Pauline Richards.

Seniors Must Make Dates.
"There is one thing that must be made clear to the seniors," says Mr. DuBois, "that is, the seniors must make their own dates. Of course, every senior will be invited, but every one must make their own arrangements to come. No senior will be assigned a date."

"Those juniors who do not make dates will be assigned to juniors. We want to urge everyone to turn their dates in to the date committee—George Gibbons is the chairman of the date committee—or to drop them in the date box in main hall."

COLLEGE HAS FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Engineering Departments Organize for Protection.

Several of the departments in the mechanical engineering building have deemed the fire protection of the building inadequate and are now taking steps to organize a team of fire fighters and get the proper equipment for such a team to work with.

The team of fire fighters will be selected from the departments of shop practice, heat and power, general repair, and custodian, and it will practice at regular intervals—not less than once in two weeks. A whistle to be used as a warning signal will be installed on the roof of the mechanical engineering building over the boiler room.

Forty new fire extinguishers have been distributed in the building and the shops to supplement the former equipment in that line, and some additional material for fighting fire such as ropes and buckets, will be ordered.

WRITES FOR HARPER'S WEEKLY.

Former K. S. A. C. Instructor has Series of Articles Published.

M. E. Ravage, whose pen-name is Max Ravitch, an instructor in English at K. S. A. C. in 1911-12, has a series of autobiographical articles which are being published in Harper's Weekly.

The first article of the series appeared in the issue of January 20. In these sketches, Mr. Ravage tells of his experiences in the Middle West while an instructor at K. S. A. C. Mr. Ravage will doubtless be remembered by his many Manhattan friends and members of the faculty.

TO TAX COLLEGE FRATERNITIES.

House and Property Will Not be Exempt if Bill Passes.

College fraternities and sororities in Kansas will have to pay taxes on their houses and property, unless the usual biennial lobby arrives on the scene in time to prevent the senate approving house bill No. 206, recommended for passage in house committee of the whole recently. The present law exempts these from taxation.

$80,000 FOR LAND FOR K. S. A. C.

Senator Carroll Proposes Such an Appropriation—President Waters Emphasizes Need of It.

Eighty thousand dollars for the purpose of purchasing land for the State Agricultural college is asked in bill No. 237, introduced by Senator Carey Carroll. If the price to be paid for the land is considered too high, the board of administration is authorized to start condemnation proceedings. The land is said to be adjacent to the Agricultural college campus.

In regard to the need of the college for more land, President Waters, in his report to the board of administration, said: "The need of more land is most urgent for the future progress and development of the work in the animal husbandry departments. During the present biennium the animal husbandry department expended more than $20,000 for grain, cottonseed cake, and linseed cake alone, and $3,800 for the rent of land. It was also necessary for the department of dairy husbandry to purchase proportionately large quantities of grain and forage."

President Waters also set forth figures showing that almost every other agricultural college in the United States has found it necessary to add materially to its land owned.

BEAUTIES ARE SELECTED BY COMMITTEE OF ARTISTS

The Candidates for the Royal Purple Contest are Judged While They Dance.

While they danced the candidates for the Royal Purple beauty contest, were being judged Saturday night by a committee of artists from Kansas City.

The judges selected three of the candidates who will be voted upon by the students at the general election this spring. The three nominees for the honors are Viola Stockwell of Larned, Mary Dakin of Ashland, and Sarah Drake of Manhattan.

These girls have been selected as the prettiest girls of their classes. Miss Stockwell will be the candidate of the senior class; Miss Dakin the candidate of the junior class, and Miss Drake the candidate from the freshman class.

In addition to these candidates in the final race, each of the sororities of the college has selected one member as a candidate. These candidates are: Alpha Delta Pi, Miss Margaret Hale of Lebanon; Kappa Kappa Gamma, Miss Mearle Beaman of Topeka; Chi Omega, Miss Fayne Bondurant; Delta Delta Delta, Miss Dorothy Norris of Kansas City; Phi Delta Phi, Helen Blank of Emporia.

WALKER IS HONORED.

Elected President of Kansas Engineers' Society.

H. B. Walker, associate professor of irrigation and drainage engineering, was elected president of the Kansas Engineers' society which held its annual meeting in Topeka recently. C. M. Buck, '87, and C. E. '16, was elected vice president of the society.

The following members of the engineering faculty attended the annual meeting of the society: A. A. Potter, dean of the division of mechanic arts; H. B. Walker, associate professor of irrigation and drainage engineering; W. S. Gearhart, professor of highway engineering; L. E. Conrad, professor of civil engineering, and R. A. Seaton, professor of applied mechanics and machine design.

SIGMA DELTA CHI INITIATES.

Three Journalists Become Members of National Organization.

Three college journalists were initiated as members of the Kansas State chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, Friday evening.

The new members of the fraternity are: B. Q. Shields, junior in journalism; B. B. Brower, sophomore in journalism and sport editor for the Collegian; and Ralph Foster, sophomore in journalism and associate editor of the Collegian.

Initiation was held at the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house.

The college section of the M. E. Sunday school had their pictures taken last Sunday.

AGGIES PLAN REVENGE

ON THE K. U. QUINTET

THE PURPLE FIVE WAS "OFF" SAYS COACH CLEVENGER.

The Lineup for Next Friday and Saturday is Doubtful—MacMillan, Wells and Reynolds are Counted as Fixtures.

"Just wait until we get K. U. on an Aggie court."

That is the attitude of Coach Z. G. Cleverger, of Captain MacMillan, of nine other Aggie basketball athletes, of the spectators who saw the K. U. combats, and of some 2,500 followers of Aggie athletics. And it is all based on the come-back the Cleverger eleven staged in the second game with the Hamilton men at Lawrence, after losing 16 to 34 the first evening.

Without attempting to offer any excuses for the results of the first valley series the Aggies have lost to Kansas in two years, Coach Cleverger believes that the advantage of playing on the Aggie court will tip the balance in favor of the Purple quintet.

Were "Off."

"We were 'off' in the first game," says the Aggie coach. "Then in the second game the team played a little basketball, and showed almost enough to pull through with a victory."

"We shot twice as many times at the basket as did the Kansas forwards. With wooden backstops, a few of those throws would have meant goals, and it wouldn't have taken very many points to have changed the result of that last game."

The lineup is in doubt. Fullington, who started the first game at Lawrence, may be on the side-lines. Likewise, Kecker and Van Trine are neck and neck in the race for a forward position, and Cleverger is in doubt as to which will open the game. Captain MacMillan and Wells at guards, and Reynolds at forward, are counted as fixtures.

SWISS ASK ADVICE OF K. S. A. C. ENGINEER

Walker Receives Inquiry from Switzerland Regarding Drainage Matters—Inquiries from Other Countries.

A much censored letter was received recently by H. B. Walker, associate professor of irrigation and drainage engineering, from L. C. Bryan of Villa Miguel, Switzerland, relative to the possibilities of draining a large Swiss swamp.

The letter bore evidence of having been opened several times. It had been resealed with large stickers and bore the word "censored" in large red letters. The letter in part follows:

"I am interested in reclaiming a tract of bog land that is covered with water three months of the year in ordinary times. It has been raining almost incessantly since the war began three years ago. In ordinary times there is little or no water here, however, for nine months in the year."

"Will you advise me as to the best methods to follow? We could erect windmills to do the pumping, or we could use electricity, for it is very cheap here. The land has a general slope of about 50 centimeters to the kilometer. It is entirely surrounded by the embankments of the country highways."

"It takes about three years to bring a piece of land of this kind under cultivation."

"All of the Rhone valley is to be drained under the supervision of the state engineers within the next two or three years, but this bit is a corner to them."

"I would like to show the Swiss that we Americans can do things. If you are interested, will you kindly advise me as to what the possibilities are in a case of this kind?"

"This is the first letter that we have received from that part of the world," said Mr. Walker, "but we have received inquiries on like matters from Canada, Australia, Russia, China, and India."

O. V. P. Stout, dean of the college of engineering at the Nebraska university, addressed the engineering students seminary Thursday.

REPORTS OF SUFFERING

BELGIUM ARE UNTRUE

SO SAYS O. B. ZIMMERMAN, CONSULTING ENGINEER FOR I. H. C.

At Least 95 Per Cent of the Terrible Stories About the Belgians Are False—Many Reports Are Exaggerated.

"At least 95 per cent of the reports of atrocities and outrages inflicted upon the Belgians by the Germans, are untrue," said O. B. Zimmerman, consulting engineer for the International Harvester company, in his address, "The Truth About Belgium," before the student assembly Friday morning.

"Practically all of the starvation stories about the Belgians started at the beginning of the war are false," said Mr. Zimmerman. "The terrible stories of the killing of women and children have been greatly exaggerated. This great exaggeration is due to the nervous disposition and the strong imagination of the Belgian people. The Belgians are a blend of many nationalities. Their education is largely controlled by the clergy of the Roman Catholic church."

Belgium a Battleground.

"Belgium was not on the map to a great many people before the war although it has been the field for many of the great battles of former wars. The borders of Belgium were not fortified when the war broke out. When it became evident that this little nation was to become the natural battlefield for France and Germany, there was no question but that Belgium must mobilize her forces on her borders."

"The International Harvester company has its head offices in Brussels and from there the company controls its branch offices and distributing stations which are established in all the large cities of Europe. The company is brought into close touch with the ideals and desires of each country involved in the war. America does not realize the seriousness of the probable results of this conflict."

"Every nation in the war sincerely believes that it is in the right. The war was not brought on primarily by the murder of the arch-duke of Austria. His murder simply served to bring the ambitions of the nations to a climax and to merge the interests of the belligerents into the present great conflict."

SHORTHORNS STRONG FOR PLE

Restaurants are Unable to Supply the Demand.

One cold evening lately six short-horns were seen to frolic gaily out into the chilling wind and scamper over to Aggieville chattering like sparrows on a bright spring morning. Their thoughts seemed to be turned toward pie for the jabber was something like this:

"I wonder what he will charge us for two pies? If we can get two for thirty cents we'll buy 'em and cut 'em each in three pieces. Maybe if we bought six he would sell 'em at a dime apiece. Then followed a tune with the following words:

"Tell my mother back in Hometown My mind has turned to pie. If you'll make 'em here on earth We'll bake 'em when we die."

According to C. F. Moore, proprietor of the Narrow Gauge Lunch, if the demand for pie increases in the future as much as it has recently, it will soon exceed all sources of supply now in view close enough to exclude excessive freight rates.

SHORT COURSE GIRLS ELECT.

Plan for a Better Organization—Will Have Party Feb. 9.

The girls enrolled in the short course met Saturday afternoon and elected officers for the rest of the term. Plans were made for a better organization, more co-operation and more 'pep'. A party was arranged for Friday night, February 9.

The following officers were chosen: President, Flossie Milleson; vice president, Florence Joy; secretary, Elsie Peterson; treasurer, Mabel Van Tule; social committee, Mildred Holister, Alice Bobeck, Marion Beardsley.

TO DEBATE THE NORMALS.

Will Clash With Emporians Friday Night.

Next Friday night, immediately after the K. U.-Aggie basketball game, the Aggie debaters will clash with the Emporia Normal debaters on the question: Resolved, that the United States should compel the railroads and their employees to settle their disputes in legally established courts of arbitration—constitutionality waived.

The affirmative team which will meet the Normal debaters here is composed of Clyde Fisher, Ward Petrow, Oscar Steanson and Glen M. Case, alternate. The negative team which will go to Emporia is composed of T. R. Pharr, C. W. Howard, H. H. Nelson, and Floyd Work, alternate. J. R. Macarthur, professor of English, will accompany the negative team.

The teams have been coached principally by R. McGarraugh and L. A. Dubbs. Both men are seniors and veteran debaters. They were also captains of the negative and affirmative teams which debated Iowa State college last fall on the same question.

CONFERENCE ON RURAL LIFE OPENS AT COLLEGE TODAY

About 50 Ministers, Y. M. C. A. Secretaries and Rural Leaders Expected to Attend.

About 50 ministers, county Y. M. C. A. secretaries and rural leaders are expected to be in Manhattan to attend the state rural life conference which opens at the college today and continues for two weeks. The conference is really a short course in rural work, according to Walter H. Burr, director of rural service in the extension division of the college.

The conference opens at 11:30 o'clock this morning when Warren H. Wilson, national superintendent of rural work for the Presbyterian church, of New York, will begin a series of lectures on rural sociology.

Prof. Edwin L. Hart of Madison, N. J., professor of sociology in Drew seminary, will begin a series of lectures on rural church legislation at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At 4:30 o'clock Mr. Burr will begin a series of lectures on rural leadership. The lectures by these men will be given at the hours mentioned throughout the next two weeks. The meetings will be held in room No. 74 of Anderson hall.

WHICH IS YOUR FAVORITE?

Three Diseases are popular Among the Students.

Of the commoner ailments and diseases which is your favorite? If you care to be in style, so far as ailments are concerned, would you choose measles, mumps or whooping cough? It would have to be one of the three if you expected to be one of the "400."

If you care to be real exclusive, smart, elite—this will involve taking chances on your life—you must have the small pox, typhoid fever or diphtheria. They are not so "common" as are some of the other diseases according to figures compiled by the college physician, Dr. Seiver.

Four hundred and fourteen out of 556 new students registering this term have had the measles. One should not, however, be led by these figures to believe that this is a measly institution. Other diseases, together with their number of the 556 who have had them, follow:

Whooping cough	304
Mumps	281
Chicken pox	280
German measles	71
Scarlet fever	56
Small pox	51
Typhoid fever	35
Diphtheria	21

This averages approximately three complaints for each student. What three have you had.

The carpentry shops have received a new band saw filer which is being installed so that the band saw may be filed regularly and quickly. The filer is power driven and it will file a large band saw in less than fifteen minutes.

TWO SEMESTER SYSTEM IS PLAN FOR NEXT YEAR

COLLEGE WILL OPEN EARLIER AND CLOSE EARLIER.

Plan to Fix Second Monday of September as a Permanent Date for Beginning of the First Semester.

A complete change in the college calendar for 1917-18 has been made by the faculty. Dean Potter and Dean Willard were appointed to plan the new calendar which is made to conform to the two semester plan.

"Under this plan," says Dean Willard, "college will open earlier in the fall and close earlier in the spring, thereby giving the students a chance to go to the summer sessions of other colleges."

"Under the old calendar our college was closed after the other institutions had opened their summer sessions. Also we will be able to close college at the same time that high schools close which will enable the high school teachers to come directly here to summer school. At the present high schools close earlier than this college and because they do not wish to lose so much time are likely to go to other summer sessions although they really prefer K. S. A. C."

The First Semester.

"It is the plan to fix the second Monday of September as a permanent date for the opening of the college year. On the first Wednesday after the opening of school there will be a general convocation of the students at 11 o'clock and at 1 o'clock classes will begin."

"No change has been made in the Thanksgiving vacation excepting that classes will close at noon on Wednesday before Thanksgiving day, when in the past they have been closing at 5:30. There will be exactly two weeks' vacation at Christmas. This will enable classes to begin where they stopped before Christmas without any broken laboratory or recitation periods. School will close at 6 p. m. December 21. This will give students time to get home before Christmas and stay until after New Year's."

"The first semester will close on Saturday of the eighteenth week after the second Monday in September. This will usually be the last Saturday in January."

The Second Semester.

"The second semester will begin on the next Tuesday after the close of the first semester. The time between semesters is not intended for a vacation, but it is intended only to give time for the grades and reports to be turned in."

"The second semester will continue practically eighteen weeks. Commencement will be held on Thursday of the eighteenth week. The summer session will begin the day following commencement. The summer session will continue for six weeks next summer but in the future it is hoped that a nine-week session can be held."

"Scholarship deficiency reports will be turned in the fourth, eighth and twelfth weeks of each semester and two days after the close of the semester. This will give three deficiency reports each semester instead of the two reports a term as at present, thus giving the same number of reports per year."

SADDLE AND SIRLOIN TO HELP.

Members to Act as Guides Farm and Home Week.

A special meeting of all of the members of the Saddle and Sirloin club has been called for this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock to meet in the club room. Those having classes will be excused.

Professors Vestal, Paterson, and gatewood will take the members on a trip through the college barns and explain the experiments that are in progress. The trip is to prepare the members to act as guides and information agents to the farmers who will be here for Farm and Home Week, February 5 to 10.

All members who have vacant hours and are willing to act as guides are requested to report them to E. C. Johnson, dean of the extension department.

WHAT IS BEING DONE?

Next week, February 5-10, is Farm and Home week at the college. Farmers from all parts of the state will be here to attend the lectures and visit the college. The extension department has urged that every student write home and invite his or her parents to attend.

But what is being done in the way of accommodation for our visitors? Recently the Collegian advocated that the county clubs take action and make arrangements for the visitors from the different counties; but so far as the Collegian has been able to learn, nothing has, as yet, been done. Certainly something should be done by the students of the college to arrange for the welfare of our visitors. If the county clubs have become disorganized, a temporary organization could be perfected to help out. The boarding houses and rooms will be crowded to overflowing and it will be hard for some of our visitors to find accommodations. The more courtesy and help we can show them in this respect, the better advertisement it will be for the college. Let's get busy.

GLASS BACKSTOPS.

Why not a move to compel all valley schools to have uniform basketball backstops? Unquestionably, the glass stops at Lawrence give tremendous advantage to the Hamilton pupils, an advantage that is not overcome by the change of the Jayhawkers to a wooden backstop. For several years valley teams have been invading Lawrence, and usually have met defeat. On other courts the Hawks are more easily beaten. There appears to be one outstanding cause for such results—glass backstops.

This is not meant as a reflection on the playing merits of the Hamilton troupe. Gibbons' and Lytle stand shoulder to shoulder with almost any point-makers in the valley. But when the Aggie forwards, who have demonstrated ability to cage baskets, repeatedly misjudged shots on the Robinson floor, it is almost positive proof that something is the matter. That "something" seems to be, largely glass backstops.

HAVE WE GOT THE PEP?

There is twice as much "pep" at Aggie basketball contests as there is at K. U., if the attendance at the Jayhawker-Aggie games last week is any criterion. Almost a half of the reserved seats were unoccupied at the first contest, and at least a fourth were not filled for the second game. Never has there been a game of any consequence on the Aggie floor, in the five years the writer has followed Aggie sports, that both reserve and open seats were not filled to capacity.

Ode to La Grippe.

J. E. Edgerton, a former resident of Manhattan, who is now visiting in the west, recently wrote the following poem while he was suffering with the la grippe. It expresses well the feelings of one who is afflicted with the disease:

O dear, O dear, I feel so queer;
My ears ring so I cannot hear;
But yet I feel all kinds of noise
Which dampens all my earthly joys.

If there be one who does not know
What 'tis to ache and suffer so,
He's missed experience most dear,
And knows not what he well may fear.

No one can truly sympathize
Unless he's had it and grown wise;
He cannot coach his friend and then
To all his wallings say "Amen."

Who never suffered with la grippe
Will turn his back and curl his lip,
And strut, and pose, and scorn your pain,
And boast, "He never would complain."

But he'll whine like a brindle pup,
And moan and wheeze, "The gig is up."

With eyes rolled like a dying calf—
And then it is our turn to laugh.

If you would be a worthy friend,
Go get the grippe that you may lend,
A decent ear unto the woes
That grippe brings on from teeth to toes.

And when you've had it good and right,
You'll roll your sleeves and even fight
The one who dares look with disdain
On your good friend racked with the pain.

HE WORKED HIS WAY THROUGH.

In the brief history of the career of Thomas Cochran, who on January 1st will become the twelfth member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company there is the following significant sentence: "During his junior year at college his father met with business reverses and Mr. Cochran worked his way through the final year."

If a count were made of the American business success of the last decade, the chances are that 90 per cent of the men worked to help pay for their education.

The boy who fires furnaces and waits on the table is the one who appreciates a college degree. He knows what it costs. At the same time he is getting half the value of a college education when he learns to make the best of his resources.

Mr. Cochran kept on "working his way through" when he left the college halls. That explains how he landed in New York city sixteen years ago penniless, and today is about to receive one of the most coveted honors in American banking circles, a partnership that is estimated to be worth a $1,000,000 a year.—Des Moines Capital.

WOMEN, BEWARE!

Women, do you know that peril lies on all sides of you and that at this very moment you are facing a new danger?

It is said that the powder puff which is in such general use by the fair sex is full of streptococci! They are the germs that make pimples and wrinkles and makes the fair face of women look prematurely old.

Women have been warned against paint and powder, the lip stick and the eye-brow pencil but never before has such a dire necessity as the powder puff been condemned.

If women have to give up this "essential of life" it will mark a decisive battle in the lives of many.—Daily Kansan.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS
MADAM ZEISLER FRIDAY

GREATEST LIVING WOMAN PIANIST AT HER BEST.

Her Entire Program Richly Imbued With Tone Color—Difficult Selections Played With East Loveliness of Musical Feeling.

(Arthur E. Westbrook.)

Madam Fannie Bloomgarden Zeisler, one of the world's greatest pianists, and, to this writer, the greatest living woman pianist, was greeted by a large audience of students and townspeople, Friday evening at the college auditorium.

Madam Zeisler was in her most inspired vein and played with exquisite beauty, and her entire program was richly imbued with tone color. The great artistic performance of Beethoven's Sonata was a model of lucidity and consistent loveliness of musical feeling.

Perhaps the most delightful number of the evening was the Liszt transcription of Mendelssohn's Wedding march and Elfin dance. In this number Madam Zeisler accomplished most remarkable feats of virtuosity.

The last group of numbers was performed with like beauty, further indicative of the exceptional work of which this great artist is capable. Altogether the program was one which will never be forgotten by those who were fortunate enough to hear it.

It is only to be regretted that her audience was somewhat unappreciative or at least undemonstrative. The tendency of American theater-goers to display the attitude of "We've seen the show, so let's hurry home," was unfortunately evident in Madam Zeisler's audience and many of her hearers, thinking the program finished, left before the last two charming numbers had been rendered.

It is but a thoughtful courtesy which is due any artist, great or small, to remain seated until the last encore has been acknowledged. And the deep appreciation with which such a courtesy will be met by the visiting artist or artists will leave a lasting favorable impression, which will call upon them to meet that appreciation by putting their very heart and soul into their appearance before us in the future.

EIGHT PAIRS OF TWINS ARE ATTENDING COLLEGE

One Double Astonished a Professor Who Thought She Was Paying Her Registration Fee Twice.

A genuine diamond is sometimes hard to identify but most persons can distinguish a ruby from a pearl, but in the course of the recent registration period a certain professor gasped with astonishment when Ruby—Pearl's twin—offered him $3.50.

"Didn't you pay your fee once?" he asked wonderingly, for never before had he seen a student so anxious to part with money.

"Aren't you Pearl?"

"No, I am Ruby—, her twin," she replied with a smile as she took her receipt.

But Ruby and Pearl are only one of a half dozen pairs of twins now enrolled in college.

There are Alpha and Omega to whom all language was Greek at the time they were so christened.

Perhaps John needed consolation for having a little sister the exact counterpart of himself so his twin sister was named Comfort.

William and Thomas, possibly known as "Bill" and "Tom" remember the time when they were "Willie" and "Tommie."

Since Paul, in all probability, would grow to a greater height than his sister, the difference was balanced by giving her the longer name, Pauline.

The school of agriculture boasts of at least one pair of twins, Willis and Ward.

Marion and Vernon, same hair, same eyes, same complexion, same walk and same age, climb the hill gaily.

Then there's Hobart and Selbert, both to be engineers. What one does not know about an engine, perhaps the other will.

KNOSTMAN'S

The Only Standardized Tractor Design

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.

AGGIES AND HAWKERS CLASH TONIGHT Debate at Auditorium After the Game

SECOND CLASH COMES AT 8:15 THIS EVENING

AGGIES MEET DEBATERS FROM EMPORIA NORMAL.

Second Conflict Promises to be Just as Interesting as the First—Negative Team Leaves for Emporia This Morning.

Tonight—First clash, 7:15, K. U. Aggie basketball.
Second class, 8:15, Emporia-Aggie debate.

From advance indications, the second conflict will be just as interesting as the first. The subject for debate is the compulsory arbitration of the railroad disputes.

According to Don L. Burk, debate coach, there have been some extraordinary "finds" among the debaters for the coming contest with Emporia. Clyde Fisher, Ward Fetrow, Oscar Steanson, and Glen Case, alternate, compose the affirmative team which meets the Normal team at the auditorium tonight.

Mr. Fisher, first speaker on the affirmative, sophomore, is a forceful debater. Mr. Fetrow, second speaker on the affirmative, junior, will put up an argument that will be hard to beat. Mr. Steanson, third affirmative and captain of affirmative side, will make a masterful speech and a masterful rebuttal, according to Mr. Burk.

Negative Leaves This Morning.

The negative team, accompanied by Dr. J. R. McArthur, will leave at 11:50 this morning for Emporia. This team is composed of T. R. Pharr, C. W. Howard, H. H. Nelson and Floyd Work, alternate.

Mr. Pharr, junior, has a convincing argument; Mr. Howard, sophomore, second negative speaker, has the pep; and Mr. Nelson, junior, captain of the negative team, makes a whirlwind speech and an effective rebuttal.

The same question, Resolved, that the United States should compel the railroads and their employees to settle their disputes in legally established courts of arbitration, was debated with Ames, November 24.

"We have excellent chances for winning this contest for the men have worked hard and earnestly and have an abundance of well arranged material," says Don L. Burk, debate coach. All of these men will return to college next year. Mr. Burk has been assisted by R. McGarragh and L. A. Dubbs, senior debaters. The visiting team arrived yesterday.

Immediately after the contest, the debaters will be entertained by Pi Kappa Delta, the debating fraternity, Zeta Kappa Psi, the debating sorority, the judges, the members of the faculty who have charge of debates, will be guests.

REHEARSAL BEGINS NEXT WEEK.

Amateurs Doing Almost as Well as Professionals.

The cast of "The Man from Home" is rapidly being narrowed down and the different characters are taking the parts that they will ultimately fill.

"The tryouts will not close until we are absolutely certain that the places are properly filled," said J. C. Emerson, in charge of the rehearsals and tryouts. "We are preparing to start on the real rehearsal the middle of next week. 'The Man from Home' promises to be a real production.

"People will be agreeably surprised when they see the play. Professional actors could hardly fill the places better than the chosen characters."

School of Agr. Meet Wamego.

The School of Agriculture basketball team will mix with the Wamego quintet at Nichols gymnasium, Friday at 4:30 o'clock. This is the first game of the season for the School of Agriculture team. The probable line-up will be Cass and O'Neill, forwards; Quigley and Howard, guards, and May, center. Admission will be 15 cents.

DEATH OF MRS. H. F. ROBERTS.

Well Known Wife of Professor Died Tuesday Morning.

Mrs. H. F. Roberts, wife of Professor Roberts, died Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, following an operation. She was 45 years of age.

Miss Anna M. Monsch was born in Louisville, Ky. In 1901 she was married to H. F. Roberts and they moved to Manhattan, where Mr. Roberts took the chair of botany at the college. Since that time she has lived here.

She has been active in the social life of the college, in the Domestic Science club and the Parent-Teacher association. She has served as president of the Social club of the college, composed of the ladies of the faculty and those in the families of faculty men.

Mrs. Roberts leaves three sons, Kenneth, 15, Sherrill, 12, and Richard, 4 1-2 years of age. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Monsch, of Louisville, Ky., and by four sisters, one of whom, Miss Helen Monsch, of Ames, Ia., is now here.

Funeral services were held for Mrs. H. F. Roberts at the home, 1920 Poyntz avenue, at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial was made in Sunset cemetery.

AMERICANS HAVE BEST CHANCE FOR LEADERSHIP

Dr. F. W. Shepardson Regards Public Opinion as Controlling Factor in Life of Nation.

"Never before have American young men and women had the chance that they have today to become world leaders of the coming generation," declared Dr. F. W. Shepardson, professor of history in the University of Chicago, in an address, "Some Directing Forces in Public Opinion," before the students assembly Tuesday morning.

"Where are the future poets, chemists, thinkers, dreamers, philosophers, writers, to come from?" asked Doctor Shepardson. "Not from Europe. The future leaders there are dead, dying, blind, or crippled or possibly maimed for life. The trenches of the warring nations are claiming Europe's best. We must look to America, for future leaders.

"Public opinion is the great controlling factor in American life. The rulers of this nation are chosen by the voice of the people, and the voice of the people is the voice of God.

"The United States has long been called the melting pot of the world. The outbreak of the European war showed that the melting pot had become a danger.

"Public opinion will decide the case of national woman suffrage. A victory of national prohibition has been prophesied for the year 1920. We will show the wisdom of this prophecy. Public opinion will be the deciding factor."

DEAN POTTER WRITES NEW BOOK

It May be Ready for Use by the Spring Term.

A. A. Potter, dean of the division of mechanic arts, has now in press a new book on Farm Motors. The new book differs greatly from the one written by Dean Potter on the same subject three years ago, in that it includes chapters on automobiles, tractors and animal motors. This new edition also contains much information on carburetors and ignition systems.

It is believed that the new edition will be ready to use in the gas and traction engine classes in the spring term. The publishers are McGraw and Hill Book company inc., of New York City.

MARION COUNTY STUDENTS HELP

Organize to Aid Visitors Farm and Home Week.

The students of Marion county held a meeting Monday evening and elected the following officers: President, Ray Carothers, of Peabody; secretary, Catherine Dappen, of Ramona. The club proposes to meet the trains and assist the people who attend Farm and Home week to secure rooms. Members of the club will also show the visitors about the campus.

1500 FARMERS EXPECTED TO BE HERE NEXT WEEK

SIX DIFFERENT ASSOCIATIONS WILL MEET AT COLLEGE.

Farm and Home Week Promises to be the Best Ever Held on the Campus—Many Prominent Speakers Coming.

More than 1,500 farmers will be the guests of the Kansas State Agricultural college during Farmers-Home week which opens next Monday, according to E. C. Johnson, Johnson, director of the extension division, whose office is flooded with inquiries from every part of the state regarding the program.

Each of the departments of the college will handle the program which deals specifically with its regular work. Hence it is an all-college affair with the extension division co-ordinating the whole to the end of making it the best Farmers-Home week that has ever been held on the campus.

The change from the old custom of having the visitors here during the vacation period has been brought about for two significant reasons which will considerably increase the attendance. The visitors may see the college in actual operation during the college term, and there is a further incentive for relatives and friends to come to the college while students whom they know are in attendance. On the other hand, many who would really have enjoyed the program before did not come because their children were home for the short vacation and there was an incentive to stay at home.

Several Associations Meet.

The associations which will meet here during the week will also bring a large number of visitors. The Dairy association, Crop Improvement association, Live Stock Breeders' association, Sheep Breeders' association, Swine Breeders' association, and Horse Breeders' association will all have their meetings here during the week and a large attendance of members are expected for each of these.

These association will be in charge of the afternoon programs of the week, which have many prominent men outside of the state and well known residents of the state listed on their programs.

There will be many men and women of national prominence here who will speak. Among these are: Mrs. Louise H. Campbell, Iowa State college; H. N. Vindall, U. S. department of agriculture; Hon. John Clay, Chicago; F. R. Marshall of the U. S. department of agriculture; Mr. Frank B. Graham Kansas City; Dr. Edwin L. Earp Madison, N. J.; Charles Tolsted member of the federal farm loan board; Pres. H. J. Waters Manhattan; Dr. Warren H. Wilson Columbia university and M. M. Burr professor of agronomy at the Nebraska Agricultural college.

Students Act as Guides.

The college associations are behind a movement to have the students act as guides at every opportunity and make the visitors feel free to ask them questions about anything. Dairy students will wear badges giving the visitor the invitation to "Ask Me About Dairying," agriculture students, "Ask Me About Animal Husbandry," or "Ask Me About Crops," etc. In addition to this work on the part of the students, which will be a very great aid in handling such a large number of visitors, there will be ten or fifteen official guides who will devote all of their time to showing the visitors about the college.

Harlow Speaks to Students.

F. Palph Harlow, returned missionary from Turkey, will speak before the Christian Endeavor at the Congregational church at 6:15 Sunday evening. Mr. Harlow is now traveling in behalf of the student volunteer movement in this country. Everybody is invited to hear him Sunday.

STAFF FOR 1918 ROYAL PURPLE IS ANNOUNCED

A. B. SPERRY WILL EDIT NEXT YEAR'S CLASS BOOK.

More Members on 1918 Purple Staff Than Have Ever Held Positions On Any Class Book Before.

The entire editorial and business staff of the 1918 Royal Purple, with the exception of the advertising manager and artist, was announced by J. M. Boring, manager of the Royal Purple, Vol. X, at the meeting of the junior class Thursday morning. The appointment of A. B. Sperry as editor of the volume, had been announced by Mr. Boring and approved by the class at a previous meeting.

The appointments announced are as follows:

College divisions, Charles Enlow, chairman; Donna Faye Wilson; classes, Henry Borland, chairman. Margaret Robinson; organizations, Pauline Richards, chairman, Hazel Merrill and Giles Sullivan; beauty section, O. T. Bonnett, chairman. Gladys Spring; athletics, William R. Essick; college activities, Mary Dakin, chairman, F. A. Slattery and Francis Keneaster; military, Harold Bixby; humor, H. L. Dunham, chairman. Muri Gann and Herbert Helmeamp. It is intended that several additional members will later be added to the committees having the most work to do.

George R. Hewey was appointed to the position of class book treasurer. Has More Members.

It is probable that there are more members of the staff for the Royal Purple in 1918 than have ever held positions on any class book in the past but instead of making progress slower it is believed by Mr. Boring and Mr. Sperry, the manager and editor, that a large staff will give a greater number of original ideas for the various divisions of the book. A large staff will also eliminate the possibility of one individual having more work than he can efficiently do.

As has been arranged, the editor and manager will assume responsibility for the entire book while the chairman of each division committee will be directly responsible for his particular department.

The men in charge of the Royal Purple, Vol. X, have been experiencing much difficulty in finding an artist but now have two men trying out for the position and it seems probable that an appointment for this position will be made by the next meeting of the class.

SOFT-FRESH TRACKSTERS MEET.

Indoor Track Event Will be Held Tomorrow Afternoon.

The sophomore and freshman class track teams will compete Saturday afternoon in the annual indoor meet between the two classes. A wealth of freshman material has been out for practice, according to E. A. Bauer, who has charge of the meet.

"There is yet time for more entries to come in," says Mr. Bauer. "The sophomores have been slow in handing me their names, and consequently there are more freshman entered than there are second-year men. The meet will not be one-sided, however, as a number of the sophomore men will probably make the Varsity squad."

The usual indoor events are included in the program. The meet will be held in Nichols gymnasium and will start at 3 o'clock.

Cosmopolitan Club Meets.

The Cosmopolitan club will meet Monday, February 5, in A-56 to complete its reorganization. According to the present plans, the membership of the club may consist of foreign-born or American college students, school of agriculture students, co-eds and faculty members.

At the meeting Monday, a short program will be given, and the officers will be elected.

GIRLS TO HAVE EQUAL RIGHTS.

They Will Have a Mail Box of Their Own.

Equal rights—well here is one instance right here at K. S. A. C. where the girls are to have the same conveniences as the boys. It has been a long time coming so will be appreciated the more. The delay has probably been the cause of more than one unuttered "ouch" as a corn or bunion on a dainty foot was trampled upon.

Hereafter, the girls will not have to push through a motley mass of males nor breast the contra moving stream of students just to mail a letter to the "home folks." Soon they can mail their note to Bob or Eddie without leaving their own little congested alcove. They may have to push their way through a crowd of girls, if at the busy time of the day, but that is pleasanter than the old method.

Slots are being made near the girls' window at the college postoffice into which college and outgoing mail may be posted for delivery. This will eliminate the inconvenience due to the fact that girls had to come to the boys' side of the postoffice to mail their letters.

MANY FRUIT GROWERS ARE EXPECTED FEBRUARY 5-10

Hort. Dept. Has Program Which is Being Advertised Extensively in Farm Papers.

The department of horticulture has prepared for Farm and Home week a program which is being advertised extensively in the farm papers of Kansas and Missouri with the expectation that the program will draw many fruit growers from the surrounding country.

The fruit growers will be the guests of the department of horticulture at a noonday luncheon to be served at the packing house, Thursday, February 8. Special pains have been taken to make the program as practical as possible, and it includes the following:

Tuesday: "Clean Nursery Stock," G. A. Dean; "Preparation for Young Orchard," A. Dickens; "Setting and Pruning the Young Trees," F. S. Merrill.

Wednesday: "Cultivation and Fertilizer," A. Dickens; "Pruning the Fruit," F. S. Merrill; "Spraying for Quality," Geo. O. Greene.

Thursday will be demonstration in grading, packing, and storage. The following talks will also be given: "Front Yard Garden," M. F. Ahern; "Getting Ready for Garden," A. Dickens; "Potato Culture in the United States," T. Demse.

BEGIN SALE OF ROYAL PURPLE.

Five Per Cent Commission Given to Persons Who Sell Books.

All persons interested in selling class books may apply for sale books at the window opposite the postoffice. Five per cent commission will be given to any one selling these books. For every cent that is spent on the class books one vote will be given and it may be cast for any one of the following beauties: Miss Margaret Hale, Alpha Delta Pi; Miss Faye Boudier, Chi Omega; Miss Ann Walker, Delta Zeta; Miss Dorothy Norris, Tri Delta; Miss Muri Bee-man, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Miss Helen Blank, Pi Beta Phi; Miss Violet Stockwell, senior class; Miss Mary Dakin, junior class; and Miss Sarah Drake, sophomore class.

DORMITORIES FOR THE CO-EDS.

Bills Asking for Bonds Before the Legislature.

Duplicate bills in the state senate and house by Senator Carroll and Representative Wilmoth provide for the issuing of state bonds of $100,000 for each of the University of Kansas, Kansas Agricultural college, Emporia normal, Hays normal and the Pittsburg normal for the construction of dormitories for women students. The bills propose that the rent of rooms be used entirely for retiring the bonds while the state pays for the maintenance of the property.

MUST STOP RUSH OF K. U. FOR M. V. CHAMPIONSHIP

GAME TONIGHT BEGINS AT 7:15 TOMORROW NIGHT 7:30.

Aggies Plan a New Defensive—Cushman Will Hold Down Center Position—Sweet Revenge is the Slogan.

PROBABLE LINE-UP.
* Aggies— * Jayhawkers *
* Reynolds . . . . . rf . . . . . Gibbons *
* Van Trine . . . . . lf . . . . . Uhrlaub *
* Cushman . . . . . c . . . . . Lytle *
* MacMillan (C) . . . . . Laaslett *
* Wells . . . . . lg . . . . . Nelson (C) *

Revenge, a sweet revenge, on the Kansas Jayhawkers is plotted by Kansas Aggie basketball athletes tonight. The Kansans must be stopped in their mad dash towards the valley championship; the Aggies must get a start if they intend to make any progress toward that same end. Tonight's and tomorrow's games on Nichols' floor will tell the tale.

The Aggie valley record shows two defeats and no victories. Those two defeats were the work of the Jayhawker quintet, who trounced the Clevelander men in 34 to 16 and 27 to 19 battles last week at Lawrence. The series beginning tonight is a crucial one, smashing or fostering the aspirations of the Purple basketballers.

Kansas Has Flying Start.

Kansas is already off to a flying start in the race for valley honors. Two top-heavy victories over Ames and a brace of triumphs over the Aggies comprise the season's record for the Lawrence men. Over the valley the question is asked, "Who will stop Kansas?" Will the Aggies answer the question by twice denting the escutcheon of the Jayhawkers?

The Kansas series taught the Aggie athletes a lesson. Gibbons and Lytle, star point makers of the Jayhawkers, made most of their points from mid-field. Tonight, such tactics will meet with a new Aggie defensive system, reducing to the minimum the long trials of the Crimson and Blue athletes. The Aggie-Hawker series also gave the newer members of the five their first "baptism of fire."

Start at 7:15 Tonight.

A new line-up, designed to increase the speed of the Purple floor-work, will greet the Kansans. Fullington's position at center will be taken by "Beez" Cushman, whose defensive work in the second combat at Lawrence did much to hold down the Jayhawker score.

In order to complete the game in time for the spectators to attend the Normal-Aggie debate, tonight's fracas will start promptly at 7:15 o'clock, 15 minutes earlier than usual. The doors will open at 6:45 o'clock. Saturday's game will be called at the usual hour, 7:30 o'clock.

"QUIG" LIKES TO CALL 'EM.

Fourth Foul Has No Terrors For Him.

E. C. Quigley proved in the Kansas series to be the same "Quig" that valley followers have admired in an off-flighting capacity for many years. He followed every play, and little of the "rough stuff" escaped his vigilant eye.

In instructing the score-keepers before the first game, the popular St. Marys man showed his mettle.

"I don't want you to tell me when any man has three fouls on him. Do you know why? Most officials, you know, don't like to call a fourth foul."

Here the official paused in a grandiloquent manner.

"Believe me," he finally concluded, "I LIKE to call that last one."

"Quig" will be seen in action in the two Aggie-Jayhawker games on Nichols floor today and tomorrow.

Mrs. Phinney of Russell is the guest of her daughter, Mary Phinney, at the Delta Zeta house.

HOW ABOUT THE OTHERS?

The Saddle and Sirloln Club has lined up a number of its members to act as guides for our visitors Farm and Home week and to explain to them the different experiments which are being conducted. Monday the Marion county students met and organized for the purpose of directing the visitors, and adding them to find board and rooms while they are in town. This should be an incentive for other student organizations to get busy, as well as an incentive for the organization of more county clubs to aid in the work which the Marion county students have planned. Whatever is done, must be done quickly as Farm and Home week opens next Monday, just three more days. K. S. A. C. students owe it to our visitors to aid them in every way possible, not only as a matter of courtesy, but also as a matter of boosting the college. A good impression made upon our guests next week would do much to alleviate the prejudice which many people have for this institution.

How about your county club—has it done anything and is it going to do anything?

Thursday night, three beauty contestants were selected for the 1917 Royal Purple, at a dance which was held in their honor at Harrison's hall. But how about the girls who don't dance or don't attend dances? Were they given an equal chance to compete for this honor? It must be conceded that there are non-dancing girls who are equally as beautiful as those who dance. What are their chances of becoming beauty contestants?

BASKETBALL.

Tonight and tomorrow night the Aggies meet the K. U. Basketeers on the home court in the second series of contests of the season. Besides being conference games, the results of these contests will determine to a large extent, the standing which the Aggies will have at the end of the season.

The Jayhawkers have trounced the Purple Quintet twice this season, but it is highly probable that with the Jayhawks on the Aggies' home court, that proud bird will return to Mt. Oread minus most of its tail feathers.

GIRLS.

swer that: Awgwan can't. Every school we ever went to had a full supply of girls. But stop to think what would Nebraska be without girls? Think of what the conditions are at Harvard and numerous other schools where only men are in attendance. Then you will agree with us that Nebraska is not so bad after all. A girl doesn't have to be good looking—the truth of the matter is, our observations have led us to conclude that only a small portion of those who attend this university have that asset. There are tall girls, short girls, fat girls and lean girls; graceful girls and awkward girls; pretty girls and homely girls; good girls and bad girls; intelligent girls and foolish girls; but darn it all, they are all girls and we are proud of them. Girls are funny creatures all right, and as someone has said—you cannot live without them nor can you live with them. They say they will do one thing and do another and you dare not get mad at them. Nope, all you can do is smile and like it. If a girl gets mad at you and soaks you on the face, smile; if she calls you a brute, smile; if she says, "I'll be a sister to you," smile; if she says "no," smile; if she says "yes," smile; if she wants you to carry her book when it is twenty below, do it and smile; smile as sweetly when she orders the tenth quail as you did the first. Be pleasant with them, boys, and above all, Smile.

—AWGWAN.

THE PARABLE OF WILLIE.

Now it came to pass in the days of Engberg the Dean that Willie the Podunkite went down to college.

Bright was his raiment and large was his allowance.

He had done much work in high school being ready of tongue and large of head.

But alas his brain did rattle and he thought things that were not wise.

He wasted his sustenance upon women, and reviled with strangers among the jit-shows.

Cigarettes were as milk and honey and he overflown with wine.

Such life did he lead that his class room became his only resting place.

But to his masters loved not the melody of his snore neither did they see the beauty of his sleeping countenance.

At last there came on the land a mighty famine.

This the scribes forsook as mid semester.

And Willie having wasted his goods could not come across with the gray matter.

And behold there came a summons from the Dean saying:

"Thou foolish one, knowest thou not—chicken is of no avail? Dances being not in E note books and wines are for the prosperity league alone.

If thou hadst studied, thou might have succeeded.

But go back to thy father and confess."

And he went and his father seeing him afar off drove the jitney down to meet him.

And he fell on his father's neck and kissed him, saying: "Old man, I pursued my studies until the midnight. Mazda wrought havoc with my eyes."

And the father on hearing it said: "That's old stuff. Two brothers thou hadst before thee and they pulled the same line on me and I cherished them but thou shall go and work even as the wops toil."

And he went and behold now he squirts soda to please the palates of the Podunkites.

And herein lieth the truth. Try not to slip something over on the old man.—Awgwan.

THE COACH IS IN MOURNING.

Contracts Cold While in the Land of the Jayhawk.

While returning from the land of the Jayhawk after last week's disastrous road trip, Coach Z. G. Clevenger contracted a cold. The cold was still hanging on the other afternoon. At two- and three-minute intervals the Aggie mentor was forced to make use of a beautiful black-bordered kerchief.

Finally Germany Schulz, official punster in the athletic office, noted the ebony hue of the nose-rag.

"Gee, coach," he addressed Clevenger, "I didn't know those games had affected you that much," and he pointed to the kerchief.

"What do you mean?" asked Clevenger making a survey.
"Why, you're even wearing crepe on your handkerchief."

Y. W. C. A. PLANS CONFERENCE.
Will be Held at Hollister, Mo., on the White River.

The Y. W. C. A. is already making plans for the summer conference to be held June 22 to July 2 at Hollister, Mo. The conference grounds and buildings are on the White river in the heart of the Ozarks.

This picturesque place is becoming a popular place for conference meetings but this is the first time the Y. W. C. A. has chosen it, having previously met at Estes Park, Colo. This spot is of special interest as it is in the heart of "The Shepherd of the Hills" country and also is the setting of "The Call of Dan Matthews," portrayed in the books of Harold Bell Wright. Swimming, motor boating, and hiking are among the sports to be enjoyed.

Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the association, would like to talk to girls who are planning to attend the conference. It will be held from June 22 to July 2. The association hopes to send at least 25 girls.

WHO COULD IT HAVE BEEN?

A Tall Man in Vet Building Leaves Some Clothes.

Who is the tall man in the college—the man so tall that he can reach to the ceiling of a class room in the veterinary building?

It is supposed by those who enter, that such a person has been intruding, or possibly spent the night there. If he expected to stay all night, he must have been frightened by the ghost of a dead horse from the basement, for he seemingly made a hurried departure.

At any rate, he forgot some of his wearing apparel and left a vest hanging on the electric light wires that cross the ceiling of the room.

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.

AGGIES SMASH HOPES OF JAYHAWKERS FOR M. V. CHAMPIONSHIP

WIN FIRST GAME 38 TO 9; SECOND GAME 32 TO 29.

SECOND GAME WAS THRILLER

Reynolds and Fullington Were Aggie Stars at Goal-Shooting End of the Machine—MacMillan and Wells Do Good Work.

The Kansans were conquered. The proud Jayhawkers came to Manhattan Friday undefeated. When they departed Saturday night there were two blotches on their record, and both were put there by a Kansas Aggie quintet, which a week before had fallen twice before the Lawrence troupe. Th scores of the pair of Aggie triumphs over the Hamiltonians were 38 to 9 and 32 to 29.

It was a case of do or die for the Clevelander men. The Aggies "did"—and Kansas was just the unfortunate victim. Hopes for a Missouri valley championship, which were at high tide at the beginning of the season, were at low ebb following the first series with the Kansans.

Last week's battles brought a change, not only in Manhattan but over the entire Missouri valley. Until the Purple quintet found itself Friday, there were many who asked, "Who will stop Kansas?" The Aggies' reply was not couched in diplomatic language. Friday and Saturday's deeds were ample answer. In place of "Who will stop Kansas?" there is now a wild clamor over the conference, "Who will stop the Aggies?"

Right here in Manhattan there is much doubt that any valley team can turn the trick. Reason No. 1 is Friday night's score, 38 to 9, and the wonderful team-work and goal-shooting the Clevelander clan displayed in that contest. Reason No. 2 is the ability of the MacMillan athletes to keep cool in emergencies, as was shown in Saturday's 32 to 29 battle. Twice in that last game did Kansas spurts bring the Jayhawkers from a ten-point disadvantage up to practically a tie with the Aggies, only to have the latter rise at the crucial moment, and again pull to the front.

Thursday night virtually a discard; Saturday night an Aggie idol—that is the quick change public opinion made in the matter of one "Slim" Fullington, Aggie tip-off man. "Slim's" playing in the Lawrence series was disappointing and unsatisfactory. But the lanky center "came back" and it was partly his return to form that caused the Aggies to fairly toy with the Hamilton athletes in the first battle, and to nose out a hard-fought victory in the Saturday night encounter.

"If we can only get the first goal"—that was the condition on which many an Aggie roter based his prediction of triumph for the Purple. In both games it was Fullington who started the scoring, and each time, after obtaining the lead, the Aggie five held tenaciously to the advantage.

After Fullington had registered a basket in the first game, both Reynolds and Gibbons counted on a double foul, giving the Aggies a 3-1 lead. A free throw by Uhlraab acted as an incentive to Reynolds, who gathered a trio of baskets in quick succession. Then a field goal by Lyle made the score 9-4. Reynolds retaliated with a goal, and Uhlraab took advantage of the opportunity to add another Kansas point by tossing a free throw. Not to be outdone by Reynolds' example of three consecutive baskets, Fullington did the same, with the result that the score became 17 to 5. Van Trine's basket made the count 19 to 5, just as the period ended.

Hold Kansas Down.

The second half was almost a repetition of the first, except that not a single field counter was registered by Kansas. Reynolds bagged four goals, Fullington three, and Van Trine and Wooster one each during the half. The Aggie second string performed during the latter five minutes of the game, and kept up the pace of the regulars.

The second contest was the most interesting ever played on Nichols court. In both periods, the Aggies started off with a lead that appeared safe, but the Hawkers each time showed a remarkable spurt and closed in on the Clevelander five. The score at the end of the first period was 16 to 15, favoring the Aggies. In the latter five minutes of this period the Kansans outclassed the Purple troupe, changing the score from 16-9 to 16-15.

Fullington again came to the rescue at the opening of the second half and tossed two goals, which, combined with Van Trine's goal and two free throws by Reynolds, gave the Aggies a ten-point advantage. The Kansas spurt closed up the score, and in the last five minutes the Aggies at no time led by more than four points.

Do Stellar Defense.

Perhaps the chief factor in the Aggie play was the stellar defense of Captain MacMillan and Wells. This pair worked in such perfect unison that Laslett was the only Kansan to score a goal from the field in the first game. In the second contest only eight baskets, practically every

MARCH 10 IS DATE SET FOR THE JUNIOR-SENIOR

Seniors Should Notify H. J. Adams of Their Dates—Assignments Will be Made About March 1.

Saturday night, March 10, is the date for the junior-senior, an annual event, which promises this year to surpass in magnitude any such entertainment ever given at this institution.

J. E. DuBois, chairman of the committee, urges that juniors and seniors turn in their dates for this affair as early as possible. The juniors should place notices of their dates in the box, provided for that purpose, at the window opposite the post office. Seniors are requested to notify B. J. Adams of the dates which they make. About March 1, the junior and senior date committees will confer and assign all those who have not made previous arrangements.

Special entertainment is being arranged, by the entertainment committee for those who do not dance. Plans are being made for a number of attractive features which promise to make this part of the program of such a nature that all who attend will thoroughly enjoy themselves, according to report.

Approximately 40 juniors are working on the junior-senior committee of which J. E. DuBois is chairman. Following are the chairman of the sub-committees: George Gibbons, date; George Hewey, invitation; Hazel Merrilatt, farce; Donna Faye Wilson, entertainment; Pauline Richards, refreshments; Fred Carp, decorations; H. J. Helmcamp, dance, and Helen Crane, music.

ADAMSON HAS CHARGE.

Is to be Business Manager of Festive Week.

Charles R. Adamson has been appointed business manager for the festive week by the music and public speaking departments. All publicity, advertising, seat reservation, ticket sales and finances will be in his hands. Communications and inquiries should be addressed to him.

Mr. Adamson is a senior agricultural student. He is at present assistant in the public speaking department and teaches a school of agriculture class. He has had experience in handling dramatics and is acquainted with the people in the foremost dramatic circle of this state. He is regarded as capable of handling the festive week successfully.

SCHOOL OF AG STUDENTS HELP.

Will Act as Guild's During Farm and Home Week.

Guides for Farm and Home week are being taken from the school of agriculture.

H. L. Kent, principal of the school of agriculture, has asked that not less than three girls and three boys be selected from each of the classes in the school. A list of the vacant hours of those selected has been sent to E. C. Johnson, dean of the extension department. When the assistance of these students is needed, they will be notified through the college post office.

DEBATERS BREAK EVEN IN CLASH WITH NORMALS

THE NEGATIVE TEAMS OF BOTH SCHOOLS WIN.

The Next Debate Will be a Girls' Dual With Ottawa University Friday Night—Is First Women's Contest.

Aggie-Emporia debate returns—the Aggie negative team, composed of T. R. Pharr, C. W. Howard and H. H. Nelson, won at Emporia. The Aggie affirmative team, Clyde Fisher, Ward Fetrow and Oscar Steanson lost to Emporia here.

"The debate at Emporia was first class throughout," said Don L. Burk, debate coach. "None of our men had ever taken part in inter-collegiate debate before. Considering this fact the debates were exceptionally brilliant ones. The teams clashed on every important argument. Our men were even better in the debate than they were in rehearsal. All six men will be in school next year and on hand for debate. With this experience they ought to make the teams next year hustle some."

"Another thing to be noticed about the debate here was the amount of pep. It is said to have been the 'peppiest' yet. Our men showed unusually consistent delivery. Our teams were well coached by Professor J. G. Emerson."

The Girls Debate.

The next debate on the program comes Friday night, February 9, with Ottawa. This is a woman's debate and the question to be argued is that of the uni-cameral (one house) legislature.

The affirmative team, which will go to Ottawa is composed of Miss Blanche Sappenfield, Miss Marie Johnson, Miss Louisa Ziller. The negative team which remains at home is made up of Miss Ethel Arnold, Miss Lola Sloan and Miss Margaret King.

This will be the first of the three women's debates to be given here this season. The next one comes April 23.

E. M. OXLEY WINS IN JOURNALISM CONTEST

Takes First by Narrow Margin—J. S. Brazelton Takes Second and W. T. White Third.

E. M. Oxley, a student in the course in architecture, is the winner of the fall term Industrialist contest conducted by the Journalism department, and which closed with the last issue of the Industrialist. Of the material submitted by Mr. Oxley, 126.5 column inches was published in the college paper. He will be given his choice of a year's subscription to the Breed-Gazette, Field, or Country Gentleman.

J. S. Brazelton, senior in general science, takes second place with 123 column inches to his credit. Mr. Brazelton will receive as second prize a leather bound vestpocket book of synonyms. W. T. White, junior in agriculture, ranks third with 121 column inches, and will receive as third prize a cloth bound vestpocket book of synonyms.

The five who receive honorable mention together with their ranking are: Georgiana Burt, 118 inches; Zenith Mullen, 85.5 inches; G. M. Nelson, 84 inches; Katrina Kimport, 80 inches; and H. M. Birks, 69.5 inches.

"This is the closest contest we have had," said Frank L. Snow, instructor in Journalism who had charge of the contest. A similar contest, which has already begun, and in which Katrina Kimport leads by a one-half inch margin, will be conducted during the winter term.

Wants K. S. A. C. Engineers.

B. B. Milner, chief of the motive power department of the New York Central lines, visited here Saturday for the purpose of interesting mechanical engineering students in the work of the New York Central railroad. The large manufacturing concerns of the east have been unable to secure sufficient engineers to carry on their work, properly and in the last two months five large companies have sent representatives to the college to interest the engineering students in their work.

COLLEGE MUSICAL FESTIVAL TO BE HELD MARCH 12-16

UNDER AUSPICES OF PUBLIC SPEAKING AND MUSIC DEPTS.

The College Will Co-operate With City Schools and Townspeople in Presenting a Series of Treats.

An opportunity to hear and see the dramatic and musical talent of the college and community of Manhattan will be given to music lovers during the week of the musical festival to be held at the college auditorium March 12 to 18.

The department of music combined with the forces of the department of public speaking are preparing a program not simply to show to the public what is being accomplished by these two departments, but also to bring before the people of Manhattan the fact that this community has wonderful musical talent.

The First of Its Kind.

The festival week will be a week of community music in which the college in cooperation with the city schools and townspeople will present a series of musical treats.

The music festival will be the first of its kind to be held in Manhattan. The program of the week has been arranged under the supervision of Arthur E. Westbrook, director of music and J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking. It is the plan of Mr. Westbrook and Mr. Emerson to make the festival week an annual feature at K. S. A. C. for the advancement and development of the musical talent of the community of Manhattan.

The college orchestra under the direction of Professor R. H. Brown will give one number on the program and will be a treat to all music lovers.

One night the opera Robin Hood will be presented by the Apollo club and the girls' glee club. A children's chorus from the Manhattan city schools will furnish the entertainment one afternoon.

Will Give Play.

The "Man from Home," a four act comedy will be staged by the dramatic department. According to Mr. Emerson this play could hardly be better presented by professional artists. Seats will be reserved for this number.

One number of the program will be a sacred concert given by the choral society under the direction of Professor Westbrook.

One of the best features of the festival week will be a program given by Cecil Fanning, the greatest American baritone. This will be well attended by out of town visitors. Mr. Westbrook has already received notice of 25 visitors from Salina coming to hear Mr. Fanning.

15 GRADS WITH ONE COMPANY.

K. S. A. C. Engineers Popular With Westinghouse People.

At least six engineers, graduates of the college, are doing apprentice work at the Westinghouse Electrical company at Pittsburgh. They include J. P. Rathbun, mechanical engineer, '16; H. D. Linscott, electrical engineer, '16; J. S. Hagan, electrical engineer, '16; T. R. Knowler, electrical engineer, '16; F. R. Rawson, mechanical engineer, '16; and W. K. Hervey, electrical engineer, '16.

A. H. Ganshard, mechanical engineer, '15; S. G. Fell, electrical engineer, '15; and C. A. Hooker, electrical engineer, who began as apprentices, are now employed in the Westinghouse departments.

Former graduates who are in the employ of the Westinghouse company are Thornton Hayes and Mr. Freeman.

An alumni banquet of the engineers from the Kansas State Agricultural college now in the Westinghouse Electric company, was held in December. Fifteen engineers were present.

Miss Fanchon I. Easter, Miss May Carley and Professor Arthur Westbrook returned from Topeka Saturday night where they gave several selections in representative hall on Friday night.

SCHOOL OF AG Y. M. CABINET.

McCarthy is President—Will Cooperate With College Cabinet.

A Y. M. C. A. cabinet for the school of agriculture has been organized. The purpose of the special cabinet is to bring the men in the school into closer touch with the association work. The new cabinet will hold its own meetings separate from the college cabinet but will confer, on important matters, with the corresponding man of the regular college cabinet.

The following officers were elected in a meeting held immediately after the regular meeting Thursday evening: President, W. O. McCarthy, Ames; vice president, Ralph Snyder, Manhattan; secretary, Harry Bradley Garnett.

Will Entertain the Children.

The physical training departments of the college are planning to entertain the children of the Farm and Home week visitors and tomorrow at the seventh and eighth hours in the gymnasium. The girls will be entertained at the girls' gymnasium and the men's gymnasium classes will entertain the boys. There will be folk dancing, and games, and children that have a bathing suit will be privileged to take a swim in the swimming pool.

AN ALL COLLEGE MIXER TO BE GIVEN ON FEB. 22

Is Under Management of Y. M.-Y. W. Entertainment Will be Divided Into Two Parts.

February 22, Washington's birthday, is the date set for an all college mixer which is being planned by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A.

The entertainment will be divided into two parts. The first part will be held in the college auditorium and will consist of a musical comedy. A committee composed of representatives of the fraternities and sororities of the college are promoting this part of the entertainment, and plans are well under way.

One of the main attractions will be the beauty chorus which will sing some of the latest popular songs. There will also be a men's minstrel which promises lively entertainment for twenty minutes. A Hawaiian chorus will give a number of string specialties and pretty solo dances are also to be a feature of the evening. Another interesting feature will be the men's quartet which will render some lively and interesting musical numbers.

The second half of the evening will be spent in Nichols gymnasium where the general mixer will be staged so that everybody may become acquainted with everybody else.

As February 22 is a college holiday it is considered by the committee in charge, that this is an admirable time for an all college mixer of this kind. The committee urges that every student keep this date open and take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with his fellow students. No admission charge will be made.

WORLD IS BEING BORN AGAIN.

So Says R. P. McColloch, Noted Kansas Editor.

"The world is either in the throes of dissolution or in the agony of birth of a new era," said Robert P. McColloch, editor of the Anthony Bulletin, Anthony, Kansas, in his address before the student assembly, Friday morning.

"I believe we are on the verge of a new era and the young people of America should acquaint themselves with the new conditions so that they may serve their country in their generation. The world does not understand you any better than you understand the world. Even your parents do not understand the world."

"It is much better to prepare yourself to be a unit in a community than to hold the idea that you are going to be a public servant. In college you are apt to mix your ideals, but it is at college that you find yourself. It is at college that you decide what kind of lives of service you shall lead. "In former days the parents had already decided what their boys and girls should do before they were sent to college. All the young men had to do in those days was to prepare themselves to become president of the United States and all the young women had to do was to prepare themselves to become the wives of the presidents."

ENROLLMENT YESTERDAY LARGE FOR FIRST DAY

MANY ALUMNI AND FARM AGENTS HERE FOR THE WEEK.

Canning Clubs Have Some Remarkable Exhibits—Canning Demonstration Will be Held Thursday Afternoon.

The attendance of visitors who are arriving for the Farmers' Home week is quite as large or larger than generally comes in the first day, according to Mr. E. C. Johnson, dean of the extension division. Today will be the big day and it is expected that more than a thousand farmers, women, and school children who competed in corn and livestock, and domestic contests will arrive on the campus and register in the division of extension.

Ten of the eighteen county and district farm bureau agents arrived yesterday to stay for the complete program of the week and for the Farm Bureau conference which will be held Friday afternoon.

Farm Agents Come.

The Farm bureau agents whose names appeared on the register last night were: A. D. Folkner, Jewell; O. C. Haggans, Miami; Karl Knaus, Cloud; F. P. Lane, Harvey; I. N. Chapman, Leavenworth; J. D. Lewis, Nemaha; F. B. Williams, Marshall; W. A. Boys, West Central; C. G. Elling, South Central; P. E. Crabtree, Western.

Many of the alumni are among the visitors who will stay for the week program. "Baseball" Hodgson, "Duroc" Frizell, "Bob" Hanna, Preston Hale and others were renewing acquaintances yesterday afternoon and a number of recent alumni will no doubt arrive today.

Plenty of Room.

A report recently published in a daily paper of the state to the effect that there was a shortage of rooms so that Manhattan would be unable to provide for such a large number of visitors is unfounded. The Y. M. C. A. has made a thorough canvas of the city and there is no doubt but that there are more than enough rooms to make every one comfortable. The cafes were all notified of the large number of visitors and are running to their full capacity. Also the ladies of the Presbyterian church are serving dinner and supper. They will be able to handle about 400 at each meal. Every possible preparation of this kind has been made and Manhattan is quite capable of making provision for all of the visitors of the week.

Some Remarkable Exhibits.

A noteworthy feature of the week will be the remarkable exhibit of the Glenwood Mother-Daughter Canning club which has canned more and a greater variety of products than any other club in the United States. More than 11,000 quarts of fruits, vegetables, and meats were canned by this club in 1916, and one of its teams canned 253 different varieties and combinations. The exhibit of this club consists of several thousand jars of canned products. The president of the club, Mrs. J. M. Timmons, of Bonner Springs, will deliver an address on the history and work of the club, Thursday afternoon, February 8, which will be followed by a canning demonstration by two of the teams.

Perhaps the most interesting event of yesterday's program was the moving picture film at the auditorium in the evening which displayed the work of the Glenwood Mother-Daughter club.

JOURNALISTS TO HEAR TOMSON.

Noted Chicago Editor Will Speak Friday Morning.

Frank D. Tomson, of Chicago, editor of the Shorthorn in America, will speak to students in industrial journalism and others interested at 11:30 o'clock, Friday, in room 55, Kedzie hall. He will discuss the editing of a breed paper, a subject never before treated by a speaker here.

Mr. Tomson is an authority on Shorthorn cattle, as well as editor or one of the leading breed papers of America. His address should be of marked interest.

WE HAVE WITH US—

We have with us this week visitors from all parts of the state. Many of whom are here for the first time. And perhaps it is the first time many of them have seen the college "with its working clothes on." It is our opportunity, as students, to help advertise and boost K. S. A. C. Several student organizations and students from the different counties have organized for the purpose of helping our guests find boarding and rooming places and to direct the visitors about the campus.

But all the work must not be left to these students. The student body as a whole should extend a cordial welcome to our visitors and should do everything in its power to make them "feel at home." We should show our guests every courtesy possible, and besides we should let them know that we are really doing things at this institution.

Let's all help.

IT IS UNJUST.

Every college has its student activity problem and our institution is not without one peculiar to itself. The custom of hiking has become ingrained in the college life of the Aggie student so gradually that it has been almost unnoticed, until it was suddenly discovered that the custom was overstepping all recognized bounds of conventions.

And this to such an extent that it aroused wonderment and considerable criticism on the part of prominent visitors whose impressions of the school and student body are not to be lightly considered. And not alone the visitors but townspeople are expressing opinion that stricter discipline along these lines should be enforced.

The student council has undertaken the work of investigating the criticisms and trying to find a solution which will meet that concern of criticism in the light of the most generous minded individuals and the most respectable families of the city. In undertaking that work, the council realized the significance of the custom to the student body, and the work has been directed methodically, almost laboriously, that every viewpoint might be considered, every detail investigated, and every faction given a hearing.

Yet before the work is completed, before the members of the council have had a chance to defend themselves with an explanation of the work which they have done, the chronic kickers of the school have begun to make themselves conspicuous. It is notable that the kickers are not of the fairer sex,—those upon whom the bulk of the criticism falls.

Adverse criticism is uncalled for, particularly at this time. The students' council is composed of students who are working for the best interests of the student body, and it is certainly unfair to "knock" on any constructive work the council is trying to do before a definite solution has been reached. If one is a chronic kicker by force of habit, he should at least make an effort to kick in the right direction and not become a dead weight for any constructive policy which is intended for the betterment of the school and student body.

OUR FOREIGN STUDENTS.

It is characteristic of men with the fire of ambition in their souls, and a faith in their destiny, that they seek always for the truest and best by way of preparation for their life's work. It is for this reason that we of America may well be proud of the fact that there are 3,000 foreign students in our colleges. That there are possibly 15 or 20 foreign born students attending K. S. A. C. at present is a tribute to the college the state and America.

But we may do more than sit back in our chairs and feel complimented. We owe something to these men who have honored us by traveling half the circumference of the earth to us for the truth. Many of them know little of our language, few of our customs and prejudices. Are we to let them stumble about, buffeted by first one unusual American custom, tradition, or practice, then another? Or are we to lend a hand in fellowship and brotherhood to give kindly help to these international visitors?

We owe these foreign-born students a knowledge of the best of American life. What are we doing about it?

—R. C.

Y. M.-Y. W. Notes

The state conference of the Y. M. C. A. presidents will be held in Manhattan sometime in April. It has been a number of years since a conference has been held here.

Y. M. C. A. delegates will go to Lake Geneva this year instead of to Estes Park on account of the change of date which makes it one week earlier than last year. This trip to the northern conference will not cost any more than the Rocky Mountain conference and will have as good or better leadership because it is nearer to Chicago.

The regular meeting Thursday of the Y. W. C. A. will be entirely in charge of the freshman girls. It will be in the form of a farce entitled "The Freshman's Year Book." The publishers are Miss Katherine Kayser, Miss Gladys Burrows, Miss Clara Reynolds and Miss Bertha Whitton, and they will present the farce. Special music and decorations have been planned by the girls. All Farm and Home week visitors are cordially invited.

The campaign for personal subscriptions for the Y. W. C. A. closed Saturday. The workers collected $325. "While we feel that the campaign was not a great success financially, the good gained by getting into personal touch with the college girls has been a great help to the association and to them, we hope," said Miss Mildred Inskeep, secretary of the association. Part of the sum collected will go to the support of Miss Katherine Vance, who is in city missionary work at Tientsin, China. The remainder will be used for local purposes.

HONEY SAMPLES TO COLLEGE.

The Gift is Made by J. P. Lucas, of Topeka.

The department of entomology recently received a gift consisting of twenty-four bottles of honey from J. P. Lucas, of Topeka. The bottles of honey are samples from different honey plants of the United States and Mexico.

Each sample of the honey has a different tastes and color, showing the effect of locality and the kind of blossom the honey is taken from. The honey will be used in class work in agriculture. "The samples will be valuable in the course in showing the value of honey of different kinds," says J. H. Merrill, assistant professor of entomology.

Mrs. U. G. Woodard, from Glen Elder, came Monday to attend Farm and Home week and visit her son, Harold, freshman in general science.

FRESH TROUCE SOPHS
IN INDOOR TRACK MEET

Yearlings Win in a Close 53 to 47 Victory—Pole Vault Decides the Contest.

The freshman tracksters won a close 53 to 47 victory over the second year men in the annual sophomore-freshman indoor track meet held Saturday afternoon in Nichols gymnasium. The result of the meet hinged on the outcome of the pole vault, the last event on the program, and when the slight form of a youngster named Frost cleared the bamboo pole at the height of ten feet, four and one-half inches, it meant victory to the first year athletes.

The high point man of the meet was Beatty, a freshman. Beatty annexed first in both the high and the low hurdles, and was third in the high jump and in the 30-yard dash, totaling 12 points. Frost pole-vaulted and high jumped himself into second individual point winner, making 10 points.

The best time of the meet was made by Shaw, a freshman, who ran a leisurely half mile in the good time of 2:09.2 minutes, which is an excellent indoor mark. Shaw was not pushed at any time during the race, and finished strong, all of which points to a record at least five or six seconds better when he meets competition.

The summary:

30-yard dash—Won by Helt, S.; Kliever, S., second; Beatty, F., third. Time, 5 seconds flat.

100-yard dash—Won by Tillotson, S.; Beckett, F., second; Shields, F., third. Time 4:54.4 minutes.

30-yard low hurdles—Won by Beatty, F.; Wallace, F., second; Knisely, F., third. Time, 4 seconds flat.

440-yard dash—Won by Kerr, S.; Clapp, F., second; Washburn, S., third. Time 57 seconds flat.

880-yard dash—Won by Shaw, F.; Champe, S., second. Time, 2:09.2 minutes.

220-yard dash—Won by Coffey, S.; Kliever, S., second; Clapp, F., third. Time, 26.4 seconds.

Two-mile run—Won by Landon, S.; Tillotson, S., second. Time, 11.40 minutes.

30-yard high hurdles—Won by Freshmen (Beatty, Wallace, Clapp, Shaw.) Time, 4:02 minutes.

Shot put—Won by Collum, S.; Tall, S., second; Hedrick, F., third. Distance, 34.6 feet.

High jump—Won by Frost, F.; Cozine, S., second; Beatty, F., third. Height, 5.6 feet.

one from mid-field, were garnered by the Hamilton men.

Reynolds co-starred with Fullington at the goal-shooting end of the machine. He probably played the most consistent floor game of any of the Cleveland men. Never a flashy player, he played from one end of the floor to the other, both guarding and shooting goals in the same form that last year made him a near unanimous choice as an All-Valley forward.

Van Trine showed improvement to the goal-shooting end. The speedy forward has always been a cog in the floor work, and has sacrificed many a long chance at goal to make a short pass to another Aggie athlete who had a better chance at the basket.

Miss Ethel Grimes, '13, who has been the guest of her brother, W. E. Grimes, assistant professor of farm management, and her sister, Mamie Grimes, returned Sunday to her home at Lee Summit, Mo. Miss Mamie Grimes returned home with her.

The department of botany is exhibiting in the glass cases that stand in the hall of the second floor of the horticultural building, nearly 75 specimens of plant diseases which do much damage in Kansas.

The Alpha Beta literary society program to be given February 10, will consist of old familiar songs to be acted out by the members of the society. Eaton Calkins, of the music department, will render two solos which will be acted out in pantomime by Alpha Betas.

Leaders from 14 county clubs met at the "Y" Thursday evening and decided upon some definite plan for handling the people who are here during Farm and Home week. They will assist in finding rooms and in showing the strangers to them.

J. E. Kammeier, professor of economics, was sent to Norton Monday by the Kansas branch of the League to Enforce Peace. He delivered three addresses before different organizations on that day. The Norton papers report favorably on the work done.

T. R. Knowles, '16, electrical engineer, who won the silver cup in the tennis tournament of 1915 at K. S. A. C., has won a second cup at Pittsburg where he is acting as apprentice in the Westinghouse Electrical company. A "K" tennis sweater was presented to him by K. S. A. C. recently.

New Sewing machines for rent. Kippis.

The literary societies will give both music and stunts at the inter-society oratorical contest this year. Music will be given by each society preceding its own oration. During the judges decisions four stunts will be given by the brother and sister societies and the two mixed societies.

The department of the students' health announces measles at 520 North Manhattan avenue, and 810 Fremont street. Students who are probably exposed are those attending the home nursing class, first hour, the business English class, second hour, and household physics, third hour, on Wednesday, January 31.

Two new 32 volt Western Electric farm lighting plants—one 80 ampere hour and one 60 ampere hour—have been received by the gas engine laboratory. An electric sewing machine, vacuum cleaner, and a complete line of electrical fixtures which are to be demonstrated Farm and Home week, were received with the lighting plants.

Victrolas for rent. Kippis.

H. B. Walker, associate professor of irrigation and drainage engineering, was in Wichita Tuesday conferring with the board of supervisors of drainage district number three of Sedgewick county. While at Wichita Professor Walker made a trip to Panama to consult the directors of drainage district No. 1 on the Marias de Cygnis river and to Belle Plaine to consult the board of directors of the drainage of the Cowskin river in Sumner county.

The college foundry is making a supply of cast iron bench tops for the machine shop. The new cast iron tables are to replace the old wooden work benches that are built along the side of the machine shop for the use of the students. The old benches are built against the wall but the new ones will be set out so that the heat from the radiators will not make the students drowsy. Each top is 5 by 2 feet and it will take considerable time to make the number required to entirely refit the machine shop.

"John, can't you be still at all?" said Mrs. Henpeck. "Your nervousness will be the death of me." "My dear," he meekly expostulated, "someone put a tack in this chair and—it took me by surprise." The Coyote.

STUDENT DANCES ARE PUT ON PROFIT SHARING BASIS

Admission May be Charged, but all Surplus Must be Returned to Those Attending Dances.

Dances promoted solely for the profit they may net have been put under the ban at K. S. A. C. The committee on student affairs, authorized by the president, has passed a ruling that dances held for the purpose of netting money for individuals or organizations are to be prohibited.

Student organizations have frequently promoted dances for the purpose of raising money to supply some of their needs; and individuals have gotten up dances because of the personal profit. The committee on student affairs believes that this money should be secured in other ways.

Invitations have been extended too carelessly in the past and the result is that the dances have been too public. That the new ruling will not discourage dances that are given for the sake of the pleasure of dancing only is the belief of the committee.

Dances may still be given and admission charged but all surplus must be returned to those attending said dances. In other words, dances are to be put on the profit sharing plan each person paying an equal share of the entire cost.

Fraternity and sorority dances will not be included under the new ruling since the expense of such dances are met by the organizations as a whole and no general admission is charged.

The main object of the rule, according to J. O. Hamilton, chairman of the committee, is to discourage and prohibit dances promoted for the sake of profit and to encourage dances given for the entertainment they afford.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE THE CUSTODIAN?

Job Doesn't Have Anything on the Man Who has Charge of the College Buildings.

How would you like to be responsible for the cleanliness of 752 classrooms each day, or see that 3,674 windows were washed once or twice a year, or walk more than 15 miles a day in the course of your duties, or be responsible for the keys to 1,200 doors or take care of the collection and disposition of 78 tons of trash collected about the school in a year? Would you care to do all of these things?

Would you find enjoyment in walking to the new Ag building on a cold morning just to unlock a door for some absent minded professor who had forgotten his key, or in making sure there were no lower windows left unlocked at night, or in fixing a leaky pipe on a morning when the mercury is trying to find bottom or in carrying a 100 pound box up two flights of stairs? Would you care to do any or all of these things?

Well, that is "Doc's" job. It cannot be justly called a "position" for this word carries with it the meaning of "fixed" or "in one place," and "Doc" is anything but that.

From the attic of the library he may start for the horticultural building. The probability is that on his way he will be stopped and asked where a new broom may be found, or to change the towel in K-2, or to have the trash can in F-55 emptied immediately, or to have the auditorium opened at 8 for Glee club practice, or asked for material for a feature story, or some similar question or favor.

If he steps into his office one of the 45 janitors may want him to go over the time checks for the preceding month because the college heat him out of nine cents, or some instructor may ask him to make a duplicate key to C-57 or a professor may ask him to have the window pane in A-62 replaced by one of glazed glass. The preceding are a few of the incidents and requests made to "Doc" each day. And what is more "Doc" accomplishes all these things. He never refuses to do anything if given time. And no matter how "peevish" one may be, arguments will have to be taken elsewhere for "Doc" simply will not get angry—he's from a different kind of family.

"Doc's" real name is George Franklin Wagner and he is listed in the catalogue as custodian. If you do not know "Doc" and care to do so, find the most congenial, most accommodating, busiest man on the hill and you have "the man of a thousand duties and never a grouch."

WASHINGTON QUINTET HERE TO-NIGHT Girls' Dual Debate at Old Chapel, 8:30

K. S. A. C. CO-EDS MEET TEAM FROM OTTAWA U.

WILL DEBATE THE ONE-HOUSE FORM OF LEGISLATURE.

This is the first girls' contest of the season—The Negative Team Remains at Home This Time.

The girls' debating team of K. S. A. C. will make its debut for the season tonight when K. S. A. C. girl debaters meet with the Ottawa teams. The question for discussion is, "Resolved, that the several states should adopt a uni-cameral (one-house) form of legislature."

The affirmative team, which goes to Ottawa, is composed of Miss Blanche Sappenfield, Miss Marie Johnson and Miss Louisa Ziller. This team will leave at noon today and will be accompanied by Miss Estella Boot. Must Have Another Judge.

The negative team, which will meet the Ottawa debaters here, is composed of Miss Ethel Arnold, Miss Lola Sloop and Miss Margaret King. The judges are Professor Schonberger, of Washington, Professor Carter, of Kansas university, and another one yet to be selected.

"The girls' debating teams are going to hold up the standard set by our Ames team and the one that met Emporia," said Don L. Burk, debate coach. "The girls are all doing splendid work and we can look for an unusually entertaining debate. The rebuttal will be especially effective. Of the six girls, only two have debated before. These are Miss Lola Sloop and Miss Louisa Ziller.

"Miss Sappenfield, sophomore, is a forceful speaker. Miss Marie Johnson, junior, second speaker on the affirmative, has an effective argument. Miss Louisa Ziller, senior, third speaker on the affirmative, has a speech that will make them sit up and take notice. Miss Ziller has the last rebuttal.

Negative Team is Strong.
"On the negative team, Miss Arnold, first speaker has a splendid opening argument. She also has a good rebuttal. Miss Sloop is slated to put the pep into the debate. Miss King, third speaker on the negative, winds up the contest. She will end the constructive case with an exceptionally well delivered talk. She has a good rebuttal."

This debate will be held in the Old Chapel at 8.30. Immediately after the debate the team will be entertained in the Athenian hall by Zeta Kappa Psi, the debating sorority.

The affirmative team from Ottawa will arrive at 2:08 today.

SKINNER RECEIVES COMMISSION.

Will be a Lieutenant in United States Marine Corps.

Word has just been received that E. W. Skinner, of Manhattan, one of the three college graduates recommended for a commission in the United States marine corps, and who was examined for physical qualifications in Washington, January 29, has passed the examination and will receive his commission in the service within two weeks.

The other two graduates recommended for commissions to the chief of the marine corps service by Captain Mathews, were Arthur Hopkins, '16, who was a major in the cadet corps last year, and George Farmer, '16, who was lieutenant colonel in the cadet corps. Mr. Hopkins failed to appear for the examination, and Mr. Farmer failed to pass the physical examination.

Captain Mathews announces that another examination to fill vacancies in the marine corps officers' staff will be held in Washington, D. C., in June. Other graduates will be recommended for appointment as lieutenants in the marine corps by Captain Mathews and these will be examined at that time.

Because of the emergency now existing, the navy department is waiving the mental examination for men so recommended and the only requirement that has to be met is the passing of the physical examination.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB ELECTS.

Rex Criswell, Sophomore, Heads the Organization.

At the first regular meeting of the Cosmopolitan club which was held in Kedzie hall Monday evening, the following officers were elected: President, Rex Criswell, sophomore in agriculture; vice president, Philip Young, Hangchow, China, junior in general science; secretary Miss Edith Inskip; treasurer, O. W. F. Paulsen.

After the election of officers, the aims and possibilities of the club were discussed by several of the members. Fifteen members were present, representing six nationalities. All foreign born students are especially invited to join this organization which meets the first and third Monday evenings of each month in Kedzie hall.

ORATORS TO COMPETE FOR HONORS FEBRUARY 24

Annual Intersociety Contest Promises to be Lively Struggle—New Forms of Entertainment Are Planned.

Saturday night, February 24, is the date set for the annual intersociety oratorical contest as announced by the oratorical board.

All committees have been appointed to make arrangements for this annual event and extensive plans are now being made. It is planned to have each society give a musical number before its orator appears on the stage. It is also planned to have the brother and sister societies and the two mixed societies co-operate in putting on some form of entertainment immediately after the contest, instead of the "footing" demonstration as has been the custom in the past.

The tryouts for the society representatives were held in the latter part of December or early in January. The orators of the different societies and the subjects of their orations follow:

"The Woman of Yesterday," Hattie Droll, Ionian; "Home Rule or Sinn Féin," Stella Strain, Eurodelphian; "A Twentieth Century Task," Rachel Clark, Browning; "The Public Paramount," Riley McGarraugh, Alpha Beta; "The Business of War," James Hall, Athenian; "The Great Democracy," W. G. Bruce, Webster; "Society and the Ex-Convict," Marie Johnston, Franklin; "America and Japan," Arthur W. Boyer, Hamilton.

The contest this year promises to be close and interesting, according to report. Further announcements will be made later.

THE CADETS "HOP" TONIGHT.

Hold Fifth Annual Military Ball at Harrison's Hall.

Tonight after the basketball game Harrison's hall will be the scene of the fifth annual military ball. The engineering company has spent much time in decorating the gymnasium for the occasion.

Majors, captains, lieutenants, sergeants, corporals and privates; men with leather puttees and side arms; men with the plain duck leggings and without side arms; men in dress suits; all will be there for this is a gala affair.

The dance will begin as soon after the basketball game as preparations can be made. The ball will start about 9:15 with the grand march. Captain L. O. Mathews and wife will lead the march, followed by officers of the cadet corps.

The purpose of this dance is to secure funds for a permanent cadet fund. The money is to be raised by such methods as the dance and by voluntary contributions and is to be used for purchasing the cadet corps such material as is not supplied by the government or state. A "hike house" close to Manhattan is planned.

The ticket sale was limited to 100 tickets and these were eagerly bought by members of the cadet corps. The demand for tickets exceeded the supply. A few guests of honor have been invited to the dance from Ft. Riley.

Miss Nellie Reed, instructor of zoology, was called to her home in Havensville on account of a serious accident to her father. She writes that her father was injured in a runaway and is in a critical condition.

NO ONE NEED FEAR THE M. V. ORATORICAL RULES

ORATORS MAY CHOOSE ALMOST ANY SUBJECT THEY WISH.

Contest Will be Held at Des Moines, Iowa, April 20—It is Open to All Students—Five Prizes Are Offered.

The rules governing the first annual Missouri valley oratorical contest to be held at Des Moines, Iowa, April 20, has been received by Dr. J. G. Emerson, professor of public speaking. The rules are notable for their laxity, and should not inspire fear in the hearts of the orators who are considering entering the contest.

The orations submitted for the contest may be 2,000 words in length. Orators entering the contest may choose any theme that they desire, excepting subjects of controversial religious nature. The title of the orations and the name of the contestant together with the name of the faculty representative must be sent to the committee in charge of the oratorical not later than two weeks before the contest.

Open to All Students.
The contest is open to students in all departments of the universities and colleges of the valley including professional schools. The institutions which are eligible those which are represented in the Missouri Valley Athletic conference.

The judges for the contest are to be chosen within a radius of two hundred miles of Des Moines and are in no way to be affiliated with any of the universities in the association. Each college to be represented in the contest will submit the names of four persons competent to judge an oratorical contest and three judges will be chosen from this complete list.

The First of Its Kind.

The Missouri Valley Oratorical contest is the first of its kind to be held in the west. Drake university is offering special inducements to make the contest a successful one. The university itself is offering the first prize of $100 cash and will pay the expenses of both the orator and the faculty representative from each institution to Des Moines.

"The representatives from the colleges at the contest will really be the guests of Drake university," says Dr. Emerson. "She should be heartily applauded by the institutions represented in the contest for the interest she has shown toward making the contest a success."

Five prizes will be offered. First prize, $100; second prize, $50; third prize, gold medal; fourth prize, silver medal; fifth prize, bronze medal.

MORE ATTEND CHORAL SOCIETY.

Will Give Sacred Concert Sunday Evening, March 18.

The College Choral society has a larger enrollment this term than ever before, according to Arthur E. Westbrook, director of music.

"This increase in interest and attendance is probably due to the interest taken in the festival week to be given March 12 to 18," said Professor Westbrook.

The entertainment to be given by the society this term will be a sacred concert Sunday evening of March 18, the last day of the festival week. The music of this concert will be of a more popular style and not so difficult as former concerts given by the society.

The concert will be divided into two parts. The first part will consist of anthems, "Unfold Ye Portals," from the "Redemption"; a group of songs by a soprano soloist; Sanctus; a group of songs by a soloist; and "By Babylon's Wave," sung by the chorus. "The second part of the concert will be a cantata, "Gallia," given by the chorus and the soprano soloist."

The Delta Zeta freshmen entertained the other members of the fraternity with a dinner party at the College Inn last night.

THE BEST OF ITS KIND EVER HELD IN KANSAS

FARM AND HOME WEEK A DECIDED SUCCESS, SAYS THE DEAN.

Approximately 1,200 Have Enrolled—More Than 1,600 Are Expected Before Week is Over—Many Interesting Features.

"This is the best week of its kind that has ever been held in Kansas. Our visitors have never been better pleased and the details which had been planned for their instruction and entertainment is working out in a decidedly successful manner," was the statement of E. C. Johnson, dean of the division of extension, who is superintending the Farm-home week which is in session all of this week.

There is an enrollment of nearly 1,200 visitors and it is a fair estimate that there will have been an actual attendance of more than 1,600 before the week is over. Many who only came for a special meeting or for one day did not trouble to enroll.

See College at Work.
The plan of having the visitors here while the college was in session has been a decided success. It has added interest to see the laboratories and classes performing their regular work and has given a large number of people an insight into the routine of the college, which could not be gained in any other way. Everyone is enthusiastic.

The demonstration work has been of special interest. The live stock, Glenwood Mothers-Daughters clubs, and boys' and girls' demonstration work have been the features which attracted the largest numbers.

Exceptional interest in the program of the engineering department has been manifested by the attendance of 300 and 400 very true that such work was listed on the program.

People Are Interested.

The fruit men of the state who are attending the meeting of the week have shown greater interest in their line than any other group which is present. More than 75 are here and they have consistently followed every part of the work which the horticultural men are offering. The horticulture men of the faculty have demonstrated and explained to the same group hour after hour. Because of the unusual interest, added work in spraying and other points of special value to this industry has been given.

"Movies" Interesting.

Frank D. Tomson, editor of the Shorthorn in America, spoke to more than 100 live stock men at Harrison's cafe after a 6:00 o'clock banquet last night. The dairymen, numbering more than 60, were entertained similarly on Wednesday evening.

The moving pictures of the Glenwood Mother-Daughter Canning clubs was such an attractive feature when they were shown Tuesday evening that the film was shown again last evening. A second film of the winners at the International Live Stock show in Chicago was of considerable interest to all who were present. This evening a film showing the work of the Fort Hays Branch Experiment station will be of interest to a large number.

1917 Royal Purple Has Good Support.

The business men of Manhattan are backing the 1917 Royal Purple better than ever before, according to H. J. Adams, manager of this year's class book. With the present high cost of paper and printing materials, the support of the local business men has made it possible to keep the class book assessment on a par with that of former years, according to report. A list of those who are advertising in the 1917 Royal Purple is given in this issue of the Collegian.

The chapel program prepared by the Franklin Literary society for Saturday, February 10, has been postponed until February 17 because of the "canned goods" which occupies the stage in the auditorium.

K. S. A. C. GRADS ARE IN DEMAND.

Automatic Electric Company Wants Senior Engineers.

Four K. S. A. C. engineering graduates, now in the employ of the Automatic Electric company, have recently written C. E. Reid, professor of electrical engineering in the college, telling of their work and of the unusual opportunities which are offered to engineers by this company.

G. H. Sechrist, '16, is one of the K. S. A. C. men now employed by the Automatic Electric company at Chicago. H. B. Brown, '15, who is with the same company at Edmonton, Alta., Canada, writes that he is enjoying his work. J. E. Cooley, '07, who is stationed at Indianapolis, Ind., writes that he has been sent to Australia twice within the last three years in the interests of his company. H. E. Hershey, '10, is stationed at Chicago.

COLLEGE HELPS GRADS WHO EXPECT TO TEACH

Department of Education Maintains a Bureau of Recommendations to Aid in Finding Positions.

Students who expect to graduate from college this year and who expect to teach next year will find it to their advantage to communicate with the department of education just as soon as possible.

The college supports what is known as the bureau of recommendations and through this the great majority of teachers who graduate from K. S. A. C. each year are employed.

A form letter sent out to probable teachers by the bureau states: "You want to make a strong impression the first time your name comes to the attention of the superintendent or the officer of the board of education. To this end it is highly important that you send your picture. If you do not have a suitable photograph, have some inexpensive ones made."

"Wherever possible the letter about the applicant from the bureau of recommendations containing his credentials, should reach the school officer at the same time as the applicants' letter. Let us work together in this matter for your good."

When a student, after leaving college, applies for a position, the reference which will mean the most to him is one from his college and it is for this reason that the bureau of recommendations was established.

Edward H. Reisner, associate professor of education, is chairman of the recommendation committee and urges that all students expecting to teach next year write or see him just as soon as possible.

SELECT SONGSTERS FOR OPERA.

"Robin Hood" Will Be Given By Glee Clubs Festival Week.

The cast for the opera "Robin Hood," to be given by the Apollo club and the girls' glee club one night of the festival week, has been chosen by Arthur E. Westbrook, director of music.

E. M. Moore will take the part of Robin Hood; Theodore Arnold, the sheriff; Harry Muir, Sir Guy; E. H. Ptacek, Little John; Jim Branham, Will Scarlet; Harold Newton, Friar Tuck; Helen Winnie, Allen Dale; Bess Curry, Maid Marion; Ruth Rathbone, Dame Durlen; Lucille Lockwood, Annabelle.

"Robin Hood" is an English opera written by De Roven. "The music of this opera is very difficult and its presentation is not often attempted by local companies," says Professor Westbrook. "Robin Hood" is in the light opera class and is generally put on by traveling companies.

"In this opera is the celebrated song 'O Promise Me,' a popular wedding song. We have a chorus of thirty-five to augment the cast and we will have a special orchestra for the occasion."

C. R. Wallace, of Vliets, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers' Union of Marshall county, attended Farm and Home week Monday and Tuesday, and visited his daughter, Leah, housekeeper's course. Mr. Wallace left Wednesday morning for Topeka where he will attend the Farmers' Union association.

AGGIES' FUTURE HOPES HINGE ON THESE GAMES

EDMUNDS QUINTET PLAYS LONG-DISTANCE SHOOTING GAME.

Aggie's and Missouri Highest Ranking Contenders—Purple Five Must Win If They Are to Remain in the Race.

Whether or not the Aggies have the basketball ability to win the highest honors in the Missouri Valley conference will again be put to the test in the pair of battles to be staged with the Washington quintet tonight and tomorrow on Nichols floor. Missouri has defeated the Washington men twice, both times by close scores, and it necessarily follows that the Aggies must humble the St. Louis athletes in order to be on the same plane with the Missourians.

Two victories and two defeats is the valley record of the Clevenger troupe this season. All four of the games have been with Kansas. Kansas has now been partially eliminated from the running, having suffered a defeat from Missouri as well as the two disappointments handed them last week by the Aggies. Thus the dope points to the Aggies and Missouri as the highest ranking contenders.

Face An "If."

But there is a serious "if" facing the Aggies. That "if" is the Washington series. "If" the Clevenger men triumph over the St. Louis athletes twice in a row, there will little doubt that the Aggies will continue in the running. But on the other hand, "if" the Washington men win even one of the games, the stock of the Aggies is due for a slump.

The Edmunds quintet plays the long-distance shooting game in much the same manner as the Hamilton Jayhawkers. The experience of the Aggie guards in breaking up the mid-field attempts of the Kansans is counted a valuable asset to the Clevenger defensive pair, Captain MacMillan and Wells.

The Line-up.

Reynolds, consistent star in Aggie floor battles of the past three seasons, will start the game at forward, as will Van Trine, whose four baskets in the last Aggie-Kansas battle were important factors in the winning of that contest by the Aggies. "Slim" Fullington, who, when he is "right," ranks with any point-makers in the valley in the matter of tossing goals, will start at the tip-off position. Captain MacMillan and Wells will again be found at guard.

Both games will commence at 7:30 o'clock and will be played on Nichols court. The doors will be open at 7 o'clock.

BLEACHERS COLLAPSE; 3 HURT.

Accident Occurs at College During the Preparation for Picture.

Three persons were injured at the college Wednesday when bleachers, constructed temporarily for the taking of a picture, collapsed.

The tiers of seats had been constructed south of the library for the purpose of seating those who are attending Farm and Home week while a group picture was taken by O. W. Holt. The crowd, under the direction of Mr. Holt, had just started to mount the bleachers when they collapsed.

A deep gash was cut in one man's forehead and two other persons were badly bruised.

Gives Interesting Lecture.

An illustrated sermon-lecture on "The Social Shame of the City" will be given by the Rev. John Ralph Voris at the First Congregational church Sunday night. This is the second of a series of addresses on big city social problems. Many college students attend the evening meetings at the church.

J. E. Ackert, assistant professor of zoology was taken ill with a gripe Tuesday and has not been able to meet his classes this week.

HERE'S TO YOU!

Here's to you—our visitors during Farm and Home week. We have enjoyed having you with us and we trust that you have thoroughly enjoyed your visit. If we, as students, have been of any service to you, either collectively or individually, we are glad—we have tried to make your stay enjoyable. If we have failed in any particular, we trust that you will give us a chance next year to show you that "our hearts are on the right side."

Nothing has been spared by the college officials in order to furnish you entertainment and lectures who could bring a message to you. We sincerely trust that your visit to K. S. A. C. has not been vain, but that you have prospered in new ideas, and that you have gained a clear conception of the work this institution is doing and the results it is trying to accomplish. We hope you will attend Farm and Home week every year if possible.

Come again

GRIP.

Grip is small in bulk but big in meaning. There's the hand grip—fraternal and paternal—the bulldog grip, the traveler's grip, Cupid's grip, the financial grip, the grip with which you grip your grip, and lastly but not leastly his majesty, La Grippe.

La Grippe is the grippiest grip that ever gripped a grip. From his debut in the early winter until he is blown away by the March breezes, he has a busy season and enjoys more dates than any charming debutante ever dreamed of.

La Grippe has doubles, trebles and quadruples all over the world and each is active in entertaining. With the retinue of advance agents, he is one of the grippiest grippers in Germany. These agents are very subtle and before you know it, Mr. Man, they have gripped your grip and made preparations for La Grippe's grip.

When La Grippe once gets a grip on your grip, you haven't any grip to grip except to grip the woolen blankets. Shivering and sneezing you drift off into a disturbing sleep, made restful only by means of the Sahara desert and fiery furnaces. You almost wish you could die and be where there is everlasting heat—anything to get warm again. The toothache in your pillars and the plaster on your tongue sticketh closer than a creditor.

After dosing and baking and starving—it seems for weeks—you finally get a grip on your grip—if you have any grip left to grip—and you grip La Grippe with such a grippy grip that he grips his grip and grips his way to grip some other victim's grip.

The Shorthorns seem to be quite a laughing matter, yet didn't they take the blue ribbons for Kansas?

When you see a young lady wearing a "K" sweater, a fraternity pin and a happy face, you may know the fellow hasn't the price for a diamond.

If you want to see a realization of real joy, note the expression on the faces of the "breadliners" when the cafeteria door swings open, especially about 5:30 p. m.

The freshmen probably have taken to heart the old saying, "Children should be seen and not heard," by the appearance of their new headgear. It may be we mistake them and they are only trying to detract attention from their faces.

"The Sunbeam."

Mabel Tallafiero is seen at her best in this wonderful play, which shows her as a living sunbeam shedding warmth and happiness amid the chills and shadows of poverty. At the Ware-evening.

"Lone Star."

Here is a gripping Indian story. The so-called modern civilization is weighed in the balance with Indian honor and loyalty. Most of the scenes are laid in a big city where man's inhumanity to man decides the savage to return to his own people. At the Wareham this afternoon and evening.

Candles, shades, holders, place, menu and tally cards.—Klip's.

Conover Addresses Speakers.

Robert W. Conover, associate professor of English, talked to the students in Public Speaking II Tuesday morning, on "Modern Dramatics." He made a survey of the leading dramatic works, emphasizing the works of Bernard Shaw. He gave a clear presentation of the different types of dramatics and the characters shown in the dramas of today. His talk was especially attractive and clearly constructed.

It is expected that he will give other talks to the public speaking

STUDENTS SHOW LACK OF SERIOUSNESS FOR STUDY

DOMINANT PURPOSE OF SOME IS MERE ENJOYMENT.

They Should Consider Their College Work With More Gravity, According to B. L. Remick, Professor of Mathematics.

There has been for some time a well grounded suspicion on the part of educators that college students as a rule do not take the curriculum with enough seriousness, according to B. L. Remick, professor of mathematics, before student assembly Tuesday morning.

"Most of us," said Mr. Remick, "have heard of the student who decorated his room with the motto, 'Do not let your studies interfere with your college education.' That is another way of saying that the thing to go in for is something else than the duties prescribed by the faculty.

"The degree of enthusiasm with which students greet the courses of study in western colleges has a decided advantage over those of the east. There are some students whose dominant purpose is the mere enjoyment of college life.

"The class of importance is the mediocre students who rest content with doing less than their best, with merely doing as well as their fellow, or with making only passable grades.

"To what extent the student should engage in the so called outside functions is a matter to be settled by the student himself. Every student should be interested in activities of general concern to the student body that make a special appeal to himself. But the thing that should be regarded as most worth while, is performing with proficiency the daily duties of the class room.

"The success of the college student in the curriculum side of his education affords a pretty strong index to the measure of success he is likely to achieve in the severer life beyond the campus."

"Her New York."

Gladys Huette takes the leading role in this attractive photoplay. You will remember her as the charming little star of "The Shine Girl." Right from the start "Her New York" lulls the spectator's hard common sense to sleep and forces him to accept, and enjoy, a series of experiences that while they lack the extravagance of "Alice in Wonderland" have no finer foundation in fact. At the Marshall theater Saturday afternoon and evening.

Found—At Williams Candy Shop. The best candies, chocolates and freshly roasted salted peanuts.

SHORT COURSE.

Your best chance to be a good AG. GIE is to take the Collegian.

Several students from the Kansas State Agricultural college, who have light assignments, are taking Short-hand and Typewriting to good advantage at the Manhattan Business College. Several more with light assignments will be enrolled for these subjects, but no one with a heavy assignment will be admitted.

The Only Standardized Tractor Design

Avery Tractors are the only make built in five sizes (a size for every size farm) all having exactly the same design. There is practically no other make of tractors where there are more than two sizes of the same design.

When the Avery Company builds one size tractor and after thoroughly testing it out, builds another size, and then another, and then another, and then another, until it has five sizes of all exactly the same design, it is unquestionable proof of the success of that design.
